KILLED BY A TRAMP

The Brutal Double Murder Near Hartford.

TWO MEN NOW UNDER ARREST.

One of Them is Believed to Be the Guilty Party.

He Was Seen With Bushenhagen Wednesday Last—The Crime Supposed to Have Been Committed Sunday Morning While the Old Man Was Gathering Fire Wood. How His Wife Was Killed.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 1.—It is still believed that the murder of Frederick Bushenhagen and wife at their home, on a farm in a secluded spot near Bloomfield, was the work of a tramp.

About dark Sunday night a neighbor, while crossing the farm, noticed one of Bushenhagen's cows wandering around the house. He rapped at the door and, receiving no response, supposed the inmates were asleep. Returning by the house as 9 p.m. he again called, and failing to arouse anybody, examined the outside of the building and found blood on a rear doorstep.

He aroused the neighbors and together they searched the house and fields. There were blood stains and traces of a scuffle on the yard fence, and marks in the earth led to the well where the deceased were found.

It seems probable that the tragedy occurred early Sunday morning, and that the murderer was a tramp who slept in the barn on Saturday night.

It is thought that Bushenhagen found him there Sunday morning on going out for fire wood; that a quarrel occurred and that the old man was killed by four blows with a coupling pin, which was found near the barn.

The supposition is that the woman ran out, half dressed, to aid her husband. On her body there was only a chemise, a skirt and one stocking. The murderer probably deemed it best to silence the only witness of his crime, and seizing a club he killed her.

There was no robbery, and it is evident that the murderer did not enter the house.

Sunday residents on the main road near the scene of the murder say that they saw a tramp pass towards Hartford. He was a large man, heavily built, with two weeks growth of beard, wearing overalls and a dark coat with an overcoat thrown over his shoulder.

Bushenhagen was 70 years old, and served in the 22d Connecticut Regiment. As age came on he has not been able to do much on his little farm, and the couple were very poor.

A bank book was found on the table in the house, showing $50 on deposit in the Hartford Savings Bank.

Two men were arrested last evening. One was caught in the town of Bloomfield and one in Windsor. Both answer the general description of the tramp.

The man arrested in Windsor was a German named Louis Lauer. He said he formerly knew Bushenhagen, but had not seen him for four years. He was released from jail last Wednesday after 18 months' confinement, and was seen with Bushenhagen on Friday. He is believed to be the murderer.

CORBETT ON MITCHELL.

He is Anxious and Ready to Meet Him at Any Time.

BOSTON, Sep. 1.—Jim Corbett, in an interview last night, denied that there were any differences between himself and Sullivan. Speaking of Mitchell he said:

"If Mitchell and I meet," he said, "it will be no sprint race. I myself am enough of a sprinter to catch a man in a prize ring.

"Mitchell's acceptance of my challenge looks genuine and is a welcome feature of this fighting debate. I am ready to fight him as soon as he is ready and at any place he may select. There is nothing in my theatrical engagements to prevent an early meeting. They were made with the express provision that a fight with Slavin or Mitchell, Mitchell preferred, would not be interfered with.

"I shall give him no chance to back out of the acceptance when he arrives. As preferences in the matter I would select the Granite Club, Hoboken, or the Olympic Club of New Orleans, if the choice were left to one. The fight ought to and probably will come off at the club offering the largest purse."

Chinamen Smuggled In From Canada.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 1—It appears that large numbers of Chinamen are arriving in this country by way of Canada. The plan of their introduction here is peculiar. They reach the towns lying along the Canadian border, and there is a permanent offer of $100 to anyone who will land them on United States soil, the Chinamen themselves taking the chance of safety after reaching this side. It is suspected that a number of Chinamen have arrived at points near Charlotte, leaving the steamer before reaching port and being taken in small boats thence to land.

Vermont's Claim Presented.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 1.—Governor Page, for the State, presented to the Treasury shortly before noon the claim of Vermont for her share of the direct tax, amounting to $179,407. Secretary Proctor accompanied the Governor during his visit to the different departments.

Fast Mail Service from Japan to England.

MONTREAL, Can., Sep. 1.—A dispatch from Winnipeg says that a special train carrying the mails of the Canada Pacific Railroad steamship, Empress of Japan, passed there last evening, covering the distance from Vancouver in two days. The mails left Japan only 11 days before, and are expected to arrive in England within 21 days. This greatly beats all previous records.

FIGHTING LABOR UNIONS.

Strikes Inaugurated in Five of the American Axe Company's Factories.

NEW YORK, Sep. 1.—The American Axe and Tool Company is composed of nine axe factories, situated at Johnsonville, N. Y.; East Douglass, Mass.; Beaver Falls, Pa.; Cleveland, O.; Mill Hall, Pa.; Gowanda, N. Y.; Bellefonte, Pa., and Ballston Spa, N. Y., and controls about one-half the production of axes in this country.

The employes of the first five manufactories of the American Axe Company have gone on a strike, caused by the efforts of the company to discourage the growth of labor unions.

These factories are the largest and most important ones in the company.

The company claims that it will let the shops rot down before allowing the unions to exist in them, and the men declare they will leave the different towns and hunt other work rather than abandon their organization.

The Federation of Labor has agreed to aid the men to the end.

ALMY'S TREASURES.

What a Search in the Warden Barn Revealed.

HANOVER, N. H., Sep. 1.—A search has been made in Warden's barn, in which the murderer, Frank C. Almy, hid for so long a time without detection, resulted in the finding of the necktie case which Christie Warden gave her murderer as a Christmas gift.

Other articles were found, among them a napkin ring, some pencilled sketches made by Christie, a large braid of the victim's hair, a dozen verses of sentimental poetry, in the murderer's handwriting, and a package of four handkerchiefs marked with the initial "C." From the same hiding place were also taken ten unopened cans of salmon, sardines, clams, and corned beef, besides a bottle half full of Medford rum.

A NOVEL SCHEME.

Weather Forecasts May Soon Be Disseminated by Locomotive Whistles.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 1.—The Weather Bureau is endeavoring to establish a novel system of weather forecasts. Already the principal railroads of the country have adopted the plan of disseminating weather predictions by displaying signal flags on trains, and the Bureau hopes to extend this system by having locomotives give the signals by means of their whistles.

Professor Harrington, the chief of the weather bureau, has arranged a system of whistle combinations by means of which persons living at a distance from the railroads can receive the forecasts.

By repeating each combination a few times with an interval of ten seconds between, possibilities of error in reading the forecasts will be avoided, such as may arise from variable winds or failure to hear the warning signal.

Lasters Strike Against a Reduction.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sep. 1.—About 40 lasters and dealers-out employed at the shoe factory of the Field-Thayer Manufactory are on strike against a reduction of five cents a case in their work. The Field-Thayer Company have first and second grades under a first grade price list. They now demand that the union give them a second grade list similar to that used at Chick Brothers.

An Important Horse Sale.

NEW YORK, Sep. 1.—The product of the Peytona, Hurstbourne and Fernclift Studs were sold at auction last evening by Auctioneer William Easton, of Tattersall's. Prominent turfmen from all over the country were present. Bidding was brisk, but in most cases only moderate prices were realized. The total receipts for the yearlings were $17,275, an average of $421.30 per head.

To Suppress Briceville Miners.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 1.—Senator Polk, of Maury County, will introduce in the Senate to-day a resolution setting forth that the miners at Briceville are in a state of insurrection, and empowering the Governor to call out such troops as is necessary to suppress their unlawful acts. The introduction of the resolution will create a sensation.

At the Summer Capital.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Sep. 1.—The President is very busy catching up with accumulated work. Secretary Rusk arrived last evening as a guest of the President. He was accompanied by his clerk, S. S. Rockwood. President Harrison and Congressman Reyburn, piloted by local sportsmen, are getting ready for a day's shooting on Manumuskin meadows.

Congressman Scott Much Weaker.

ERIE, Pa., Sep. 1.—Congressman William L. Scott passed a bad night and was perceptibly weaker to-day. Doctors Pepper and Brandes decided late last evening that it would be unwise to attempt his removal to Newport, R. I., in his present enfeebled condition. Dr. Pepper returned to Newport last night.

Mrs. Garrett's Ball.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sep. 1.—One of the last balls of the season was given last evening by Mrs. Robert Garrett at the cottage she is occupying this season on Narragansett avenue. The affair was one of the most brilliant of the social season.

The Big Niagara Tunnel.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 1.—The preliminary work on the big tunnel at Niagara Falls has been completed and the work on the tunnel itself is now going forward rapidly. Of the 3,530 feet to be excavated about 1,175 has been done.

A Murdered Man's Skeleton Found.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sep. 1.—The skeleton of a man was found in the woods near Lofty yesterday. There was a bullet hole in the back of the skull, which indicated that the man had been murdered. It is thought the body has lain in the woods for over a year.

QUIET IN CHILI NOW

Baquedano Acting Temporarily as President.

SEVERAL EXECUTIONS TO-DAY

Prominent Government Officials to be Shot for Their Part in the Trouble.

Balmaceda Traced by Los Andes—He Skipped Out With His Family and Valuables—Beyond the Reach of the Rebels—Foreign Admirals Refuse to Surrender Refugees.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Sep. 1.—Order is gradually being restored in Chili. Gen. Rasquedano has been recognized as President ad interim of the Republic by the members of the Junta here and little doubt is felt but that this action will be ratified by the members now en route from Iquique.

The government troops at Concepcion, Talcahuano and other places have, through their commanding officers, notified the Congregationalist authorities that they have finished fighting and are ready to obey orders from the Junta and only Coquimbo promises to make trouble.

All that remains to be done now is to put down the sporadic cases of disorder, bring to trial such of the Balmacedist officials as have been guilty of outrageous acts of tyranny and prepare for the elections which will give the Republic an unquestioned constitutional government.

Senor Godoy thinks that Balmaceda has escaped to Buenos Ayres over the Cordilleras by way of Los Andes. He left Santiago, according to news received by Senor Godoy, on Saturday morning with six carriages, containing his family and valuables.

Relative to Minister Egan Senor Godoy emphatically declares that every interview had by him with Balmaceda was entirely confined to the question of commercial reciprocity between the United States and Chili. Nothing of personal benefit to Minister Egan was discussed.

More Executions to Come.

Several prominent government officials will be shot to-day after a trial by court martial.

Referring to the silver shipment, Senor Godoy says that Balmaceda bought the Italian steamer Aquila at Montevideo. The owners required cash. The United States Navy Department refused to allow the Baltimore to carry the bullion.

Balmaceda's officials at Coquimbo have cut the English cable there and have refused to surrender and will make a fight. The Esmerelda with the Lynch started for Coquimbo last night. Transports with troops will follow.

The first, and so far the only execution which has the appearance of having been prompted by revenge occurred here yesterday. The Procurator Fiscal, Fas, who prosecuted the cases against the men who were alleged to be in the plot to blow up the torpedo boats Almirante Lynch and Almirante Condell and the transport Imperiale, which resulted in the execution of Cummings and two others, was taken out and shot.

A formal demand for their surrender was made yesterday on Admiral Brown and German Admiral by Intendente Joaquin Walker-Martinez.

After consultation the two naval officers informed Senor Walker-Martinez that they would decline to surrender the men unless proper guarantees were given that their lives would be safe until they had had a fair trial.

The presence of political refugees on board the American and German war ships has been the cause of several conferences and much ill feeling.

Decision in the Allegheny Railroad Case.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 1.—In the United States Court Judge Reid has just handed down a decision in the celebrated Allegheny Railroad case. The court declares that the Allegheny Valley Railroad shall be sold in accordance with the manner prayed for by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The decision allows the road to be sold without divesting it of the mortgages, except the income mortgages. The holders of income bonds wanted the property sold divested of all mortgages. The decision is a victory for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

CONNECTICUT NATIONAL GUARD

Highly Praised By Inspector Bowen—Bicycle Service Commended.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 1.—Lieut. William H. Bowen, of the army, who inspected the Connecticut National Guard during its recent encampment, has sent to the War Department a very complimentary report, giving the result of his observations. A novelty of the encampment was a special bicycle service by a corps of First Regiment men, and this feature is specially commended.

"The men were armed," says Lieutenant Bowen, "with the Colt's repeating carbine and with the revolver. A man mounted on a bicycle can go many places where it would be impossible to take a horse, and it can beat the flag in sending messages in nearly every case.

"As a fighting force it may not be favored, but as messengers, patrols and advance guard, in my opinion, it would be advisable.

"I would recommend to the serious consideration of the War Department the advisability of experimenting with the bicycle."

Of the colored troops, Lieut. Bowen says: "They were simply perfect, and in getting through the bush, as demonstrated on guard duty, they exhibited the traits of Indians, and in scouting exhibited an acuteness that was absolutely marvelous."

Purely a Social Visit.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 1.—Colonel A. Louden Snowden, Minister to Greece, who recently visited Bar Harbor, says the report that he went to Mr. Blaine at the instance of President Harrison is untrue. The question of renomination, or politics, has not been discussed by the President and Colonel Snowden, nor by Mr. Blaine and Colonel Snowden. The visit to Mr. Blaine was purely a social one. Mr. Blaine's health had been impaired by overwork, but he was now recovering. A great improvement could be noticed.

Hebrew Refugees Still Detained.

NEW YORK, Sep. 1.—The large party of Russian Hebrew refugees who landed at the Barge Office from the Cunard steamer Etruria are still detained by the Immigration authorities for further examination as to their physical and financial condition. Many of them are penniless and came here with their families because they had been deceived into believing that they would be welcomed here and provided with homes by this government.

Wants Convicts for Coal Miners.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 1.—In his message to the Legislature the Governor incidentally suggests the purchase of undeveloped coal lands, upon which to erect the penitentiary with a view to working the mines with convict labor and selling the coal to the public.

SHIRKED THE WORK

Shocking Negligence in the Park Place Search.

NEW YORK'S MAYOR INDIGNANT.

The Finding of the Two Bodies Yesterday Creates a Stir.

Work on the Ruins Resumed at the Mayor's Orders and Will Continue Until All the Debris Has Been Removed. There May Yet Be Bodies in the Wreckage—No More Delay Now.

NEW YORK, Sep. 1.—The discovery yesterday of the ghastly remains of two more victims of the terrible disaster on Park Place only confirms the suspicion expressed in these dispatches at the time the search in the ruins was abandoned, that there were likely more bodies still under the debris.

Mayor Grant is decidedly angry at the neglect of the proper officials to perform their work thoroughly, and he has begun a searching investigation to find out just who is to blame for permitting the work to stop before it was positively known that all the dead had been removed.

The following letter to the acting chief of the fire department indicates the mayor's feelings in the matter:

Sir—You are hereby directed forthwith to remove all the bodies and debris of the Park Place accident. A personal examination has showed me that all the bodies have not been removed. Chapter 566 of the laws of 1887 makes it the plain duty of your department to emply laborers and material to perform as speedily as possible the work necessary for the recovery of the bodies of the killed and injured. That your department has not done. I do no know the reason for this neglect of the performance of its duty by your department, and I ask that a report be made to me forthwith as to the delay in the performance of this work and the reason that your department stopped working before the bodies were found and properly removed and before the ruins were thoroughly searched.

Above all, your department should at once do this work which the law requires it to do.

It was a few minutes before 11 o'clock, while four workmen were prodding in the debris still lying in the basement of the building, a pile of bricks stacked up against the inner edge lossened and came tumbling down about their feet. The fall exposed to view the rounded top of a brick arch leading to the cellar beneath the pavement. It was directly under Rosenfeld's bronze works at No. 70 Park place, and as two other cellars to the north had been previously cleared, the exposed entrance to the new cellar created no remark, and the workmen kept on throwing the debris into the street.

Soon the doorway was almost cleared and one of the workmen peered into the dark cavern. The floor was covered knee deep with bricks, bottles and tin cans. From the heap there arose an awful stench. An examination of the hole was then made.

About a foot from the entrance the legs of a young man protruded from beneath a pile of bricks. The position of the bodies made the truth manifest. Some of Rosenfeld's employes, in a dreadful realization of their fate, had rushed into the cellar. They may even have heard the whistling of the fire engines and the activity of the brigade on the street above.

The workmen, repelled by the stench, beat a retreat, and their foreman not being around they told Police Sergeant Lamey of their discovery. The sergeant, to make positive, went down himself and looked at the remains. He then dispatched a message to the Church Street Station. From there word was sent to Coroner Hanly.

The news meantime had reached the mayor's office. The mayor, who had all along entertained a suspicion that more bodies were in the ruins and paid repeated visits to the scene, was soon on the spot.

Going into the cellar he lighted a match and took in the situation at a glance. Then he returned to the City Hall in no pleasant mood. He at once ordered that work on the ruins be at once renewed, and that it continue until every bit of the debris had been removed.

This action on the part of the mayor has had a good effect, and to-day workmen under charge of the fire department are busy clearing away the wreckage.

One of the bodies taken out yesterday, that of a boy of 17 years, was badly decomposed, and the undertakers were unable to handle it until a pailful of disinfecting fluid was poured over it.

The other body was as badly decomposed as the first, and in removing it from under the table the scalp fell off.

It is not at all unlikely that other remains will yet be found in the ruins, as there are four or five persons yet unaccounted for.

The last two victims undoubtedly died a horrible death, as they were both imprisoned in a vault where the fire did not reach, and from the appearance of the remains they were not crushed or injured by the falling ruins.

The Burgess Yacht Business to Continue.

BOSTON, Sep. 1.—The business of Edward Burgess, the well-known yacht designer, recently deceased, will be continued by George A. Stewart and Arthur Binney, who were for a long time associated with Mr. Burgess. Mr. Binney is a draughtsman, and since 1888 has worked on the plans of every yacht designed by Mr. Burgess.

Ex-Minister Carter Dangerously Ill.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sep. 1.—Dispatches received here say that H. A. F. Carter, ex-Hawaiian Minister to the United States is lying dangerously ill at Hamburg, Germany. His physicians there are very anxious to appraise the ex-Minister's relatives, who are in the United States, of the serious illness of Mr. Carter, but cannot obtain their address.

Mush Muffins.

BY MARION HARLAND.

2 cups of white cornmeal, ½ cup of wheat flour, 1 tablespoonful of butter, 4 cups of scalding milk, 2 tablespoonfuls of white sugar, 4 eggs whipped light, ½ teaspoonful of salt, 2 level teaspoonfuls of Cleveland's baking powder.

When the milk is hot, stir into it the cornmeal and salt, and cook in a farina kettle half an hour, stirring often. Turn into a bowl and beat in the butter. Let the mixture cool, then sift flour and baking powder together; beat the eggs light with the sugar, and mix with the mush, adding flour last. Beat hard for two minutes and bake.

Use only Cleveland's baking powder. No other is "just as good."

"I find Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder the best in quality, the highest in leavening power, and perfectly wholesome."

THE SEARLES WILL.

Twenty-One Blood Relatives Unite to Break It.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Sep. 1.—That the will of Mrs. Searls-Hopkins will be vigorously contested is now assured by the action taken by the twenty-one blood relatives of the dead woman who have combined with her adopted son, Timothy Hopkins, of San Francisco, to contest her will, on the ground that undue influence was exerted upon her to make her husband her sole legatee, and it will be claimed, besides, that she was not in sound mental condition when she executed the will.

Timothy Hopkins, it is said, has refused an offer of $5,000,000 to withdraw his opposition to the probate of his adopted mother's will, and will, Sept. 17, file his claims.

The twenty-one relatives referred to above, who have already filed notice of contest in the probate office in this city, are cousins of Mrs. Searles, named Hebbard and Sherwood. Several of them are aged, and none of them is rich. Many have been dependent for years upon Mrs. Searles's bounty, and have in their possession written promises of liberal provision in her will.

Nathal Hebbard, one of the cousins of New York, says that he can prove a conspiracy on the part of Mr. Searles and C. P. Huntington, their object, he thinks, being to keep consolidated the Hopkins interest in the Southern Pacific railroad ownership.

Mr. Hebbard believes that Mrs. Searles was irresponsible at the time of making her will.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

More of Canada's Official Scandal.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 1.—A sensation has been caused here over the report that there has been some very damaging evidence secured against Secretary of State Chapleau, and that it is more than probable that he will find himself in the same boat with his colleague, Sir Hector Langevin, an exiled politician.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Sherwin starts a special clearing sale to-day.

—A Christian Endeavor Society meeting will be held at Warren Mission to-night, at 8.

—The grocers have planned for many enjoyments on their Labor Day excursion. Those who don't go will miss a great time.

—The big entrance to Alert hose house is being raised so that a driver on the hose wagon won't get his head knocked off when the horses rush out with him to a fire.

—The annual sociable of the local branch of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held Thursday evening in T. A. B. hall. The grand march will be begun at 9 o'clock. Previous to the ball the Hibernia Rifles of Elizabeth will parade the streets with their drum corps.

—Real estate is just now booming amazingly in Plainfield. In another column the 44 lots left of those at Netherwood advertised in THE PRESS, are offered at great inducements. Ten dollars down and one dollar a week, will buy the workingman a plot of his own. Nobody need be without a home under such conditions.

—The owners of that beautifully located property, called Elysium Lake, seven minutes walk from Evona station, are offering 120 building lots at $50, $75 and $100 each. They are full-sized lots, too, being 40 feet front by 125 and 150 feet deep. Terms, etc., are given in the advertisement on the third page of THE PRESS.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss M. L. Hotchkiss, of Franklin place, is in Montreal.

Dr. E. W. Hedges has returned from his summer vacation.

According to the London papers, the English publishers paid Bret Harte $15,000 last year.

Miss Beulah E. VanLiew, of 95 West Fourth street, is spending a week's vacation in the country.

Manager T. S. Armstrong of Reynolds's pharmacy, and Mrs. Armstrong, are home from Middletown, N. Y.

Charles McGinley, one of the oldest residents of Plainfield, died this afternoon at his home, East Third street, aged 88 years.

W. R. Babcock, formerly of Webster place, this city, Eastern agent of the New England and Vermont Central railways, has just returned from Vermont, where he has been on the trip with President Harrison.

The University Magazine for August contains a paper on college Greek letter fraternities by Chauncey B. Ripley. Full recognition by the faculties and trustees of American colleges is claimed for these fraternities, and much else is said likely to interest college men.—New York Press.

W. B. Arnold, the well-known actor (last season of the Burglar company which appeared in Music Hall) who is engaged with the "Blue Jeans" company that is to be in this city, Thursday evening, Nov. 5, spent Sunday with his niece, Mrs. J. T. Vegiard, 252 West Third street.

The engagement is announced of Miss J. Louise Pangborn, daughter of Isaac W. Pangborn of Washington Park, to J. Frank Martin, son of George C. Martin of Kansas City, for many years a resident of Plainfield at Eighth street and Central avenue. Young Mr. Martin is now visiting in this city.

Put the Law on Them.

Last Saturday afternoon a bicycler with his face all scratched, said he was run into by Irving Stelle, who, while racing along the county road with another driver, crowded the wheelman into the gutter and upset him. A man and woman were also run down about the same time and near the same spot by a private carriage said to belong to Isaac Lewis of Hotel Netherwood. It was not Mr. Lewis's team, however. A suit for heavy damages against these reckless drivers, is the proper kind of lesson to administer.

A Young Thief.

Twelve-year-old Charlie Doty is on his way to the Reform School. He is accused of stealing $8.31 from Mrs. Botce, who keeps a boarding house at Third street and Central avenue. He bought a bicycle and a gun with the money. Justice Nash yesterday sent him to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

THE MYSTERY OF THE LAKE.

Katie Hoffman, of Passaic, Who Thinks that the Dead Body Is that of Her Brother, Has Not Yet Identified It, But Instead She Herself Is Missing.

The body found in John I. Holly's lake is still lying in the rough pine box in a stable at the Driving Park. This afternoon has been set for the coroner's inquest and the county physician's autopsy, and some very interesting developments may be expected.

Katie Hoffman, a domestic in the employ of J. Spence Anderson, a New York business man, who lives at Passaic, thinks that the dead body is that of her brother, and at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon she left her employer's home, unattended, to come to Plainfield to identify it. Since then nothing has been heard of her. Mr. Anderson, greatly worried over her disappearance, was searching everywhere for her this morning.

When a PRESS reporter saw him, at 11 o'clock this morning, he had not viewed the remains, and the identification was not complete. The reason Katie thought it was her brother was because of the scrap of paper found on the body, bearing the names of Michael Hoffman and Francis Engel, and purporting to be a recommendation of Hoffman.

Katie's brother Michael worked for farmer Engel at Carlstadt. Both Engel and Hoffman were Germans. Hoffman was about thirty years of age. On Sunday morning, August 16, Hoffman started to go out to work in the fields. Suddenly he returned, got his bank book from Mrs. Engel, and told Mr. Engel he was going to leave. Mr. Engel was vexed, but gave Hoffman the recommendation he asked for. Then Hoffman visited his sister at her employer's house, and gave her his bank book, with a record of considerable savings, saying that he had no further use for it. He told Katie that he was going away, and that she might never see him again. He wanted to give her a paper saying that whatever he had in the bank was hers, but she would n't have it. When he went down the steps Katie told Mr. Anderson of his behavior, and asked him to give him a good sensible talking to. Mr. Anderson called to him to come back, but he threw up his hands and said "No! No!"

The next day Katie was so worried for fear her brother had gone into the woods and killed himself that Mr. Anderson reported the matter to chief Hendry, of the Passaic police, and the woods were searched, but nothing further was heard from Hoffman.

Mr. Anderson said this morning that his greatest present anxiety was for Katie, who was all alone on her trip to this city, and who, having had no other relatives in the country, was greatly distressed over the supposed death of her brother. He was very much concerned for her safety. She had evidently lost her way in changing cars.

Mr. Anderson's theory was that Hoffman had wandered across country while under the influence of beer-drinking and affection of the head caused by being exposed to the hot sun, and had, on coming to Holly's lake, drowned himself. He acknowledged that he could not account for the body of a suicide getting under the bridge where found, and said that the case was a very perplexing one. He hoped that the examination this afternoon would throw light on the mystery. He admitted that all the facts connected with the finding of the body were adverse to the theory of suicide and in support of the theory of murder.

Constable Soper issued two permits yesterday to view the body. One was to a young man from Brooklyn, who thought that the dead man might be a missing friend of his. He decided that it was not. The other was to Aaron Wollberg, of Jersey City, who had suspected that the dead man was his son-in-law, Jacob Lipsker, jeweler, of Malden Lane, New York. Mr. Crohn, a partner in Lipsker's firm, was seen at his place of business yesterday morning.

He stated if it proved to be the body of Lipsker he had doubtless committed suicide in order to escape arrest for dishonesty. He had no idea, however, that it was Lipsker, and he believed Wollberg's story to be a big game of bluff.

Mr. Crohn stated that the firm began business a little over four months ago, Crohn putting in the larger part of the money Aug. 11. Lipsker started on a business trip, going first to Philadelphia and Pittsburg. On Aug. 20 Crohn received a letter from Lipsker, dated at Trenton, N. J., saying that business had not been good and that he would visit some of the towns near Newton and would be home the following Saturday or Sunday. Lipsker had collected several accounts and failed to turn in the money. Crohn thought that Lipsker's father-in-law had started for purposes of his own the theory that he had committed suicide and that the body found in the lake was his. If it was, however, said Crohn, it could easily be identified by an examination of the left forefinger, which was badly injured a month ago. Crohn says the firm has lost $3,000 through Lipsker.

From the hands of the dead man, of course, nothing could be told, because decomposition had progressed so far. But Wollberg judged from the clothing that the body was not that of Lipsker.

The bridge under which the body was found was to have been torn up yesterday, and the water underneath it dragged for further evidence, but the search was postponed.

It is planned to set dummy men—big bags stuffed with straw—afloat in the lake, to settle the question whether it was possible for the corpse to float itself into such perfect concealment under the bridge.

Suspicion has been directed towards a vacant house near the lake, where the supposed murder may have occurred. The theory is that the dead man may have been enticed into the place and killed. The house is an old country mansion which William Flaig built. Flaig came to this city a very wealthy man, built the mansion in question and one very like it on an adjoining piece of land. He lost all his money and went away from Plainfield without a cent. He once owned Force's Hotel. The deserted mansion has been vacant five years. The one adjoining has been occupied only about three months, by a well-to-do German and his family.

The following has been received:

the press Office
Plainfield, New Jersey.

Where is harry Wilks, 21 years old a horse trainer of staten island. he was not liked, hated, I think the murdered man is him positive, try and find out, if not found I will make a statement.

On the big bulletin boards in front of the New York newspaper offices, yesterday, the murder mystery of the Holly lake was the most conspicuous feature. This is the way one of the metropolitan papers worked up what it heard of the case:

The piece of white paper pinned to the dead man's coat bothers the local mystery mongers a great deal. They insist that it was not placed there by the deceased. It bears the name Michael Hoffman, who, it intimates, has been employed by Francis Engel. No Michael Hoffman is known in the neighborhood; neither is any Francis Engel.

A yellow envelope found in one of the dead man's pockets started a rumor that he was a salesman for Edward Ridley & Sons, dry goods dealers in Grand street, this city. One of the partners said yesterday that no man named Michael Hoffman has ever been employed by the firm. There is a Benjamin Hoffman who has been in their employ as a porter for a number of years.

The firm's paymaster gave an explanation as to the yellow envelope bearing the firm's name which was found on the dead man. The Ridleys every year issue as an advertisement a large number of these printed envelopes to other firms, to be used as pay envelopes.

There is a Francis Engle mentioned in the City Directory. He is an insurance broker who lives at 58 Cannon street. He was not at home yesterday, but his wife said that she was sure that her husband had never employed a man named Michael Hoffman.

THREE GREAT GAMES.

Saturday and Monday The Crescent League's Team Will Meet Strong Foes.

The managers of the Crescent League's base-ball team, have arranged some exciting contests for next Saturday and Monday.

The New York Athletic club's team, which won the only game the New Jersey Athletic club's team lost this season in the contest for the amateur athletic championship of the United States, will meet the Crescents on the latter's grounds, Saturday afternoon.

Monday morning the Crescent Athletic club of Staten Island, with George Cadmus in the pitcher's box, will be here. Cadmus, who was formerly the pet of the Plainfield grand stand, has been doing wonders as a twirler this season.

Monday afternoon the Star Athletics, of Newark, will come again. This is the team with which the Crescents have always had such exciting struggles. They have only met once so far this year. May 9, after eleven innings, the Crescents won by the score of 4 to 3. Last season, April 12, the two met and after twelve innings the Star Athletics won by the score of 4 to 3. August 16 of last year the Crescents won by the score of 2 to 0. So Monday afternoon's game promises to be one of the most interesting of the season.

Last Saturday at Staten Island, the Crescent Athletic club won two games against the Staten Island Cricket club—the first with Carr pitching for the Crescents, by the score of 5 to 1, and the second with Cadmus pitching, by the score of 10 to 1. Only 4 hits were made off Cadmus, and he struck out 10 men.

A VALUABLE MAN.

Superintendent Bowden of Engineer Dunham's Staff, in Great Demand.

Engineer F. A. Dunham's right-hand man in the construction of roads, is David Bowden of this city; and Mr. Dunham's only trouble in this world is that he can't put Mr. Bowden up in pieces available at lots of different places. The people at Hackensack where Mr. Dunham has some work under way, are just now disconsolate because Mr. Bowden has been called away from there. But the people at Dunkirk are rejoicing over it. The Herald of that city, says:

Mr. David Bowden, of Plainfield, N. J., is the gentleman who Mr. F. A. Dunham, the City Engineer, has appointed as inspector of the brick and material to be used in paving our streets, and he will, also, have the general superintendency of the work. The contract calls for the very best kind of work and brick from beginning to end; and Mr. Bowden has every appearance of being the right man in the right place. We have every reason to believe that the City Engineer has made a good selection for this responsible position, and that there will be no slighting of the contract permitted under any circumstances. From the reputation which the contractors have for doing good work, we have no reason to believe that they have any inclination to do anything but live up to their contract in letter and spirit. But with all this, the fact that we have a live competent inspector will be a great relief to the tax-payers, and given additional confidence as to the character of the improvements now being made.

INTO THE SUPREME COURT AGAIN.

Mason W. Tyler and Others Striving to Arrest Competition in Water Supply and Trying to Deliver the City and Its People into the Hands of a Monopoly.

Mayor Gilbert was served last evening with a copy of a bill of complaint, together with a notice of an appeal to be made before Judge Bennet VanSyckel at the court house, Tom's River, to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock, petitioning him to allow a writ of certiorari removing into the Supreme Court the ordinance adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield over the Mayor's veto, entitled, "An ordinance to provide for the obtaining and furnishing of a supply of water," etc., and also the resolution adopted at the same meeting approving of a form of contract between the city and J. M. Low, and directing the Mayor and City Clerk to execute the same. The petitioners are:

Mason W. Tyler,
Rowland Cox,
J. Evarts Tracy,
Charles J. Fisk,
George H. Babcock,
Pliny Fisk,
Ernest L. Walz,
Eric N. Erickson,
John M. Whiton,
John Bushnell,
William E. Lowe,
William Thompson,
Joseph M. Titsworth,
George H. Goddard.

The attorney of these men, Richard VanSyckel Lindabury, goes on to recite in the petition the old stock plea about the unconstitutionality of the act under which the ordinance was granted, etc., etc., while the men themselves tell the Judge that there is a splendid water company already started here, and that it has lots of capital, and that four-fifths of the tax payers want the city to take water from it, and that it will do everything now that it has to to get the job, or words to that effect all through the pages of the type-written petition.

What object such honest men as those named above have in arresting water competition in this city, and delivering the people into the hands of the same monopolists who are now compelling the consumers to pay $2.50 a thousand for gas no better than those in other places get for 75 cents and $1, is a mystery.

Their action stated above will probably result as they intend. The Corporation Counsel is in Europe, and Judge Van Syckle in the absence of counsel for the city will to-morrow grant the writ asked for.

It is said that other representative and wealthy citizens besides those named above, were appealed to to go on the petition, but they declined. Charles Potter, jr., it is said, was one who refused, and in a six page letter to Mr. Tyler he gave his reasons. THE PRESS opens wide its columns for a copy of that letter.

Three Plainfield Horses in It.

The races which have taken place at Waverly on the various holidays during the past dozen years have in the main been contests worthy of the pastime. Billy Button, David L., Irish Lad, Helene, Peralto, Young Fullerton, Star, and others of like distinction have met in the lists on those historic grounds. Each one made a name for himself in trotting annals on other fields, and each one is living to-day.

The different races on Labor Day will be contested by horses equal in quality to those that have appeared before. It is doubtful if any previous trotting meeting has numbered horses more equally matched or better known than those that will appear on Monday, Sept. 7, a list of which is appended:

The following, sent THE PRESS from Westfield, speaks for itself:

WANTED—A situation, by a young man, as superintendent of a morgue. Has had experience. Handled a base-ball team at Westfield. Address either of the Westfield papers.

Hello, Rip Van Winkle! What a pity that you don't drink Root Beer made with Knapp's Root Beer Extract; it doesn't intoxicate.

CAMDEN, N. Y., Sept. 26, 1890.

Having suffered from Dyspepsia for several years, and having tried many eminent doctors without success, I was reluctantly induced to try Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills. I obtained speedy relief, and after a few months' use am cured. After such an experience, how can I praise them too highly? They ought to become famous, and gratitude prompts me to do all that is in my power to make them so. WALTER C. STODDARD.

OUR

"Y. S. F".

BLACK Hosiery is undoubtably the best and cheapest sold anywhere. They wear better and keep their color longer than any other. This is the experience of many ladies who have tried all the different makes. If you will give them one trial you will surely be convinced that every word of the above is true.

OUR 25c grade is as good as those sold for 30c elsewhere. And all the other grades are likewise as cheap.

IF you are not using them it will pay you to look into the matter.

WE offer special inducements now to any who wish to furnish with Carpets, Mattings, Oil-cloths, Lace and Chenille Curtains, Shades, etc.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

EX-COUNCILMAN DARLING STILL HELD.

But John F. and Albert T. Plummer are Discharged from All Claims by Creditors.

A final settlement of the affairs of the bankrupt firm of John F. Plummer & Co., dry goods commission merchants of Broadway and Leonard street, New York, who, it will be remembered, made an assignment to Jeremiah P. Murphy, their head cashier, March 19, 1890, has been effected. The creditors of both the brothers, John F. of Netherwood, and Albert T. Plummer, have fully discharged them from all claims. They have, however, retained all their rights and claims against ex-councilman William S. Darling, of this city, the absconded partner of the firm.

This settlement was due in a great measure to the belief held by the creditors that Darling had made away with a greater part of the missing cash assets. Relatives also of the Messrs. Plummer have consented to waive their rights and interests against the assigned estate, and this includes the concession of the Dower right held by Mrs. John F. Plummer against her husband's property.

A majority of creditors preferred a cash dividend, and this has been paid them to the extent of 20 per cent. of their claims. Some of the largest creditors, with Colonel William Strong, president of the Central National Bank, New York, as trustee, have taken title to John F. Plummer's real estate as their dividend. A large part of this real estate consists of valuable property in Netherwood. All the personal indebtedness of the brothers, as apart from the obligations of the firm, has been discharged in full.

John F. Plummer said last night that Darling was still in Canada. Mr. Plummer does not intend to re-enter mercantile business. His wife, he said, had given up a fortune to bring about the settlement.

PLAINFIELD CRICKETERS DEFEATED.

But They Held the Pioneers Down to Their Lowest Score of the Season.

The Pioneer Cricket Club sent their best team to Plainfield to play against the St. George's Cricket Club of this city, Saturday, and returned to Elizabeth with another victory to their credit. The match was well contested, the teams being well balanced, and the Pioneers can credit their bowlers with having won the game for them; the bowling of J. Jones was too much for the home club, and he was ably assisted by T. Jones, whose 3 wickets for 15 runs does him credit. The bowling of Hendry—5 wickets for 12 runs with 5 maidens in 14 overs—and that of Stansfield—4 wickets for 5 runs—are worthy of mention. Captain Ogden showed up in good form behind the wickets, and was ably assisted by Chamberlain at long stop. The visitors were disposed of for the lowest score they have made this season. The game was enjoyed by a large number of spectators. The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the close of the game, and expressed themselves well pleased with their reception.

DOINGS IN DUNELLEN.

Interesting Items from a Thriving Borough, by THE PRESS' Own Correspondent.

T. C. Bodine and family have returned from Asbury Park.

E. H. Graves and family are home from Asbury.

Master Elmer Giddis has been spending a fortnight at Liberty Corner.

Rob Giddis and Elston Lowrie spent Sunday at Lake Hopatcong.

The Dunellen Athletics played a game of base-ball last Saturday against a picked nine. It resulted in the old memorable Tilden and Hayes score, 7 to 8. The Athletics had the 8.

Mrs. C. D. Taylor is spending a few days with her parents at Paterson.

The Rev. Mr. Martine is building a new barn.

Walter Smith has been spending a week with his father, Councilman Smith of Bound Brook.

The sociable held on the lawn of F. A. Paddock, last Friday evening, was a brilliant success. Selections by Miss Louise Kuenlin of Dunellen and Miss Tate of Brooklyn, were especially pleasing. The young people indulged in dancing to Johnson's music until a late hour and after the usual repast departed to their several homes much pleased with their evening's entertainment.

FOUGHT WITH HIS CRUTCH.

Constable Warden Had to be Assisted in Taking a One-Legged Prisoner to Jail.

"Packer" Wilson, in the employ of John Goff, proprietor of the Fourth Ward Hotel, Liberty street, drove through Dunellen yesterday at a very lively rate, and as he was considerably elated thought he owned the road. He met Alvah Gray's lumber wagon on the main street and ran into it, but never stopped his much-abused horse to see whether any damage had been done.

Mr. Gray procured a warrant for Wilson's arrest. Constable Warden found him at Taylor's hotel, and took him before Judge Coles. Wilson was fined $10, but had not the money to pay. He was therefore taken to the county jail at New Brunswick.

Wilson, who has but one leg and walks with a crutch, was very obstinate, and could not be induced to enter the carriage that was to take him to jail. He used his crutch as a weapon, and made a savage attack upon constable Warden, who was obliged to get help from those near at hand and force the brute into the vehicle. Wilson may also have to answer for his assault upon the constable.

"JANE" COMING TO PLAINFIELD.

Other News About Things Theatrical in the Great Metropolis.

[FROM THE PRESS' OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The present theatrical season has started badly, if the new productions so far given are any criterion. "Dorothy's Dilemma", Rose Coghlan's new play at the Park theatre, has proved a disappointment to even the adaptor's friends, though Miss Coghlan herself gave, as she always does, a charming, womanly interpretation of her role. She also demonstrated the fact that she could wear trousers and ride a horse as well as, if not better than, the average man. Manager Wotherspoon still has hopes for the play.

Perhaps the most important production of the coming season will be Messrs. Gilmore & Tompkins's romantic, spectacular play "The Soudan", which is to open at the Academy, Sept. 3. Its greatest interest centres in a series of stirring scenes from the Soudan war, including the storming of an Arab village by the British troops and the review in Trafalgar square at the close of the war. These stage pictures require the services of 500 supers, all of whom are on the stage at one time.

"Jane", meanwhile, has been doing so well that its run at the Madison Square theatre has been extended to Oct. 10.

"Jane's" manager says he is seeking a date to play in Plainfield's new Music Hall.

"A High Roller" has gone to smash. That is, Alex. Comstock has. He spent all of his money on the production and fancy printing and then found himself unable to pay salaries. Randall & Dickson then stepped into the breach and assumed all liabilities, in consideration for which Comstock was compelled to hand over a three-fourths interest. Just what motive the new management had in taking this step is a mystery. It may have been charity, and it looks like it, though I have my doubts on that score. "A High Roller" has rolled poor Comstock high and dry.

A very noisy controversy is just now going on between Henry E. Abbey and Marcus Mayer over the redoubtable Patti. Each claims to have the diva under contract for a concert tour in this country this season. Both are positive, and yet, it seems, neither is certain. The truth is that Patti has not signed any contract, though she wrote to Abbey that she would go with him under certain conditions. Before Abbey could reply Marcus Mayer had a talk with Patti and offered better terms, which she is inclined to accept. She is now playing one against the other for her own ends.

I see that the two young daughters of Col. John A. McCaull are to make their debut on the stage this fall. They have found it necessary in order to support their parents, who are now both poor and helpless. They should be offered every encouragement.

There has been considerable discussion here of late over the pronunciation of the title of Rich & Harris's new piece, "Tuxedo". The general sentiment, however, seems to be in favor of placing the emphasis on the e. It is the play that George Thatcher and Ed Marble of your city are presenting. They will appear in Plainfield with it, Nov. 13.

Richard Mansfield is at it again. The newspapers here have not discussed him for two weeks, so he has been compelled again to resort to desperate means. In a word, he has announced his intention of marrying Miss Beatrice Cameron, his leading lady. It is said that they have been very much in love with each other for a long time, but they were unable to gratify their heart's desires as Miss Cameron was only recently divorced from her husband, George Phoebus. Miss Cameron is doing quite well for one of her years.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

An Editor Burned Out.

News comes from Bound Brook that the office of the The Chronicle was ruined by fire last evening. Someone broke open a window at the rear of the printing office, thrust in a quantity of waste, and set a lighted match to it. The blaze ran up the window sash and fired the pine-board ceiling. A very hot fire resulted, and the type in the office was melted and the machinery of the presses was twisted and warped out of shape.

The fire department building next door was slightly damaged. The Chronicle is owned and edited by postmaster W. B. R. Mason, and it is such a good newspaper that it ought not to be allowed to suspend publication for even a single issue. Editor Mason is so popular in the fraternity that he will have no trouble in finding a brother printer to help him out in the matter of publication till he can get his own office in shape again.

New Jersey and the World's Fair.

The New Jersey Commission of the World's Columbian Exposition, appointed by Governor Leon Abbett, and consisting of Garrett A. Hobart, Edward Bedle, Stephen J. Meeker, John C. Smock, Millard F. Boss, P. E. Swartswelier, Peter Hauck and Walter S. Lenox, has issued an appeal to the citizens of New Jersey, urging that an early and active interest be taken by exhibitors in order that proper space may be obtained, and that the varied and valuable industries of the State may be fittingly represented and displayed.

Duel Between Two Well-Known Clubmen.

The police ascertained at an early hour this morning that a sensational duel took place last night in the parlors of one of the most exclusive clubs in the city. One of the principals is a wealthy young artist. His opponent is said to be the son of a railroad president. One of the combatants lies at his home attended by several physicians. The other has escaped. It is rumored that a very beautiful young girl is the cause of the trouble. Full particulars can be found in "Estella's Husband", by May Agnes Fleming, issued today. Price 25 cents. Ask your newsman to show you a copy.

A gentleman and his wife, the latter with a six-months-old infant in her arms, were about to enter the Austin opera house to see the performance one night, when the doorkeeper suddenly said:

"Beg pardon, madam, but you can't take infants inside!"

"Very well," said the lady, "so much the better for me. You just take care of the little fellow till the play is over—and by the way, there's the milk bottle in case he should cry."—Texas Siftings.

Americans Must Be Careful.

Standish—What's that? You say you were attacked by highwaymen on the way here?

Winthrope—Yes, and robbed of every cent after being beaten insensible.

Standish—Honest citizens ought to go armed.

Winthrope—I was armed.

Standish—Then why didn't you shoot?

Winthrope—I was afraid some of the highwaymen might be unnaturalized residents, and I did not want to risk plunging my beloved country into a foreign war.—N. Y. Weekly.

Lighthead's Mistake.

Lighthead—This idea that Boston girls are so highly intellectual is all nonsense. You remember you introduced me to one at the party the other evening?

Hardhead—Yes; Miss Tremont, a friend of mine.

Lighthead (triumphantly)—Well, I was with her an hour, and she didn't talk about anything but dogs and horses.

Hardhead—She has great adaptability.—Good News.

A Woman's Eternity.

She (icily, to rejected suitor)—Did I not say "never!" to you yesterday? Why do you ask me again?

He (bravely)—Well, as this is the next day after "never" I thought I'd call to see if you hadn't changed your eternal resolution.—Judge.

Quick Cure.

Bradsmith—Doc, I'm feeling very poorly to-day.

Doctor—All right; I can fix you up. What's the matter?

"Never felt poorer; haven't a cent. Lend me a fiver?"

"Here, take it, blame you!"—Light.

Lovers Are Blind.

Old Gentleman (to suitor)—You want to marry my daughter, do you, young man?

Young Man—Yes, sir.

Old Gentleman—Dear me! I gave you credit for being a level-headed young fellow.—Boston Herald.

On the Contrary.

Mrs. B.—George, I am outraged. The moment you see that Miss Landon you seem to forget that you are a married man!

Mr. B.—No, my dear; on the contrary, the very sight of her makes me think of that.—Life.

"A TRAINED NURSE"

Realism in Art.

Mrs. Broadhurst (visiting her son's studio)—Wonderful, Herbert! How you have improved since I was here last! Such depth of color, and magnificent distance; and as for that eagle on the topmost bough of that tree, I can almost see him move.

Mr. Broadhurst—Excuse me, mother, but that's a fly.—Judge.

No Spare Hours.

Mr. Hayseed (arriving at city hotel)—I s'pose I kin hear the gong here when it rings for dinner, can't I?

Clerk—We have no gong. We have breakfast from 6 to 11, dinner from 12 to 6, supper from 6 to 12.

Mr. Hayseed—Jehoshaphat! How am I to git time to see the city?—N. Y. Weekly.

His Advantage.

Maud—No girl could have refused him if he had proposed to her as sweetly as he proposed to me.

Mary—But you must remember, dear, that he has had a great deal of experience.—Munsey's Weekly.

A Hardworked Journalist.

Mr. White—Is dat so, you's on de staff ob de Daily Blanketsheet?

Mr. Black—'Deed I is, an' a most highly 'portant position I's got. I mix de paste, clean de spittoons, an' sharpen de shears.—Good News.

A Matter of Pronunciation.

Miss Gadd (from the east—in Arkansas book store)—Have you Ben Hur?

Young Clerk (recently from the woods)—Ben hyur, mom? W'y, I stay hyer all the time!—Light.

A Confession.

Aunt Mabel—Why, Johnny, how the sun has tanned you!

Johnny—No, it wasn't the sun that tanned me. It was papa.—Munsey's Weekly.

In No Immediate Danger.

Miss De Muir—Death loves a shining mark.

Miss De Menor—Yes. But you come of a very long-lived family, don't you? —Puck.

Preparing for the Summer.

Amazed Jeweler—And you wish to purchase seven of these rings?

Collegian—Yes; and engrave "To my first and only love" on each of them.—Jury.

The Height of Exclusiveness

Mrs. Hayseed—Talkin' 'bout airs, the most airish, exclusive, stuck up thing I ever saw is that Mrs. Hayfork, on the next farm.

City Geest—Proud, is she?

Mrs. Hayseed—Haughty as a princess. Why, she's so stuck up she won't take a summer boarder 'til July.—Good News.

An Anti-Revolutionist.

Jawkins (in the menagerie)—It's jolly odd, this wastefulness of nature.

Hogg—What now, Mr. Crank?

Jawkins—Why, here's the kangaroo with a pocket, and nothing to put in it, and the girl who's looking at the beast has her handkerchief, gloves, purse and umbrella in hand, and no available pocket.—Texas Siftings.

Time to Stop Fooling.

Dr. Gruff (to fashionable patient)—It's merely the same old ailment, my dear madam.

Mrs. Style—Oh, no, doctor; I really am ill now.

Dr. Gruff—H'm! If that is really so I'll have to change the whole course of treatment!—Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.

A Short-Sighted Man.

She—What do you mean, sir, by speaking to me in the street? I want you to understand that I am a respectable married lady.

He—Excuse me, but I'm so short-sighted that at first glance I cannot distinguish a married lady from any other lady.—Texas Siftings.

After the Tiff.

He—Well, we won't quarrel about it any more, but just let it go as it is, eh?

She—Yes. But, George, dear, for the sake of the future—and a harmonious future—I think you would better acknowledge before we drop it altogether that you were wrong! Don't you, dear? —Puck.

Hyde—I saw Charlie Fanshawe on Michigan avenue this afternoon.

Parker—That's impossible, for Charlie started for Europe yesterday.

Hyde—Well, then it must have been some dude with a dog and cane just like his.—Chicago Saturday Evening Herald.

Playing on His Pride

Outwit—I suppose that when you talk French to Waite you are telling him something you want the rest of us to know nothing about?

Outwit—Not at all, my dear fellow. I am telling him something I want him to know nothing about.—Puck.

Not Worth Consideration.

Sappy—Miss Clara, do me a favor. Tell me honestly just what you think of me.

Clara Candid—I would, Mr. Sappy, but the fact is I really never think of you at all.—Chicago Saturday Evening Herald.

Called Back.

St. Peter (to spirit)—How is this? I've got it down that you left the earth two days ago. Where have you been since then?

Spirit—My wife called me back to build a fire in the kitchen stove.—Judge.

AN ORDINANCE

To provide for the obtaining and furnishing of a supply of water to the City of Plainfield for the purpose of extinguishing fires and other lawful uses and purposes.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That upon the approval or final adoption of this ordinance, the consent of the corporate authorities of the City of Plainfield be and the same is hereby given to Joseph M. Low and six others, his associates, four of whom shall be residents of the State of New Jersey, to associate themselves as a body politic and corporate under the name of the Plainfield Aqueduct Company, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating water-works for the purpose of supplying the City of Plainfield and its inhabitants with water. And that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized and instructed to sign the assent of the corporate authorities of the city to the certificate of the incorporation of said company.

Section 2. That after said company shall have been duly incorporated, and shall have entered into contract with the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield for the supplying of the city and the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water, said contract to be agreed upon by the Common Council and the company, and said contract shall have been duly executed under the seals respectively of said company and said city and not before, said company be given authority to lay pipes beneath such public roads, streets, avenues and alleys as they may deem necessary for the purposes aforesaid.

That said grant is made upon the conditions aforesaid, and not otherwise, and in case the said company does not comply with all the conditions of this ordinance, including the due execution of said contract and the bond to be therein mentioned, within a period of thirty days after personal notice to said Joseph M. Low, or notice given by publication in the official papers of the City of Plainfield, then all the provisions of this ordinance shall cease, terminate and become void without further notice.

Re-adopted August 21, 1891, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor.

Attest—J. B. COWARD, City Clerk.

Fees—$5.40.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 24, 1891.

J. B. COWARD, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

Concerning the use and repairs of streets.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That in case the surface of any of the street sidewalks of said city shall have been disturbed or shall be disturbed by any person or persons or corporation, it shall be the duty of such person or persons or corporation respectively within ten days after such disturbance, or in case the same shall have already been made before the date on which this ordinance shall go into effect, then within ten days from the date last referred to, to cause said streets or sidewalks to be put as nearly as practicable in as good condition as the same were in before being disturbed as aforesaid, so that the same shall be hard, smooth and even on the surface and of the same grade and level as before said disturbance was begun.

And it shall further be the duty of any such person or persons or corporation in case any such disturbance as aforesaid or any work done in connection therewith by such person or persons or corporation has caused or shall at any time or times cause any depression or elevation in any street or sidewalk so disturbed, to remedy said defect within ten days after being notified by the street commissioner in writing so to do.

Any person or persons who, or any corporation which shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each and every offence.

Fees—$4.50.

BIG STRIKE NOW ON

Window Glass Workers and Bosses Fail to Agree.

FULLY 10,000 PEOPLE AFFECTED

The Trouble Sure to Continue Seven Weeks, Possibly Longer.

Manufacturers Were Willing to Withdraw Their Demand for a Reduction, But the Workers Would Not Recede from Their Demand for an Increase in Wages—New Jersey Green Bottle Blowers Rejoicing.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 2.—A strike of the window glass workers, which will throw fully 10,000 people out of employment, has just been officially declared. It will continue at least seven weeks, and if neither side makes concessions will continue longer.

A meeting of the sub-committees appointed to settle the wage differences was held last evening. The manufacturers withdrew their demand for a reduction, while the workers declined to recede from their demand for an advance.

At the meeting last week the manufacturers, in a spirit of harmony, withdrew their demand for a 10 per cent. reduction and agreed to pay last year's wages, the workers having agreed to recommend some changes in some of the rules.

At last evening's meeting the workers' committee refused to withdraw their demand for an increase in gatherer's wages, and recalled their consent to the change of some of the rules.

No settlement can now be had for seven weeks, as that time must elapse before the association can consider the matter.

GLASS BLOWERS REJOICE.

Resumption of Work By All of the New Jersey Factories.

TRENTON, N. J., Sep. 2.—The agreement reached between the green glass manufacturers and the workers' association, by which all the furnaces in this State have been started after the long shut down, is the cause of great rejoicing among the workmen and storekeepers.

The manufacturers have agreed to the price list and rules adopted by the workers' convention in St. Louis last July, with two exceptions, in which a compromise was effected viz., the demand for advance in the prices of flasks is withdrawn, and they will remain the same as last year. On minerals, however, all the rise asked for by the workers has been granted, while the apprenticeship question remains in statu quo.

The green glass blowers have cut loose from the Knights of Labor and have concluded an arrangement with the officers of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union, by which, during the coming year, the workmen of neither organization shall make ware that is made by the other. This is an important alliance, and another plan is on foot to make the traveling and working cards of the two organizations interchangeable so that green blowers may work in flint factories and vice versa.

First to Start After the Shut Down.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sep. 2.—The Christianna Glass Company lighted their furnaces to-day, and claim to be the first window glass factory in the United States to go into operation after the summer shut down. The men have been granted an eight per cent. increase of wages.

A Big Glass Maker to Assign.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 2.—J. Scott Ferguson, attorney for J. A. Chambers, the well-known glass manufacturer, who is associated with Mr. McKee in the Tank Glass Works at Jeanette, and who is now in financial straits, stated this morning that his client would make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to-morrow. Mr. Ferguson stated that all of Mr. Chambers' creditors except one were willing to grant an extension. That one, who is a creditor to the amount of $200,000, absolutely refused to join in granting the desired extension.

Eva Hamilton's Debut on the Stage.

BOONTON, N. J., Sep. 2.—Mrs. Eva Mann, or Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton, as she prefers to call herself, made her debut on the theatrical stage here last night. Her posters state that "Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton, the most famous woman in the world, will appear in a play entitled 'All a Mistake.'" The audience did not greet her with any applause at her entrance upon the stage. She failed to rise to the requirements of the emotional scenes and the play as a whole fell flat.

Discharged for His Action Four Years Ago.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—The trustees of the New York Life Insurance Company at a special meeting directed the dismissal from the company's employ of Theodore M. Banta, the cashier, who made the charges of mismanagement against the president and trustees of the company four years ago. One of the trustees of the company said that this resolution, together with the removal of Mr. Banta, sufficiently established the attitude of the policy holders toward the president.

Has Roosevelt Resigned?

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—It is reported at the Custom House to-day that Theodore Roosevelt, Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, has tendered his resignation to the President. Theodore Babcock, Secretary of the Custom House Board, said he had heard the report of the resignation, but could not confirm it. Mr. Roosevelt is now on his way to his ranch in the West.

Is Gould After Another Road?

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—The opinion is general in this city that the reason Jay Gould is spending so much time in Colorado and in so carefully inspecting the Rio Grande, is that he hopes to join with the local contingent and purchase the road. Mr. Gould is still at Manitou.

ACCUSED OF IRREGULARITIES.

An Effort to Remove Philadelphia's Mercantile Appraisers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 2.—City Treasurer W. E. Wright has forwarded a letter to Auditor-General McCamant, asking that he join with him in the dismissal of Mercantile Appraisers Edward N. Patton, Albert Crawford, Samuel F. Houseman, Harry Hunter and James F. Bell, constituting the present Board of Mercantile Appraisers for the City and County of Philadelphia, and makes the following charges against them:

1—That the appraisers have regularly and deliberately, for the purpose of defrauding the State, assessed fictitious persons and those from whom no payment of mercantile taxes was or could be exacted.

2—That they have regularly exempted from the payment of the tax those who were subject to and perfectly able to pay it.

3—That they have grossly underrated many hundreds of prominent merchants and dealers for purposes best known to themselves.

4—That they sent out notices of assessment placing certain taxpayers in a high class, while they have returned them to this department as assessed in a lower class, thus enabling third parties to collect from the taxpayers the larger sum while the smaller amount only was paid into the treasury and the State was defrauded of the difference.

5—That their plan as to reduction and exception has been a systematic scheme of swindling, which has resulted invariably in oppression to the citizen, in loss to the State and in demoralization to the community.

The Union Pacific Rumors.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—Speaking of certain rumors regarding changes in the Union Pacific managment, a prominent stockholder said to-day: "I have not heard that Gould, Sage or Dillon have sold any of their Union Pacific holdings as is reported. They are all heavy subscribers to the debt certificates and it would be hardly likely for them to sell out at this time. Upwards of three-quarters of the debt certificates are now placed and the amount is being steadily increased. I do not know whether Mr. Dillon is going to resign or not."

Murdered a New York Policeman.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—The brutal murder yesterday of Policeman John J. Sherman by the negro, Francis Noah, in the apartment house in Harlem has cast a deep gloom over the Harlem Police Station, to which Sherman was attached. An examination by doctors showed that the policeman's throat was cut from ear to ear, and that he died from loss of blood. As the negro was being transferred to the One Hundredth Street Station an angry crowd followed, and at one time it looked as if an attempt would be made to lynch him.

Confessed to Murder But Released.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sep. 2.—Curtis Willis, who has been under arrest here charged with the murder of Ross Watts, on a boat some time ago, has been released, the Grand Jury having brought in a true bill for murder against a man named Morris Davis. Willis a short time ago made a confession, in which he described the crime and said he did the killing. The jury, however, refused to entertain his story. The murder was a brutal one, and the case has excited much interest.

A Remarkable Phenomenon Promised.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 2—Prof. Lewis Swift, of the Warner Observatory, calls attention to a remarkable phenomenon soon to occur, never yet seen by any human eye. During the morning hours of September 4 Wolf's periodic comet will pass directly over that well-known cluster, the Pleiades, popularly called the seven stars. The phenomenon is considered by astronomers of great importance aside from its never having been witnessed.

Return of the White House Ladies.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—Collector Bassett will place the revenue cutter Grant at the disposal of Mrs. President Harrison to-day, for the purpose of going down the bay and meeting the Majestic, which has Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison on board. The cutter will accompany the steamer to her dock, but will not take the ladies off the Majestic, on account of the danger attending such transfer.

Liquor Dealers' Convention.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—Resolutions adopted by the Liquor Dealers' Convention declares against high license, endorses the Minor law, condemns the Civil Damage act and demands the repeal of the present arbitrary and unjust excise laws and the passage of a new law which will allow the people of the State that personal liberty which is enjoyed in other countries.

The Army Worm Appears in Germany.

BERLIN, Sep. 2.—The appearance of the army worm, as it is called, in the Harz district, has given rise to forebodings among the peasantry of the approach of war. It is said that the presence of this worm or grub has always been followed at an early date by war and famine. The grub does not injure the crops, eating only fallen leaves or vegetable refuse.

THE NATIONAL DEBT

Reduced $5,581,895 During the Past Month.

SURPLUS INCREASED $4,490,679.

The Aggregate of Uncle Sam's Indebtedness To-day Is $842,883,347.

A Reduction in Government Receipts from All Sources as Compared With August, 1890—A Reduction in Expenses Also—Total Coinage of the Mints During the Past Month.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—The monthly public debt statement shows a reduction in the debt during the past month amounting to $5,581,895. There was a reduction of $1,091,216 in the non-interest bearing debt, and an increase in the surplus chash in the Treasury of $4,490,697 during August.

The aggregate of interest and non-interest bearing debt to-day, less $100,000,000 gold reserve, and $60,674,394 net cash balance or surplus, is $842,883,347, and of this amount $610,529,420 is interest bearing debt, made up of $359,660,220 4 per cent. bonds, $27,953,400 4 1-2 pet cent.'s, and $22,915,800 4 per cent.'s continued at 2 per cent.

Government receipts from all sources during August aggregated $28,884,851, against $36,607,449 in August, 1890. Customs receipts were $15,164,674, against $20,315,879 in August a year ago; internal revenue receipts were $12,501,829, against $12,557,853 in August, 1890, and receipts from miscellaneous sources were $1,107,477, against $1,083,177 in August a year ago.

Expenditures during the two months of the current fiscal year aggregate $60,536,932, against $75,237,000 in July and August, 1890.

The total coinage of the mints during the month of August was 12,631 pieces of all kinds, valued at $3,718,400. Gold valued at $1,840,000 was coined.

YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Report of the Superintendent—Hard Work Watching Tourists.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—Secretary Noble has received a report from Capt. George S. Anderson, superintendent of the Yellowstone National Park, on operations since he assumed control on February 14 last.

He says the most ceaseless vigilance is needed to prevent tourists from mutilating the beautiful formations in the park, and he believes 10,000 men could not entirely accomplish it.

The lakes and rivers of the park are literally filled with trout. The elk have increased enormously, and the most conservative estimates place their number at 25,000.

He says $100,000 could be judiciously expended in the construction of and repair of roads.

Trouble Brewing in Hayti.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—Advices from Hayti declare that it now appears as if Hippolyte had lost all hope of being able to successfully resist the coming revolution. He has sent his family to Cape Hatien for safety. The commandant of Fort National has received orders to turn the guns on the city if the exiles return and succeed in overpowering the guards of the Palace. It is probable that in such a case Hippolyte will retreat to Cape Hatien and there make his last stand.

Gov. Campbell Still Quite Ill.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 2.—Governor Campbell's condition is not so favorable to-day. He cannot leave his room, and has severe pains in his limbs and head and the indications are that the malady has a strong hold upon him. It is probable that within the next two or three days the Governor will leave for some point in the East if his physician is able to make him see the importance of such a move. His family and friends are somewhat worried at his condition.

Big Damages Against a Railroad.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Sep. 2.—Mrs James Hamm of Forest City has been awarded $8,412.50 damages against the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Company for the death of her husband, who was run down by a train on that road in 1888. Mrs. Hamm had previously been awarded $4,000 damages, but the company appealed to the Supreme Court, which put the case back to the lower court for retrial with the above result.

Big Strike at Sunbury, Pa.

SUNBURY, Pa., Sep. 2.—The employes of the Sunbury Lumber Company have gone on strike because of a contemplated reduction in their wages. The planing mill and saw mill of the company are the largest in this section.

Democratic Colored League Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 2.—The Executive Committee of the Democratic Colored League has decided to hold the next convention of the League at Pittsburg on the 29th of this month.

NEW YORK PROHIBITIONISTS.

In Convention at Albany To-day—A Regular State Ticket Likely.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sep. 2.—The Prohibition State convention was called to order in Harman's Bleeker Hall this morning by Clay Bascom of Troy, who is a member of the executive committee. After the temporary organization a recess was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Francis Baldwin, chairman of the State Executive Committee and a resident of Elmira, says this morning that the real work of the convention would be done to-morrow.

"Besides the liquor question we have other great issues to settle," he said, "the farmers' question in all its different bearings, and the labor problem, and the advanced and wise position taken by our papers and prominent men is such that it places the Prohibition party before the people in a right attitude upon these questions, and if a fight this fall is waged with wisdom and discretion we shall see a great advance of our principles and our party."

It is understood to-day that a regular State ticket will be nominated, but so far no slate has been prepared, and it is claimed there is no concensus of opinion. It is hinted that there is a sentiment in favor of the possible Republican nominee, Andrew D. White.

Wants Possession of His Yacht.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—Frederick W. Vanderbilt, owner of the yacht Conqueror, held by the Custom House authorities for duties, through his attorney has filed a libel in the United States District Court against his own vessel. He states that the Conqueror was built at Glasgow; that he bought her there; that he is a member of the Royal Mersey Yacht Club, and that his yacht is enrolled on that club's list. He asks that he may be placed in possession of the yacht.

To Protest Against the Panama Seizure.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 2.—The President has directed the State Department to enter a strong protest with Minister Pacheco, for the Salvadoran authorities, against the seizure of the City of Panama when that vessel calls at Central American ports on her return passage. He suggests diplomacy as the means to settle the difficulty, and conveys the impression in his instructions that American property will be protected at all hazards.

Colonel Cogswell Again Rejected.

CONCORD, N. H., Sep. 2.—The Governor's Council has again rejected the nomination of Col. Thomas Cogswell as Railroad Commissioner. The two Democratic members of the Council then presented to the Governor the name of a gentleman whom they had agreed upon, and requested that he be nominated. Both they and the Governor decline to say who the proposed nominee is. The Governor has taken the matter into consideration.

Believed to Have Been Drowned.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sep. 2.—William O. Tucker and William Garvin, who left here on August 18 in a dory for a trip along the coast, have not been heard from since the 20th inst., when they put in at Annisquan, and it is feared they have been drowned.

An Old Landmark Burned.

SCITUATE, Mass., Sep. 2.—The old town house, erected in 1654, was burned last evening. The building was not occupied, and was practically valuless except as an old landmark.

SACKED THE TOWN

Balmacedist Soldiers Revolt and Shoot Their Officers.

THEY THEN ENTER CORONEL.

Where They Commit All Manner of Brutal and Revolting Outrages.

Congressional Chiefs Arriving at Santiago. A Very Bitter Feeling Against the United States—Nothing Yet Has Been Heard from Balmaceda—His Former Officers' Families Friendless and Penniless.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Sept. 2.—Exciting news is brought from the South by steamer from Talcahuano. The two regiments of government troops which were taken to that port recently from Coquimbo by the trasport Imperiale revolted when they heard of the defeat of the Balmacedists at Placilla last Friday.

They shot to death all of their officers and disbanded. Nearly 4,000 coal miners joined them, and together they have practically taken possession of the town of Coronel. All sorts of excesses have been committed by them. Houses and stores have been sacked and burned. The slightest protests against their actions is met by rifle shots. Women have been abused and subjected to brutalities of the most revolting character.

In fact mob rule in its worst form prevails.

Some outrages have been committed also in Concepcion and Talcahuano, but the force at the disposal of the authorities there has been sufficient to save them from the fate which has overtaken the 6,000 people of Coronel.

Foreign war ships have left for Coronel.

Senor Jorge Montt, General Canto and others of the Congressional chiefs arrived in Santiago yesterday. They were received with the greatest enthusiasm by the people of the capital. Gen. Baquedano, the acting President, received them officially. The other members of the Junta de Gobierno are expected to arrive here from Iquique to-day. They will at once proceed to Santiago, when the question of a new election and the reorganization of the government will be considered.

There is no disguising the fact that there is a very bitter feeling against the Americans on the part of the successful revolutionists. This feeling is so strong that unless it is placated in some way it may seriously affect American commercial interests in Chili for some time. The rebels have all along believed that the United States was favoring Balmaceda.

The feeling against Minister Egan is very violent, and there is little question that his recall will soon be demanded.

It is charged, and from the records appears to be true, that only a small portion of the cruelties perpetrated by the late government have been published.

The Congressionalists are giving trials to all against whom offences are charged, and executions up to this time have been remarkably few.

Much pity is felt for the families of the Balmacedist officials who have fled the country. Many of them have been left behind, friendless and penniless.

Nothing has been heard here of President Balmaceda since he was reported with his family and valuables at Los Andes. It is not likely that any definite news will be received of him until he gets within the range of telegraphic communication on the other side of the mountains.

It has been found impossible to bury all the bodies which were left on Friday's battlefield with the facilities at the command of the authorities, and it has therefore been decided to cremate them. This will probably be done to-morrow.

Feared that Both Have Been Drowned.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Sep. 2.—It is feared that George Gauthmann and Henry Lamonty, both of Lyon Mountain, have been drowned in Merril's Lake, where they went last Sunday for a fishing trip, and have not been seen since. Their boat was found on the shore of the lake with a part of Lamonty's clothing in it. A heavy wind prevailed on the lake on Sunday and it is supposed that the boat capsized and both were drowned.

Robbers "Hold Up" a Train.

TEXAS CREEK, Col., Sep. 2.—The Denver and Rio Grande train, No. 4, from Ogden was "held up" four miles west of this station by seven masked men, and the express car robbed of about $3,600. None of the passengers were molested. The robbers had horses ready for an immediate flight to Wet Mountain Valley. The Sheriff started in pursuit at once with as large a posse as he could summon on such short notice.

Mrs. Astor's Robes Sold at Auction.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—The gowns consigned to Mrs. Astor from Paris, and held by the Custom House, being rejected by Mrs. Astor on the ground that the consignor had attempted to defraud her as well as the government, have been sold at auction. No. 1, a green silk and velvet robe, brought $660; No. 2, a blue broche silk robe, was bought by Koster & Bial for the singer, Jennie Joyce, for $770.

Young Garfield Defeated for Nomination.

CLEVELAND, O., Sep. 2.—In the State Senatorial convention held in this city yesterday James R. Garfield, son of the late President Garfield, was a candidate, but he was snowed under on the first ballot by ex-Speaker Lampson, who received 105 votes to young Garfield's 65. The nomination of Lampson is a victory for Foraker over Sherman in the United States Senatorial contest.

Connecticut River Railroad Statement.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sep. 2.—The annual report of the Connecticut River Railroad, submitted to and accepted by the directors, shows the total income to have been $1,165,618, an increase of $6,228 over 1890; expenses, $928,618, a decrease of $23,771. The annual stockholders' meeting was called for September 16.

MANY HOTEL FAILURES.

A Disastrous Season for the Proprietors at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sep. 2.—About as complete a demoralization as ever visited the hotels in this city is being brought out now as a result of the past season's business.

Among the principal failures is that of the United States Hotel, the proprietors of which are Messrs. Neal and Hamilton, who are between $8,000 and $9,000 in debt.

The principal loss is suffered by Hugo Herold, the proprietor of the Grand Union Hotel, who has left town with a $4,000 debt behind him.

Congress Hall has gone up with about $4,000 indebtedness, although it is understood that the whole amount will be assumed by the Conn Bros., the owners of the building, who had leased it to C. G. Gillette, the present proprietor.

Seven or eight other large houses are reported as having failed, but particulars cannot yet be obtained of their status.

Simmons Indemnified His Bondsmen.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—Judge Benedict, of the United States District Court, has handed down a decision declining to accept Cornelius H. and Jacob Tallman as bondsmen in the sum of $50,000 for James A. Simmons, under sentence of six years' imprisonment for bank wrecking. He discovered that Simmons had given the parties an indemnity contract for the sum, and said that he did not care to aid any scheme of flight, as such it appeared on the face. Simmons wishes his liberty while the stay of execution of sentence, pending appeal, is in force.

Seized With Chinamen on Board.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—The Treasury Department is advised that Captain Tozier of the Revenue Cutter Wolcott has seized the steamer George H. Starr bound from Victoria to Port Angelas, for having on board two Chinese subjects. Assistant Secretary Crounz has directed Captain Tozier to deliver the Chinamen and the vessel to the collector at Port Townsend, who is instructed to report the facts to the United States District-Attorney.

Chicago Cabinet Makers Strike.

CHICAGO, Sep. 2.—About 1,000 cabinet makers, employed in 50 shops have gone on strike for eight hours a day, the abolition of piece-work and an increase in wages. The employers say it is impossible to grant the demand of the men, as any change would result in throwing the Chicago manufacturers out of the market.

Pennsylvania's Democratic Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 2.—Delegates are arriving slowly for the Democratic State convention to be held to-morrow. It seems to be the general belief here that Wright for Auditor-General, and A. L. Tilden for State Treasurer will be the ticket.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

John Young Brown was inaugurated Governor of Kentucky yesterday.

A. W. Gilliland & Co., produce commission firm of Philadelphia, have failed.

Secretary Tracy has returned to Washington, and was at the Navy Department to-day.

John J. Pierson of Pittsburg was arrested in Lancaster, Pa., yesterday charged by Andrew Cox of Philadelphia with a large embezzlement.

Edward Sweeney, who was sentenced at Buffalo yesterday to prison for disorderly conduct, died of heart disease ten minutes after being looked up.

George Durnean, forman of the farm of Gen. Beale, near Washington, D. C., was shot and killed yesterday by Nathius Robinson, a discharged employe.

The entire issue of $160,000 3 1-2 per cent. 20-year water bonds of the city of Rome, N. Y., were bid in at par by the Treasurer of the Rome Savings Bank.

Secretary Proctor will leave Washington the latter part of this week, to be absent for several weeks, on a tour of inspection of army posts in the West and Northwest.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A meeting will be held in the W. C. T. U. parlors at 3:30 to-morrow afternoon.

—Dr. D. C. Adams proposes to discover and convict, if possible, the person or persons guilty of the numerous thefts of bicycle saddle-bags, that have occurred recently. He offers a reward of $5, in another column, for the one who stole his.

—Some of the local fishermen who have been in the habit of fishing at the Holly lake say that they noticed the stench at the bridge three or four weeks ago—days before Michael Hoffman was missing. They attributed the odor to a dead fish or turtle.

—A commotion has been caused among the painters in the New Jersey Central shops at Elizabethport, over the fact that seventy out of the eighty-five employed were laid off indefinitely yesterday. Slackness of work is given as the cause. The men feel very gloomy over their prospects.

—The members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics all over the United States will no doubt buy the new chart of the order, which is a very handsome one. The members of Franklin Council, No. 41, of this city, will be the first to receive the new chart, which is considered a great honor to Franklin. The size of the chart is 22x28. It is a steel engraving.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Peter Conde has returned from Asbury Park.

Dr. Lewis and family are home from Belmar.

Mrs. Tams, of Trenton, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Elmore D. Moffett.

Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh, and Mrs. Marsh, sailed for home last Saturday.

A. M. Vanderbeek, of Park avenue, is recovering from a severe attack of intermittent fever.

Among those recently returned to Plainfield from summer trips are: A. C. Baldwin and family; E. L. Walz and family; John Leal.

Joseph C. Martin, of Jackson avenue, North Plainfield, and Lewis C. Beekman, of East Third street, are on a tour through New York State.

At the next tea to be given by the Hillside Tennis club, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. S. Sesbury Guion, of Carlton avenue, will receive, assisted by Miss Burt, Miss Lawrence, Miss Braine and Miss Ginna.

T. E. H. Curtis, treasurer of the Colorado Coal and Iron Company, and vice president and secretary of the Colorado and Aspen Railway company, and family, have returned from a summer on Long Island.

Mrs. C. D. Powers died suddenly of apoplexy, yesterday, at the home of her son-in-law, George E. Stillman, 48 West Fifth street. She was in her eightieth year. Funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Interment at Westerly.

—Game and Fish Protective Societies are springing up all over the State, which is a sign that true sportsmen are making endeavors to have the game and fish laws respected. The "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society", whose headquarters are Plainfield, N. J., is the parent society of the State and has a large membership. It was organized in 1879.

It is the sad duty of THE PRESS to-day to announce the sudden death of Charles St. John McCutchen, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen of Rose View avenue. He was three years and a half old. Fifteen minutes before the little lad died, yesterday, it was not supposed that he was even seriously ill. The sincere sympathy of the entire community, is with the bereaved parents. The funeral will be private.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Mrs. George L. VanEmburgh at her home, 85 East Second street, last evening, on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. The children of Mr. and Mrs. VanEmburgh, together with a number of their many friends, assembled at the house about tea time. The party was a great surprise to Mrs. VanEmburgh. The house had been provisioned by the genial host, and a fine supper was partaken of. Both Mr. and Mrs. VanEmburgh received handsome gifts from the children. A pleasant evening followed, and the hour of parting found everyone reluctant to go. THE PRESS refrains from giving the number of the anniversary, but must say that both Mrs. VanEmburgh and her husband are as young as many of 21.

DISPOSING OF THE DEAD MAN.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY AUTHORITIES HOLD A FARCICAL INQUEST.

The County Physician Washes His Hands of a Disagreeable Job, and the Coroner's Jury Rid Their Overtaxed Minds of Their Unwonted Burden—Katie Hoffman Gets the Body on Paying All Expenses.

The Middlesex county authorities have concluded to their own satisfaction their inquest concerning the dead body found in John I. Holly's lake.

When they were informed of the finding of the corpse they postponed as long as possible all action in the case, and when they finally got down to work they got rid of the matter with a haste that strong-minded people would not hesitate to characterize as indecent.

The inquest—held at Campbell's clubhouse yesterday afternoon—was a farce. No attempt whatever was made to ascertain how the man met his death. The jury contented themselves with the verdict that the man died from unknown causes, and indulged in no effort to ascertain whether those causes were leprosy or chilblains. They seemed not to care whether he killed himself or whether he was murdered.

The county physician, P. Henry Donohue, from Perth Amboy, made his appearance for the first time since the finding of the body four days ago. Though the case was one which demanded his immediate presence and deserved his fullest investigation, he had utterly failed to respond to the summons of Mr. Holly, and had permitted his official duties to lag under the unskillful direction of a well-meaning but inexperienced justice-of-the-peace. At yesterday's inquest the county physician distinguished himself by holding a reunion in the bar room with an old chum and by looking wise in the jury room and awing the jurors with a sense of his importance.

Katie Hoffman, the servant girl in the employ of J. Spence Anderson, dry goods clerk, of Passaic, turned up in time for the inquest. She had been spending the night at the farm of Mrs. Engel, where her brother Michael worked previous to his disappearance. Katie's reappearance was a great relief to her employer, who had been searching frantically for her all the morning.

The jurors began their inquest by examining one of the boys from Harned's academy who had found the body while fishing. They spent an hour over him, and succeeded in impressing, from his evidence, the fact on their minds that the man had been found under the bridge. So much time having been consumed in settling this point, they proceeded to expedite matters.

J. Spence Anderson was called. He testified that Katie Hoffman worked for him and that she had had a brother Michael. That two weeks ago last Sunday Katie went into the dining room and told him that her brother had given her $22 in money and his bank book, and that such action made her afraid that she'd never see him again. That he, the witness, thereupon ran out and called to Hoffman to come back. That Hoffman shook his head, said "No: it's all right. I've left Katie the money", and went away.

Witness could not say how Hoffman was dressed, nor how he looked. That was the only time he had ever seen him.

Mrs. Engel was called. She testified that her name was Katrina Engel. That on Sunday, two weeks ago, Hoffman, who worked for her husband, suddenly gave up his job, and demanded and got a recommendation. Was shown the scrap of paper found on the dead man's body, and asked to identify it. Notified it as her husband's handwriting. Notified it by the way Engel was written on it. Notified it by the ruled lines on the paper.

Witness was asked if she had seen the body of the dead man. Said she had seen a portion of his clothes, but had not looked at the body. Had seen the clothes out in the stable—a very dark one, where perfect sight of them was impossible. Said she had notified the clothes, also the handkerchiefs. Said that when Hoffman went away he was dressed in a suit of blue cloth with white and yellow spots in it. Was shown two styles of coats, a cutaway and a sack; said it was a sack coat that Hoffman wore.

Witness testified, in response to the sage inquiries of the county physician, that Hoffman was unmarried, so far as she knew. He had no children that she knew anything about. Having settled a matter having so much important bearing on the cause of the dead man's death and his identity, the county physician subsided again into profound silence.

Juror Percy Ohl ascertained from Mrs. Engel that Hoffman had been in this country only a few months beyond the six years that he worked for them. Previous to his entering their service he had worked at New Brunswick.

The county physician saw an opportunity to impress the jurors. In talking to Mrs. Engel, Mr. Ohl had repeatedly used the term "he" and "this man".

"Mr. Ohl,"—bellowed forth the county physician—"who do you mean by 'this man' and 'he'?"

Everybody had understood that Hoffman was the man under discussion, and Mr. Ohl tartly said so.

"You ought to be explicit"—thundered the county physician.—"'This man' and 'he' ain't no way to specify."

So Mr. Ohl had to repeat all his previous questions, explaining all the references to Hoffman by "he, this man, Michael Hoffman, who used to work for you". P. Henry Donohue thereby increased his sage importance in the eyes of the awe-stricken rustics, and the bucolic gentlemen pitching quoits out in the yard, intently overhearing it all, said, the one to the other:

"Goshalidingus, but he 's a smart one!"

Mrs. Engel made way for Katie Hoffman, who testified that when her brother visited her, two weeks ago Sunday, he gave her the money and bank book and and said, as he went out, that he'd be back in half an hour. She never saw him again. His suit was of blue, with white and yellow spots in it. Her ideas of his watch were misty, but it never seemed to occur to justice Wood to show to either her or Mrs. Engel the watch found on the dead man, or any other of the articles found on the body, for the purpose of identification.

Juror Bethune Dunham pulled up a leg of his trousers and thrust his galter out in front of Katie. "Them's the kind of shoes he wore"—she said. Mr. Dunham said "Yes: to be sure", in a kindly and ruminative tone, pursed up his lips, scratched the fringe of whiskers under his chin, thoughtfully stroked his cleanly-shaved face, and held out his hat.

"Was his head that size?"—he asked. Katie thought it was.

"Yes: to be sure"—said Mr. Dunham.

No comment was made as to the discrepancies between the description of the clothing that Hoffman had worn and that found on the dead man. The suit found on the dead man was of black diagonal, without spots, dots or checks, and the coat was a cutaway. The jurors examined a piece of the cloth cut from the trousers above one of the pockets under the vest front, and decided that the water must have washed out the white and yellow spots and turned the blue to black.

The county physician was not called, nor was any medical man asked for his opinion concerning the cause of the dead man's death. The jurors who had insisted on an autopsy being performed were awed into silence by the presence of the big county physician. The question whether there was water in the dead man's lungs, and whether he was drowned or was dead before placed in the water, was left unsettled. The acting coroner, justice Theodore A. Wood, of Metuchen, read over his transcript of the evidence very haltingly, and looked hesitatingly and nervously at the county physician from time to time, and wriggled his legs uneasily about under the table. After the evidence had been signed by the witnesses without the au'ocrat of the dissecting table chewing up any more venturesome jurors, everybody but the twelve men sworn to try the case "well and truly" sidled out of the room. The jurors deliberated awhile behind closed doors and sent constable Mahlon Soper out to talk to J. Spence Anderson.

After much dickering Anderson agreed, for Katie Hoffman, to bear all the county's expenses in the case, as well as Katy's own expenses, and to give the body decent interment, provided the jury decided the body to be that of Michael. Then the jury said that if Katy was satisfied they were, and they rendered this remarkable verdict:

"The evidences of Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Engel are conclusive that the body is that of Michael Hoffman.

"We find that this man came to his death from causes unknown to the jury."

Then, having relieved their minds of the unwonted strain they had been under since the empaneling of the jury Sunday afternoon, they adjourned to the bar room and took a drink all around.

Two undertakers who had been in waiting soon completed arrangements with Mr. Anderson and Katie for the burial of the body, which Katie had refused to look at. The jurors had disposed of the matter with as little inconvenience to themselves as possible, and yet had acquired the fame that being on a coroner's jury always brings in Piscataway township. The county physician who had not soiled his hands or offended his nostrils to any great extent, bade his minions a complacent adieu, and went home greatly satisfied with himself.

He did not, however, altogether escape the reporters. One of them asked why it was that he had contented himself with such a superficial examination of the body, and why he had not made at least an examination of the lungs.

"You're a scribe: ain't you?"—queried the doctor. The reporter admitted that he did something in that line. The sawbones winked sagely. "I'm onto youse fellers"—he said, and strutted away.

Another said: "Doctor, do you judge from your examination of the body, that it had been in the water only two weeks?"

"I don't know anything about it"—was the reply.

The physician said, when pressed by another newspaper man, that he believed that the man committed suicide. When asked why, he gave this crushing argumentative answer:

"'Cause he's a corpse—and a stiff one."

It came out during the inquest that Katie's brother was 38 years of age. The dead man, to all appearances, was not over 30. Mrs. Engel testified that Hoffman had high cheek bones and sunken cheeks, a long face, and an even chin. The dead man had a large round head. His cheek bones were not prominent. His chin protuded far beyond his teeth. Hoffman had three stiff fingers on one hand, and an amputated one on another. When the body was found the bones of the hands still hung together, but yesterday, when the county physician made his superficial examination, the phalanges had of course dropped all to pieces. Hoffman wore a slouch felt hat. The dead man's has not been found. The disparity between the two suits of clothing—the one found, and the one described—was very great.

On the mere, slim, unsupported evidence of the scrap of paper thrust hurriedly into the pocket of the dead man, the body was declared to be that of Michael Hoffman. If it was his, how and why did he meet such a death? No matter who it was, the cause of death ought to have been determined. The county has disposed of the dead man—for a time—but it has by no means accomplished its duty, and the mystery of the Holly lake remains unsolved. Justice is still unsatisfied. The corpse found under the bridge was too perfectly concealed ever to have reached that concealment save by outside aid. The fishes that fed on the dead man's flesh know the secret, but cannot tell. The pure spring water that laved the lifeless hands, and the expressionless features, may ripple in its liquid language, how the poor man died, but it speaks in a tongue not understood by man. The stars that looked down from on high and beheld perhaps a deed of darkness, a tragic death, a murder foul, twinkle from afar, but are silent. The men sworn to duty treat lightly their oath of office, and make no attempt to find out the truth. The lips that are mute can never tell the tale. The form that forever is cold and silent is to-day being concealed from human sight beneath the sod. The secret of the dead man's death is buried with him.

FILED A DEED OF TRUST.

John F. Plummer and Mrs. Plummer Give Security to Creditors.

John F. Plummer, formerly of this city, who became insolvent some time ago, yesterday had placed on record in the Union County Clerk's office a bargain and sale deed whereby Mr. Plummer and his wife, Emily M. Plummer, convey to Lawyer William L. Strong, of New York, to be held in trust for the benefit of certain of their creditors, all the extensive property interests of Mr. Plummer in Plainfield and Netherwood, principally real estate, estimated to be worth several hundred thousand dollars.

The creditors named in the deed of trust are the Hockanum Company, New England Manufacturing Company, North Adams Manufacturing Company, Springfield Manufacturing Company, Central National Bank, New York, National Broadway Bank, New York, Rockville National Bank.

The combined claims of these seven creditors are $716,757.

Mr. and Mrs. Plummer are now residing temporarily in Tacoma, Wash.

Reopening of Music Hall.

Although the extensive alterations to Music Hall now under way are not yet completed, the new management have arranged to open next Tuesday evening. The play selected is William Gillette's roaring comedy, "All the Comforts of Home." It's run in New York on its production was one of the events of the season. It is bright, wholesome, clean, full of laughable posings and situations, and occasionally here and there a dash of sentiment. Many who have enjoyed an evening with this merry household prefer it to the popular "Private Secretary," that was always conceded Mr. Gillette's masterwork. The company (Mr. Charles Frohman's experienced selection) embodies a talented list of artists, and the characters are portrayed with the same careful attention and details of stage with the equally finished taste and care that characterizes all of Mr. Frohman's attractions.

Chief Doane One of the Judges.

The following gentlemen have been selected by Chief Engineer Astfalk of the Elizabeth fire department to act as judges for the annual parade and tournament which takes place in that city next month: Chief Engineer Kirstead of Newark; Chief Engineer Doane of this city, and Mayor Rankin, Chief of Police Tenney, and Councilman VanHart, of Elizabeth.

Alert Hose company of this city will take part in the parade, but Chief Doane cannot spare one of his steamers.

A Case for the Street Commissioner.

Carey, the ex-policeman who takes the law into his own hands, is now disfiguring and killing the handsome trees along the city's streets by nailing on them posters advertising his business.

OUR "Y. S. F."

BLACK Hosiery is undoubtably the best and cheapest sold anywhere. They wear better and keep their color longer than any other. This is the experience of many ladies who have tried all the different makes. If you will give them one trial you will surely be convinced that every word of the above is true.

OUR 25c grade is as good as those sold for 30c elsewhere. And all the other grades are likewise as cheap.

IF you are not using them it will pay you to look into the matter.

WE offer special inducements now to any who wish to furnish with Carpets, Mattings, Oil-cloths, Lace and Chenille Curtains, Shades, etc.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. FOURTEEN RICH OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

They Would Stop Competition Until Next Year When the Bosses Hope to Have a Big Eleven Instead of a Little Five.

Chancellor Runyon will appear for the city before Judge VanSyckel at the Court House, Toms River, this afternoon, in the certiorari case exclusively told of in THE PRESS of yesterday.

Fourteen rich men of this city whose names were published in these columns yesterday, have appealed to Judge VanSyckel to throw the ordinance and all proceedings by the Council providing for a contract between the city and the Plainfield Aqueduct company, into the Supreme Court.

If these fourteen rich men are successful in their effort, competition in water supply will be stopped for this fall, at least, and the people will have to pay the present company just what it pleases to ask.

Then in December the old bosses hope to knock out the people's candidates and have no more a Big 6 to oppose them. They will elect, if possible, eleven all in favor of their one gas company, their one water company, and for no street railway, or sewers, or anything else except it be theirs exclusively.

PROHIBITIONISTS GETTING READY.

They Intend to Nominate Tickets in Every County.

The Prohibitionists of the State are making active preparations for the fall campaign. The State Executive Committee has opened headquarters at No 59 North avenue, this city, with Secretary Walter W. Winans in charge.

Atlantic and Hunterdon counties have already held their county convention, Camden, Mercer, Middlesex, Morris and Passaic have called theirs, and the remaining ones will be called at an early date. Seven counties can nominate candidates by convention, the party having received the required five per cent. in them last fall. They are as follows: Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Hunterdon, Morris and Warren. Also ten Assembly districts, viz: Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland, both districts, Gloucester, Hunterdon, both districts, Middlesex, first district, Morris first and Warren first. In the remaining counties nominations will have to be made by petition. Last year the provisions of the Ballot reform law requiring the signers to go before an officer and acknowledge their signatures and declare that they desired to vote for the candidates petitioned for, made it impossible for Prohibitionists to nominate in ten counties and fifty-one Assembly districts. Last Winter's Legislature removed these objectionable features, and this year they expect to have regularly nominated candidates in all the counties and districts. The State Committee is in excellent financial condition, and proposes to conduct a vigorous campaign.

Plainfield's Tennis Cracks to Meet.

The list of entries already received for the handicap tournament of the Hillside Tennis club to take place during Saturday and Monday next, include the following:

G. P. Mellick, E. H. Booth, S. S. Gulon, C. A. Marvin, W. F. Hobbie, D. C. Ivins, G. H. Squires, A. T. Slosson, C. Wharton, jr., S. A. Cruikshank, R. A. Beebe, S. West, H. West, A. Cox, E. L. Walz, jr., H. W. Beebe, C. E. Schneely, J. P. Murray, H. Huntington.

Prizes will be awarded the winners. The committee in charge is: J. P. Murray, Howard W. Beebe, Ernest L. Walz, jr., and Charles E. Schneely.

Recovered Through THE PRESS.

Wallace V. Miller's stolen bicycle, advertised in these columns Monday, was returned to him as soon as THE PRESS was out. The report that it was found by "Mrs. Preston", who saw the adv. in another paper, is not true in any particular. The lady who found it where it had been left during the night leaning against the fence in front of her house, is Mrs. Prescott of West Second street. She reads only THE PRESS and saw the advertisement in it.

Three Expensive Points.

An exciting game of whist was played at Fanwood, last night. It was for 50 points, and the losers are to pay the expenses of a trip to El Dorado to-morrow evening. The result was: A. P. Downer and General Kyte, 50; L. J. Briggs and Colonel Moore, 47.

—Don't forget the grocers' excursion, Labor Day.

—The local Cuban Giants defeated the Potter nine yesterday by the score of 12 to 8. The feature of the game was Van Liew's pitching and Nelson's catching. A local sport says he is willing to bet money that Nelson can beat any boy of his size behind the bat. The two teams played a second game resulting in the score of 15 to 13 in the Cubans' favor.

VIEWED FROM ABROAD.

What the New York Papers Say of that Inquest and Remarkable Verdict.

(From The Times.)

IDENTIFICATION FAILED.

The coroner's jury finished yesterday their labors in the case of the dead body found in John I Holly's lake. The verdict was, "We find that this man came to his death from causes unknown to the jury." Katie Hoffman of Passaic claimed the body as that of her brother, Michael, a farm hand, and though her description of the clothing her brother wore, of his personal appearance, and of the articles he had in his pockets did not agree with those of the dead man, she was allowed to take the body for burial.

(From The Herald.)

THE COUNTY PHYSICIAN SAVED FROM SOILING HIS HANDS.

The verdict was given to satisfy county Physician Donohue, who refused to hold an autopsy, and also to shove the cost of the inquest and burial on Katie Hoffman, of Passaic, the servant who thought the body might be that of her brother.

None of the witnesses identified the body as that of Hoffman, though they said the paper was his. The clothing on the body was dead black, while they said Hoffman wore a speckled suit. County physician Donohue would not touch the body, and therefore it is not known whether the man was drowned or not.

The main object of the inquest apparently was to find some one to pay the bills and to keep the county physician from soiling his hands.

Dr. Jenkins, of Plainfield, examined the body to-day and said it had been in the water at least four weeks. Hoffman has been missing only two weeks. The belief still lingers that the man was murdered. This is strengthened by the lax inquest. Katie Hoffman instructed a Plainfield undertaker to send the body to Passaic, where she will bury it.

(From The World.)

DR. DONOHUE UNCONCERNED—THE JURY MERELY ANXIOUS TO GET RID OF THE BODY.

The main object for which the jury in the inquest over the body of a man found on John T. Holly's place last Saturday seem to strive was to find some one to pay for the man's funeral. Another object was to relieve county physician Donohue from the extremely disagreeable job of an autopsy on a corpse two weeks old.

Dr. Donohue sat through the trial with apparent unconcern. He refused point blank to examine the man's lungs, so that it is not known, nor ever will be unless another inquest is ordered, whether the man died or was murdered.

In the present laxity in which the law is regarded in Middlesex county another inquest is extremely probable. It made no difference to the jury that the body was found in a place to which it could not possibly have floated, and the chances of a suicide in such a place were very improbable. If the man was Michael Hoffman, which was by no means established, no one knows, as far as the jury and the county physician are concerned, whether he died a natural death or not.

(From The Tribune.)

GETTING RID OF THE BODY.

The officials in Middlesex county, New Jersey, succeeded yesterday in ridding themselves of the body of the murdered man found in Spring Lake, near Plainfield, on Saturday. The inquest conducted by Theodore Wood, of Metuchen, is by many regarded as a farcical proceeding. It was hoped that at least one of the many coroners elected to office in Middlesex county would appear yesterday and take a hand in the inquest. This hope was unfulfilled.

Mrs. Engel said that Hoffman carried a hunting-case watch, with a chain and a square locket. The man found in Spring Lake wore an open-faced watch, with a round locket. She said Hoffman's suit was blue cloth, with yellow and white specks in it. The man in the water had on a black suit.

Kate Hoffman would not look upon the body and could give no testimony to prove that the man who was found was her brother. The county physician was not called upon to give any testimony. He had not examined the man's lungs to ascertain whether he had been drowned.

[From The Recorder.]

SOME THEORIES.

The identification was allowed to rest entirely on the scrap of paper found in the dead man's pocket. If the dead man was not Michael Hoffman—and it was not proved that it was—there are a variety of ways in which he might have obtained possession of the paper. For instance, he might have picked it up off the road intending to adopt the name and use the paper as a recommendation for himself. There are many probabilities and some seeming improbabilities which might account for the transfer.

Hoffman was known to have nearly $1,000 in bank. How much he drew out before he disappeared is not known. He may have had $500 or more on his person, and if the dead man is Hoffman he may have been killed by the wayside for his money, and the $18.85 left in his pockets as a blind.

The inquest was a very unsatisfactory one.

A Tournament That Would be a Success.

The Cranford correspondent of the Elizabeth Journal, says: "There will be a handicap tournament between the members of the Cranford Tennis club on the courts on Cranford avenue, beginning on Saturday, Sept. 5, and continuing through Labor Day, Sept. 7. There will be handsome first and second prizes given to the winners in both singles and doubles. Early in October this enterprising Cranford club ought to give a tournament open to the members of all Elizabeth, Roselle, Westfield, Fanwood and Plainfield clubs. Such a tournament could be made a great success."

Arrest of a Prominent Banker.

Great excitement was caused yesterday by the report of the arrest of a leading financier. At headquarters it was admitted that there had been an arrest, but the detectives refused to give any further information beyond saying that they had been working on the case for weeks, and were satisfied that the right party had been captured. The amount involved is said to be over four million dollars. They further informed the reporter that the full particulars of this startling affair were given in "Old Sleuth, the Detective", issued to-day as No. 2 of the Calumet Series. Any newsdealer will gladly show you a copy.

Indiana's Growth.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—The Census Office has issued a bulletin giving the population of Indiana by minor civil divisions. The total population of the State for 1890 is placed at 2,192,404, an increase 214,103 over 1880. Of the 92 counties in Indiana 25 show decreases, only four showing decreases of more than 10 per cent.

Site for Lynn Public Building.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—Treasury Agent Lowe has recommended the purchase of a site for the Lynn, Mass., public building. It is located at the end of the block, and is bounded by Liberty, Willow and Washington streets. The price is stated at $33,000. He recommends that a part be purchased outright and a part be purchased by condemnation.

Missing Since August 4.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 2.—Nothing has been seen or heard of David Ruth, of the firm of S. Ruth & Son, tin can manufacturers of this city, since Aug. 24, on which day he left his home. His relatives and friends fear that his mind became unbalanced over business troubles and that he has committed suicide.

Court Martial for Galt.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—The Navy Department has detailed a court martial to convene at Norfolk, Va., next Thursday to try Passed Assistant Engineer Robert W. Galt for neglect of duty. The trial grows out of the recent theft of goods from the storehouse at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

Government Fair Building Bids Excessive

WASHINGTON, Sep. 2.—Assistant Secretary Nettleton said to-day that it was probable that all the bids for the erection of government buildings at the Chicago World's Fair Exposition would be rejected as excessive and new proposals invited.

Non-Union Men Assaulted.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sep. 2.—The company officers offer a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the parties who assaulted the several men yesterday who have taken the place of strikers at the Catasauqua Manufacturing Company. It is thought the strikers had a hand in the matter. Several arrests have been made.

His Accounts Short, He Resigns.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 2.—Superintendent of the Poor Grimes has tendered his resignation to the Board of Supervisors. The resignation is the result of disclosures of irregularities in his accounts. A shortage of several hundred dollars was found, which Mr. Grimes promises to make good.

Working on the Barnaby Case.

DENVER, Col. Sep. 2.—District Attorney Stevens has just obtained an injunction from Judge Allen restraining the Western Union Telegraph Company from destroying any telegrams which may have passed between Dr. T. Thatcher Graves and friends in Rhode Island while the doctor was in this city before and after the death of Mrs. Barnaby.

For Allowing a Prisoner to Escape.

NEW YORK, Sep. 2.—The escape, the other day, of the criminal Eugene O'Hara who was committed to Jefferson Market to await the action of the Grand Jury on the charge of attempting to murder Policeman McGuire, has resulted in Gate Keeper John Quirk being peremptorily dismissed for gross neglect of duty. Quirk did not deny that he fell asleep on duty. A further investigation is being made with a view of prosecuting Quirk.

IT IS NOT

A LIE.

A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old, and the statement is unqualifiedly true. Read the following affidavit:

HENRY SNYDER, Jr., of the City, County and State of New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he has been the General Manager of the A. R. TUDOR Co. from its inception, and he knows of his own knowledge that no neutral spirits, flavoring extracts, or foreign ingredients of any kind have ever been used or contained in the Whiskey bottled under the label and trade mark of A. R. TUDOR. He further solemnly swears that he has personally superintended the withdrawal of the A. R. TUDOR Co.'s Whiskey from the U. S. Bonded Warehouse, and that the U. S. Government stamps on the barrels thereof have, in no instance, borne date later than the year 1881.

DOG-DAY DELIGHTS.

The weather now is torrid;
Our sticky clothes feel horrid,
The moisture on our forehead
Never dries.
Mosquitoes, madly biting,
Make sleepless nights exciting;
We're tired out with fighting
Pesky flies.

For work or for diversion
We have a strong aversion—
To breathe is an exertion
We would shun.
Though cooling drinks we're taking
Our thirst is never slaking—
We're boiling, broiling, baking
In the sun.

Along the streets we totter
With fans that make us hotter;
We wish we were an otter
Or an eel;
In waters 'neath the willows
We'd lay on muddy pillows—
How cool below the billows
It must feel.

Though gauzy our attire
All night long we perspire
And dream eternal fire
Is our bed;
We'd dollars give in number
For just one cooling slumber
Where the crispy, green cucumber
Hides its head.

O, won't the weather wizard
Refresh us with a blizzard
And turn our very gizzard
Into ice.
Where deepest drifts were snowing
And coldest waves were blowing
We'd linger, feebly crowing:
"O, how nice."
—H. G. Dodge, in Goodall's Sun.

DOWN THE GRADE.

Story of a Stagecoach Ride in the Rockies.

THE telling of the stories of stagecoach days on the frontier has only just begun. For every one yet told, there are a thousand better ones hidden in the mountains, hanging in faint echoes about the camp fires of the pioneers.

If you live awhile in the cabins along the Yuba, above Marysville, you will find miners still coyoting among the thrice-sifted piles of gravel for the aftermath of '49; you will find old stage drivers, with bent and twisted hands, who know every noted driver of the Pacific coast; you will hear stories of staging in the fifties and sixties, in the wildest parts of the Sierras, that have never reached print, but have been carried on, through manifold traditions, until they have reached the completeness and the dignity of an epic of the stagecoach.

Besides the longer stories one hears there are dozens of lesser episodes of the staging days—the episode of Smoky's runaway, for instance.

Smoky was a famous stage driver between Grass Valley and Marysville, by way of Penn valley, Rough and Ready, Smartsville and Timbuctoo. About 1861 he was in his glory, the ideal of a driver, and able to hold his own with anyone on the route. He received his name from the remark of a little girl, the daughter of the hotelkeeper at Murphy's Ranch. She once slid off his lap and ran off, saying that he was "too smoky to stay with;" she "liked men who did not puff cigars in her face."

After this episode Smoky's real name fell into disuse; he was "Smoky" and "Old Smoky" from the Sierra to the Sacramento.

On the day when Smoky had his runaway affair, the stage swung into Grass Valley early in the morning, with two passengers aboard, both inside. They had breakfast, and then Smoky took charge. He drove around in front of the store to wait for another passenger; he put on the brake, as he supposed, twisted the reins about the brake-bar, and went into the store. The four horses started off at full speed, and, striking a stone, the jar let the brake loose; then the horses flew down the grade like sons of destruction.

The passengers sat in silence, a little surprised at the rapid motion, but believing that the driver was on the box. One of them was a small, nervous, bright-eyed young man, newly come to California—a young man who was just beginning a career of invention and manufacturing achievement that has given him place among the score or so of foremost Californians. The other man was a mere nonentity.

The young man with the bright eyes began to see that something was wrong with the stage. It went too fast; it swung too much. He climbed on the seat, and let down the narrow window nearest the driver's box. He leaned out and managed to raise himself far enough to see that the horses were running away. He called to the driver but received no reply.

The young man reflected that the road ahead was not an easy one for a runaway stagecoach to manage. They were now on the down grade, next came a hill, then another descent, then a second hill, then a long, steep and winding piece of down grade. The horses must be stopped before this descent was reached or a smash-up was inevitable. He decided to do his best to check the horses; if he failed he would jump out and leave them.

The first thing to do was to swing on the driver's box. A heavier man might have failed, but the young stranger was alert and muscular; he watched his chance, caught the iron bar at the end of the seat, drew himself out, poised a second on the window sill, and leaped upward just as the stagecoach swung toward him. He found himself landed, in consequence, upon the driver's seat, and clinging to the brake-bar. The lines were flying wildly over the heads of the horses, or tangled under their feet.

The young man began to put on the brakes, not with any haste, but slowly and carefully. The great curving blocks of oak settled down against the wheels, but the rapidity of the vehicle's motion was now such that there was danger of heating the tires and causing them to fly from the wheels. Again and again he tightened the brakes, and released them, steadying the massive coach as it swung around the sharp curves of the dusty road, and reeled from side to side like a drunken giant. At one moment the young man felt the coach scrape against the cloven pine roots of the mountain side, and at the next he felt it eddy along the verge of the ravine, and lean over the abyss as if ready to plunge down into the tops of the oaks on Nigger Flat, five hundred feet below.

Pretty soon the bottom of the grade was reached, and the young man put the brakes down hard. But it was only a little rise after all, and the horses were running at the top of their speed—the stage went on, hardly checked by the doubled obstacles, and began another descent. Again the same tactics followed; the brake was used with the utmost skill and patience, but an outsider would have said there was little gain. The second ascent came at last, and here, on a broken road, full of deep ruts which helped to check the stage, the young man brought everything up standing. A two-mile run it had been, and the horses were still rearing and plunging.

The other passenger peered carefully out of the window and asked what was the matter. He was ordered to open the door, jump out, and take the leaders by the head. The young man "set" the brakes, climbed down and began to collect the remants of the lines and knot them together.

A little later Smoky came running up in a state of despair and exhaustion. His pleasure at discovering the coach and horses uninjured took the form of a series of wild yells and contortions that would have done credit to a Shasta Indian skeleton dance. He climbed back on the box, the passengers got in, and the stage started off at redoubled speed, to make up for lost time.

The story went around among the stage-drivers. There was one young fellow that must be taken care of. He was to have the seat with the driver, no matter who wanted it; he was the "man wot stopped Smoky's turnout on the Penn Valley Grade." Even to-day if the hero of this true tale were to leave his great mills and business enterprises in San Francisco, and go to the wilds of Modoc and Siskiyou beyond the outposts of the railroad, he would be almost sure to discover that his name and fame were known; that the word would be sent along the line: "Smoky's passenger is goin' over this road," and the grumpiest of old stagers would unbend, and treat shim as an equal. The young man who climbed out over the wheel and "put down the brakes" on Smoky's stagecoach thirty years ago, is still an honorary member of the craft of ancient and weater-beaten masters of the whip and ribbons. —Charles H. Shinn, in N. Y. Independent.

Indian Pearl Divers.

One of the largest pearl fishing grounds in the world is in the gulf of California. "The pearls," says a correspondent, "are not generally regular in shape or very pure in color, but some are of large size, and many of the rare black pearls are found. The divers are nearly all Indians and their equipment is of the simplest kind, consisting only of a basket hung around the neck, in which to collect the oysters, a knife to detach them from the rocks and a stone with a cord attached. When the diver goes down he takes the cord between his toes, the weight of the stone carrying him at once to the bottom. He gathers oysters as long as his breath holds out, and then rises to the surface, to descend again in fifteen minutes. Some of the divers are wonderfully expert, and can remain under water for as much as two minutes before rising to the surface. The mortality among them is fearful, for the gulf of California is infested with huge man-eating sharks, which carry off scores of men every year."—Chicago Herald.

—Concealed—Goodness!—"Jimuel Peterson is full of kindness." "I never noticed it. I guess he keeps full by never letting any get out."—Brooklyn Eagle.

WAS HE MURDERED

A Rumor that Balmaceda Was Assassinated.

SHOT DOWN BY A MAN HE STRUCK

His Muleteers Became Mutinous and Refused to Accompany the President.

His Only Follower Also Killed--They Had Vast Quantities of Money and Jewelry. Both Bodies Robbed and the Party Return to Santiago--Minister Egan Reports at Last to the State Department.

NEW YORK, Sep. 3.—Merchants in this city interested in the Chilian war are deeply excited by the report that the deposed President Balmaceda had been assassinated while attempting to escape to Bunos Ayres by crossing the Alps.

Balmaceda, according to the rumor, left Santiago with his family while the rioting was at its height. He took vast quantities of money and jewelry with him. A special train conveyed the fleeing party to Los Andes, a point thirty odd miles north of Santiago.

There Balmaceda left his family, and securing mules, with the rest of the party commenced the dangerous journey of crossing the Andes.

On the second day of the trip, it is said the muleteers became frightened and wanted to turn back. Balmaceda knowing that certain death awaited him in Chili, refused. One of the muleteers became mutinous and Balmaceda struck him a blow on the head. The fellow retaliated by drawing a pistol and shooting the fleeing President through the heart.

Then it is said that the muleteers killed the only faithful follower of the deposed President, and after robbing both bodies, returned to Santiago where they made known their act.

Charles R. Flint, who had been appointed by Balmaceda as Chilian Consul and who refused the honor, could not confirm the news, although he had heard of the rumor.

MINISTER EGAN'S REPORT.

Defective Telegraph Service the Alleged Cause of His Silence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 3.—Minister Egan has been heard from. In a despatch to the State Department he officially notifies the United States Government that the Balmacedan Government has been overthrown by the revolutionists.

This Government will not immediately recognize the revolutionists, however, as Acting Secretary Wharton explained: The United States will wait until the new party fully organize the Government and formally demand recognition by a foreign power.

The despatch from Minister Egan, dated three days ago as it was, throws light upon his silence during the trouble in Chili. The telegraph line between Santiago and Valparaiso is known to have been down, and this cut off Minister Egan from communication with the United States by the Pacific road.

This is winter in Chili, and the Andes are deep with snow and ice, and the telegraph, it is thought at the State Department, must be broken down. This was the only line left to Minister Egan, and the telegram received came over this route from Santiago to Buenos Ayres, and thence up the Atlantic coast.

Telegrams sent from the State Department to Minister Egan within the past few days have not yet reached him, as they called for immediate replies and none have been received.

Deputy Verduga, one of ex-President Balmaceda's friends, has been captured at Talca, Chili, with over a million dollars in bank notes and drafts.

Injunction in Favor of the Junta.

LONDON, Sep. 3. — The court yesterday granted an injunction applied for on behalf of an agent of the Junta or Provisional Government of Chili. The injunction operates to restrain the City Bank from paying, or negotiating, until the case is decided by trial, or until a further order issues, a bill of exchange for $74,000, drawn on the National Bank of Chili, made payable to Senor Joaquin Goday, President Balmaceda's chief financial agent in Europe and accepted by the City Bank.

A Prominent Horse Dealer Fails.

LEBANON, Pa., Sep. 3.—Jacob Baney, a well-known horse dealer of Myerstown, has failed—executions being issued against him for $84,600. The liens against his property aggregate $150,000. The outside debts not secured by liens are variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. The assets are not yet known.

The Senate Fishery Sub-Committee.

BOSTON, Sep. 3.—Senators Morrill and McPherson, the Senatorial Fishery Sub-Committee, had a conference here and arranged for hearings on the matter. At the conclusion of the testimony they will visit all the important fishing ports on the New England coast.

Knights Templar Banquet.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 3.—The seventh annual conclave of the State Commandery, Knights Templar, was brought to a brilliant close last night with a banquet at the Grand Union Hotel given by Washington Commandery of Saratoga in honor of the visiting Knights.

Two Railroad Statements.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 3.—The statement of the Atchison Railroad for July shows an increase of gross earnings of $396,423 an increase of $248,028 in the net earnings. The St. Louis & San Francisco gross earnings increased $24261, and the net earnings decreased $24,105. Total for both systems, gross increase, $420,684; net increase, $223,923.

The Secret

Of the greatness of the Royal Baking Powder lies in the conscientious care employed in its manufacture; in the unvarying strength and purity of its ingredients; in the accuracy with which they are combined; in its assured freedom from every and all improper or detrimental substances.

The Secret of its marvelous success (its sale being greater than that of all other cream of tartar baking powders combined) lies in the wholesome, delicious food its use insures; in its uniform, perfect, never failing work, and in its satisfactory use for a quarter of a century which has won for it the implicit confidence of the public.

Return to the grocer all substitutes sent you for Royal Baking Powder. There is no substitute for ROYAL.

FELL ONE HUNDRED FEET.

A Spectator Caught by a Balloon Rope Meets With a Horrible Death.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The 10,000 persons in attendance at the Oswego Fair late yesterday afternoon witnessed a horrible accident. Prof. John J. Frisbie, of this city, was advertised to make a balloon ascension and a parachute jump, and much interest was felt in it from the fact of his residence here.

When everything was in readiness and Prof. Frisbie was about to take his seat on the trapeze the big balloon in some manner got away from those holding the the ropes. It shot upward like a rocket, and the spectators were horrified to see a man, who had been holding the ropes, swept off the ground and hang dangling between the parachute and the ground.

When up about 100 feet he attempted to drop, but his feet caught in the ropes and turned him over, and he plunged headlong to the ground.

He struck on his head and was instantly killed. His name was John R. Woods, and he came to see the fair from Union Square, this county. He was 32 years old. The balloon was recovered.

Frisbie will attempt to make another ascension.

MONEY FOR THE FAIR.

Congress to Be Asked For a Loan of At Least Five Millions.

CHICAGO, Sep. 3.—Congress is to be asked to loan the World's Columbian Exposition $5,000,000 at least, and perhaps $7,000,000. That is the decision of the National Commissioners, and the Chicago directors are giving them strong moral support.

For two days a special committee has been holding sessions, discussing the best policy to pursue in getting the loan. This committee is composed of Gen. St. Clair of West Virginia, and G. V. Massy of Delaware, both influential members of the National Commission; Director-General Davis, and Directors Gage, Baker and Jeffery.

All are agreed that Congress ought to make the loan, but how to get it is the question now under discussion. Many of the members declared that Congress should make an outright appropriation of at least $5,000,000. They argue that the United States has more at stake than the city of Chicago and should be liberal and magnanimous. Six million dollars have already been secured by popular subscription and the city of Chicago has issued bonds for $5,000,000 more.

ZOLA'S SENSATION.

France and Germany Find that War Must Soon Come.

PARIS, Sep. 3.—An article by Zola in the Figaro, proclaiming the necessity of wiping out Sedan, is the sensation of the day. Zola says:

"France is ready and henceforth has nothing to fear. Time has worked for us against conquerors. Germany is at her apogee of power. Already one almost hears the voice of the tempest that it will sweep away another imperial dynasty and cause to totter a nation that has put forth its utmost efforts. Its best days are over. France, surviving Sedan and drawing strength from defeat, is invincible."

Revolutionary Reports from Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 3.—The Bureau of American Republics is in receipt of news from Mexico that contradicts all these report of a war, and states that Mexico was never in such a settled condition as now. The masses of the people have given up politics and settled down to business. The country is peaceful, and the rumors of a revolution should not be heeded in the least. The commissioners appointed to arrange the reciprocity treaty between Mexico and the United States will hold their sessions in Mexico, Minister Ryan representing the United States. It is expected that a basis for the treaty will be settled within a few days.

Test of the New 12-Inch Steel Mortar.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Sep. 3.—The test made yesterday by the United States government officials of the new 12-inch all steel mortar was very satisfactory. A shell weighing 800 pounds was fired from the mortar with a charge of 105 pounds of powder. The velocity obtained was 1,130 feet per second and the pressure 29,900 pounds to the square inch. Ten of these 12-inch, all steel mortars will be mounted here in a few weeks and will be one of the first important steps towards preparing adequate coast defences.

Appointed Superintendent of the Poor.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 3.—John Q. Fellows, Democrat, has been appointed by the Onondaga Board of Supervisors to succeed Thomas M. Grimes, Republican, as Superintendent of the Poor. Mr. Grimes resigned on account of his accounts being found short.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY

Double Murder on a Farm Near West Point.

SHOT HIS BROTHER AND FATHER

Result of a Ditpute Regarding This Summer's Harvest of Pickles.

Hot Words Lead to Threats and Then to Blows--Unable to Cope with Two Adversaries, He Becomes at Once Parricide and Fratricide--Neighbors Shocked at the Crime.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sep. 3.—News has been received here from Cold Spring, the pretty little Putnam County village among the Highlands, in Phillipstown township, on the east bank of the Hudson, about a mile above West Point, of a shocking double tragedy, in which father and son were killed by another son as the result of a trivial quarrel.

Frank Scofield is the name of the man who consigns his name to double obloquy by being at once parricide and fratricide.

Frank engaged in a dispute with his father and brother concerning their season's harvest of pickles. Hot words led to threats and then to blows.

Finding himself unable to cope with two adversaries, Frank shot and killed both his father and brother.

Only these meagre details of the tragedy have yet been received from the horror stricken village. The Schofield homestead is about seven miles distant from Cold Spring.

COMPLETING THE CENSUS.

A Portion of it Soon to Be Put in the Printers' Hands.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 3.—Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, who is now giving his entire attention to revising final census reports, says that he expects to have the first 500 pages of the compendium of the eleventh census ready for the public printer on September 15. He has received the last card punched containing population statistics, the number of which is 62,622,266.

For the past six months a large number of clerks working night and day have been engaged upon punching machines, which, corresponding with the enumerators sheets, give all the information required by law. Each card will average seventeen holes, being the number of questions answered by each person. The number of holes punched far exceeds 1,250,000,000.

Mr. Porter says that since February 28th, 1891, the clerks have punched seven hundred cards per day which is two hundred more than the estimates furnished by him when this method of tabulation was adopted. Both men and women were engaged upon the machines, but the latter, he says, showed greater adaptability to the work.

The backbone of the census work is broken and the few hundred clerks now employed, will be sufficient to complete the work. He expects to have several completed volumes ready for Congress in December.

OVERORDWED TREVES.

Pilgrims Suffering Greatly from Heat and Lack of Accommodations.

BERLIN, Sep. 3.—A despatch from Treves says that the Holy Coat pilgrims have to undergo irritating hardships during their stay in that city. The weather is so warm that living in the ordinary manner would be sufficiently uncomfortable, but it is made much more so by the way in which the people are crowded together. Two or three beds in one small room is the rule, but in some cases it is worse, one landlady having crowded nineteen beds into three moderate sized rooms. For accommodations of this kind the charge is four shillings a night. Food is about three times the usual price, and all sorts of souvenirs of the Holy Coat are on sale in all materials, from gold to wood.

Boston Chamber of Commerce Must Pay.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 3.—The Boston Chamber of Commerce by a decision of the Supreme Court must pay to Neil McNeil, the sum of $14,300 which is the amount of damage that a jury some ago found that McNeil suffered in consequence of being refused the contract to build the new Chamber of Commerce building in Boston.

Scotland's Harvest Ruined.

EDINBURGH, Sep. 3.—Advices received from arious parts of the country indicate that the recent wind and rain storms have resulted in the destruction of fully one-half the crops in Scotland. The harvest is complete standstill.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

The Rainfall Greater than Usual in the New England States.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 3.—The weather crop bulletin of the weather bureau for the month of August, just issued, says the month was warmer than usual on the Atlantic coast, in the lower lake region, Michigan and in all States on the Pacific coast, but it was cooler than the average temperature for August throughout the central valleys.

The excess in temperature amounted to about 2 degrees per day in Southern New England and southeast New York, and it ranged from 2 degrees to 4 degrees per day on the Pacific Coast. In the west portion of the cotton region and thence northward to Iowa the deficiency in temperature amounted to about 2 degrees per day.

Frosts occurred in the extreme northwest at about the usual time near the 20th, but the wheat crop was so well advanced that only very slight damages occurred in the extreme northern portions of Minnesota and North Dakota. Frost reached the northern boundary of Iowa, but reports generally indicate that no material injury resulted to the corn crop.

During the month of August the rainfall was greater than usual in the interior of New England and the Middle Atlantic States from Virginia southward over South Carolina, the heaviest rains occuring in the last named State, where the total precipitation ranged from six to eleven inches. The rainfall was also in excess from the lake region westward to the Pacific coast, along the northern boundary of the United States, and in the States of the Central Mississippi valley.

The Social Science Association.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 3.—The topic before he American Social Science Association during the day was the department of social economy. Prof. Jenks of Cornell read a paper on "The Possibilities of Trade Unions," and was followed by Samuel Gompers with a paper on "Trade Unions; Their Achievements, Methods and Aims." Prof. Edward W. Bemis of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, read a paper on "The Relation of Trades Unions to Apprentices," and F. J. Kingsbury of Waterbury, Conn., gave his views on labor organizations generally.

Corraled by a United States Marshal.

INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE, Ont., Sep. 3.—A number of railroad men living here and working across the river, have been going to and returning from work without interruption for some time. Last evening they went as usual, but the United States Marshal was on hand and corraled them all and marched them back to the international boundary line. The officer claims there is a clause in the United States Alien Act which requires householders to live in the United States, and unmarried men must take out citizen's papers if they wish to earn a livlihood in the Republic.

Found Dead in Her Room.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 3.—Mrs. Town, addicted to the excessive use of liquor, was found dead in her room this morning. Death was due to heart failure, and she had been dead 24 hours when found. A part of one hand had been gnawed away by rats.

Clinton Prison Investigation.

DANNEMORA, N. Y., Sep. 3.—The commission appointed to investigate the charges against the officials of Clinton prison is now in session here. The hearing of the testimony will not be open to the public.

PECULIAR METHODS

The Bardsley Committee Make More Discoveries.

REPORT OF MAYOR'S EXPERTS.

The Ex-Treasurer's Dealings With Magistrates and Constables Explained.

For Years He Took a Certain Amount from Each Man's Collections—Costs Lumped and Divided Into Eight Parts--What Bardsley Retained for His Own Use from Taxes Received.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 3.—The Bardsley investigating committee met last night in the Council Chamber and resumed their probing into the affairs of the late City Treasurer and his peculiar methods of administering the duties of his office. The committee devoted their attention to examining the magistrates who collected the delinquent mercantile taxes for 1889 and 1890.

The experts appointed by Mayor Stuart presented a report of the collections as made by the magistrates for those years and the returns made by them. They reported that by Bardsley's books it appeared that for each year Bardsley took $6,150, and that in 1889 he apparently paid $1,575 of this sum to H. M. Griffin of Harrisburg. In 1890 he also paid over $1,575 to some party unknown. Each year Bardsley had deducted $650 from each of the magistrates which made the total sum of $3,150, half of which Bardsley appropriated to his own use, and the other half was turned over to some one else.

All the magistrates, with the exception of two, who had collected the delinquent taxes for 1889 and 1890 were in attendance at the meeting of the committee and were placed on the stand.

Magistrate William B. Abearn testified that he was appointed a collector in 1890, to succeed Magistrate Thompson, who went insane. He paid the amount collected from his office into the city treasury. Some two months after he was summoned to Bardsley's office with the other magistrates and received a check for the amount due him, less $350, which Bardsley kept. Bardsley told him that the total costs were lumped and divided into eight parts so that the constables would all receive an equal amount for their work.

The amount deducted came out of the fees of the constables. The deduction was not the result of any agreement with Bardsley and he never received a dollar of the money himself or paid a dollar for his appointment as a delinquent collector.

Magistrates Smith, Severin, List, Roney, Hackett, Pullinger and Rundell all testified to the same facts, but their testimony brought out nothing that was not told before.

BELANGER WAS MURDERED.

His Head Almost Severed from the Body It is Supposed from the Blow of an Axe.

LOWELL, Mass., Sep. 3.—The police are satisfied that David Belanger, the dry goods merchant, found dead in his store Tuesday night, was murdered.

Another examination of the body was made by physicians, and the theory of suicide has been set aside.

The head had almost been severed from the body, it is thought by a blow from an axe or butcher's cleaver. Other wounds were also found on the head and body, indicating that Belanger was felled to the floor and beaten in a merciless manner afterward.

The theory is that Belanger went into his store about midnight and, while in the act of striking a light, was pounced upon by someone in hiding and killed before he could make an outcery.

The police have, as yet, no clue to the murderer.

Gov. Campbell Coming East.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 3.—Gov. Campbell left last night for New York. From there he will go to some point on the Atlantic coast to rest for a week. Mrs. Campbell accompanied him. Dr. Loring, his physician, said that the Governor had malarial fever with strong tendencies toward typhoid. Such illness generally runs from ten to twenty-one days before it submits to treatment. The Governor has now been ill twenty days. Before leaving last night he said he would be back in Ohio again one week from to-day.

Carriage Struck By a Train.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sep. 3.—A carriage containing four persons was struck by a train here last night. Miss Travis, 20 years old, of Amowalk was instantly killed, while her brother George had both legs so badly crushed that amputation was necessary, and it is feared that he cannot recover. The other two occupants of the carriage escaped with slight injuries. The carriage was demolished.

The Bogus Nun Sent to Prison.

NEW YORK, Sep. 3.—Sister Beatrice May, or Mrs. Mary E. Oliver, the bogus nun, who once figured in a $50,000 breach of promise suit against Senator Cameron and who was arrested for begging in this city recently, has been sent to the city prison for one month, because she could not offer substantial proof of her so-called work of charity.

ATLANTIC CATTLE STEAMERS.

An Official Order Regulating the Shipments Issued in England.

LONDON, Sep. 3.—An official order of the Board of Agriculture has been issued relating to the Atlantic cattle trade, to go into operation next January. Cattle are not to be carried on more than three decks nor on any hatch above a compartment containing other cattle, nor in any position interfering with the navigation and ventilation of the vessel or the working of the boats.

Every part used for cattle must be provided with substantial pens, strong enough to resist the weight of the cattle or the action of the weather. The pens must be weatherproof and provided with battens secured to the dock to prevent cattle from slipping. Not more than four large or five small animals are to be placed in each pen. There must be a passageway of the minimum width of eighteen inches between every two rows of cattle and in front of every single row.

Pens must be adequately ventilated and lighted, and sufficiently roomy for repose and feeding. Food and water must be protected from the weather.

There must be a competent foreman, with one assistant to every twenty-five head of cattle. Any animal seriously injured must be forthwith slaughtered. Any contravention of the order will make the owner, charterer and master of the vessel guilty of an offense against the Contagious diseases (Animals) Act of 1878.

HEBREWS COMPLAIN.

Forty-Two Who Have a Grievance Against the Brazilian Consul at New York.

NEW YORK, Sep. 3.—The steamship Alliance has arrived from Brazil with forty-two Hebrews on board, who state that they were induced by the Brazilian Consul in this city four months ago to go to Marahano, Brazil, where easy work and good pay were promised them.

The highest wages they could get when they arrived there was seventeen cents a day, and they were employed in felling trees and clearing lumber land. When they found they could not make a living the applied to the American Consul in Brazil at the town of St. Louis near where the men were employed. He secured passage for them on the Alliance. The Hebrews claim they are all American citizens. Their case is being investigated at the Barge Office.

A Society With a Mania For Suicide.

BRADFORD, Pa., Sep. 3. — A suicidal mania has taken possession of the aged members of a local agnostic circle here, which was founded by the late Dr. Stuart, who himself led the way by taking his life. Since then there are other members of the circle who have tried to kill themselves and two have succeeded. The last case has just occurred. Elias Heasley, aged 66, took "rough on rats" and died from its effects. He had pondered on the life and death theory of Dr. Stuart until he decided to end his life in harmony with his friends' theory and practice.

—The lad Doty who was arrested for the theft of $8 from Mrs. Boice has been released from the county jail on bail.

—Two happy young people were married by justice Nash last evening. They asked him not to give their names to reporters.

—Sobie L. Smith, of Spooner avenue, is recovering from a sprain received while at work in the Pond tool works, last Tuesday.

—Alonzo T. Ayres has just completed a most satisfactory and creditable job in the painting of the Fifth street public school building.

—All the married men's wives of Fanwood, are out of town. So chips rattle and oil burns all night in Quality Hill and its environs.

—A farmer from Washington Valley, unable to stand the effects of Plainfield whiskey, was hauled in by the police this afternoon, to be presented in court in the morning.

—A fellow on the street insulted policeman Giese this morning, and that officer promptly gave chase and arrested him. The man treated it all as a joke, and offered to shake hands and call it square, but the policeman locked him up for trial.

—Samuel Johnson, the colored man who broke into the bed room of Carrie and Jennie Levien a few weeks ago and attempted to assault the women, was adjudged guilty by the Somerset courts, yesterday, and will be sentenced next Monday.

—The finest pears ever grown, both in size and flavor, are those raised by Cornelius J. Ackerman, who may be addressed in care of Evona station. His Bartletts are just what you want for "doing-up", and he has later varieties coming. The prices will suit you, too.

—A peach and ice-cream festival will be held in the chapel at Washingtonville, this evening. There will be good music, good singing and a good time for everybody. The committee in charge will do everything to make it pleasant for those who may attend. The charges for cream and peaches will be reasonable.

—At the regular meeting at Reform Hall this evening, the Rev. E. H. Stewart will speak on the prohibitory law in Kansas and its effects. The speaker's long residence in Kansas enables him to speak understandingly on this important question. Everybody interested in the temperance cause is cordially invited.

—The attendance at the opening of the Boys' club, Tuesday evening, was quite large. The boys acted and looked as though they were glad that their "Evening home" was open to receive them again. There were also several visitors present. Any boys wishing to join the Zouaves must apply for membership at once, as the company is about full.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Misses Mamie and Stella Hill have been enjoying a two weeks' visit with relatives in Newark.

City Physician Andrew Manning is suffering from partial paralysis of one side of his body and face.

Miss Nettie Demarest of New Brunswick is visiting her friend, Miss George Winans, of Somerset street, North Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Seely Edsall, with their son, J. Linn Edsall, returned last night from a four weeks outing on lake Ontario.

E. R. Bird, manager at J. F. MacDonald's grocery, accompanied by Mrs. Bird, is enjoying the week at Asbury Park.

Miss Lizzie Mattis has returned to her home on Spooner avenue, after a two weeks' stay with relatives in Raritan and Royceefield.

A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Miller, of West Seventh street, is seriously ill with locked-jaw. The cause is unknown. A consultation of physicians was held yesterday.

THE PRESS is assured upon unquestionable authority that the announcement of the engagement of the Rev. C. L. Goodrich and Miss Minnie Wood, is without foundation.

Will Nelson, Rob Sebring and Walter Manning are expected home to-day from a trip to Ocean Grove and back on their bicycles. They rode over during Monday. The distance is about sixty miles.

The Rev. E. H. Stewart, who was for twelve years a resident of Kansas, will speak at Reform Hall this evening on "The Prohibition Law with its Results and Effects in Kansas". He will also suggest a plan of work for Plainfield.

The relatives and many friends of Master Willie Dunn, who left Plainfield something over a year ago to seek health and a fortune at Fairhaven, Washington, will be delighted to learn that he has secured a position as clerk in the post-office at that place.

The coming marriage is announced of Miss Martha Amerman Powlison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Powlison, to Anthony Corwin La Boyteaux, of this city. The ceremony will take place in the Congregational church, Thursday afternoon, the 17th inst., at five o'clock.

THIS TIME THE SCHEME FAILED.

Judge VanSyckel Decides That the Water-Works Matters Shall Remain Just as They Are Until the Other Side Can be Heard.

On Monday night notice was served on the Mayor that fourteen rich men of Plainfield would ask Judge VanSyckel on Wednesday for a certiorari to bury in the Supreme court all proceedings taken by the Common Council to incorporate a competing water company in this city.

The Corporation Counsel was in Europe; Chancellor Runyon, special counsel for the city, was supposed to be in San Francisco; only a day and a half notice was given the Mayor to appear way down in South Jersey, and, consequently, R. V. Lindabury, the fourteen rich men's counsel, expected that his motion would go through with bells on, and the new water company would be buried out of sight with the street railroad project and other benefits the people want.

But Chancellor Runyon arrived home most unexpectedly. Mrs. Runyon was homesick and to please her he came back before he had intended. He went right down to Toms River and nipped Mr. Lindabury's project in the bud. This is what happened, in the Chancellor's own language:

"The application for a certiorari to remove the ordinance of the city of Plainfield giving consent to the corporation of the water and sewer companies, came on before Judge Van Syckel at Toms River, yesterday.

"The merits of the application were not discussed except so far as necessary to apprise the Judge of the matters in controversy with reference to the motion to postpone with a view to a full argument of the application on its merits.

"The discussion was in effect postponed to the twenty-first inst., the certiorari being allowed in order to keep matters in statu quo until the argument shall have been heard. On the 21st at Trenton application on our side will be made to discharge the writ and then the discussion will take place; so that what has been done is to hold matters in their present position until we can be heard.

THEODORE RUNYON.

So, although Mr. Lindabury told Councilman Spangenberg, before President Bergen of the Plainfield Water Supply company, at the Netherwood station, this morning, "We have put a stay on the whole damn business", that is only temporarily true. The appeal of the fourteen rich men and Mr. Lindabury was refused yesterday, and, instead, Judge VanSyckel set a day to hear the other side.

WHERE IS MILLER'S LAWYER?

THE PRESS is Begging to be Tried, But So Far Unsuccessfully.

So far the editors and publishers of THE PRESS have been unsuccessful in having a day set for the trial of the case of saloon Joe Miller, who, in a complaint drawn up by lawyer Reed, says in effect that THE PRESS has hurt his reputation and damaged the fair name of his "Daisy Delmore."

Justice Nash is ready to hold the examination any day, and City Judge Codington of the attorneys for THE PRESS will agree to whatever date suits Miller's counsel. But just now the question seems to be: "Who is Joe & Daisy's counsel?" Lawyer Reed who drew up the complaint, has written Miller that an examination has been demanded. But Reed has received no reply and therefore does n't consider that he is authorized to act as Miller's lawyer.

Made the Insurance Companies "Pony Up".

On June 1, the grocery store of Vittorio Perini, at Bound Brook, was burned to the ground, and the proprietor claimed to have lost $1,500 on his stock; the building was owned by another party. Mr. Perini was insured for $1,000 in the Merchants Insurance Company, of Newark, and for $500 in the Hartford Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn. After the fire he presented his claims, and each company ignored it, even refusing to settle at all, on the ground that Perini did not have $1,500 worth of goods in the store. The latter, through his counsel, Wm. A. Coddington, of this city, brought suit to recover the full amount. The case was tried a few days ago and the plaintiff was awarded $1,475 in full for claims against both companies. The verdict was evidently satisfactory to all concerned in the suit, and the money was at once paid over to Mr. Perini.

This speaks well for Mr. Coddington, who has had four suits of a similar nature to contest during the past two years in all of which he has come out victorious.

Counselor Wm. A. Coddington Re-elected.

The annual meeting of the Bach Manufacturing company, whose factory is at No. 30 Warren street, New York, was held at the office of the president, William A. Coddington, West Front street, on Tuesday afternoon, when the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:

President—Wm. A. Coddington.
Secretary—Albert Bach.
Treasurer—H. M. Bach.
Directors—Joseph Bach, Albert Bach, W. A. Coddington, J. R. Phillips, M. Regan, L. Heitzamann, W. Abel.

The company was organized here a year ago, with a capital stock of $50,000, divided into 500 shares. Its business is the manufacture of shoes of a high grade, and the first year of its existence the company has been most prosperous, many of the goods finding their way into the stores of the Plainfield merchants. During the coming year the capital stock will not be increased.

Were the Number of Seeds in a Hotel Netherwood Watermelon, and Elegant Prizes Were Given the Lucky Guessers.

[FROM THE PRESS' OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

NETHERWOOD, Sept. 2.

A Guess Again" or "Watermelon Party" was the event of last evening, at Hotel Netherwood. The subscription list showed about sixty guessers as to the number of seeds in the watermelon procured for the occasion. Mrs. Benary and Miss Cullen purchased the prizes, which were charming exhibits of their exquisite taste.

The party assembled about 9 o'clock, the melon was duly cut, and the committee commenced to count the seeds. A great many atrocious puns were uttered during the counting, such as: "is n't this a seedy affair sure enough?" and "This reminds me of the sedan business;" or "Come let us all secede," etc.

The fortunate winners were; First prize, Mrs. Donald, lovely cut glass bonbon dish; second prize, Mr. Hinchman, elegant hand painted mouchoir or glove box; third prize, Mrs. F. E. Miller, handsome silver scissors; fourth prize, Mrs. Bridgman, exquisite cup and saucer; fifth prize, Mr. Donald, rare photograph case; sixth prize, Mrs. Cullen, exquisitely wrought towel-rings; seventh prize, Harry Martin, large bottle of Farina cologne; eighth prize, Mr. Whitney, engagement book.

A vote of thanks tendered to Mr. Martin and Miss Cullen, closed another pleasing event at The Netherwood. The hotel register shows a good number of arrivals yesterday and to-day. The fall season promises well. The hotel will remain open until about the 15th or 20th of the month.

Minister Lincoln's Daughter Married.

LONDON, Sep. 3.—Miss Mary Lincoln, daughter of the American Minister to England, Mr. Robert T. Lincoln, was married yesterday afternoon to Charles Isham, a wealthy young lawyer of New York. The marriage ceremony took place at the Brompton Parish Church of the Holy Trinity, Canon Farrar officiating. In accordance with the wishes of the bride's father the wedding was a quiet one, only the members and intimate friends of the bride and groom being present.

A Bookkeeper Kills Himself.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 3.—Henry W. Carberry, for the last ten years assistant bookkeeper for the Gas Light Company, was found dead at his home during the morning with a bullet from a revolver in his own hand in his heart. He had been married for about five years, but from reports gathered in the neighborhood he had not always lived happily with his wife.

Minister Shannon in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 3.—R. C. Shannon, United States Minister to Costa Rica, Salvador and Nicaragua, was at the State Department during the morning and had a conference with Acting Secretary of State Wharton. He will leave for his post in about ten days.

Secretary Tracy Visits the President.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 3.—Secretary Tracy arrived here last night and was met at the Grand Street station by the President and taken to Point Cottage in his carriage. The date of the President's reed bird shooting trip to Maurice River Meadows is fixed for to-morow.

Killed by a Train.

ANGOLA, N. Y., Sep. 3.—George Sauer, a Lake Shore section hand, was struck and killed by a way freight near Pike's Crossing during the morning. He was a German, 45 years of age, and unmarried.

The Great Double Scull Race.

BOSTON, Sep. 3.—The double scull race between Teemer and Wise and Hanlan and O'Connor, is arranged to take place at Point of Pines on Saturday, Sept. 12, at 5 o'clock.

says Another Negro Killed Sherman.

NEW YORK, Sep. 3.—The negroe who so brutally murdered Officer Sherman while in the discharge of his duty was arraigned in the morning. Noah made no statement to the Court, but he told his counsel that Law Zanes, another negro had agreed to go fishing with him yesterday morning, and that when Zanes came to the kitchen where Noah was Officer Sherman was beating him with his club. Zanes, he said, rushed in and took part in the fight, and Noah declares that it was Zanes who cut Sherman's throat.

Two Drowned.

AMESBURY, Mass., Sept. 3.—George Ellis, aged 10 years, was drowned last evening, by the capsizing of a boat which he was sailing. James Higgins, aged 22, who went to the aid of Ellis was taken with cramps and also drowned. Both bodies were recovered.

Long Branch Postoffice Robbed.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sep. 3.—The Long Branch postoffice was entered by thieves during the noon hour and the safe rifled of 18 registered packages and about 1,000 stamps. There is no clue to the thieves.

Straitliff Now a Murderer.

CARLISLE, Pa., Sep. 3.—Wm. Croman, who was stabbed by Edward Straitliff about a week ago, has died of his injuries. Straitliff will be tried for murder.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

DAVID CRIST, Wawarsing, N. Y.

So Much the Better for Her.

A gentleman and his wife, the latter with a six-months-old infant in her arms, were about to enter the Austin opera house to see the performance one night, when the doorkeeper suddenly said:

"Beg pardon, madam, but you can't take infants inside!"

"Very well," said the lady, "so much the better for me. You just take care of the little fellow till the play is over—and by the way, there's the milk bottle in case he should cry."—Texas Siftings.

Americans Must Be Careful.

Standish—What's that? You say you were attacked by highwaymen on the way here?

Winthrope—Yes, and robbed of every cent after being beaten insensible.

Standish—Honest citizens ought to go armed.

Winthrope—I was armed.

Standish—Then why didn't you shoot?

Winthrope—I was afraid some of the highwaymen might be unnaturalized residents, and I did not want to risk plunging my beloved country into a foreign war.—N. Y. Weekly.

Lighthead's Mistake.

Lighthead—This idea that Boston girls are so highly intellectual is all nonsense. You remember you introduced me to one at the party the other evening?

Hardhead—Yes; Miss Tremont, a friend of mine.

Lighthead (triumphantly)—Well, I was with her an hour, and she didn't talk about anything but dogs and horses.

Hardhead—She has great adaptability.—Good News.

A Woman's Eternity.

She (icily, to rejected suitor)—Did I not say "never!" to you yesterday? Why do you ask me again?

He (bravely)—Well, as this is the next day after "never" I thought I'd call to see if you hadn't changed your eternal resolution.—Judge.

Quick Cure.

Bradsmith—Doc, I'm feeling very poorly to-day.

Doctor—All right; I can fix you up. What's the matter?

"Never felt poorer; haven't a cent. Lend me a fiver?"

"Here, take it, blame you!"—Light.

Lovers Are Blind.

Old Gentleman (to suitor)—You want to marry my daughter, do you, young man?

Young Man—Yes, sir.

Old Gentleman—Dear me! I gave you credit for being a level-headed young fellow.—Boston Herald.

On the Contrary.

Mrs. B.—George, I am outraged. The moment you see that Miss Landon you seem to forget that you are a married man!

Mr. B.—No, my dear; on the contrary, the very sight of her makes me think of that.—Life.

His Advantage.

Maud—No girl could have refused him if he had proposed to her as sweetly as he proposed to me.

Mary—But you must remember, dear, that he has had a great deal of experience.—Munsey's Weekly.

A Hardworked Journalist.

Mr. White—Is dat so, you's on de staff ob de Daily Blanketsheet?

Mr. Black—'Deed I is, an' a most highly 'portant position I's got. I mix de paste, clean de spittoons, an' sharpen de shears.—Good News.

A Matter of Pronunciation.

Miss Gadd (from the east—in Arkansas book store)—Have you Ben Hur?

Young Clerk (recently from the woods)—Ben hyur, mom? Why, I stay hyur all the time!—Light.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

All the druggists sell the Tudor Whiskey. Some of the other dealers do not. They say it pays too small a profit. PURE whiskey never does yield a large profit. It is the adulterated stuff which makes the money. Do you want to pay your dealer an exorbitant profit on an adulterated article, or do you prefer genuine old Whiskey which is sold at a moderate profit? Decide for yourselves. The TUDOR WHISKEY is WARRANTED ABSOLUTELY PURE and TEN YEARS OLD.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

DON'T PRACTICE WHAT THEY PREACH.

Only Two of the Fourteen Rich Men, Are Patrons of the Monopoly They Are Booming.

Even among the many misrepresentations in the appeal of the fourteen rich men of Plainfield to Judge Van Syckel seeking to perpetuate a monopoly in water-works in Plainfield, the following is so glaring as to stand forth the most prominently:

Your petitioners believe at least four-fifths of the tax-payers of said city desire that the said offer of the Plainfield Water supply company should be accepted.

This is not so! Four-fifths of the tax-payers of this city are against making any contract with any water company without sewers, and more than four-fifths are for competition in water, gas and all life's necessities.

Take, for instance, the fourteen rich men themselves. Only two are customers of the Plainfield Water Supply company. They are tax-payers, yet six-sevenths of them have thus far shown no "desire that the offer of the Plainfield Water Supply company to them, should be accepted!"

By the way, here are their names again as a matter of record:

Mason W. Tyler,
Rowland Cox,
J. Evarts Tracy,
Charles J. Fisk,
George H. Babcock,
Pliny Fisk,
Ernest L. Walz,
Eric N. Erickson,
John M. Whiton,
John Bushnell,
William E. Lowe,
William Thompson,
Joseph M. Titsworth,
George H. Goddard.

BURGLARS AT NETHERWOOD.

The Post-office and General Store of James B. Guttridge Robbed.

Another of the series of petty burglaries which have puzzled the police of Plainfield the past few months occurred at Netherwood last evening, when burglars broke into the general store of James B. Guttridge, near the railway station, and ransacked the show cases in search of goods easily convertible into cash. From the cigar case the thieves secured manufactured tobacco to the value of $15, and from the cutlery case pocket-knives to the value of $30. They secured only a few pennies in coin, including some loose change belonging to the cash of the post-office, which is in the same store. They left a large quantity of postage stamps untouched.

Suspicion has attached itself to certain parties, and constable Hezekiah Hand, postmaster of Scotch Plains, is on the track of the thieves.

LET ALL GOOD RIDERS ENTER.

Go in This Race, and Find Out How You Class With Other Plainfield Cyclers.

The road race planned by the Plainfield Bicycle Club for Sept. 12 deserves to be liberally patronized. Plainfield has so many wheelmen that the list of entries for the race ought to be very large. Already entries have been received from some of the club's best riders, and also from non-members. The list will be published in due time. The medals will be on exhibition in a few days. The managers of the race say that they especially desire entries from those riders who have bragged so much about what they can do when alone. The club has gone to considerable expense in the matter, hoping to get the best material together that the town holds, and the fast cyclers who have said so much about their speed ought to show their mettle now or forever after hold their peace.

A Wedding.

The New Brunswick Home News says: E. W. Pepper, the well-known insurance man of Plainfield, is to be married to-morrow at Manasquan to Miss Polhemus of that place. Mr. Pepper is the Superintendent of the Prudential Insurance company at Plainfield and was formerly under Supt. Robertson of this city. The latter gentleman will attend as one of the best men. This occasion will be the second time that Mr. Pepper has assumed marital relations.

"Do Snakes Lay Eggs?"

Yesterday, while two of Plainfield's fishermen were catching bait along a stream, they killed on shore an enormous snake known as the water-pilot. Curiosity tempted them to dissect the reptile. The result was the finding of thirty-two young snakes in the body, averaging ten inches in length. The instant they came into the World they started to run but were speedily killed. This would seem to prove that snakes don't lay eggs.

—You'll be sorry if you miss the grocers' excursion to Boynton Beach, Labor Day.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by William R. Codington, Esq., City Judge of the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, to make the unpaid taxes assessed on lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate, in the said City of Plainfield in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, the subscriber, the officer nominated and appointed by the Common Council for that purpose, will on Thursday, the fifth day of November next, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon at his office, 32 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, sell the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate, hereunder described, at public vendue, for the shortest time for which any person or persons will agree to take the same and pay such taxes, together with interests thereon, and costs, fees, charges and expenses.

ELYSIUM LAKE.

One Hundred and Twenty Building Lots.

The Beauty of Plainfield!

Size of lots 40 ft. by 125 ft. and 150 ft. deep.

Streets graded; three lots reserved, two for churches, which will be donated to any religious organization that a majority of the property owners may elect, and the other lot for public school purposes.

ELYSIUM LAKE

Is a body of water about 1,200 feet long and 200 feet wide, springing copiously out of clean, white gravel. The water has been tested and found to be as pure as the water in our wells.

Besides being just outside of the city line, escaping city tax.

Streets cars will pass through the property in the near future.

Price of lots, and terms of sale, are as follows: For the first twenty days, commencing

SEPTEMBER 1, 1891.

Price—$50, $75 and $100 Each.

TERMS OF PAYMENT—$10 down, $3 each and every week until the full amount of the purchase money is paid, when a warranty deed will be given FREE and CLEAR from ALL INCUMBRANCE WHATSOEVER. Ten per cent. Discount will be given when all cash is paid down at the time of purchase.

GAME FOR A GRIZZLY.

Lonesome Lively in the Character of "The Mouse."

[Written for This Paper.]

THE inhabitants of Somerindyck Flatt were truly Athenian in their tastes. They were constant and persevering in their endeavors either to hear or to tell of some new thing.

It was their habit to assemble, nightly, under the hospitable roof of the popular namesake of the flatt, Zebulon Q. Somerindyck, Esq.—an illustrious trinity of merchant, mayor and postmaster—and there enliven the passing hours with incidents of homely pathos and thrilling adventures, from their own experiences, on the western frontier. To be sure some of these incidents were entirely fresh to the narrators, as well as to the audience. But in such cases the freshness belonged entirely to the story-teller and his tale, and not to his audience; and somehow spurious yarns were seldom repeated.

When each man was settled into his familiar place on box, barrel or chair, and the magnetic circle of fellowship became fully established, each passing circumstance would revive the memory of some experience, and the current of recollections would remain unbroken until the small hours of the night.

On one ocasion of this kind, as a few of the earliest arrivals had "dropped in," a faint squeal was heard from a remote corner of the room, and the "store cat" emerged from behind a pile of boxes, with a big mouse in her mouth. She proudly marched before the spectators, to display her prize. After rubbing her sides affectionately against such boot-legs as were within her reach, and receiving many admiring strokes, she deposited her victim on the floor and began to tease and torment it by allowing it to almost escape—only to be drawn back again by a sharp and crafty paw. After watching these maneuvers for a time an old guide broke the silence. He was universally known by the expressive title of "Lonesome Lively," in celebration of his abnormal desire to escape from everybody's society, and of his phenomenal deliberation.

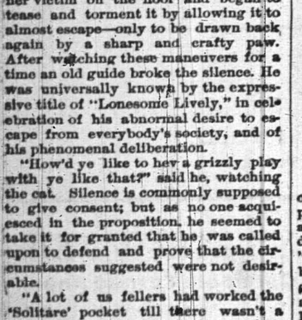
"How'd ye like to hev a grizzly play with ye like that?" said he, watching the cat. Silence is commonly supposed to give consent; but as no one acquiesced in the proposition, he seemed to take it for granted that he was called upon to defend and prove that the circumstances suggested were not desirable.

"A lot of us fellers had worked the 'Solitare' pocket till there wasn't a solitary speck o' dust in her pocket, nuther in ours,—an' we perceeded to pack our duds and make fur t'other side uv Jordan creek. The rest on 'em were soured on the kentry and swore ez they wouldn't eat nor drink 'till they'd crossed over onto t'other side. Ef they'd a made the last part o' thet cesolooshun sometime afore, an' stuck to et, they'd a punished a mighty sight less o' poor whisky on this side o' Jordan, I recallect.

"So it war late that night when we snatched a bit o' supper an' stretched out ez tired a dozen legs as ever made spokes around a camp fire.

"I'd made up my mind that the back end o' the next day would find us with more to eat er fewer to eat it. 'Kordingly, next mornin', when we struck a big patch of chaparral, I switched off from the party an' told 'em ter keep straight ahead fer a clump big pines, t'other side th' chaparral; an' if I didn't jine 'em in five hours they might back track an' hunt me up. Meantime I was about to try my luck fer game. They agreed, an' we parted.

"The chaparral were a mighty solid growth, sort o' tunneled through here an' thar by the trails. I pegged right along fer an hour or more, all the time keepin' my eyes an' ears open fer signs o' game. The trail I was follerin' turned a sharp corner, a few yards ahead o' me, an' afore I reached the turn, I heerd the brush crackin' and somethin' boundin' along the path. Course I couldn't see the creeter until I could git around the corner; but I thought sartin' it war a buck. It took me about three jumps ter get thar, an' I drew up ter let fly at the buck, who war skippin' down the trail, when the biggest grizzly I ever seen stepped into the trail from a leetle openin' at one side, not two rods ahead o' me. He warn't the least excited by the sudlint interduction, but jest stopped a minnit an' looked me over as tho' he war goin' ter take in the whole situoashun afore he made any false moves.



"HOW'D YE LIKE TO HAVE A GRIZZLY PLAY WITH YE?"

"I gathered up my ideas, lively as I could, an' drew a bead on the brute's eye.

"Snap went my gun! It missed fire. I made a jump fer the open space ahead, intendin' ter make fer a tree near by; but the grizzly war too spry fer me, an' grabbed me in his arms, as I tried to pass him. Instead of losin' no time in squeezin' the life out o' me, he kind o' lopped down on to the ground, an' lay, fer a bit, with his big paw across my chest. It war mighty tender an' considerit of him, but bar'ly enjoyable! A'ter a leetle, he 'had a bite,' an' riz up ter scratch his lousy flank.

"I lay flat on my back, an' he set back on his haunches, an' fairly looked me in the eye. Course I didn't dare to stir a muscle 'till we had come to a better understandin'.

"I war willin' to compromise, but felt a leetle delikit 'bout makin' the fust proposish'. After eyein' me fer a spell, he put his old nose down, an' began ter smell me over; an', I vow I tho't ev'ry minnit, soon's he'd satisfied himself that I war fit to kill, he'd start in on me. But he didn't! He jest kept on smellin', an' finally stuck his snoot sort o' under me, like a rootin' pig, an' rolled me over. I reckon his old pard', at home, had larned him not ter fetch meat home from market 'til he'd smelled uv both sides uv it! I war mighty willin' ter roll over, ye can depend!—specially as it war down hill t'ward the pine tree in the openin'. But I concluded that I wouldn't be too brisk to start in on, so I laid low, an' made no start ter roll out ov his reach jest then.

"The old chap seemed to enjoy that kind of performance furst-rate, an' would slouch along after me, keepin' his nose close unto me all the time. When I didn't roll fast enough to suit him, he'd give me a leetle poke with his nose.

"Fact is 'fore we got through that thar circus, I'd come to the conclusion that the brute was a genowin' old wag, an' knowed a joke when he got his nose unto one. Ef I could a jest stood off a leetle to one side, an' seed thet performance I'd a laughed ter split—an', ef I hadn't ben quite so clost, I'd a done it as 'twas, but I reckoned as 'twouldn't be discreet—least way I'd better save it a few minits. We navigated down that 'ar slope 'till I struck a big flat rock that formed a shelf, leavin' a drop of about eight feet to the next rock below.

"I JEST LAID ON MY BACK."

"Soon's we got onto the first rock the grizzly clawed a hait. Luck war on my side, fer when I stopped rollin', I war on my stomach-side, ready to jump.

"The sun came down bilin'-hot, in the open space, an' it peard like the old chap had just had his breakfast, an' war about to take his mornin' nap when I disturbed him, an', now that the sunshine made him sleepy, he warn't goin' ter be cheated out ov it. So he loped down side o' me, an' went ter sleep, or ruther 'bout ez I had concluded thet he war asleep, he'd roll up one eye, much ez ter say: 'O, I'm watchin' ye!' Ez these cat naps seemed ter grow longer, I made up my mind that the time had come to try my leetle game.

"I waited till both the brute's eyes war shut, an' then began to crawl fur the edge of the rock. It war mighty slow work, an' I hadn't got mor'n three feet away when he pulled up the lid ter one eye, reached out his old paw, with the claws rin out full length, an' hauled me back.

"It had ben a bad move, an', besides, I didn't know how much more uv that kind uv foolin' the old chap would stand without gettin' riled. So I jest laid on my back till I knowed I'd spile my complexshun an' make the ground tired. That wouldn't do, so I rolled over: one! two! three!—I can tell ye my heart thumped purty lively when I rolled over that third time—an' it could afford to, fer the old brute snatched me up by the claws of one fore paw, ez handy ez thet thar cat picked up that mouse a minnit ago! It didn't prick none! Oh, no!

"Ef it didn't feel like ez though I had a pot hook run under my back bone, an' was being jerked around by it, then I don't know how it did feel. But the old ruffian war obleegin' enough to land me face down, an', from the time I lay with my nose agin thet rock, it must have looked like ez tho' I war mighty interested in its geography.

"Howsomever, I concluded it war a mighty good place ter leave. This time I waited 'til the bar got well under way with his nap, then I jumped to my feet, leaped to the lower rock an' made fur the tree as fast as it war perlite to run in thet kentry. I could hear, an' nigh-a-most feel the old fury a tarin' a'ter me like a cyclone. When I got ter the tree I made a jump fer the lowest limb, caught it, an' swung up jest in time ter let his claws zip under me!

"I never saw man er beast half so crazy ez thet bar war when he could see me up thar in that tree, an' couldn't git me! You'd a thot he'd a-eat his self up—an' howl!—you could a heerd him fer two miles!

"The other boys heerd the racket an' knowed what was up. They crept up on the old chap while he was chawin' an' clawin' away at my roostin' tree, an' sent five balls inside his hide, an' he went to sleep so sound that he wouldn't a woke up if the whole mountain hed turned over.

"No, thank'e! I don't care ter play mouse ter a grizzly agin!"

FORREST CRESSEY.

THIS IS WHY.

WHY WOMEN TALK ABOUT IT.

Ontario Center, N. Y.
May 7, 1890.
F. E. C. Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.:
For seven or eight years my wife has been troubled with some kind of kidney trouble. She tried many different remedies but all in vain. She continued to grow worse. Last fall I induced her to try the F. E. C. Remedy, and before using one bottle she began to improve, and now, after using six bottles, she is entirely cured. I have recommended it to many and it has benefitted in every case heard from.

MUST EGAN RETURN

Reported To-day That He Has Been Recalled.

ENEMIES AFTER HIS SCALP.

The Chilian Party Envoys Preparing Evidence Against Him.

Open in their Hostility Towards Him—Statements Said to Have Been Laid Before the President—Some Very Sensational Developments Promised Regarding Minister Egan's Career in Chili.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—It is reported that Minister Egan has been recalled from Chili, and the report is credited by many here.

Acting Secretary of State Wharton, when questioned, declined to either deny or confirm the report. His only reply was that Egan had not been recalled by the State Department.

"Has the President ordered the recall?" asked the reporter.

Secretary Wharton evasively replied that he could not tell what the President had done. It is known that the President has been considering the case of Minister Egan, and that grave charges against the latter have been laid before him.

The envoys of the successful Chilian party have been diligently collecting evidence against Minister Egan which they have already presented to the President. These envoys make no concealment of their hostility to Egan, and openly promise some very sensational developments concerning his career in Chili.

WAR SHIPS SURRENDER.

Chilian Vessels Turned Over to the Minister at Callao.

CALLAO, Peru, via Galveston, Sep. 4.—The torpedero Almirante Condell and the armed transport Imperiale, the last armed forces loyal to the late President Balmaceda of Chili, have formally surrendered to the Chilian Minister here, and word was immediately sent to the Junta de Gobierno, at Santiago, that the two vessels were at their disposal.

The Condell, under the command of Capt. Morago, sailed from Valparaiso as convoy to the Imperiale on August 22, two days after the landing of the Congressional army at Quinteros Bay.

The mission of the two ships was to transport troops from Coquimbo to Talcahuano.

EMBARGO ON PORK RAISED.

Secretary Rusk Receives Official Notice from Germany.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 4.—Secretary Rusk has received official notice that the German government has raised the embargo on American pork. The agreement relative to the admission of pork into Germany was signed at Cape May Point about ten days ago, but at the request of the German government the fact was withheld from the public press until official action could be taken by the home government.

The agreement not only provides for the admittance of our pork into Germany, but also affords the United States the same schedule with reference to our farm products as that enjoyed by Russia.

Secretary Rusk is confident that he will soon be able to extend our market for corn by introducing it into Germany for use as an article of food in the place of rye, the crop of which in Germany is this year exceedingly short. To this end, he has instructed his corn agent, C. J. Murphy, now in Europe, to proceed at once to Berlin, and lay the matter before Germany.

The Lottery Company's Business Broken.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 4.—John C. Maynard, the postoffice inspector in charge of the New Orleans district, has returned to Washington from New Orleans, where he has completed the work in some 20 cases against the president of the Louisiana Lottery Company for violation of the postal lottery law. Mr. Maynard says the chain of evidence in these cases is complete. He thinks the power of the company is broken and says the business is reduced to such a point, that although it advertises a capital prize of $300,000, yet it does not now sell more than half of any ticket, so it is impossible for the capital prize to be drawn.

Regarding the Union Pacific.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The vehemence with which the Gould party deny that the Vanderbilts have, or will have, any interest in the Union Pacific leads to a suspicion that they do not feel the foundation very firm underfoot. If the loan scheme is carried through, J. Pierpont Morgan will be practically receiver of the Union Pacific Company, and the Vanderbilts will have a voice in its affair which will overpower anything J. Gould can say. The Vanderbilts, however, do not wish to antagonize Gould, only to see that the great Western railroad system operates in harmony.

Hamilton College Officers Elected.

UTICA, N. Y., Sep. 4.—At the meeting of the trustees of Hamilton College, held at Bagg's Hotel, Horace P. Silliman of Cohoes was elected president. Clinton B. Scollard was elected in place of Professor Hoyt, who has accepted a chair in Auburn Theological Seminary. W. D. Moore was made assistant professor of rhetoric and A. D. Morrill was elected professor of chemistry.

Effect of a Proposed Wage Reduction.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 4.—The decision of the manufacturers to cut down wages in October has caused a feeling of depression among business men and operatives all over the city. It means a loss of $13,000 weekly to operatives and consequent loss to all kinds of trade.

PITTSBURG PHIL'S LUCK.

The Plunger Makes a Princely Winning on His Colt King Cadmus.

NEW YORK, Spp. 4.—The winnings of G. E. Smith, the plunger, widely known as Pittsburg Phil, on his colt King Cadmus, who won the Sapphire Stakes at Sheepshead yesterday, are the largest that have been recorded on the American turf in several years.

He bet $3,000 in the ring, $2,000 in New York and $2,000 between the pool rooms in Baltimore and Washington.

He got all the way from 30 to 8 to 1 for his money, and he is from $75,000 to $125,000 richer now than he was before the race.

His exact winnings cannot now be told until he shall have heard from his Southern bets.

He put one bookmaker out of business, and that one was Ike Thompson, one of the nerviest men in the ring. The latter accepted a big bet from the plunger, and after the race he turned his slate and did not do any more business.

SEVERAL WERE KILLED.

A Mob Tries to Release Prominent Exiles at Nicaragua.

NEW YORK, Sep. 4.—Advices from Corinto, Nicaragua, state that on Aug. 23d, the steamer Colima carried away to Costa Rica six prominent Nicaraguans sent into exile by President Sarcasa, who accused them of plotting against him. The exiles all lived at Grenada, and while they were being taken from that city a mob attempted to rescue them.

The soldiers fired, without injuring anybody, and the mob replied with a volley which killed several men, including the Governor of the district, the lieutenant commanding the troops, three soldiers and two bystanders.

Re-enforcements arrived, the mob was dispersed and the prisoners taken to Corinto. Among the exiles are ex-President Favala and several members of the Senate.

Reunion of Veterans.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Sep. 4.—The annual reunion of the veterans of the Susquehanna, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Wayne, Wyoming and Columbia counties of Pennsylvania, and of Broome county, New York, which took place yesterday was attended by a large number of veterans and others. There was a great parade in the afternoon and a banquet in the evening, tendered by the citizens of Jermyn and vicinity.

Another Test of the 12-Inch Mortars.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Sep. 4.—Officials of the United States Government gave another test of the 12-inch breech-loading steel mortars. With a charge of 51 pounds of powder a 1 1-2 inch solid plate set into the sand at an angle of 65 degrees, 165 feet from the mortar, was smashed into fragments. The test proved that a shell from the mortar could penetrate the deck armor of any war vessel afloat at a distance of six miles.

Want the Fair Closed Sunday.

CHICAGO, Sep. 4.—About 200 advocates of a closed World's Fair on Sunday were given a hearing by the National Commission yesterday. They represented nearly every State in the Union, and most of them were divines or laymen of national repute. Lengthy petitions were presented and strong arguments made against opening the fair on Sunday. No action will be taken in the matter by the Commission for some time.

Clinton County Republicans.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Sep. 4.—Hon. George Chahoon, who was nominated yesterday for member of Assembly, was the first Mayor of Richmond, Va., after the war. The delegates to the State convention, with the exception of Mr. Houghran, are non-committal on their choice for Governor. Mr. Houghran expressed a decided preference for Mr. Burleigh.

A Minister Instantly Killed.

SODUS, N. Y., Sep. 4.—A fatal accident happened near Wallington yesterday in Pollock's Grove. J. R. Newton, pastor of the Free Methodist Church at Alton, while assisting to take down the large tent in which they had been holding public services, was struck on the head by one of the centre poles and instantly killed.

Big Paper Company Incorporated.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 4.—A certificate of the incorporation of the Rochester Paper Company has just been filed. The capital stock is placed at $400,000. The incorporators are Charles S. Hastings, Evelyn S. Hastings, Kate P. Hastings and James C. Armstrong, of this city, and Arthur C. Hastings of Niagara Falls.

Tucker and Garvin's Dory Found.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sep. 4.—The dory in which W. O. Tucker and Wm. Garvin left on a coasting tour has been found near Portland. There is now scarcely a doubt but that the men were lost.

Failure of a Hardware Firm.

PORT BYRON, N. Y., Sep. 4.—The failure is announced of the hardware firm of Burritt & Fenn. Judements to the amount of $4,000 were entered by the sheriff.

TWO BIG WILL CASES

Closing Scenes in the Famous Davis Contest.

COL. INGERSOLL TALKING TO-DAY

Timothy Hopkins Preparing to Contest His Foster-Mother's Will.

The Document to be Offered for Probate Next Tuesday—Able Lawyers from San Francisco to Appear at Salem, Mass.—A Fierce Legal Battle for an Estate of Thirty Million Dollars Promised.

BUTTE, Mont., Sep. 4.—The closing scenes in the famous Davis will case are now being enacted.

All the testimony is in and arguments have begun. Judge Dixon, for the proponents, was the first to address the court. He was followed by Attorney Morris for the defendants. After Col. Sanders had finished his argument, Col. Ingerson, this afternoon, commenced his long address for the contestants.

THE GREAT WILL FIGHT.

Timothy Hopkins and His San Francisco Counsel Now in New York.

NEW YORK, Sep. 4.—Timothy Hopkins, the gardner's son who was adopted by the widow of Mark Hopkins, the California millionaire, and disinherited by her in favor of her second husband, Edward F. Searles, is at the Hotel Brunswick, together with two of his counsel from San Francisco.

Their mission to New York is in connection with the proposed contest of the will of Hopkins' foster-mother.

Mr. Hopkins was seen by a reporter, but declined to say anything about his suit to break the will. He, however, admitted that such action would be begun, and that the first move would be made when the will was offered for probate at Salem, Mass., next Tuesday.

Hopkins is 41 years old, tall, square-shouldered and handsome. He has a kindly, hazel eye and a deep, melodious voice.

Certainly, the son of Pat Nolan who emigrated to California from the obscure Maine village of Hallowell and became Mark Hopkins' gardner, has profited by the good fortune that befell him in the Golden State, for he is polished and apparently a man of refinement.

He was born March 2, 1850. He went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins in 1862, his father having died and his mother married again.

Mark Hopkins died, leaving $20,000,000 to his widow, and July 9, 1879, she formally adopted young Nolan in San Francisco. Then she met Edward F. Searles, a decorative artist of much taste, but poor, who was in search of health in California, and on Nov. 8, 1887, they were married at Trinity Chapel, this city, by Rev. Dr. Platt.

Tim Hopkins is said to have spoken very harshly of this step of his benefactress, and to have thus aroused the wrath of the woman who had given him $100,000 at one time and a magnificent mansion in California at another, and when she died at Methuen, Mass., on July 30 she left a will in which he was ignored.

There are are about 100 other relatives of Mark Hopkins and the late Mrs. Searles who will combine in support of the contest.

Among them are Nathaniel T. Hebbard, a cousin of Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, who says of the unbalanced mind of Mrs. Searles and as showing how completely she was dominated by E. T. Searles, that she always loved William Hebbard, another cousin who lived in Brooklyn, and that she once told him to select a nice apartment house that would bring him enough in rents to keep him and she would buy it for him. He did so, and when he went to her house to tell her she flew into a wild passion and denied ever having said any such thing to him, after which William was ordered away from the house by Searles.

William Hebbard, it is said, died of a broken heart in consequence.

One of Mr. Hopkins' lawyers said this morning, when seen at the hotel, that a strong effort would be made to break the will, and that the case would be fought to the end.

More of Russia's Cruelty.

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—The Jews now being driven from their homes in Moscow and compelled to sign a paper to the effect that they are quitting the town of their own free will. This is done in order that the Russian authorities may be armed with an answer to the charges of brutality which, it appears, have made an impression even in Russia. The prevalent destitution owing to the bad harvest has made the lot of the Russian Jews more wretched than before. The starving peasantry are seeking to wreak vengence on the Jews for their own misery.

Pennsylvania Democratic Nominations.

HARRISBURG, Sep. 4.—The Democratic State Convention unanimously nominated A. L. Tilden for State Treasurer and R. E. Wright for Auditor-General. The Bardsley scandals were made the chief issues of the campaign.

WILL COST OVER $6,000,000.

Work Soon to Be Commenced on Immense Stock Yards.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 4.—One of the gentlemen in this city who is interested in the proposed construction of immense stock yards at Tolleston, Ill., is authority for the statement that the work will likely be begun very soon. An expenditure of $6,000,000 or $8,000,000 is to be made in the construction, and in the building of branch lines of railways, construction of canals and other improvements.

A movement is under way, backed by unquestioned financial strength, to carry out a line of improvement that will not be second to that contemplated by the "Big Four," previous to their recent settlement with the Union Stock Yard Company. The matter has been gotten into the shape of a definite proposition, which is being submitted to the smaller packers.

It is impossible to say how this proposition will be acted on. It is now being seriously considered, however, and it may result in the abandonment of the Stickney plans. The most ample capital is represented in the syndicate, making the proposition.

The syndicate includes Philadelphia and Chicago men and one prominent millionaire from west of the Rocky Mountains.

Why He is Cool Towards England.

LONDON, Sep. 4. — Constantinople advices state that one cause of the Sultan's coolness toward England is the recent discovery by the Turkish authorities in Arabia that the rebels in Yemen are armed with rifles of the latest English make, imported by way of Aden. The insurrection is spreading throughout Arabia, and the Turks have shown themselves entirely unable to cope with the rebels, who are rapidly growing in numbers through the accession of other tribes.

She Changed Her Mind.

NEW YORK, Sep. 4.—The news that Miss Maude Leland, daughter of Francis L. Leland, president of the New York County National Bank, had broken her engagement to Capt. James F. S. Crane, has caused no little comment among society circles here. The wedding was to have occurred at Dayton, O., the 17th inst. Capt. Crane, who is a nephew of the late Gen. Robert C. Schenck, and the late Admiral J. F. Schenck is one of the society leaders at Dayton.

All on Board Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sep. 4.—Advices by steamer just arrived in port here are to the effect that the schooner Pannonia, from the Marshall Islands for San Francisco, was wrecked on the Hawaiian reefs, and all on board were drowned, including the crew of seven men, Captain George D. Lovedale of San Diego, Mrs. Lovedale and the captain's three children.

Off for a Day's Shooting.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 4.—The President has appointed Webster Flannagan Collector of Customs at El Paso, Tex., vice F. P. Clark resigned. Secretary Tracy has returned to Washington. The President left here at 6 o'clock this morning for a day's shooting. George W. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania road, was with him.

MINERS FARE BADLY

A Hostile Motion Adopted by the Tennessee House

THE SENATE TO VOTE TO-DAY.

Citizens of Nashville Assemble to Hear the Debate.

There Was a Strong Movement to Abolish the Convict Lease System—Fears that Rioting May be Resumed at Briceville. Workingmen Anxiously Awaiting the Senate's and Governor's Action.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 4.—The House adopted a resolution ordering an investigation of reports reflecting upon State Labor Commissioner Ford and his assistant, Representative Alleman, the preamble to the resolution reciting that, in a measure, they were responsible for the recent trouble at the Briceville mine; that they abetted the miners by public speeches, and that they have been agitators encouraging lawlessness.

There was an exciting time when the House took up Mr. Johnson's resolution, saying that in the opinion of the General Assembly under the Constitution the Legislature has no power to abrogate the contract existing between the State and lessees of convict labor.

Mr. Davis favored the abrogation of the present contract and the abolition of the lease system. The State should pay the lessees a million dollars damages if necessary, and raise the revenue assessment to meet it. This was the first attempt in the history of the United States and possibly in the world to beat down free labor with convict labor, and it should be stopped as soon as possible. The Johnson resolution was adopted by a vote of 51 to 37.

The calling of the roll was watched with great interest by the members of the House and citizens assembled to hear the debate. The resolution will be sent to the Senate this afternoon.

There is a geueral feeling here that if the Senate passes the House resolution that rioting will be renewed at Briceville, unless the Governor should step in with a veto.

The miners' representatives here display great anxiety over the result.

SAM IS A LEPER.

No Further Doubt About the Harrison, N. J., Chinaman's Case.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sep. 4.—A few weeks ago Sam Sing, a Chinese laundryman in Harrison, was reported to be a victim of leprosy, and after a thorough examination by the medical inspectors of the county board of health he was pronounced a leper and taken to the pest house at Snake Hill.

Sam's brother then took charge of his business and effects, and, contending that Sam was not afflicted with leprosy, demanded his release.

When this was refused suit for $20,000 damages was begun against the health board for keeping Sam locked up.

Sam's friends finally decided to have him examined by a Chinese doctor, a man said to be the greatest expert on leprosy in this country. The examination was made yesterday, and to-day the Chinese doctor sent in his report, which declares that Sam is a leper without doubt.

Sam's friends have accepted the decision as final, withdrawn their suit and sent a letter of apology to the health board.

The authorities will negotiate with the New York health board to have the leper taken to North Brother Island, where two other Chinese lepers are now quartered.

Fatal Shooting at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 4.—A shooting affair here has resulted in the probably fatal wounding of one man and the slight wounding of another. John Guenther, 19 years of age, has been giving bicycle lessons to Miss Anna Miller. While thus engaged a crowd gathered on the corner and passed comments on the young couple. Finally Mike Bohalizak and Frank Smith attacked Guenther and the latter drew his revolver and fired. One ball entered Bohalizak's thigh and two others entered Smith's body, one in the hip and the other in the abdomen. After the shooting Guenther mounted his wheel and fled, but was captured. Smith will likely die.

Fears of an Attempt at Lynching.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 4.—Hudson Green, the negro who entered the house of Bank Teller Phillips yesterday, assaulted Mrs. Phillips and with a knife severed the finger of Mr. Dowes, a merchant, who came to Mrs. Phillips' assistance, is closely guarded in the jail here, as it is feared an attempt will be made to lynch him. The cut on Mr. Dowes' throat is not serious, but clearly proves that the negro tried to kill him. Mrs. Phillips is completely prostrated by fright and it is feared the shock to her nerves will be permanent.

Lieut.-Gov. Jones' Reply.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 4.—Lieut.-Gov. Jones has sent the following to the Buffalo News, in answer to a query from that paper as to whether he had authorized anyone to announce that he would accept an independent nomination: "I have not, neither shall I authorize anyone to speak for me. Neither have I written any letter on the subject, either public or private."

Lived Nearly 105 Years.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Sep. 4.—Mrs. Mary Butcher, who died here yesterday, was 104 years and 10 months old. She was born near Port Monmouth, this State, had been married three times, but is survived by only one son, T. T. Rogers, now beyond the prime of life, who resides here. Old age was the cause of her death. The funeral will take place to-morrow

THE BACKER FAILURE.

A Startling Discrepancy Between the Assets and Liabilities.

NEW YORK, Sep. 4.—The affairs of Abraham Backer, the insolvent note broker of 285 Broadway, are in such a muddled condition that Lawyer Benjamin F. Einstein, his assignee, has had to ask for an extension of time in which to prepare the schedules of assets and liabilities.

The Court has granted him thirty days upon his filing a bond of $200,000. In his affidavit Mr. Einstein says that the actual value of the assets which have come into his possession is about $380,000, principally in the bonds and shares of Southern railroad corporations, though Backer's real estate, Glastenbury cotton mill property and bank accounts are also included in this estimate.

As it was announced at the time of Backer's failure that his liabilities were between three and four millions of dollars, and this was afterwards confirmed by the declarations of his assignee, the startling discrepancy between assets and liabilities which now appear to exist has given the anxious creditors of the bankrupt note-broker a prodigious shock.

Mr. Einstein, the assignee, says he can give no further particulars as to the situation until he has completed the schedules. The assets of Backer which have come into his hands and whose value he estimates at $380,000, have a nominal value of nearly $1,200,000.

He attributes the deficiency to the shrinkage in value of the railroad securities, and upon the business of the Glastonbury mill. Mr. Backer paid $200,000 for it, and to-day it is worth only $48,000 and is encumbered by a mortgage of $45,000.

Social Scientists Elect Officers.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept 4.—The following officers for the ensuing year were elected at the Social Scientists' meeting here last night: President, H. L. Wayland, Philadelphia; first vice-president, Andrew Dickson White, Ithaca, N. Y.; general secretary, F. B. Sanborn, Concord, Mass.; treasurer, Anson Phelps Stokes, New York; also a long list of vice-presidents, directors and department officers.

Tried to Kill His Mistress.

TRENTON, N. J., Sep. 4.—A colored desperado named David Crusen last night attempted the life of his mistress, Mary Butler, also colored. They had disagreed and Crusen wanted to get the woman to take a walk and settle the matter. On her refusal, he drew a razor and cut her severely about the throat and face. She may die. Crusen has escaped.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

J. Ross has been appointed a fourth-class postmaster at Day's Landing, N. Y.

Henry Stockbridge has been appointed Commissioner of Immigration at Baltimore, Md.

The Central Market Company of Chicago has failed. Assets $300,000. Liabilities about $150,000.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Read to-morrow's PRESS.

—Earnest effort tells! Come and see what Peck is doing.

—Thomas McGrath, intoxicated, was sent to jail for 10 days, this morning.

—Attention is called to the change in the advertisement of Harper, 75 Park avenue.

—Twill be a big day—that Grocers' excursion at Boynton Beach. If you don't go, you'll miss a great holiday chance.

—A number of Plainfielders attended a highly enjoyable sociable at the home of Mrs. Ransom, Dunellen, last evening.

—Elizabeth Clark will spend the next 10 days in the county jail for imbibing too freely of the bowl which inebriates.

—Regular services will be resumed at Holy Cross church, next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. The Rev. Hiram H. Cole, of Tacoma, will officiate.

—To-morrow evening will be resumed the regular rehearsals of Grace church choir. Applications for membership may be made at either 37 or 26 East Fifth street.

—The executive committee of the Fifteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, met at Somerville, yesterday, and decided to hold a reunion at Washington, Oct. 22.

—"Purity, or the Seventh Commandment", is the subject of the talk to be given to young men by S. A. Haines, the famous commercial traveller, at the Y. C. A. rooms, Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—Ellsworth Cuff, colored, will be tried at 5:30 this afternoon on the complaint of Lena Randolph, who swears that he called her vile names and "choked her by the throat near the Quaker church".

—The farmer from over the mountain who got so jolly over the sale of a big load of peaches, yesterday, that the police were called on to subdue him, was fined $5 by Judge Coddington, this morning.

—The festival held in the chapel at Washingtonville last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The committee were much pleased by the large number of friends who attended. Everything was sold out.

—The Westfield Leader needs a new base-ball scorer. Its present one has juggled with the facts concerning last Saturday's game so that Westfield is credited with two earned runs instead of none, and Plainfield with four instead of seven.

—Again appears a new and interesting advertisement from the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association, offering goods at unheard of low prices. The proprietors of this establishment are never found napping but are always abreast of the times, with something new every time.

—John Williams, the colored man charged with entering a house in Washton Valley, and stealing clothing, retracted his plea of not guilty, in the Somerset county courts, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of larceny but not guilty of breaking. This was accepted by prosecutor Steele and the man was sentenced by the court to two and a half years in State prison.

—The meetings at the Gospel tent in East Third street are growing in interest, and it is believed that the good work will soon result in conversions. All the Christians (without regard to denomination) who live in that locality, are urged to assist these meetings by their presence and sympathy. Meetings are held Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and Sunday afternoon and evening.

—The Bicycle Record seems to stand in constant peril. It is being broken every week or two, but it comes up smiling at every break. The best flyer at Springfield Wednesday succeeded in making a mile in 2.21 1-5, and this is only a couple of seconds slower than the best time ever made by New Jersey's champion trotter, the famous Billy Button. The time of Maud S. will yet be beaten by the wheelmen.

—The Exempt Fireman's Association of Plainfield have arranged with the Central railway for a round trip to the State Fireman's convention and tournament to be held at Atlantic City, from Sept. 28, to Oct. 2. A special rate of $3.15 for the round trip has been secured. Tickets will be good from Sept. 28 until Oct. 3, inclusive. Tickets will be on sale as early as Sept. 15, at Alex. Titsworth's, 28 North avenue.

John B. Gable Again.

Mrs. John Gable called at THE PRESS office to-day and said that she had walked into Bedford flats on Bedford avenue and had found her husband living with Mrs. Avery under the name of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Smith. She says she will begin a divorce suit Monday. W. K. McClure is her counsel.

JOE & DAISY'S CASE.

A Date Fixed by the Justice for An Examination of Their Complaint.

Having become tired of waiting the convenience of the plaintiff, Justice Nash has set down next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for the examination of the editors and publishers of THE PRESS for maliciously harming the snow-white character of Saloon Joe Miller. Here is the article upon which the complaint is based:

(From THE PRESS of August 18.)

A YOUNG GIRL RESCUED.

SHE WAS IN A PLAINFIELD SALOON WHEN HER BROTHER TOOK HER AWAY.

An angry scene occurred at the Elkwood saloon on West Second street, early yesterday morning.

Among the singers at the saloon, during the past week, has been a young woman named Daisy Delmore, from Brooklyn. Her brother, a New York business man, had been given to understand that she would return home last week Friday. As she did not appear, he grew alarmed, and at daylight yesterday came to this city and sought admission to the Elkwood. He was very excited, and his language evidenced such a dangerous condition of mind that at first he was denied entrance, but finally he went through the place, found his sister, and took her away. He was greatly distressed at the circumstances in which he found her, and quite an exciting scene occurred, during which he threatened to take legal proceedings against the proprietor. "Daisy is very young", —he said—"and she was a good girl. Neither she nor I ever dreamed, when her engagement to sing was made, that the place is the resort it is. If I take this matter into the courts, as I hope to be able to, interesting developments may be expected."

It will be readily seen that there is nothing libelous in the above even if THE PRESS was misinformed in any of the particulars. And as to the charge of maliciousness—THE PRESS suppressed the fact that Daisy is a married woman, and also kept Saloon Joe's name out of the article.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Nettie Allison, of Somerset street, has returned from Asbury Park.

Mrs. S. P. Taggart and Miss Marion A. Taggart, of Craig place, are in Boston.

Miss Louise Olison, of New York, is visiting Mrs. J. H. Bolsterle, of East Second street.

Carl Kaerth has gone to the Hallett House, Blue Point, L. I., for a season of rest and recreation.

Mrs. C. L. Holstein, of Grandview avenue, has returned after a pleasant visit to friends in New York.

Charles B. Brown will deliver an address, this evening, on "Sunday-school Work", before the teachers and Christian workers of Rahway.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Harris, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mr. Geo. F. Meschutt, of East Front street. Mrs. Harris is a sister of Mrs. Meschutt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Biglow, jr., and family, have returned to their residence in Rockview avenue, after an absence of nearly one month at West Hampton, Long Island.

George W. Breen, formerly of this city, but for the past twenty years a resident of Kansas, arrived in Plainfield to-day, and is visiting relatives here It is his first trip to Plainfield in fifteen years.

The Rev. C. L. Goodrich will be home next Sunday and the Congregational church, rich in its new dress, will be open again. The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered in the morning.

The death occurred at Carthage, Mo., Wednesday, of Mrs. Daniel Kepler, mother of Mrs. Charles Hyde, of Edgewood, this city. Mrs. Kepler died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Kiskaddon.

William Davis, at one time proprietor of the "Notch" Hotel, and now located at Phillipsburg, N. J., was in our city today, calling upon old friends. "Uncle Billy" looks well and is active, despite his age of 78 years.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, with their son, Cornelius junior, returned from Philadelphia, the home of Mrs. Schenck's mother, yesterday, and Mr. Schenck will resume preaching at the Trinity church next Sunday.

The Rev. Alex. Truatt, pastor of the (colored) Baptist church in Pittsburgh, Pa., is spending a few days in this city. Mr. Truatt was educatnd by the First Baptist church of Plainfield, and is now a preacher of marked abilities and success.

Joseph Newman, sr., age 74, died suddenly at his late residence, 37 Harmony place, North Plainfield, this morning. He complained of feeling ill yesterday, but a physician was summoned, and under his care he seemed to become entirely himself again. This morning, however, he called his household to his bedside, saying that he felt that he was dying. He expired in ten minutes. He was one of the kindliest of men, and will be sadly missed among his neighbors, by whom he was greatly loved. His sorrowing relations have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

At a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., held last evening, they were called upon with regret to accept the resignation of Edward St. John as a director and treasurer of the association. Resolutions expressing the esteem and confidence of the board, were ordered spread upon the minutes, and the sincere sentiment of all was that the association had lost an earnest worker whose place cannot be filled. Mr. St. John has also sent in his resignation as a member of Dr. Ketcham's church, severed his business connection in New York, and removed from North Plainfield.

THE LINE OF MARCH.

Plainfield People Should Decorate Along It in Compliment to the K's of P.

The following line of march will be observed at the Knights of Pythias parade to be held in this city, Wednesday, the 16 inst.:

Headquarters will be at the Crescent rink, on Peace street. Regimental line will be formed at 2 p. m., on Broadway, the right resting on Sixth street. Uniformed Knights will form on Broadway, their right resting on Seventh street.

The line of march will be Peace street to North avenue, North avenue to Park avenue, Park avenue to Front street, Front street to Central avenue, Central avenue to Seventh street, Seventh street to Park avenue, Park avenue to Crescent avenue, Crescent avenue to LaGrande avenue, LaGrande avenue to Washington street, Washington street to Front street, Front street to Somerset street, Somerset street to Linden avenue and the Crescent League's base-ball grounds.

Dress parade and review will take place immediately on arrival at the ball grounds, followed by the prize drills. At the conclusion of the prize drills the regiment will be marched to Crescent rink and partake of a collation.

WANTS MONEY FOR HIS WIFE.

Farmer Tappen Sues Pastor Comer in Consequence of the Elopement.

George W. Tappen, the Park avenue farmer whose wife ran away with the Rev. George W. Comer, several weeks ago, has retained Senator Robert Adrain, of New Brunswick, to bring suit against the Rev. Comer for $10,000 damages, for alienation of his wife's affections.

Tappen still lives at his deserted farmhouse, which has been stripped of all its furnishings by Mrs. Tappen's truckmen during her husband's absence. Tappen's counsel is awaiting the results of Comer's trial before the Methodist conference before proceeding with the suit. Elder Brice, of Elizabeth, will preside over the session of the conference at which the charges against Comer will be investigated, and the evidence taken will be used by Senator Adrain in his civil prosecution for damages.

A Grand Re-union.

A number of Plainfield citizens and veteran soldiers went to Somerville yesterday to attend the first grand re-union of the 30th Reg't, N. J. Vols., which was held in Veghte's Grove, along the Raritan river. About 250 of the surviving members of the regiment were in attendance, and during the afternoon it was estimated that over 4,000 people, men, women and children, were on the grounds.

Bartow's band rendered fine music and the mammoth clam-bake was a grand success. Many notables were present, prominent among them Senator W. J. Keys of Somerset and Hon. James S. Bergen, ex-speaker of the House. Col. A. S. Ten Eyck was everywhere, making things pleasant for those present, his genial countenance lighted up with smiles, and having a kind word of greeting to all.

In the morning the veterans met at the court-house and formed a permanent organization by electing Lieut.-Col. Arthur S. TenEyck President, Capt. James Bullmar Secretary, and Lieut. Oscar Conkling Treasurer.

The 30th Regiment was largely composed of Somerset men, five of the companies, namely, A, E, F, I and K, being organized in the county. Companies D and G were organized in Hunterdon county, and Companies B, C and H in Union county. The field officers of the regiment were: Alexander E. Donaldson, Colonel; John J. Cladet, Lieutenant-Colonel; Arthur S. TenEyck, Lieutenant-Colonel; Walter Camman, Major; John W. Mann, Adjutant, and John V. Voorhees, Quartermaster. The regiment was mustered in at Flemington. There were 39 officers and 972 non-commissioned officers and privates. They left the State on Sept. 30, 1862. There are about 450 survivors.

The West Ends Have Hopes.

(From The Somerville Gazette.)

The plot thickens. The contest between the West Ends, Crescents and Westfields for the championship of New Jersey is growing more interesting. The Crescents were expected to succumb to the Westfields last Saturday but they disappointed everybody by giving the latter a severe drubbing. Everything now leads to the conclusion that the contest will be between the West Ends and Crescents at the last. The Westfields come here on Saturday and an exciting game is looked for. The members of the Athletic Association feel confident that the West Ends can beat the Westfields on that occasion, but they may be disappointed.

The Ladies Will Begin the Tournament To-morrow Morning.

The handicap tennis tournament of the Hillside club, announced in THE PRESS to take place during to-morrow and Monday, promises to be a greater success than anticipated.

It has been found necessary owing to the number of entries received, to start the ladies' singles at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The gentlemen's singles will commence at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Contestants are requested to be on the grounds if possible previous to the time of starting the games.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

Star Athletics To-morrow and Monday.

The New York Athletic base-ball team of New York, and the Crescent Athletic team, of Staten Island, have both disbanded for the season, and therefore cannot play against the Plainfield Crescents as was announced. Instead the Star Athletics, of Newark, who have always given the Crescents such exciting struggles, will come here both Saturday and Monday, and the Crescents will try hard to win two games out of the three. Except for the Somerville series, these will be the most interesting games of the season. The game to-morrow will begin at 3:45.

A. W. Rand in a $50,000 Company.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday at the County Clerk's office, Elizabeth, by the Hickman Manufacturing Company, of Plainfield. The incorporators are Aaron W. Rand, of Plainfield; Charles H. Hickman, Byron A. Beal and Theodore K. Taylor, of Brooklyn; William H. Beal, of New York. The capital stock of the Company is $50,000.

Won't Dissolve Parliament.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 4.—There appears to be no foundation whatever for the report that the government contemplates dissolving Parliament. It is denied in official circles.

Death of an Old Paper Maker.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Sep. 4.—Samuel Emmons Crocker, of the firm of Crocker, Burbank & Co., paper manufacturers, is dead at his home here. Mr. Crocker has been a member of the City Council and Legislature and was largely interested in several manufacturing companies.

Strikers Will Remain Out.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 4.—A committee of striking weavers of the Barnaby Mill held a conference with Agent Ashley to-day, but no agreement was reached. The committee reported to the full meeting of the strikers, which voted to remain out.

Nominated for Assembly.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Sep. 4.—The Ontario County Republican convention nominated F. C. Chamberlain for Assembly. State, Senatorial and Judiciary delegates were elected. There was no disturbance.

Prohibitionist Nominations.

ALBANY, Sep. 4.—The following is the ticket nominated by the Prohibitionists: For Governor, J. W. Bruce, Canastota; Lieut.-Governor, G. W. Halleck, Orient; Secretary of State, Wm. E. Booth, Genesee; State Treasurer, F. Crawford, Mt. Vernon; Attorney-General, S. E. Grosser, Buffalo; Comptroller, W. E. Smith, Poughkeepsie; State Engineer, H. B. Forbes, Canton.

Will Challenge for a Joint Debate.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 4.—Col. Van Nort, the Republican candidate for Governor, says says he will challenge Mr. Frank Brown, his Democratic opponent, to joint debate on the stump and also to plow ten acres of ground, in order to show the voters of Maryland which has the best claim to be considered a farmer candidate.

Copyright Law to Be Discussed.

LONDON, Sep. 4.—The American Copyright Law will be discussed at the International Congress, to be held at Neufchatal, Switzerland, on the 26th of the month, and the copyright bill recently laid before the British Parliament will also be a subject of consideration.

CREEDMORE, L. I., Sep. 4.—At the annual rifle shoot now in progress here some of the best scores attained in recent years have been made. The match will close tomorrow.

No Possible Use.

Good Sister (at revival meeting, to young lady mourner)—Don't you want Brother Jimpson to pray for you?

Mourner—No; he has prayed for me time and time again, and I wouldn't heed his prayer. I won't have him; that's all.—N. Y. Herald.

Deserved Royalties.

Jasper—What do you think of that for a fish story?

Jumpupp—You should get it patented.

Jasper—Why?

Jumpupp—It is such a marvelous invention.—Harper's Bazar.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

A STRANGE PETITION.

Pathetic Request that Potters' Field be Changed in Name to Gethsemane.

In the crowd that assembled in the City Council chamber last evening—says the Elizabeth Journal—there was one odd character. He seemed to be a stranger to those about him; at least he was alone although surrounded by many, no one speaking to him and he paying no attention to those about him. He stood in the doorway and leaned against the post, apparently not interested in the general proceedings, but thoughtful and expectant. He was poorly clad and had a sad countenance. He was on the shady side of life, his face wrinkled with years and care and his hair thin and gray. He held his hat in his hand, and remained in this dejected attitude until late in the evening, when Dr. Mack presented a petition signed Samuel S. Waldron, and asking that the name of Potters' field be changed to "Garden of Gethsemane".

The strange petition was heard first in silence, and then there was a ripple of laughter, as the instance seemed to impress the hearers with its oddity.

The old man at the door was the petitioner. His wife was recently buried at the alms-house cemetery, and in presenting the petition to Dr. Mack he said he had an aversion to the name Potters' Field, perhaps associating it with the Biblical fact of the purchase of the field with blood money paid to Judas by the Jews.

Walloped Westfield's Wail.

[From The McLaughlinville Tip Sprout.]

Gloom of the deepest shade enshrouds the base-ball interests of Westfield! Gloom coupled with poverty—that's it. We lost when we thought we would win, and the cause of the disaster lies at the door of one Hammill—pitcher for Westfield.

The team put up a good fielding game—in fact it was a shade better than the fielding of the Crescents, and the batting was strong enough too, but the Plainfielders jumped on our Hammill and hit him right and left without difficulty. He did n't seem to use his head. Four times when he had two strikes on a Crescent batsman and but one or two balls called he deliberately put a dead straight one right over the base, and clean hits followed. This is not only recorded on the score but was noticed by West the umpire. If Saxey Diven had been put in in the fifth inning things might have been different, for the only two runs that were scored during the pitching of Diven were scored after a rank decision by West on first, and which should have been the third out. Tom O'Rourke said he never saw such curves as Saxey drove in, and most of the old ball players who were in a position to see fairly agreed with O'Rourke.

Manager Codding was scored quite severely for taking Hammill out, but he was right enough, and might have done well to have retired Hammill sooner. Why, McManus could have pitched as well as Hammill. The Westfield team is a great and good one, but it wants a pitcher, and has wanted one for a month back. The game abounded in fine work. Keefer came to the bat five times and hit it safely every time—his first essay being a two-bagger! McIndoe's home run was a corker, too.

The LEADER only voices the general sentiment when it says that it hopes the series with Plainfield is not ended here. The outcome is most unsatisfactory to lovers of the game here, and to the supporters of the Club; and we trust that at least one or two more games may be arranged between the two clubs, to afford the Westfields another chance of showing what sort of stuff they are made of. There's lots of fight in them yet!

The conduct of one or two persons from Plainfield on the grand stand is in no wise to be charged against the general crowd. Such rodyism is liable to break out everywhere, but it will probably be stopped a little more quickly next time.

How did it happen! Why in the old way:

The Crescents had hits, and we had none,
And that's the way the thing was done.
Or for runs:
The Crescents had nine, and we had three,
And so we were bound to be walloped.
See?

Our boys simply could n't hit Hammill—that was all there was to it. True, our own Hammill was pounded, and pounded enough to knock out too many runs, but a little pounding of the other Hammill at critical times would have changed the appearance of things wonderfully at one or two points of the game. Don't hit a man when he's down.

The following is the latest bit of pleasantry on the part of that delightful Base Ball authority, the Squabbleville Press:

A WESTFIELDER WANTS A SITUATION.

The following, sent the Press from Westfield, speaks for itself:

WANTED—A situation, by a young man, as superintendent of a morgue. Has had experience. Handled a base-ball team at Westfield. Address either of the Westfield papers.

Evidently the Westfield man knew where to advertise and the proper quarters to apply to. Plainfield is well-heeled that way. The man might take charge of the town, for that matter.

REVISED SAYINGS OF GREAT MEN.

Millions for victory but not one cent for defeat.
A little more ginger, Captain Bragg.
We have met the enemy and—we are gradually beginning to realize the fact.
I came, I saw, I—caflumixed.

Somerset's Ratables for 1891.

The Somerset county board of assessors met at the court house Tuesday, and organized by electing William Opple chairman. The entire day was taken up in footing up the books and making an abstract of ratables. There is no marked change in the footings. The search for personal property, which was urged upon the assessors by the State board, has not increased the valuation of this property. In Branchburg the valuation of personal property is considerably below that of last year. In Bridgewater it is lower, and also in Hillsborough, while Franklin remains the same. In Warren there is an increase of $100,000 in real estate. In North Plainfield there is an increase in real estate of $410,770 and in personal of $63,000. The debt of Bernards is reduced $44,000, and that of Branchburg is somewhat lowered. The entire county tax is $10,000 in excess of last year, and the State school tax a trifle more. The total valuation of property in the county is $16,000 less than last year, and there is a slight increase in the total debt. The personal property is slightly below last year. The figures for North Plainfield township are as follows: Acres, 7,347; real estate, $2,051,470; personal estate, $324,800; debt, $55,270; valuation taxable, $2,321,000; polls, 879; school tax, $7,334.36; county tax, $9,748.20.

The totals for the county are: Acres, 183,275; real estate, $14,208,701; personal estate, $6,280,572; debt, $3,839,273; valuation taxable, $16,650,000; polls, 6,789; school tax, $52,629.28; county tax, $70,000.

A Great Summer Weekly.

The recent mid-season numbers of The Richfield News, The Saratoga News, and The Thousand Islands News, published by F. G. Barry, of Herkimer, N. Y., one of the most genial, talented and popular newspaper men of the country, were delightful issues of that ever-charming series of summer-resort publications. Each was a collection of 52 pages, handsomely printed in colored inks, and daintily illustrated. Aside from the seasonable correspondence from the many resorts of the country, there were such notable literary productions as "Days at Feldkirk", by Clinton Scollard; "A Cosmopolitan", by Caroline Washburn Rockwood, author of "A Saratoga Romance", and sparkling "Watering Place Wisdom", by Fannie Edgar Thomas. Prominent among the illustrations were scenes at that most enticing resort, Coronado Beach, with which readers of THE PRESS have been made familiar by the Southern California letters signed "Plainfield Tourist". The mid-season number of any one publication of the series is worth preserving on the library table, and one will find Mr. Barry's summer News series just what he wants each year to keep him informed about the movements of his friends and society at the watering-places and the mountains. A glimpse at the Coronado pictures in the mid-season number will assist one greatly in appreciating the beauties of the place and in enjoying the letters from the resort published occasionally in these columns. By addressing Mr. Barry at his Utica, N. Y., office, and remitting 10 cents in stamps, a sample copy will be forwarded.

A Great Man is J. M. C.

[From The Westfield Leader.]

Constable J. M. C. Marsh's fame as an officer is getting to be established far and beyond local lines. Speaking of the failure of the Plainfield police to make any arrests during the late celebration by the colored people at that place, the World says:

"Constable John M. C. Marsh, of Westfield, who looks like a farmer and talks like a minister, came to town and picked up three crooks before he had left the railroad station. The regular police made no arrests."

Somerville Wants What Plainfield Can't Get.

Somerville has the street railway fever. State Senator William J. Keys has made a flattering offer regarding the subscription of stock, and the town newspapers are agitating the subject vigorously. Enough business men have signified their willingness to become subscribers to the stock to make the project a success. A public meeting will be announced soon, and the matter will then take definite shape.

Prohibitionists Nominate.

At the Middlesex county convention of Prohibitionists, held at New Brunswick yesterday, Dr. A. S. Titsworth of South Plainfield presided. C. E. Kelly of New Market was nominated for Senator, David Mount of South Amboy for Coroner, and Abraham D. Deforest of Perth Amboy, W. M. Browes of New Brunswick, and W. L. Crowell of Piscataway were nominated for Assemblymen.

An Accused Pastor Skips.

The Rev. Edward Rainsford, the clergyman who was arrested at Elizabeth on charges of immorality, has left for parts unknown. He forfeited his bail, on which he was held on two charges for the October term of court.

His family moved away from Elizabeth Wednesday night, and are supposed to have gone to New York.

An Important Stellar Happening.

Wolf's comet is now passing through the well-known cluster of stars, the Pleiades. The comet is not visible to the naked eye, but a good telescope of small size will reveal it. The event is watched with greatest interest, as, there being such an aggregation of stars in that region of the heavens, there will be many opportunities of watching the effect of the comet passing between the observer and a star. Stars usually remain quite visible through the matter of which comets are composed, proving invincibly the absence of solid matter. No dimunition of brightness even accompanies the occultations of stars by comets, and herein lies one of the most difficult problems that astronomers wrestle with. The density of cometary matter is known to be exceedingly small, though never yet definitely determined in a single instance. In this case it is confidently hoped that a refraction of a star's light, as it passes through the matter of the comet, will be observed. Delicate measurements of the position of such a star before and during occultation will determine the amount of this refraction, and from this the density of the comet may be calculated with a certain degree of accuracy.

Opening of the Union County Courts.

The Union county petit jurors for the October term will be drawn next Tuesday. Judge McCormick is in Europe, and will not be home in time for the session. It is opening day of court in Middlesex county and Judge Rice, who is presiding in Judge McCormick's place, will not be able to be in attendance until late in the morning. It was proposed to have the panel drawn Wednesday, but the advice of Judge VanSyckel was to have the proceedings Tuesday in accordance with the statutes, inasmuch as there are important cases on the criminal calendar for the term.

POET AND DIPLOMAT.

Remarkable Career of the Late James Russell Lowell.

James Russell Lowell, the great American poet and diplomat, who died August 12, was born February 22, 1819, at Elmwood, near Cambridge. He graduated from Harvard college in 1838. He studied law and in 1840 was admitted to the bar. He soon abandoned the law, however, for literature and soon won an enviable position among American writers. His first volume of poems, "A Year's Life," appeared in 1841. Other publications may be briefly summarized: "Poems," in which was included "A Legend of Brittany," considered by some critics to be the poet's finest effort; in 1845, "Conversations on Some of the Old Poet's," a masterly series of essays in dialogue form; in 1848 a series of "Poems," dealing to a great extent with the abolitionist question, which the author had so nearly at heart—also "The Vision of Sir Launfal," a poem founded on the "Quest of the Holy Grail," "A Fable for Critics," a poetical satire anonymously published, and, greatest of all, that book of world-wide renown, "The Biglow Papers," by which the author's fame was at once established.

In 1855 Mr. Lowell succeeded Longfellow as professor of modern languages and belleslettres in Harvard college. The degree of D. C. L. was conferred upon him in 1873 by the English university of Oxford, and that of LL. D. by Cambridge in 1874. The latter degree he received also from St. Andrew's, Edinburgh, Harvard and Bologna. From 1857 to 1863 he was editor of the Atlantic Monthly, and he had previously been connected with the Pioneer, a magazine of high character, the Anti-Slavery Standard Putnam's Monthly, and from 1864 to 1866 was editor of the North American Review. He has also been a lecturer before the Lowell institute in Boston on the British poets.

Towards the close of 1874 Mr. Lowell was offered the post of minister to Russia, which he declined, but in 1877 accepted that of minister to Spain, from which he was transferred in 1880 to that of minister to Great Britain. On the change of administration in 1885 he resigned this position and returned to the United States. The speeches which he delivered in England were republished in 1887 under the title of "Democracy and Other Addresses." During the slavery agitation prior to the civil war he was a prominent advocate for its abolition, and had been equally outspoken in more recent years in urging the reform of the civil service.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

The most beautiful woman in New York said that she "ascribed her good health and rosy cheeks to the occasional use of a tablespoonful of pure whiskey before meals. THE SEASON TICKET.

How a Londoner Fooled a Railway Gateman.

HERE was no question about it. I was a most disreputable-looking person—a kind of person whom you would not care to recognize on the street if you were well dressed. I had found it impossible to sleep that night and had got up at half-past three in the morning and tramped all over the west end of London until I was dead tired and ready to go to sleep on any doorstep. I had put on the oldest coat I had and wore on my head a villainous-looking slouch cap. Now, there is nothing which gives a man such a woe-begone, hangdog appearance as an old and bad slouch cap. I had no collar on and my boots were covered with the mud of various dirty thoroughfares. A man may be measured by his soul, as Dr. Watts held, but up to date the outside world insists on judging a person mainly by his appearance, and my appearance was decidedly against me that morning.

I came to a railway station on the line over which I hold a first-class season ticket, and saw that it had been just opened and that the gateman was yawning at having to get up so early in the morning, so I thought I would take the first train home and go to bed like a reputable citizen. I was evidently the first comer and as I passed the man he held out his hand and said:

"Ticket, please."

"I have a season," I answered sleepily, as that is my usual reply to such a question.

If you are well dressed the ticket puncher generally allows you to pass when you mention the open sesame, "season." Many swindlers have been fined forty shillings and costs for saying that cabalistic word when they had nothing to back their statement.

"I will look at your season ticket, if you please," said the man politely.

Sleepy as I was, this remark awoke me to the fact that I was a disreputable looking citizen.

"Why do you want to see my season ticket?" I said. "It is very unusual to ask for it."

"Perhaps," replied the man; "nevertheless, all tickets must be shown, season and others."

"I have never been asked for my season ticket, and I have traveled on this line for months."

"I will look at your season ticket, if you please."

"Yes, but tell me why. You surely don't think that I would try to cheat the railway company. Do I look like a dishonest man?"

The railway man's face was imperturbable, but there was an increasing firmness about the lips. He waived the question of my dishonesty by saying nothing about it.

"I would like to see your season ticket, if you please."

"I don't want to take it out on a damp, foggy morning like this," I said, in a tone of expostulation. "It is a nice, ornamental bit of white leather, beautifully stamped in gold, and it cost a good deal of money, and I would rather not expose it to the morning air, if you don't mind."

The man said nothing, but looked at me fixedly and seriously, the lines about his mouth getting firmer and firmer.

I hesitated for a moment and then said: "Oh, well, it doesn't really matter. I see the booking office is open; I'll buy a ticket."

"I beg your pardon," said the man, "you will not buy a ticket. If you have a season ticket you have a right to go on the platform; if you have not, I want your name and address."

"But the booking office is open," I protested.

"Certainly it is open, I want to see your season ticket, if you please."

"Well, but if the booking office is open and if it is for the purpose of selling tickets, why do you object to my buying a ticket? I'll buy a red third-class or a blue second-class or a white first-class, just as you say. I would rather buy a ticket than expose my season ticket to the morning air," and as I said this I edged cautiously away from the man as if ready to bolt out of the door.

"I WOULD LIKE TO SEE YOUR TICKET."

He promptly placed himself between me and the door and said sternly, dropping the polite "if you please:" "I want to see your season ticket."

"Oh, well," I said, jauntily, "it doesn't matter after all. I think I shall walk home. It is all right. I have walked a good many miles already, and another mile more or less doesn't matter. Good morning."

The railway man called a porter, who at once came to his assistance.

"Don't let this man leave the place," he said, "until he gives his name and address."

"I don't see what you want with my name and address," I said, as mildly as I could. "I have as many acquaintances already as I know what to do with. I don't want to extend my calling list. Let me out, if you please. I am going to walk."

Both men planted themselves in the doorway and refused to let me pass.

"Do you mean to say," I cried, "that you are going to attempt to stop me from going out?"

"Show your season ticket, or give your name and address."

"I will do neither one nor the other."

"Then you stay here till you do."

"I shall do nothing of the kind. You let me pass. How dare you attempt to stop me? Have you a warrant for my arrest? If you have not, then I advise you not to put your hands on me."

"John," said the ticket man to the porter, "go and get a policeman."

John bolted out of the door while the other stood in the doorway, and nothing was said for a few moments.

"Can't this matter be fixed up?" I said, persuasively.

"Isn't there any way out of it?"

"No, there isn't."

"Oh, well," I said, with a sigh, "I suppose I shall have to take the consequences. What are they, do you happen to know?"

"It will depend upon what the judge says," he answered, shortly.

"Well, now," I said, confidingly, "I am going to let you into a secret. I think I will manage to square you and John and the policeman—all three. Such things have been done, you know."

The man gave an indignant "humph."

"It has gone too far for that," he said, gruffly, and the next moment John appeared, panting, with a policeman.

"What's all this?" said the officer of the law.

"This man tried to pass the gate without a season ticket—"

"Oh, I never did anything of the sort."

"And refuses to give his name and address, and says we haven't any right to put our hands on him, so I thought I'd get somebody that had."

"HERE YOU ARE."

"Refused my name and address!" I cried, in astonishment.

"Yes, and tried to square me when John went for you; said he'd square all three of us."

The policeman, it seemed to me, rather brightened up at this suggestion.

"What did you try to do that for?" said the officer.

"I say I didn't try to do it at all."

"Didn't you say you had a season ticket?"

"Certainly I did, and I have it."

"Well, then, why don't you show it?"

"Why don't they ask for it?"

Here John broke in and said: "I heard him ask you for it a dozen times."

"Oh, John, John," I cried, "how can you say such a thing?"

"Well," said the policeman, "if I had a season ticket I would show it, if I were you."

"Now, that," I said to the officer, "is the first sensible remark I have heard this morning. I never thought of that way out of the trouble. What they seemed to be anxious for was my name and address. Don't you think that they ought to have asked me for my ticket if they wanted to see it. If you don't see what you want ask for it, you know."

The officer looked at the ticket man and the porter. The ticket man shrugged his shoulders and said he would like very much to see the season ticket. I didn't look like the sort of person who carried season tickets.

"Oh, all right," I said, pulling out my purse; "here you are. It doesn't look very much, but it costs a good deal."

The ticket man took it in his hand and examined it, turning it over and over with a bewildered air of a man who had been hit suddenly with a club.

"Now," I said to the officer, "don't you think that it's rather cheeky of these people to prevent me from going out, and to make the assertion to you, a respectable officer of the law, that I had no season ticket, when you see I have? It's good for three months longer yet. Here they drag you from your manifold duties to arrest a perfectly innocent man, and act in this crazy way to a patron of the line—a first-class patron, too."

The policeman shook his head dubiously and said he really couldn't understand it.

"Well," I answered, "you are witness to their charge that I had no season ticket. Now, I say this matter is not going to end here."

"Oh, well," said the policeman soothingly, "I wouldn't be too hard if I were you."

"The matter," I repeated, "cannot end here. I think that it's so early in the morning these men are not rightly awake yet, and I think they should be wakened up. I think that we had better have drinks all round, as the morning is very damp and disagreeable. What do you think?"

The policeman smiled, the ticket man looked relieved, and so we ended it that way.—Luke Sharp, in Detroit Free Press.

A SAVIOR OF HER SEX.

When pain becomes a constant companion; when there is no repose for the sufferer, by day or night; when life itself seems to be a calamity; and when all this is reversed by a woman, whose only ambition is to do good to others, has she not won the above title?

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound cures all those peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women, all organic diseases of the Uterus or Womb, and Ovarian Troubles, Bearing-down Sensations, Weak Back, Debility, Nervous Prostration, etc. Every Druggist sells it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00.

Send stamp for "Guide to Health and Etiquette," a beautiful illustrated book. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

A REVOLTING SCENE

Wife-Murderer Bulling Failed to Cheat the Hangman.

HE SHOT HIMSELF IN HIS CELL

A Clergyman Under Arrest for Furnishing the Revolver.

The Murderer Was Dragged to the Gallows While Bleeding from His Wounds—He Cursed the Sheriff While the Black Cap Was Being Adjusted—Swung Into Eternity With an Oath on His Lips.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sep. 5.—An old sheriff who was present at the execution of Louis Bulling, the wife murderer, said to-day in conversation with a press representative that he had witnessed and assisted at a number of hangings but the tragedy of yesterday was the most revolting he had ever seen.

Sheriff Barry had set the hour for the execution at 10 o'clock. When he went to the cell at 6 o'clock to prepare the doomed man for the execution, Bulling pleaded so piteously for a stay of a few hours that the sheriff gave him until 2 o'clock. When 2 o'clock came Bulling renewed his supplication, and falling on his knees pleaded for one hour more. His request was again granted, the guard removed from the cell door and he was again left with his spiritual adviser.

The silence of the jail was broken only by the voice of the priest, when suddenly two shots rang out. The sheriff ran to the cell and found Bulling prostrate upon the floor, weltering in his own blood, which flowed from a wound in his breast. He had shot himself twice.

A hasty examination of Bulling's body showed that one of the bullets had entered the left breast and, glancing from a rib had passed around his body and come out of his back. The other bullet had only inflicted a slight flesh wound in his left side. He had not lost consciousness, and when the sheriff ordered four deputies to carry him to the scaffold, he cursed and swore at them in a horrible manner.

The deputies dragged the struggling man to the yard, and lifted him upon the gallows. He refused to stand, and they placed him upon a chair. As he sat there he presented a revolting spectacle. His hands and face were covered with blood, which also stained his shirt, and blood was streaming through his shoes, that had run from the wounds in his breast. He cursed and swore at the deputies, cried and screamed for mercy, and shrieked.

The sheriff gave him a large glass of brandy, and he swallowed it at one gulp. Finally he was told to stand up. He refused, and four deputies held him up while the rope was being adjusted. The black cap was placed over his head, and, yelling, screaming and blaspheming, he shot through the opening. The Rev. Lavak, who is believed to have supplied the revolver, has been placed under arrest. No one else it is thought could have given him the weapon.

SEARCHING FOR HIS WIFE.

Why Doesn't Mrs. Otto Unckerstein Come Home to Her Husband?

NEW YORK Sep. 5.—The wife of Otto Unckerstein, the proprietor of the Hotel Hamilton, disappeared in June last, and he has spent about $200 in advertising for her and begging her to return, and he now offers a reward for any information concerning her. He says that she was well connected in Europe, and he supposed she had gone there after she left him.

They had a disagreement in regard to a boy and girl they had in their employ. He discharged the boy and then asked his wife to discharge the girl. The girl, however, told Mrs. Unckerstein that her husband had been making love to her, and when she learned this she left the house. Yesterday he received a letter from her without any date and postmarked Brooklyn, in which she said he would no doubt be surprised to receive a few lines from her, especially after being shamed as he had shamed her, but she should write to him occasionally. She said there was no use in alluding to anything which had occurred at the Hamilton House.

"Suffice it to say that I was told all about your conduct." Since she had left she had taken a position for miserable pay, and she had to work, as she did not have sufficient money to support herself, and she had never asked for or received help from anyone else. She desired him to write to her father, and said that the next letter he received would be through him, concluding the letter with, "God bless and forgive you." She signs herself your unfortunate wife, Catherine. Unckerstein has applied to the police for assistance in finding his wife.

All War Talk in Germany.

BERLIN, Sep. 5.—Even the subject of great grain scarcity is less now in the public mind than the possibility or probability of war. Everybody is talking about the chances of a rupture, and while many assume to believe that the peace of Europe will be preserved for some time longer, yet the prevalent feeling is one of doubt and apprehension.

Triumph for the Canadian-Pacific.

LONDON, Sept 5.—The transport of mails from Yokohama across the American continent will in all probability be delivered in London within 21 days. This is unquestionably a great triumph for the Canadian-Pacific Railroad and its subsidized line of steamers.

Made Its First Heat of Steel.

NORRISTOWN, PA., Sep. 5.—The Norristown Steel Company made its first heat of steel yesterday. The operation was successful. The open-hearth process is used in the two furnaces thus far erected. The company gives employment to about a hundred men.

Free from all impurity.

Royal Baking Powder

Is the only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be free from all impurities and absolutely pure. This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove all the tartrate of lime. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal."

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, says of the purity and wholesomeness of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance.

(Late U. S. Gov't Chemist) "E. G. LOVE, PH. D."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power.

STEEL RAILROAD TIES.

Now Being Given a Practical Test By an Eastern Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 5.—The Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company is making a novel experiment in testing the thorough practicability of having steel railroad ties instead of wooden ones. A section of track constructed of steel rails and ties on a stone ballast has been laid on Ninth street, in the neighborhood Berks street, and another section has been introduced but a little further out on the line. If these experiments prove satisfactory, it will, in all probability, be the beginning of a general use of steel ties on all the lines of the company.

There have been a considerable portion of steel-tie track laid on the New York or Bound Brook divison for several months, and no better opportunity could be offered to compare and test it with the old style, as the road is unquestionably a fine one. The tie is steel and about the usual length. It is flat and hollowed out like an inverted trough, which permits the stone ballast to work up solidly under it, and it is claimed that the longer and harder the wear the more solid and stable the tie and roadbed become.

These ties were made in this city on the principle of those used on railroads throughout Great Britain and parts of Europe. Although the primary cost is about three times as much as wooden ones it is claimed that they last 40 years, whereas those now in use endure not longer than seven years. In addition to the additional stability of the metal ties they secure a much smoother ride for travelers. Their appearance is also in their favor.

Experiments have previously been made by other companies in the United States, but the cost has hitherto operated against their general adoption. A party of railroad men from New York witnessed the laying and first tests of the new bed. It is stated that they were much impressed with the experiment.

FORCED TO CUT WAGES.

Print Cloth Makers Deny that They Desire to Break Existing Contracts.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 5.—The manufacturers deny that there is any desire on their part to break existing contracts by determining to reduce wages.

A majority of the contracts now held by print cloth mills will have run out by October and there was no prospect of renewing them at this time at fair prices. Manufacturers of odd goods would not consent to a curtailment of production, because they had contracts extending beyond the time held by those of print goods corporations, and the only alternative left was to produce goods at a lower figure than they now cost.

The Swiss Perpetual Alliance.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—The Swiss of this city began this morning the grand celebration of the 600th anniversary of the Swiss Perpetual Alliance. The celebration will continue throughout Sunday and Monday, at Washington Park. Today's celebration opened with a historical parade. This afternoon the park is the scene of a grand volks festival. On Sunday there will be a big sacred concert, games for the children, and in the evening a fireworks illuminative concert. On Monday the great shooting contest will occur and the prizes distributed.

Secretary Proctor at Marblehead, Mass.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sept. 5.—Secretary Proctor arrived here this morning from Washington. He will remain here until Monday, when being joined by Quartermaster-General Batchelder and Lieutenant Howard he will start on a tour of inspection of military posts in the West.

THE WAR PORTFOLIO

Secretary Proctor Sends in His Resignation.

TO TAKE EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30.

It is Reported that Stephen B. Elkins Will be His Successor.

Germany's Strange Proceedings Regarding the Pork Embargo—The New Minister to Hayti—Imported Spirits to be Closely Watched—$1,000,000 Sent South to Move Cotton.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—It is reported here on what is considered good authority that Secretary of War Proctor has sent his resignation to President Harrison, to take effect on September 30.

The same authority says that Stephen B. Elkins of New York and West Virginia will assume thr duties of the War Office on October 1 by the appointment of the President.

STRANGE PROCEEDING.

Germany Ignores the State Department in the Pork Embargo Matter.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—Secretary Rusk in a letter to the Hon. W. A. Hatch of Missouri, informing him of the removal of the prohibition of American pork by Germany, says the thanks of the farmers of this country are due to Mr. Hatch for his efforts in their behalf, and especially because of his advocacy before the House of Representatives of the Meat Inspection bill, without which the removal of the prohibition could not have been obtained.

The State Department has not been informed of the withdrawal of Germany's edict. The Department officials consider it somewhat strange that the German government, through its Embassy in Washington, should have informed the Agricultural Department of the removal and not have sent the news to the State Department.

England Playing a Double Game.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A Chilian high in the confidence of the insurgent leaders is authority for the statement that England has been playing a double game in the Chilian insurrection. While professing sympathy for the insurgents her Minister at Santiago went far in certain directions to keep on good terms with Balmaceda, and that this was really the motive for the Espeigle affair. The English really did not have much confidence in the success of the rebellion, and they wished to be on good terms with both sides in the interest of English commerce.

House Letter Boxes.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—The commission which was recently in session at the Post-office Department examining models of house letter boxes has made its report, recommending the adoption of two different kinds of boxes. Postmaster-General Wanamaker has been considering the report and models for some time and will in a few days decide which is acceptable to the Government.

To More Closely Watch Imported Spirits.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—The Treasury Department has instructed the Collector at New York to carefully scrutinize the guage and proof of contents and the outward appearance of packages of spirits, with a view to ascertaining whether or not the spirits are returned in exactly the same condition as when exported, as there are just grounds for suspecting some manipulation of the spirits while abroad.

Almy Not Likely to Be Tried This Term.

LACONIA, N. H., Sep. 5.—The present prospect is that Almy, the murderer of Christie Warden, will not be tried at the September term of court at Woodsville, on account of his physical condition.

BREWERS AND THE K. OF L.

Preparations for a Boycott on Two St. Louis Brewing Firms.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 5.—The official mail of the Knights of Labor has been tremendously increased as a result of the following circular sent to every section of the country over the signature of John W. Hayes, the General Secretary-Treasurer:

"The district assemblies in cities and towns, where such exist, and local assemblies where no districts are organized, are requested to make lists of saloon keepers and others who sell beer manufactured by the J. Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association of St. Louis, and the W. J. Lemp Brewing Company of the same place also of dealers who display the advertisements of these firms, and forward these lists to this office."

It is understood that this order is preparatory to an official boycott on the firms in question.

An emphatic denial is given at the headquarters of the Knights to the statement that the recent visit of A. W. Wright to the South was with a view of smoothing over trouble of the order created in that region by the color line. Secretary Hayes says: "There is no color line in the Knights of Labor."

BLIND AND DESTITUTE.

He Sues the Man who Caused Him to Lose His Wife and a Home.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—John W. Slater, an inmate of the Home for the Destitute Blind in this city, has brought an action in the Supremg Court to recover from Thomas Finnican, a prominent politician of Queens County, the sum of $35,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections.

It appears that the Slaters conducted a hotel at Woodsbury, L. I., for Finnican, and in March, 1888, the owner turned out the husband and retained the wife. Slater then got a divorce.

A ten-year-old son of Slater's makes affidavit to the improper actions of his mother. Finnican denies all the charges.

Bookmakers Were Caught Heavily.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—"Pittsburg Phil's" phenomenal winnings on his colt, King Cadmus, is still the one topic of conversation among turf goers. It was not generally known until to-day that so many of the bookmakers in the ring were caught so heavily. The Thompson lost $12,000; G. Walbaum $10,000; Fred Ashner $8,000; J. E. McDonald $6,500; R. Phillips, $5,000; H. Stedtaker, $3,000; R. G. Irving, $1,800; Archie Collins, $1,000; Appleby & Co., $4,000; Orlando Jones, $5,000; George Dalton, $5,000; Bennett & Co., $8,000; Bullard & Co., $6,000, and George Lovell $8,000. In fact not a bookmaker at the track escaped. They all lost from $500 to $1,500.

The Gibbons-McAuliffe Glove Contest.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—Interest in the great glove contest between McAuliffe and Gibbons next week increases as the night set for it approaches, and the abilities of the men are being canvassed. In Brooklyn and this city the sporting men who pride themselves on their judgment will have no one but McAuliffe, while all Jersey has a Gibbons fever. As a well-known Paterson man said: "We are placing mortgages on our houses, and will bet the clothes on our backs that Austin wins." It will be a great contest, and a mint of money will change hands.

Labor Men Want Lower Interest.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—The labor organizations, it is said, are to present a petition to the Democratic State Convention at Saratoga asking it to put a plank in its platform favoring a reduction of the legal rate of interest in New York State from 6 to 5 per cent. An effort was made in the Legislature last winter to pass a law reducing the rate, but it failed. A delegation of bankers went to Albany to oppose it. At its head was J. Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National Bank. He is a Democrat, and will again oppose the scheme.

At One Time a Star in Copenhagen.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—Paul Hosskind, at one time a star actor at the Copenhagen Casino, was among the Danish immigrants landed by the Thingvalla, just in port here. He is going West to seek engagements in the Scandinavian music halls. He is said to have been the intimate friend of Helga Von Bluhmi, the divorced wife of a Russian nobleman. The lady was the leader of fast society in Copenhagen, and made money by establishing music halls throughout Denmark.

Removals at Sing Sing Prison.

SING SING, N. Y., Sep. 5.—Warden W. B. Brown of Sing Sing prison, has discharged four more officials. They are Guard John Bradt and keepers S. A. Smith, Garrett Tenhagen and Charles F. Stephen. Two are war veterans, and the local Grand Army post will intercede in their behalf. Clerk John Ashe of the prison has resigned. Assistant Clerk Dillon is filling the position until a successor is appointed.

Reward Offered for the Train Robbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 5.—The Southern Pacific Company, in conjunction with Wells, Fargo & Co., have offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of each of the three men concerned in the attempt to rob a train last Thursday night near Modesto, Col. Detective Harris' condition has changed for the worse and his recovery is now considered extremely doubtful.

Brig.-Gen. Wild's Death.

BOSTON, Sep. 5.—Brig.-Gen. Edward Augustus Wild, late of Brookline, Mass., whose death was reported from Medellin, Colombia, South America, last evening, was a graduate of Jarvard and Harvard Law School, and of Jefferson Medical College, Pennsylvenia. He was a medical officer in the Turkish army in the Crimean, war and was presented a medal at its close by the Turkish government. He served through the rebellion, rising from the rank of captain to brigadier-general. He has been largely interested in mining of late. He was 66 years old.

IS Your Baking Powder Pure?

It may masquerade as "absolutely pure;" perhaps you think it is; but you may know whether it is adulterated with ammonia or not if you

Test it. Mix one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder with one spoonful of water in a tin cup; boil thoroughly for a few moments, stir to prevent burning, and if ammonia is present you can smell it in the rising steam. As baking powder, when thrown into water, will effervesce, do not mistake bubbling for boiling.

There is no ammonia, no alum, no adulteration whatever in Cleveland's baking powder, and in the laboratory and in the kitchen

Cleveland's Baking Powder Stands all Tests.

REFUGEES ON BOARD

They Leave Valparaiso on an American War Ship.

WILL LIKELY LAND AT CALLAO

Volunteers of Chili's Government Army Returning to Their Homes.

Rumored that Coquimbo Has Been Sacked By a Mob—Minister Egan Says He was Not a Partisan of Balmaceda—Used His Influence Solely to Protect Life and Property.

VALPARAISO, Chili, via Galveston, Sep. 5.—A report has reached here that the city of Coquimbo had been sacked by a mob. The report is generally discredited, as it is thought that the authorities have ample force at their command to repress any disposition on the part of disorderly persons to create a disturbance.

The question of the refugees on board the German and American ships has been settled definitely.

The United States cruiser Baltimore sailed to-day, presumably for Callao, having on board Senors Mollendo, Banadas, Espinoza, Godoy, Peres Montt and 17 other less prominent Balmacedists.

The Congressional army was composed very largely of volunteers. So secure do the members of the Junta feel in their position at present that they have given orders that any of the volunteers who wish to do so may return to their homes, and hence the late victorious army is rapidly disintegrating.

In a few days it will hardly be possible to see any signs of the late war.

MINISTER EGAN TALKS.

He Denies the Charges Which Have Been Made Against Him.

SANTIAGO, Chili, Sep. 5.—United States Minister Patrick Egan, in an interview, blames the English for the reports sent out about him.

"Ever since my arrival here," said Mr. Egan, with a trace of bitterness in his voice, "the English, who are naturally antagonistic to me, have looked with a jealous eye on my success in obtaining recognition for American citizens and payment of their claims.

"So far as my sympathies go they are extended to all. For four months my house was the asylum of prominent insurgents. I have saved from death and imprisonment many men."

Thinks the English Against Him.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—Eugene de Mitkiewitz, the much abused recipient of important commercial concessions from the Chinese Government, is in this city. It is asserted here that the recent attacks upon him have been inspired by agents of the English Government through fear that American capital may eventually get into China to the detriment of British interests. It is claimed that the rejection of Minister Blair by the Chinese Government and the renewal of old accusations against Mitkiewitz emanate from the same source.

Union Pacific Scheme Goes Through.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—The famous plan for the relief of the Union Pacific has gone through successfully. At a meeting held in this city the plan was agreed to by all concerned, namely the executive committee, the trustees and the creditors. By it the floating debt of the company, amounting to over $20,000,000, is provided for, and securities controlled by the company put up as collateral.

Chamberlain Heywood a Harvard Man.

BOSTON, Sep. 5.—J. C. Haywood, who has been named by the Pope as one of his private chamberlains, is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1855. Most of his life has been spent abroad. In 1866 he published a book entitled "Salome, the Daughter of Herodites," and he is the author of "Lady Morton" and numerous other poems of merit. The office to which he has been appointed is not actually a religious one.

White is Still a Candidate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Ex-Senator Platt said to-day that he would go to Rochester to-morrow night, although the Republican State Convention there does not begin until Wednesday. He refused to discuss the question as to who would be nominated for Governor, but he did authorize a positive denial of the story published that Andrew D. White was entirely out of the race.

General Komeroff's Appointment.

VIENNA, Sep. 5.—The appointment of General Komeroff as Governor of Warsaw has been coldly received by the Russian Poles, as the General has a high reputation for severity in putting down disaffection. While Governor-General of the Transcaspian he had an execution nearly every day of nomad natives who had violated some trival regulation of which they were ignorant. Komeroff is acknowledged to be an able commander, and his appointment to Warsaw may mean that he is wanted where his military services will be needed.

Italians Kill an Inspector.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 5.—During a row with four Italians employed at the State Hospital sewer, John Allen received stiletto stabs in the breast and abdomen which will probably prove fatal. Allen or his interpreter cut one of the Italians legs almost off. The Italians are on strike for bi-monthly wages and this, it is said, led to the quarrel.

Lancaster County Tobacco Crop.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sep. 5.—The tobacco crop of Lancaster county which is nearly all harvested, is the largest ever grown, the average reaching 18,500 acres and the yield fully 30,000 cases. The damage by hail and rust is about 5 per cent. of the whole crop, the quality of the remainder being very fine.

To Discuss the Reciprocity Treaty.

MADRID, Sep. 5.—Canovas del Castillo, Prime Minister of Spain, who has returned from France, has called a ministerial council to discuss the Catalonian agitation against the reciprocity treaty with America.

A Monster Locomotive.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sep. 5.—The Pennsylvania road has just commenced the building of a monster locomotive at its shops here. It will be about three times as long as the average locomotive, will have two sets of driving wheels, one set being in front and one set of pony wheels being under the pilot. The wheels will be under trucks, so that the locomotive can go around curves. Two firemen will be necessary to supply the coal. The locomotive, it is alleged, will be powerful enough to haul a train of cars a mile in length.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Doane & VanArsdale will not open their store on Monday next.

—The burned-out Bound Brook Chronicle is printed this week at Somerville.

—Monday next is Labor Day. There will be no paper issued from this office.

—A number of Dunellenites will go to Boynton Beach with the grocers, Monday.

—Hear S. A. Haines, the famous commercial traveler, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—Wednesday and Friday, services will be held at 7:30 p. m., at the First Church of Christ, Vanderbeek's hall.

—The handsome medals for the bicycle road race are on exhibition at Martin's bicycle store on Park avenue.

—Hallock & Davis are in the market with their derby hats. If you want a good hat, look at their Stetson. It is a dandy.

—The Congregational church will be reopened to-morrow after having been closed during the month of August for repairs.

—If this afternoon be rainy, the tournament of the Hillside Tennis club will be postponed, to begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

—Hallock & Davis are showing a fine line of children's hats and caps for fall. They will keep pace in style, quality and price with any.

—The store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association will be closed Monday, but wagon deliveries will be made to-night till 9 o'clock.

—The ordinance dividing North Plainfield borough into two election districts was adopted on its third reading by the Borough Council last night.

—This is to remind you that you won't get the fun and frolic out of Labor Day that you ought unless you go on the grocers' excursion to Boynton Beach.

—A picnic will be held at the Gesang and Turn Verein Hall Monday, beginning at 3 o'clock.—The committee in charge promise a good time to all who attend.

—Don't miss "All the Comforts of Home", at Music Hall, Tuesday evening. It is the most enjoyable comedy of the year, and one of New York's greatest successes.

—A heavy signboard was blown down from the front of M. M. Dunham's insurance office on Front street this morning, and narrowly missed striking a woman on the head.

—The Borough Council held their regular September meeting last night, but transacted only routine business, and adjourned to Sept. 8, to take up the question of water-works and sewerage.

—Theodore Dunlop, for intoxication and disorderly conduct, John Cahill, for interfering with an officer in making an arrest, and Ludlow Day, for intoxication and disorderly conduct, were each fined $5 by judge Codington this morning.

—Theodore Gray, mason and contractor, has completed the stone masonry, brick work, and asphalt pavement, at the new Park avenue and Broadway bridges over Cedar brook. The job is very creditably done. The bridges are once more open for traffic.

—The large force of carpenters, painters and decorators at work on the interior of Music Hall, makes it possible to reach a point in the reconstruction that will permit the playing of "All the Comforts of Home", Tuesday evening. The Hall will then be closed again for two or three weeks probably.

—The thirty-second annual convention of the Somerset county Sunday-school association, numbering eighty-eight Sunday-schools, will be held in Warren Mission chapel, Tuesday next. The exercises will be as follows: Morning session, 10:30; afternoon, 2 o'clock; evening, 7:45. The committee in charge respectfully request all those who have kindly promised supplies for the dinner and supper to have the same delivered at the chapel Tuesday morning before 9 o'clock.

The Holy Cross Church Choir.

The choir at the Church of the Holy Cross will be in attendance to-morrow for the first time since July. The choir camp at Merwin's Point was a great success, and all are anxious to go again next year. A course of entertainments will be given during the coming winter, the first being given as soon as the addition to the Sunday-school building is completed. Following is the order of music for to-morrow:

W. H. MINER,
Choirmaster and Organist.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

—Police captain Grant is better to-day.

—Miss Laura Ayers, of Spooner avenue, has returned to her home from a two weeks' stay in the country.

—Walter N. Martin, of Craig place, North Plainfield, left to-day for Port Jervis, N. Y., for a few days' recreation.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kleinecke, of 14 Crescent avenue, have returned home after passing the summer at Bath, L. I.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Day, of 114 Madison avenue, are home from a pleasant six weeks' stay at North Edgecomb, Maine.

—T. Wilfred Powell, of Grandview avenue, was elected borough councilman last night to fill the unexpired term of Newton B. Smalley, resigned.

—Miss Mattie Humble, of Plainfield, was so well pleased with her visit among relatives at Springdale that she has returned for another week's outing.

—Joseph C. Martin and Lewis C. Beekman have returned from a trip through New York State, and report having had a very enjoyable time.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith have returned from Hartwitch, Otsego county, N. Y. All their children returned with them except Fred, who is camping out at Otsego Lake.

—Miss Louise Seibel and Miss Lizzie Vosselman, of Duer street, are spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seibel, Trenton, who are brother and sister respectively.

—H. Otis Newman has been elected treasurer of the Young Men's Christian Association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward St. John. Mr. Newman filled the office for sixteen years prior to Mr. St. John's election.

—The handsomest jewel ever made is that just presented to the most popular mason in the State, William H. Sebring, by the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of New Jersey. It is of massive gold, magnificently carved, and decorates Brother Sebring as a Past High Priest.

A New Daily for Plainfield.

The publication of a new daily newspaper is to be begun in this city Oct. 1. It will be issued under the ownership and editorship of Frank Willetts Runyon, who has so successfully conducted the Central New Jersey Times during the past year. The politics of the paper will be loyally Republican, and there is every indication that the leaders of the party will give it their unqualified endorsement and undivided support. There has long been room for a decent Republican daily in Plainfield, and the new paper will find no difficulty in building up a liberal patronage at the expense of the sheet whose few remaining adherents have long wanted an opportunity to repudiate it. The title of the new daily will be The Plainfield Courier, and if it be true to its name it will "convey intelligence rapidly and widely". The Courier will be handsomely printed, in large new type, and it will doubtless go into the coming political campaign with unflinching purpose and characteristic energy. THE PRESS will welcome the advent of a respectable journal of Republican faith, and hopes to see the venture attended by the success that honest journalism always attains.

Admits that the Crescents Will Win.

[From The Westfield Standard.]

The record of the base-ball contest for the championship of New Jersey is now as follows:

	Won	Lost	Average
Plainfield	4	2	.667
Somerville	3	4	.430
Westfield	2	3	.400

If Westfield should win from Somerville Sept. 5 the record will be:

	Won	Lost	Average
Plainfield	4	2	.667
Westfield	3	3	.500
Somerville	3	5	.375

If Somerville should win her next game from Plainfield the record will be:

	Won	Lost	Average
Plainfield	4	3	.572
Westfield	3	3	.500
Somerville	4	5	.444

And this is the way the race will probably go.

Hebrew Frucht in the Courts Again.

S. Frucht, the Hebrew merchant, had J. Yose, the truckman, arrested, yesterday, on the charge of larceny. Frucht said that Yose took $2 worth of lemons, potatoes, etc., out of his store. Yose said that Frucht had consented to his taking them in payment of an old bill. Frucht tried hard to get Yose convicted, even seeking to prove that the goods in his store were his wife's, but it was proved that they came in Frucht's own name, and that Frucht did owe Yose money. Justice Nodyne dismissed the case.

Who Got the Money?

Some weeks ago Warren Engine was used to pump water into a tank in a Plainfield house, and $25 was paid for the job. The Borough Council ordered the money to be paid into the firemen's relief fund. Last night Councilman Sebring reported that he was given to understand that the money had been appropriated by a certain few of the firemen and divided among them. An investigation was ordered. The fire committee will make it.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

DAVID CRIST, Wawarsing, N. Y.

Why It Rained in Westfield.

(From The Ripley Hill Standard.)

It rained in Westfield last Sunday. It has rained here before, yet we have particular reason to call attention to this particular rain.

In Texas and other western States experiments have recently been made with more or less success to create a rain fall. Balloons charged with gases have been sent cloud searching, dynamite shells have been exploded, powder burned, etc., all with a view of raising rain storms. Before too much valuable time and money is expended on this scientific problem we advance the idea to these seekers after artificial rain that there is an easier and cheaper way to bring about the result.

Take two rival ball teams, like the W. A. C. and the Crescents; travel them over the sections of this country needing rain; carry a few cranks charged with Plainfield gas along with the teams; let them loose and create enthusiasm enough to get a fair sized crowd to witness the contest. There will be despondency and gloom enough created. The rain must come.

In carriages, by train, on wheels and on foot, the ball loving contingent of Plainfield journeyed toward the W. A. C. Park last Saturday. They brought their pet team with them and seemed determined that providing they did not win there were other places that would be sweeter to the players than home.

Thorough cranks are these Crescent supporters. And how they did set the pace for the players by their chin music! Some of them would rather have missed a meal than that game. The dyed-in-wool rooters were loaded with root beer. Howls, cheers, groans, shrieks and yells caused the grand stand beams and rafters to strain until the knots loosened. Collars wilted, buttons burst from their fastenings, and complexions turned red, white and blue with patriotic enthusiasm.

There may be a dozen reasons why we lost, any one of which would not alter the fact that we did.

A chunky hireling of the quarter-section-of-the-moon crowd by the name of Keeler need not feel embarassed if it be said that he was mainly responsible for our defeat. Five times he spat on his hands, twined his fingers around the thin end of his bat, and used the thick part to poke the ball where our players could not reach it with a scoop net.

Rusty horse shoes and four-leaf clover heretofore have been considered the choicest symbols of luck. It is suggested that our Plainfield friends preserve and reverence Keeler's billet as a mute token of our defeat.

The game was all over, as to the result, except the settling of the bets, by the third inning. Westfield admirers became total strangers to each other. To them a haze of gloom seemed to rise above the tree tops, and as the game progressed the falling mist mingled with the cold perspiration that settled over their brows.

There is some comfort in the fact that we saved ourselves from a string of horse collars. We did play a good fielding game, but our bats and the ball somehow failed to connect.

There is one thing that is refreshing in considering a ball game defeat. But one side can win, and the side that is defeated instead of losing heart and courage is made all the more anxious and determined to try to do better next time.

If anybody wishes to know why baseball is so popular, tell them it is because it is so uncertain.

Did our Hammill sell the game to Plainfield? He did not. I know whereof I speak when I say that the boy pitched his level best last Saturday.

The Crescents ought to play four or five games with the Westfields this season. Westfield won in her first two games with Somerville, but she plays her fourth game with that team Saturday. It must be a pleasing diversion for the Crescents—winning games from Westfield. Why do n't they keep at it?

The Bound Brook Talmage Will Assist.

The engagement of Miss May Mortimer Talmage, the second daughter of the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, to Daniel D. Mangan, a member of the Produce Exchange, is announced in Brooklyn, and the wedding will take place within a few months. The ceremony will take place in the Tabernacle and will be the first wedding solemnized in the new church. Dr. Talmage will officiate, and will be assisted by his only living brother, the Rev. Dr. John Van Nest Talmage, of Bound Brook.

The wedding will be one of the notable events of the approaching season, and will outshine the two other brilliant Talmage weddings, when the Misses Jessie and Edith were married.

The Rev. Frank Talmage, Dr. Talmage's son, is engaged to be married to Miss Gertrude Barlow, of Sing Sing.

A Dog Prevented the Burglary.

Robbers appeared at T. F. VanHorn's grocery store in Dunellen Thursday night, and had they not been frightened away might have relieved its owner of some stock.

They first repaired to the stable, where they secured part of a set of harness, and then proceeded to pry open the back door of the store. But a dog next door made so much noise that his master, Mr. Kratzell, went out to see the cause. He heard some one moving about in the next yard, but before he could investigate the thieves had disappeared in the darkness.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. C. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

Birthday Lawn Party.

Miss Laura Mattis celebrated her sixteenth birthday anniversary, yesterday, by a lawn party at her residence on Spooner avenue. A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing games, singing, etc. Refreshments were served at midnight. Among those present were: Lizzie and Laura Mattis, Lena and Fannie Cose, Laura Ayers, Cora Mattis, Bertha Smith, of Harrisburg, Pa., Sobie Smith, Albert and Harry McComas, Henry Pugh, Wm. Fry, Wm. Gray, James Reid, and Joseph Taylor.

A Carriage Dealer Fails.

J. V. F. Ryerson, dealer in carriages and horse goods at 33 Somerset street, made an assignment yesterday to William A. Coddington, for the benefit of his creditors. His failure is said to be due to the amount of bad debts that had accumulated on his books, and to the large amount of capital he had tied up in promissory notes of customers which were not negotiable.

A Treat for the Y. P. S. C. E.

A public meeting of the Union county union of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be held at Trinity Reformed church, Thursday evening of next week, to listen to the reports of delegates who attended the great convention at Minneapolis last month. An interesting time is promised. A large attendance from all parts of Union county will be present.

The Crescents Are Coming.

The Crescents of Brooklyn, with George Cadmus pitching, are coming to Plainfield, after all, Labor Day, and will play against the Plainfield Crescents at 3:45 p. m.

The Star-Athletics will play in the morning.

The problem of medicine is solved by Hires's Root Beer imparting pure, rich blood. Source of health. Without pure blood a person cannot long remain healthy and free from disease. Minister Phelps Congratulated.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—As a consequence of the removal of the embargo on American pork, Mr. Phelps, the Minister of the United States to Germany, is receiving many congratulatory telegrams. Mr. Phelps has cabled Secretary of State Blaine, at Bar Harbor as follows: "May I, through you, congratulate the President upon the fact that under his auspices a long struggle to secure this right has successfully ended."

Cars Are Scarce.

BUFFALO, Sep. 5.—The grain men are beginning to complain of the scarcity of cars, and it is thought that by next week, unless the shipments ease up, there will be a car famine. From all over the country come reports that the roads are being blockaded with grain, and for three days past the yards of several of the lines have been wholly or partially blockaded.

The White Squadron at Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Sep. 5.—The White Squadron, consisting of the Chicago, Newark, Boston, Atlanta, Concord, Yorktown, Vesuvius and Cushing, has arrived in the harbor here. A committee appointed by Mayor True waited on Admiral Walker, and tendered the fleet a welcome to the city. The fleet will remain here four days.

An Embezzler Arrested.

NEW YORK, Sep. 5.—Sydney Old alias Samuel Owens formerly Secretary to Fisher Renwick & Co., of the Dry Dock and Jetty Co., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, has been arrested at Detroit, Mich., on a charge of embezzling £5,000 from his employers. He will be brought to this city and held to await the arrival of extradition papers. Old arrived here July 6, and went west two days later.

One Killed and Two Injured.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Sep. 5.—John Robbins was instantly killed in the William Penn Colliery during the day by a premature blast. At the Kilan Gowan Colliery Michael Flannagan and William Davis were badly burned by an explosion of gas. It is thought they are fatally injured.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

Above is the picture of the swell club-house that the wealthy society people of Washington Park will begin to build in a few days. The site is where the porter's lodge of the Roome homestead has stood for years. It is on Washington avenue, at your left hand as you step off the bridge crossing from the city into the borough.

The architect is Charles H. Smith, creator of all the handsomest structures in this vicinity. He has just completed the New Jersey Athletic club-house at Bergen Point, and is now specially engaged to reconstruct the interior of Music Hall.

The design also reflects great credit on the taste of the building committee of the Washington Park Land & Improvement company—Foster Milliken, Charles W. McCutchen and W. W. Howland. The style is mainly colonial. The building is perched picturesquely on a high terrace above the brook. The lower part of the exterior will be of red brick. The roof will be of natural shingles, and the wood-work will be colored in white and yellow.

The interior contains billiard and bowling rooms, reception and card rooms, and a hall large enough for dancing. THE PRESS will publish further particulars and a more extended description of the plans, later. John Emmons has been awarded the contract for the mason work.

Base-ball Talk in Somerville.

(From The Harkinstown Democrat.)

The Crescents last Saturday were again victorious at Westfield, having a clean walkover. They batted like fiends, and ran the bases like the festive antelope. The game Saturday makes four straight for the Crescents, and the good and staid citizens of Plainfield are on the top notch of excited joy, while the cranks are wild with delight, and are now positive that the finals, that is, the two next games, will be easily won, and that victory and the championship will come to the Crescent League. But wait and see. We have two games on our own grounds, and should certainly win both of them. If we don't we deserve to be the tailenders in the race. The last game in Plainfield will be the hard game to win, but if we win the fifth there is no doubt we can the sixth also.

The Crescents have had a streak of batting that is wonderful. In the last four games played, two each with the West Ends and Westfields, they have made forty-four hits, an average of eleven per game, and that is heavy hitting. Last Saturday they fell upon the Westfield pitcher for fifteen big hits, and in the sixth inning, with two out, he was hit so hard that Codding took him out of the box and substituted Diven, who did but little better. The Crescents earned seven of their nine runs, and Keeler, with five times at bat, made four singles and a two-bagger. The only error made by the Westfields was a poor throw of Connell's, while Lee fumbled one and Keeler threw two wild. There is no doubt that the Plainfield team is playing a steady game, and one week from to-morrow, when we come against them, it will be do or die. They have a decided advantage now in percentage, owing to the fact that they have played less games than we, but let them still remember that we have three games to play, while they have but two and the Westfields one. If we win three we secure the championship; if we win two we are tied with Plainfield.

In last Saturday's game between the Crescents and the Westfields, Bonner, as soon as Jones came to the bat, ran down the third-base line and began the same old scheme of coaching in a loud and noisy manner, when umpire West called him down with: "Say, we don't want any of that kind of coaching; you keep still till the runner gets on base." That was enough. Bonner shut up like a clam at high tide and walked to the bench and sat down. This is what ought to have been done before to show Mr. Bonner that while coaching may be permissible, that kind of coaching does n't go.

It was not enough for some of the Crescent League members to attempt nefarious practices last year in stealing Tommy O'Rourke from us, but they must now accuse one of the West End members with attempting to do the same thing, by saying that he had offered Bonner a certain sum to leave the Crescents and play with the West Ends. What nonsense! For what reason could we possibly want Bonner? There is not a man on the team whom we would change for him, let alone offering him more than he is now getting. It is not the desire of the West Ends to attempt to break the contract made this season, and if it was they would not go about it in this manner.

The Plainfielders are now dragging that when their team again faces John Harkins they will knock him out of the box. Let them go carefully. The best laid plans have fallen through. Harkins has done it before, and he can again make monkeys out of their heavy hitters. One week from to-morrow tells the story, we believe, that to the club who wins the fifth game goes the sixth game and the series.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

The Improvements at Music Hall.

[From The Somerville Democrat.]

The Stillman Music Hall in Plainfield has been wonderfully improved under the management of Frank W. Runyon, of the Central Times, and J. A. Demarest, of the Press. These gentlemen have had no little experience in theatrical matters, and there is no doubt that for the first time in years they will make the season of 1891-92 a most successful one. Under their able and efficient direction the house has been remodeled. Four boxes have been placed on each side of the stage. The acoustic properties of the house, which were very poor, have been changed to such an extent that every word can now be plainly heard from pit to dome. Hangings and handsome decorations combine to present a magnificent appearance. A new drop and act curtain is also an addition, while a more than agreeable feature is that not a seat in the house except the boxes will be sold for more than seventy-five cents.

The bookings for the coming season include the best companies on the road, some of them being "The Senator", "The Prince and the Pauper", "The City Directory", with the world-famed dancer, Amelia Glover; "Shenandoah", "Blue Jeans", Thatcher, Primrose and West, J. K. Emmett, jr., "The Charity Ball", "The Burglar". The house is to be opened September 8.

Warrenville Warblings.

A donkey party was held at the residence of G. E. Whitten, Warrenville, last week Friday evening. John Miller received the first prize, and Miss Lizzie Rose the booby prize. Dancing, singing, etc., were indulged in until 3 a. m., when all departed for their homes highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Oliver R. Pearson and granddaughter, Mary, have removed to North Plainfield.

The musical entertainment and ice-cream festival held in the Warren Congregational church last week Tuesday evening netted $18 profit. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church. Miss Florence Riley, the child elocutionist, and John Carney of Plainfield, amused the audience with comic recitations.

G. E. Whitten has accepted the position of principal of the public school at Centreville, Hunterdon county. His school opened Sept. 1. BEN BOLT.

½ Dunellen Bits.

While getting out of her carriage, Thursday, Mrs. James V. Dunham caught her dress in the step, and she was thrown to the ground. Although she was not seriously injured, the shock has confined her to her room.

A number of young people met at the residence of Frank A. Ransom, Thursday night, and enjoyed a dance.

Miss Maud Williams is spending a fortnight with friends at Elizabeth.

Two new members were initiated at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Wedding at Dunellen.

The wedding took place, last Wednesday, of William Jacobs, the Dunellen letter carrier, to Mrs. Mary Forman, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Forman, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, arrived on the 3:42 train. A conveyance was in waiting for them, to convey them to the home of Mr. Jacobs.

The Rev. W. C. Kinsie was sent for, and at 5 o'clock the happy couple were made one.

The newly-made Mrs. Jacobs had for some time been her husband's housekeeper.

A Dunellen Brakeman Badly Injured.

Jake Snell, who left Dunellen some months ago to accept a position with the Central railway, was thrown from a coal train last week and severely injured about the head.

He was putting on brakes when a chain gave way, and, losing his balance, he fell, his head striking one of the ties.

He was at once taken to the Jersey City Hospital, where it was found that his skull had been fractured.

The route of the larger stage is up Broadway; the route of the smaller is up Putnam avenue. The stages return to Plainfield at the conclusion of the services.

Monument to a Hangman.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—A Vienna correspondent says the plan to erect a monument to Mouravieff, the hangman of Poland, at Wilna, is attributed to a purpose on the part of the Russians to inspire terror in Poland by recalling the punishment of the Polish insurgents in 1863. The square in which the monument is to be put up witnessed the hanging of scores of Polish prisoners.

Minister Douglass' Successor.

WASHINGTON, Sept 5.—John S. Durham, who was appointed yesterday Minister resident and Consul-General at Hayti, is now Consul at St. Domingo. He is a colored man of education and general capacity. It was necessary to have some one appointed at once in view of the present state of affairs in the Black Republic.

The Cotton Movement Begun.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—The movement in cotton has begun and during the past few days the Treasury Department has sent about $1,000,000 to New Orleans through exchange on New York for that account. The movement is later than last year and the demand for money not so great.

Sec. Noble Going to Cape May.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 5.—Secretary Noble will leave Washington next Manday for Cape May Point, where he will have a conference with the President in regard to opening lands to settlers in Oklahoma Territory, and other important matters connected with the Interior Department requiring the views of the President.

If Women, who complain of languor, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and a weak, weary feeling, would throw "tonics," "bitters" and other patent medicines to the dogs and try before each meal a table spoonful of TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey, they would find no need for patent trash. A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old. Sold everywhere.

DODGING A METEOR.

Thomas W. Knox Tells of a Miraculous Escape.

Streams of Fire Shooting in All Directions — An Aerolite That Did as Much Damage as a Fifty-Pound Cannon Ball.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

In the Siberian section of the museum of the Academy of Science in St. Petersburg is a mass of meteoric iron that fell to the earth in Siberia early in the present century. It weighs several hundred pounds and is ranked by scientists as a remarkable curiosity. It is of more than passing interest to the unscientific visitor on account of its size and remarkable qualities, and also because it comes from the land whose history is connected with so many horrors growing out of the exile system of the Russian empire.

On my first visit to the admirable collection of minerals belonging to the academy, I was accompanied by a Russian gentleman who had long been connected with the institution and was able to explain many things which otherwise I would not have understood. When we reached the Siberian aerolite he called my attention to its peculiarities: "It contains the mineral olivine, a species of chrysolite," said he, "and this is a substance rarely found in a meteoric stone. The iron in this mass is of a very fine quality; it is highly magnetic in the first place, and the specimens that have been taken from it for the purpose of experiment have been drawn into the finest of wires."

"STREAMS OF FIRE WERE SHOT IN ALL DIRECTIONS."

He said a great deal more than it is necessary to repeat here; then he suddenly paused and asked if I ever encountered a meteor in any part of the world.

I told him that I had seen shooting stars in great number, but with a few exceptions they were only the ordinary shooting stars that may be seen, usually, on any clear night in most parts of the world. The exceptions that I noted were those in which the aerolites were near enough to make a flash of unusual brilliancy, and in one case I had witnessed an explosion in which the fiery fragments flew in all directions, followed in a few minutes by a sound as though a heavy cannon had been discharged.

"I've seen something much more interesting than that," he replied, "and also more dangerous. I've dodged a meteor and narrowly escaped with my life."

"Where was that?" I asked.

"It was in southeastern Russia," he answered, "on one of the steppes between the Volga and the Don. I'll tell you about it."

Continuing my examination of the Siberian aerolite, I indicated my desire to hear of his remarkable adventure, which he proceeded to give.

"I was on a scientific expedition in that part of the country, my special object being to find a deposit of coal that would pay for working. There was plenty of coal along the banks of the Don but none had yet been found on the Volga where it was greatly needed for the development of the commerce of that river. I had two scientific assistants, half a dozen men with boring apparatus and the usual attaches of a camp of exploration. We changed about from place to place, making borings or diggings in banks wherever there were indications of coal.

"HARDLY HAD I GOT THERE WHEN THERE WAS A BLOW ON THE ROCK."

"One afternoon one of my men came into camp with a lump of something that he thought was coal; he had found it among some rocks in the bed of a brook and thought it might lead to an important discovery. To the eye it appeared like a lump of coal, and I seized it with avidity, but very soon I discovered that it was nothing else than an aerolite which had apparently been broken off from a larger mass. In the next two or three days other pieces of the same character were found and it became evident that at some time a meteor had found its way to earth at this point, having exploded and scattered its fragments over a considerable area.

"As I laid aside the aerolite I mentally wished that one would fall in my vicinity so that I could have a fresh specimen to send to the academy. Then I thought of the old adage to the effect that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, and turned my attention to the lignites.

"Suddenly the sky was lit up as by a flash of vivid lightning or the explosion of a mass of powder a few yards away. So brilliant was the flash that I was temporarily blinded, but probably for a less time than seemed to me. I rushed out of my tent, the light continuing as bright as at first for several seconds, and then there was the sound of an explosion directly in front of me and half way between the horizon and the zenith. Streams of fire were shot in all directions, some going towards the sky and others descending to the earth. Some seemed to be coming directly towards me as they grew rapidly in size just as does the headlight of a locomotive when you are watching in the night time the front of an approaching train.

"I thought very quickly and acted as quickly as I thought. My tent was at the side of a large rock; it was six or eight feet in height and shaped not unlike a sugarloaf. The impulse came to me to jump behind the rock, and I instantly obeyed the impulse.

"Hardly had I got there when there was a blow on the rock as if a heavy wagon, or a railway carriage, had run against it with full force. A moment later there was a crash among the trees a little distance to one side as though a cannon ball had been launched into the forest. My surmises and deductions from the old adage as to the habit of lightning not to strike twice in the same place were quite at fault. A meteor had fallen where another meteor had previously taken up its quarters, as though there was not enough of the earth's surface for each to have a place of its own.

"One of the fragments that rebounded from the rock went through my tent, tearing a great hole in the canvas and falling plump upon the little cot in which I would have been sleeping an hour later. The missile weighed, as I afterward ascertained, a trifle more than two pounds, and as it fell it was red-hot. It set fire to my bed, but I speedily extinguished the fire with a bucket of water. Aerolites are always red-hot when they come to the ground, no matter whether their proportion of iron be large or small. They are supposed to be cold when they enter the earth's atmosphere, and become heated by their rapid passage through the air. They move with a velocity of fifteen to twenty miles a second, and the smaller ones, the ordinary shooting-stars which everybody has seen, are supposed to be quite burned up and reduced to dust or gases before they can get to the earth's surface.

"Twenty feet from the rock on the opposite side of my tent, a mass from the meteor was hissing in the ground where it had buried itself to the depth of more than a foot. My servant, Ivan, wanted to pour water upon it, but I forbade him, as I preferred that the fragment should cool off where it was; water poured upon it might cause it to crumble, just as it often causes a heated stone to break to pieces, and there was no danger that it would run away if left alone till morning.

"There was little sleep in our camp that night, and every man of us was up before the sun. The ground around the camp was carefully examined, and altogether we found no fewer than thirteen fragments from the meteor that paid us such an unceremonious visit and compelled me to dodge behind the rock. The largest fragment weighed about twenty pounds; it was the one on which Ivan was about to pour the water when I stopped him. Altogether the fragments weighed about seventy-five pounds and doubtless there were some that we missed. Consequently the mass that I dodged when I jumped behind the rock weighed somewhere in the neighborhood of a hundred pounds; it was red-hot and moving fifteen or twenty miles a second, so that I did wisely to get out of the way."

"How about the piece that crashed through the trees?" I asked.

"That was a fifty-pounder and it did as much damage as would have been made by a cannon shot of the same size. We had no difficulty in tracing it by its track of destruction; its force was so spent on the trees that we found it only slightly imbedded in the earth.

"From time to time for weeks afterwards, and covering an area eight or ten miles square, fragments of that meteor were found. The largest was a little more than a hundred pounds in weight, and, as well as I can estimate, the meteor, when it exploded, must have contained two or three tons of matter. The analysis of the fragments was the same; they contained about one per cent. of nickel, twenty per cent. of iron, fifty per cent. of silex, while the rest was made up of magnesia, tin, aluminium, cobalt and sodium. I'll show you a specimen when we get to the European section." THOMAS W. KNOX.

F.E.C. Medicine Co., Rochester, N.Y.:
For seven or eight years my wife has been troubled with some kind of kidney trouble. She tried many different remedies but all in vain. She continued to grow worse. Last fall I induced her to try the F. E. C. Remedy, and before using one bottle she began to improve, and now, after using six bottles, she is entirely cured. I have recommended it to many and it has benefitted in every case heard from.

LABOR'S GREAT DAY

Forty Thousand Workmen Parade in New York.

NO CLASH BETWEEN TOILERS

The Streets of the Metropolis Thronged With Wage-Earners.

Parades in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts—All the Exchanges in New York City Closed—The Day Generally Observed as a Legal Holiday in All the Big Cities.

NEW YORK, Sep. 7.—Forty thousand stalwart workmen were in line in the Labor Day parade in this city to-day, and at least one-fifth of that number were marshalled in Brooklyn. The display to-day exceeded in interest any of the preceding celebrations.

There were two parades in this city The parade of the Central Labor Union was in charge of Grand Marshal Michael J. Fenton, of the Granite Cutters' Union. They met at Washington square and marched to 40th street, being reviewed at the cottage in Union square.

The Central Labor Federation formed their parade on the Bowery, between Fourth and Eighth streets, August Waldinger being the grand marshal. They marched to Stuyvesant Square, where they were reviewed and dismissed.

There were parades also in Jersey City and Brooklyn, as well as labor picnics and athletic contests.

All the down town exchanges were closed. The Custom House, Appraiser's Office, Sub-Treasury and Assay Office were also closed. As it is a legal holiday, most of the stores in the city were closed as well.

Through New York State.

ALBANY, Sep. 7.—The Federation of Labor and District Assembly No. 147, Knights of Labor, joined hands in a parade here.

SYRACUSE, Sep. 7.—The Central Trades and Labor Assembly paraded with Philip Miller as grand marshal. After the parade there was a festival at Kirkwood Park.

In New Jersey.

ELIZABETH, Sep. 7.—The unions paraded 2,000 strong, under the marshalship of Cornelius J. Dailey, of the Carpenters' Union. The day was commemoraned on a grand scale in Washington, N. J. General Master Workman Powderly, Joseph P. McDonnell and Senator Cornish were the speakers.

TRENTON, Sep. 7.—The union potters had a Labor Day jubilee at Hill Grove. All the labor organizations in Mercer county were represented.

In Connecticut.

NEW BRITAIN, Sep. 7.—Nearly 3,000 unionists paraded here. Their festival is being held at Rentschler's Park, where Christopher Evans, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and Edward King spoke. The Mayor and City Council reviewed the parade.

Big Display in Massachusetts

BOSTON, Sep. 7.—Labor Day was honored all over Massachusetts. The principal demonstration was in Boston. Organizations whose membership amounts to 12,000 had places in the line of march. The Common Council reviewed the parade. A festival will close the day.

Lynn had a demonstration in which 3,000 men took part, under command of Thomas Condon. Springfield, Worcester, Lowell and Salem had demonstrations.

THE KEYPORT ROBBERY.

Professional Thieves Charged With Robbing the Postoffice Safe.

KEYPORT, N. J., Sep. 7.—Not the slightest clue has been obtained by the officers working on the case in regard to the robbery of the Post-office here early Saturday morning. So clever were the robbers at their work that they left not the slightest trace.

The thieves made their entrance through the transom, which was forced open. The safe breakers then went to work drilling holes in the large safe. Three holes were drilled at or near the combination, and then a charge of powder was exploded, blowing the door into fragments. The noise of the concussion was heard by a number of people, but no attention was paid to it at the time.

The safe was ransacked of all it contained, over $1,000 in cash, and stamps being taken. The loss will in all probability fall on the postmaster, who is compelled to make good the shortage.

The robbery was undoubtedly the work of a gang of professionals who have been operating throughout the State.

Insults that May Cause Trouble.

LONDON, Sep. 7.—A dispatch from Paris says that Chilians of wealth and distinction are very numerous in that city, and since the reception of the news from Valparaiso they have taken to insulting Americans, who, in their ignorance, they suppose to be protectors of Balmaceda. If the quarrels go much further they may almost reach the dignity of an official investigation. A number of such cases have occurred. In one instance a certain well-known Chilian baron insulted in the grossest manner a New Yorker, who was quietly dining with his wife at one of the tables.

Grave Fears For the Queen.

LONDON, Sept 7.—The state of Queen Victoria's health continues to excite great concern in England. The fact that the soverign lady is seriously feeble has heretofore been kept secret, but has now leaked out. The gravest fears are daily expressed.

Drowned While Bathing.

OUR INDIAN SOLDIERS.

The Government's Experiment Proving Very Successful.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sep. 7.—Secretary of War Proctor will leave here for his western trip Wednesday. Speaking of this he said: "The primary purpose of my visit is to inspect the posts of the Department of Dakota. I was unable to visit those posts on my former trip West, I desire especially to inspect the new Indian companies first organized.

"There are six already organized and six additional under way. The officers of the companies have been carefully selected. All orders are given in English, and while all the men do not understand the language, they soon came to know the orders and conform to the rules very quickly.

"They do not give any trouble in coming down from their free-and-easy life to military discipline, but take pride in soldier uniform. The experiment of making trained soldiers of them is proving successful.

"We are not hurrying the work of recruiting, but trying to get the best men. The physical examination is of the most rigid nature."

A SLANDERER COWHIDED.

Society Circles in Augusta, Me., Talking About a Sensational Affair.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sep. 7.—Society circles here are all upset to-day on account of a sensational cowhiding affair between two well-known society men. Ed. Smart, a young druggist, aged 25, belonging to the Commandery, and of a highly respectable family, thrashed A. H. Lyon, another Augusta citizen, aged 45, a builder and contractor.

Some two months ago Smart married a well-known Augusta young woman, and recently heard that Lyon had been circulating slanderous stories about her. Making diligent inquiry, he found several young men to whom he says Lyon told the story.

This incensed him so that he went to Hamlin's harness store and purchased a rawhide. Seeing Lyon on the street, in front of the store, he accused him of slandering his wife, at the same time producing his whip and laying it over Lyons' head and shoulders, one blow making a terrible cut on the face. Lyon dodged and ran across the street into Beal's paper store, Smart following and applying the lash. The victim crept into a corner and begged for mercy, upon which the infuriated husband stopped. Lyon bears the marks of the whipping, and at noon went before the Grand Jury to have his assailant indicted.

SEVERAL BANDITS SHOT.

A Bloody Battle Fought With Rangers in a Mountain Pass.

UVALDE, TEX., Sep. 7—Summary vengeance was wreaked upon the desperadoes who held up the express train on the Southern Pacific railroad last Thursday, and who were thought to have escaped across the Rio Grande with $20,000 of booty.

A body of rangers went in pursuit of the desperadoes, soon after the robbery, and after a chase lasting almost two days, came up with them.

A fierce battle took place. From reports received thirteen of the robbers and two rangers were shot down and killed and several of both sides were injured.

The engagement was short, as the bandits were outnumbered. They held the better position, however, and stood their ground until their dead and wounded were so great that resistance was impossible and then the remainder fled. It is said that two of the marauders escaped.

Four Women Jump from a Train.

CHICAGO, Sep. 7.—Maggie Drybalak, Mary Kopeinski, and two other women jumped from a Northwestern passenger train moving at the rate of fifteen miles an hour at Clybourn station early last evening. Maggie's collar bone was broken and Mary's hip was sprained by the fall. The other two escaped injury. The four women work on a farm beyond the river north of the station. When the train stopped at the bridge they got on, supposing it would stop at Clybourn. They stood on the platform and as the train did not stop they jumped.

Eva's Stage Career Ended.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sep. 7.—Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton's stage career has been suddenly brought to a close. Her company yesterday objected to continuing the tour unless salaries were paid and as the money was not forthcoming they disbanded and returned to New York. It is said that Mrs. Hamilton was compelled to borrow the money with which to purchase the railroad tickets for the company's return to New York.

Bank Cashier Tillman Heard From.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sep. 7.—Telegrams received here from Windsor, Can., state that Major Tillman, cashier of the Falls City Bank, has left there, and it is believed will either return to Louisville or go to some place near this city where he can easily communicate with his friends and arrange terms by which he can return to his old home. Mr. John T. Moore, president of the Falls City Bank, states that the bank had found no evidence upon which to maintain a criminal prosecution.

SHOT BY A FARMER

A Wealthy Man's Son in Jail For a Probable Murder.

HE HAS A FIGHT WITH ITALIANS

They Stopped to Pluck Wild Grapes On His Premises.

When Ordered Away They Refused to Move—Five of the Party Knocked Down with a Revolver—The Sixth One Shot in the Head, and will Die—The Murderer's Remark When Arrested.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sep. 7. — Christian Haar, son of a wealthy and well-known farmer at Old Forge, near here, shot down Angelo Volpo, an Italian, during the morning. Volpo, his brother and six other Italians were returning home along a newly surveyed railroad that skirts the Haar farm, where they stopped to pluck wild grapes.

The elder Haar ordered them away, when one of them said that they didn't think they were doing any harm. Haar pushed him over. Just then young Haar rushed to the scene, drew a heavy revolver and knocked five of the Italians down with blows on the head. They jumped to their feet and ran.

Volpe was hit a stunning blow, and as he staggered away young Haar followed and shot him in the back of the head. The Italian dropped like a log. Volpe's brother started back, when another shot was fired and the Italians fled from the wounded man.

Volpe was taken to a doctor's house. The ball penetrated his brain and he cannot live. This is the the third shooting young Haar has done at alleged trespassers in the past month. When told that the Italian would die he replied, "I don't care a damn." He is in jail.

ATTACKED BY DOGS.

A Young Boy Horribly Bitten by Six English Mastiffs.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sep. 7.—Edward Gillis, 9 years old, had a horrible and fatal experience in this city last evening. Young Gillis was playing in the street, and near at hand was a dog kennel, in which were confined six huge English mastiffs. While playing Gillis began teasing the dogs, and they became fearfully enraged. One of the dogs broke down the door, and six ferocious brutes made a fierce attack on the boy. He was knocked down at the first onslaught and all the dogs began biting and chewing him.

Policeman James Carney, assisted by William Robinson, armed with revolvers and crowbars, finally reached the infuriated animals, but it was impossible to make them loosen their holds, and Carney shot five of the dogs dead while they were still chewing and biting their victim. The sixth brute escaped. Carney himself was severely bitten.

Gillis' wounds are horrible; his eyes, ears and nose were literally bitten out, and his body has no fewer than 60 wounds. The dogs that were killed were valued at $100 each.

Working for Mrs. Maybrick's Release.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sep. 7.—The ladies of this city are moving to secure the release of Mrs. Florence Maybrick from Woking prison, England, where she is confined for life, convicted of having poisoned her husband. Gail Hamilton's recent articles, showing that there should have been a different course taken than the one adopted toward the unfortunate woman, have brought the case once more to public notice. The ladies of this city and State will present a petition, numerously signed, to the Queen, whom they will ask to right the injustice done to Mrs. Maybrick.

Keystone Bank Clerks Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 7.—Chas E. Ege and E. L. McGuire, formerly ledger clerks at the Keystone Bank, have been arrested, charged with making false entries in their ledgers, and with making such statements as would tend to deceive the bank examiner. The arrests were made on complaint of the Government accountants who have been examining the books of the bank. Ege and McGuire were released on $10,000 bail. They will have a hearing to-morrow. It is expected that another arrest upon the same charge will be made to-day.

Shot by a Policeman.

NEW YORK, Sep. 7.—George Smith, an 18-year-old boy, was probably fatally shot in Brooklyn by Policeman John Mayer. The officer claims the shooting was accidental, but witnesses say the assault was a wanton one and that Smith did nothing to bring it about. The officer is under arrest.

Convicts Refuse to Eat Beans.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 7.—About 46 criminals at the State Prison at Wethersfield refused to eat beans which had been cooked for dinner. The warden promptly sent nine of the stubborn prisoners to their cells, and afterward placed the two ringleaders in solitary confinement, thus ending the trouble.

READY TO FIGHT.

McAuliffe and Gibbons in Great Shape for the Contest.

NEW YORK, Sep. 7.—The eyes of the pugilistic world are now turned to the meeting of Jack McAuliffe, the champion lightweight, and Austin Gibbons. The men will meet in the Granite Club next Friday night, and they should make a grand contest. McAuliffe is favorite in the betting and he has already been backed to win some thousands of dollars. Both men are in splendid condition and both are confident of winning.

The Granite Club has made every arrangement that can possibly conduce to the success of the affair.

To prevent any hitch, such as occurred in the Slavin-Kilrain contest, a new electric time-keeper has been secured. This is a very ingenious affair, and is said to work well.

It consists of a clock, two gongs and two lights, one red and the other white. It is so contrived that the red light will burn for three minutes, and at the expiration of that time it will give place to a white light, which will be a signal for the men to take their corners. The white light burns during the one minute rest and then the red light appears, and both bold forth for three minutes longer.

When a knock-down blow is given the time-keeper will press an electric button, which will set a small gong going. This sounds every second until the tenth, when it will ring rapidly. If it ever comes to that it will be a signal that the fight is over.

The men will be called into the ring at 9 o'clock and will set to without delay.

GAGGED BY ROBBERS.

No Clue to the Thieves Who Maltreated Mrs. Elkins.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sep. 7. — Mrs. Elkins of the Elm House, who was so roughly treated by robbers Saturday afternoon, remains prostrated and cannot leave her room. The robbery is the one great topic of discussion.

The robbers were two in number, and were masked. They forced their way into the house, seized Mrs. Elkins and demanded her money. She handed to the men $35. Presenting a revolver at her head the men demanded all the money she had, saying that she had more concealed on her person. The terrified woman said she had no more money, whereupon one of the men tore open her dress and grabbed a canvas bag containing $800 in cash and $400 in checks.

They then bound and gagged her and fled. There is no clue to the thieves.

FLOODS IN JERSEY.

Much Damage Has Been Caused in the Seacoast Towns.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sep. 7.—The severe rains of the past two days and the unusually heavy surf caused much damage along the New Jersey seacoast towns. Many bad cuts were made in the Long Branch bluff. The New Jersey Southern Railway tracks at Highland Beach were undermined by the high tide.

At Browntown, a small Asbury Park settlement, the streets are all inundated and people are wading from place to place. In many houses the water has flooded the first story. Several small sailing vessels were driven ashore at Atlantic Highlands.

HAWLEY FOR THE CABINET.

Rumors That He Has Been Offered the Secretaryship of War.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—Private advices received here, state that Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, has been offered the War Office, to succeed Secretary Proctor. Gen. Hawley is at Cape May, conferring with President Harrison about the matter.

Friends of the Senator who are familiar with Connecticut politics, and who regard with doubt his chances for renomination and re-election to the United States Senate as against Governor Bulkeley, think it very probable that he will accept the offer and be the next Secretary of War.

Special Meeting of Spinners Called.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 7.—A call for a special meeting of spinners to be held Wednesday has been issued by Secretary Howard of the Spinners' Union. Mr. Howard says the folly of the decision of the Manufacturers' Board of Trade at their last meeting to reduce wages, shows the necessity of such a meeting seeing that the state of the cloth market at present shows that the supply is much greater than the demand. The cutting down the pay of operators, he says, will not help to unload a glutted market, but rather to overload it still more by decreasing the purchasing power of the people.

Hanged Himself in His Bedroom.

BUFFALO, Sep. 7.—At 7:30 o'clock last evening the body of David Klaus, who lived with his daughter and her family in the Williams Block, was found hanging in his bedroom. A small rope circlet was about his neck, the upper part fastened to the hinge of the door. Klaus was 63 years of age. His wife died about a year ago, and ever since then he has brooded over his loss.

Huntington Buys Another Road.

ASTORIA, Ore., Sep. 7.—C. P. Huntington, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, has purchased the Astoria & South Coast Railway. The sale was made to R. Koehler and J. C. Stubbs, who acted as agents for Huntington. The road is a valuable piece of property.

The Blaines to Go to Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Sep. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Blaine and Harrie and James G. Blaine, jr., will leave Bar Harbor about the 15th instant, and come to Augusta to occupy their residence on State street for three weeks, returning to Washington early in October.

Attorney-General Miller En Voyage.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 7.—Attorney-General Miller and a party of six gentlemen are cruising about the Delaware breakwater in the revenue cutter Hamilton. If the weather is favorable a short sea voyage will be taken.

THE CRISIS IN HAYTI

President Hippolyte Cannot Trust His Adherents.

GUARDS PROTECT HIS PALACE.

An Attack Expected By the Revolutionary Exiles Under Legitime.

Rear-Admiral Gherardi Says an Uprising is Inevitable—Denizat Will Probably Supplant Hippolyte—Bitter Feeling Between the Negroes and Mulattoes—They Will Welcome Trouble.

NEW YORK, Sep. 7.—The latest news from Hayti, just brought in by the steamship Adirondack, is to the effect that President Hippolyte is in constant apprehension of an attack by the revolutionary exiles under the leadership of Gen. Legitime. All the Haytian ports are well garrisoned, and an extra guard protects the palace in Port au Prince.

Hyppolite particularly fears treachery among his own subjects. While affecting to be loyal to the administration, it is believed that persons prominent in the affairs of the republic secretly sympathize with the aims of the insurgents, and that in the event of an energetic attack they would desert Hyppolite's standard and welcome the exiles.

A Revolution is Expected by Admiral Gherardi.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—Rear Admiral Gherardi, who came here in obedience to orders from Secretary Tracy, has returned to New London, Conn., where his squadron is now. He had a long conference with Secretary Tracy and Commodore Ramsay, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation. The subject discussed is conjectural, but it is believed to have been in reference to the recent alleged disagreement between himself and Rear Admiral Walker.

Admiral Gherardi, in discussing affairs in Hayti, said that a revolution there in the near future was inevitable. Denejat was the strongest man on the island, and would doubtless supplant Hippolyte. The negroes, he said, composed 25 per cent. of the population of the island. The mulattoes were the more intelligent and the bitterness between the two races was intense.

ANOTHER BERLIN RUMOR.

An Alleged Quarrel Between the Emperor and Empress.

BERLIN, Sep. 7.—Court circles here are agog over a reported quarrel between the Emperor of Germany and the Empress, the origin of which is said to be as follows:

Some time ago the Empress found a bundle of letters written by the Kaiser to a lady of the court. These compromising documents were accompanied by an anonymous epistle, which, it is said, made matters worse.

The court lady concerned was at once dismissed, but the Kaiser insisted that she should be allowed to remain. Meagre details only have as yet been given out.

The German press have received a hint that imprisonment will be the fate of any and all editors who print any mention of the matter.

A Dangerous Confidence Man Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sep. 7.—"Big Ed" Hennessy, leader of one of the most dangerous gangs of confidence operators in the country, was arrested yesterday afternoon by officers of the Central Police Station at the instance of John L. Norris, the irrepressible detective from Ohio. Norris wants Hennessy for complicity in a series of robberies in western Missouri, of which well-to-do farmers were the victims. One old man named C. W. Funk, of Knox County, Mo., was robbed of $2,000; another, Thomas Blackburn, of Albany County, of $6,500, and a third, Stephen Trice, of Lathrop, of $4,500.

The Chilian Junta Not Yet Recognized.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—At the State Department the report is given out that no regular formal recognition will be extended to the Chilian Government until new credentials are supplied to our Minister at Santiago. Our present relations are entirely friendly, however, and Minister Egan is in a position to treat with the Junta on any issue that may arise. This arrangement has been made at Mr. Blaine's direction, and there is no truth in the story that the Secretary's functions have been usurped by Gen. Tracy at the President's instance.

Breweries Seized By U. S. Marshals.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sep. 7.—The Federal authorities have inaugurated a war on some of the St. Louis breweries for violating some of the statutes in relation to the use of stamps. The Berliner imported beer brewery has been seized by United States Marshal Buchanan and invoiced in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Atkinson. The brewery of Stittner Thomas was also seized. The charges, the Marshal states, are using stamps twice. The authorities state they are after other breweries.

Chinamen Want to Return to Canada.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Sep. 7.—The case of the two Chinamen arrested at Burlington, is still under advisement by Judge Wheeler of the United States Circuit Court. In their examination the lawyers for the Chinamen contended that they should be returned to Canada, as they had in their possession a permit to return to that country. The U. S. District Attorney contended that the permit was simply a pretext through which Chinamen might be smuggled into the country.

Shot His Wife and Himself.

SEYMOUR, Conn., Sep. 7.—Geo. Wingblade, a middle-aged German mechanic, shot his wife in the mouth last evening, inflicting serious injuries. He then shot and killed himself. Wingblade recently lost his position, and this preyed on his mind and caused him to commit the terrible crime.

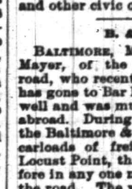
Blueberry Muffins.

BY MRS. D. A. LINCOLN,

Author Boston Cook Book.

Pick over, wash and dry 1 pint blueberries; sprinkle thickly with flour, to keep them from settling in the dough. Mix well 1 tea sp. salt, ½ level tea sp. Cleveland's baking powder and ½ cup sugar, with 1 quart sifted flour. Rub in ½ cup butter. Moisten with about 1½ cups milk, or enough to make a dough that will keep in shape when dropped from a spoon. Stir in the prepared blueberries, being careful not to mash them. Drop by the large spoonfuls on a well buttered shallow pan, or in round muffin pans. Bake about twenty minutes, and serve hot with butter if for breakfast or tea, or with cream if for luncheon.—(Copyright, 1891.)

Use only Cleveland's baking powder. No other does as good work.



Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder is perfectly wholesome. It leavens most and leavens best. Try a can.

Send stamp for Cook Book, Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

The Weather Bureau's Report from the New England and Middle States.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—A bulletin has just been issued by the Weather Bureau showing the condition of crops in the following States:

PENNSYLVANIA.—Corn is excellent, but needs warm, sunshiny weather to mature it. The buckwheat crop will be unusually large. Tobacco cutting continues and the crop is reported fine. Potatoes only slightly injured by rot; crop very large. Seeding has been delayed by wet weather.

NEW ENGLAND.—Crops ripening slowly. Potato rot not spreading seriously. Tobacco harvest nearly completed, and the crop is in good condition. A large crop of cranberries is indicated; picking will begin this week.

NEW YORK.—The conditions were generally favorable for growing crops and seeding. Corn is from one to three weeks late. The potato blight is increasing. Hops badly damaged by moisture. Tobacco harvest is well advanced.

NEW JERSEY. — The cranberry crop promises an average yield. The weather has been unfavorable for ripening fruits and vegetables, and the ground is too wet for digging potatoes and for ploughing and seeding.

MARYLAND. — Peaches, potatoes, and tobacco were injured by rain in southern Maryland; otherwise, conditions were favorable to growing crops. Sunshiny weather is needed in all sections.

The Battle of Groton.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sep. 7.—The 110th anniversary of the battle of Groton Heights and massacre at Fort Griswold was commemorated to-day with fitting services. In the morning there was a procession, made up of the local battalions of the Third Regiment, C. N. G. Admiral Gherardi sent six companies of bluejackets, a company of marines and the band from the ships Philadelphia, Petrel and Enterprise of the North Atlantic Squadron. A company of regulars from Fort Trumbull also participated, as well as the Uniformed Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, American Mechanics and other civic organizations.

B. & O. Matters.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sep. 7.—President Mayer, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, who recently arrived from Europe, has gone to Bar Harbor. He was looking well and was much improved by his trip abroad. During the month of August the Baltimore & Ohio received 3,000 more carloads of freight from the West at Locust Point, than ever arrived there before in any one month in the history of the road. The west-bound freight traffic was correspondingly heavy. The passenger busines was all that the company could handle and was very heavy, both through and local.

An Old Firm Assigns.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sep. 7.—The firm of Robert Moore & Co., which has made a deed of trust for the benefit of its creditors to Carl Virter, of New York, is one of the oldest and best known firms of woolen cloth importers in this country. The business was founded in 1838. A member of the firm states that the deed of trust is made in order to liquidate and settle up the business, and that the liabilities of the firm are less than the assets. It is stated that all the firm's liabilities are with New York and European firms.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sep. 7.—The whereabouts of J. B. Shearn and Miss Mary J. Williams, who eloped Saturday, are still unknown. Shearn is a coal operator and Miss Williams is a young society lady but 19 years old. Shearn, who is about 40 years old, has a wife and two children who are at Asbury Park, N. J. Miss Williams is very pretty. Her father is dead and her mother is in Europe. Shearn left a check for $1,000 to be given to his wife when she returned.

Pork Restrictions Officially Rescinded.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—Baron Von Mumm of the German Legation in this city has sent the following telegram from New York to Acting Assistant Wharton: "I have the honor to inform you that the restrictions placed upon the importation of swine and sausages into Germany have been rescinded, provided such meats have been examined according to your law of March 3rd, and according to the regulations of March 27th of this year, and are furnished with proper official certificates."

A Mechanic Cuts His Throat.

SEYMOUR, Conn., Sep. 7.—William Ryan, a mechanic, cut his throat yesterday. He will die. Despondency was the cause of the act.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—You will find everything in notions, at Peck's.

—The grocers' excursion yesterday was a great big success.

—There will be a meeting of the Plainfield Camera Club this evening at 8 o'clock.

—The Hittite Club took their annual outing at Washington Rock, yesterday, and indulged in a shooting match.

—The Plainfield Common Council merely met and adjourned last night. A business session will be held later.

—Ellsworth Cuff, colored, who called Lena Randolph bad names and "choked her near the Quaker church", was fined $5 by Judge Codington.

—Workmen were straightening up the fire-alarm wires Sunday afternoon when one of the wires was broken, and a blow was sent in indicating "break".

—Don't miss "All the Comforts of Home", at Music Hall, this evening. It is the most enjoyable comedy of the year, and one of New York's greatest successes.

—The excursion of the grocers to Boynton Beach yesterday was a great success. Thirteen cars were filled, and there were enough people on the platform to fill at least one car more.

—Those who are at Music Hall this evening, will find the improvements rather in the rough, yet. But all will thoroughly enjoy that most brilliant comedy of the day, "All the Comforts of Home."

—The dance given by the Gesang and Turn Verein, at their hall on Somerset street, last evening, was largely attended, and all apparently enjoyed themselves in dancing to the sweet strains of Reilly's orchestra.

—The record of the city court for yesterday and to-day is as follows: Thomas Conway, intoxicated, $5 fine. Wm. McNamara, same offense, $3 fine. Ellen Sweeny, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, $10 fine. Miles Sweeny, ditto.

—Divorce suits are in progress against Mrs. Wm. B. Avery and John B. Gable. They were instituted by Mr. Avery, the deserted husband, and Mrs. Gable, the deserted wife, respectively. The taking of testimony concerning the elopement of Gable and Mrs. Avery is in progress.

—The large force of carpenters, painters and decorators at work on the interior of Music Hall, makes it possible to reach a point in the reconstruction that will permit the playing of "All the Comforts of Home", this evening. The Hall will then be closed again for two or three weeks probably.

—Ellen Brunn has returned, with the little daughter with whom she ran away, to her husband's home in North Plainfield. She was arrested Saturday on a complaint for disorderly conduct, made by her husband the day before she went away, but justice Crosley found the evidence weak, and discharged her.

—A number of members of the Crescent League are arranging for an extensive clam-bake to be held at Echo Lake next Friday. The gentlemen expect to be accompanied by their wives and sweethearts and as music will be furnished, a delightful day is prayed for, that the reality may equal the expectation.

—Miss F. A. Weeks, the only authorized agent in this locality for the celebrated Wilcox & Gibbs sewing machine, has again begun to canvass for the sale of that machine, on the installment plan, in Plainfield and vicinity. There is no better machine in the market, and the company have in Miss Weeks one of the best of agents.

—It was long after ten o'clock this morning—the time set for the hearing of the case of Saloon Joe Miller against THE PRESS—when the plaintiff made his appearance before Justice Nash. He had no lawyer and begged for an adjournment "because a material witness was out of the State." The Court granted the plea and set the case down again for Tuesday morning of next week at ten o'clock.

Found Dead with the Gas on.

Angie Harris, a colored girl, 16 years of age, in the employ of D. Terriberry of 37 Sandford avenue, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning, with the gas turned on full force. The door and windows were shut tight and fastened, and her employer had to burst in the door.

Dr. D. C. Adams viewed the remains, and they were transferred to Casey's morgue. County Physician Westcott gave a burial permit this morning. The mother of the girl, who lives at Pendletons, Louisa county, Va., was notified, and the remains will be buried to-morrow. No reason for suicide is known.

St. Joseph's Church Fair.

St. Joseph's church fair will open next Thursday in Saenger and Turner Hall, and will continue to and close on Saturday, the 19th inst. Among the many beautiful articles for sale at a bargain are two gold watches, one silver watch, two safety bicycles, one girl's tricycle, a large music-box, playing six popular airs, and an innumerable assortment of other useful and valuable goods. 2t.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 80c.

ANOTHER WILL CONTEST.

T. A. VanZandt's Widow Claims the Entire Estate.

The will of the late Thaddeus Avery VanZandt, who died in this city August 8, and was buried in Trinity churchyard August 11, is to be contested by his widow.

The exact value of Mr. VanZandt's estate is not known, but it included two houses and considerable land at Ocean Grove, the VanZandt residence on Crescent avenue, and quite a large amount in securities.

Mr. VanZandt had also a life interest in valuable property in Brooklyn, but at his death this reverted to Mrs. Henry DuFlon, of Woodland avenue, who was a daughter of Mr. VanZandt by his first wife.

About a year ago Mr. VanZandt deeded his Ocean Grove property to his second wife, and made a will bequeathing his entire estate to her.

The subsequent behavior of Mrs. Van Zandt, it is said, towards himself and daughters, was such as to cause him to make a new will about a month before his death, in which only the one-third of the estate allowed by law was left to Mrs. VanZandt, the balance, including the Crescent avenue property, going to his children. The guardianship of the children is left by the will in charge of Miss Lou VanZandt, the oldest daugher of the second wife.

Mrs. VanZandt, who has been living apart from the family for some time, came from Ocean Grove and stopped at the home of her counsel, W. K. McClure, during the closing days of Mr. VanZandt's illness. She went to the house the day of the funeral, and has since been living at Ocean Grove.

Her protest against the final will of her late husband is that Mr. VanZandt was not of sound mind when the will was made, and that undue influence was used by the daughters in the making of the will. She therefore claims the entire estate and the guardianship of the children, as under the terms of the old will.

Just what advantage Mrs. VanZandt seeks to gain by the contest is not clear, as in acquiring the Ocean Grove property alone she has fared better than her daughters have. The Crescent avenue property was quite heavily mortgaged by Mr. VanZandt to purchase one of the Ocean Grove houses to suit Mrs. VanZandt's whim, and the burden of that mortgage of course falls on the children to whom the Crescent avenue property has been bequeathed. The children are all of age except Gracie, and the guardianship of them brings no financial benefit to the guardian. One of Mr. VanZandt's reasons for deciding that the sister was more competent than the mother to care for Gracie was, it is said, because Mrs. VanZandt insists on a fruit diet for Gracie in spite of the physicians' protest, while Miss Lou is careful to heed medical advice in the matter.

The VanZandt daughters were found to be unwilling to talk about the case, but from reliable authority it is learned that the attitude of Mrs. VanZandt towards her husband and daughters was for months very unpleasant, and that the resulting discord caused the change of will. A friend of the family thinks that Mrs. VanZandt's object is mainly to cause trouble for the daughters in getting the property which she believes she ought to have, but Mrs. VanZandt is quoted as being sincere in the belief that Mr. VanZandt was of unsound mind when the will was made. It is alleged that she said: "If I believed that Mr. VanZandt was in his right mind when he made the new will cutting me off with merely what the law allows, I should not wear mourning for him; but I sincerely believe that he was weak and under the influence of others, and did not know what he was doing."

The surviving children of Mr. VanZandt by his second wife are: Mrs. H. L. Montague (maiden name Estelle), a son Ernest, and the unmarried daughters Louise, Elsie, Jennie and Gracie. The executors under the will are the daughters Estelle and Louise, and counselor J. B. Coward.

One of the witnesses to the will was Dr. O. L. Jenkins, who, it is said, will testify that Mr. VanZandt was perfectly sound in mind when making the will. Dr. C. M. Field also is reported as being ready to give similar evidence. The daughters, it is said, knew nothing of the contents of the will before it was made, and hence could not have exercised undue influence.

An attempt is said to have been made by disinterested parties to have Mrs. VanZandt abandon her contest, and a paper was drawn up for her to sign, announcing her acquiescence in the terms of the new will; but she has declared her intention of going on with the contest, and the courts will therefore have to settle the matter, which will naturally cause great unpleasantness to the sensitive and refined daughters of the lamented Mr. VanZandt.

For the Honor and Protection of the Worthy.

A few days ago THE PRESS referred to the organization, in Washington, of a society of veterans of the war for the purpose of reforming the pension system. The New York Herald, referring to this organization, says:

Such an organization has long been needed as a sentinel on which the anti-pension swindle sentiment of the old army can rally. Many thousands of veterans feel keenly the degradation to which the scramble for pensions has brought good and bad alike, and they would like to put themselves on record against soldiering for revenue only. Money alone paid no man worth living for risking his life in the field, nor can any possible pension make the compensation sufficient. No one opposes the pensioning of veterans who are needy and helpless, but there, say many wounded survivors of the war, the pension list should stop.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Hillside Players Do Good Work at the Nets and Enjoy a Tea.

The first annual handicap tournament of the Hillside Tennis club was opened at the club-house grounds Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Despite the unpleasantness of the weather, the number of spectators was large. There was considerable fine playing, which was rewarded by generous applause. The results of the day's sport were as follows:

A. Cox beat A. R. Dilts 6—0; 4—6; 6—4.
H. West beat E. S. Simpson, 6—0; 6—2.
H. Beebe beat S. West 6—2; 6—4.
H. Huntington beat S. A. Cruikshank by default.
G. P. Mellick beat C. A. Marvin 7—5; 6—1.
J. P. Murray beat H. D. Morrison 6—4; 4—6; 6—3.
R. A. Beebe beat C. E. Schneely by default.
H. West beat H. W. Stover 6—0; 6—1.
J. Wharton beat G. W. Morrison by default.
H. G. Squires beat I. West 7—5; 6—1.
J. Wharton beat G. P. Mellick 6—4; unfinished.
A. Cox beat R. A. Beebe 6—4; 4—3; unfinished.

At the usual Saturday afternoon tea the guests were received by Mrs. S. Seabury Guion, who was assisted by Miss Bain, Miss Burt, Miss Ginna and Miss Lawrence. Among those present were: Miss Kitty Stewart, the Misses Hunter, the Misses Tweedy, the Misses VanBoskerck, Miss Borden, Miss Schneely, Miss Streull, Miss Allen, Miss Lena Hart, Mrs. DeWitte C. Ivins, Mrs. F. O. Cokefair, Mrs. Theo. Miller, Mrs. W. L. Patton, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Truman, Mr. Salstonstall, Maj. Robert L. Burnett, Dexter O. Tiffany, Charles King, J. Evarts Tracy, jr., Daniel Ginna.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Julia E. Bulkley now rides from school to school on a Columbia bicycle.

Frank L. C. Martin, the Columbia bicycle man, is at Hartford, Conn., for a week.

Mrs. S. A. Meader, of Evona, is recovering from an illness bordering on typhoid fever.

Mrs. M. Snyder, of 517 Grand street, Brooklyn, is the guest of A. B. Carpenter, 230 East Front street.

The Rev. Dr. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, of this city, have been registered at Mt. Pocono for a few days.

John P. Munn, of this city, is among those recently registered at the Darrow House, Richfield Springs.

The Rev. B. Fay Mills is expected to conduct evangelistic services in Elizabeth for three weeks in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Clark of East Fifth street, are spending a week's autumnal outing among friends.

Miss Beulah E. VanLiew has returned to her home, 95 West Fourth street, after a week's vacation in the country.

Charlie, the youngest son of street commissioner Meeker, is slowly convalescing from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

The death occurred yesterday of Arthur, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O. Staats, at their home on West Second street.

B. A. Hegeman, of North Plainfield, general traffic manager of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway, is, with his family, at Mt. Pocono.

Stanley Day, advertising agent, of New Market, has an interesting article concerning "The 'Novelty' Advertiser", in the current issue of Printers' Ink.

The sympathy of a host of friends is with George Wharton Edwards in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Malcolmson Edwards, who died at Bridgeport last week Saturday.

Foster Milliken, of Sycamore avenue, is still seriously ill with typhoid fever at Lake Minnewaska. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Milliken, jr., of Central avenue, and his brother, Edward Milliken, are with him, and a trained nurse has been sent.

Notes from the Pond Works.

During the past week the Pond Machine Tool Works have been busy every evening until 9:30, on account of rushing to completion the large government lathes now under construction.

The foundry also has been working nights for the same cause, and both will probably continue during the fall and winter.

The large planer casting (40 tons) will be brought into the machine shop this week for finishing and erecting, and will be the largest and heaviest planer ever made in this country, if not the largest in the World.

Last Friday, Duffy, a helper, had his hand caught in a chain while hoisting a casting with one of the cranes, but with great presence of mind he shouted, and the crane was stopped before any serious damage was done. His cries attracted quite a crowd of workmen, and the president, Mr. Pond.

Business seems to be steadily on the increase, and a few new hands are being hired.

Foreman Chas. Foster is everywhere, and under his direction the large shops are turning out more work than ever.

John H. Roberts, of West Third street, became the happy father of a girl last week, and his broad smile lightened the machine shop to such a degree that the arc electric light paled in comparison.

A stage runs night and morning for the boys, but last Friday night the only passengers were store-keeper Smith, foreman Varney, and Sam. Clouston.

Aug., "	2,678 54	Aug., "	836 43

The amounts of delinquent taxes returned were: Jan. 1, 1891, taxes for 1890, $38,495 61. Jan. 1, 1890, taxes for 1889, $25,567 45.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires's Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25-cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Almost a Riot.

LEBANON, Pa., Sep. 7.—The affray between Special Officer Johnson, his son George and two non-union men employed in Leight's rolling mill on the one side, and a number of strikers on the other, almost assumed the proportions of a riot. The police had great difficulty in quelling the disturbance. The Johnsons were nearly killed during the melee. Isaac Reed, Ed McLaughlin, Lewis Ricker and John Weller of the strikers have been arrested.

The Bodies Recovered.

THOMASTON, Conn., Sep. 7.—The bodies of the two daughters of Henry Hughes, Ellen, aged ten, and Catharine, aged four, which were found in the Naugatuck river near Waterbury, have been brought here. The girls wandered away from home, and in some manner were drowned.

Will Examine Philadelphia Bankers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 7.—On the 17th of this month the joint commission of the State Legislature appointed to investigate the State Treasury will examine several Philadelphia bank presidents, the bondsmen of State Treasurer Boyer and District-Attorney Graham. At the meeting in Harrisburg the Auditor-General and his accounts will be investigated.

Colored Cotton Pickers Organize.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sep. 7.—It is said that the colored cotton pickers have organized, and that they have agreed not to pick cotton after Sept. 10 for less than $1 per 100 pounds and board. This organization has been perfected through the Colored Alliance, and now numbers more than 800,000 members, with thousands being added every day throughout the Southern States.

Baron Hirsch's Latest Scheme.

LONDON, Sep. 7.—Baron Hirsch, the Jewish philanthropist, has signed a notorial deed empowering his representatives to expend £2,000,000 for the purchase of land and the location of colonies in the Argentine Republic.

Rumored Arrest of Train Robbers.

STOCKTON, Cal., Sep. 7.—It is reported that the Ceres train robbers have been captured near Newton, this State, by a posse. The report cannot be confirmed.

Bicycle Races Postponed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sep. 6.—The bicycle races of the Rhode Island wheelmen which were prevented Saturday by rain will take place next Saturday.

Turrets for Fort York.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sep. 7.—The military authorities have decided to place two revolving turrets at Fort York redoubt. One will be placed at the southern extremity of the fort and the other at the northern end. Each turret will be made of stone and will hold four sixty-ton guns.

Pugilist Wilson in the East.

BOSTON, Sep. 7.—Billy Wilson, champion pugilist of the Northwest, is in this city. He says he is ready to make a match with Godfrey, Lannon, Jim Shea, of Wichita, Kan., or Patsy Cardiff, and that any time or place will suit him.

Several Buildings Burned.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sep. 7.—The house, barn and out buildings on the Elias Perkins estate were burned during the morning. Loss, $20,000; insurance partial.

Declared Insolvent.

DEDHAM, Mass., Sep. 7.—The Ureka Silk Manufacturing Company of Canton have had warrants of insolvency issued against them. A meeting of creditors will be held at Dedham, September 28.

Determined to See the Fair.

CHICAGO, Sep. 7.—Colonel Elliott F. Shepard of the New York Mail and Express, has engaged for himself and a dozen or more friends the largest parlor in the Auditorium Hotel, capable of seating 200 people, and fifteen bedrooms on the first floor, for the entire period during which the Columbian Exposition will last. The cost of the accommodations, it is said, will amount to something like $25,000.

New Bids to Be Invited.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 6.—Architect Edbrooks will issue this week a circular letter to the bidders who submitted proposals for erecting the government buildings at Chicago, inviting them to submit new bids on the amended specifications, a copy of which will be furnished each of the original bidders.

Lady Managers Favor Closing Sunday.

CHICAGO, Sep. 6.—After a long and earnest discussion the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair, by a vote of 56 to 36, has passed a resolution in favor of the closing of the World's Fair on Sundays.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. We Struck a Bargain
And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.
The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

THREE BALL MATCHES.

The Crescents Win Two from the Star Athletics, but Are Shut Out by George Cadmus and His Team.

Yesterday morning, nine men in black suits and red stockings danced and cavorted around on the Crescent League base-ball grounds for about two hours. They kicked, they yelled, they did the dirtiest things in the annals of the game, but it was no go—at the end of nine innings of agony, the score was 5 to 2, and the Crescents had the 5.

These nine fiendish maniacs were presumably from the tenth ward of Newark, and they called themselves the Star Athletics, but in reality they came from most anywhere else than the tenth ward. Hetzel, their pitcher, while he did not prove an enigma to the Crescent's batsmen, still had very good control of the ball and held them down to eight scattering hits. The errors of the Stars were responsible for four of the runs.

The game opened by the Crescents making two complete circuits of the bases. With two men out, Tierney secured first on a force hit, then Keeler hit safely, and as Moran made a rocky fumble of Mac's hit, and Hetzel gave his opponent in the box four bad ones, both runs came in. The game was not a pretty one to look at, there was too much (to be real base-ballical) "chewing the rag", on the part of the Stars, and at sundry and divers times the whole team, led by Jack Farrell, would rush in surrounding umpire Berriman, for a time making his very life miserable. It was at one of these times that Keeler made the star play of the day. He hit one to Moran but as the ball went slowly he easily secured his base. Then Farrell came in to tell Hetzel how he should strike McIndoe out. He told him right enough, but while he was doing so, Keeler stole second amid the wild yells of the home rooters.

It may be said right here that it was the first time Jack Farrel has ever been guilty of conduct as ungentlemanly as he showed yesterday morning. He is—as a rule—very quiet in his demeanor, and certainly never offensive, but in yesterday's game he was both noisy and offensive, so much so that he not only disgusted the spectators but the players as well. In playing on the West End team he has never shown such a spirit, and it is reasonable to suppose that he was under the influence of something other than base-ball fever.

The other runs of the Crescents were made in the seventh and ninth, on three hits, a base on balls and a couple of errors. The only men of the "Stars" to cross the rubber were Lowrie and Leidy, and they did so on three hits and an error of Billy Lee's. Leidy, who played centre field, made the most remarkable play ever seen on the grounds, and it happened in this manner. In the third inning Tierney hit the ball safely, and was followed by Keeler who sent a sky-scraper into centre field. Leidy started after it, and after a run of fully two hundred feet, caught the ball about a foot from the ground. He was going with such speed that he could n't stop and he fell, turning completely over. Tierney had nearly reached second, but as the ball was caught he turned and started back. Leidy sprang to his feet and by the prettiest kind of a throw got the ball to first ahead of Tierney, thus completing alwonderfully brilliant double play.

Tierney, by the way, is looked upon by a great many as a back-number twirler, but he is not. Although he has not pitched for two years, he went into the box and for seven innings there were only two hits off his delivery and those were scratch hits by Farrell and Leidy. He struck out 14. Thus endeth the first lesson. A man who can pitch like that is fit indeed to try his powers against the West End team. Let the management put him in for 6 or 7 innings and see if he won't make monkeys out of Harkins's heavy hitters.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Crescents	2 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1—5

The Crescent League base-ball team has played three games since the last issue of THE PRESS, and has won two of them. These two were both against the Star Athletics of Newark, that have ever before given the Crescents the greatest struggles of the year.

The game lost was against pitcher George Cadmus, ex-Grand-Stand Pet of Plainfield, and eight other members of the Crescent Athletic club of Brooklyn. It was the finest exhibition of sharp fielding and battery work on both sides, that has ever been seen in this city. Only one run was made, and that on an error of Holly's, who let a thrown ball through his hands in among the horses in right foul field. Fauss, who would have been out, got to third on the error, and came home on a hit of Ford's that was just one-eighth of an inch inside of the foul line as it crossed the first bag.

The bright, particular feature of the day was Cadmus's pitching. He shut his old nine out. But three hits were made off him—one each by Jones, Lufbery and Keeler. He struck out seven. He gave but one base on balls, and that he did purposely because he did not want to strike his friend Billy Lee out the first time he came to the bat. He put two strikes on Lee and then pitched four awful bad ones. After that, every time Lee came to the plate he banged at the air and sat down again.

Hammill pitched a good game, too. When he went to the bat in the seventh inning, however, he was struck in the back of the head by a pitched ball, and laid off for the day. Tierney succeeded him in the box and, as in the morning, the batters could not find him.

Of the two games that were won, that of Saturday afternoon was not particularly interesting except for the heavy hitting on the part of the Crescents. The only run made by the opponents was by Yahn, who got his base by being hit.

ANOTHER CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

Westfield Forfeits a Game to Somerville, and the Latter Creeps Nearer Plainfield.

The tenth game in the championship series between Plainfield, Somerville and Westfield, was played by the last two teams at Somerville, Saturday. The game was forfeited to the Somerville club by the score of 9 to 0, because the Westfields left the field and refused to finish the game.

Not only was this a baby act, but a foolish one, also. The Westfields had one run, one man on first and only one out in their half of the seventh inning, when they left the grounds. They were hitting Harkins and in a fair way to win. But because a decision of Faas's did not suit them, like a lot of babies they got mad and would n't play.

In the first part of the same inning they made their first kick. Leidy made a long hit to left field that was fair by ten feet at least. Two runs came in and Westfield claimed the ball struck foul and bounded fair. In their half of the inning O'Rourke was on first base when McManus hit to Carbonell. The latter threw the ball to Farrell who touched second base and O'Rourke was out on the force before he reached the bag. This decision Westfield not allow (nobody knows why) and left the field. Harkins pitched a half-dozen balls across the plate, and Faas then declared the game in favor of the Somervilles by the score of 9 to 0. The score up to the time the game stopped, was:

Prominent Visitors at Dunellen.

Among the many guests stopping at Dunellen, are Mr. and Mrs. Kopp, of Boonton, who are on their wedding trip.

About a fortnight ago John. I. Kopp, a prominent business man and mayor of Boonton, and Mrs. Harriet E. Jacobus, widow of the late N. N. Jacobus, also of Boonton, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, in the Calvary church, at Newburgh on the Hudson.

After the ceremony the bride and groom took the train for Long Branch, where they stopped at a prominent hotel until about a week ago, when they went to Dunellen.

Mrs. Kopp is a very handsome and refined woman, and a most excellent conversationalist. She says that she spent a delightful week at Long Branch and is also much pleased with her Dunellen visit.

Mrs. W. H. Taylor of Taylor's Hotel is a niece of Mr. Kopp.

The bride and groom will leave Dunellen to-morrow for Mountain View, and after a short stay there they will return to Boonton, where a magnificent home is in waiting for them.

Shiloh's Cough Cure

This is beyon question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N. J.

DUNELLEN DOINGS.

Interesting Items from a Thriving Borough by Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Bertie Goodwin, of Brooklyn, is visiting Mrs. James Lowrie.

Frank Tinsman and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Giles.

A number of young people from New York city, Brooklyn, and other places, met at the home of Mrs. Truss last Saturday evening, the occasion being a barn party. A number of Dunellen's elite were present. Music was furnished by N. H. Guttman of Plainfield.

John Taylor, while driving to Boynton Beach yesterday, stopped his horse suddenly, and parties driving behing him ran into one of his wheels and smashed it. Mr. Taylor was fortunate enough to secure another wagon and be able to proceed upon his trip.

Everybody went on the grocers' excursion yesterday, and all had a good time.

To-morrow THE PRESS will publish a copy of the subscription list for the jail fund. Order THE PRESS of the newsboys, and see what has been done. Read THE PRESS and get all of the Dunellen news.

A Botch of an Inquest.

The New Brunswick Home News unites with THE PRESS in its opinion of the recent inquest farce at South Plainfield. It says:

"There has been much complaint about the manner in which the inquest was held over the body of the unknown man found in John I. Holly's pond at New Brooklyn, and the glaring neglect perpetrated by the county authorities. Every New York, Plainfield and other paper that had representatives on the scene has denounced the neglect and carelessness that has characterized the investigation.

The fact is that with the exception of the scrap of paper found on the dead man, recommending Michael Hoffman as good hand, and signed by Francis Engel, there was nothing whatever to connect, either nearly or remotely, the body with Michael Hoffman.

If the bargain hinted at was made with Katie Hoffman in order to induce her to pay the expenses of the inquest and burial, it is a wrong to the county of Middlesex that should be promptly investigated, and the guilty parties should not be permitted to go unpunished. If even a moiety of what has been asserted in half a dozen or more respectable journals is true, the whole investigation has been a botch from beginning to end, and it should be made over again with a view to getting at the facts."

Murder of a Beautiful Society Girl!

For the past few days a great deal of comment has been occasioned by the mysterious disappearance of a a beautiful young girl, the daughter of one of our wealthiest and most exclusive families. Now comes the rumor that she has been murdered.

Most startling of all is the report that one of the city's wealthiest young men has been arrested for the crime. By request of powerful and influential friends of the parties concerned, the police absolutely refuse any information at present, but the inner history of this mysterious occurrence is fully narrated in "The Shadow Detective", by Old Sleuth; issued to-day in "The Calumet Series." Ask your newsdealer to let you look at a copy.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

AN ORDINANCE

Dividing the Borough of North Plainfield into two election districts.

Whereas, The Borough of North Plainfield, as manifested at the last Borough election held therein, contains more than six hundred voters; now, therefore,

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Borough of North Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts, to be known hereafter as the First Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield, and the Second Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield.

Section 2. The First Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situated on the northwesterly side of an imaginary line beginning at the centre of Stony brook where the same empties into green brook; thence up the centre of Stony brook to the centre of Stiger's bridge; thence easterly along the centre of Rockview avenue to the centre of Mercer avenue; thence along the centre of Mercer avenue to the centre of Grove street; thence along the centre of Grove street to the centre of Emily street; thence along the centre of Emily street to the centre of Somerset street; thence along the centre of Somerset street to the centre of Race street; thence along the centre of Race street to the centre of Warren street; thence along the centre of Warren street to the centre of Manning avenue; thence along the centre of Manning avenue to the centre of Richmond street; thence along the centre of Richmond street to the centre of Green brook, and there to end.

Section 3. The Second Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the southeasterly side of the imaginary line aforesaid.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect on the eighteenth day of September, A. D., 1891.

BLAINE'S DOUBLE.

It Was It That Had the "Dropping Jaws" and "Staring Eyes."

The Secretary of State Denies Any Acquaintance with a Half-Spanish—A Would-Be McAllister—Remarks About Hotel Service.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

The eyes of the world are on Bar Harbor just now. It is well aware of its own importance, and having had greatness thrust upon it, conducts itself with becoming hauteur. It holds its head well up and looks with superb contempt upon Narragansett and even begins to eye Newport with condescending glances.

Small wonder that it values itself higher. Looking about noting the beauty of this marvelous isle; glancing from the limpid, turquois waters of Frenchman's bay to the emerald circle of the rocky hills; drinking in the ozone of its atmosphere, one is ready to agree with that writer who said: "No other island that was ever planted in the sea can equal this."

The greatest attraction of the place is that you can get away from the crowds, the noise and the whirl into the very heart of the wilderness. Bar Harbor is a fashionable resort. There are many smart people here, but they have not yet absorbed the individuality of the place. Unlike Newport, Bar Harbor has not yet been polished to the height of artificial perfection. There are the forests and the mountains for those who love the solitary fastnesses of nature. Though here are superbly built roads, affording at every time bewitching views of sea, hills and valleys, there is no one drive where at a certain hour you must be seen to preserve your social standing. Nor is Bar Harbor as yet only a resort for the wealthy. Quiet people, invalids, people of moderate circumstances can all find distinct and separate enjoyment and rest here.

The nearest approach to Newport life is found in the vicinity of Eden street. Here are the beautiful cottages, whose luxury and comfort are fast driving out hotel life at Bar Harbor. Here is the Malvern, known as the "Squirrel inn" of the town, inasmuch as it is rumored that in order to have your name inscribed upon its register it must be vised by a Philadelphia real estate dealer, a Mr. De Grasse Fox, who aspires to be the Ward McAllister of Bar Harbor. Here are the homes of the Romeroys, the Joneses, the Barneys, the Scotts and other millionaires. Senator Lispenhard Stuart has a cottage in this neighborhood, Dr. Tod Helmuth and many other well-known New Yorkers.

The Louisberg and the St. Sauver are also hostelries for such as ride in chaises. There is a hotel here named the Des Isle, which the natives persist in calling the "Desizzle." Then there is the Rodick!

Rodick's is a synonym for Bar Harbor. The Rodick family has possessed the land hereabouts for many years. It still holds nearly all the water front which it will not sell at any price. The Rodicks built a huge caravansary capable of accommodating over five hundred people. It is beautifully situated, commanding superb views of Green mountain and the bay. It has most marvelous decorations. Its peacock blue and pink tints would make the Newport aesthetics swoon. The hotel was made famous by Charles Dudley Warner, who spoke tenderly of it in one of his charming books. I fear if Charles should tarry there now he would sing another ditty. The Rodicks are rich and careless. You must look after yourself, your goods and chattels the best you can when you go there, for no one else will. Among the features of this great hotel is an elevator without any bell. Should you wish to ride you must grasp the iron door and wildly shake it and beat upon it. After you have bruised your fist and aired your choicest English, you may succeed in attracting the attention of some one on the office floor. The head waiter, an engaging individual who allows you to wander about the vast dining-room and drop into any seat you choose, spends a good share of his time behind the counter in the office, visiting with the clerk, while idle waitresses stand about in the dining-room and allow guests to get up and wait on themselves. The Rodick beds are harder than the rocks against which the waters of the bay dash. After you have worried through a night on one of them you are thoroughly prepared to sleep on a plank, a board, a stone pavement or the floor of a dungeon cell. There are any number of smaller hotels and boarding houses where one can obtain good living at reasonable rates.

Driving is the paramount attraction at Bar Harbor. Everybody drives. There are a few elegant turnouts, as complete and correct as anyone can see on Ocean avenue in Newport, but the summer visitors go in mainly for buckboards and "cutunders." The "cutunder" is a vehicle indigenous to Bar Harbor. It is a curious affair, something akin to the Parisian Victoria, and very comfortable. But the buckboard is the conveyance par excellence of the resort. One who connects the name with a rude affair consisting of a couple of planks stretched between two pairs of wheels should see a really truly Bar Harbor buckboard with its yellow tints and gray velvet cushions, a model of elegance and ease. Driving is a cheap recreation at this resort, the livery rates being very reasonable, and the drives are beyond description. Nothing more beautiful can be imagined than the Corniche or the Ocean drive. Here one has everything—sea, rocks, forests, dales and mountains to look upon. When one wearies of riding, one leaves the buckboard and goes down to view the wonderful Thunder cave or the equally wonderful Ovens, beaten out of the cliffs by the fury of the sea. The drives to Eagle lake, Schooner head and Somerville are equally delightful.

Of course everybody wants to see Mr. Blaine's cottage. Now don't be frightened. I am not going into that great man's symptoms to tell you that he is on the brink of the tomb or that he is a giant in his strength. One can believe anything from the reports industriously sent out only two of which are authentic. I am in a position to state that the only newspaper people who have seen Mr. Blaine are Miss Helen A. Smith, the editor of the Bar Harbor Record, and a celebrated New York correspondent. Miss Smith had the first interview. Miss Smith, a dainty, fragile little lady, who gets through a monstrous amount of work, is a friend of the Blaines and was given the first audience on that account. As to the stories which have been sent over the country to the effect that a young and beautiful half-French, half-Spanish girl, Margarita Arlina Hamm by name, is Mr. Blaine's mouthpiece, a relative of Mrs. Blaine and a pet of Bar Harbor exclusives, they are absolute rubbish.

Mr. Blaine plaintively and quite impatiently asked of a friend yesterday: "Who is this woman who is sending out these stories?" and most emphatically denied any acquaintance with her.

There is an old gentleman here, the father of Mr. Nathan Mathews, the mayor of Boston, who resembles Mr. Blaine a trifle, and who rather enjoys the distinction. Mr. Mathews met with an accident which made it necessary for him to have his face bandaged for several days. A wicked newspaper man put the representative of a rival journal on this old gentleman's trail, and the deceived scribe followed him about for days under the impression that he was the secretary of state. Meantime, in his paper constantly appeared startling telegrams about Mr. Blaine's "livid color," "dropping jaws," "staring eyes," and so on.

Mr. Blaine's home, "Stanwood," is a commodious and comfortable villa, surrounded by large trees and pleasant grounds. James G. Blaine, Jr., is one of the attractions here, beautiful to look upon in the immaculate purity of his flannels, canvas shoes and silk outing shirt. From top to toe he is a symphony in white. Mrs. Emmons Blaine drives about in a yellow buckboard, dressed in a pretty costume of white serge and wearing a white sailor hat. Mrs. Damrosch is devoted to simple white muslin gowns.

The Indian encampment is quite a favored resort for the summer visitors. It is on the outskirts of the town, and here the girls come to buy sweet scented baskets and birch bark canoes. The pretty stories of their mystic snake dances are, however, cunning fakes. The Indians are so quiet that many visitors do not hear of their presence.

"Have you seen any Indians?" I heard one young dude anxiously ask another. "Naw—not a whoop have I heard," was the mournful answer, "and I'm real mad. I fancied the woods were full of them."

CAN
WINCHENDON, MASS., Feb. 19, 1890.
F. E. C. Medicine Co.:
I had been afflicted for a long time with a severe kidney trouble. I was so bad I was unable to work more than three months in the year. Had used a good many medicines but failed to get any relief. At last, about two years ago, I commenced using the F. E. C. Kidney, Blood and Liver Remedy. From the first LIFT
YOU
it commenced to help me, and with the use of three bottles I was cured and am now well and able to do the heaviest kind of work. My business is moving pianos and heavy boxes. To any one suffering with Kidney trouble, I say, by all means try the F.E.C. Remedy. LEMING GALE.

The F. E. C. Remedy is taking the lead of all others, however want of circulation is the only remedy for Sour Blood. Send for circulars. All druggists: $1 per bottle; six for $5.

BEWARE OF PARALYSIS!
Dr. Comfort's little "Compills" are a sure preventative. Do you have dizzy spells or a feeling of numbness, or want of circulation? Do not delay; get "Compills." They are made from roots and herbs. If not kept by your druggist, send 25 cents to the F. E. C. Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y., and the "Compills" will be sent by mail.

For sale by H. A. DRAW, Druggist.

JONES' OPEN LETTER

New York's Lieut.-Governor Writes to Mr. Cleveland.

HE WARNS THE EX-PRESIDENT.

A Claim that His Friends Are Interfering in the State Campaign.

Accused of Advancing the Interests of Congressman Flower for Governor—A Vigorous Protest Against the Aggressive Power of Wealth, Debauching the Political Morals of the People, etc.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 9.—The following open letter is published by a paper in this city:

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 8.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, New York.

SIR: Excuse my addressing you through the "press," but as the subject considered is one in which the public is greatly interested, I deem it proper to do so.

It is understood that you are a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1892. This renders it not only proper, but incumbent upon you to take all honorable means to protect your interests, and prevent your friends from complicating you in alliances which may result to your injury. Your friends are taking active interest in our State campaign and are freely using your name in their support of Mr. Flower.

Your strength as a Presidential candidate lies in your strength with the masses, the wage-earners, the toilers and producers. They are a large majority of the people in this country, and they are not in sympathy with the class of people whom Mr. Flower represents.

The movement "along the line," manifesting itself in alliances, leagues, various combinations and organizations, as well as the free expression of the people in "daily talk," is a protest against the aggressive power of wealth, now accomplishing its purpose by its free use in debauching the political morals of the people. Yours truly,

EDWARD F. JONES.

THE ROCHESTER CONVENTION.

New York Republicans Meet To-Day to Nominate State Officers.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 9.—The Fassett boom is carrying everything before it here and his name will probably be the first on the State ticket to be nominated to-night or to-morrow.

Shortly before noon West Washington rink was crowded and at 12 o'clock the State Convention was called to order.

Prayer was offered by Rev. H. H. Stebbins, after which William W. Goodrich of Brooklyn was elected temporary chairman. He appointed the standing committees on contested seats, platform and permanent organization.

The convention then took a recess till later in the afternoon. There are only two contests, one in Senaca County and one in Chemung, both of which will, it is expected, be made short work of.

The platform will commend Harrison's administration and will praise Blaine's foreign policy in equally strong terms. This will give the delegates a chance to show their preferences for Blaine or Harrison.

The strongest plank will be that in favor of the McKinley tariff, and much space will be devoted to it. Credit will be claimed for the Republican party in reducing the rate of State taxation. Free silver will be denounced.

Sued for Ejecting a Count.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Count Eugene Logotheth, a member of one the most distinguished families of Hungary, has brought suit for $5,000 damages against Col. Sinn of the Park Theatre, Brooklyn. The Count states that on April 6 he was forcibly ejected from the lobby of the theatre, where he was standing, waiting for a friend who was purchasing tickets. He resisted the expulsion, and was arrested and confined in a cell at the police station until he was bailed out by the Austrian Consul-General, Mr. Politchek, who is one of his friends. The suit will be tried next term of the United States Circuit Court.

Odd Fellows in Session.

CARLISLE, Pa., Sep. 9.—The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of District No. 1, comprising the State of Pennsylvania, in convention, here elected R. H. Bumary of Allegheny City, chairman; Patterson Holland, vice-president; J. M. Stafford of Marietta, secretary; W. H. Bishop of Philadelphia, assistant secretary, and Rev. W. H. Davis of Philadelphia, chaplain. Grand Master W. T. T. Forrester of Richmond, Va., reached this city last night.

Will Try to Oust the Priest.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Sep. 9.—The warring factions of the Greek Catholic Church here have combined and resolved to oust Rev. Andru Boviozo. The latter has been suspended by the Archbishop, but refuses to surrender until he is paid $1,900, which he claims he invested in the church property. He has enlisted a corps of special police, armed with Winchester rifles, and declares he will hold the church, come what may.

Rev. Dr. Bausman's Loyalty in Doubt.

ROCHESTER, Pa., Sep. 9.—At the meeting of the Allegheny Presbytery, held at Leetsdale, Pa., a committee was appointed to investigate the Rev. Mr. Bausman's loyalty to the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church. The committee will begin the investigation next week. The Rev. Bausman is an earnest supporter of the "Dr. Briggs' Doctrine."

ADMIRES AMERICANS.

Our Business Tactics Praised By the Earl of Aberdeen.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 9.—The Earl of Aberdeen, now a guest of Dr. Seward Webb in the White Mountains, is a great lover of Americans and their business qualifications. Speaking the other day to a reporter here he said:

"In England we are always surprised that with the immense capital employed in your business there are so few labor disturbances, and that when happening they are so quickly and amicably adjusted. I wish that the keen, cool judgement of your Chauncey Depew, and other American business masters could be indoctrinated in England.

"There is, and will be always in Great Britain, a deep and proud love of her American cousins, and the pride is greater yet when there come over to us such grand men as your Lowell and Phelps and Lincoln."

PENSION APPROPRIATIONS.

Commissioner Raum Says There is a Surplus of Something Like $8,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 9.—Pension Commissioner Raum says that instead of asking Congress for a deficiency in pension appropriations he will report a surplus of something like $8,000,000.

The deficiency made good by Congress last winter aggregated $31,000,000 and the last pension appropriation appears to have exceeded the requirements to the amount of $8,000,000, which was due to over-estimates of the cost of the General Dependent Pension law.

Big Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—The fire in the immense five-story storage warehouse of R. C. Layton, at 63 and 64 South street, yesterday afternoon, gutted three buildings before it was got under control. Five firemen were burned, two of them very seriously. At least 50 business houses had goods on storage in the building and among the contents were chemicals, drugs, jute, teas, spices, shellac and a variety of general merchandize. The loss is estimated by R. C. Layton at $250,000.

Inventor Kniffs' Success.

BOSTON, Sep. 9.—Inventor James Kniffs and his associates, who have just gained from the United States Court in New York an important decision establishing their right to recover royalties from New York city for the use of a patent valve on fire engines, brought a similar suit against this city in 1844, but an agreement was reached, the plaintiff getting a judgment of $1,000. The city of Worcester also settled its suit on the same basis.

A Keystone Bank Witness in Wisconsin.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 9.—A special from Milwaukee says: It is learned that ex-State Treasurer William Livesey of Pennsylvania, who is wanted in Philadelphia to testify in the Keystone Bank investigation, has been migrating between Watertown, Wis., and this city for the past three weeks visiting his daughters. He was last seen here Sunday night. His relatives here refuse to make a statement of any kind.

World's Fair Appointments.

CHICAGO, Sep. 9.—President Potter Palmer has appointed among others the following permanent Commissioners on Legislation of World's Fair: W. A. Van Gorton, J. W. Woodside, Pa.; Miss F. W. Breed, Mass., and A. A. Wilson, District of Columbia. The committee will go before Congress and make arguments for the $5,000,000 loan.

Death of an Old Wilmington Man.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sep. 9.—Charles Warner, aged 75 years, a retired merchant, for many years at the head of the coal and transportation firm which still bears his name, died here last evening. The firm of the Charles Warner Company has been in existence under different names since 1794.

Pilgrims Before the Pope.

ROME, Sep. 9.—Great interest is manifested in the French workingmen's pilgrimage, which takes place this month, and to which 20,000 workmen will participate. The pilgrims will be accompanied by Count de Mun, who will read an address to Pope Leo XIII.

The Park Place Investigation.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Judge Fitzgerald, in his charge to the grand jury, referred to the Park Place disaster, and in conclusion said he hoped the jury would co-operate with the District-Attorney in all proper and vigorous steps for the enforcement of the laws to secure public safety and protection of life.

Backer Will Be Prosecuted.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Abram Backer, the note broker, who recently failed for a large amount under circumstances which his creditors consider suspicious, will be indicted and prosecuted.

The President Goes Gunning To-day.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 9.—The President left this morning on a gunning expedition for shore birds, over at Higbee's beach.

THE MAYOR'S ERROR

He Knocked Down an Editor and Regrets the Act.

AN APOLOGY TO THE PUBLIC.

Newcastle's Chief Magistrate Humbly Asks the Citizens to Forgive Him.

He Authorizes the Chief of Police to See that He Pays the Penalty for Violating the City Ordinance—The Offended Editor Entreated to Sue for Damages—Contrition All Around.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Sep. 9.—An amusing incident has been added to the street fight in which Mayor John B. Brown knocked down J. E. Leslie, editor of a Sunday paper here, for publishing certain articles reflecting on the Rev. Mr. Squeir, of whose church Mayor Brown is a leading member.

The following card issued by Mayor Brown has increased the interest in the affair.

Mayor Brown's Card.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEWCASTLE:—Realizing the disgrace brought upon myself and the city by my conduct in the assault made by me upon J. E. Leslie on Monday, I wish in this public manner to confess that I committed a sin against God, a crime against the laws of the commonwealth and city ordinances, and a wrong against Mr Leslie which even the publication of the many scurrillous articles that have appeared in the 'Graphic' during the past ten months will not justify, and especially in one holding the responsible position of chief executive of the city and an office bearer in a Christian church.

"I have earnestly asked God's forgiveness, and I here publicly and humbly ask the forgiveness of the citizens of Newcastle. I have authorized the Chief of Police to see that I pay the penalty for violation of a city ordinance, and I fully expect and concede Mr. Leslie's right to proceed against me under the laws of the State. For the wrong, I hereby ask his forgiveness, notwithstanding the oft-repeated, and, in my opinion, uncalled for provocation. Regretting from the depths of my heart that in the heat of passion and in the spur of the moment I made such a grave error,

"I am, respectfully,

"JOHN B. BROWN."

Judge Sawyer's Death.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Judge Lorenzo Sawyer, whose death was announced at San Francisco the other day was born in Jefferson County, New York, in 1820. At the age of 30 he went to California, and four years after taking up his residence in San Francisco he was elected to the office of District-Attorney for that city. In 1862 he was appointed Judge of Twelfth District Court, and in 1863 was elected to the Supreme Court of California. President Grant appointed him United States Circuit Judge in 1869.

Rumors of Official Changes in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sep. 9.—It is currently reported here in official circles that President Diaz will recall Senor Romero, the Mexican Minister at Washington for the purpose of tendering him the portfolio of Minister of Finance, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Manuel Dublan. It is also stated that upon the death of Minister Dublan a deficency of $10,000 was discovered in his accounts and that President Diaz has brought suit against his estate for the purpose of recovering the money. Several official changes are expected.

Red Men in Council.

CLEVELAND, O., Sep. 9.—Among the prominent men present at the 45th annual conclave of the Improved Order of Red Men, now in session in this city, are Great Incohonee Thomas K. Donnelly of Pennsylvania, Great Junior Sagamore A. H. Paton of Massachusetts, and Great Prophet Thomas J. Francis of New Jersey. Rhode Island, New Hampshire and a dozen other States, are represented by chieftans in the council.

The Searle's Will Contest.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 9.—A notice of intention to contest the will of Mary F. S. Searles of Methuen, Mass., has been filed by the Hon. E. T. Burly, Ex-Judge Endicott, George F. Hibbard, Nathaniel Hibbard and others. The notice of the first two named recites that the contest is on behalf of her adopted son, Timothy Hopkins. The grounds for the contest will be undue influence. A hearing was fixed for Sept. 22.

Aliens in England.

LONDON, Sep. 9.—The official report shows that during the month of August 14,628 European aliens landed in England. For the corresponding period of 1890 the number of the same class of arrivals was 9,415. The report also states that during August of the present year 9,817 of these people departed for America, while in August of 1890 the number of departures for that country was 6,027.

Discovered a Hermit in the Woods.

NORWELL, Mass., Sep. 9.—On Saturday two ladies saw a man emerge from the inside of a hemlock tree in the woods near Edwin Jacobs' farm. The man fled when he noticed the ladies. An investigation showed that the tree was hollow and was large enough for three persons to live in. A large amount of canned goods, etc., were found in the place. The man is said by the ladies to be about 35 years old, quite stout and had long, flowing hair. He wore a striped frock and overalls. The woods have been searched thoroughly, but no trace of him can be found. The tree is now being watched.

Canada Can Export 500,000 Bushels.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 9.—A communication has been received from the British department of agriculture inquiring as to how much Canadian rye is available for export. The reason is that owing to the Russian prohibition of the export of that grain England is now looking to her colonial possessions to see how far the deficiency can be made up. It is understood the government here will reply that, there is about 500,000 bushels of rye available for export in the Dominion.

Marriage to Close His Mouth.

DENVER, Col., Sep. 9.—The notorious Mme. Astle, now in the hands of the law, because her lover, W. A. Anthony, in order to get even with her for fickle behavior, gave the officers the clew that led to her arrest, is about to close that gentleman's mouth by having a marriage ceremony performed between them. In this State a husband cannot testify against his wife nor a wife against her husband. They are to be married in the cell the Madame occupies, and that within a few days.

May Succeed Collector Fassett.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Should Collector Fassett be nominated for Governor by the Republican State convention today State Senator Francis Hendricks will, it is said, be his successor in the New York Custom House. Mr. Fassett says, that should he be nominated for Governor, he will at once retire from the Collectorship. Had Mr. Hendricks not been in Europe at the time of Erhardt's resignation he would have been made Collector instead of Mr. Fassett, it is said.

Excited Negro Boomers.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 9.—Hundreds of negroes, according to despatches from Guthrie, are waiting excitedly on the border of the Iowa and Sac and Fox lands adjoining Oklahoma anxiously awaiting for the strip to be thrown open for settlement. The circulars spread broadcast over the Southern States by negro politicians have had the effect of starting enough colored people toward the promised land to pre-empt five times as large a territory.

Considered Very Important Arrests.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 9.—The arrest in Chicago of A. P. Elder and H. L. Barber, composing the Elder Publishing Company of that city, who were engaged in the wholesale importation of laborers from Canada, is regarded by the Treasury Department as very important.

Indignation Over a Fatal Stabbing Affair.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 9.—Great indignation exists among the neighbors of Andrew Alling, the farmer who was fatally stabbed Monday night by Charles Shading, near the home of the former, a few miles north of Clyde. Alling was known as an inoffensive man, and it is believed that the quarrel, which resulted in the stabbing, was begun by Shading

KILLED BY A COUNT

A Rich German Murders His Wife For a Dollar.

HE MARRIED HER IN NEW YORK

The Tragedy Caused on Account of Alleged Extravagance.

While in a Passion the Count Knocked His Wife Down and Shot Her—He Then Placed the Pistol to His Forehead and Fell Dead Beside His Wife—Their Three Little Children Present.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sep. 9.—Gustave Berger shot and killed his wife Johanna in the back as she fled to escape his wrath in the morning, and then, placing a revolver to his head, killed himself. Both died instantly.

He was a German Count, 46 years old. He received large remittances from Germany and expected to come into a rich inheritance. He also owned a number of houses in the suburbs of Topeka. He came to America 12 years ago.

Shortly after his arrival he sent for Johanna Fruter and paid the expenses of the trip for the entire family. He met them in New York and married the girl, who was only 16 years old.

Two years ago he beat his wife unmercifully because of alleged extravagance, and she obtained a divorce. Six months later she was taken sick and the attending physician advised her to remarry Berger and rear their children. She said to one of her neighbors at the time: "I will marry him again for my children's sake, even if he kills me."

The couple had three children, aged 8, 6 and 4 years. The lived in one of Berger's houses, which was elegantly furnished and finished in hard wood. Berger received $12 from a tenant for rent. Soon after the couple and the children sat down to breakfast.

The coffee had been poured, but not tasted, when Mrs. Berger asked her husband for a dollar to buy the eldest boy a pair of trousers. Berger upbraided his wife for what he termed her extravagances.

The man flew into a passion, rose from the table and knocking his wife down proceeded to beat her. She escaped from him and ran out of the front door. Berger seized a revolver and shot her in the side. She fell dead on the front steps. Then the murderer placed the pistol to his forehead, pulled the trigger and fell dead beside his wife.

MR. SCOTT VERY LOW.

No Doubt that the Ex-Congressman is Failing Fast.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sep. 9.—Ex-Congressman William L. Scott is in a very critical condition. Dr. Pepper of Philadelphia was called twice last night, and he gave orders to be called at 7:30 this morning. The doctor said, however, that his patient was as well as could be expected.

There is no doubt that Mr. Scott is failing rapidly.

Dr. Pepper, up to this morning, had not visited the patient until 10 o'clock every morning.

Big Seizure of Dress Goods.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—Seven trunks containing sealskin dolmans, silk, satin and lace dresses, gloves, etc., have just been seized on the steamers Elder and La Touraine. They belonged to Mrs. E. Montague of New York, Mme. Lang and Mme. Mulvaney of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Boyd, who claims residence in Denver, Col.; but is believed to be a dressmaker in Minneapolis, Minn. The garments seized were marked with the name of the customers for whom they were imported, and several of the dresses were not fully made up, five of them retaining the basting threads. It is believed the government will profit to the extent of $15,000.

Fear of Failure Led to Suicide.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 9.—Much sympathy is expressed here for the friends of Miss Mary Muschette, who committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor. Miss Muschette was 20 years of age, and a resident of Minneapolis, Minn. She came to Washington a few weeks ago, and last week submitted to a civil service examination. It is thought her nerves were unstrung by fears that she had failed to pass the examination creditably and this led to depression of spirits, during which she committed the act. No other cause for the suicide can be assigned.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 9.—Henry Webster, a negro of bad repute was shot and killed while resisting arrest early in the morning. He was drunk and threatened to kill officer George Feist, who was going to arrest him. The officer continued after him and the negro shot back twice, but fortunately neither ball took effect. As the negro dodged behind a telegraph pole, officer Feist took careful aim and sent a bullet through his body killing him instantly. The negroes are very indignant and talk of holding a meeting to take action against the officer.

Knights of the Mystic Chain.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sep. 9.—The annual convention of the Select Castle of Pennsylvania of the Ancient Order of the Knights of the Mystic Chain is in session here, 1,200 delegates being present. Gen. John A. Logan Castle, No. 144, the banner castle of the State, is present, accompanied by a full band and orchestra, a chorus and 100 ladies.

Eastbound Record Broken.

NEW YORK, Sep. 9.—A cable from London says that the Inman steamship City of New York, which left this port on Wednesday last for Queenstown and Liverpool, had arrived off Fastnet. She made the trip in 5 days, 22 hours, and 30 minutes, and broke the record for an eastbound voyage.

TYPE FOUNDERS TO COMBINE.

The Long Talked Of Deal, Backed by English Money, About Completed.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 9.—The long talked of type founders trust, worked up by an English syndicate, seems to be an assured fact. The deal is now believed to be about completed.

All the type foundries of any consequence in America are in the deal, with the exception of Barnhart Bros. and Spindler of Chicago, and perhaps two concerns in New York. The smaller concerns, it is said, will be squeezed out of existence.

In all the great centers the number of foundries will be reduced to a minimum. New York will probably have three, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston two each, Baltimore, Cincinnati and St. Louis one, while the concerns in Kansas City, Cleveland, St. Paul and Buffalo will be closed down entirely.

The first move will be to advance the prices.

Willing to Enter the Deal.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sep. 9.—Mr. Carl Schraubstaedter of the Central Type Foundry, speaking of the reported trust, said: "Yes, an effort has been made to place the type foundries into one corporation, but I doubt if the necessary capital could be raised. The founders, except one or two, are willing to go into the deal.

Incidents at Treves.

LONDON, Sep. 9.—A Treves dispatch says that the sale of rosaries and other religious objects in Treves has been immense. One Cologne firm has sold more than 200,000 marks worth of such articles, while the sales of the agency of a Paris firm amount to more than 180,000 francs. Among the visitors to the Holy Coat are a man of 86 years, and a widow of 88, both of them belonging to a village near Treves, who saw the relic in 1810 and in 1844, and have now seen it in 1891. Forty-five thousand is the number of pilgrims admitted into the Cathedral daily.

American Pork in Denmark.

COPENHAGEN, Sep. 9.—Hon. Clark E. Carr, United States Minister to Denmark, has received notice of the removal of the prohibition placed upon the importation of American pork into Denmark, and which has been enforced since March, 1888. The authorities state that duly inspected American pork will henceforth be admitted into Denmark.

American Engineers in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sep. 9.—A number of American engineers, who are reported to be agents of a wealthy firm which proposes to make a tender for building the Siberian railway, have arrived at Vladivostock to ascertain the conditions of the construction of the line.

Chosen President of Swarthmore.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Sept. 9.—Charles De Garmo, Ph. D., Professor of Philosophy and Pedagogics in the University of Illinois, has been chosen president of Swarthmore College. He has accepted the position and enters immediately upon his duties.

Wholesale Suicide in Paris.

PARIS, Sep. 9.—A family of this city, consisting of six members, committed suicide. The father and mother first hanged themselves, and the others, who were adult children, imitated their parents.

Sec. Foster in Massachusetts.

EDGARTON, Mass., Sep. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury, Charles Foster, is here. He will spend a few days blue fishing. He arrived on board the yacht Peerless.

J. A. DEMAREST, Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The real estate of the late Geo. Townley is advertised to be sold at public auction on Thursday, the 10th inst.

—Doane & VanArsdale are having their usual run on school shoes, a branch of which they make a specialty.

—The wedding of Alfred J. Everett, of this city, and Miss Louise Olsson, of New York, took place Saturday in New York city.

—The Unions of Grant avenue will play the Boys' Club a game of base-ball Saturday afternoon, at 3:30, on the Grant avenue grounds.

—The regular business meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the rooms to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

—Regular meeting of Unity Lodge, K. of P., will be held this evening. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will be transacted.

—The Young Cuban Giants defeated the Centers to-day by the score of 14 to 13. In the ninth inning, with no one out, John Taylor knocked a three-base hit, and brought in the winning run.

—The new borough councilman, T. W. Powell, has been appointed a member of the committees on fire, water and lamps and licenses and marshals, and chairman of the committee on laws, ordinances and elections.

—At the meeting of the North Plainfield Borough Council last night it was reported that the $25 received for using Warren Engine in filling a house tank would be recovered at once from those who had misappropriated it, and would be placed to the credit of the firemen's relief fund.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs William H. Shotwell have gone to Ocean Grove for a week.

George F. Odiorne, of Madagascar, has been visiting Frank Willetts Runyon, of West Front street.

James Deady and family, of West Third street, are spending a week at Centralia, Columbia county, Pa.

Mrs. L. Adams returned yesterday after an absence of four weeks at Cleveland, her former home.

T. Wilfred Powell, the newly elected North Plainfield borough councilman, was sworn in by Mayor Place last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Marsh, of Crescent avenue, have been visiting Christopher Rockfellow, of Union Hill, Hudson county.

A number of Plainfield people who drove to Sewaren Sunday were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Al. Drake, of Westfield.

Miss Anna A. Searing, of 39 Madison avenue, is home from a long vacation at the home of her uncle, Freeholder George W. Doty, Union, N. J.

On the list of petit jurors drawn for the coming term of court in Union county, yesterday, are the following from Plainfield: William G. Morse, James DeGraw, Lewis M. VanDyke, James L. Marshall, William J. Nelson, Clarkson Watts, William H. Warner and Frank Smith.

Mrs. Alexander Gilbert, wife of the Mayor, gave a phonograph party at her elegant home, yesterday, in honor of Mrs. Hiram C. Kroh, one of Mr. Gilbert's sisters. The invited included Mrs. Fred C. VanZandt, of Brooklyn, and other fellow-guests of Mrs. Kroh's at The Netherwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford DeMott, of New York, and their young son, were the guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyman. Mrs. DeMott was formerly Miss Mamie DeCamp of this city. The promise of beauty in her youth has been more than fulfilled. There is not a prettier woman in the city of New York to-day.

The Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Marsh arrived home from Europe, Monday morning. Their steamer, the "Aurania", was two days overdue. They each brought new bicycles, but because Mr. Marsh told the custom house officers the truth about how long they had owned the wheels, he was required to pay full duty on both.

An Enjoyable Evening at Music Hall.

Another large and representative audience was in attendance at Music Hall under its new management, last evening, and it was an entirely satisfied gathering with the exception of those who could not but regret the substitution of Tom for Rozy Anna, in "All the Comforts of Home", and those who have a preference for an orchestra whose instruments are all in tune. But the people have faith that an improvement of the orchestra is to come with the other improvements.

The company of comedians that presented Gillette's clever farce, is good, very good. The absence of Rozy Anna is a mistake, as Tom cannot fill her place on the stage nor in the hearts of the audience. It gives Theodore Bender, however, an opportunity to make the part of the piece. Joseph Allen played it successfully, and Mrs. Sol. Smith was a praiseworthy Mrs. Bender. Eleanor Merron, as Fifi Orilanski, was also excellent. Plainfield would like to welcome the same company again.

A CHECK IN HIS CAREER.

Constable Rockafellow Levies on Everything in Saloon Joe's Resort, and Puts a Stopper on the Business.

At noon to-day all business over the Elkwood bar was suspended. To satisfy a judgment against Saloon Joe of about $150 held by A. M Seguine, Constable George B Rockafellow levied on everything in sight in the barroom, and notified the proprietor that if he or his barkeepers sold a cigar or a drop of anything in the place, he would be arrested.

A reporter of THE PRESS interviewed one of the appraisers who assisted the Constable in making the levy. He said, "We levied on everything in the place except the girls. Somebody else had attached them. Our levy covers the chairs, cuspadores, liquors, billiard tables, and the whole business."

Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, has a chattle mortgage on the property that is levied on, and his counsel, Walter L. Hetfield, was notified by Miller at once of the proceedings. An effort will be made to replevin the goods, but Counselor Hetfield did not think business would be resumed to-day.

The judgment under which the action was taken to-day, is only one of a number in existence. Should it be removed, the same proceedings would probably follow with the others.

It is reasonable therefore to say that to-day marks the beginning of the end of Saloon Joe's career in this city. The decent people of Plainfield will long remember Wednesday, Sept. 9, with satisfaction.

Wheeler—Squier.

At the residence of the bride's parents, 30 Harmony street, at 8 o'clock last evening, took place the wedding of S. Lena Squier and Charles D. Wheeler, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiating.

The bride was handsomely attired in a dove-color dress of French henrietta cloth and surah. She carried a bouquet of roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

The marriage ceremony was performed under a floral arch. At the wedding supper sixty guests were present.

The happy young couple were the recipients of many valued gifts, including silverware, handsome clocks, glassware, and a fine dinner set from the Warren Mission choir, of which the bride is a member.

The bride and groom left to-day for a honeymoon visit to Mystic, Conn.

After their return Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will reside at the home of the groom's parents on Somerset street.

St. Joseph's Church Fair.

St. Joseph's church fair will open next Thursday in Saenger and Turner Hall, and will continue to and close on Saturday, the 19th inst. Among the many beautiful articles for sale at a bargain are two gold watches, one silver watch, two safety bicycles, one girl's tricycle, a large music-box, playing six popular airs, and an innumerable assortment of other useful and valuable goods.

Reckless Driving.

John J. Goff, proprietor of the Fourth Ward hotel of this city, with his wife, was driving through Westfield, Sunday evening about 8:30 o'clock, when he was run into and upset by a double team driven by a Westfield liveryman. The Plainfield vehicle was upset and Mrs. Goff was thrown out and so seriously hurt as to be confined to her bed. Mr. Goff will bring a suit for damages.

Fanwood Personals.

James Moore 2d escorted his mother home yesterday morning from Eagle Bridge, N. Y.

Abner P. Downer is in Boston for a week.

The Rev. J. M. Reilley and wife have returned from their vacation, and at the services Sunday morning many prominent Plainfield people were noticed, notably Charles Benton VanWinkle.

New Election Officers.

The following is the board of registry for the coming election in the borough of North Plainfield:

Republicans—First district, John A. Goodwin, Elmer Ganthe; second district, George F. Brown, Charles W. Tallman.

Democrats—First district, Benjamin Gavin, A. R. Kenney; second district, Abram B. King, David L. Linbarger.

Plainfielders Storm-Tossed.

The Cunard steamship Aurania, on which counselor Craig A. Marsh and wife arrived Monday, did not escape the heavy gales. On Aug. 31 she experienced a heavy blow that grew violent at nightfall and lasted thirty hours. On the 4th, 5th and 6th she ran into a series of fogs. The steamer was not damaged. She carried 411 passengers, among whom were Mrs. Phineas T. Barnum and W. J. Florence the comedian.

If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N. J.

A SWEET SINGER AT NETHERWOOD.

Friday evening last was a memorable song period in the annals of The Netherwood. Miss Lizzie Conway, one of Del Puente's estimable pupils, entertained her friends in the parlor of the hotel. In the rendition of the several charming songs given during the evening, Miss Conway fairly entranced her audience. Her voice is a mezzo-soprano of rare power, full, clear and resonant, and of most wonderful quality. A fair exponent of her clear bell-like tones was expressed in the exquisite rendition of that charming creation, "Old Madrid." It was an exhibition of her glorious voice, showing its wonderful range and purity.

The warm and heartfelt applause given Miss Conway throughout the evening, fully evidenced the supreme enjoyment afforded her listeners. Mrs. H. C. Kroh, the youngest sister of Mayor Gilbert, remarked, among the many encomiums received by the sweet singer: "Miss Conway's voice is one of most remarkable quality—pure, sweet and sympathetic—and of rare volume. It simply entrances you, and her future will be a grand success." This kind compliment from Mrs. Kroh, who has heard most of the best singers at home and abroad, is a great pleasure to chronicle. Surely Del Puente, that prince among singers and instructors, should be gratified beyond measure at the success of his charming pupil, and it is safe to predict for her a brilliant future, and that she will be ranked with the leading singers of the present period. Miss Conway is sojourning at Netherwood with her sister, Mrs. Poe and family, of New York. J. A. H.

Injured No One But Himself.

A well-known resident of Washington Park who is thoroughly conversant with the business affairs of Edward St. John—whose resignation of his office as treasurer of the Y. M. C. A., and his membership in Dr. Ketcham's church, and whose departure for the West, were exclusively published in THE PRESS—furnishes the following statement of the case for publication.

"There has been nothing dishonest or criminal in Mr. St. John's conduct, and he can come back any time he wants to without fear of molestation. He has injured no one but himself and his family and he has the sympathy of his friends. He began speculating about a year ago. It was the first time he had done anything of the kind, and he used nobody's money but his own. The Y. M. C. A. building fund was in the hands of the building committee, of which he was a member. He could not have used it if he had wished to.

"When the crash came in Mr. St. John's financial affairs he lost his head. He was asked to resign his position by C. P. Huntington, his employer, not because he had been dishonest but because it is a rule with Mr. Huntington that his confidential clerks or agents must not speculate. Having resigned his business position, Mr. St. John came home and insisted on resigning his social position, even to his membership in the church. That was altogether unnecessary. The Y. M. C. A. in accepting his resignation as treasurer passed some resolutions highly complimentary to him.

"The way Mr. St. John came to leave town so suddenly was this: He learned of a position in Denver, Col., which he could fill. To secure it necessitated his presence in Denver at the earliest possible moment. He and his wife have exchanged letters since his arrival there, but I do n't know whether or not he has been given the employment he sought. It was unfortunate that he had to go away so abruptly, as it created suspicion and unpleasant talk among those who did not know him."

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires's Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25-cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Lines On the Death of Mrs. Rachel Harford.

FOR THE PRESS.

She whom ye mourn as dead
Now lives beyond this scene of life;
And though from here her spirit fled
To fields of light above earth's strife,

She yet can pause in memory's flight
And dwell on thoughts of love on earth.
She now can gaze with clearer sight
On friends and home, which gave her birth.

Think not she's faded from your view
Like withered leaves or transient flower.
Not so! there's work for her to do
For loved ones still in earthly bower.

Her tread though silent on the stairs,
May come with angel hope and cheer
And bring like benediction-prayers
A holy calm and dry each tear.

She was so gentle and so kind
And bore earth's cross with heart so brave,
And in her real worth we can find
An incense sweet beyond the grave.

Her unobtrusive spirit shed
Aroma like a sweetest flower;
And now she blooms! She is not dead!
She rises like a mighty tower.

And lives forever and anon
Blessed with immortal life and light;
And garments white are placed upon
Her angel form beyond the night.

Farewell now, dear one, yet we know
We'll meet beyond the silvery tide.
This thought alone doth banish woe
And make us nearer heaven abide.

ESTHER COCHRANE.

Notes from the Boys' Club.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

The average attendance at the Boys' Club for the past week was sixty-five per evening, the largest in any evening being seventy and the smallest sixty-three. The number of visitors was fourteen.

Merchants and store-keepers who are desirous of help can get bright active boys at any time by either calling on or addressing the superintendent at his office on North avenue.

Next Saturday the club team will play the Unions of Grant avenue, and on the 19th the Young Cuban Giants.

Last Saturday the Boys' Club played a very exciting game of ball with the Chathams of North Plainfield. It took ten innings to decide the game. The playing of both teams was very fine. Coverly of the Chathams displayed great skill with the bat by making a three-base hit and a home run. Hefferan of the Boys' Club made the winning run for the team, coming in on an error of the man at third base. Following is the score by innings:

Boys' Club.....0 0 0 1 2 6 0 0 1 1—11
Chathams.....0 0 1 6 0 0 2 0 1 0—10

Base hits—Boys' Club, 8; Chathams, 11. Errors—Boys' Club, 16; Chathams, 15. Home run and three-base hit, Coverly.

The entertainments to be given this winter will be held Monday evenings instead of Saturdays as heretofore. It is hoped that friends of the club will be present, as well as all the boys.

The Boss Bass.

Last week Mahlon Decker, the famous, of Lake Hopatcong, caught, with hook and line, a black bass of the Oswego species, which weighed ten pounds four ounces. This is the largest bass ever taken from those waters. The fish was sent to a taxidermist to be mounted. Good for Mahl!

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

GRAND DISPLAY OF FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S, 20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

WATER FOR THE BOROUGH.

JOHN KEAN'S COMPANY GETS A GRIP ON NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Councilmen Yield to the Old State Charter, Concede All the Rights Claimed Under It, and Accept a Proposition for Fire-Hydrant Service—A Breezy Encounter in Which Mr. Sebring Is All Alone, With Five Against Him.

The result of last night's meeting of the North Plainfield Borough Council was the establishment of the fact that all is peace and harmony between the Council and the Plainfield Water Supply Company. The councilmen have made up their minds that under its old State charter the company is entitled to every privilege which it claims, and they have decided to accept from its hands just as much fire-hydrant service as the borough feels able to pay for.

The water-supply subject was brought up by Mr. Hegeman, chairman of the special committee appointed to consider the matter, who reported as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—Your special committee appointed to receive a communication from the Plainfield Water Supply Company, and to take such action thereon as the circumstances call for, beg to report as follows:

We met a committee of the directors of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, composed of Messrs. Bergen, Kean and Pope, Friday evening, August 21. At that meeting the subject of introducing water into the borough for public and private use was very thoroughly discussed, and as an outcome the Plainfield Water Supply Company was requested to put its proposition for supplying water to the borough for fire purposes, in writing. This request was complied with, and the proposition is submitted with this report.

We would further state that your committee has carefully considered the question of the right of the Plainfield Water Supply Company to lay its pipes within the borough limits, and we find that by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act to supply the town of Plainfield, Union county, and towns adjoining, with water for public and private use", approved April 2, 1860, see Laws of New Jersey, 1860, page 138, it was provided, by section 6 of said Act, as follows: "That the said Water Supply Company are hereby authorized and empowered to take water from any lake, pond, stream, or spring within the County of Union, or adjoining counties, except the Rahway river and its branches, * * *, and to store and convey such water by means of aqueducts, pipes, mains, reservoirs, and other suitable works and appliances, through the lands, streets and roads of the town or village of Plainfield and adjoining towns; and also to take and hold any land or other property, and to exercise any power not inconsistent with the Laws of this State for carrying into full effect the purposes of this Act."

We further report that we have examined into our financial condition with a view of determining our ability to pay for hydrants for fire purposes, and as a result we beg to recommend to the Mayor and Council that they enter into an agreement with the Plainfield Water Supply Company whereby said company shall agree to furnish the borough with water for fire purposes at the rate of $15 per hydrant per annum, the borough to take four hydrants to the mile for the first year, and to be at liberty to add to that number, at the same rate, in the next succeeding two years, as many more hydrants a mile as may appear to be necessary and proper considering the means available for defraying the consequent expense.

Your committee, in offering the above recommendation, deem it unnecessary to comment on the almost absolute absence of any available water supply with which our fire department now has to contend; nor on the fact, which seems patent to all, that every consideration of the security of the property and lives of our citizens makes it an imperative duty to provide, at the earliest possible moment, the best supply of water for fire purposes which the means at our command will permit. The Plainfield Water Supply Company is now an established fact, and can have its mains in operation through our streets within the next six weeks, and while there is talk of some other company which may at some time in the indefinite future be able to furnish us with water, yet such a possibility will hardly justify us in neglecting the opportunity now offered, and your committee feels that the responsibility on us is too great to be trifled with.

B. A. HEGEMAN, JR.,
L. A. HUMMER.

The proposition of the company was to supply water for fire-extinguishing purposes at $15 per hydrant per year, under a 10 years' contract. The company thought that at this low rate twelve hydrants to the mile ought to be taken. It guaranteed to have the hydrants in operation in six weeks from the signing of the contract, and to restore all torn-up streets to as good condition as formerly. It also announced its readiness to supply water for private use at the same rate as to the inhabitants of the city of Plainfield.

Mr. Buckle introduced a resolution that the recommendation of the committee (to take four hydrants per mile for the first year, and to increase the number each year as found necessary and as far as possible under available funds) be adopted, and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute an appropriate agreement with the company.

THE BREEZE BEGINS.

Mr. Buckle's resolution was no sooner seconded than Mr. Sebring jumped to his feet.

"It is unnecessary"—he said—"to railroad this through so lively, unless it is all cut and dried."

He paused a moment, and looked around as if to see how profound a sensation his words had aroused. Then he continued:

"I wanted the other proposition before the Council—that of J. M. Low—looked into. As soon as a member was appointed to fill the vacancy on my fire, water and lamps committee I was going to call a meeting of the committee and have the matter fully investigated. It is unjust to rush this through and ignore the other proposition. The citizens will not approve of it. Three-fourths of the tax-payers will protest against the proceedings."

Mr. Hegeman was up in arms in an instant.

"We have no disposition"—he retorted warmly—"to railroad anything through. We should like to have the fullest and freest discussion on the merits of the matter. Concerning the gentleman who last spoke I must say that he held in his possession for a long time the proposition of another so-called company. He had ample opportunity to take action in the matter. To-day we are not in a position to delay one moment. Winter is coming on, when the work of laying pipes cannot be done. The Water Supply people are obliging gentlemen, and politely stand by and say 'We shall not lay a pipe until we hear what you have to say'. They are waiting, their men are idle; all action is deferred until the wishes of the borough are known. I deny the right of the gentleman to say that we are trying to railroad this matter through. On the contrary, we are simply trying to serve the borough and to give opportunity for securing water for fire-extinguishing purposes and for use in private houses. The plans of the company are to lay seven miles of pipe, which will make the cost for hydrants the first year $420. The appropriations have already been made for the coming year, but the income from license fees will, it is expected, pay for the hydrant rental. Besides that, there will be increased revenue from taxation on the company's plant. I should like to hear the gentleman discuss this matter intelligently, not make the barren statement that we are rushing this through."

SARCASTIC SCORING FOR SEBRING.

Mr. Buckle took a hand in the discussion. He shook his head deprecatingly, and said:

"I am sorry to hear Mr. Sebring say what he has said. He ought to be the last man to cast such reflections. We did n't charge him with railroading matters when his electric light scheme went through, though we did not like the methods used at the time. The Water Supply Company have the right of way here. We have only to do with the matter of getting water for fire-extinguishing purposes. We want water right away. The gentlemen of the company are residents and taxpayers of Plainfield. They are men of integrity. I prefer to put confidence in men that I know rather than in men who are strangers."

Mr. Sebring protested against making a contract with either company, and said that what the borough tax-payers wanted was to organize a local water company of their own, with a reservoir on the mountain, in the borough limits—a water-works system that could be taxed by the borough and acquired by the borough when it was ready to buy. He thought for the borough to own its own works was the best thing in the end. At any rate, he suggested it would be advisable to wait for an election, so as to find out by popular vote just what was wanted.

Mr. Buckle said it was funny that these "tax-payers" had waited till now before making their project known. Why—he asked—had they not presented their proposition before? He held that it was just as necessary for the immediate adoption of a water supply as it had been a short time ago for the adoption of Mr. Sebring's electric light. They had had a light before that. They had no water supply at all now. If the gentleman would only be logical he would come to the same conclusion as the others. We—he concluded significantly—are not personally interested either in electric light plants or in water-works projects, but only in securing the best interests of the borough.

Mr. Needham thought it very desirable that fire-hydrant service be secured right away, but he wanted to know if it was obligatory on the Council to take hydrants along every mile of pipe the company had a mind to lay.

Mr. Hegeman responded that the borough had in the neighborhood of 30 miles of streets, of which, however, a large proportion were not built up. A map was attached to the proposition of the company indicating what streets pipes were to be laid along. This was all in the thickly settled portion where good fire protection was necessary. The number of miles laid out was 6 8-10; there were some additions to be made which would make a total of 7 miles. At the rate of 4 hydrants per mile this would mean only 28 hydrants the first year. The borough could add each year hydrants as needed or as it was able to provide for. As the borough grew, and it was necessary for the company to extend its pipes and the borough its hydrants, the income from taxes increase proportionately, and the borough would be able to meet all expense. It was not proposed to go into anything which the borough was unable to pay for. As regarded rates for private use of water, the borough had nothing to do. That was the company's own affair. But the company had promised that the rates in the borough would be the same as in the city of Plainfield, which would make the cost to an ordinary consumer, in a house with all modern improvements, about $18 or $19 a year.

Mr. Hegeman added that in case of fire the company would transfer the pressure of its pumps directly into the pipes, so as to give very powerful streams from each hydrant.

Mr. Sebring asked if the borough had the right to execute a contract for ten years. Mayor Place said that the electric light contract had been made for three years, and he thought there was no time limit in matters of this kind.

Mr. Sebring advised that if a contract had to be made it be for one year only. It was easy—he argued—to renew from year to year, and in time the borough might want to build works of its own.

Mr. Buckle said that there was another side to the matter of short-time contracts. Fifteen dollars per hydrant was a very low rate, and if accepted for only one year the company might raise the rate each year.

Mr. Sebring moved to amend Mr. Buckle's resolution so that the contract be for one year instead of ten. The proposed amendment was not seconded, and it was explained that neither the committee's report nor Mr. Buckle's resolution carried mention of any time with it.

Mr. Hummer favored the adoption of fire hydrants. It would cost much more—he argued—to put and keep the present fire wells in decent shape. So far as a local company was concerned, he had been assured by one of the projectors of the scheme that nothing would come out of it and that it would be foolish to delay the acceptance of another proposition in the hope of getting a better one.

Mr. Sebring advised a public meeting later on to decide the question. He again protested against rushing the matter through.

At this Mr. Buckle arose and GAVE MR. SEBRING ANOTHER ROASTING.

"It is"—he said—"a personal reflection on the committee to accuse them of trying to railroad this matter through. We're here to attend to borough matters. We did n't go to the people and ask them to decide for us the question of having electric lights. If we were to say all that we had heard about Mr. Sebring I do n't know what he'd think. I find people very favorably disposed towards the Water Supply Company. They recognize the fact that the company has the right to come into the borough. No other company is going to come in. Capitalists are not going to risk their funds in entanglements. We can't do anything but accept the generous offer of the Supply company.

Mr. Hegeman said that he had listened very patiently to the eloquence that had been gotten off, and to the frequent references to the admirable electric lights and the feeling of the people. But the gentleman who seemed bent on trying to retard improvements was very careful to avoid discussion of the merits of the case. The councilmen—he continued—were in office to represent the interests of the people. They were supposed to possess the necessary intelligence and a commendable amount of honesty to look after the interests of the public. They had gotten along so far, and he thought they could be trusted to handle this affair. He confessed that he had n't much faith in the project to form a local company to supply fire-hydrant service. He thought that the zeal of the public-minded citizens who saw a fortune in $440 a year would wane when they began to realize what tremendous capital they would have to invest for such meagre returns.

MORE WORRIMENT FOR MR. SEBRING.

Incidentally, Mr. Hegeman asked if the fire-wells had been cleaned out as had been ordered of Mr. Sebring's committee, August 14.

Mr. Sebring confessed, confusedly, that they had not, and stammeringly stated that he had been deliberating over different plans for doing the work, including a new-fangled patent appliance which he favored.

Mr. Hegeman commented that the work had been ordered done a month ago and that at that time foreman Fairchild had reported that three minutes' pumping would exhaust the wells. The borough was entirely without fire protection—unless all fires should occur conveniently along the brooks; and the citizens would rise up en masse against them if protection was n't given speedily. The sentiment of the people as he had found it was: "It's very peculiar you do n't get that company over here and give us protection from fire."

It was not—he concluded—a time for speculating on patent appliances for cleaning out wells, or for harping on the formation of independent companies. Common-sense was needed—not visions of imaginary mass-meetings. He urged the adoption of the resolution.

A vote was then taken, and the resolution was adopted by the following vote:

Aye—Councilmen Buckle, Hummer, Hegeman, Needham, Powell—5.

No—Councilman Sebring—1.

Then Mr. Sebring went out and told his friends how badly he had been abused.

AN ORDINANCE

Dividing the Borough of North Plainfield into two election districts.

Whereas, The Borough of North Plainfield, as manifested at the last Borough election held therein, contains more than six hundred voters; now, therefore,

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Borough of North Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts, to be known hereafter as the First Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield, and the Second Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield.

Section 2. The First Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the northwesterly side of an imaginary line beginning at the centre of Stony brook where the same empties into green brook; thence up the centre of Stony brook to the centre of Stines's bridge; thence easterly along the centre of Rockview avenue to the centre of Mercer avenue; thence along the centre of Mercer avenue to the centre of Grove street; thence along the centre of Grove street to the centre of Emily street; thence along the centre of Emily street to the centre of Somerset street; thence along the centre of Somerset street to the centre of Race street; thence along the centre of Race street to the centre of Warren street; thence along the centre of Warren street to the centre of Manning avenue; thence along the centre of Manning avenue to the centre of Richmond street; thence along the centre of Richmond street to the centre of Green brook, and there to end.

Section 3. The Second Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the southeasterly side of the imaginary line aforesaid.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect on the eighteenth day of September, A. D., 1891.

Approved Sept. 4, 1891.

THE POPE IN MARBLE.

Statue to Be Presented to the Washington University

History and Description of the Count de Loubat's Generous Gift—The Model Approved by the Pontiff—A Simple Inscription.

When the Catholic university in Washington was established two years ago its founders announced that they desired to make the institution rich in works of art. A few weeks ago a statue of the pope that cost ten thousand dollars arrived at the university. This statue was presented to the university by Count Joseph F. De Loubat, of this city, says the New York Sun, and it was made from a model that was submitted to the pope himself for approval. Shortly after the opening of the university Count Loubat, through Archbishop Corrigan, offered the statue to the university. Bishop Keane, the rector, accepted the gift.

At the celebration of the pope's golden jubilee as a priest in December, 1887, a statue of his holiness attracted much attention. Count Loubat decided to have his gift to the Catholic university modeled after it. He intrusted the work to Giuseppi Luchetti, one of the best known Italian sculptors. Luchetti was engaged in the work for a year. The statue is of the size known to sculptors as semi-colossal, and represents the pope seated on the pontifical throne, vested in cassock, alb, stole and cape. On his head is the tiara, or triple crown. The right hand is raised in the act of giving the blessing, while the left hand rests easily on the arm of the throne. The face is benign, and the whole figure and attitude majestic.

The statue is thirteen feet high, and, except the pedestal and the back of the throne, is carved from a single block of pure white Carrara marble, weighing in its present shape more than five tons. So large a block of marble without flaws can seldom be found. A duplicate of this statue is to be presented by Count Loubat to the town of Carpineto, the pope's birthplace. Three sides of the pedestal bear inscriptions. On one are the papal arms, which are the armorial bearings of the Pecci family, of which the pope is a member. On the opposite side are the arms of Mr. Loubat as Roman count, which dignity was conferred on him several years ago by the pope. On the front panel of the pedestal, in letters picked out with gilt, is this inscription, which the pope himself composed:

LEONI XIII, P. M.
QUO AUSPICE
LYCEUM
AD INCREMENTA OMNIUM DISCIPLINARIUM
WASHINGTONIENSIBUS APERTUM,
JOSEPHUS FLORIMOND DE LOUBAT, COMES.

In English this is: "To Leo XIII., under whose auspices the Washington university for the increase of all sciences has been opened, this statue is dedicated by Count Joseph Florimond de Loubat."

At the opening of classes at the university on September 28 the statue will be unveiled. Ultimately it will be placed in the academic hall of the university, under the rotunda of the main building of the department of philosophy and letters, which will be begun this fall or next spring. Meanwhile it will remain in the prayer hall of the divinity building.

What a "Ration" Is.

A ration is the established daily allowance of food for one person. For the United States army it is now composed of the following: Twelve ounces of pork or bacon or canned beef (fresh or corned), or one pound and four ounces of fresh beef, or twenty-two ounces of salt beef; eighteen ounces of soft bread or flour, or sixteen ounces of hard bread, or one pound and four ounces of corn meal. To every 100 rations, fifteen pounds of beans or pease, or ten pounds of rice or hominy; ten pounds of green coffee or eight pounds of roasted coffee, or two pounds of tea; fifteen pounds of sugar, four quarts of vinegar, one pound eight ounces of star candles, four pounds of soap, four pounds of salt, four ounces of pepper and four ounces of yeastpowder to each 100 rations of flour.

Queer Things from a Well.

A striking confirmation of the theory of the source of supply of artesian waters has been observed at Tours, France, where the water, spouting with great velocity from a well 110 meters in depth, brings up fresh water shells and seeds in such a state of preservation as to show that they could not have been more than three or four months on their voyage. Some of the wells of the Wady Rir have also ejected fresh water mollusks, fish and crabs, still living, which must, therefore, have made a still more rapid transit.

"CONFIDENCE BEGETS LOVE."

CHILD. "Gran'ma, kiss me good-night. Sister is asleep, but we so love to hear you tell of all the ladies that call you Mother."

Mrs. PINKHAM. "Yes, darling, when you are older perhaps you may do as I have done."

CHILD. "Everybody loves you, gran'ma; I wish everybody would love me."

Mrs. PINKHAM. "Everyone will love you, my child, if they can confide in you."

The above dialogue tells its own story; even the little child, without knowing why her grandmother is so universally loved, sees in her face a light of intellectual sympathy that satisfies her. That sympathy has extended itself all over the world, for wherever civilized women exist, Mrs. Pinkham is known and reverenced. Send stamp for "Guide to Health and Etiquette."

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Is the only Positive Cure and Legitimate Remedy for the peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women.

It cures the worst forms of Female Complaints, that Bearing-down Feeling, Weak Back, Falling and Displacement of the Womb, Inflammation, Ovarian Troubles, and all Organic Diseases of the Uterus or Womb, and is invaluable to the Change of Life. Dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus at an early stage, and checks any tendency to Cancerous Humor. Subdues Faintness, Excitability, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, etc., and invigorates the whole system. For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, the Compound has no rival.

All Druggists sell it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., LYNN, MASS.

Slightly Mixed.

Mr. O'Flaherty undertook to tell how many there were at a party as follows: "The two Crogans was one, meself was two, Mike Finn was three, and who the deuce was four? Let me see (counting his fingers) the two Crogans was one, Mike Finn was two, meself was three, and bedad, there was four of us, but Saint Patrick couldn't tell the name of the other. Now, it's meself that has it! Mike Finn was one, the two Crogans was two, meself was three, and—and, by me faith, I think there was but three of us after all."—Jury.

Half of It.

"What hymn did I understand you to say?" inquired the Sunday-school teacher of the young lady who presided at the melodeon, and who had just asked him to close the service, the superintendent being absent.

"Sing half of 246," she answered, smiling at his nervousness and confusion.

"We will now close by singing," he said, addressing the school—"by singing hymn 123."—Harper's Bazar.

Misdirected Sympathy.

A New York clergyman, meeting one of his female parishioners dressed in deep black, tried to console her by saying:

"You have no idea how I regret to see you wearing those sad habiliments of woe."

"You can't be as sad about it as I am," responded the widow. "I look worse in black than in any other color. It makes me look like a fright."—Texas Siftings.

NO TACKS IN HIS.

Mrs. Peaslee—Is that you, Horace?

Mr. Peaslee—Yes, my dear. I'm just going over to the wash-stand to get a glass of water.—Judge.

A Pertinent Impertinence.

Waldemar—Has your fortune ever been told?

Aurelia—No, but papa will tell you if you have really serious intentions.—Munsey's Weekly.

The Best Weapon.

She—It's Indians! Run for the guns!

He—No; I'll fetch some cakes of soap. We can drive them away with those.—Munsey's Weekly.

A New Use for the Emblem.

"Hullo! where is your engagement ring? Is your engagement with Harold off?"

"Oh, no, indeed! He took me out to get some ice cream last night, and we had to leave the ring as security for the cream. Harold didn't have a cent."—Harper's Bazar.

A Pleasant Bondage.

First Lady—I tell you for a fact that my intended may not smoke in my presence, or play cards, or talk too loud, or sing, or whistle, and he must not drink.

Second Lady—What may he do then?

First Lady—He may esteem himself happy!—Jury.

Certainly Innocent.

Jinks—I see by the paper that your friend Bloomer, of Bloomville, has got into trouble.

Winks—What's he done?

"Embezzled the funds of the church."

"That must have been some other Bloomer. The Bloomer I know didn't go to church."—N. Y. Weekly.

Their Favorite Topics.

"I wonder how she manages to keep three adorers in tow so skillfully."

"Oh, it's very easy, she tells me. She talks to the literary one about his brains, to the sentimental one about his heart, and to the old and rich one about his liver."—Indianapolis Journal.

LEADS THE TICKET

New York's Collector Nominated for Governor.

ONLY ONE BALLOT WAS TAKEN.

The Rest of the Ticket Nominated as Fast as Names Were Presented.

The Mention of President Harrison and Mr. Blaine's Names Set the Convention Cheering—The Nominee for Governor Makes a Speech—Enthusiasm When He Kissed His Wife and Mother.

ROCHESTER, Sep. 10.—Amid the booming of guns and scenes of the wildest excitement, J. Sloat Fassett was last night nominated for Governor of New York State by the Republicans assembled.

The ticket completed is as follows:

The Ticket.

Governor—J. Sloat Fassett of Chemung county.
Lieut.-Governor—John W. Vrooman of Herkimer.
Secretary of State—Eugene F. O'Connor of Kings.
Treasurer—Ira M. Hedges of Rockland.
Attorney-General—William N. Sutherland of Monroe.
Comptroller—Arthur C. Wade of Chautauqua.
State Engineer and Surveyor—Verplank Colvin of Albany.

It did not take long to put these gentlemen in their respective places on the ticket, but the convention was in session several hours, owing to the many speeches delivered.

When nominations for Governor were declared in order instinctively every eye was turned towards the Chemung county delegation, but Collector Fassett was not in the hall. He had modestly retired, but his pretty wife and mother occupied conspicuous seats on the platform.

The Secretary then read Mr. White's letter to Mr. Platt. It was tantamount to a withdrawal from the contest.

Senator O'Gorman of Brooklyn in a five minutes speech placed Mr. Fassett in nomination.

Judge Dexter of Elmira, before whom Fassett tried his first case, made a pretty speech seconding the nomination of his townsman.

F. F. Williams of Brooklyn made an eloquent speech in placing in nomination Gen. S. L. Woodford.

After Senator Laughlin's speech nominating Mr. Beck of Buffalo, a ballot was ordered amid much excitement.

The result was: Fassett, 507; Becker, 55; Carr, 36; Wadsworth, 83 and White, 3.

Gen. Woodford moved to make the nomination unanimous, and a wild chorus of "Aye" answered the putting of the question.

When order was restored Congressman Raines, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, and James W. Husted were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Fassett of his nomination and to escort him to the convention. While they were on this mission Congressman Payne, the chairman of the committee, read the platform, which was, of course, adopted.

Mr. Payne had finished when Messrs. Raines, Woodruff and Husted marched into the Hall, amid the booming of cannon outside, while the band played "See, the Conquering Hero Comes."

There was an intensely exciting scene as Mr. Fassett walked up the aisle and mounted the platform. The delegates stood on chairs and waved their hats and handkerchiefs in the air. When matters calmed the nominee for Governor was presented.

Fassett made the speech of his life. He was as cool as a cucumber.

He dwelt upon the issues for which the Republican party stands to-day, and said that if elected he would faithfully bring them to a triumphant end, so far as lay in his power. Among other things he said that he would at once resign the Collectorship.

He concluded with this declaration: "I will lead wherever you dare follow."

At the conclusion of his speech he walked over and kissed his wife and mother in view of the audience.

The other nominations were by acclamation and were made rapidly.

Text of the Platform.

The platform commends the wisdom, patriotism and purity of the administration of President Harrison; praises the revenue legislation of the 51st Congress, both in the tariff and administration acts; speaks of the necessity of proper legislation to protect the interests of labor; opposes all illegal combinations and unjust exactions by aggregated capital and corporated powers; reaffirms the party's favor to genuine civil service reform; favors comprehensive and efficient excise legislation, and denounces the efforts of Governor Hill to place New York in an unfriendly attitude toward the world's fair.

The Association Next Year.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 10.—An officer of the Milwaukee club said that the Association next year will include Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, Boston, Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Louisville and Columbus are to be dropped. He states that there will be a great scramble for players this winter and large financial inducements will be offered to the stars of the profession.

New Monuments at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Sep. 10.—The monuments of the 8th and 10th Illinois cavalry regiments arrived here yesterday, and are being put up to-day. They were delayed on the railroad and were not here when Illinois turned over her other monuments to the Memorial Association on the 2d instant.

Escaped Convict Caught.

SING SING, N. Y., Sep. 10.—Louis de Luca, the life convict, who escaped from Sing Sing prison on Tuesday was recaptured by a policeman in Tarrytown and brought back to the prison. He will not be punished.

PENNSYLVANIA'S MINES.

Reports from the Anthracite and Bituminous Coal Regions.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 10.—The statement, giving the condition last year of the anthracite and bituminous regions, has been completed.

In the anthracite district the number of tons of coal produced was 40,090,345; number of miners employed, 28,984; number of miners' laborers employed, 18,620; other employes inside the mines, 21,861; outside employes, 37,808. Total employes, 103,163. The number of fatal accidents was 378; number of non-fatal accidents, 1,007; number of wives made widows, 185; number of orphans left, 602.

The report for the bituminous region is as follows: Number of tons of coal produced, 40,720,521; number of miners employed, 44,310; number of miners' laborers employed, 2,834; other employes inside the mines, 8,098; outside employes, 67,737; number of fatal accidents, 146; number of non-fatal accidents, 381; number of wives made widows, 99; number of orphans left, 211.

MUST ANSWER IN COURT.

Philadelphia Mercantile Appraisers Arrested and Held in $2,500 Bail Each.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 10.—District-Attorney Graham, after a consultation with Thomas W. Barlow, his assistant, and Joseph P. McCullen, counsel for City Treasurer Wright, with reference to the mercantile appraisers' matter, concluded that sufficient evidence had been obtained to make out a prima facie case against the appraisers. He therefore requested Mr. Wright to make out an affidavit upon which to base warrants for their arrest, which he did, and Magistrate Pole thereupon issued warrants for the arrest of the five appraisers, Patton, Houseman, Hunter, Crawford and Bell.

The District-Attorney requested the magistrate to fix the bail at $2,500 each, for a hearing on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

CONTRACT LABOR SUIT.

A Pittsburg Company Must Answer for Importing Foreign Workmen.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 10.—An important suit has just been entered in the United States Circuit Court by Walter Lyon, United States District Attorney, against the Pittsburg Terra Cotta Lumber Company to recover $1,000 penalty for violation of United States laws in importing under contract foreign laborers.

The attorney complains that the defendants have become liable in the above sum in importing Robert Brooks, an alien and foreigner, and a subject of Queen Victoria, to perform the work of a bricklayer.

It is stated in the bill of complaint that Brooks was brought here under contract; he was to have steady employment at $4 per day for nine hours work and eight hours on Saturday, and that Brooks was encouraged to come here by agents of the defendants.

J. D. Layton, Inspector of Immigration, is the prime mover in this suit.

Tried to Kill His Brother-in-Law.

BOSTON, Sep. 10.—John Cotter has been arrested in this city charged with conspiring to kill his brother-in-law, Luther Rowe, a prominent real estate dealer. Cotter took a man named William Butler into his confidence and the latter reported the matter to Mr. Rowe. Row informed the police who arrested Cotter. Cotter was loaded down with weapons when taken into custody. He claims that Rowe swindled him out of a large amount of property. Cotter tried to assassinate Rowe once before and served two years for the crime.

The Tahiti Not Molested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 10.—The brig Tahiti, which put into Drake's Bay Saturday in distress, has left for San Benito, Mexico with her human cargo of South Sea Islanders. The customs officers were in doubt as to the course they should pursue in the matter, but as the vessel was driven upon the coast by stress of weather and had not intended to enter American waters, they decided to take no action in the matter.

To Fight Elevator Companies.

ST. PAUL, Sep. 10.—The grangers have determined to form a combination in their own interests under the title of the Grain Growers' Association, to fight the elevator companies. They will erect and operate their own elevators in opposition to the present monopolistic company. This means a bitter war between the elevator companies and the farmers.

Dismasted and Abandoned.

NEW YORK, Sep. 10.—A dispatch from Jonestown, Me., says the British schooner Emma was towed into that port dismasted and abandoned. The yawls were missing, and it is supposed that the crew had taken to the boats and that they have been picked up by some passing vessel. The Emma was owned at Charlottetown, P. E. I.

TOWNS WIPED OUT

Awful Destruction of Property by an Earthquake.

MANY LIVES LOST IN SALVADOR

Men, Women and Children Shrieking and Praying in the Streets.

Walls of Houses Cracked, Settled and Fell. The Panic-Stricken People Flock to the Open Ground—President Ezeta Trying to Stop the Panic and Care for the Homeless.

SAN SALVADOR, Sep. 10.—Millions of dollars' worth of property and many lives were lost in this Republic by earthquake yesterday.

Whole towns were wiped out, and so far as advices received here indicate hardly a city in the country, except those along the coast, escaped the awful effects of the convulsion.

At just five minutes before two o'clock in the morning the earth began to shake. The wave had a strong vertical and oscillatory movement.

People rushed into the streets in their night clothing, and, while the shock lasted only twenty seconds, before it had passed away there was a panic-stricken mob making its way to the open country outside of the city.

The scene was terribly sublime. Men, women and children were shrieking and praying in the street; walls of houses tottered and fell. While the shock lasted the earth rose and fell in long waves and strong men were unable to keep their feet.

The panic-stricken people flocked to the open ground outside of the city.

The inhabitants are afraid to return to their houses, and are making themselves as fomfortable as possible in their temporary camps until the commotion subsides.

President Ezeta is doing everything he can to stop the panic and care for the homless people until it is considered safe far them to go back to their homes.

The towns throughout the country have suffered more severely than the capital even. Analquito and Comasagua have been completely destroyed.

It is impossible at this writing to form any idea of the number of lives lost.

The loss of property will run well into the millions.

JULES GREVY'S DEATH.

The Announcement Came Somewhat as a Suprise in Paris.

PARIS, Sep. 10.—The announcement yesterday afternoon of the death of M. Jules Grevy came somewhat as a suprise although he was far advanced in years, yet it was thought that he was enjoying usual good health.

The ex-President was born at Mont-sous Vaudrey, in the Jura, August 15, 1807, was educated in the College of Poligney, studied law in Paris, took part in the revolution of July, 1830, and was employed to defend accused Radicals. He became a member of the Constituent Assembly in 1848, was on the Committee of Justice and Vice-President of the Assembly, and proved his ability as a speaker.

M. Grevy re-entered the Assembly in 1869, and was chosen its president Feb. 19, 1871, resigning in April, 1873.

He was again made President of the Chamber in 1876, and was returned from the Jura several times before, on January 30, 1876, when Marshal MacMahon had resigned the Presidency of the Republic. M. Grevy was elected to this office for the term of seven years.

President Grevy was re-elected President, but resigned in 1887, on account of the notorious Wilson scandal in which M. Grevy's son-in-law was proved to have been connected with the sale of State decorations, the revelations reacting on the Elysee with most damaging effect. In this matter M. Grevy was known to be quite beyond any charge, but his desire to shield his family and his disinclination to act vigorously, caused him to be much blamed.

Since that ex-President Grevy has lived the quiet life of a country gentleman, of which he was always fond, and has not meddled in politics in any way.

YOUNG WILSON'S DOWNFALL.

Philadelphia's Embezzling Bank Teller's Friends Don't Desert Him.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 10.—The friends of Paying Teller Williams of the Produce Bank, who was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzling about $3,000, are loth to condemn him too severely. They believe he was led into disgrace through bad associates, and that most of the money was spent in making it pleasant for others.

One of the bank officers speaking of the affair said:

"We did not suspect anything wrong with the young man, but a few days ago during one of our regular examinations it was discovered that Wilson was short $2,500 in his accounts. When confronted with the proofs of his guilt he did not deny the charges, but said he had been led into evil by dissipation and gambling on the Gloucester races.

"We have nothing to do in the arrest and criminal proceedings, as we are amply secured by a bond of $10,000 of the American Surety Company of New York, who are the bondsmen of the young man, and I suppose they are also amply secured. The defalcation is the result of small peculations, which were easily discovered when the books were examined."

The Davis Will Case.

BUTTE, Mont., Sep. 10.—At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the jury in the Davis will case asked to be discharged, saying it was useless to remain out any longer, as no verdict could be arrived at. The judge ordered the jury back and said a verdict must be found, but gave instructions that hereafter the members of the jury might retire at 10 instead of 12 o'clock at night. Many reports of attempted bribery of bailiffs and efforts to reach the jurors being afloat, extra bailiffs have been added to those already in charge, and no persons are permitted to go near the jury room. It is estimated that the trial has already cost $120,000.

Annual Report of R. C. A.

WATERSOWN, N. Y., Sep. 10.—The annual report of the Secretary of the Railway Clerks Association now in session at Alexandria Bay shows that $24,000 were paid to beneficiaries during the year, leaving a balance of $4,349.35. The number of members admitted during the year was 901; number dropped 223; number of deaths 17, leaving the total membership 2,154. The salary of the secretary and treasurer has been changed from $600 to $100 a year for every 250 members.

Split in the Oswego Convention.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sep. 10.—The convention of the Democrats of the first Oswego district to elect delegates to the State convention, resulted in a split. The Cleveland men had the organization, but the Hill men had the delegates. There was quite a lively time, and two conventions were held in the same hall at the same time. The Hill men elected delegates and endorsed Flowers' candidacy, and that of C. N. Bulger for Attorney-General. The Cleveland men elected delegates and also endorsed Flower.

An Old Shoe Manufacturer to Retire.

BOSTON, Sep. 10.—Mr. N. P. Coburn, after an active business life of 50 years, is about to retire from the firm of William Claflin, Coburn & Co., one of the oldest and best known boot and shoe manufacturing establishments in the East. In future the South Framingham factory will be conducted under the name of Gregory, Shaw & Co.; the Hopkinton factory under that of Crooks, Root & Co., and the Coburn factory under that of Coburn, Gauss & Co.

Major Bundy Dead.

NEW YORK, Sep. 10.—Major Jonas M. Bundy, editor of the "Mail and Express," who was stricken with appoplexy in Paris, died a few hours after the shock, without recovering consciousness. The body will be embalmed and placed in the vault of the American church at Avenue de L' Alma.

ITALY AND OUR FAIR

King Humbert's Silence Has Aroused Italians Here.

A BIG MEETING TO BE CALLED.

Strong Efforts Being Made to Have the Country Represented.

The Famous White Squadron to Be Disbanded—Concessions Believed to Have Been Made By Both Sides in the Itata Matter—Chairman Cooley's Resignation the Result of Ill Health.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 10.—The failure of the Italian government to accept the invitation of the United States to participate in the World's Fair caused prominent Italian citizens in this country some time ago to urge Italy to change its decision.

No answer was made to the request.

At a meeting held here last night of the Italo-American committee on promotion of the World's Columbian Exposition, a body created at a meeting which urged the acceptance of the invitation, the president, Dr. T. S. Verdi, reported that the previous resolutions had been forwarded through the proper diplomatic channel to the Italian government, and, though eight weeks have elapsed, no official answer has been received, and that, under the circumstances, he would suggest that a general meeting be held in Washington, at which the Italo-American citizens of the United States should be represented to give expression to the necessity of having the Italian government participate in the great exposition.

Mr. Caracristi, the secretary of the committee, agreed to the necessity of such an appeal coming from 1,500,000 Italo-Americans in the United States. There were differences, he said, between the two governments, for which the people, as a whole, of neither country are responsible; therefore, he said, the government of Italy should overcome sensitiveness when confronted with a national duty.

Resolutions calling for a meeting of Italo-Americans in Washington on Dec. 7 next, to take action looking to the promotion of the fair and urging Italy to accept the invitation of the United States, were adopted.

TO BE DISBANDED.

Vessels of the Famous White Squadron Ordered to Different Stations.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 10.—The Squadron of Evolution, or the White Squadron, which has attracted so much attention throughout this country and Europe is to be disbanded.

Secretary Tracy has issued orders to the chiefs of bureaus in the Navy Department directing them to make the necessary arrangements for preparing for sea service two vessels of the squadron—the Yorktown and the Petrel.

The Petrel, one of the smaller vessels of the navy, will go to China via the Mediterranean Sea and the Suez Canal. Her small size makes her especially fitted for the China station, enabling her to cruise in many of the rivers for a considerable distance inland.

The Yorktown, a gunboat, will be assigned to the Pacific.

The other vessels of Admiral Walker's command will probably be assigned to foreign stations.

THE ITATA CASE.

Concessions Believed to Have Been Made by Both Sides.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 10.—It is learned that the abandonment of the case against the Itata is the result of an agreement between this government and the new Chilian government, whereby the latter is to reimburse the United States for the expense incurred in the chase of the Itata.

In return the Congressionalist agents are freed from a further prosecution of the neutrality laws and the steamer is released.

Potato Pie.

BY MRS. S. T. RORER,
Principal Philadelphia Cooking School.

Pare and cut four good sized potatoes into dice, cover them with boiling water, boil ten minutes, drain. Add to them one tablespoonful chopped parsley, one of chopped ham and one of chopped onion. Season with salt and pepper and turn into a baking dish.

Add one teaspoonful of Cleveland's baking powder and a half of salt to one pint of flour, mix and add sufficient milk to make a soft dough. Roll out and cover the top of the baking dish, just as you would an ordinary pie. Brush with milk and bake in a quick oven twenty minutes. Serve hot with cream sauce.

Use only Cleveland's baking powder, the proportions are made for that.

An even teaspoonful of Cleveland's Baking Powder does as much as a heaping teaspoonful of others. A large saving on a year's bakings. Try a can, Cleveland's.

ASSAULTED BY A PEDDLAR.

A Grip Containing $17,000 in Gold Bearing Bonds Found in His Possession.

LOWELL, Mass., Sep. 10.—G. Levick, a peddlar, is under arrest here for indecent assault on a woman near the fair grounds. His grip contained material which may prove the arrest to be an important one.

There was a letter from Rufus Ford, a Boston lawyer, referring to negotiations with Levi S. Gould in his office in regard to an exchange of a "Dead Dog for a Defunct Cat," also referring to the Farmer's Loan and Trust Company. This is believed to be a cover for peculiar business. There were also in the grip 17 $1,000 gold bearing bonds of the Canada, Michigan & Chicago Railroad, made to the National Trust Company of New York. Several experts pronounced the bonds genuine, but investigation found no such corporations as those named.

Levick says the bonds are worthless, but he has been selling them. Important developments are expected.

THINK HE WAS MURDERED.

The Long Branch Boy's Remains at Last Identified By His Sisters.

LONG BRANCH, Sep. 10.—The body of the young man who was found hanging by the neck from the painter of a fishing boat on the beach Sunday, August, 16, has been identified as that of George Will, a German, 17 years old, of New York.

His sisters Regina and Hannah Will, who live with another brother named John at 79 Market street, Newark, identified the effects of the dead youth as those of their brother George. They were of opinion that their brother had been murdered, but all the circumstances point to suicide.

George Will was an orphan and worked in a baker's shop in New York. For two weeks before his death he occupied a furnished room at 158 East Eighty-seventh street.

Ate Poisonous Berries and Died.

STONEHAM, Mass., Sep. 10.—While on a visit to her nephew here Miss Catherine Cook, aged 75, and Miss Jane C. Cook, aged 73, of Charlestown, Mass., took a stroll in the woods. They came across a plant resembling an elderberry plant and both partook quite freely of the root and bark. They became very ill shortly after and died last evening. Another woman ate some of the root and became very ill but it is thought she will recover.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Elenclaud Green Gages at Demarest's.

—Fall millinery goods now ready at Mrs. L. Adams, No. 5 East Front street.

—Hotel Netherwood closes its season Saturday. Most of the remaining guests will go to The Albion for the winter.

—The members of Eureka Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Bloomfield, will come to Plainfield next Wednesday and take part in the big parade.

—Miss Carrie Dewey, of 4 West Fifth street has returned from her summer vacation and resumed the tuition of her scholars in instrumental music.

—The Dey farm at Alton, two and a half miles from the Plainfield station, and one mile from Netherwood hotel, is offered for sale in another column. It is already mapped and plotted in building lots.

—A number of the members of the Alert hose company have suggested a public announcement of the fact that their new caps were furnished by Burnett the hatter. They don't think that the dealers of Plainfield should be unjustly blamed for them.

—The prize medals for Saturday's road race are still on exhibition in the windows of Frank L. C. Martin's bicycle agency. The start for the race will be made from the corner of Front and Richmond streets, at 4 p. m., instead of from the Scott Press Machine Works as originally intended.

—Eat and drink what you desire as long as it agrees with you. Your stomach knows pretty well what it can digest. Plain, simple food is desirable as a general thing, but the luxuries of the table, in moderation, will do no harm. You may have noticed that those who diet themselves are always the dyspeptics.

—A German lodge of the Knights of Pythias was instituted in Masonic Hall, Somerville, Tuesday evening, with about 30 charter members. Grand Chancellor John Ulrich of this city, and a large number of delegates from Phillipsburg and surrounding towns, were present. They numbered about 175 in all.

—Good singing, and two short addresses by delegates present at the great Christian Endeavor convention recently held at Minneapolis, will be a feature of the meeting of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor of Union county, in the Trinity Reformed church to-night at 8 o'clock. Everybody will be welcome.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Foster Milliken is better.

The Rev. W. R. Richards has returned from a visit to Litchfield, Conn.

George W. F. Randolph is at Lyn-e-code Hotel, Campobello Island, on the coast of Maine, to remain till Sept. 18.

Miss Ermina Jarrard, of Pontiac, Mich., has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nellie McGinnis, of Linden avenue, North Plainfield.

The engagement of Councilman Ernest R. Ackerman to Miss Mora L. Weber, of Cumberland, Md., is announced in the Central Times.

Miss Annie E. Marshall, and her cousin, Miss Hattie Carman of Jersey City Heights, have gone on a visit to West Cheshire, Conn., for several weeks.

The family of H. B. Nichols, of East Sixth street, who have been spending the summer among the Green mountains of Vermont, will return home on Saturday.

A letter to E. T. Dunn, of West Fourth street, announces the safe arrival at San Francisco, Cal., Friday morning, Sept. 4, of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Dunn, of Fairhaven, Wash.

The marriage of Mrs. Ella West and William H. Stephens, both of this city, took place at the parsonage of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, last evening. The Rev. F. G. Warnick officiated.

The Rev. F. Koechli, pastor of the German church in North Plainfield, has been offered the pastorate of a very prosperous church in the upper part of New York city. In many respects this change would be greatly to his advantage, but so far he has not decided what to do. He still hesitates to make a conclusion.

Fell Twenty Feet With Two Horses, a Wagon and a Thousand Empty Bottles.

On his way home from South Plainfield, Tuesday night, at 9:30 o'clock, Charles Godown drove Frank Linke's big delivery wagon off a railroad embankment twenty feet high. The wagon landed on its top which was crushed in completely, and the horses, driver and 42 boxes of empty beer-bottles were tossed together in a heap.

Godown had only a cut on his nose and a few bruises. He cut the harness off the horses and released them. Strange to say they also were not seriously harmed. It cost $9 to employ enough dagoes to get the wagon up the bank again. The entire damage amounted to $60. It is supposed that Godown was asleep when the horses went over.

Washington Park Club-house Plans Approved.

The Washington Park Land & Improvement Co. met last evening and approved of the plans of the club-house pictured in THE PRESS of last Saturday. The contracts were all awarded and building ordered to begin at once. Work will commence next week.

SALOON JOE MUST GO!

The Owner of Elkwood Given Him Three Days' Notice of Dispossession.

Constable Rockafellow served a distress warrant on Saloon Joe Miller to-day, requiring him to show cause why he should not be dispossessed in three days for non-payment of rent to Sept. 1, amounting to $235.

The action was taken by Counselor John H. VanWinkle at the request of the owner of the Elkwood building. The latter, who lives in Brooklyn, came to Plainfield yesterday and expressed himself very forcibly in regard to the establishment he found in possession of his premises. He told a PRESS reporter that he would rather have his building idle than occupied by such tenants as Joe and Daisy.

The levy that was put on the business yesterday was raised until Saturday by the payment of $75. The amount of the judgment was $168, and unless the balance is paid Saturday the place will be shut up again. Of course saloon Joe was willing to pay $75 for permission to go on, as his receipts last night alone were probably double that amount.

A PRESS reporter spent part of the evening there and added some new names to the list he has made in the past of the customers of the place. Many of them will be subpœnaed by THE PRESS to testify as to the nature of the place in the suit brought against this paper because it alone dares step forth and tell the public what it is.

Suits will not frighten THE PRESS. Advertising patronage cannot close its mouth. It proposes to rid Plainfield of a disreputable place that is a disgrace to the city and a menace to its young men. Among those of its patrons on THE PRESS' list are the names of the young sons of many of the highest families in this city. There are also included in it older men whose wives and daughters are prominent in the best society, and a couple of "have-been" political leaders who will go down with the wreck.

Mr. Seguine, the liveryman who ordered the levy made yesterday, says that not a cent of the account is due from Messrs George or Wallace Miller. It is all owing him, he says, by Joe. The lawyer who brought the proceedings for Mr. Seguine is William A. Coddington.

THE PRESS is too modest or it could fill its columns with the scores of letters it is in receipt of from prominent citizens giving thanks that a paper has been found brave enough and strong enough to carry on and win a fight for the fair name and fame of the city. One writer says: "THE PRESS has more power than the Mayor, the Council, the police and the city ordinances combined. It said Murphy, the false detective, must go, and he went; it said Carey, the obscene police captain must go, and he went; it said the base and vicious "news" must go, and it's going; please say in your next issue that Saloon Joe must go, and the people will rejoice."

Brooklyn Defeats Plainfield.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

—When you think of nice goods, you cannot help thinking of Peck.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

A Good Chance for Plainfield Boys.

The Young Men's Christian Association will organize a short-hand class the first part of next month. Any young man who would like to join can receive full information at the rooms, or, by addressing the general secretary.

J. A. Robinson, who has had charge of the previous classes, has consented to conduct this one. This class has been received with great favor by a large number of young men, heretofore, and many have been greatly helped by it. It affords a fine opportunity for ambitious young men with a good common-school education to better their prospects in life. The demand is undesirably great for qualified stenographers in business and in some of the professions. Aside from this, it is an accomplishment that is exceedingly beneficial in every way. In connection with this, the association is about to purchase a type-writer for the use of the students in short-hand. Short-hand and type-writing go together, and with these two acquirements any young man entering on a business career can command a good salary from the start and be in a better position to rise than a clerk not so qualified. The association offers this educational advantage simply for the ordinary price of a membership, $2.

THE TINGLEY FAMILY PICNIC.

Five Generations Gather at the Old New Market Homestead.

Over a hundred and fifty Tingleys or decendants of Tingleys gathered on the farm of Mrs. Augusta Blackford, (nee Tingley), yesterday. There were present nine of the sons and daughters of the late Joseph Tingley, who together with their families, numbered sixty-one. Other relatives of the Tingley's helped swell the number to one hundred and fifty-nine.

The dinner tables were set in the orchard, and were heaped with goodies of all kinds. The floral decorations were lavish and beautiful.

Members of the South Plainfield band furnished music for the occasion.

At about 1 o'clock dinner was announced. After all were seated a blessing was asked by the Rev. William Tappan, of Georgia.

After disposing of as many of the good-things as possible, speech-making was declared in order.

The Rev. Ernest P. Thompson, of South Plainfield, opened the exercises by making a brilliant and witty speech which was frequently interrupted by applause.

William Tingley, a rising young lawyer, of Newark, read a very interesting history of the Tingley family.

During the afternoon some of the old family heirlooms were examined. The one which attracted most attention was an old sleigh which has been in the family since 1769. During the Revolution this sleigh was stolen, in fun, by a scouting party of British soldiers, who left it about two miles from the farm, where it was afterwards found by its owner.

The entire party wanted to have a ride in the old sleigh, but none were allowed to get into it except Mrs. Maxson Dunham and Mrs. John M. Dayton, whose farms adjoin the Tingley estate.

So many well-known people were present that it would be next to impossible to name them all. The oldest member of the five generations present was Abel Tingley, of South Branch, a wealthy brother of the late Joseph Tingley.

During the afternoon the jolly party were grouped on the lawn and a picture was taken by Joseph Tingley Hart, a prominent photographer of Brooklyn.

The affair was a perfect success, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements to continue the picnic from year to year.

After supper and a general handshaking, the party dispersed to the music of "Auld Lang Syne" and "Home Sweet Home".

A Reception to Plainfield's Honored Guest.

Major-Gen. Carnochan, of Indiana, Commander-in-Chief of the Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, and who is going to review the grand parade of the First Regiment of New Jersey Knights next Wednesday in this city, will arrive in Elizabeth Tuesday evening. He will be the guest that night of Gen. J. Madison Drake, Commander of the Veteran Zouaves, who will tender to the old veteran, to Col. George H. Rhodes, Commander of the First Regiment, and to their staffs, a reception at his home on Jefferson avenue.

Burglars in the Valley.

A series of petty robberies have occurred in Washingtonville, lately. The cellar of Frank Mobus was broken into and his winter's supply of canned fruit was stolen. The fruit had just been canned by Mrs. Mobus. Someone who must have been acquainted with the premises watched his opportunity and snatched the preserves.

A large ham was taken from John Koch's pantry about the same time.

Gone with Thirty Dollars.

A young man whom he knew only as "Ed" has decamped from the employ of Henry Liefke, the baker. The man smuggled his clothes from the house into the delivery wagon, Tuesday morning, collected about $35 from Mr. Liefke's customers, and boarded the 12:27 train at noon, leaving the horse tied in front of the railway station, where Mr. Liefke found it later.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

A Challenge Cup at Dunellen.

The Dunellen Bowling Green Club had three very fine games on the Dunellen court, Saturday. The club was presented by John Adams with a large, beautiful and costly silver cup, which will be held for cantest with any regularly organized bowling green club in the United States. Acceptance of the challenge must be sent in before Oct. 1.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires's Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25-cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

COLONEL LEE DEAD.

An Officer Who Rendered the United States Efficient Service.

NEW YORK, Sep. 10.—Colonel John G. Lee, 54 years old, and an officer in the United States army was found dead in his room No. 372, in the Hoffman House. He was in excellent spirits when he retired at 10 p. m. The coroner found that Lee had died of cerebral apoplexy.

About four years ago the Corean Government applied to the United States to send an army officer to that country to drill the army and to instruct the soldiers in field manœuvres. Col. Lee was appointed to the position and filled it with credit.

Among his personal effects was found a letter dated Philadelphia, April 11, 1888, in which he stated he was a former resident of Philadelphia, giving instructions regarding his burial and stating that the Philadelphia Trust Company were his executors and had his will.

Odd Fellows Elect Officers.

CARLISLE, Pa., Sep. 10.—The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, after the election of officers, selected Williamsport as the place for next year's convention. The following are the officers elected: District Master, James E. Needham of Philadelphia; Deputy Master, William Penn of Pittsburg; District Secretary, S. M. Stafford of Marietta; District Treasurer, Alexander Denny of Harrisburg; Director, C. T. Logan of Wilkesbarre.

The Engineer Was Careless.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sep. 10.—The cause of the explosion of the locomotive boiler in front of the depot here yesterday, by which the engineer, fireman and a brakeman were killed, is now supposed to have been due to carelessness on the part of the engineer in permitting the water to get below the crown sheet.

At the Summer Capital.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 10.—Gen. Louis L. Michener and daughter of Washington dined with the President last evening. Early this morning the President started for Maurice River meadows for rail birds. He took an early special train under the direct management of Colonel Boyd.

Still Watching the Pinto.

COPENHAGEN, Sep. 10.—The Presidente Pinto, Chilian cruiser, was in the roadsted yesterday and was kept under watch, in order to prevent her from shipping arms and men. The Pinto has sailed for Helsingfors.

Thayer Owns the Constellation.

BOSTON, Sep. 10.—Mr. Bayard Thayer, when asked if he had purchased the Constellation, the best built schooner-yacht in this country, said that he had. The yacht is constructed of steel and cost nearly $100,000.

Freight Trains in Collision.

DANBURY, Conn., Sep. 10.—A freight train on the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad collided with a work train in the yards here last evening, wrecking both locomotives and 10 cars, and blocking the road for several hours. No one was hurt.

Failed for $28,000.

BROCTON, Mass., Sep. 10.—George B. Kingman, boot and shoe manufacturer has failed. Liabilities $28,000, assets $9,0000. He has offered his creditors 20 cents on the dollar.

Human Blood on His Clothes.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 10.—Dr. H. A. Wolf declares that the clothing worn by Louis Lauer, accused of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Bushenhagen at Bloomfield last week, and who hanged himself in his cell in the night, was covered with human blood. Dr. Wolf is an expert microscopist.

Will Demand Indemnity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Morgan Line Steamship Company announces that a demand will be made upon the British government for indemnity for the cargo stolen from the stranded steamer El Dorado by the Bahama wreckers.

Ex-Janitor Daley's Trial.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 10.—The trial of ex-Janitor Daley of Trinity College, who, on the night of the Trinity class day dance shot and killed John McCarthy, is set down for next Tuesday.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

30 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

NEVER TOO OLD FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

The Convention in North Plainfield Calls for the Help of Older Heads.

The thirty-second annual convention of the Somerset County Sunday-school Association was held in the Warren Union Mission chapel, North Plainfield, Tuesday. The convention was called to order at 10:45 a. m., with the President, the Rev. Wm. M. Trumbower, in the chair, and all joined heartily in singing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul". After a prayer and the reading of the scriptures, the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" was sung, and the convention was declared opened and ready for business. The minutes of the last annual convention were then read and approved. The regular committees were then announced by the president, and the report of the treasurer was submitted. It showed the yearly receipts to have been $189.47; disbursements, 179.63; leaving a balance in the treasury of $9.84.

The Hon. Charles Place, Mayor of North Plainfield, was then introduced, and after extending a cordial welcome on behalf of the borough and Warren Mission, to the delegates, he proceeded with his address. The Mayor laid stress on the importance of the Sunday-school field, and the necessity of the church and the Sabbath-school going hand in hand. He spoke of the growth of the Sunday-school system, and instanced as an example the marvelous success of Hope chapel, a school that was started a short time ago, as an experiment, with fifteen or twenty scholars, and which now had a membership of about four hundred. After recounting the history, and the future power, of the Sunday-school, he closed with an appeal to the teachers not to be discouraged but to press forward in the work.

President Trumbower then delivered a most eloquent address, which was received with applause. After returning thanks to the borough and mission, Mr. Trumbower referred to the new interest which the church is taking in the Sunday-school, and spoke of the many hopeful signs which he saw on all sides of renewed energy in the work. But there is—he said—a great work to be done: five million out of seven millions of young men in this country never enter the sanctuary of God. There are now 222,000 young men under 21 years of age in our public prisons. Mr. Trumbower then made an eloquent plea for the establishment of rescue stations, and asked the Sunday-school workers to throw out the life lines. In closing, he urged the church to do more to assist the Sunday-school, and to throw its sympathetic aid more in that direction. The only way—he said—in which the Sunday-school could hold what they had would be to aim at the conversion of those in the classes. The address was very well received.

Brief reports of township secretaries were then submitted, and the morning session was adjourned.

The afternoon session was a most interesting and profitable one. The Rev. S. W. Clark, the State secretary, made an elaborate statement of his work, and visiting delegates from other counties made short reports.

The committee on resolutions submitted the following:

Resolved, That means should be adopted by which the interest of the older people of the church in the Sabbath-school should be increased.

That the establishment of normal Bible classes in connection with the Sabbath-school is a very essential aid in the work, and that they should be established in every school, to be conducted by some active young man in church work.

That the church should recognize and be more in sympathy with the work of the young people's societies of the local church.

Also, that the increased attendance of the teachers must be secured, and the duties of the superintendents in this particular were to see that they were notified if absent.

The annual address was then delivered by the Rev. A. J. Martine, of Dunellen, who took for his subject "The Sabbath-school in Its Relation to the Past, Present and Future."

The best received speech of the convention was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Addison Parker, of the First Baptist church of Somerville, on "The Art of Winning Souls to Christ". The following points were made: 1.—It is necessary for the teacher to have sympathy. 2.—Confidence in God's ability. 3.—Get into God's grace, and out of self. 4.—Taking them (the scholars) to God in prayer. 5.—Faith in God. 6.—Personal interest in your scholars.

Dr. Parker spoke at considerable length, and his address produced a deep impression.

State secretary Clark then opened the question box and proceeded to answer the questions. Some of the questions were: What do you think of a Sunday-school which lesson paper? What is the initial step to be taken to form a normal Bible class? What would you do with teachers who neglect their class? Should the Sabbath-school teacher do all the talking before the class? When a teacher has brought all the scholars to Christ, ought he or she to be put over another class? What plan would you recommend to keep the young men in the Sabbath-school?

The evening session was called to order, after a service of song, by the president, after which the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes delivered a stirring address on "The Word of God". He was followed by the Rev. F. A. Mason; and then the Rev. William H. DeHart, in a short speech, urged the necessity of personal work with young men in connection with the Sabbath-school.

The convention was a success in every particular. The absence of young people among the delegates, however, was a subject of comment. Nearly all of the delegates were ministers or old Sabbath-school workers. Means will be taken to have the young people represented in next year's convention.

All were high in their praises of the reception at the hands of M. Marvin Dunham and his able assistants in the Warren Mission. A most bountiful collation was served, and the 150 delegates present thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality.

Base-ball Talk.

(From The Somerville Messenger.)

The base-ball cranks of this section feel that they are (to use an agricultural expression) "some pumpkins", as on last Saturday they defeated the Westfield A. C. by a score of 3 to 2. The West Ends are now on an equal footing with the Westfields and Crescents; that is to say, each club has won two games from the other, and in the play-off there is not the slightest doubt that the West Ends can win hands down.

What luck that Westfield team has! It always seems their heavy hitters are at bat at a most opportune time (for them). Patsy Connell waited until John put it over, when he hit the ball for a double. Tom O'Rourke followed with a single and Connell scored. McManus hit the ball to centre. Carby threw to Farrell, forcing O'Rourke out at second. It was plumb out, but Codding did not think so, and he at once drew his men from the field. Fass ordered them to play ball, but, as they would not, he declared the game in favor of the West Ends by the score of 9 to 0. We had already won it, and as we were in the lead the action on the part of Manager Codding was justly condemned by everyone. Had the Westfields been ahead they could have afforded to forfeit the game, as then perhaps they would have had some supporters; but when a team is behind, then to stop playing; and what for no one knows, is really a very babyish act. Still, there was no trouble; it was all done very quietly; and, as the Manager said after the game: "It was our judgment we were being robbed; therefore, we did the only thing we could do: stop playing." They are, however, willing to play off the tie, as they acknowledge this defeat, and there is no doubt that in the course of two or three weeks the fifth game will be played on neutral grounds.

PLAINFIELD SECOND.

League of American Wheelmen Members in New Jersey.

Chief consul Brown has prepared a membership list of League of American Wheelmen members in the State, with the numbers from each city and town, and to the gratification of every wheelmen in this city, it is found that Plainfield is only 8 behind big Elizabeth and leads all the rest in the whole State in number of members. The principal places and their membership is as follows:

Elizabeth, 109; Plainfield, 101; Newark, 85; Jersey City, 76; Paterson, 58; Asbury Park, 46; Trenton, 41; East Orange, 40; Vineland, 36; Camden, 34; Rahway, 31; Roselle, 28; Englewood, 28; Passaic, 27; Westfield, 22; Rutherford, 21; Bayonne, 18; Orange, 18; Montclair, 16; Millville, 14; Morristown, 14; Cranford, 13; Flemington, 13; Atlantic city, 11; New Brunswick, 11; Ridgefield, 10; Bordentown, 10.

In addition there are four places with 9 each, two with 8, six with 7, five with 6, five with 5, six with 4, ten with 3, eighteen with 2 and fifty-six with 1.

The number who were members last year and failed to renew this year on account of death, sickness, resignation from club, giving up riding, or for any other reason, is as follows:

Newark, 26; Jersey City, 17; Trenton, 16; Elizabeth, 14; Plainfield, 13; East Orange, 13; Orange, 11; Paterson, 11; Asbury Park, 10; and a number in other places ranging down to one each.

The Peach Crop Simply Marvellous.

Nelson Pidcock, a prospective candidate for Governor of this State, and who at one time represented the people of North Plainfield, in the Senate, owns two-thirds of the peach trees about White House, in which village he lives. He expects to have more than 100,000 baskets this year. He says the wet season forced the fruit to ripeness at least two weeks earlier than usual, and it was sent to New York just in time to meet the Maryland and Delaware fruit. This killed prices.

Much handsome fruit is rotting on the trees, because many recent consignments did not bring to the grower more than five cents a basket. A few of the growers have purchased evaporators, into which the fruit which cannot be placed upon the market is put. Two hundred baskets of fruit can be dried in a day by means of one of these machines. Mr. Pidcock says there is no exaggeration of the stories of the large crop. It is simply marvellous. Trees are breaking with the weight of excellent fruit.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyon question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N. J.

IN A PECK OF TROUBLE.

"What are you crying about, my little man?"

"Jimmy O'Brien licked me first, an' then father licked me for letting Jimmy lick me, an' then Jimmy licked me for telling father, an' now I suppose I shall catch it again from father."—Life.

Same Thing.

"The reason why we shall have to raise the price of coal," explained Baron Anthracite to the humble vassal who had ventured to make an inquiry about it, "is that an immense amount of coal will be required when it becomes necessary to move the enormous crops this year."

"But suppose dry weather and early frosts kill the crops," suggested the humble vassal. "What then?"

"In that case," rejoined the baron, a look of pain stealing over his noble face like the shadow of a cloud chasing the sunshine across a field of red clover blossoms, "in that case coal would go up, of course, with all the other necessaries of life."—Chicago Tribune.

Extenuating Circumstances.

"You are accused of snatching a handful of small change from the till of a grocery store on Third avenue," said Justice Duffy to a colored prisoner.

"Yes, yer honor, I knows I did; but when a man am hungry, and haint had nuffin ter eat fer more den two days, he am desperit an' crazy, and he doan keer what he does."

"But it appears at the time you stole a handful of change you had a five dollar bill in your pocket."

All the druggists sell the Tudor Whiskey. Some of the other dealers do not. They say it pays too small a profit. Pure whiskey never does yield a large profit. It is the adulterated stuff which makes the money. Do you want to pay your dealer an exorbitant profit on an adulterated article, or do you prefer genuine old Whiskey which is sold at a moderate profit? Decide for yourselves. The Tudor Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old.

AN ORDINANCE

Dividing the Borough of North Plainfield into two election districts.

Whereas, The Borough of North Plainfield, as manifested at the last Borough election held therein, contains more than six hundred voters; now, therefore,

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Borough of North Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts, to be known hereafter as the First Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield, and the Second Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield.

Section 2. The First Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the northwesterly side of an imaginary line beginning at the centre of Stony brook where the same empties into Green brook; thence up the centre of Stony brook to the centre of Stines's bridge; thence easterly along the centre of Rockview avenue to the centre of Terrace avenue; thence along the centre of Mercer avenue to the centre of Grove street; thence along the centre of Grove street to the centre of Emily street; thence along the centre of Emily street to the centre of Somerset street; thence along the centre of Somerset street to the centre of Race street; thence along the centre of Race street to the centre of Warren street; thence along the centre of Warren street to the centre of Manning avenue; thence along the centre of Manning avenue to the centre of Richmond street; thence along the centre of Richmond street to the centre of Green brook, and there to end.

Section 3. The Second Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the southeasterly side of the imaginary line aforesaid.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect on the eighteenth day of September, A. D., 1891.

Approved Sept. 4, 1891

Witness my hand this 2nd day of September, A. D. 1891.

VINCENT W. NASH,
Special Policeman and Collector of Delinquent Taxes.

GIVING IT A SEAT.

Slowpay—Why did you put that confounded bill on a chair?

Visitor—Because it has been standing too long already.—Munsey's Weekly.

Just Like a Woman.

Judge—Then your husband has ill-treated you?

Witness—No, your honor.

Judge—What? Did he not bite off one of your ears?

Witness—No, your honor, I did it myself.—Jury.

It Didn't Work.

Conductor (to two Israelites)—What do you mean by giving one nickel for two fares?

Israelite—Don't shildrens pay half price, and don't ve vas shildrens of Israel?—Texas Siftings.

A Convict.

"Pa," said Bobby, "look at that striped horse."

And the old farmer gazed on the zebra at the circus and said: "Yes; looks ez if he'd 'scaped from some penitentiary, b'gosh!"—Judge.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Dastardly Attempt to Wreck a Passenger Train.

TORPEDOES ON THE TRACK.

Great Loss of Life Averted by a Train Being Late.

A Pusher Engine Wrecked Completely by the Explosion—Lehigh Valley Railroad Officials Hunting for the Wreckers. Excitement Very High and the Criminals May Get Quick Justice if Caught.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Sep. 11.—Excitement runs high here over the dastardly attempt to wreck a passenger train last Wednesday night on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Train No. 9 was 45 minutes late and therein lay the salvation of the passengers.

The train being late, the station master at Kennedy, five miles from here, allowed a pusher engine to go ahead of the delayed train.

The engine was going along at a reduced rate of speed, when suddenly there was a loud explosion, which tore away portions of the engine and wrecked it completely.

The engineer and fireman had a most miraculous escape. They were not even hurt.

An investigation into the cause of the explosion has developed the fact that a dynamite cartridge had been placed on the tracks. Two more cartridges were found ahead of the exploded one.

By a mere accident a great loss of life was averted.

If train No. 9 had been twenty minutes late, instead of forty minutes, the pusher engine would not have been allowed to go out, and the passenger train, with its crowded coaches, going at full speed, would surely have exploded all three cartridges.

The officials claim to have a clue as to the perpetrator of the deed

Easton detectives have arrested a man, giving his name as Louis D. Barrand and residence New York. The detectives believe that he is Oscar Kemel, the notorious "Man from Peru," who has a long record of crimes of the train wrecking order.

PARK PLACE DISASTER.

Witness Fry's Statement a Good Point for the Insurance Companies.

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—The statement of a witness yesterday evening before the coroner's jury investigating the Park place disaster was a good point for the insurance companies if they intend fighting the claims for insurance money.

Simon Fry, a pawnbroker, and Manufacturer Rosenfeld's brother-in-law, testified to the discovery of the bodies of Adam Goldsmith and Sam'l Blitz after it had been stated that all bodies had been taken from the ruins. Rosenfeld often told the witness that all his wealth was in his business, about $20,000, and that he could only get insurance for $2,500. Then came a startling development.

"I want to say something which I think the jury ought to hear," added Fry.

"On August 29, when I was at the ruins looking for bodies, some discussion arose among the crowd whether the building collapsed or whether there had been an explosion.

"One man who stood beside me, and who, I have since learned, is Mr. Liebler of Liebler & Maass, said to me in German: 'Keep still. We will make it appear an explosion, whether it was or not. We want our insurance.'"

This created a profound sensation, and District-Attorney Bedford requested that Mr. Liebler be subpœnaed at once, as well as Leo Rosenfeld, a nephew of Manufacturer Rosenfeld, who stood beside Mr. Fry, and who is said to have overheard the statement imputed to Liebler.

Mr. Liebler came in soon, and upon his examination indignantly denied that he had made the statements attributed to him.

The verdict of the jury is very peculiar, and does not place the blame on any definite cause. In conclusion they recommend a State law for periodical inspection of buildings where heavy manufacturing is carried on.

Money for the Sufferers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Up to noon today $24,972 had been contributed for the relief of the Park place sufferers.

An Amusing Mexican Banquet.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sep. 11.—The banquet to be given in honor of President Diaz's birthday is expected to be an amusing affair, as many of the Alcades who are to be present are ignorant Indians, who never sat at a table or used a knife or fork in their lives, and have never been in society, and some few perhaps cannot even speak Spanish, nor have they ever worn trousers or shoes, but simply sandals and white drawers.

Settle Their Differences.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 11.—The differences between the Republicans in this State have been settled. Chas. T. Wescott has withdrawn from the chairmanship of the State Central Committee, and as this entirely satisfies Col. Van Nort the latter gentleman will remain on the ticket for Governor. H. M. Clabaugh was chosen in Mr. Wescott's place.

Dartmouth Collegiate Year Begun.

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 11.—The collegiate year at Dartmouth opened yesterday. There are about 90 freshmen, but this number will be increased by late arrivals.

Fourth-Class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—Fourth-class postmasters have just been appointed in New York State as follows: J. Bower, at Hickory Corners, and C. F. Crosby at Sardinia.

EXPERTS STOP WORK.

The Appropriation to Examine the Keystone Bank Runs Out.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 11.—Experts Lawrence E. Brown and Taylor Faunce have stopped work as government agents in examining the books of the defunct Keystone National Bank, made necessary by the exhaustion of the special appropriation to pay experts on defunct banks. The suspension was unexpected, as no one dreamed that such a paltry sum as $5,000 was the total appropriation for work that might include hundreds of the 5,000 national banks in the country. This state of affairs is particularly unfortunate in the Keystone Bank's case, as it will necessarily greatly impede the investigation, although Secret Service Agent Albert Barrett, who is employed on a salary, will continue the work. Mr. Faunce to-day said that he and Mr. Brown had just reached a place where they saw daylight in the darkness, which has surrounded the mysterious disappearances of the money from the bank. Had they continued on the books they had expected to shortly clear up the mystery.

Messrs. Brown and Faunce will continue, however, to work on Bardsley's accounts for the city.

TOO MANY WIVES.

He Loses His Property and Finds Himself in Jail for Non-support.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sep. 11.—The old and well known physician here, J. G. Spearling, who is now in jail for non-support of one of his wives, has been particularly unfortunate in his marital relations. In 1867 he married a Miss Lucie A. Breese, but they did not agree and soon separated. Some years after the doctor obtained a divorce in a Western State, and afterwards married again.

The first wife at once brought suit against him for bigamy, claiming that the divorce was illegally obtained. The courts decided in her favor, declared the divorce illegal and ordered the doctor to pay $50 per month alimony.

The annulment of the second marriage drove wife No. 2 to the courts and she entertained suit against the unlucky physician for trespass. She obtained a judgement against him for $8,000, an execution was issued and the doctor's property sold by the sheriff, thus leaving him unable to support his first wife.

Mrs. Weber Secures a Divorce.

BOSTON, Sep. 11.—Mrs. Ellen Webber of this place, who joined the Dakota divorce colony in January has been granted a divorce from Professor C. I. Webber of Boston, an instructor in music and concert opera, to whom she was married in 1882. Before her marriage she was Miss Ellen Wordsworth of Palmyra, N. Y. The decree compels the professor to pay all costs incurred and $100 attorney's fees.

One Immigrant Not a Pauper.

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—Ruvel Dumskt, an Austrian, aged 41 years, was among the steerage passengers who arrived here on the steamer Spaarndam. On being examined at the Barge Office it was found that he had in his possession $10,000 in United States gold on his person. He had been a farmer, and sold his land with the view of coming to this country and settling in Newark, N. J.

Cereal Crop Report.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—The statistician of the Department of Agriculture reports the September general averages of cereal crops as follows: Corn, 91.1; rye, 95.1; wheat, 96.8; oats, 90.7; barley, 94.3; Buckwheat, 96.6. A small advance is noted in all, buckwheat alone excepted. The average for potatoes is 94.8. For tobacco, 87.4.

Two Girls Fatally Burned.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—A special from Monongahela says: Wednesday the two daughters of John Estelle were filling a lighted lamp when the oil exploded, burning the youngest girl to death and her sister so seriously that she will not likely recover. The mother of the girls was terribly burned in trying to extinguish the flames.

Fat Men's Annual Reunion.

NORWALK, Conn., Sep. 11.—The 25th annual reunion and clambake of the Fat Men's Association was held at Dorlan's Point yesterday. Of the once famous association but 40 members remain, and they were all present. D. B. Lockwood of Bridgeport was re-elected president, and Patrick Murphy secretary and treasurer.

An American Mission House Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—The Department of State has received a telegraphic dispatch from the Minister at Pekin, reporting that a riot has occurred at Ichang on the Yang Tse Kiang River, in the province of Hoo Pe, and that an establishment of American missionaries there has been destroyed. No further particulars are given.

WENT OVER NIAGARA

Two People End Their Troubles in the Cataract.

BELIEVED THEY WERE LOVERS.

Neither Left Anything By Which They Could Be Identified.

A Philadelphian Risks His Life to Save the Woman—He Caught Hold of Her Garments but She Pulled Away—She Smiled as the Current Caught Her and Dashed Her Over Into the Awful Abyss.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sep. 11.—A stranger committed suicide by jumping into the river from Luna Island soon after 2 p. m. The Rev. C. H. Pridgeon of Cannonsburg, Pa., A. M. Ford of Boston and E. C. Palmer of San Francisco were standing by the river's brink, watching the rushing current, when the man approached and accosted them with;

"It looks as though one could never get out."

The gentlemen made no reply to this. The stranger gazed into the stream a few minutes, when he suddenly cried:

"I am going to try it!"

He made a motion toward the bank. The gentleman attempted to seize him, but before they could reach the spot he had deliberately jumped into the river and was almost immediately carried over the falls. His body has not yet been seen.

A few minutes later, as a score or more of spectators were watching the American falls from Prospect Park, a richly dressed woman, about 25 years of age, who had been seated on one end of the benches for some time suddenly rose and, walking hurriedly to the wall at Prospect Point, climbed nimbly over and jumped into the river.

The current at this point runs as swiftly as an express train. Notwithstanding the peril Mr. R. I. Heim of Philadelphia, aged 70, rushed to the wall and jumped into the river at the brink of the fall and endeavored to save the woman. He succeeded in grasping her hand, but she resisted and slipped away from him. She smiled as the current caught her and dashed her over into the awful abyss.

Mr. Heim was nearly exhausted and in great danger. It was only by the efforts of Policeman McMillan that he was saved from following the suicide over the falls.

The woman was a blonde and richly dressed in black. She, too, was a stranger, and no one knows her name or whither she came. No guests registered at any of the hotels are missing. The theory is advanced that the two suicides had some relation to each other.

WELCOMED HOME.

New York's Republican Candidate for Governor Warmly Received at Elmira.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sep. 11.—The citizens of this place, Mr. Fassett's home, gave the young candidate a reception upon his return from Rochester last night.

Thousands thronged the streets and the passage from the station to his home was one grand ovation. His friends, of all political persuasions joined heartily in showering congratulations upon him for the distinguished honor just placed upon him by the Republican convention. The streets were brilliantly illuminated and rockets soared in thousands from the rejoicing city.

Mr. Fassett was evidently proud of his reception. When introduced to the cheering throng he spoke of his early life in the town and how his love for it had grown with his growth. He concluded his speech as follows:

"I want you to lay aside prejudice and passion. I have one purpose and that is that this shall be absolutely, purely a campaign of education and organization. No personal detraction, no personal abuse, no holding up the light of false issues, no toleration of falsehoods and misrepresentations."

Bosses to Be Prosecuted for Boycotting.

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—A report was in circulation this morning to the effect that a secret circular, of the New York Lumber Trade Association which, practically boycotts 27 members of the Lumber Handlers' Union, has fallen by chance into the hands of the union. It was reported that the members of the union have decided to take legal advice as to having the officers of the association arrested for conspiracy.

Choked to Death on a Piece of Meat.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 11.—Charles Dugan choked to death on a piece of meat last evening, at his father's home in the West End. His death occurred in five minutes after trying to swallow the meat. He was 35 years of age and unmarried.

A Widow Receives a Large Gift.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sep. 11.—It was learned this morning that two weeks ago Mrs. Asa Woods, a widow of this place, received word from Lewiston, Idaho, that she had been given a large amount of money by a friend in that town. On Monday she received another communication from the same place, but this letter conveyed to the happy widow checks to the amount of $60,000 and deeds and mortgages aggregating $240,000. Mrs. Woods refuses to state the name of the gentleman who had made her these gifts, and also refused to relate whether he was dead or not.

Reward for a Fire Bug's Arrest.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sep. 11.—The many incendiary fires here within the past few weeks have aroused the authorities to offer a reward for the arrest of the fire bug. The fires have all been quickly discovered and extinguished, the greatest damage in any one case not exceeding $2,500. They have broken out by a day as well as by night, but no view of the incendiary has been obtained until a Mrs. Malcom saw a shabby medium sized man run from her bag a behind the Opera House and disappear over a rear fence as the flames burst forth in her hay mow.

May Decide on a General Shut Down.

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—Representatives of the twenty-two establishments in the United States manufacturing wrought iron pipe and boiler tubes are in secret session here for the purpose of discussing the present low prices, due to the depressed condition of the trade, and to consider the necessity of a general shut down. Some of those present favor a scheme for leasing some of the smaller concerns and paying them a bonus out of the profits of the more extensive works.

May Be Settled Out of Court.

SALEM, Sep. 11.—Those in a position to be familiar with the Searles will case say that the prospect is good for a compromise before the hearing comes up two weeks hence. They say that the South Pacific stock is held together under this will, and that rather than take the risk of breaking up this large block of stock, the parties will pay roundly, and that Timothy Hopkins is really the only one who has any case that will bear any sort of a judicial investigation.

MacQueary's Suspension Permanent.

CLEVELAND, O., Sep. 11.—Bishop Leonard, of the Episcopal Church, has made public his decision in the case of Rev. Howard MacQueary. The bishop now changes the sentence to perpetual suspension until MacQueary shall recant. This does not conflict with the canons of the church, and while it leaves the accused still a minister, he cannot preach until he has conformed to the bishop's orders.

Who Will Succeed Fassett?

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—A report was current at the Custom House to-day that George W. Lyon, the present Surveyor of the Port, has been slated for the position of Collector, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. Fassett, and that Judge Patterson was also slated to fill the office of Surveyor.

Star of India Reported Missing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Norwegian bark Star of India, formerly under the British flag, has been posted as missing. She left Dundee June 25 for Quebec, and has not been heard from since. The craft was under the command of Captain Melson and had a crew list of 20 men.

Emperor William Anticipates War.

MUNICH, Sep. 11.—The Kaiser has conveyed very clearly in high Bavarian quarters his impression that war is to be expected, and that all Germany should be prepared.

MORMONS NOT IDLE

Commissioners from Utah Still Seeking Recruits Abroad.

FULLY 200 ELDERS ENGAGED.

Laboring With Renewed Activity Throughout England and Scandinavia.

The Proselyters All Young Men—They Do Not Hold Public Meetings, but Make Their Efforts Through Private Interviews—Still Believe in a Plurality of Wives—Converts Mostly from Europe.

LONDON, Sep. 11.—The renewed activity of Mormon missionaries in England and in Scandinavia is attracting marked attention. As previously stated fully 200 elders from Utah are now engaged in the work of proselyting in the two countries mentioned. They are sent from Salt Lake City with commissioners, to stay one or two years, when they return, and their places are taken by fresh recruits.

In Yorkshire there are known to be eight at work, and more than this number are laboring in Lancashire. Two of these missionaries have been working in a small Lancashire village for nearly a year.

They do not hold public meetings, but endeavor to secure converts by private interviews. Their method is to visit the people in their own homes and in conversation with them to point out the beauty of the system of belief of the Latter Day Saints. They have a supply of tracts, setting forth the Mormon faith, which they freely distribute. These proselyters are young men.

A reporter happened to be visiting the cottage when one these missionaries called. The cottage was occupied by three women weavers, and all single.

The elder said, after a pleasant greeting, "I will leave you this tract and will call again to answer you any questions you may desire to ask me about it."

The tract contained an outline of the doctrines and was entitled "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Its Faith and Teaching. By Elder John Morgan."

A man, whom one of these elders visited, says: "I asked him a simple question, and that was enough. I said: 'Do you believe in a plurality of wives?' He replied in the affirmative. I then told him that that finished the job, so far as I was concerned.

To a man one of the elders showed a card containing the "articles of faith" of the Latter Day Saints, which asserted belief in the gift of prophecy, in visions, in the power of healing by prayer, etc. The man suggested to the elder that he go with him and cure a girl who had a withered hand. To this request the elder replied that he had seen sight restored to the blind by prayer, but that he would not visit the girl referred to, as faith was necessary on her part in order to bring about a cure.

This elder in the course of an interview said polygamists were of as pure life as others. They lived in accordance with the laws of Abraham. They were not prompted by vice, but were simply fulfilling God's will.

"There are no Mormons now living in polygamy," said he, "but they are obeying the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. In Utah it is believed that the decision is unjust, and we fought it until the Church decided to abide by the decision.

"The decree, however, caused a great amount of suffering, in consequence of the forced separation of wives and children from their husbands and fathers.

"We believe that Christ will return to His own people, who will be gathered together in the United States. Our converts are still mostly drawn from England, Wales and Scandinavia."

TROUBLE BREWING IN SPAIN.

Evidence Discovered of a Plot to Overthrow the Baby King's Government.

MADRID, Sep. 11.—The Government is in possession of evidence going to show a conspiracy for the overthrow of the monarchy and the establishment of a republic. The authorities are very reticent, but there is now no doubt that the recent Barcelona outbreak was a premature explosion of a section of a mine that the revolutionists abroad and at home have been for some time engaged in laying.

It is said that a revolutionary movement has been delayed in the expectation that the young King might fall a victim to some of the ills of childhood, and thereby give a favorable pretext and opportunity for an outbreak.

State Funeral for Grevy.

PARIS, Sep. 11.—The body of ex-President Grevy was embalmed last night. The remains will be buried after an imposing State funeral at which President Carnot, M. de Freycinct, president of the Council of Ministers, and the other members of the Cabinet, and a large number of Senators, Deputies and general officers will be present.

The Emery Horse Sale.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 11.—The prices realized at the Emery-Fasig sale at Glenville were above all averages. Ferndale, the phenomenal yearling filly, was bid in by J. H. Shultz of Brooklyn, N. Y., for $6,000. Santa Rita, br. m., went to W. J. White, of Cleveland for $13,500, and Willow blk. c., to F. H. Ellis of Philadelphia for $13,500.

Arrested for Robbing Trunks.

BOSTON, Sep. 11.—Baggagemaster F. S. Barrie at Wells River, Vt., has been arrested charged with breaking open trunks on the Boston and Maine road and robbing them of valuables. Nearly $1,000 worth of jewelry and raiment has, it is said, been recovered from Barrie's wife to whom he gave all his stealings.

BARON FAVA IN TROUBLE.

Said to Be Accused By Italy of Misappropriating Money While in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—Private advices received here from Rome make it appear that Baron Fava, the Italian ex-Minister at Washington, who got his government into an awkward controversy with the United States over the New Orleans riots, and was recalled, has been placed "under accusation" for appropriating to his own use money allowed for the rent of the Legation mansion in this city. Italians say that being placed "under accusation" is equivalent to being indicted.

It is explained that the Minister was allowed by his country $5,000 a year for the rent of a "palace." While here, however, he occupied rooms in a very modest house, which, it is said, cost him a very small sum each month. Persons who entertained no very friendly feeling for him called the attention of the Italian government to the matter, and pictures of the house in which he had his rooms have been taken and sent to Italy. It is said, also, that the Prime Minister had an investigation made to determine how much style his Minister kept up while here. His being put "under accusation" was the result.

Reduction in Condition of Cotton.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—The September report of the Department of Agriculture marks a reduction in condition of cotton, during the past month of six points, from 88.9 to 82.7. August is a critical period in the growth of the cotton plant, and sixteen times in twenty years has deterioration been indicated by the returns of September 1st. The cause of the present reduction, on the Atlantic coast, has been an excess of rainfall, causing overgrowth of the plant and diminishing the tendency of fruitage.

Chilian Election, October 18.

NEW YORK, Sep. 11.—Despatches from Valparaiso say that the Junta has decided that an election will be the best method to bring about the tranquility so much desired. October 18 next has been designated as election day. Senators, Deputies, municipal officers and Presidential electors will be voted for. The new President will be installed on December 26.

"Jersey" Quinn Recaptured.

HARRISVILLE, R. I., Sep. 11.—"Jersey" Quinn, who escaped from Tolland jail last week, was recaptured here in the morning. He was sentenced the day before he escaped to five years in the State prison for rape.

Five Bodies Washed Ashore.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 11.—The bodies of four men and one woman were washed ashore at Scatterie from the ill-fated Camelia.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The United States steamer Pensacola has sailed for Honolulu from San Francisco.

A dividend of $3 per share will be paid by the Bell Telephone Company on October 15.

The 36th annual Conference of the African Methodist-Episcopal Church is now in session at St. Louis.

Alexander & Son, corn dealers of London have failed. Their liabilities amount to £1,870,908 and their assets to £27,879.

Paris newspapers complain that Ada Behan, who appears in "A Night Off," in that city does not have sufficient scope for her powers.

At the annual meeting of the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain Railroad, held at St. Johnsbury, Vt., yesterday, the old board of directors were re-elected.

It is understood that the jury in the famous Davis will case, which was out five days, and was discharged, not being able to agree, stood seven to five in favor of the contestants.

A special election will be held in the Fifth Michigan Congressional district on November 3 to elect a successor to the late Hon. Melbourne H. Ford, Congressman-elect.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 11.—For New England: Fair, slightly warmer, southerly winds.

For Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey: Generally fair, southerly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Slightly warmer, fair, southerly winds, showers Saturday.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The turners will turn at St. Joseph's fair in Saenger and Turner hall this evening.

—Everybody is going to Somerville to-morrow to see the Crescents wallop the West Ends.

—Service will be held at the Monroe Avenue chapel to-night at 8 o'clock, and is to be led by the Rev. C. B. Mitchell.

—The sale of the Townley homestead on Grandview avenue has been adjourned by special master Jackson to Thursday, Sept. 17.

—The reported wedding of Alfred J. Everett of this city to Miss Louise Olsson of New York is denied by Mr. Everett as altogether without foundation.

—The members of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., are arranging to hold a fair for the benefit of the council, about the middle of next month.

—Bargains in fruit jars, fruits, table butter, coffees, and many other things, may be found at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association.

—The deciding game of base-ball between the Westfields and the West Ends will be played on the Crescent League grounds in North Plainfield, Wednesday, Sept. 23.

—Rogers, 42 West Second street, has the finest grades of oysters in the country, and clams that cannot be equalled. They are fresh every day, as well as all the kinds of fish and shell food that are in the market.

—A boom town called Lorraine is threatened between Roselle and Elmora, and Graceland has already attained a population of one sign-board and a flower bed. Verily, the star of empire seems to have dropped down to roost in Union county.

—Thomas Sullivan came to town from South Plainfield yesterday and drank himself into a state of beastly intoxication. His indecent and filthy actions on the street well merited the punishment of fifty days' imprisonment inflicted by judge Codington this morning.

—The following cases have been set for trial in justice Nash's court: Patrick Moran vs. Henry Haberman, for non-payment of rent, Sept. 15. Wm. H. Milliken vs George H. Whitlock, on contract, Sept. 17. Rhoda Noel vs. Dunham, for non-payment of rent, Sept. 14.

—The interesting report, published in yesterday's PRESS, of the Sunday-school convention held in Warren Mission chapel, Tuesday, was from the pen of Charles B. Brown, who has on several occasions furnished excellent reports of similar conventions which he has attended.

—The application of the Plainfield Water Supply Company for permission to carry an 8-inch water pipe under the Washington avenue bridge has been granted by the Somerset county board of freeholders, and the committees on line bridges for Somerset and Union counties are to look after the construction to see that no injury is done to the bridge.

—A young man rode across the railway bridge in New Brunswick on a bicycle over a single plank, Sunday. The bridge if fifty feet high and 900 feet long, and had a train come on the bridge at the time the man would have been killed. The foolhardy youth refused to give his name, though the watchman detained him for an hour, hoping that a policeman would appear.

—Edward Hoover, the Plainfield genius known as "Smokestack", whose proclivities are for high climbing, called at the office of THE PRESS to-day to let the people know that he is at present engaged in painting the water-works stand-pipe at Raritan. When that job is finished he will tackle the church steeple at Readington, 140 feet high. He has painted some of the tallest steeples in the country.

—Herve W. Georgi, of Jamestown, N. Y., will conduct the Friday evening meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, this week. Mr. Georgi is stopping for a few days in this city while on his way to Brown University, where he expects to complete his preparations for evangelistic work. His religious labors in Jamestown and vicinity, in connection with his companion, Rob Jones, have been very successful. The young people of Plainfield could not spend the hour to better advantage than in attending this meeting.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Walter N. Martin, of Craig place, has returned from a visit to Port Jervis, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Titsworth and family, of East Fifth street, returned to-day from the Delaware Water Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Laire have returned from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where Mrs. Laire's health was greatly improved.

In the death of their infant son, Arthur O., Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Sherwin have the sympathy of the entire community.

John K. Clark, formerly of Westfield, but now a resident of Canonovia, N. Y., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry H. Connett, of No. 8 West Fourth street, Plainfield. He is looking remarkably well, and thinks that Canonovia is the spot to live in.

You can make it in five minutes; that's the beauty of Root Beer made from Knapp's Root Beer Extract.

SWARMING DOWN ON JOE.

Two More Cases Against the Concert Saloon Keeper.

Creditors are swarming thick and fast at the heels of Joseph Brengle Miller, otherwise known as Concert Saloon Joe.

Several of the financial entanglements into which the fellow has got himself have already been detailed in these columns. Yesterday two more came to light.

The one was a suit brought by P. M. Demarest to recover a debt of $16; the other was an action begun by Arthur M. Griffen to secure the payment of $200 due to him.

Constable Amos Moffett served the papers in both cases. Those in the Griffen suit were served last night, and were in the nature of a summons commanding Miller to appear before justice Vincent W. Nash Sept. 16, and show cause why judgment should not be entered against him. The summons in the Demarest suit is returnable Sept. 14, also before justice Nash.

Saloon Joe must go.

SEPT. 9 HIS UNLUCKY DAY.

A Year Ago His Barn Was Burned, and This Time His Shop Was Threatened.

Just a year ago Wednesday the barn of Austin Sturtevant, of Liberty street, was destroyed by fire. Wednesday evening his butcher shop came near going up in flames also.

He was hurrying to close the shop at 8 o'clock, when he was interrupted by two customers, and delayed considerably beyond the hour. When he finally got ready to go home, and just as he was about to put out the lights, the big lamp hanging in the middle of the room suddenly dropped to the floor. He carried it out doors and let it burn itself out. Then he went back into the shop to see what had caused it to fall. He found that the ceiling overhead was in a blaze. A few dashes of water put out the fire.

Just above the lamp a tin pan had been nailed to shield the wood-work from the heat. Several months ago chief engineer T. O. Doane told Mr. Sturtevant that it was a mistake to have the bottom of the pan close against the ceiling, and ordered him to bend the tin so that there should be an air space between the tin and wood. The promise was made, but the work was never done. Consequently the wood kept getting more and more charred every night, and finally took fire. It was probably smouldering when Mr. Sturtevant first got ready to go home, and had he not been unexpectedly delayed, another mysterious fire would have been occurred, and "incendiarism" would have been alleged.

Telling About the Big Convention.

Christian Endeavor societies from all over Union county attended the meeting at the Trinity Reformed church last evening and listened to the interesting reports of the Rev. Mr. Buckle and State secretary Wm. B. Hamilton, both of Elizabeth, who were delegates to the recent convention of the Christian Endeavor movement at Minneapolis. President George W. Cross presided, and the Revs. Cornelius Schenck and A. B. Dilts took part in the devotional exercises. The singing was very spirited, and the meeting thoroughly enjoyable. The delegates from the convention told many things of great interest concerning that tremendous gathering of 12,000 souls. The choir of the evening was composed of Horace J. Martin, Miss Bessie Blair, Fred. Cutter, Mrs. J. S. Cutter, T. E. Hazell, Miss F. Mattison, and Harry Rand. The organist was A. L. Titsworth. After the meeting in the church, refreshments were served in the parlors down stairs.

Mr. McGee Is President.

The young people of the Monroe Avenue chapel have formed a branch of the Epworth League. The following officers have been elected:

President—Walter M. McGee.

First Vice-president and Chairman of the Devotional Committee—Amos Cunningham.

Second Vice-president and Chairman of the Entertainment Committee—Mrs. E. Cox.

Third Vice-president and Chairman of the Mercy and Help Committee—Miss Leora Wemet.

Secretary—Miss Lottie Beckman.

Treasurer—J. B. Martin.

A Milk Horse Takes Fright at Sight of Water.

The horse which has been in the habit of drawing T. Hyland's milk wagon from Short Hills is evidently unused to seeing water squirted through a garden-hose. This morning it took fright at the stream being used to sprinkle the roadway in front of the Dime Saving Institution and jumped out of the harness and upset the wagon, smashing dozens of glass jars of milk, and giving the driver a thorough shaking-up. Milkman Kellogg caught the horse in front of I. H. Boehm's.

A New Street Lighting Contract Possible.

A special meeting of the common council will be held next Monday evening. Among the matters of business specified in the call is the consideration of propositions for lighting the streets. It is said that a new company proposes to erect poles and light the city by electricity at a lower figure than is now paid.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

DAVID CRIST, Wawarsing, N. Y.

THE PYTHIAN BAND CONCERT.

Winkler's Celebrated Seventh Regiment Musicians of Trenton, to Discourse Sweet Music in Plainfield.—A Fitting Close to the Greatest Day the Order of Knights of Pythias Will Ever See in New Jersey.

A concert by a military band is always a pleasure to hear, but when it is given by such a celebrated band as Winkler's it is doubly so. The reputation of this band extends beyond the State of New Jersey; it is well known in many other States, and justly so. That the concert to be given on the evening of Sept. 16 on the Crescent League's grounds will be one of Winkler's best efforts goes without saying. All Knights are permitted to hear this concert free who have paraded during the day and are in possession of the parade badge. An admission will be charged the general public. The following is the programme in full:

March, "Transition".....Voelker
Overture, "Poet and Peasant".....Suppe
Potpourri, "A Night in Berlin".....Hartman
Selection, "Poor Jonathan".....Millocker
Cocoanut Dance, "L'Africaine".....Gilder
The Dance of the Goblins.....Becker Loraine

DESCRIPTIVE.—Near twelve o'clock midnight, the night birds, owls, crickets, etc., are heard, the steeple clock strikes the hour, the goblins assemble at the old church yard, they begin to dance until they are suddenly frightened away by the watchman's pistol, but after a while return and dance livelier than before, more particularly a young goblin; the whistle of a passing steamboat on the river near by is heard; when the dance is at its height a second pistol shot scares them all away; the hurried music and weird effects describe them scattering in all directions.

PART II.

Overture—"Bohemian Girl".....Balfe
Medley—"Ten Minutes with The Minstrels"
.....Bowron
Selection—"Reilly and the 400".....Braham
Waltz—"La Barcarolle".....Waldteufel
The Darkies' Dream.....Lansing
A Policeman's Life.....Reeves

SYNOPSIS.—Gathering at the station for the assignment. A march movement is heard in the distance, increasing in volume as the men approach. Each one answers "Here" to the roll call and marches away to the Lonely Patrol. Passing along over his beat he hears The Evening Hymn, sung in a happy home; he joins, muttering the tones of "A Policeman's Lot". The sounds of a Merry Dance is heard, followed by A Serenade. He gives a signal, which is answered. Inspired by the music of the serenade, he sings, "A Policeman's Lot is not a Happy One". Sounds of the Night. The dogs howl. The cats squall. The latter perform a Cat Duet, which ends by the discharge of a pistol into the feline crowd, which scatters them at once. A Drunken Party make night hideous singing "We Won't Go Home Till Morning" so badly that the long-suffering policeman sounds the alarm. A fight ensues, which results in The Arrest of the Culprits. Duty over. The Grand Parade follows.

Notes from the Pond Works.

Three members of the firm of Wilbremer & Sons, Philadelphia, were visitors at the works yesterday. With superintendent Stebbins they made a thorough inspection and seemed highly delighted with all the appointments.

Foreman Walsh is laying out a cellar for his new house on Lee place near Third street, and will build at once.

Why can we not have a policeman in this section of our rapidly growing city? We need one. Ed. Schimer, our special, would make a good regular. Messrs. Council (Big 6) look it up at once!

They are talking in the shop about resurrecting the Workingmen's Athletic club. Do we need it?

Foreman of the planers, Chas. Lester, has made a start for winter by letting his whiskers grow. There are rumors of a lady in the case and that Charley will be a benedict before the snow falls.

In place of an athletic club, boys, why not start a hose company below Grant avenue? The shop has every known appliance against fire, but no trained service. This is a good pointer, also, for our worthy superintendent.

Israel Godder's new house on Third street, near Grant avenue, is fast approaching completion and will be ready for occupancy by the middle of October.

LATHE HAND.

Providential Escape from an Awful Death.

A party of excursionists from New Brunswick to Washington Rock, Labor Day, had an exciting experience on the return trip in the evening. Just as the stage containing the party was about to cross the Lehigh Valley railway tracks at New Market, the gates were suddenly shut, striking the horses on the neck. A moment later an express train flew by, coming within a few inches of the horses' heads, which were quickly turned by driver Wm. Kuhn.

Mr. Wheat, who was one of the party, jumped out and with the driver held the frightened horses. Had the driver been warned just two seconds later the stage and horses would have been on the track directly in front of the engine, and death would surely have followed. R. J. Robertson was in a buggy behind the stage.

The occupants of the stage were Mrs. J. Dickinson, Mrs. Dressler, Misses Annie Roberts and Annie Gregson, Mrs. Roberts, Isaac Huyler and daughters, Mrs. R. J. Robertson and Mrs. Wheat.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N. J.

ALL READY FOR THE RACE.

Eleven Fast Riders Have Entered, to Try for the Medals.

The following entries have been received for the road race of the Bicycle Club, that takes place to-morrow at 4 p. m.:

Ed. V. French, P. Bi. C.
G. W. V. Moy.
Stanton M. Smith, P. Bi. C.
Geo. W. Moreton, P. Bi. C.
A. F. Hinrichs, P. Bi. C.
Geo. Mahon, P. Bi. C.
J. Pike.
J. R. Sutterley.
F. W. Yates.
W. E. Stewart.
Mr. Douglass.

Contestants are requested to meet at the club-house at 3:30 p. m.

The course, as has already been announced, has been changed from South avenue to Front street, owing to the condition of the road through Scotch Plains. The start and finish will therefore be at the corner of Front and Richmond streets.

Sidewalk riding over any part of the course will serve to disqualify, and any claim of foul must be made immediately at the close of the race. Dr. J. H. Cooley will act as referee, Messrs. Martin, Lenox and Rushmore as judges, and A. L. C. Marsh as starter. The medals will be presented at the club-house Saturday evening.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires's Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25-cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Murdered on a Steamship.

MONTREAL, Sep. 11.—The mutilated body of a woman was found in the hold of the steamship Tremont on the arrival of that vessel from Newcastle, England. She was no doubt murdered, and the authorities are making an investigation. The woman, it is said, came on board at Newcastle with an unknown man.

The Harrisons to Stop at Auburndale.

BOSTON, Sep. 11.—The family of President Harrison have engaged a suite of rooms at the Woodlawn Park Hotel, Auburndale, where they will spend some time. The party, which is expected to arrive on Saturday, will consists of Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. McKee and Baby McKee.

Could Not Hold Him.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Sep. 11.—John Corcoran, who was charged with the murder of his brother James, on Tuesday last, has been discharged from custody, the evidence being insufficient. Mrs. Daily is still in custody on suspicion of being concerned in Corcoran's death.

Guilty of Culpable Carelessness.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The jury in the case of Conrad Koehler, who accidentally shot Charlotte Brehm on Sept. 1, found him guilty of culpable carelessness. He will be arraigned in the police court to-day on a charge of manslaughter.

Chinamen Who Are Here Illegally.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The long trial of Sin Pah Mai, La Ling and Lee Sin, the four Chinamen suspected of being illegal residents, has come to a close in the United States Court. Commissioner Hirschbeck discharged Lee Sin and Pah Mai, and the other two were found guilty of being improperly in the country.

Refused a New Lease of Convicts.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 11.—The proposition submitted by the Tennessee Coal, Iron and R. R. Co., looking to a new and extended lease of convicts, was rejected by both the Senate and the House, the vote in each branch being unanimous.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

AN OLD LETTER.

[Copyright, 1891, by the United Press.]

In a lot of old papers the other day,
Like a dream of the used to be,
I found deep down in the worthless rest,
A letter she wrote to me.

It was dusty and creased and stained by time
And still, as the ray of hope,
There clung to the pages a faint perfume,
An odor of heliotrope.

The writing in places was faded and dim,
Where the ink was too weak to last,
And it seemed that the thoughts that were written there,
Had faded as well in the past.

It all came back like a tale of old;
I remembered her words again,
And the dead things seemed to mock me now,
I thought she meant them then.

The letter once more is laid away
In its musty envelope,
And yet my room and my mind seem filled
With the odor of heliotrope.

—GEORGE PERCY TAGGART.

Almost Lost Through Costly Errors.

A game of base-ball was played between the Basking Ridge and Berkley Heights nines on the grounds of the latter, Labor Day. The visiting team was held down to two runs until the ninth inning, when several costly errors on the part of the home team nearly lost the game. Whitnack, of the Basking Ridge team, was knocked out of the box early in the game, Moffett being put in his place; but the boys were after the balls, which they found so often that he too retired, when Homer, a semi-professional, from Bound Brook, went into the box to the end of the game. One of the features of the game was a slide of W. Burghmiller, only he did not slide far enough.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Berkley Heights	1	0	2	3	1	3	0	1	*—11
Basking Ridge	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	6—8

The teams were made up of the following players:

Berkley Heights	Basking Ridge.
Rob Rogers,	Fred Moffett,
L. Burgmiller,	Bonnell,
Geo. Johnson,	Whitnack,
L. Berg,	Totten,
Dick Rogers,	Gulick,
Wm. P. Kinow,	Homer,
Geo. Bill,	Frank Moffett,
W. Burgmiller,	Crane,
T. Rogers,	Randolph.

Bosh!

The minority members of the Common Council will not call public attention to their deeds by asking for a vote of thanks, but they are doing effective work nevertheless. The collection of delinquent taxes is within the province of the Finance Committee, two members of which are without the pale of the "Big Six". A consultation of the amount of delinquent taxes collected this year compared with that of last year will prove time well spent.—Central Times.

What nonsense! The minority members of the Council, or the finance committee, have no more to do with collecting the delinquent taxes than have the Big 6 or the editor of the Times. Vincent W. Nash does it all and does it well. It's to no one's credit but his.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. NEW YORK'S LATEST SUCCESSES.

And Other Theatrical Notes of General Interest.

[FROM THE PRESS'S OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The change has come. The storm has passed and the sunshine of success is smiling benignly upon the troubled sea of theatrical endeavor. There were three successes on Monday evening and though each was of a different character all were about equally well received. They were Frederick Paulding in his uncle's posthumous play, "The Struggle of Life", at the Standard; Mary Wainwright in "Amy Robsart" at Palmer's, and "Eight Bells" at the Union Square.

"The Struggle of Life" is of the conventional type of melo-drama, abounding in thrilling scenes of persecuted innocence and remarkable villainy, but it is interesting throughout and is splenddly acted, while the mounting and effects can only be described by the too-often misapplied adjective—"superb".

Miss Wainwright's picturesque presentation of "Amy Robsart" was an artistic triumph for the talented actress. Of course every body is familiar with Scott's poetical story "Kenilworth", so it will not be necessary to dwell upon the play which Adelaide Nilsson first made known here nearly twenty years ago. Let it be enough to say that the fine old play was produced magnificently and played admirably. Miss Wainwright herself gave a most charming interpretation of the difficult title role, winning unanimous praise from both critics and public. "Amy Robsart" is an assured success—artistically, at any rate.

"Eight Bells", as produced at the Union Square, is rightly classified as a "nautical pantomimic absurdity". It is plainly patterned after the Hanlon Brothers' "Superba" and kindred trick furniture and scenery entertainments. Still there were a few novel features in it, especially the sectional ship scene at the end of the second act, representing the capsizing of a steamer in mid-ocean during a storm. The Byrne brothers, of course, were very much in favor with their acrobatic feats, and Miss Ada Dare, who is a remarkably beautiful young woman of the blonde type, proved herself an excellent comedienne as well.

Alas for the desires of loving hearts! Fate is inexorable. When Marion Manola and "her Jack" returned from abroad they were quite determined to go starring together. At least they should be jointly featured with some attraction. But somehow, the cruel and unsympathetic managers did not see it that way. They did not mind Manola, but Jack—no! Husbands and wives in the same company always make trouble. The upshot of it all is that Marion has come to the tearful necessity of singing for the soprano role in "The Tar and Tartar", while Mason is to remain in New York and try to fill Wilton Lackaye's shoes as a perepatetic jobber. Can he?

Henry E. Dixey opened in "The Solicitor" last night at Herrmann's Theatre. The house was crowded and the comedian was given the heartiest of welcomes. I will tell you all about the play and the performance in my next letter.

One Railroad May Cross Another as it Pleases.

Vice-Chancellor VanFleet filed an opinion Tuesday, at Trenton, in the suit of the Jersey City, Newark and Waverly railroad company agt. the Central railroad of New Jersey.

The complainant asks for an injunction to restrain the Central from preventing it from crossing the Central's tracks in the Newark meadows. The Central admits the other company's right to cross, but denies that it may cross at grade. The complainant, in condemnation proceeding, paid into court the sum of $35,473.33 for the right of way, and if the money is not accepted by the Central, which has up to date refused the tender, the court says it will grant the restraining order asked.

In his opinion the Vice-Chancellor says that where a railroad corporation formed under the general railroad law of New Jersey lays out its route so that its line crosses the route of another railroad, the law gives it the right to decide for itself whether it will cross such other road at grade or otherwise. Its right to cross at grade is subject to but two limitations—first, it shall not cross at a less angle than 20 degrees, and second it shall not cross in such a manner as will destroy the reasonably fair enjoyment of the franchise of the road whose route is crossed.

Two Plainfield Trotters Make a Creditable Showing.

In the first race at Waverly, Monday, J. H. Fosher's brown gelding, Dynamite, won the first heat in great shape, but was taken sick and was shut out of the race thereafter.

Charles C. Brower's black gelding, Wesley, trotted second in the first two heats and third in the last of the 2:38 race. The New York Sun said that Seigfried got the race "on sufferance from Wesley, who could have come out and won at any stage of the race".

He Forgot His Social Status.

An amateur theatrical performance representing some scenes from Richard III. was given at the residence of Judge Peterby. The performers were not very well drilled, and Gus De Smith, instead of taking a position in the middle of the stage, stood off to one side. The effectiveness of the scene was somewhat marred by the stage manager saying in a hoarse but audible whisper:

"You, Gus De Smith, get away from there! Surround his majesty! Can't you remember, you addle-pated ass, that you are the duke of Buckingham?"—Texas Siftings.

COVERED PATROL WAGONS.

New Style of Police Vehicle Inaugurated in Chicago.

The Chicago police department, says the Tribune of that city, is planning a new style of patrol wagon that will be a great improvement over the present one. The drawings for the first of these wagons have been made and accepted by Chief McClaughry, and the wagon is now being built. It is to be similar to those now in use except in the body, which is to be inclosed as a protection to prisoners and also a protection against prisoners. The sides will run straight from the bed, arching over at the top much like the ordinary delivery wagon for a retail grocery house.

The body will be boarded up to the height of the seat inside, and heavy slats will extend two feet further, above which heavy brass bars will be run, making it as secure as the ordinary station cell. The driver will be separated from the main portion of the wagon by a heavy wooden partition with a grating opening through so that he can keep an eye on his passengers. The door leading into the wagon will be in the rear, with steps leading up, as in the old style. There will be curtains on the side, which can be lowered, entirely shutting off a view of the inside.

With the old-style wagon the prisoners were exposed to the sight of the people on the streets, whether innocent or guilty. It is oftentimes necessary to take witnesses to the station house with prisoners, and they are necessarily loaded in the patrol wagon with accused people. The protection to the persons on the wagon in case of a storm is another advantage, and it will require fewer officers to guard prisoners. The seats will cover lockers which are to be stored with stretchers, medicine chest, etc. Should the first wagon prove satisfactory every wagon in the department will be converted into the new style.

THRESHOLD OF DEATH.

Entrance to the Execution Chamber at Sing Sing Prison.

A special artist of London Black and White, Mr. Frederick Villiers, during his recent visit to New York obtained permission to visit the world-famed prison of Sing Sing, which has been rendered still more notorious by the execution within its walls of the four men who were condemned to death by electricity. There is little in the general appearance of the prison suggestive of death or even punishment. The pretty little garden in front, the comfortable workshops, the convicts in their shirt sleeves, working contentedly or smoking, suggest anything but a convict establishment. Our illustration gives a different side of the picture. It represents the entrance to the chamber of death, which is never entered except by the experts, a few witnesses specially summoned, the prison officials and the unfortunates who are to die the death. Within the chamber is a chair constructed of oak and weighing about seventy pounds. Stout leather straps bind the condemned to the chair, and above it are two gas jets, surmounted by a curved iron bracket. From the latter hangs a coil of wire insulated to within a short distance of the end. This exposed end runs through a wooden structure in the shape of a figure 4 surmounting the back of the chair and leading to the upper electrode. The electrodes which communicate the current are simply copper-backed sponges with copper buttons, to which the wires are attached. These are bound with straps to the arms, legs or head of the condemned, as the expert may determine; a second wire runs under the floor to a little trap beneath the chair. The executioner takes his place in a closet facing the fatal switch and the chair, awaiting the signal. When the scientists, by a rap on the switchboard, announce that all is in readiness, the executioner turns the switch and—whether death is instantaneous, or whether, as one of the witnesses of the execution has hinted, the men suffered frightful torture, will be unknown until some of the eyewitnesses break the silence to which they are bound.

German Deserters.

It is said that nearly 40,000 men desert from the German army every year.

"CONFIDENCE BEGETS LOVE."

CHILD. "Gran'ma, kiss me good-night. Sister is asleep, but we so love to hear you tell of all the ladies that call you Mother."

MRS. PINKHAM. "Yes, darling, when you are older perhaps you may do as I have done."

CHILD. "Everybody loves you, gran'ma; I wish everybody would love me."

MRS. PINKHAM. "Everyone will love you, my child, if they can confide in you."

The above dialogue tells its own story; even the little child, without knowing why her grandmother is so universally loved, sees in her face a light of intellectual sympathy that satisfies her. That sympathy has extended itself all over the world, for wherever civilized women exist, Mrs. Pinkham is known and reverenced. Send stamp for "Guide to Health and Etiquette."

It cures the worst forms of Female Complaints, that Bearing-down Feeling, Weak Back, Falling and Displacement of the Womb, Inflammation, Ovarian Troubles, and all Organic Diseases of the Uterus or Womb, and is invaluable to the Change of Life. Dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus at an early stage, and checks any tendency to Cancerous Humor. Subdues Faintness, Excitability, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, etc., and invigorates the whole system. For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, the Compound has no rival.

All Druggists sell it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., LYNN, MASS.

What a Complexion.

"What a red face Col. Yerger has got!"

"Yes, his face is red, but that is its natural color, even when he is as pale as a ghost his face is the color of crimson. You ought to see him when he is excited and gets red in the face. Then he turns purple and blue."—Texas Siftings.

A Cure for Vanity.

Jinkers—That man is the most insufferable lump of conceit that ever trod the earth. I wish he could be elected president of the United States.

Winkers—You do? Why?

Jinkers—The newspapers would make him sick of himself.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Mistake.

Frenchman—Your society is so different from zat of France. You haf no political salons in zis country.

American—No political saloons! That's where you're entirely mistaken. Why, every one of the aldermen keeps one.—Munsey's Weekly.

Meteorological Item.

Grandpa—I am surprised that it did not rain last night, as my corns ached like mischief.

Tommy—But, grandpa, you can't expect that the weather will be always regulating itself by your corns.—Texas Siftings.

A Diplomatic Answer.

"Wouldn't it be lovely if a plate of ice cream should come right up through the floor?" said Maud.

"No," returned Charles. "I should hate to have a coolness spring up between us."—Harper's Bazar.

Nature vs. Fashion.

"Mandy, you're the puritest gal in the country. Why don't you bang your hair an' set the rest of the gals jes' crazy?"

"'Cause 'tain't no use, Tom; my hair won't stay bung!"—Puck.

Like Many an Older One.

"Boy, are you catching any fish over there?"

"Nope."

"Getting any bites?"

"Nope."

"Isn't it a hot place?"

"Yep."

"Can't you find better places further down?"

"Yep."

"Then what are you wasting your time there for?"

"See that sign? 'No trespassin' allowed?' Goin to fish here all day, by gum, if I don't get a nibble!"—Chicago Tribune.

At the Concierge's.

"So, then, it is true that our landlord has gone wrong in his head, Madame Pipelet?"

"Yes, Madame Chaputard; we took him yesterday to a lunatic asylum at Charenton."

"Would you believe! How did you find out that he was mad?"

"Oh! there was no possible doubt whatever; he reduced the rent of all the lodgers."—Le Figaro.

Improvement by Contrast.

Fashionable Applicant (to fair Delsartian)—Yes, my husband heard you lecture on "How to Walk Gracefully," and he wanted me to join your class.

Miss Henrietta Tussell—I'm always pleased when men realize the importance of my mission.

Applicant—Yes, my husband said by studying you I'd learn what to avoid.—N. Y. Truth.

Important Discovery.

Col. Yerger—So you are back from Saratoga already?

Judge Peterby—Yes, and what do you suppose I found the day after I got there?

Yerger—A pocketbook full of money?

Peterby—I found out that it costs a mint of money to stay there, so I came home on the next train.—Texas Siftings.

Mutual Sympathy.

Lawyer—I'm sorry for you, Mr. Short, but Snipps the tailor has put his account against you into my hands for collection.

Short—And you are going to try to collect it, eh? Well, I'm sorry for you.—Munsey's Weekly.

More Likely.

Mrs. Snooper (reading)—The longest word in the Winnebago language is Shonkhiaterahizanonjkonkcinena. It means: "I will give you a horse."

Snooper—It is more likely to give one the lockjaw.—Judge.

LOOKS BAD FOR HIM

Little Doubt that Curtis Killed the Policeman.

BUT HE WON'T ADMIT IT YET.

Some of His Friends Advance a Theory in His Behalf

Say the Officer May Have Been Shot By Some Friend Who Was With Curtis at the Time of His Arrest. But This Will Hardly Hold—The Accused Almost Frantic from Worry and Fear.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—The announcement from San Francisco that M. B. Curtis, "Sam'l of Posen," had shot and killed a policeman in that city came as a great shock to his many friends and acquaintances in the theatrical profession here.

Since the failure of "The Schatchen" last year Curtis is known to have been drinking heavily. He always carried a pistol about with him wherever he went, but was usually quiet and peaceful, even in drink, say his friends.

Charles Klein, who was Curtis' understudy during "The Schatchen" tour, said this morning: "Curtis was one of the best-natured fellows I ever knew. He was always helping his brother actors out of a hole. Why, Christmas before last he returned a whole lot of promisory notes, amounting to several thousand dollars, as a Christmas present to the fellows who owed him the money."

"Curtis has been acting very strangely for a long time past. The failure of "The Schatchen" broke him all up. I don't believe he can have been in his right mind when he shot that man."

Reports from 'Frisco convey the information that Curtis is almost frantic with worry and fright over the terrible charge against him. When arrested, the police say, he was either very drunk or under the effect of some powerful drug, and he was a pitiable object as he sat in the police station wringing his hands in despair, running from one officer to another to protest his innocence and telling in an incoherent, drunken way of his doings during the night. He was intoxicated, and as he staggered up from his seat some one would push him back again. Time and time again he started to his feet.

"My God," he cried, "if I could only recall the last four hours of my life. I'm no murderer, gentlemen; I had no pistol. I shot nobody. I haven't an enemy in the world."

Vainly he protested his innocence of any offense and wanted to go home to his wife. In a rambling way he told the story of his business and his affairs.

Although Curtis persistently denies all knowledge of the crime, yet circumstances at present look very dark for him. Some of his friends, however, insist that he may be telling the truth in the matter. They say that, although the policeman was shot and killed only half a block away from the station house, it was not impossible for some one other than Curtis to have done the killing.

One theory advanced on behalf of the accused is, that some one was with him when the officer took him into custody, and that, as he was also likely intoxicated, he followed and coming up behind the policeman shot him dead, dropped his revolver and fled.

This theory will hardly hold even if an attempt is made to establish it, as there were two witnesses to the shooting. They are young men and stood directly across the street and heard the policeman say: "Come along now." There was no reply, but at almost the same instant the young men saw a flash. A pistol shot rang out in the quiet street, followed in quick succession by two more reports. The officer fell to the sidewalk without a groan, and Curtis, who a moment before had been his prisoner, turned and fled up Folsom street.

Police officers state that Officer Grant had unquestionably placed Curtis under arrest for disturbing the peace, and that Curtis shot the officer while being taken to the station.

When the case of Curtis was called before Police Justice Worley the accused looked pale and trembled perceptibly, evidently not having slept much since the shooting occurred. By consent the case was postponed until Monday, to await the action of the coroner's jury and to allow the attorneys to prepare their case.

Curtis was born in Detroit, and is about 35 years old. He made his first appearance on the stage in Baltimore about 18 years ago, playing small parts in the stock company for several seasons, and then went to San Francisco.

Not long ago he told a friend of his that until "Sam'l of Posen" was produced, in 1881, he had never earned more than $25 a week as an actor. He starred in "Posen" for six or seven years, and produced in this city "Caught in a Comer," a sequel to the former play.

Curtis appeared last in a production of "The Schatchen" last September. The play was a failure and Curtis took to drink. One night while playing an engagement in the Lee Avenue Academy, Brooklyn, Curtis mysteriously disappeared. Nothing was heard of him for several weeks, and then reports reached this city that he and his wife, Albina de Mer, an exceedingly pretty French Canadian, had returned to their old play, "Sam'l of Posen," and were acting out West.

Until recently Curtis was extremely well off. He owned a great deal of real estate in California. In fact a small town out there, about half of which he owns, has been named Posenville. He tried to build a big summer hotel there last year, but it is still in an unfinished condition owing to lack of funds to carry it through.

Royal Baking Powder;
Strongest, Purest, Most Economical.

Certain baking powder makers are publishing falsified extracts from the Government reports, with pretended analyses and certificates, wherein an attempt is made to compare their baking powders with the "Royal," or making bogus tests from house to house, their obvious purpose being to counteract the recent exposures of the inferiority of their own goods arising from their impurity, low strength, and lack of keeping qualities as shown by the Government chemists and others.

As to whether any of these baking powders are equal to the "Royal," the official tests clearly determine. When samples of various baking powders were purchased from the grocers, and analyzed by the United States Government Chemists and the Chemists of State and City Boards of Health, the reports revealed the fact that the "Royal" contained from 28 per cent. to 60 per cent. more leavening strength than any other cream of tartar baking powder and also that it was more perfectly made, of purer ingredients, and altogether wholesome.

As these powders are sold to consumers at the same price, by the use of the Royal Baking Powder there is an average saving of over one third, besides the advantage of assured purity and wholesomeness of food, and of bread, biscuit and cake made perfectly light, sweet, and palatable—advantages not to be had in the use of the low grade, cheaply made baking powders that contain lime, alum, and other impurities.

JAY COOKE'S PREDICTION.

He Sees a Long Period of Prosperity for the Country.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 12.—Jay Cooke, whose failure on "Black Friday" precipitated the financial panic of 1873, has been traveling through the West and is full of confidence in better times ahead. He says: "I look forward to a long time of immense prosperity for the United States. I believe that we are now at the beginning of an era which will mark the advance of our country to the rank of the foremost commercial and financial nation in the world.

"For years the United States has been drained annually of millions of gold, which was sent abroad to redeem or repurchase the securities, both public and private, which were sold to foreign capitalists in the times of our financial depressions. Ever since the beginning of the war this has been going on. It is now about ended. The United States' indebtedness to Europe has nearly all been paid, and the current money income has set the other way. Hereafter the gold will come to us."

Referring to an article by C. P. Huntington, published recently in a leading magazine, advocating the consolidation of the railways of the country, Mr. Cooke said: "The tendency of all lines of business and enterprises now is toward centralization. Combinations are formed by corporations and individuals in the same line of business, whereby the cost of operating is reduced and all are benefitted by the unity and harmony of management."

ITALY IS WORRIED.

A Protest Against the Action of the German Catholic Congress.

BERLIN, Sep. 12.—The protests of Italy against the action taken by the Catholic Congress at Dantzic, in favor of the restoration of the temporal power of the Pope, has aroused great excitement in Catholic circles.

The Congress is composed entirely of Germans, and if the Prussian government should decide against their right to sit any longer in its dominions, the members may reassemble in Bavaria or some other Catholic state.

The Congress has decided to call an International Catholic Congress to discuss the question of the restoration of the temporal power, and has also resolved to commemorate the centenary of the birth of Pius IX., which falls on May 30 next, by the erection of a monument to Dr. Windthorst at Moppen, the place where the late Catholic leader was repeatedly elected to the Reichstag.

CLOSE ON THE TRAIN ROBBERS.

Rangers in Pursuit Disregard the Law and Repeatedly Enter Mexico.

SAN ANTONIO, Sep. 12.—The rangers in pursuit of the Southern Pacific train robbers have their men almost completely hemmed in on the Rio Grande. So close behind the bandits are the officers that yesterday morning another one of the robber's horses, worn out and panting, was found by the pursuers on the river bank, where it had been evidently abandoned only a short time before.

The robbers continue to cross and recross the Rio Grande, and the officers, in disregard of international law, follow the trail into Mexico wherever it leads them. The trail shows evidence of at least eight men in the gang. There are 15 of the rangers, and whenever they do overtake the robbers there will be a bloody fight.

Bismarck's Attack of Apoplexy.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Bismarck's reported attack of apoplexy has caused a sensation in all the European capitals, and especially in Berlin. Eager inquiries were at once made as to the extent of the attack, and from all that can be learned the Prince is not seriously affected, although he will not for some time be fit to appear in public as freely as usual.

Flower Will Resign if Nominated.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—It is authoritatively stated that Roswell P. Flower will resign the office of Congressman, which he now holds, as soon as he is nominated for Governor by the Democratic State Convention, which convenes at Saratoga on Tuesday next.

UNFAIR TO GIBBONS

Referee Dunn's Decision Meets With Disapproval.

ROUNDLY ABUSED BY MANY

Only the Friends of McAuliffe Who Appear at All Pleased.

The Police Interference Was a Little Rough on the Several Car Loads of Sports Who Came from Distant Cities—A $7,000 Purse Involved in the Decision—McAuliffe Weeps Over His Victory.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—Jere Dunn, the referee in the McAuliffe-Gibbons fight at the rooms of the Granite Athletic Association in Hoboken last night, is coming in to-day for a round of abuse from the friends of Gibbons, also from those who had placed their money on the New Jersey lad, for his decision in awarding the fight and, consequently, the $7,000-purse to McAuliffe. The Brooklyn boy's supporters, however, are in high glee, and declare that Dnnn could not have decided otherwise and acted fairly. Some of them go so far as to declare that police interference was a prearranged scheme to save Gibbons from defeat. At any rate it was a little rough on the several carloads of sports who came from Boston, Troy, Philadelphia and other distant points, to be deprived of seeing the fight out.

The general opinion among uninterested and thoughtful sporting men is that the decision was unfair to Gibbons, on the ground that the articles called for a finish fight, and there was no finish. The point is accentuated by the fact that when the match was made McAuliffe wanted it be for 15 rounds, but the Gibbons party, appreciating McAuliffe's cleverness, and seeing that he might win on points in a stated number of rounds, insisted that the terms should be to a finish, and McAuliffe finally signed the articles with a clause to that effect inserted therein.

It isn't often recorded that the winner of a fight weeps on hearing the decision, but that is what McAuliffe did.

In the first round McAuliffe forced the fighting, but the round closed with honors about even.

McAuliffe scored first blood in the second round by a right-hander under Gibbons' left eye. He received several body blows in return.

The third round saw several hard blows exchanged and Gibbons' left eye received another fierce right-hander.

Clinches and sparring consumed the time of the fourth round.

A right-hander on Gibbons' jaw in the fifth round fairly dazed the Paterson boy for a moment, but he soon recovered and they pounded each other fiercely to the close.

At the beginning of the sixth round the men clinched and began hammering each other at short range. It was then that the police interfered and stopped the fight.

Labor Troubles at Haverhill

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sep. 12.—The labor troubles at Chick Brothers' factory are still on. The men who last week renounced their allegiance to the union are at work, but are hooted and jeered at by those still out whenever opportunity offers. The Lasters' Union has arranged a scale with Chick Brothers which is to continue for a year.

Satisfied that the War is Over.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 12.—Admiral Brown, Commander of the Pacific station, has been ordered to proceed from Chili to San Francisco. The recall of Admiral Brown shows that the State and Navy departments consider the troubles in Chili at an end.

To Be Presidential Postoffices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The following named fourth-class postoffices will be raised to the Presidential class October 1: Brewer, Me.; Livermore Falls, Me.; Melrose Highlands, Mass.; Derry Depot, N. H.; Birdsborough, Pa., and Derby Lane, Vt.

Supposed Burglar Found Wounded.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sep. 12.—A man, supposed to be the notorious burglar who is very much wanted for numerous crimes committed in Boston, Providence, Hartford and other New England cities, was found lying on the sidewalk on Main street suffering from a bullet wound. It is believed he was on his way to a doctor's when he fell exhausted. He gave his name as Martin. He is now in the hospital. Officials of the cities in which Martin plied his trade have been telegraphed for, and they are expected to come here and identify him.

MacQueary Will Contest the Decision.

CANTON, O., Sep. 12.—Rev. Howard MacQueary says that he will certainly contest the decision of Bishop Leonard suspending him indefinitely. It is understood from his friends here that he will take the case to the Civil Courts, suing for his salary after September 18, claiming that the bishop has no right to make the suspension last longer than six months. He says he will never compromise his freedom of speech by a promise to never talk or write the views that have brought the displeasure and punishment of his church upon him.

Elkins Would Be Satisfactory to Proctor.

CHICAGO, Sep. 12.—Secretary of War Proctor, in an interview here, when asked who his successor would be, said if there was any truth in the report that Mr. Elkins had already been decided upon, said: "I know nothing in regard to that. I have not seen the President since accompanying him to New York from Vermont. As a matter of fact I do not think the President has considered the matter at all. Yes, Mr. Elkins would be satisfactory to me as my successor. Anyone appointed by President Harrison would be satisfactory."

Forty Were Drowned.

ROME, Sep. 12.—News has reached here of a terribly disastrous collision off Cape Sunium. The Italian Messageries steamer Taormina collided with the Greek steamer Thessalia. The former vessel almost instantly sank; the captain, several of the crew, and forty cabin passengers being drowned. The second officer and a large number of passengers who were standing on the bridge of the Taormina at the moment of the collision were rescued by the boats of the Thessalia.

If Wages Are Cut, Weavers Will Strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 12. — The proposed reduction in wages was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting of the Weaver's Progressive Union. The sentiment was in favor of running the mills a less number of days per week rather than to submit to a reduction of wages. If the cut in wages is made the weavers will strike. The secretary was instructed to prepare all weavers' unions and the national union for a strike.

A Gambler's Big Loss.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—John Daly, the king of all the New York gamblers, has lost a sum of money estimated at $100,000. His manager, William S. Hollingsworth, a church member and supposedly respectable citizen, is reported to have taken it from Daly's safe and lost it in Wall street.

Death of an Old Steel Maker.

FARMINGTON, Me., Sep. 12.—Samuel K. Wellman, inventor of the Wellman crane, in use in all the large steel works in the United States, and one of the oldest iron and steel workers in the country, died at his home in East Wilton yesterday, aged 69 years.

(Helping himself the third time.) "Why can't we always have cakes like these?"

IF SO, THEY HAVE LOST HER.

For a Woman Answering Her Description is Under Arrest in Cincinnati.

Found Wandering in the Streets in a Shabby Condition She Was Taken Into Custody—Says Her Name is Ava, and Tells a Remarkable Story of Her Experience in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sep. 12.—The police of this city are still positive that Miss Vera P. Ava, whose sensational disappearance was announced Thursday, is none other than the celebrated medium spook portrait painter, nun, actress, burlesque artist, missionary and general confidence woman, Mme. Ann O'Delia Diss Debar, recently of Boston and New York, and as well known in Europe as in this country.

The description of Miss Ava and Diss Debar tally to a dot.

The actions of the two are the same. They began operations in exactly the same way, and besides dressing alike they talk on the same subjects. Then, too, Miss Ava said she had been a nun, and this was one of the lady's winning cards.

The police now say that while they are sure that Diss Debar is in the city, they will not continue the search any further, but wait for her to bob up whenever and wherever she may choose.

NOW IN CINCINNATI.

A Woman Arrested Believed to Be Miss Ava or Diss Debar.

CINCINNATI, Sep. 12.—A large woman with blonde hair was arrested at the corner of Ninth and Elm streets last night and taken to the House of Detention. Her clothing was torn and disarranged and she presented the appearance of having been roughly treated.

She says her name is Vera Ava, but she cannot account for her being in Cincinnati. She tells a remarkable story of being in Chicago Thursday, and with a Mrs. Bolton drove in a carriage to the house of Father Kelly, a Catholic priest in that city. She went to the priest's house alone with a satchel containing several thousand dollars. While talking to the priest some persons threw a shawl over her head and robbed her of the valuables she had in her hand. They then put her in a carriage and drove rapidly away.

The woman is under the impression that she was brought here in the carriage from Chicago.

Before being arrested she made application for a room at one of the leading hotels here, but was refused on account of her shabby appearance. She is held on suspicion.

The police believe the woman is none other than the notorious Diss Debar.

NEW AUTOMATIC RIFLE GUN.

A Wisconsin Man Invents One that Fires Eight Shots in Five Seconds.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 12.—A test case was made the other day at Fort Sheridan of an automatic repeating rifle that bids fair to revolutionize both naval and land warfare. The gun is the invention of Dr. H. Pitcher of Neillsville, Wis. It becomes automatic by the utilization of the gas produced by the combustion of the first cartridge fired.

The gas escapes into a chamber and acts on a piston that is set against a spiral spring, the recoil of which propels the piston back against a rod that sets the mechanism of the gun in motion, the empty cartridge being removed and replaced by a loaded one, also cocking the gun. This is done with so much rapidity that, by pressing against the trigger, the gun will discharge the nine cartridges that are required to fill the magazine in two seconds.

The best record so far is eight shots in five seconds. Lieut. Ingersoll is, however, enthusiastic in his commendation of the mechanism of the gun, and is satisfied that it will do all that is claimed for it. It is intended to apply the principle to heavy guns for use in naval warfare in propelling torpedoes and as a machine gun. The Army Board will investigate the merits of the gun at their meeting at New York next month.

PROSPECTS OF A GREAT RACE.

Arrangements to Pit the Norwood Against the Vamoose.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—There is every probability that within the next few days a race will be arranged between Norman L. Munro's steam launch Norwood and W. R. Hearst's new Herreshoff flyer, Vamoose.

As already stated Mr. Munro challenged Mr. Hearst for a hundred-mile race up and down the Hudson from a point off the foot of West 22d street to a stakeboat anchored 50 miles up the river and back over the same course to the starting point.

Mr. Hearst, in reply to the challenge, has left the whole matter in the hands of the engineer of the Vamoose for him to arrange a race, if he saw fit. The engineer, whose name is Hellbrun, will see Mr. Munro in a day or two and arrange for the race, if possible.

He says that he will not agree to the Hudson River as the course for the race, as it would not be fair to the Vamoose. He added that the Sound would be the only fair place upon which to make the test of speed. There they could steam over the eighty-mile straight-away course of the American Yacht Club, from New London to the club-house off Milton Point, or if Mr. Munro preferred a hundred mile race it could be steamed to and from a fifty-mile stake-boat.

DECLARED UNFAIR.

Circular of the K. of L. Boycotting a Pittsburg Firm of Cork Makers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 12.—The Executive Board of the Knights of Labor has issued the following circular to every district and local assembly in the entire country:

"Last spring the firm of Armstrong Bros. & Co., Limited, locked out their employes, members of L. A. No. 9,863, while negotiations respecting wages and shop rules were pending between the company and the assembly.

"An investigation by the officers of the K. of L. disclosed the fact that the action of the firm was due solely to a desire on the part of themselves and their foreman (a man notorious for his unfairness and unreasoning hostility to organized labor) to destroy the assembly so that they might be able to cut the wages of their employes while dealing with them individually.

"After repeated vain attempts to effect a reasonable settlement of the difficulty, it has been found necessary to officially declare the firm of Armstrong Bros. & Co. unfair, and request fair workingmen everywhere to refrain from patronizing the company and its customers."

Wrecked Trains for Fun.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Sept. 12.—Barrand, alias "The Man from Peru," ex-inmate of many jails and lunatic asylums, who has a mania for causing explosions, confesses that it was he who tried, "just for fun," to wreck the Lehigh Valley train.

Customs Dues at New York.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 12.—Customs dues to the amount of $3,269,507 have been received at the port of New York during the first 10 days of this month, against $4,639,700 for the corresponding period last year.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

At least forty lives were lost in the earthquake shock at San Salvador.

The entire Presidential family will leave the Cape May Point cottage on Tuesday.

Senators Jones and Stewart (Reps), of Nevada, will stump Ohio during this campaign in the interest of free coinage.

George W. Leavitt, of Boston, has sold his two-year-old stallion Bosphorous to Dr. Drake of Pittsfield, Me., for $10,000.

It is rumored that Attorney-General Miller will be given a judgeship and that Secretary Noble will be made Attorney-General.

The reunion of the First Brigade, New Jersey Volunteers, will take place on Monday next at the residence of Gen. E. Burd Grubb at Edgewater Park.

Rube Burrows' Captors Rewarded.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 12.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has ordered that warrants aggregating $3,000 be approved, and Jefferson D. Carter of Myrtleborough, Ala., and Thomas V. Jackson of Aberdeen, Miss., each receive $1,000 and that the remaining $1,000 be equally divided between six other persons. These men were instrumental in in the capture of the notorious outlaw, Rube Burrows, and his gang in Alabama last fall.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Only one place for one price, and one profit, and that is Peck's.

—Pitcher John O'Neil has rejoined the Westfields, and Hammill is out.

—A gage for cutting hair has been patented by A. Marsh, of this city.

—The Crescent League clam-bake at Echo Lake yesterday was a very delightful affair.

—Read THE PRESS and see how the subscriptions for the Dunellen jail are coming in. The revised list of subscriptions, with several new ones, will be published next week.

—Alvin Hoagland, the expressman, and Michael McCarty, one of his drivers, have been arrested and will be tried next week on the charge of unnecessarily obstructing traffic on the street with one of his express wagons.

—The semi-annual conference of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Westfield in November. The date has not yet been definitely fixed on. The executive committee met in Plainfield Thursday evening, and furthered their plans for the event.

—It is claimed that the Mr. Douglass who entered to join in the bicycle road race this afternoon is a resident of Brooklyn, a crack racer, and in Plainfield only for the summer. As the race is intended to be for Plainfielders only, an effort will be made by the other contestants to bar him out.

—Charles Courtney, of Westfield, is the owner of a valuable pointer dog, "Duke", which for intelligence and sagacity has but few equals. Recently Mr. Courtney lost his watch and a portion of the chain, in some bushes while out hunting. He commanded "Duke" to go find it, and the intelligent animal was gone among the briar bushes but a few moments when he reappeared with the missing time-piece in his mouth. Mr. Courtney wants to sell the animal, however—so he says.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The PRESS office received a very pleasant call from Major Ackerman, one of New Providence's most prominent citizens, yesterday.

Mrs. Andrew McCardell is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Fitton, at Worcester, Mass., and will also be the guest, during her absence, of Mrs. W. S. Sweeny.

Miss R. M. Verdon, of Shady Lawn, has returned home after a five months' trip abroad, commencing in Holland and winding up in the Evergreen Isle.

Adzett F. Randolph, wife of Edgar F. Randolph, died in her fifty-seventh year yesterday. Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Reformed church, Monday afternoon at half-past two.

A Good Lecture at the High School.

Prof. F. Starr, lately of the Museum of Natural History of New York, and recently appointed Professor of Ethnology at the University of Chicago, will lecture before the High School in Assembly Hall next week Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, on the subject "The Origin of Written Languages". Prof. Starr will speak of the characters in use among the Indians, the hieroglyphics of the Egyptians, the Chinese characters, and of our own written forms. He will illustrate his subject in colors on the black-board. The entrance fee will be only 25 cents, so that all the students may have a chance to attend. Everybody who goes will greatly enjoy the treat. The proceeds of the lecture will benefit the High School.

Singular and Terrible Death.

A singular and fatal accident happened on the Roselle train, No. 107, which left Jersey City at 12:57 this noon, in charge of conductor Samuel Johnson.

Just as the train was rounding the curve from Communipaw the end of a projecting plank from a passing freight train smashed through a window at the end of one of the cars, struck a passenger who was standing by the stove, and frightfully mangled his body, killing him instantly. The dead man's name is unknown, but he is said to have lived at Greenville. He was of middle-age. The body was left at Communipaw.

Fine Homes and a New Summer Resort.

A party of capitalists have purchased the Mahlon Vail farm at New Market, and contemplate offering it to the public soon in building plots. A portion will be reserved for an elegant summer resort house, with a fine park attached. The property borders on the beautiful lake at New Market, which abounds with game fish and other finny creatures. Maps of the property will soon be issued, and the date of sale and other information will be given in THE PRESS.

The Cases Against Miller.

Lawyer W. A. Coddington went to Joseph Brengle Miller to-day at 11 o'clock, and gave him one hour's notice to pay up the claim of A. M. Seguine in full or he would take possession. He settled up the claim in full at 12 o'clock, so that the place may be kept open to-night. The claim amounted to $167.71. Mr. Coddington is the only attorney who has up to this date succeeded in getting settlement in the cases pending. Other suits are about to be brought.

RECOVERING HIS DAUGHTER.

A Father Kidnaps His Own Child and Asks for a Divorce.

Lewis Apgar, who is well known in this city, is just now the victor in a family quarrel, which terminated in the taking away of his little six-year-old daughter.

Apgar married in Plainfield seven years ago, but was afterwards taken ill. His wife, it is said, yearned for more freedom than a sick room, and, after a quarrel, left, taking the little girl with her.

On Wednesday Apgar learned that she was in Phillipsburg. He went there and, it is said, found her in a house in company with two men. A lively time ensued, Mrs. Apgar refusing to give up the girl or tell where she was.

Mr. Apgar left, but returned yesterday and learned that his child was at the public school. He went there, and after calling the child down stairs, picked her up and ran to the railway station in time for a train for Elizabeth.

He arrived at the Sheridan house Thursday night, but later took his child to Somerville, where he says she is safe from his wife, who is enraged that her husband has outwitted her. She declares that she will get the girl back again. Apgar will, he says, sue at once for an absolute divorce.

The Chronicle Burned Out Again.

A second attempt was made yesterday morning to burn out the office of the Bound Brook Chronicle. The fire started at about 12:15 o'clock, midnight, and the office and contents were nearly all destroyed. Less than two weeks ago the office was set on fire, but was put out before the destruction was complete. Type, cases and office furniture were damaged, but the presses, etc., were not destroyed. In the fire yesterday morning, however, the destruction is well nigh complete. It is supposed that the fires have been kindled by some one having a bitter grudge against the editor.

W. R. Converse, while assisting in getting out valuable books and papers, was overcome with the smoke. He is still under medical care.

St. Mary's Anniversary.

The tenth anniversary of the dedication of St. Mary's church will be celebrated with appropriate ceremonies to-morrow. The first mass will be held at 7:30, the second mass at 8:30, the third mass and the children's mass at 9:45.

At 10:45 a solemn high mass will be celebrated. The celebrant will be the Rev. Father Stafford; the deacon, the Rev. Dr. Kennedy; the sub-deacon, the Rev. Father Smyth. The sermon at this mass will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Kennedy.

The vesper service will be begun at 7:45, at which the Rev. Father Tighe, of Hoboken, will preach the dedication sermon. The musical programme will be under the direction of M. C. Guntzer, recently appointed organist of St. Mary's church.

A New Market Farmer's Shrewd Move.

A complication has arisen between the Reading railway company and John P. Stelle, whose farm lies about a mile south of New Market. Some time ago Stelle allowed the company to run a track through the farm at a nominal price, as far as the forked road that branches off to Peter Osborne's farm and thence to New Market.

Now, however, the company requires two acres of his land to build a bridge across the road. Farmer Stelle gave evidence of his astuteness in allowing the company to cross his farm to this point, as he foresaw the necessity of purchasing land to continue their tracks. He is now standing out for $4,000 for the two acres, and will get it if the company don't take up several miles of track and change the line.—New Brunswick Fredonian.

Her Honeymoon Distasteful.

The shortest honeymoon that the oldest inhabitants of Dunellen can call to mind is that of Mr. William Jacobs and his bride, Mary Forman, of Brooklyn. They were married at 5 o'clock last Wednesday evening by the Rev. Mr. Kinsey, and at an early hour Thursday morning the wife of a few hours took her departure and baggage and left for her native soil, Brooklyn. Mr. Jacobs is a gentleman much respected, and since he assumed the duties of letter carrier has made many new friends, who feel grieved at his misfortune. He cannot account in any way for the lady's sudden change of mind, and the notoriety he has gained by it has been very disagreeable to him.—Bound Brook Chronicle.

"Twill Be "The Bound Brook Democrat".

A report having reached the ear of a reporter that Bound Brook was soon to have a new weekly newspaper, he started on a tour of inspection and found the report to be true. A new Democratic paper will make its appearance there next Thursday, under the editorial management of Walter Reiss. Charles J. Wilson will be reporter. The paper will be set up and printed in New York and shipped to Bound Brook for publication, as was the Rock at Dunellen. The home office of publication will be over Gillespie's livery stable.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires's Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25-cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Danced at Her Son's Silver Wedding.

Saturday, Sept. 5, was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph TenEyck, of Pleasant Valley, Somerville, and a delightful celebration of the happy event was arranged for them by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William W. TenEyck, of New Brunswick. The bride and groom of a quarter of a century were invited out to tea in the early evening, and when they returned home they were surprised to see the house all brilliantly illuminated and the piazzas lavishly decorated with lighted Chinese and Japanese lanterns. The effect was very fine.

Mr. and Mrs. TenEyck were met at the door by their son and daughter-in-law, who had taken possession of the place during their absence. It was a complete surprise.

Good music was provided, and everybody joined in the dance. The groom's aged mother forgot her eighty-seven summers and winters and took part in a lively waltz.

A large design, "Father and Mother", made of wild Autumn flowers, hung on the wall of the dining room, so that when the silver-wedding bride and groom entered it was the first thing they saw. The supper was a splendid one, and everyone did hearty justice to it. Everything was gotten up in the style of twenty-five years ago. Handsome and useful gifts were showered on the happy couple. The event was gloriously enjoyed by all.

Tearing Down a House for Fuel.

At the settlement known as the "Eight Row", at Evona, is a dilapidated house which has been vacant for a long time. This house seems to be the headquarters for the supply of kindling wood to the neighborhood, as almost every day a stoop post, weather board, or something else, disappears.

A few nights ago, the demands for fuel were greater than usual, and the old structure was relieved of much of its outside appearance. In fact, one can now look right through it.

This demand was caused by a party of young men wishing to serenade Edward Saunders, who the night before had wedded Mrs. Tillie Whiting, at the residence of William Madden.

The old wood-work furnished excellent fuel for a fire, and the serenade was an undoubted success, as far as fires are concerned, but many people have doubts about it being right to take the shingles off of one man's house to serenade another.

A New Home for the Burned-Out Paper.

(From The Bound Brook Chronicle.)

THE CHRONICLE'S friends will be glad to know that a lot has been purchased on Mountain avenue, south of W. W. Anderson's sash and blind factory, whereon a two-story brick building is to be erected, for a home for this publication, after plans now in course of preparation by Mr. VanDerbeek, the Somerville architect. The ground for this structure has already been broken. For several years the growing business of this office has demanded more room, and although it was enlarged three years ago we were soon as much cramped as ever. The new home will afford over twice as much floor space as our present quarters, and will be especially adapted to the requirements of a modern newspaper and job printing establishment. We hope to be able to occupy it before cold weather comes.

The Tennis Tournament.

The prizes in the gentleman's doubles at the tournament of the Hillside Tennis Club have been played off with the following result:

Huntington and Jacobus beat Dilts and Hunt, final set, 6-2; R. Hunt and S. West beat Huntington and Jacobus, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

At the conclusion the winner of the singles, Harry West, and the winner of the doubles, Messrs. Beebe and Sherwood West, received their prizes. The tournament will be completed Monday, when the ladies' singles have been played off.

Chautauqua Lectures in Plainfield.

The Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell announced last Sunday that he would give to his congregation the lectures prepared for and delivered at one of the Western Chautauquas this Summer. His lectures are on the four Gospels. The first one, "The Gospel of Matthew", will be given to-morrow night at the Methodist church. The other three will be given on the three following Sunday evenings.

To Welcome Senator Higgins.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—When United States Senator Higgins reaches here on his way home from Europe on the steamship Saale to-morrow he will have a royal welcome. His friends from Delaware will come from Wilmington on a special train, and here they will be met by Nathaniel McKay and several other Republicans, who will escort them to a steamer, chartered to take them down the bay.

Call for a Meeting of Hebrews.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—Prominent Hebrews in all parts of the United States have been invited by the trustees of the Baron Hirsch fund to meet in this city on Wednesday, Sept. 23, for the purpose of co-operating in the formation of an American Relief Committee to make the best possible disposition of the exiled Russian Jews coming to this country.

A Wawarsing Jeweler.

If you use Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills according to directions they will cure you. Do not stop as soon as you are feeling better, but use them till the disease is driven out of the system. They are the mildest, smoothest pills in their action I ever tried, no griping, but make the dyspeptic sleep like an infant. Having been thus troubled they worked like a charm.

DAVID CRIST, Wawarsing, N. Y.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Moyer, Waverly, N. Y.

THE HOPKINS WILL CASE.

The Reported Compromise Said to Be More Than Likely.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—It is now claimed that Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, who left all her property to her second husband, Decorator Edward F. Searles, whom she married in her old age, made a will in 1887, at about the time of that marriage, in which she left half of her $75,000,000 to her adopted son, Tim Hopkins, and his wife, who was her favorite niece, and that she divided the other half among her cousins and nieces.

This will form the basis of the coming contest of the other will.

Jane A. Hebbard Smith and Harriet Hebbard, cousins of Mrs. Searles, are not among the contestants of the will, though they were both remembered in that 1887 will and omitted from the will now under contest. Other people are appearing all over New England as relatives and lawful heirs of Mrs. Hopkins-Searles; but it is said that Timothy Hopkins is the only contestant with a leg to stand on, and it is whispered that as the contest, if successful, would break up a vast block of Southern Pacific stock, persons interested in that road have joined with Edward F. Searles and that a compromise will be reached before the case is called in court.

Plaster Casts Admitted Free.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—A decision from the Treasury Department has been received at the Custom House directing that the plaster of Paris casts intended for religious purposes should be admitted free, the same as more valuable statuary made out of solid stone, as the poorer churches were entitled to the same consideration as the wealthy ones.

Police Guarding Poisoned Goods.

NEW YORK, Sep. 12.—The discovery of the fact that coffee, spices, fruits and other products in the lower part of the recently burned warehouse in South street, had been more or less impregnated with water that had been in contact with quantities of arsenic and sulphate of copper on the upper floors, caused considerable excitement for a time among grocers and private consumers through fear that these foodstuffs might be put on the market without their dangerous character being known. Police have since been stationed at the ruins to see that the poisoned goods are not removed.

White Was Not an Aeronaut.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sep. 12.—It has been learned that George White, who voluntarily took the place of Aeronaut Donald at Weehawken, Wednesday, on account of the latter's inability to make the ascension on account of sickness, and who was drowned in the Hudson river by the balloon falling on him in the water, was not an aeronaut, but a trapeze performer. It is also believed that he could not swim, for he had ample opportunity to drop from the trapeze into the water while the balloon was still several feet above the surface of the river.

Anxious to Continue the Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 12.—Treasury officials are seeking to find some fund out of which to continue the Keystone National Bank investigation, which up to this time has been prosecuted by government officials in Philadelphia. Acting Secretary Spaulding said last evening if any money could be properly directed to this purpose the investigation would certainly proceed.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

THE PYTHIAN FIREWORKS.

One of the Grandest Displays Ever Seen in the State to be Exhibited on the Crescent League Grounds.

The general committee in charge of the great Pythian field day to be celebrated in this city next Wednesday have secured one of the largest displays of fireworks ever seen in this State. They will be set off by competent men and will be the best the pyrotechnic art can produce. The Crescent League ball grounds in North Plainfield, capable of holding ten thousand people, will be the place. During the exhibition Winkler's celebrated Seventh Regiment Band, of Trenton, will give a concert, of which a programme was published in these columns last evening. All Knights who participate in the parade will be given a badge, which will admit them to the concert and exhibition free. The general public will be charged a moderate fee.

The following comprises a list of the number of pieces, and a description of them, which will be used in the fireworks display:

Three pieces Parachute Rockets with floating stars, making a most beautiful display in the air.

Three pieces Pearl Rockets which, while ascending, throw off streams of variegated colored meteors, terminating with a brilliant shower of Gold Rain.

Three pieces Revolving Comet Rockets displaying in the air a series of Comets, descending slowly to the ground, revolving in a shower of Gold Rain and discharging smaller Comets of various colors.

Three pieces Triple Bouquet Rockets. The Rocket after reaching its highest altitude displays a bouquet of brilliant variegated stars, meteors and Gold Rain, then descends a distance and displays a second and then a third, producing a most beautiful and novel effect.

Two pieces Mammoth Balloon Rockets which, at an altitude of 600 feet, release simultaneously seven Balloons with variegated Signal Stars attached, which floating together and burning changing colors make the largest and most effective display of any Rocket made.

Three pieces Changeable Star Rocket. This Rocket on reaching its highest point discharges hundreds of brilliant Carmine Stars, lighting up the heavens with a wonderful brilliancy, changing simultaneously to emerald and producing a weird effect.

Six dozen Electric Spreaders, eight stars each, discharging a series of stars of a beautiful green color, 50 to 60 feet in the air, each of which bursts and spreads into jets of emerald, resembling electric sparks.

Twelve Pieces Tourbillions or Revolving Rockets. They will spin like a horizontal wheel and ascend 50 feet in the air forming fantastic circles of fire and colored rings.

Three pieces No. 6 and three pieces No. seven Mines. They first throw out a variety of stars in brilliant colors and finally discharge with a loud report, fine bouquets of colored stars, serpents and streamers.

Three pieces Mammoth Six Star Fountains, discharging brilliant stars of various colors.

Three pieces Mammoth Six Star Fountains and serpents, discharging brilliant stars, changing to serpents and streamers.

Four pieces Mammoth Six Star Fountains with salutes.

Three pieces Brilliant Variegated Fountains. These display a fountain of brilliant fire intermingled with stars of variegated colors, ascending 15 to 20 feet high, filled with sparkling scintillations and terminating with a salute.

Three pieces Floral Bombshell, large, which after displaying a series of colored stars, will ignite a shell and send it 250 feet in the air, and bursting, show a fine bouquet of colored stars 40 to 50 feet in diameter.

One piece Electric Spreader Battery.

Two pieces Silver Fountain Battery.

These batteries throw a steady stream of trailing stars and meteors, which have the effect of flights of rockets and colored streamers of great beauty.

One piece Colored Star Battery, which displays a steady stream of colored stars forming a beautiful bouquet.

Six pieces Reporting Bombshell, viz: Two pieces Surprise Bouquet; two pieces Magic Serpent; two pieces Golden Cloud. These shells are fired from a mortar and ascend from 500 to 600 feet into the air and explode with a detonation that can be heard for miles, and display some of the most magical changes and effects known to the pyrotechnic art.

Ten cans each of Red, Green, Blue and Gold fire.

Six pieces Japanese Night Bombshells, viz: Two pieces Cascade Shells; two Shooting Stars; two Willow Tree Shells. The effects displayed are new, being different in character, displaying motion and color essentially Japanese, suspended from parachutes in the air at a height of 200 to 300 feet in beautiful combinations.

Three pieces Diamond Jerbs, large, very fine. These display beautiful jerbs of sparkling fire and diamond sparks in variegated colors, together with stars thrown in the air to the height of 15 to 20 feet.

Six pieces Reporting Cannon Bombshells, each equal in report to a twelve pound cannon.

Six dozen Meteor candles of eight meteors each, displaying meteors which leave behind them long trails of brilliant rain as they ascend.

Six pieces Devil Among the Tailors. Opens with an illumination in colors, followed by a rich stream of brilliant fire; next shows a fountain of reporting electric stars and terminates with a burst of fiery dragons thrown to a height of 50 to 60 feet and exploding there with a loud report.

Eighteen pieces Port Fires.

Twelve pieces Colored Star Rockets.

Twelve pieces Golden Rain Rockets.

Six pieces Exhibition Colored Rockets.

Twelve pieces Prismatic Rockets.

Six pieces Japanese Fire-fly Rockets. The rocket on reaching its highest point, displays several floating batteries and fountains, which remain nearly stationary in the air, and display streams of stars and meteors of various colors, projected in all directions, and the effect produced is most brilliant and beautiful.

Three pieces Willow Tree Rockets. The rocket on reaching a height of four hundred feet, displays a gorgeous willow tree, whose branches slowly lengthen downward, waving and hanging in the air, and finally reach almost to the ground. It is by far the most beautiful fire ever used in fireworks; the color is a brilliant gold and the effect produced is exceedingly fine.

Three pieces Dragon Rockets. Each rocket at its highest altitude discharges fiery dragons, which are suspended in the air and swing with eccentric circles, in a shower of brilliant colored fires.

Two pieces Devil Among the Tailors. Opens with an illumination in colors, followed by a rich stream of brilliant fire; next shows a fountain of reporting electric stars and terminates with a burst of fiery dragons thrown to a height of 50 to 60 feet and exploding there with loud reports.

Two pieces Dragon Nest. Commences with discharge of electric stars, each star in its flight separating and making a number of smaller stars or flashes. There is also a shower of brilliant colored fires, eight or ten feet high. As a final, a grand outburst of hissing fiery dragons takes place; they will fill the air with loud hissing noises and leave trails of brilliant fire behind them as they shoot through the air.

Two pieces Volcanoes. Opens with an illumination of red, followed by a stream of scintillating fire of colored stars and terminates with a burst of green electric stars of great brilliancy and startling effect.

Six pieces Reporting Bombshells, large. Are fired from mortars, ascend 500 to 600 feet into the air, and explode at that height with a report that can be heard for miles.

Two pieces Cascade Shells.

Two pieces Shooting Star Shells.

Two pieces Willow Tree Shells.

Three pieces Battery Medium.

One piece Electric Spreader Battery.

One piece Silver Fountain, large.

One set piece Cross of Malta. A golden maltese cross, in brilliant variegated colors, ornamented with streams of scintillating fires, and reporting jerbs; size under fire, 20x30 feet.

One piece Rising Sun. The sun appearing with rosy blush, will change to dazzling white, then light the scene with golden glory.

One piece Prismatic Wheel. Variegated and radiating circles, 10 feet diameter, developing prismatic colored rings.

One piece Polka Dance. Two eccentric figures of changeable form and color, revolving fantastically in their orbits; size under fire 15x25 feet.

One set piece Illuminated Cascade; size under fire 10x20 feet.

One set piece Saturn and his Rings. A revolving Saturn, encompassed by its everchanging various colored, mystical ring all in harmonious action; size under fire 15x25 feet.

One set piece Revolving Battery. Commencing at the base with a projection of radiant brilliant fire, mutating to raised battery of many colored gems; size under fire 10x35 feet.

One set piece Star of America. Commences with a hexagon wheel of brilliant rays, decorated with a rosette of red, white, and blue, mutating to the Star of America, 16 feet diameter, with jerbs of silver jets marooned; size under fire 25x35 feet.

One set piece Jewelled Cross. Commences with a hexagon wheel of Chinese fire, changing to a cross of diamond lance-work intersected with jets of silver fire marooned; size under fire 30x40 feet.

One set piece Tree of Glory. A variegated ring of double fires, surmounted by a tree with fixed color cups and projecting silver leaves; size under fire 15x35 feet.

One set piece Polka Quadrille. Three sets of constantly changing and gyrating figures decorated in all colors, and revolving magically in harmonious action with each other; size under fire 15x25 feet.

One set piece Illuminated Waterfall. Opens with a hexagon wheel gradually developing additional colored centre lines, the whole mutating to a shower of silver spray, with a revolving jet at its apex; size under fire 15x30 feet.

One set piece Good Night: size under fire 10x20 feet.

Ten cans Red Fire; ten cans Green Fire; five cans Blue Fire; five cans Gold Fire.

The stages return to Plainfield at the conclusion of the services.

A Royal Blue Train Disabled.

The passengers on a train of the Royal Blue line, on the Jersey Central railway, had a scare yesterday morning. The train was going west, and was due at the union depot in Elizabeth at 9:30 o'clock. At the Elizabethport station a stop was made for a passenger, and just as the train was started again there was a sudden explosion and rush of steam from the front of the engine. It was found that the head of one of the cylinders had blown out.

The cars were well filled with passengers, and on the station platform there were many in waiting for other trains on the main line and branch. The accident caused a little panic on the train and platform for a moment until the nature of the explosion was made known. Such mishaps are not of an unusual occurrence, and are not often of serious consequence. The train was delayed only a few minutes. A New York local and a Newark train were doubled up, and the locomotive of the former was substituted for the disabled Royal Blue line engine.

THE AUTUMN FASHIONS.

Shapes and Colors That Begin to Be Interesting.

Brownish Orange, Copper and Cardinal—The Renaissance of the Underskirt—What the Dressmakers Are Doing—Fall Novelties.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

There is a maple tree just in front of my window and it stretches towards me a branch, leaning half across the sidewalk. I could almost put out my hand and gather the three yellow leaves the maple seems to be giving me. Those three yellow leaves mean autumn; the rest of the trees is green and heavy with leafage, but those three gayly dressed Cassandras flaunt their petticoats in my face every time I lift my eyes.

They move me to tell you that when I go about among the modistes I see a good deal of brownish orange going into all sorts of gowns. I see a good deal of clear red too, and a little greenish gray, but the tint that for a week or so has crossed my path oftenest is the pale golden tint they call champagne. A carriage dress was displayed to me yesterday, the fabric of which one could call with all sincerity extremely beautiful. The ground was ribbed and showed the lights and shadows of wheat straw as it lies in the sun in the fields. Spread upon it were the blue flowers of the succory and the feathery white ones of wild carrots. It was designed by somebody who loves, as I love, the warm smell of the harvest field and the hum of the locust, and it was American.

There is a blackish copper color that begins to be very prominent. It is not pretty in woolen goods, but in silk it is more tolerable. It is called sou, because they named it in Paris, and its tint is that of the copper coin rubbed about in many pockets and handled by many fingers.

Dresses of changeable taffeta are shown me. They are both for street and for reception wear. When the colors are very bright, a broad flounce of black tulle is run about the bottom, and is bordered with black satin ribbon.

The most noticeable change the autumn dress will impress upon you is its more respectful attitude toward the underskirt. For some time past the underskirt has not counted. It has not been recognized in polite society, but it is recognized now—and trimmed. This recognition has a meaning; it means that the train has attached itself to the street dress to stay. Consider; it is the overdress that is long. The sweeping back breadth must frequently be lifted; it must always be lifted when a woman is out of doors. This means that the underskirt must be handsome enough to show.

The underdress adjusts itself to the situation with a care which indicates that the arrangement is expected to be more than temporary. It is not too long, for it cannot expect to be lifted also. It clears the ground. It is made usually of the same material as the outer dress, and sometimes it is adorned with a velvet strip cut in vandykes, or again it carries a lace flounce or a series of narrow ruffles. If a wool dress is made exactly as the modiste considers it should be made, this underdress is of silk, and if the dress is black she will even recommend an underdress of changeable silk, though this is a measure that seems extreme.

One of the best houses in the city has completed two street dresses for autumn which are here with submitted in sketch for your inspection. One of them is of the brownish orange tint I have just spoken of. The cloth is a fine India wool, dotted with small roses. The front is scalloped and below is a narrow plaiting. The coat is of plain orange brown wool, fastened across with brown and orange cords, and having a front of orange silk, with black lace to subdue its vivid October tones.

The other dress is of a light blue cloth with a tinge of gray; it is trimmed with white braid. The left side, which does not show in the sketch, has pearl buttons catching it to the back. The right side opens over a blue silk panel. There is a high basque, which is plain on one side and laid in graduated plaits on the other. It is drawn about on the left shoulder in a fashion that is novel and pretty, and it opens over a blue silk vest with pulings. The sleeves have cloth tops, but end in silk below.

May I give you a little idea of what this house and some of the other houses are doing? I have noticed within a few days:

White felt sailor hats with orange brown wings.

A dress of golden brown homespun flecked with yellow; it has a fan back, a "dip" skirt, a yellow cloth vest, and is to be worn with a brown cloth cape, yellowish tan gloves and a brown straw turban hat with brown and yellow pompons.

A dress of dark green tweed, with clear red waistcoat braided in gold, long Stuart coat and plain gored skirt banded near the bottom with gold galloon.

A dress for an autumn garden party; it is of flowered silk, of the glossy green of the oak leaf, figured with Japanese pinks shot with gold. The Louis coat is of oak green velvet, with black lace veiling the closely buttoned silk vest in fichu fashion.

Flat black felt hats trimmed with yellow roses and black velvet ribbon.

A tawny brown coat opening over a dress of brown and nasturtium color.

A dreadnaught coat of deep blue, fawn and Indian red checked tweed, to be worn with a fawn colored felt turban hat about which is twisted a long blue feather.

A tea gown like the one shown in the illustration. It is of a silvery gray foulard dotted with pink; the right side opens over a panel of Venitian lace, and at the neck and wrists are deep ruffles of chiffon.

I saw a pretty wedding the other day, and I doubt if I can do better than describe it for you. It took place in a country house on Long Island, and as the carriages drew up before the old-fashioned entrance the first thing we, who were guests, noted were the long lines of tree hollyhocks that made pink and purple and white streaks across the grounds. Into the low-celled parlor the hollyhocks had penetrated. There was no formal flower scheme, such as makes a house hideous oftener than it makes it beautiful, spoiling at once the room and the posies; but tall jars of old-fashioned flowered porcelain were tucked into corners and hollyhock branches rose from them higher than the heads of the little girl bridesmaids. The parlor was Japanese in its effect, and the hollyhooks in their vases fitted in wonderfully with the butterflies and the birds on the black screens, and the general impression of bamboo and lacquer.

The bride was a tall, pale blonde, and she wore white silk trimmed with embroidered chiffon; it was not she of whom I started to tell you. There were four bridesmaids who wore pale pink nuns' cloth, made with long coats and full vests of chiffon. They had large, quaintly shaped hats of biscuit colored chip trimmed with pink and white hollyhocks, and they were loyal to the blossom of the day by carrying hollyhock flowers tied up with pink ribbons. There were two little bridesmaids of eight years, possibly, in white embroidered muslin frocks with hollyhocks drawn through their broad sashes of white ribbon, and there was a little page in a cavalier coat of white satin, with pink rosettes at his knees.

The pale blonde spent half an hour at the reception after the wedding, and then she walked slowly up the broad, easy staircase out of our sight, and when she came down she was in a traveling dress of dove gray cashmere, with trimmings of silver. It had a vest of delicate blush rose surah and a Louis XV. coat and a gray hat trimmed with pink hollyhocks and gray wings. Again she walked slowly away from us, and instead of stepping at once into the waiting carriage she went first to a hollyhock tree that stood nearest the piazza and broke a twig to carry with her. I have wondered ever since what special association she had with the flowers to emphasize them to such an extent at the wedding.

The last sketch shown is a bridesmaid's dress for a wedding to take place early in September. It is of a soft white figured silk, with chiffon and silver trimmings. The picture hat is of white chiffon, with blue velvet strings.

For early autumn wear is a white barege with red spots. It has a red jacket with collar, cuffs and waistband of white surah. The hat that goes with this toilet is a red straw trimmed with two flounces of white lace, one shirred and lying flat on the brim, the other standing erect and tower-like about the crown. At the back are three sprigs of the vivid cardinal flower.

ELLEN OSBORN.

Mutual Dissatisfaction.

"You've spoiled all my fun," said the dude to the ant at the picnic.

"Yes; and you've spoiled all my work," returned the ant. "I'd just finished a fine apartment house when you came along and sat on it."—Puck.

RUN DOWN AT SEA

An Unknown Ship Sunk By the Steamer Arizona.

ALL ON BOARD PERISHED.

The Crash Came in the Early Morning During a Fog.

Panic Among the Steamer's Passengers—Thought at One Time that the Arizona Would Go Down—Her Deck and Sides Badly Damaged—Nothing But a Little Wreckage from the Ship Found.

LONDON, Sep. 14.—The steamship Arizona, of the Guion Line, which left New York on Saturday, Sep. 5, for Liverpool, arrived last evening at Queenstown in a battered condition, after a perilous voyage across the Atlantic.

Early on the morning of the 6th, while the Arizona was steaming rapidly in a fog, an unknown sailing vessel, believed to be a large coasting schooner, collided with the Arizona. The shock was very great, and aroused the passengers from their beds.

For a time the greatest excitement prevailed until it was found that the steamer was not, as many feared, about to go to the bottom.

The stem of the schooner struck the Arizona's front quarter. Thirty feet of the rails of the ship's deck were carried away, and a lifeboat smashed. The deck was considerably damaged and several plates of the vessel's side were badly indented.

While the extent of the injury to the steamer was being ascertained life-boats were prepared for the use of the passengers, and every preparation possible made for the saving of life in case the steamship should go down.

Fears of such a catastrophe were, however, soon allayed, thought it was a long time before the passengers recovered from the shock of their sudden awakening.

Search was made for the colliding schooner, but not a sign could be seen of her, nor was a cry heard. The terrible shock had apparently crushed the sailing vessel in a twinkling and caused her to founder.

Part of the bowsprit of the schooner remained on the Arizona's deck, and other wreckage indicated the fate of the unfortunate mariners.

The Arizona's machinery had not suffered by the collision, and the voyage was pursued at the usual speed and without further accident.

MORE ARRESTS PROMISED.

Further and Sensational Proceedings Expected in the Bardsley Matter.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 14.—Further proceedings, growing out of the Bardsley defalcation, will be begun this week, it is said, and also that some very sensational disclosures may be expected.

District-Attorney Graham, it is now understood, contemplates the arrest of Auditor-General McCammant and the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of State Treasurer Livesey, who but a few days ago resigned the cashiership of the State Treasury and went away to Wisconsin. The members of the firm of Glendenning & Co., to whom Bardsley loaned large amounts of money and through whom his stock speculations, amounting to millions, were carried on, are also to be arrested or subpœnaed. Other State officials may also be included in the arrests.

The proceedings will be held before Judges Gordon and Fell, who will sit as committing magistrates to hear the evidence and determine whether the accused shall be held to bail.

MARSH LOCATED.

But the Fugitive is Not Within the Jurisdiction of the United States.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 14.—Detective Frank A. O'Brien, who has visited every Western city of importance in search of Gideon W. Marsh, ex-president of the defunct Keystone National Bank has just returned.

Detective O'Brien has met the sons of Mr. Marsh and knows exactly where the father is. He says Mr. Marsh is not within the jurisdiction of the United States and that it would take considerable diplomacy and no little money to place the fugitive in Philadelphia.

Yale's Opening Date.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sep. 14.—The academic year at Yale University opens on September 24 and the number of men attending will not fall much below 1,800. Last year the total was 1,845. In the academic department there will be not less than 180 seniors, 200 juniors, 250 sophomores and 250 freshmen. The scientific school will have 450, the law school 116, medical school 63, theological department 125, art school 44, post graduate department 100.

Mr. Scott Greatly Improved.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sep. 14.—Ex-Congressman Scott is slowly but surely improving. Yesterday he was able to take and retain solid food. His physician, Dr. Pepper, of Philadelphia, is so much encouraged as to warrant him in leaving town for a week. A local physician will have charge during Dr. Pepper's absence. Newport air has been decidedly beneficial to the patient.

New Road to Boston.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sep. 14.—The new link binding the Eastern States is now in practical operation. It is expected that the running time between Brooklyn and Boston will be reduced to six hours as soon as the new system works smoothly.

Arranging Excursions from Abroad.

LONDON, Sep. 14.—Already arrangements have been completed for excursions which are to be made to Chicago during the time of the Fair. Each party will consist of about 100 travelers.

INSANE ASYLUM ABUSES.

A Startling State of Affairs Said to Exist in All Such Institutions.

LONG BRANCH, Sep. 14.—Counsellor Albert Bach, vice-chairman of the Lunacy Law Reform League's central committee, has sent to the committee's meeting in New York, to-day, a report on the condition of the seven New York state lunatic asylums.

He says he has obtained a mass of evidence of a startling nature and that the truth cannot be fully learned except by a committee of the legislature with the largest power of investigation.

He states that the heads of asylums are mostly irresponsible despots and control the boards of trustees or managers who are supposed to supervise them; also that abuses always accompany irresponsible power, and that those who know of them in the asylum fear to testify to them and will not unless compelled.

Mr. Bach enumerates twenty-five different abuses which he avers exist in the state asylums.

He ends by saying the State Lunacy Commission are entirely mistaken in their expressed belief that the State Asylum inmates are properly housed, clothed, fed, attended and medically treated, and that the management of these asylums deserves public confidence. He adds that the conditions of asylums elsewhere is generally still worse and a disgrace to the country.

THE ACTOR-MURDERER.

Evidence Fast Collecting Against Curtis—To Be Arraigned To-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 14.—Actor Curtis still claims he remembers nothing about Friday morning's tragedy and will not talk of anything but his theatrical record.

Yesterday Officer J. J. Allen swore to the complaint in Judge Rex's court, charging Strelinger with the murder of Officer Grant.

The police are completing the chain of evidence against him and are leaving no stone unturned to lay bare all the facts. The street where the murder took place was critically examined and the planks with the bullet holes in the fence opposite have been sawn out and put away as evidence.

The police have found a man who saw Curtis in the custody of Grant on 6th street, near Folsom. He speaks English imperfectly, and has not been taken before an interpreter yet, but he made the authorities understand that he knew Grant and also identified Curtis as the man Grant had in custody.

The police expect to find the man who saw Grant arrest Curtis.

Curtis will be arraigned this afternoon.

DISS DE BAR DEMENTED.

The Cincinnati Authorities Now Puzzled as to What to Do With Her.

CINCINNATI, Sep. 14.—Now that the woman arrested here while wandering in the streets apparently in a demented condition has been positively identified by the man Solomon of Louisville as Ann O'Delia Diss Debar, the authorities discover that they have a white elephant on their hands.

A hasty examination of the prisoner to-day by two physicians indicate the fact that the woman is demented. A few of the police officials are of the opinion, however, that she is merely shamming, but this is hardly the case, for she could gain nothing by acting such a part.

What to do with her is a subject that is giving the authorities no little thought. She cannot be sent to Longview Asylum as she is not a resident of this county, and it is not at all likely that either Chicago or New York will recognize her as a resident.

Troops Withdrawn From Briceville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 14.—The members of the Queen City Guards, of Knoxville, who went to Briceville Thursday night to guard the convicts, have returned to Knoxville. The Tennessee Coal and Mining Company has decided, in view of assurances given them by the leaders of the miners that no trouble need be feared at present, to withdraw them.

Death of a Well Known Philadelphian.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sep. 14.—Edmund Clexton, a well known Philadelphian and one of the first cottagers here, died yesterday at his residence on Pennsylvania avenue, in this city. He was prominent in book publishing circles and was at one time a member of the firm of J. B. Lippincott & Sons, and senior member of the publishing firm of Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger.

Von der Ahe Asked to Join the League.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sep. 14.—Chris. Von der Ahe, President of the St. Louis Baseball Club, claims that he has been asked to join the League. He says that Mr. Byrne of Brookly, and Mr. Robinson of Cleveland, asked him if he would join the League ranks if Baltimore would agree to do the same. Von der Ahe avers that he declined the offer.

Four Dead in the Cabin.

HALIFAX, Sep. 14.—News has been received that the Yarmouth fishing schooner has been righted in Three Fathom Harbor and the dead bodies of four men were found in her cabin.

SARATOGA CROWDED

Democrats Busy Over To-Morrow's Convention.

FLOWER LEADS FOR GOVERNOR.

A Lively Contest in Progress For Second Place On the Ticket.

Sheehan's Friends Confident That He Will Be Nominated—Kings County Delegates Working Hard For Mayor Chapin For Governor—Rice and Danforth Will Probably Be Renominated.

SARATOGA, Sep. 14.—Every incoming train this morning brought a large number of delegates and Democratic leaders and it may be said that the political pot has reached the boiling stage.

The Kings county delgates are on the road. They say they are ready for the fray, and intend to stand firmly by their guns, which are all loaded for Chapin for Governor.

Mr. Flowers friends say that Mayor Chapin is sure of the thirty-six votes from Kings county and that is all. There has been some talk about renominating Governor Hill for a third term, but warm friends of the Governor say there is nothing in it, and that Mr. Flower will certainly be nominated on the first ballot.

Ridgeway, of Kings, has a chance for second place on the ticket, in certain contingencies, but the Sheehan men, who claim the office, say that Ridgeway won't make it.

There appears to be no doubt that the second-term practice will prevail in the offices of Secretary of State and Treasurer, and that Messrs. Rice and Danforth (Treasurer), as heretofore stated, will be re-nominated.

Should Ridgeway receive the Lieut.-Governorship, Mr. Sheehan will probably be urged to accept the Comptrollership, instead of Frank Campbell, of Bath, who was at first booked for the place. Sheehan's friends, it is believed, will insist that he must have second place.

Isaac Maynard, of Albany, has crept up to the top of the list of candidates for Attorney-General, and appears to have the call on the position, despite the efforts which have been put forth by friends of Bulger, of Oswego, Rosendale, of Albany, and Foley of Saratoga. The last named gentleman says that he is not a candidate, in the sense of seeking the position, but if it should be tendered to him he will accept it.

John Bogart' still appears to be the choice for Engineer and Surveyor.

Tammany Hall, the County Democracy and the Brooklyn delegation are expected to reach here about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Governor Hill and Speaker Sheehan will reach here some time this afternoon.

The Sheehan contingent of the Buffalo delegation are expected about 8 o'clock to-night. They are coming on a special train.

From what can be gathered this morning by a visit to the hotel corridors it seems almost certain that Flower will be nominated to head the ticket on the first ballot. Sheehan's chances for second place appear good, yet the opposition may muster strength enough to throw the choice to some one else.

Has Hill Dropped Sheehan?

ALBANY, Sept. 14.—Gov. Hill was busy up to a late hour last night waiting on the numerous callers at the executive mansion. It is given out this morning that the unusual rush of visitors was caused by the Governor's action in deciding to have Sheehan dropped from the start and Senator McNaughton, of Rochester, substituted for Lieut.-Governor.

NO RELIEF FOR CANADIANS.

They Must Pay the Duty on Their Teams Every Time They Cross the Border.

WASHINGTON Sep. 14.—The Treasury Department has received a letter from Messrs. Moore & Sons, of Woodstock, Canada, who are engaged in the lumber business in Maine, complaining of hardship in being required to pay duty on the horses used in the business, every time they are driven across the border into the United States. They state that they have at four different times paid duty on the same horses.

The Treasury Department has decided that the law requires duty to be paid on horses imported from Canada, and the question of having paid duty on the same horses many times before does not enter into the controversy, and the Department can offer no relief in the matter.

Twenty-six Passengers Injured.

DENVER, Sep. 14.—A passenger train on the Union Pacific Railroad was wrecked at 11 a. m. near Beaver Brook Station and 26 passengers were injured, five of whom will probably die. The train was late and running very rapidly, when, rounding a sharp curve, the express car left the track and rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment. It was followed by the mail and two passenger coaches, one of which rolled over twice before reaching the bottom. The injured passenger were from Aspen.

WILL DRAW ON AMERICA.

An Important Communication from Consul General Mason.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Consul General Mason of Frankfort, in a report to the State Department on what he terms the German crisis in breadstuffs, presents some very interesting statements respecting the most notable commercial event of the year in Europe—the Russian decree forbidding the exportation of rye from Russia to any foreign country.

This Mr. Mason regards as equivalent to an official declaration that the harvests of cereals in Russia is so deficient that the export of rye must be forbidden in order to avert danger of famine there.

Mr. Mason presents some data which shows how seriously this unexpected edict is likely to affect the bread supply of Germany. Very little pure wheat bread, he says, is eaten by the middle and lower classes in Germany. The "staff of life," to a vast majority of the German people, is black bread, made with flour, ground with a mixture of rye and the inferior quality of wheat. The consumption of this material is so enormous that Germany imported 947,375 tons of rye, of which 85 per cent., as well as 55 per cent. of the whole import of wheat into Germany, came from Russia. The recent edict therefore cuts off nearly five-sixths of the foreign rye supply of Germany.

A year ago rye sold in Berlin for $39 per ton of 2,240 pounds. On the 3d of August last, the effect of the meagre harvest had raised the market price to $52.24 per ton. Then came the Russian edict and within two weeks the price had risen to $61.88 per ton. Add to this a short and inferior potato crop throughout nearly the whole of Germany, and it will be seen, Mr. Mason says, that the food question there has assumed an ominous aspect, and in the end the people of Germany, like those of France and England will have to draw upon the well-filled graneries of the United States for a large part of their food supply during the coming year.

THE AMERICAN DERBY FOR '93.

$50,000 to be Hung up for the Winner—Other Important Events.

CHICAGO, Sep. 14.—The Washington Park club has ratified Secretary Brewster's suggestion to make the gross value of the American Derby, for 1893, $60,000, or $50,000 to the owner of the first horse under the wire. Entries for this event are now open, to close Oct. 15.

In addition to increasing the value of the American Derby stake the club decided on another important event for the World's Fair year to be called the Queen Isabella stake. The event will be a sweepstakes for fillies, foals of 1890, with $10,000 added money. Besides the regular stakes and those announced above 20 or more valuable stakes for two and three-year-olds and for all ages will be advertised to close during 1892-93, including a guaranteed stake of $25,000 for two-year-olds, and the Columbus Handicap, for three-year-olds and upwards, which will be worth $35,000 to the winner.

It is the intention of the Washington Park Club to make its meeting of 1893 the grandest race meeting ever given in America.

Postal Authorities Now After the Robbers

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sep. 14.—The citizens' posse and the state rangers, who have been pursuing the five Southern Pacific train robbers, have ended their pursuit of the fugitives and turned the evidence they possessed over to the postal authorities, who will continue the chase. The robbers were forced by the closeness of their pursuers to abandon their horses and take to the mountains on foot. They are practically helpless without their horses and it is thought will soon be captured. All of them are known and bear bad reputations in the district where they belong.

At the Shore Capital.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Sep. 14.—Congressman Dalzell, of Pittsburg, called upon the President last evening. The President passed a quiet Sunday with his family. They all were out walking during the evening, enjoying the lovely weather and the moonlit sea. Secretary Halford and daughter spent a part of the day at Cold Springs, the guest of Pastor Sherman of the Tabernacle Church, who is a cousin of the secretary.

A Railroad Magnate Assaulted.

NORWALK, Conn., Sep. 14.—President Chas. B. Tedcastle, of the New England Terminal Company, was assaulted at Branchville last evening by John Seaman, a Bridgeport commercial traveller. The trouble was caused by Tedcastle using some slighting language to Seaman. The railroad magnate had his nose punched and his eyes blackened. Seaman was arrested, but was later released.

Yacht Sunk, Two Drowned.

NEW YORK, Sep. 14.—A pleasure yacht containing four persons was run down and sunk in the Arthur Kills during the night by a steam lighter. Only two of those on board the yacht were rescued, and the others, Harry Fairchild and Walter Dodd, were swept away by the tide and drowned. Albert and Henry Steward are strangely reticent about the affair.

To Arrange a Reciprocity Treaty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 13. — Minister Morales, of San Salvador, arrived here last night on the steamer San Juan. Mr. Morales will proceed to Washington where he will negotiate a reciprocity treaty between the United States and San Salvador. Mr. Morales ridicules the reports that war is imminent between San Salvador and Guatemala.

Earthquake Shocks Continue in Salvado..

SAN SALVADOR, Sep. 14.—The waters in Ilapango, Cojutepeque or Illabasco Lake, as it is variously known, keep on rising. The workmen sent by the government to open an outlet to the ocean are still hard at work. The shocks continue to be felt at irregular intervals. The material losses are estimated at $500,000, although this seems a low figure.

ALL TO BE PUNISHED

The Junta Issues Orders of Arrest for Lawbreakers.

TO BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE.

Chilian Pillagers, Robbers and Torturers Must Suffer for Their Crimes.

All Who Were Engaged in the Massacre of Forty Young Men at Los Cano to Be Hunted Down—An Interview With Balmaceda's Imprisoned Officers—How Orders Were Disobeyed.

VALPARAISO, via GALVESTON, Sep. 14.—Minister of Justice Errazuriz, of the Provincial Government, has issued orders to Procurator Fiscales to arrest all persons implicated in the killing of Isadore Ossa; also all those who are suspected of sacking and robbery and every one who was engaged in the flogging or other torturing of parties favoring the Junta.

The Minister also directed that all violators of the correspondence of the foreign Ministers accredited to Chili should be imprisoned.

Every one who was concerned in the shooting of Cummings and his two companions for their alleged attempt to destroy Balmaceda's war ships Almirante Lynch and Condell with dynamite is also to be arrested.

The Procurator is also ordered to use every effort to apprehend persons implicated in the killing of other Congressional victims. He is especially directed to hunt up all those engaged in the horrible massacre of forty-two young men at Los Canos on August 18. Their ages ranged from sixteen to eighteen years. The details of their killing are unfit for publication, owing to the indignities committed on their bodies after the young men were dead.

All of these acts were committed under Balmaceda's authority during the past eight months.

In an interview in the prison with Colonels Wood and Ruiz, late of Balmaceda's army, they made statements which are confirmed by documents found in Moneda, that Both of Balmaceda's generals, Barbosa and Alzerreen, who were killed in the final onslaughts between the contending armies, were utterly incapable officers.

They flagrantly disobeyed Balmaceda's orders, thus causing the overthrow of his Government. His explicit instructions to them were that they were not to engage the Junta's troops with less than 14,000 men, but that they should draw the enemy inland.

General Barbosa so utterly despised his adversaries that he acted exactly to the contrary of these orders. The result was his disastrous defeat at Concon, on August 21.

The defeat of the government troops was also largely owing to the issuance of contrary military orders by Balmaceda and his War Minister, Banadas Espinosa. This confused everybody.

Colonels Wood and Ruiz also say that there was no life in Balmaceda's troops. The representations made to the President that the soldiers were loyal and enthusiastic were untrue. Just at the height of the first engagement two regiments turned their rifle butts up as a sign that they surrendered.

FOREIGNERS WILL PARTICIPATE.

Prospects Bright for a Large European Representation at Our Fair.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 14.—The World's Fair Foreign Commissioners, who returned from abroad Saturday, will come here to-morrow and meet the British and other foreign commissioners. Then they will go to Chicago and, after making their report, depart for their homes.

The commission while abroad visited England, France, Germany, Belgium, Switzerland, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria, Hungary and Russia. They did not go to the southern countries of Europe for want of time.

They will recommend that another commission be sent to those countries and also to the countries of the Orient.

The plan of the Commission which was carried out was to approach in each country those highest in authority. The Prime Minister, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of Finance.

The commission think that every country in Europe with the exception of Italy and some Southern countries will be represented at the fair.

Foolish Men to Strike.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The convicts at work in the jute mill of the St. Quintan prison struck Saturday, declaring they would not resume work until guaranteed that they would be served with better food, more tobacco than is now allowed, and that there would be less favoritism shown. After a time a conference was held between the prison directors and a committee representing the strikers. The convicts were told that a refusal to go to work would be punished by solitary confinement and that none of their demands would be acceded to. The strikers then resumed work.

Accepted Bribes From Foreign Laborers

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sep. 14.—It has lately been ascertained that some inside foremen and mine bosses near here have accepted bribes from foreign applicants for work, and laid off native miners to make room for them unknown to their superiors. At the Nottingham Mine the other day, John Berkeiser, inside foreman, was summarily dismissed for accepting such bribes, and at the Washington Mine, near Plymouth, Thomas Young was similarly treated for like offenses.

Successful Visit of Southerners.

BOSTON, Sep. 14.—The delegation from Augusta, Ga., spent a very pleasant day here. They have been very successful in the object of their visit and have secured an unexpectedly large number of exhibits for the exposition which takes place in November.

HER REPLY UNSATISFACTORY.

China May Yet Be Forced to Offer Protection to Foreign Residents.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 14.—The steamer China, from China and Japan, brings advices from China to August 30.

The British Minister, Sir John Wolsom, made a strong protest against the dilatory manner in which the Chinese government dealt with the recent outbreaks against foreigners, and put three questions to the government, asking, first, why an edict on the subject of the riots was not dispatched through the empire by telegraph. Second, why the Wuhu magistrate who tried to stop the riots was degraded while his superiors who did nothing were not punished, and, third, why the punishment of the guilty at Wusuch was delayed.

Li Hung Chang answered these questions as follows: First, it is not the custom of China to send edicts by wire; second, the magistrate was degraded for other reasons and, third, the rioters had been punished, two being executed and the others otherwise punished.

The "North China News" says the reply is a palpable evasion and only shows that China cannot be depended upon by the foreign powers.

England's action is understood to be backed by other powers and it is thought force will be used if China is not conciliatory.

MUST COME TO AMERICA.

The Hirsch Fund to Aid Hebrews Only in Reaching the United States.

LONDON, Sep. 14.—The Hirsch fund, according to a Hamburg correspondent, is now aiding only those Hebrews who desire to emigrate to the United States. In response to positive representations from the British Cabinet Baron Hirsch is said to have given an engagement that no more exiled Russian Jews would be sent to any country under the British flag.

There is no denial here, writes the Hamburg correspondent, of the intention to make the United States the future home of the Jews. He says: "They are to be got there under any pretext and assisted as much as possible to get a start in life.

"None of the Jews have confidence in any other destination, and they all expect to get rich in America."

To Inaugurate a School House Campaign.

ST. PAUL, Sep. 14.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Peoples' party of Minnesota held at the Merchant's Hotel, it was decided to inaugurate a school house campaign and resolutions were also adopted protesting against the concerted attempts now being made to break down the price of Minnesota's wheat crop by exaggerating the amount of the yield by false statements, declaring that while the wheat crop is a good one, it is not excessive in quantity and charging the speculators with circulating false reports in an attempt to cheapen the price of wheat at this time, when the failure of crops in Europe ought to assure the farmers good prices.

Mrs. Cleveland to Return Home.

BOSTON, Sep. 14.—Information received from ex-President Cleveland's cottage at Buzzard's Bay says that Mrs. Cleveland's family physician in New York has been in attendance upon her there in anticipation of the event which is to occur about October 1, and that Mr. E. C. Benedict's steam yacht Oneida will reach the harbor on September 20 for the purpose of carrying Mrs. Cleveland to New York, the Madison avenue residence being now put in order.

Fear Divorce Case Exposures.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sep. 14.—Several well-known business men are said to be worried by the thought of being made co-respondents or defendants in suits brought by John H. Austin, who formerly kept a grocery and restaurant, but lately has been working as a printer. He began divorce proceedings against his wife Saturday, alleging intolerable cruelty and intimacy with other men, one of whom is very wealthy.

He Left an Infernal Nachine Behind.

ASBURY PARK, Sep. 14.—Aimee Louis Barrand, alias Remel, the dynamiter, now in jail at Belvidere for attempting to blow up a train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad on Thursday, was a guest at the Hotel Balmoral, Ocean Grove, last month. He remained five days, and skipped out without paying his board. A valise he left behind has just been opened and found to contain an infernal machine heavily charged with dynamite.

Valuable Cargo of Seal Skins.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sep. 14.—Part of the seal skins brought in by the sealing fleet of this port will be shipped this evening by the steamer City of Kingston for Tacoma, going thence to Montreal on a special train of ten cars. The whole is valued at the present prices of skins at upward of $2,000,000. This is the most valuable cargo that has crossed the continent from this country.

A New Coastwise Merchantman.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 14.—The new steamship Fairfax, built for the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, to ply between this port and Boston will make her first regular trip next Tuesday. The ship is supplied with every mordern appliance and will be one of the most elegant coastwise merchant's ships in the American fleet.

Perished in a Hotel Fire.

NEW LONDON, Sep. 14.—John McAndrews fell down stairs in the Bacon House with a lighted lamp yesterday. The lamp exploded and set the house afire. McAndrews was burned to death and the hotel badly damaged.

Money for Evicted Irish Tenants.

NEW YORK, Sep. 14. — Mr. Eugene Kelly, treasurer of the National Federation of America, has received from Archbishop Croke, of Thurles, Ireland, an acknowledgement of the receipt of $5,621.74 sent by Treasurer Kelly for the relief of the evicted tenants in Ireland.

—Bishop Vincent said this summer of Prof. Starr, who is to lecture in the High school hall, Thursday evening, "He is the most interesting of all Chautauqua lecturers, and is pleasing to young and old."

—George Collins would give a good deal to find out just who the miscreant was who has daubed with black paint the bridge at Girard avenue which he had just painted in light colors, and which he will now have to repaint at his own expense.

—The executors' sale of the property of the late Charles Boll, situated on the south side of Pence street, between Front and Second streets, on Saturday last, resulted in the property being purchased by Edward Love, for $3,325. The property has a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 180 feet.

—After the game Saturday, the Crescent League members and their friends paraded the streets of Somerville in celebration of Plainfield's great victory. Captain Farrell of the vanquished West Ends marched in the procession in spite of the protests of the Somerville manager. The parade was headed by the Bound Brook band and the West Ends were serenaded in front of their club-house.

—Two women came to town late Saturday night in search of Lewis Apgar, who keeps a pool room on North avenue, and who kidnapped his daughter from his wife at Phillipsburg a few days ago. The women—one of whom is said to be Apgar's wife—chased him about town in a very lively manner, but he escaped from them, and they learned nothing concerning the whereabouts of the child. Apgar claims that his wife is an unfit person to have charge of the little one.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

R. J. Shaw is back from the Pennsylvania mountains.

Mrs. Thos. E. Cardner, of Westervelt avenue, has returned from a visit to her old home, Westerly, R. I.

Last evening he gave a lecture on South America, in the dining room of "The Woodside", Netherwood. About thirty guests of the house listened to the address with pleasure and profit.

The Hon. Albert Drake Wants to Know.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—When will the Town Committee cause South avenue to be opened for public use from Elizabeth to Westfield?

The road was legally laid over twenty years ago. The taxpayers on the South side of the railway are entitled to some consideration. They ought to demand it as a matter of right.

OH, WHAT A GAME!

Its Like Was Never Seen Before in Somerville, and Plainfield Won.

A cleaner, more beautiful game of baseball never was seen in central New Jersey than that at Somerville Saturday afternoon, when the Plainfield Crescents defeated the Somerville West Ends by the score of 2 to 1.

Both teams fought valiantly from start to finish, and the game throughout was so excitingly close that the big crowd of spectators was in constant uproar.

The players were all in prime condition, and in each inning their playing was very evenly matched. Neither Harkins nor Hammill gave a single man a base on balls or on being hit by a ball, and while Harkins struck out only 3 men and Hammill only 2, the Crescents got only 8 hits and the West Ends only 7. The only errors made in the whole nine innings were 2 by Carbonell, who muffed a fly in the seventh, and let a ball go through his legs in the eighth.

Billy Lee's playing was especially phenomenal. He was called on to make some very difficult stops of batted balls, and he accepted 9 chances with never an error. Freddy Jones did excellent work at centre field, Holly acquitted himself in great style at first base, and Keeler and Hammill fielded their respective positions admirably. Bonner's work behind the bat was perfect and even surpassed Kennedy's.

The one run of the West Ends was made in this way: Carbonell went to the bat and struck out, after getting three balls called on him. Farrell got one ball, hit a little foul, and then lined the ball out into the field for a clean base hit. Moorehead picked out the first ball pitched and sent it sailing out to long centre. Jones caught it, which made two men out. Then Harkins went to the bat, made a clean hit to centre field, and advanced Farrell to second. Farrell started for third on the throw in, and slowed up a bit just before reaching third, so that the ball struck him and bounded back into the grass, away out of anybody's reach. When the ball was recovered Farrell was too near the home plate to be put out, but Harkins was caught off second and after some playing was put out just after Farrell scored.

Twice after that the West Ends came very near scoring. In the fourth inning, after two men were out, Kennedy and Ridley each made a hit, and Kennedy was on third when Roberts batted a fly that looked like a hit. Tierney, however, ran and held it before it touched ground, and Kennedy's attempt at a run was spoiled. In the sixth inning Farrell and Moorehead each made a hit. No one was out, and a single bagger would have brought in two runs. Harkins, Kennedy and Ridley, however, were retired by superb fielding in one two three order, and Farrell was left on third and Moorehead on second. Outside of those three innings the West Ends never got a man beyond first. What saved one run from coming in for the West Ends, in the sixth, was the fact that Harkins's long hit to right field was just outside the foul line. Tierney caught it, but Farrell would have had time to run in after the catch, had it been a fair.

Foul flies caught—By Crescents, 3; by West Ends, 0. Wild pitch—none. Passed ball—none. Umpires—Faas and Berriman. Time of game—1:30.

Plainfield's first run was made on an error, after two men were out. Jones went to the bat and sent an easy one to Farrell, who threw him out at first. Lufbery made a hit, was forced off first by Tierney's batting, and was caught out at second. Moorehead tried for a double play, but was just one-tenth of a second too late in getting the ball to Roberts. Keeler made a hit, advancing Tierney to second McIndoe batted a long fly to Carbonell, who dropped it, and Tierney scored. Hammill went out, Farrell to Roberts.

The winning run was made in the ninth. McIndoe got two balls and two strikes and then sent the ball sailing far away over the right field fence. In all previous games such hits had counted as home runs, but for this game a new ground rule had been made, and the ball was batted within the limit which had been set making it only a two-bagger. McIndoe advanced to third on Hammill's sacrifice. It looked as though Holly were going to strike out again, for he got two strikes and no balls. He surprised everybody, however, by a dandy hit, which brought in McIndoe, earning the run, and winning the game. Then the grand stand went wild, and the Somerville crowd on the bleachers gnashed their teeth and scowled black looks at Carbonell, who had been guilty of the only bad playing of the day.

A number of Somerville infants slipped away from their nursing-bottles at home and were present at the game. They had brand-new rattles, and enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content—till Plainfield won the game. Their disagreeable turbulence was only what might have been expected of babies, but it did no harm, and the attempt to rattle Hammill and win the game by rowdy methods failed. Umpire Faas had a bad eye in judging strikes, but he probably did the best he knew how. During the game the Somerville rooters developed a new cry, whose burden was that pitcher Hammill was a "big stuff." In this way the yellers succeeded in proving that Hammill was very much of a gentlemen and that they themselves have not yet risen above the old low Somerville methods.

The record to date in the contest for the semi-professional championship of New Jersey is now as follows:

	Won	Lost	Average
Plainfield	5	2	.714
Somerville	4	5	.444
Westfield	2	4	.333

Plainfield has won three straight from Somerville, and lost two to her. The sixth game of the series is to be played this week Saturday.

Miss Freeman Won a Foot-ball Prize.

The clam-bake held last Friday, under the management of certain members of the Crescent League, was a success in every particular. Chief engineer N. H. Astfalk, of the Elizabeth fire department, had immediate charge of all details, being ably assisted by a corps of experts from that city, John Ayers, driver of Rolla, No. 2, hose carriage, leading them. The guests began to arrive about 1 p. m., and by 3 all were on hand. While waiting for the bake, which was uncovered at 4 o'clock, chowder and clam fritters were served, which were unanimously pronounced exquisite.

As the carriages arrived, their occupants were met by Messrs. Nightingale and VanWinkle, who gracefully presented each to the other, thus all becoming acquainted and forming a jolly family party.

Prominent among those present were: From Plainfield—Mrs. D. S. Roberts, Councilman and Mrs. Hetfield, Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins, C. T. Nightingale and family, the Misses Freeman, E. B. Kline and Miss Kline. From Fanwood—E. C. Kieb and family, Miss Nellie Boutcher, Gen. Kyte, Mrs. Col. C. K. Moore, and James Moore 2d. Mr. Barlow and family of Binghamton, Messrs. Nightingale and Hamilton of Easton, and Mr. A. A. Drake and daughter of Westfield, were also present.

Games were indulged in during the day, the prize-winners at foot-ball being Mr. Barlow for the best kicking and Miss Freeman for being the best sprinter on the rush line of the ladies' side.

At whist Messrs. Nightingale and Hamilton defeated Messrs. Kieb and Kyte in a 16-hand game of reversible whist, by 8 points.

The party reluctantly disbanded at dusk, after a delightful day's outing, and having enjoyed a perfect "bake" by the prince of "bakers".

Music for the day was furnished by N. H. Guttman.

A Sunday Wedding at Netherwood.

Miss Anna Foster Crossman who, with her parents, Major and Mrs. George Crossman, of New York, has been spending a few weeks on Crescent avenue, was married at the Church of Our Saviour, Netherwood, yesterday. The groom was George Fawcett, leading man in the "Still Alarm" company that has just closed a successful engagement in New York. The bride is a sister of Miss Henrietta Crossman of the Lyceum Theater company.

Major and Mrs. Crossman are old friends of the Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector of the church at Netherwood, and the Misses Crossman are particularly fond of him. Consequently when her wedding time came, Miss Anna would be married by no one else. The family therefore came to Plainfield for a brief stay before the happy day.

The bride has never been on the stage. The bridal party left last night for Cleveland, where the "Still Alarm" Company begins an engagement to-night.

Notes of the Boys' Club.

The average attendance for the last week was 52 each evening, the largest being 66, and the smallest 45. The number of visitors was 16.

The club nine defeated the Unions of Grant avenue, last Saturday afternoon by the score of 17 to 9. The game was not as interesting as some that have been played this season, although a few brilliant plays were made by both sides. Following is the score:

Boys' Club..	4	4	6	2	0	1	0	0	*	—17
Unions....	4	2	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	— 9

Base hits—Boys' Club, 8; Unions, 8. Errors—Boys' Club, 15; Unions, 14.

The Young Cuban Giants will play the club team next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, on Westervelt avenue, North Plainfield.

Trotting at the Park.

At the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Saturday, the trotting resulted as follows:

First race—J. W. Johnson's Colonel won in two straight heats; time, 2:51½ and 2:50½; with Peter Osborne's gray Pilot a close second.

Second race—Mr. Fosher's Fred won in two straight heats; time, 2:39 and 2:42½; with Mr. Hayes's Andy second.

Third race—O. T. Waring's Copeland won 1 heat, and M. Quinn's gray George made a close finish in 2:39.

MORETON WINS THE ROAD RACE.

His Time Was Fast But It Would Have Been Faster If Necessary.

The 19-mile road race held on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Plainfield Bicycle club, was hotly contested by the competitors. At 4 o'clock, the time of starting, a large and enthusiastic crowd had collected at the corner of Front and Richmond streets. The course was through Scotch Plains over the newly macadamized road to Springfield and return. The starters were: George W. Moreton, P. Bl. C.; Geo. Mahon, P. Bl. C.; J. S. Pike, F. W. Yates, G. W. V. Moy and Jos. Sutterly.

Before the race Mr. Moy was looked upon as a sure winner, but his friends were doomed to disappointment as the pace proved to be too hot for him. George W. Moreton captured the Martin prize medal, winning in 59 minutes, 53 seconds, after riding an excellent race. J. S. Pike was second, in 1 hour, 1 minute, and 54 seconds. George Mahon was third, in 1 hour, 3 minutes, and 19 seconds.

Owing to the pedal dropping from Mr. Mahon's machine, about one mile from the start, he was badly handicapped. He had to stop several minutes to borrow a wrench to replace the pedal, but pluckily remounted to continue the race after all his competitors were out of sight. Had not this occurred, Mr. Mahon would have pushed Mr. Moreton a little closer and the time would undoubtedly have been even better than it was as Mr. Moreton could have ridden faster had he been pushed.

Mr. Sutterly was the only one on a high wheel. He rode a first-class race and finished fourth.

The other machines were geared up to the racing notch, which Mr. Sutterly's ordinary could not be; and the tire of the hind wheel was tied on with a string.

The medals were presented to the winners at the club-house on Saturday evening, where a large crowd had gathered.

The official time of starting was 4:06, 26, and the arrivals at the turning and finishing points were as follows:

	SPRINGFIELD.	FINISH.	TIME.
Moreton,	4:35,15	5:06,19	59,53
Pike,	4:36	5:08,20	1:01,54
Mahon,	4:37,10	5:09,45	1:03,19
Sutterley,	4:37	5:10,26	1:04
Yates,	4:39,15	5:15,28	1:09,02
Moy,	4:36,30	5:23,34	1:17,08

Following is a table of the best records made by horse and man, which shows that the latter is the more enduring:

TROTTING.			BICYCLING.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

Cotton Exports in August.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 14.—Cotton exports from the United States during the past month of August, aggregated 54,168 bales, valued at $2,464,382, against 68,205 bales in August, 1890. For the twelve months ended August 31, cotton exports aggregated 5,834,848 bales, valued at $290,441,840.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 14.—Japanese advices are to the effect that a meeting of the committee appointed to make arrangements for Japan's exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago was held on August 14. Many prominent persons attended and much interest was manifested.

Foolhardy Trip in a Row Boat.

HAMBURG, Sep. 14.—A Swedish Captain has started in a row boat to row from Gothenburg to Hamburg, and thence to London. The attempt was considered very foolhardy, and efforts were made to prevent it.

Stanley's Australian Tour.

LONDON, Sep. 14.—With reference to the statement that Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, who are visiting the King of the Belgians, intend to go to Australia, it may be added that they have already booked their passage to Melbourne by the steamer Arcadia, which they will catch at Brindisi on October 11.

A Papal Nuncio for Canada.

ROME, Sep. 14.—It is stated in Vatican circles, that the Pope will shortly appoint a nuncio to Canada to act as an intermediary between the Holy see and Canadian Catholics. Some doubt is entertained here as to whether Canada has the right or inclination to receive a papal nuncio in an official capacity.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 14.—For New England: Fair, slightly cooler, westerly winds.

For Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey: Fair; slightly cooler, westerly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Generally fair, northerly winds, cooler, except stationary temperature on the lakes.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

HIS BRIDE IS COMING BACK.

Dunellen's Letter Carrier Has Explained the Presence of a Woman's Garment in His Bureau.

The following story of the singular case of wife desertion which was published in these columns Saturday appeared in the columns of a New York paper this morning:

"Uncle Billy" Jacobs is the letter-carrier in Dunellen, a pretty little New Jersey village about three miles from Plainfield. It is the first place in which Postmaster-General Wanamaker experimented with his pet hobby, of extending the letter-carriers service to take in even the smallest villages, and "Uncle Billy" was the first carrier appointed after the new scheme went into effect. His route extends over twelve miles of territory, but although his hair is now nearly as white as snow, and he confesses to having celebrated his sixtieth birthday, he has never failed to make his daily rounds with the mail.

"Uncle Billy" is no ordinary letter-carrier. He is a man who has held a position of considerable prominence in a business and social way. "Uncle Billy" is connected with some of the oldest and most influential families in Essex county. B. M. Day, a New York broker, is his nephew. Another nephew is A. Compton Vail, manager of the Union Laundry Company, on Broadway, and still another is William H. Lyon, secretary of one of the leading loan and trust companies, all residents of Plainfield.

"Uncle Billy's" first wife died last Thanksgiving Day and not long after he was prancing around all the marriageable women in the county searching for another.

People out there say he went to a matrimonial agency and even advertised in the papers for a partner. Whether he did or not, he became acquainted a few weeks ago with the widow Mary Forman, of No. 140 Union avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Forman lived with her son Edward, and when he got married a week ago without telling her of his intentions she hastened over to Dunellen with all of her belongings and told "Uncle Billy" that she was ready to become his wife. It rather took "Uncle Billy" by surprise, but he rigged himself up in his best uniform, went after the Rev. W. E. Kinsey, and that night they were married.

The next morning, while delivering the village mail, "Uncle Billy" told everyone he met of the happy event, and invited them to come over as soon as they could and get acquainted with his new wife. It was nearly noon when he completed his route, and he hastened home, only to find that his bride had flown.

"Uncle Billy" did not know it at the time, but the fact is that during his absence from the house the new Mrs. Jacobs rummaged about and behind the bureau in one of the bedrooms and found an article of woman's wearing apparel. She called old "Uncle Billy" a deceitful wretch, and called in her son Edward to witness her discovery. Then she packed up her things and told Edward to take her back to Brooklyn. All that "Uncle Billy" knew was that he came home with his heart beating fast and found the garment lying on the bureau with a note pinned to it. The note informed him that his bride was going away and would never return again. He ran to the station. Mrs. Jacobs was there with her son, but she turned up her nose when he attempted to speak to her, and her lusty young son threated to thrash him soundly if he ever looked at his mother again.

"Uncle Billy" went sorrowfully back to his lonely home and pondered over the injustice of circumstantial evidence. The next day he wrote a long letter to Mrs. Jacobs, explaining that the garment had been left there without his knowledge by his late housekeeper and imploring her to return. Yesterday a reply came. His explanation was accepted, and the jealous bride assured him that she would be home in time to cook his dinner next Tuesday. She would come sooner, she wrote, but her face had broken out from coming in contact with poison ivy, and she wanted to look her best.

A reporter asked "Uncle Billy" if it were true that he got the widow Forman from a matrimonial agency.

"Wall, I guess not," he replied. "Your 'Uncle Billy' did n't have to go gunning for a wife. There wuz a dozen women around here who were just aching to get me. But I fooled 'em all by going over to Brooklyn for one."

Fanwood Flashes.

Mrs. James Fancher is visiting her sister, who is very ill, at Newburgh, N. Y.

Another game of the rotary whist series was played at the residence of Mr. Gardner last Friday evening, resulting as follows: Force, 7; Gardner, 7; Downer, 6; Kyte, 6; and Smith, 4.

Mrs. H. P. Robinson sat up Sunday for the first time since her long illness. Her recovery is the source of much gratification to everyone in Fanwood.

Fined for Sidewalk Riding.

Warrants were issued by Justice Nash, at the instance of the Hon. George Kyte, of Fanwood, Saturday, for the apprehension of Messrs. Thos. Nichol and D. A. Sayre for riding their bicycles on the sidewalk contrary to a Fanwood township ordinance. As these were the first arrests made under the ordinance, justice Nash imposed only a fine of $1 each, and warned the culprits not to do it again.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

THE ALBION'S SEASON BEGINS.

All The Netherwood's Guests Follow the Proprietor There, and the Remaining Rooms Are Going Fast.

Saturday was the last day of the season at The Netherwood, but not one of the remaining guests would leave proprietor Miller when the hotel closed. They all followed him to The Albion and engaged rooms there, thus filling that house to almost its entire capacity.

So much is to be said during the Summer of the larger hotel with its orchestra, its balls, its loto and euchre parties, its promenade concerts and its other gayeties, that The Albion is almost neglected in print, but its season is now coming. This Winter will see within its walls evening after evening of special entertainment and hops galore. The few remaining rooms are being sought every day, and "standing room only"—or, at least, a cot in the billiard room—may be all the accomodation obtainable by next month.

Table boarders have been a specialty at The Albion during the past two months. The fathers, husbands and sons whose business has kept them home and whose wives and mothers have left them in empty houses, have taken their meals at The Albion. Day after day the number of these transients who have enjoyed the menu at Mr. Miller's new hotel, has been from twenty to forty.

The table furnishing of fine porcelain, crystal and damask at The Albion is not surpassed; the waiters are intelligent and courteous; the cooks are par excellence, and the menu is—well, look at yesterday's, for instance, and judge for yourself:

Metropolitan Wheelmen Come to Plainfield to Race.

The Wheelmen's Racing League held the second and final of its fifteen-mile road race series over the Plainfield-Elizabeth course Saturday. Several hundred wheelmen gathered at the starting point to witness the contest. The race was started at 4:15 p. m., with sixteen men entered. There were teams of four men each from the Kings County Wheelmen, Bedford Cycling Club, Harlem Wheelmen, and Brooklyn Ramblers.

The course selected was on the county road, and was in perfect condition. A false start was made, by which one of the Bedford Cycling Club's teams rode two and one-half miles before he could be recalled. John Bensinger of the Kings County Wheelmen finished first, in 48:17. The first five miles were ridden in 15:30. The first prize, a handsome silver cup, goes to the Kings County Wheelmen, who made 164 points in the two races. The second prize goes to the Brooklyn Ramblers who had 135 points. The Bedford Cycling Club came in third.

The officials were: Referee—H. E. Raymond; Judges—E. Mason, W. H. Marion and W. Holland.

Public School Improvements.

The High school hall has been greatly beautified by paper in gilt bands and panels, and is now as cheerful and attractive as a parlor.

Many rooms have new enclosed teachers' desks replacing the old skeleton desks.

The Franklin and High schools have had graceful and substantial corner bookcases built, in which to keep reference books, supplementary readers, and classroom apparatus.

The ante-room to the Principal's office has been transformed into a comfortable reception and board-of-education room.

Big Money for Music in Plainfield.

The people of no city of its size in the United States, pay as much for their musical entertainments during the winter season, as those of Plainfield. Over $6,000 has already been subscribed by the citizens for the promised concerts, and that does not include what will be spent for the two or three novel musical attractions that the new management of Music Hall has in view.

Of the sum mentioned above as subscribed, the Melopois receives $3,125; the Choral society, $1,800, and Mr. H. O. Newman's philharmonic concerts, $1,425.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

"YOU AND I."

The New York Standard Theatre Success to be the Next Attraction at Music Hall.

It is now the intention of the management of Music Hall to keep it closed if possible until all the alterations and reconstruction are completed. Consequently the engagement of Primrose & West's minstrel company has been cancelled and the next attraction will probably be the appearance of George W. Lederer's company of comic players, the evening of the 24th inst., in "U & I," precisely as presented at the Standard theater, New York.

The company has just finished an astonishingly successful week in staid old Boston, and are this week in Washington. The cast includes that big pair of comedians, John T. Kelly and Dutch Daly, Miss Flora West the nimble soubrette, and a host of other funny folks and pretty dancers.

DUNELLEN DOINGS.

Interesting Items from a Thriving Borough by Our Own Correspondent.

A very interesting game of ball was played at Dunellen last Saturday, between the Pond jrs., and the Dunellen Athletics. The game was a tie up to the 8th inning, when the Ponds made five runs and the Dunellen's one. In the ninth inning Dunellen made 4 runs and the Ponds one, which put the Pond team one run ahead at the finish. The Rev. Mr. Martine umpired the game, to the entire satisfaction of both clubs. Louis Thomas kept the score, which was 23 to 22.

AN ORDINANCE

Dividing the Borough of North Plainfield into two election districts.

Whereas, The Borough of North Plainfield, as manifested at the last Borough election held therein, contains more than six hundred voters; now, therefore,

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Borough of North Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts, to be known hereafter as the First Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield, and the Second Election District of the Borough of North Plainfield.

Section 2. The First Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough; situate on the northwesterly side of an imaginary line beginning at the centre of Stony brook where the same empties into green brook; thence up the centre of Stony brook to the centre of Stinee's bridge; thence easterly along the centre of Rockview avenue to the centre of Mercer avenue; thence along the centre of Mercer avenue to the centre of Grove street; thence along the centre of Grove street to the centre of Emily street; thence along the centre of Emily street to the centre of Somerset street; thence along the centre of Somerset street to the centre of Race street; thence along the centre of Race street to the centre of Warren street; thence along the centre of Warren street to the centre of Manning avenue; thence along the centre of Manning avenue to the centre of Richmond street; thence along the centre of Richmond street to the centre of Green brook, and there to end.

Section 3. The Second Election District shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Borough situate on the southeasterly side of the imaginary line aforesaid.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect on the eighteenth day of September, A. D., 1891.

Approved Sept. 4, 1891.

Alice Macgowan Tells How a Tenderfoot Queered a Cowboy.

Jim Is Persuaded to Ride a Bicycle Although He Considered It Tame Fun at First—The Wheel Strikes a Snag with the Usual Result.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

Said the Wheelman to the Cowboy:
"Would you like to try a ride?"
Said the Cowboy to the Wheelman:
"I dunno—I never tried."

Said the Wheelman to the Cowboy:
"I'm afraid you'll get a fall."
Said the Cowboy to the Wheelman:
"Whatcher givin' us at all?"

Said the Cowboy to the Wheelman,
As upon the ground he struck:
"I pulled up her head an' licked her;
But great Scott, how—she—did—back?"

Our ponies loped easily together. "This is a beautiful place, but so lonely," I said to the tall, grizzled ranche boss at my side.

"I've been in places where I wuz worse off for 'musement and society," said he, glancing approvingly at me. "I've been where it was so lonesome a feller wuz glad even to meet a coyote, and where we didn't see a strange face once in six months, and I staid there four years, too.

"I'M 'FRAID IT'S TOO TAME FOR ME."

"It was down t'other side of the Devil river region, between the Rio Pecos and the Rio Grande, I wuz broncho bustin' for the Hal Circle G. It wuz the lonesomest, fur-awayest place I ever staid. Our outfit had been there three straight years, and if we ever knowed anything we'd forgot it. We had wore out every deck of cards in the crowd but one, and it was two queens and a deuce short; and of rainy evenin's we used to have a free-for-all fight to see who should have that to play with; but as the fellers that got licked always 'mused themselves puttin bullet holes through the cards if a man dared to hold up his hand, there wuzzent no good fun in card playin'. We had raced all the ponies so much that we knew as well when we set up a race which pony'd win as we did when it was over. There wuzzent a town in three hundred miles fit to get drunk in; so when the little event happened that I'm agoin' to tell you of we nachelly thought Proverdunce had saw what hard lines we wuz a havin', and sent us somethin' to have fun out of.

"We wuz great pals with all the outfit at the ranche nearest neighbor to us, the Bar X, about thirty miles north, and I'm free to say that their broncho buster beat me. I don't mind any pattern o' broncho; but he wuz just hungry for wild mustangs and sich, all the time. Jim Guthrie was his name, a big two-fisted feller, always a-chaffin' and a-gassin' and a runnin' rigs on folks.

"Bar X is a Boston outfit, and they had a young Boston dude to come out there that laid over anything ever saw in southwest Texas. He did sure wear the ornariest clothes, to be good store clo'es, that I ever saw. His pants just come to his knees, like a little boy's, and he had sorter custard-pie colored brogans, with nutmeg grater soles to 'em. His cap beat creation. I reckon they knowed he didn't have sense enough to tell which wuz front and which wuz back, so they'd gut a little gable on both ends so's to hit him either way he took it.

"One of his eyes wuz spiled, so he kep' a glass lid on it; but the lid didn't fit very good, and he had to sorter grin 'casionally to keep it on; and the sight of him at them times—if you'll excuse my sayin' so—wuz enough to make any man cuss.

"He wuz son of the president of the Bar X Co., and they said he'd been studyin' somethin' too hard at college—I think 'twuz Lathetics they named it—and they'd sent him out to get over it.

"WHEN SHE STRUCK A SNAG."

"He brung out what he called a machine, or by-shackle—of course you've saw 'em?—a big wheel with a saddle on, and a little wheel a taggin' it. He wuz as 'fraid as death of anything like a good pony—wanted 'em to shoot the baldfaced mustang, the best racing pony on the Bar X, because it jumped on Mexican Jo a few times one day, after it throwed him; but he'd git up on this here by-shackle, and set up in the saddle and fold his arms, and make her go wherever he wanted her to.

"Some of the boys 'lowed he made it run with his feet, and he did kick 'round purty lively part of the time; but other times he'd just put them slim legs up over its ears (things he called handle bars), and smoke a cigarette, and it would rack on just as peaceable as ever.

"We couldn't see our way to haze him 'round none while he wuz on the Bar X land, for fear he'd write home and tell his pa; but one day me and Petie and Buster and Jim Guthrie and a lot of the boys, wuz in off the range, and a hangin' round down at the house of an old Mexican that sold Pluky, just a spillin' for some fun, when along comes Mister Dude on his nickel-plated pony, a grinnin' fit to make a prairie dog go out of the business.

"We all got up and gethered 'round him and begged him to 'light, while we wuz a-pullin' him off the machine and a touselin' his store clothes. He took it all mighty good natured; stood a-grinnin' and a smokin' one of his everlastin' cigarettes, while we boys all come round and let on to criticise his nickel pony. One of us 'lowed it wuz too high in the wethers; and another said it didn't have flesh enough on it to show off its points fair. Jim Guthrie, he purtended to look at its teeth, and said it wuzn't nothin' but a filly anyhow, and no knowin' what it would make in time with good handlin'. Some other Alick asked what breed it wuz, and we let on to find swaller forks, under-bits, and all kinds of ear marks and jaw brands and hip brands on it.

"We went on considerable, and thought we wuz amazin' funny, and the little dude man seemed to think so, too, for he grinned heejous all the time. Finely he sez: 'Some o' you boys like to ride her?' Jim—he wuz managin' the haze—he spoke up and says: 'Dunno. I never tried anything o' that sort. I'm 'fraid it's too tame for me—no need to ask if she's gentle and well broke,' looking at the little dude man's thin shanks, and hollerin' out laffin' till you could a heard him a mile.

"'She's all right,' says the little dude man, sorter quiet, 'if you understand her disposition and gaits—don't try to get on that way,' as Jim started to mount; 'I'm afraid you'll get a fall.'

"Jim turned on him like he'd eat him. 'Did you ever ride a buffler?' he hollered. The little dude man shook his head and grinned. 'Well, I have,' sez Jim, and he climbed on the by-shackle.

"Of course Jim couldn't be the broncho buster he wuz without his balance bein' somethin' to bank on; and at first it seemed as if it would pull hifn through. It wuz a little down grade, and him and the by-shackle started off purty friendly, though them things that travels round the hubs did whack his shins some; but he got his stirrups after while, and turned his head to wave his sombrero and give us a good Texas yell, when he struck a snag and commenced a hopping up and down. Then Jim lost his head. He had his quirt in his hand, and he began to lamm on the side of the machine like it wuz a buckin' pony. It only caroused around worse, and he reached down and tried haulin' up on its head, and usin' language I couldn't repeat to a lady; we boys wuz a laffin' to burst, and he heard it, and it made him wild; he wuz locoed; and he rode the thing for all he knew; but he rode it for a broncho, and not a machine. He quirted it, he cussed it, and pulled up its head; and every time we thought he wuz gone he'd ketch his balance and stick. Finely he come to a little gully, and he tried to spur it—to make it jump, he said afterward—and his spur caught in the spokes, and down he went, all twisted up in that thing till it wuz a wonder all his arms and legs wuzn't broke.

DOWN HE WENT ALL TWISTED UP.

"Then it showed out how the little dude man had stacked the cards on him, for I have never misdoubted that he had wound up somethin' to go off in that little colt hind wheel at the right time; and when it seen he wuz down an' tangled so he couldn't git up, it riz up and pounded him like a dog.

"Jim mustn't had more Pulky than I thought, for he called out to us real pitiful to come and pull that thing offen him, or it would kill him; and when we did he limped off home without a word.

"As for that little dude man he offered to teach us all how to ride the machine—a thing we didn't care for—and he laughed till the lid fell offen his spiled eye; and he looked more like a human bein' than I ever seen him."

ALICE MACGOWAN.

A WIFE'S SUPPORT.

Query-Box Readers Had Better Ponder Over This.

At common law and in a great majority of states, a wife, however wealthy she may be in her own right, may yet claim and receive from her husband necessaries suitable to his means, however poor he is. And there are very few states where a wife's property may be taken in payment for necessaries for herself or for the family, even if the husband is penniless and cannot pay.

Unless, of course, the wife contracts for necessaries on her own credit instead of his, in which case she and her property may now be held nearly everywhere. But the support which she can claim is only such as accords with her husband's means, not her own. And he is the sole arbiter as to the place where the family shall live and the manner of life, so that it be reasonably healthful and comfortable, says a legal light in the Chatauquan.

In a recent case a wife owned a fine house and estate where she wished to reside with her husband and family, but he required her to live elsewhere with him in a much humbler fashion, probably expecting her to lease her own place and apply the rent money to family expenses. It was held that she must go with him where he chose to establish the family domicile, and that if she refused so to do it would be desertion on her part.

"WE ARE HAPPY, EH! MY BOY?

We are happy because of our glorious health; for Health, my boy, is Happiness."

What picture can equal that of a young mother and child in perfect health? and what a rare sight it is.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound possesses those health-giving properties so important to both mother and child. It is the only Legitimate Remedy and Positive Cure for those peculiar weaknesses and ailments incident to women. Every Druggist sells it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00.

TO NAME THE TICKET

The Democratic State Convention at Saratoga.

CALLED TO ORDER AT NOON.

A Long Wait Expected for the Report of the Committee on Credentials.

Many Contests to Be Decided—Some Little Contention Still Exists Between the Two Factions—County Democracy Delegates Denied Admission—The Ticket that Will Likely Be Nominated.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 15.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order at noon to-day in the Casino Rink by State Committeeman Edward Murphy. Temporary Chairman George Raines then assumed control of the gavel, and after a somewhat lengthy speech the various committees were appointed and an adjournment taken.

That the differences between the two factions was not thoroughly patched up before the convention was called to order there is now no denying.

In fact, just before the convention met, the talk of the Erie County delgegates, of calling another convention, was revived. Said a prominent anti-Hill man: "There are 250 contestants and only 384 members of the convention, and the Cleveland men, with the exception of Herrick, will all come out if we call them out, and the Chapin men will be glad to go with us."

All such talk as this, however, is ridiculed.

Large Number of Contest.

A great many of the delegates began to talk this morning of the possibility of adjourning the convention to-day. The managers, however, have no such idea. The settlement of the contests for seats means much to the party. They cannot be disposed of hastily if harmony is to be preserved.

As matters now stand it looks as if the real work of the convention would not be reached to-day. The Committee on Credentials has its hands full, having to settle the many contests which are before the convention. There is much evidence to be presented and considered, and though the committee went in session at 2 o'clock this afternoon it may be late to-night when its report is completed.

The Probable Ticket.

The ticket will very likely be:

Governor—Roswell P. Flower.

Lieutenant-Governor—Wm. F. Sheehan.

Secretary of State—Frank Rice, renomination.

Treasurer—Elliott Danforth, renomination.

Controller—Frank Campbell.

Attorney-General—Simon W. Rosendale.

Engineer and Surveyor — Martin Schenck.

Flower's nomination is expected on the first ballot with every vote, except the 36 from Kings.

The Erie anti-Sheehan delegation held another meeting this morning, with the object of patching up the trouble and giving Sheehan their support. The effort was of no avail, and the matter stands as it did before.

MEETING OF STATE COMMITTEE.

County Democracy Delegates Shut Out. Voorhis Re-elected to Membership.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 15.—It was after 8 o'clock last night when the meeting of the Democratic State Committee was called to order.

The resignation of Mr. John J. Voorhis, sent in a long time ago, was accepted and Mr. Voorhis was then elected to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation.

A heated discussion ensued over the question of admitting the 36 County Democracy delegates. By a vote of 24 to 8 it was decided not to admit them.

The temporary officers of the convention were then selected.

HENRY COLEMAN DEAD.

A Colored Man, Who for Twenty-five Years Was the Attorney-General's Messenger.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Henry Coleman, colored, a messenger at the Attorney-General's office, died yesterday, aged 80 years. Prior to 1860 Coleman purchased his freedom and later the freedom of his wife. He had been messenger at the door of the Attorney-General's office for 25 years and probably knew more public men at the time of his death than any other man in the United States.

Death of Hon. Geo. B. Loring.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 15.—Honorable George B. Loring, ex-Minister to Portugal and former Commissioner of Agriculture, died yesterday at his home here, from heart trouble. He was 74 years of age. The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon. Services will be held at the North Unitarian Church. Rev. E. B. Wilson is expected to officiate. Winslow Lewis Commandery will have entire charge of the funeral.

Two Thousand Lives Lost.

MADRID, Sep. 15.—The people of this city are horrified to learn by official announcement from the scene of the fearful floods now devastating the province of Toledo, that two thousand human beings have already lost their lives. From the same source is obtained the information that the loss to property in the afflicted district is something enormous.

Bones from the Park Place Ruins.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—While working in the ruins of the Park place disaster last evening some human bones were found. They were taken to the Morgue and the coroner notified.

Conclusive Authority.

General HURST, as Ohio Food Commissioner, reports Royal the Purest Baking Powder in the market.

Every other baking powder tested contained impurities—from 10.18 per cent. to 86.23 per cent. of their entire weight.

KEYSTONE BANK AFFAIRS.

The Investigation Will Be Continued By the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 15.—After the conference held at the Treasury Department between Acting Secretary Spaulding, Solicitor Hepburn and Comptroller Lacey, as to the power of the government to accept advances of money to continue the examination into the affairs of the Keystone National Bank of Philadelphia, the following telegram was sent to the chairman of the committee of fifty:

"The revised statutes of the United States provides that 'no department of the government shall expend in any one fiscal year any sum in excess of appropriations made by Congress for the fiscal year, or involve the government in any contract for the future payment of money in excess of such appropriations.'

"The act of March, 1891, provides an appropriation of $5,000 'for the necessary investigation of violations of Section 5,092 of the revised statutes of the United States, and for no other purpose whatever.'

"Of the amount appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, more than $4,600 has already been expended, and largely in connection with the investigation of the affairs of the Keystone National Bank, leaving less than $400 to cover similar investigations throughout the entire country during the entire nine months of the present fiscal year. This is the only appropriation available for such purpose.

"The above states fully the condition of the appropriation and the laws, but as it is the desire of this department that the investigation into the affairs of the bank be thorough and exhaustive, and that all the facts be brought to light, you are informed that, if as proposed, your committee shall advance the money necessary to continue the investigation it shall proceed under the direction of this department, and the Secretary of the Treasury will ask Congress to make an appropriation to reimburse the advances."

THE DAYTON WILL CASE.

Charged That Reed is Not the Son of the Deceased.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—The matter of the will of the estate of the late Mrs. May I. Dayton is on the docket of the Circuit Court in Aberdeen, S. D., for further hearing. In this case Lyman C. Dayton, the St. Paul millionaire real estate owner, traverses the petition of James C. Reed, of this city, for letters of administration on Mrs. Dayton's estate, and makes the sensational charge that Reed is not the son of Mrs. Dayton.

The latter died at San Francisco on June 3, and left property to James C. Reed, who was private secretary to President Arthur, which is valued at $200,000. She claimed that Reed was her son by a former marriage, and appointed him administrator. She was married to Lyman C. Dayton in St. Paul in 1865.

NEVER BEFORE ACCOMPLISHED.

Canoeists Make the Trip from Moosehead Lake to St. Johns, N. B.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sep. 15.—Eugene Underhill and Murray Bocock, have performed a feat never before accomplished. They reached this place yesterday, having traveled in a canoe from Moosehead Lake to the mouth of St. John River, a distance of 504 miles.

They had three guides and three canoes and made the journey in 24 days. Their actual traveling time, however, was 14 days, the rest of the time having been passed in camp, fishing and shooting.

All Quiet at Briceville.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 15.—Everything is now perfectly quiet at Briceville, and it is fully believed there will be no demonstration unless the Legislature adjourns without taking some step looking to the abrogation of the present contract with the lessees or the abolition of the lease system. The penitentiary question is the most urgent coming before a Tennessee Legislature for many years, and the proceedings of the body during this week will be watched with the greatest interest.

Young Howard Appeals to His Father.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—Harry Howard the son of a retired merchant of Burlington, Vt., who was arrested Monday night while playing at Huber's Museum in a sketch with Miss May Bell, a variety actress with whom he had "doubled up," for the theft of $1,500 from a former employer, is completely broken down and has appealed to his father to aid him. He is 30 years old and has been married twice. His last wife is now in this city.

Land Office Employes to Be Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 15.—Twenty special agents of the Land Office, at work in the field, will be dismissed in a few days because of lack of funds.

HIS VACATION OVER

President Harrison Leaves for Washington To-Day.

CLOSE OF THE SUMMER COTTAGE

Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee Start at the Same Time for Boston.

Those Who Will Accompany the President to the White House—The Appellate Judges Won't Be Appointed Before December—Vacancies in the Interstate Commerce Commission to be Filled.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Sep. 15.—President Harrison will leave Cape May Point at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a special train on which he will go as far as Camden, N. J. The President will be taken across the Delaware and leave Philadelphia at 4:41, arriving in Washington at 8:15 p. m. The special car with Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee will be attached to the Boston express, and they will arrive in Boston to-morrow morning. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison will go to New York and Mrs. Dimmick will go to Stamford, Conn.

The President has been at the cottage about three months, excepting twelve days when in New England in August. During the stay here business has been transacted as usual without delay. Everything came from the White House and the departments by mail or express, instead of through personal messenger service.

The Appellate Judges will not be appointed until December, and the vacancies in the Interstate Commerce Commission will be given the President's early attention. Every member of the Cabinet has visited the President excepting Mr. Blaine.

The President will go to Washington in good health, and will be accompanied by Gen. Lewis T. Michener and daughter, Lieutenant and Mrs. J. T. Parker, Secretary and Miss Jeannette Halford and Miss Alice Sanger.

ALBERTSON'S STEALINGS.

Took Over a Million But Mostly in Securities, Which Were Returned.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—From letters received by bankers in this city, it seems that the loss to the Fidelity Trust Bank at Tacoma, Wash., by the defalcation of Edward Albertson, the secretary, was much greater than had been generally supposed.

It was heretofore believed that Albertson lost some $9,000 only in speculation, and surprise was caused by the extraordinary efforts made to capture him. It now appears he took $30,000 in cash and nearly a million in securities. The securities, however, he returned through an accomplice.

Albertson was suspected of complicity. The thieves have escaped.

The Association Wants to Play the League.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sep. 15.—President Phelps of the Association has written to Young of the League, proposing a series of games to test the relative strength of the two organizations. He proposes three, five or seven games between any number of Association and League clubs, some to be played on Association and some on League grounds, the deciding game, if necessary, to be played on neutral grounds.

To Make Up a Team for the West.

DENVER, Col., Sep. 15.—Arrangements are being made by which the Denver Club will play a series of games in Western and Pacific coast cities with a club made up from the best players of the National League and American Association, captained by Comiskey of the St. Louis Browns, after the championship season is over.

The Wool Statistic Controversy.

BOSTON, Sep. 15.—Hon. David A. Wells' recent imputation against the integrity of the census statistics of wool manufacture is met by a positive denial from Mr. S. N. D. North, the special agent of the census in charge of the statistics of wool manufacture, who has written a letter to Mr. Wells at Norwich, Conn.

Test of Guns for the New Cruisers.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 15.—A preliminary experiment, developing the capacity of the six-inch, forty calibre guns, the type to be used on the new cruisers, 12 and 13, has been made by the Navy Department and the results proved very satisfactory. A velocity of 2,180 feet a second was obtained with fifteen tons power pressure.

FOR THE EXCHANGE OF NEWS.

The Interstate Press Association Formed at Binghamton—Officers Elected.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The Interstate Press Association was formed at Binghamton yesterday afternoon. The object of the association is the exchange of news between the papers in the association. Each paper will be held responsible for news in the city where the paper is published. All news will be sent by wire.

The following officers were elected: Editor Tuthill, of the Hornellsville Times, president; Editor Scott, of the Owego Record, vice-president; Editor Lee, of the Oneonta Star, secretary; Editor McKee, of the Tonawanda Review, treasurer.

In addition to the papers mentioned, the Binghamton Herald, Susquehanna (Pa.) Transcript and Cortland Journal comprise the association. They began service this motning.

Indians Die From Dancing.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sep. 15.—A Government Inspector who has just come from the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indian reservation tells of a large number of deaths among those tribes. They have been holding a dance on the Quachita river. During the past three days nearly a hundred of the Indians have fallen unconscious during the dance and fully half of them have died. Scores of others are very sick.

Fatal Blow at Pool Rooms.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—The fight of the Brooklyn Jockey Club against the pool rooms, which has up to now been unsuccessful in keeping the pool men from operating their business, resulted to-day in the club withholding all entries from the newspapers. This will reduce attendance at the track, but will likely compel the pool rooms to close.

Arrested on Revolting Charges.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—Robert Bell, Assistant Sexton of Calvary Church, this city, is under arrest on charges of having abducted and criminally assaulted six Jewish girls ranging from 14 to 16 years of age. The girls confessed and said Bell had been dishonoring the church for almost a year. Two of the girls he made drunk with communion wine.

Became a Raving Maniac.

LYNWOOD, N. J., Sep. 15.—John Saunders, a prominent young business man of Pleasantville, has suddenly become a raving maniac, and is confined in his father's residence in this place. It is said his mental troubles were caused by brooding over a quarrel which he recently had with his brother in regard to business.

Denies the Killing Now.

ELKTON, Md., Sep. 15.—Harry A Price, aged 5 years, was found dead in his room yesterday morning with a bullet hole in his head. He was dressing, evidently, when shot, as he had on some of his clothing. Suspicion centered upon his cousin, Percy Carr, who slept with him. Carr at first admitted the shooting but now he denies it.

Rockefeller Needs Absolute Rest.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—John D. Rockefeller, who has been confined to his home at Forest Hill, O., for some weeks past, is a very sick man. A corps of physicians examined him and declared him to be free from organic diseases, but decided that his nervous system needed absolute rest.

Held in $2,500 Bail.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 15.—The five mercantile appraisers have been held in $2,500 bail each for appearance at the next term of court.

AS FROM THE GRAVE

A Message from a Supposed Park Place Victim.

CUMMIN IS ALIVE AND WELL.

A Corpse Had Been Identified as His and Was Buried by His Wife.

She Received Nearly $900 From the Relief Fund and $150 From the Printer's Union—The Supposed Dead Man Now in Halifax—How He Got There—All the Result of a Spree.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—When the old Taylor building on Park place tumbled in and crushed the life out of over three score people none of the bodies recovered from the ruins were mourned over more deeply than the one that was identified as Sherman Cummin, a popular "comp," on the Mail and Express, and a leading member of Typographical Union No. 6.

Mrs. Cummin positively identified one torn and charred body as that of her husband. Cummin's brother, when called to identify the body, hesitated at first and then became convinced that it was that of his relative.

So the body was taken to Mrs. Cummin's home, and was buried with due ceremony.

When the money subscribed for aid for the bereaved families came to be divided, Mrs. Cummin's share of the Mayor's fund was nearly $900. She received also $150 from the Typographical Union. Mrs. Cummin, after receiving the money, moved away from her old home to a neighborhood some distance away.

Last night a messenger boy delivered a cable message to Mrs. Cummin. It was brief, but very much to the point, and took a load off the little woman's heart, for it contained the information that her husband was in Halifax alive and well and that he would start at once for home.

Sherman Cummin's story is a strange one. Up to noon of the day of the Park place disaster he worked in the composing room of the Mail and Express. At that hour he left the paper and started toward Park place, presumably with the intention of going to Petersen's restaurant for lunch. He has not since been seen by his friends. No one knew that he did not go to Petersen's and his mysterious disappearance was set down as a sure indication that he had perished in the ruins.

It now appears, though, that he did not go near Petersen's on Park place, but rather to some other establishment, where the goods that were sold were less substantial and affected one's nervous powers differently. In other words, he didn't know in which direction Park place lay in half an hour, and he was not sure whether or not he had to take a boat to get there. But to make sure of the thing he took a boat, a sailing ship, and found himself yesterday in Halifax. Without delay he cabled home.

The question now arises whether Mrs. Cummin will have to turn over the $900 given her by Mayor Grant and the $150 donated by Typographical Union N. 6.

WHO SHOT THE POLICEMAN?

A Remarkable Change of Sentiment in Behalf of Actor Curtis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 15.—There has developed a remarkable change of public sentiment, and half the people now believe that M. B. Curtis, the comedian, is an innocent man.

There is much mystery surrounding the whole affair. The theory of Curtis' friends, that another hand than his fired the shot which killed Officer Grant, gains support from a story told by Eli Denison, who has charge of news matter distributed on trains of the Southern Pacific Company.

Denison, who lives in Oakland, makes the following statement: "On the ferryboat Sunday night I met a man I know by sight, but not by name. We were discussing various subjects and the conversation naturally drifted toward the murder.

"'This talk about Curtis having done the killing is all a mistake,' said the stranger. 'The whole truth will come out in a few days. I met a man to-day who says he saw the tragedy, and he is ready to take oath that Grant and Curtis were accompanied by a third man who did the shooting and then ran.'"

Who Owns the Securities?

BOSTON, Sep. 15.—In the case of McMahon vs. Waterbury Judge Sherman has decided that the Old Colony Trust Company must, within ten days, answer a new set of interrogatories, the object of which is to find out to whom belongs the $1,400,000 worth of securities deposited by Waterbury. A decision as to whether the trustee is to be discharged will be deferred until these answers are in.

Feared that Several Vessels Were Lost.

NEW YORK, Sep. 15.—Many of the sailing vessels which have reached port during the last two days bring thrilling tales of the great storm of Sept. 7, in which all of them were damaged more or less. Many vessels of the Gloucester fleet were at sea at the time, and it is feared that several of them have gone to the bottom.

Injunction Against Strikers.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sep. 15.—A preliminary injunction has been issued against the Fishback mill strikers, restraining any of them from interfering or insulting non-union men now at work for the Pottsville Iron and Steel Company.

Fatally Injured By a Brother.

ROSEDALE, N. Y., Sep. 15.—During a drunken quarrel at Big Indian, in the Catskills, George Tyler struck his brother Peter on the head with the butt end of his gun, crushing his skull and inflicting probably fatal injuries.

Two teaspoonfuls Cleveland's Superior baking powder; one quart flour; one teaspoonful salt; two tablespoonfuls butter; one teaspoonful sugar; one pint milk.

Sift together flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. Rub the butter into the flour. Add the milk, then mix up quickly into a smooth dough. Roll an inch thick, cut with a biscuit cutter. Roll each biscuit between the hands into a roll four inches long. Place apart on buttered tins. Bake twenty-five minutes.

Use only Cleveland's baking powder the proportions are made for that.

Hot biscuit made with Cleveland's baking powder may be enjoyed even by those of weak digestion. Cleveland's is the anti-dyspeptic leavening agent. The leaven comes from cream of tartar and soda, nothing else; no ammonia or alum.

CAPT. ANDREWS' RESCUE.

A Letter at the State Department from Our Consul at Antwerp.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 15.—The State Department has received a letter from the United States Consul at Antwerp, giving an account of the rescue of Capt. Andrews of Boston, who attempted to cross the Atlantic in the dory "Mermaid," by the British steamer Elbrux on Aug. 23.

The Consul reports that Capt. Andrews encountered bad weather and a series of misfortunes, and was in great distress when picked up and relieved by the steamer.

Consul Stewart says the captain and his boat are now in good condition and will leave in a day or two for London. The boat is being exhibited at Antwerp for a charitable purpose and is attracting much attention.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The squirrel season opened to-day.

—The City Council approved the books of tax assessor J. A. Hubbard last evening.

—"Battle Row", the city poor-house, is in bad shape. The Council refused last night to pay the rent bill till repairs have been made.

—All interested in the Workers' Training classes and the Bowling section of the Y. M. C. A., are requested to meet at the Association rooms this evening at 8 o'clock.

—The Plainfield Common Council have accepted an invitation to be present on the balcony of the Albion to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to review the parade of the Knights of Pythias.

—The City Council was again very late in settling down to business last night—this time 40 minutes. The session lasted till 11 p. m. All were present but Mr. See, who went out soon after roll call.

—J. Oakley Nodyne, overseer of the poor, reports that during the past three months the city contributed $863.78 to the support of the poor. There are now on the roll 38 families deserving of assistance.

—The ordinance designed to compel the Water Supply company to restore to their original condition streets torn up by them was adopted on third reading and final passage, by the Common Council last night.

—According to the report of city judge Codington 112 prisoners have been tried before him during the past three months. Of these 62 were fined, 30 were committed to jail, on 17 sentence was suspended, 5 were acquitted, and 2 were both fined and committed. The sum of $369 was received in fines.

—The city is in need of money, and rather than borrow at interest prefers to use the $3,000 left in the old Moore waterworks fund. But it is alleged that this cannot be touched until the courts have settled the water-works dispute. Corporation counsel Marsh will be required to give a written opinion in the matter.

—Prof. Herbert B. Adams, of Johns Hopkins University, says of Prof. Starr, who is to lecture in the High school hall, Thursday evening, that "He interested the students of the University more than any other popular lecturer in last winter's course. He pleased the students as he fascinates the boys at Chautauqua."

—The old Commercial-Advertiser building at the corner of Fulton and Nassau streets, New York, was consumed by fire this morning, as well as adjoining buildings on both streets occupied by Ira Perego and others. The loss was $500,000. Lack of water in the fire plugs enabled the fire to gain great headway before it was under control.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Janitor Mundy of the City Council has recovered from his siege of illness.

Mrs. Charles D. Wadsworth has returned from Washington, Conn., and is now at home at 55 Central avenue.

Hon. Thomas F. McCormick, judge of Union county court, returned to his home in Elizabeth, on Saturday, from his European trip, on the steamer Alaska.

Mrs. Poe and family, accompanied by her sister, Miss Conway, are sojourning at The Albion for a brief period prior to their return to New York. It is to be hoped that the guests may have an opportunity of hearing Miss Conway's charming voice.

Among the Hotel Netherwood guests who are now at the Hotel Albion, is J. Aug. Hinchman, of New York, one of the most gifted of the talented and brilliant corps of summer correspondents and society reporters whose writings make the columns of the Herald and the Tribune attractive. Mr. Hinchman's contributions during the past season to those metropolitan dailies, have brought The Netherwood into most favorable and valuable prominence throughout the whole country, and have indirectly been of almost incalculable benefit to the city of Plainfield itself. His correspondence to THE PRESS telling of the many social events at the Hotel during the past few months, has proven to be an interesting and desirable feature of the paper.

Funeral of Mrs. Randolph.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of Mrs. Adsett F. Randolph, wife of Edgar F. Randolph, who died last Friday at her home, 60 East Third street. The obsequies were held at the Trinity Reformed church, of which she had been a member. The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, who officiated, spoke words of comfort to the afflicted husband and children, and commended her Christian life as an example worthy of being followed.

Two beautiful floral pieces were on the casket. One of them bore the word "Mother", the other "Grandma". The remains were interred in the North Plainfield cemetery.

The deceased was a most estimable woman. She was long a sufferer from an incurable disease, but never murmured, and always was patient and submissive and only waited for the Master's call.

A husband and two daughters survive her. One of the daughters is the wife of J. W. Van Sickle.

A FARCE IN COURT.

Miller Offers No Evidence to Sustain His Complaint, THE PRESS Proves It is False, and the Prosecutor Says It's Only a "Simple Case", Yet Justice Nash Refuses to Dismiss It.

The examination of the editors and proprietors of THE PRESS on the charge of malicious libel of Joe Miller, took place before Justice Nash, this morning. The papers in the case had been sent to the Prosecutor of the county, but returned by him to the Justice with a letter saying the case was such a "simple" one it could be settled in the Justice's own court.

Last week Nash granted Miller an adjournment because of the "absence of a material witness". To-day the "witness" was still absent and Miller had no counsel, but he said he was ready to proceed. Judge Codington, counsel for THE PRESS, moved that the case be dismissed and gave such sufficient reasons therefor that the Justice said he "would dismiss it if Miller had a counsel", but as he had no counsel he (the Justice) would instruct him what his rights were, and ordered the examination to proceed.

Although there was not a particle of evidence offered that the article was malicious, and not a particle of evidence that it damaged Miller, and not a particle of evidence that even if true it was a libel, yet Justice Nash decided to send the papers back to the Prosecutor who had already given Mr. Nash his written opinion that it was a "simple case" that the Justice could settle himself.

Miller swore that the publishers of THE PRESS had enmity against him because he withdrew his advertising from the columns of the paper, and swore that he never received a letter from the publishers refusing to insert his advertisement and returning it to him. But it was proved by four witnesses that Miller was a perjurer. It was proved that such a letter was written and delivered to him and his advertisement returned. In fact, in cross-examining the last witness who swore that Miller had shown him the letter himself, Miller quoted from the letter and wanted to prove by it, then that the advertisement was refused merely because he owed a little account.

Miller not only proved nothing stated in his complaint, but did n't even offer any evidence. On the other side it was proved that the story about the man coming to Miller's saloon for "Daisy Delmore", was true. Miller, himself, told of it. It was also proved that far from being malicious in the matter, the editor instructed the reporter of THE PRESS to leave Miller's name out of the article and make the matter—which had then been town talk for two days—as favorable as possible for all the parties concerned.

In spite of this, Justice Nash held the defendants on their own bond to await the action of the grand jury.

To-morrow's Celebration.

The line of march of the parade of the Knights of Pythias in this city to-morrow will be as follows:

Headquarters will be at the Crescent rink, on Peace street. Regimental line will be formed at 2 p. m., on Broadway, the right resting on Sixth street. Uniformed Knights will form on Broadway, their right resting on Seventh street.

The line of march will be Peace street to North avenue, North avenue to Park avenue, Park avenue to Front street, Front street to Central avenue, Central avenue to Seventh street, Seventh street to Park avenue, Park avenue to Crescent avenue, Crescent avenue to LaGrande avenue, LaGrande avenue to Washington street, Washington street to Front street, Front street to Somerset street, Somerset street to Linden avenue and the Crescent League's base-ball grounds.

Dress parade and review will take place immediately on arrival at the ball grounds, followed by the prize drills. At the conclusion of the prize drills the regiment will be marched to Crescent rink and partake of a collation.

The band concert and fireworks exhibition, on the Crescent League grounds, will be begun at 8 p. m.

They'll Have to Pay Twice for Counselor Reed's Mantels.

Lawyer William A. Coddington yesterday won f r his client, John Peterson, a verdict before Justice Sperry and a jury of twelve men for $194, together with interest and costs. Mr. Peterson sued Brokaw & Cain for the balance due him on a certain contract made by Peterson with Brokaw & Cain to furnish the mantels and book-case for Borough Attorney Reed's house.

A young man who worked in the same shop with Peterson claimed that he was a partner of Mr. Peterson's, and went to Brokaw & Cain and asked them to pay him instead of Peterson. This Brokaw & Cain did in Justice Nash's office some time ago, at the same time requiring the alleged partner to give them an indemnity bond before paying over the money. Mr. Peterson never got one cent of the money paid to the young man (whose name is John Herrman) and consulted with his lawyer to ascertain what he had better do to secure his rights. This was the beginning of yesterday's suit. The defendant's counsel gave notice of appeal.

BOUND BY A BID.

The Water Supply Company Comes to Terms in the Matter of Flushing Sewers.

At last the city has succeeded in binding the Water Supply company down to a figure for which it agrees to flush sewers whenever they have been built. The Common Council has had considerable difficulty in getting an offer from the Supply people, who seemed to be desirous of not committing themselves to any price, so that if opportunity ever afforded they might prevent, by the charging of exorbitant water rates, a sewerage company from coming into the city. Not until after it was proposed to grant to J. M. Low's water-works company the privilege of flushing, at a moderate rate, the sewers of Low's sewerage company, was the following communication and bid forwarded to the Mayor by the Supply company:

To the Honorable Alexander Gilbert, Mayor etc.

MY DEAR SIR:—In a communication sent to the Common Council of Plainfield in February last, the Plainfield Water Supply Company offered to furnish the city with 250 hydrants at $15 each per year for use in extinguishing fires. Recently an effort has been made to award a contract for hydrants to other parties at $25 each per year, and I understand it is said in order to justify such action that our proposition did not contemplate supplying water for flushing sewers whenever a system shall be constructed in the city, and that the cost of water for that purpose will probably be as much as the difference between the two propositions for hydrants; that is, $2,500 a year, on a basis of 250 hydrants, the difference increasing as more hydrants are furnished.

On looking into the matter I find that ten cents a thousand gallons is considered a fair price for water for flushing sewers, and our company is willing to supply at that rate all the water that may be required to flush any system of sewers that may be constructed in Plainfield.

It is of course impossible to say how much water may be needed to flush a system of sewers not in existence, but experience in other cities indicates that sewers properly constructed may be flushed at a cost not exceeding $50 a mile per year.

To put the proposition in another way, I will say that our company will agree to supply water sufficient properly to flush such sewers as may be built, at the rate of $4 per annum for each hydrant subject to use for extinguishing fires.

Very respectfully,
FRANK BERGEN,
President of the Plainfield Water Supply Company.

As a result of the receipt of this letter, Mayor Gilbert sent to the Common Council last night the following message:

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to submit herewith a communication from the Plainfield Water Supply Company received by me on the 18th ult., in response to a request for information as to their terms for furnishing water for fire purposes and for flushing sewers, whenever a system of sewerage shall be introduced.

While it is my opinion that the Common Council has no legal right to tax the people for the purpose of flushing the sewers of a private corporation, I submit the proposition of the Water Supply Company in order that you may know how much can be saved for the city by making a contract with said company to supply water for fire purposes at $15 per annum for each hydrant, with a proviso that whenever the city shall desire to enter into a contract with them for flushing sewers, their charge for such service shall not exceed $4 per annum for each fire hydrant.

With this proposition before you, it would seem to be unwise to enter into the contemplated contract with J. M. Low or his proposed Water company, which binds the city to pay $6 per annum more for each fire hydrant than it would be necessary to pay if the sewers were already built, and ready for flushing, and if no question could be raised as to the right of the city to pay for flushing the sewers of a private corporation.

A contract with the Plainfield Water Supply Company in lieu of the one you propose to make with Mr. Low's company will under any circumstance save the city at least $1,500 per annum, viz., $6 per hydrant for 250 hydrants, and the amount thus saved will increase with the increase of the number of hydrants.

There is but slight probability of sewers being built by Mr. Low or his sewerage company, and your vote to pay $25 a year for hydrants to his Acqueduct Company is simply voting away a large amount of the people's money without receiving adequate return therefore.

It will be time enough to contract for flushing sewers when sewers are built, and when that time arrives you certainly will not be justified in paying $2,500 per annum for flushing sewers when the same service can be obtained for $1,000.

Respectfully submitted,
A. GILBERT,
Mayor.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 14, 1891.

By a unanimous vote the communication of the Supply company and that of the Mayor were ordered filed. The motion of Mr. Ackerman to spread them in full on the minutes was defeated by the vote of 4 to 6. Councilmen Ackerman, Glona, Johnston and Rushmore voted aye. Mr. See was absent.

MR. SPANGENBERG INDIGNANT.

If Anyone Will Bring a Case Against the Saloon, He Will Vote to Take Away the License.

The ordinance prohibiting disreputable concerts and entertainments from being given in liquor saloons was adopted by the Common Council on third reading and final passage last night. All the councilmen voted for it. Before voting, Mr. Spangenberg said:

"MR. PRESIDENT:—I am heartily in favor of this amended ordinance to license taverns and inns. When I voted for saloon licenses, I did not vote for saloon concerts. I desire to state that prior to the granting of Mr. Miller's license, I called upon him to find out just what kind of a place he intended to have. He gave me his word that he would keep a first-class place, and that I would never regret voting for it. As he had been many years in Plainfield and always had kept a reputable place, I decided to vote for it. How has he kept his word with me! Why, according to reports he has kept a disreputable place, deceiving the majority in the Council, and disgracing the good name of our city. Words cannot half express my indignation, and if any one will make a complaint to the city judge and conviction is had, and the matter is brought before the council, I shall certainly vote to revoke his license."

Gossip Around the Tool Works.

(FROM THE PRESS CORRESPONDENT.)

It was a mistake about the house which Mr. Walsh, the worthy contractor, is to build on Lee place near West Third street. The Plainfield Bicycle Nine Defeats Roselle Again.

Saturday afternoon the Bicycle Club's base-ball nine defeated the Roselle ball team for the third time this season. Wyckoff, who pitched for the Bicycle club, deserves great credit for his fine work in the box. He held the Roselles down to 3 hits, and struck out 16 men. As one of the boys said: "He's making fools of them". Although Wyckoff did n't give the outfielders a chance to look at the ball, a few were hit to the infield, and were handled in good style.

Dawe did great work behind the bat, catching all the strike-outs and throwing two men out at second and one at third, without an error. He is right back in his old form, and will make a great backstop for next year's crack Bicycle team. Wyckoff, Erickson and Sheppard did the best batting. The teams were as follows:

BICYCLE CLUB.	ROSELLE.
Dawe, catcher,	J. Hibbard, catcher,
Walz, third base,	L. Miller, third base,
R. Murray, left field,	S. Graves, right field,
McMurray, first base,	B. Bogart, centre field,
Tilney, second base,	J. Miller, short stop,
Sandford, short stop,	W. Patterson, left field,
R. Erickson, right field,	S. Patterson, first base,

Want Fire Horses in Town.

Plainfield Engine company, No. 2, reported to the Common Council last night that Frank Randolph, who owns the horses used by the engine company, was in the habit of taking the horses to work out of town. This—they complained—was very unsatisfactory, and they asked that three horses be bought by the city for the engine and hose carriage. The board of engineers were empowered to see that Randolph kept his horses in town, or that other horses be procured.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

THE SEWERAGE ORDINANCE DEAD.

Mayor Gilbert Vetoed It, and the Councilmen Will Make a Better One.

The ordinance to grant a sewerage franchise to J. M. Low and his associates was killed by the Plainfield Common Council at last night's meeting, when the following veto from Mayor Gilbert was presented:

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—I return herewith without my approval the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide sewers in the city of Plainfield."

The object of this ordinance is to give the consent of the corporate authorities to the formation of a company by J. M. Low and six others, to be known as the Plainfield Sewerage Company, for the purpose of constructing and operating a system of sewerage in this city.

I realize full well the necessity that exists for a sewerage system in the thickly settled portion of the city, and I shall be glad to co-operate with your honorable body in an effort to secure the same, if in my judgment due regard is shown for the interests of the city in the selection of a system and the construction of it. I cannot, however, look with favor on this effort, which begins by leaving the selection of the system and the method of construction entirely discretionary with the party who seeks the franchise, whose only interest in the city is to make what he can out of it.

The terms and conditions on which the proposed franchise is to be granted are set forth in an agreement which was submitted to and approved by your honorable body August 3, attached to which is a schedule of rates to be charged for the use of the sewers.

The agreement is very vague and indefinite, and as it is not accompanied by any description of the system to be introduced, nor any specifications for the construction of the same, it justifies the belief that no definite conclusion has yet been reached as to how the project shall be carried out.

There is nothing whatever in the agreement which indicates what kind of a system is to be constructed, except the provision that "the sewage is to be properly disposed of, either at the sewage works, or in some manner to be mutually agreed on between the city and the company."

A contract of so much importance as this should not be awarded to any party until by the most thorough investigation and study an intelligent conclusion has been reached as to the system to be introduced, and the character of the system should be set forth in the agreement in clear and unmistakable terms.

If the sewage is to be carried to tide water, let it be so expressed. If we are to have disposal works, the people have a right to know in advance where they are to be situated and how the sewage is to be purified. These are very important items, and may affect injuriously a large district, both as to healthfulness and desirability as a place of residence. Let us know just what we are to have before we pass any ordinance, grant any franchise, or enter into any agreement.

The city has a very deep interest in the sewerage problem. It is a matter that closely concerns the future welfare of the people; and too much care cannot be exercised in the preliminary study of the question, the preparation of plans, and the careful supervision of the work by a competent engineer working solely for the interests of the city.

Provision is made in the agreement for a sanitary engineer, but he is to be employed by the company in the interests of the company. No provision is made for any supervision in the interest of the city. The entire matter is treated as if the city after granting the franchise would have no right to concern itself about the character of the work, or any other important matter connected therewith, and consequently would have no need of a supervising engineer.

The provision relating to the purchase of the works by the city at the expiration of 12 years is objectionable, as it puts it within the power of the arbitrators to be chosen to compel the city to purchase at any price they might agree upon. It leaves the city practically at the mercy of three men, two of whom will represent the sewerage company.

The privilege of the city to purchase after the expiration of a term of years should be at cost, with a reasonable allowance for good will. In order to ascertain the cost, the company should be required to keep an accurate account of the cost of construction, subject to inspection by the city at any and all times.

The bond provided for in the agreement for failure to fulfil the contract in my judgment will be of no value whatever. It is simply a bond of the company without surety. If the sewers should be bonded to obtain money to build them, as they probably will be, a judgment against the company will be uncollectible. No good business man in any important transaction requiring a bond would think for a moment of accepting such a bond.

Section 2 of the ordinance provides: "That neither this Ordinance nor said assent shall be construed as authorizing said company to lay their pipes beneath the public roads, streets, avenues and alleys, until after said company shall have fully complied with the terms, conditions and requirements of the act entitled 'An act for the construction, maintenance and operation of systems of sewerage in cities, towns and boroughs', approved June nineteenth, 1890." Inasmuch as the act referred to was approved June 13, 1890, instead of June 19, 1890, I would respectfully suggest the propriety of correcting the error in order to avoid the possibility of future litigation.

Respectfully submitted,

A. GILBERT, Mayor.

On motion of Mr. Hetfield the veto of the Mayor was ordered spread in full on the minutes, and also on Mr. Hetfield's motion the ordinance was reconsidered and not approved. The vote of disapproval was unanimous.

Another sewerage ordinance—being the old one in perfected form—was to have been brought up for discussion, but on motion of Mr. Hetfield it was tabled.

Workers' Training Classes.

The workers' training classes of the Young Men's Christian Association, which have been so successful in past years, will begin work Oct. 1. The course of study in both classes will tend to fit the members for better Christian work. The lessons will be very different from the Sunday-school lessons, but will be very useful to Sunday-school teachers. All interested are requested to call at the rooms this evening, where information will be given by Mr. Murray in regard to training class methods.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

PROPERTY-OWNERS MIGHT RECOVER.

But the City Can Do Nothing With the Supply Company's Hydrants.

Corporation counsel Craig A. Marsh presented to the City Council last night his opinion as to whether or not the Council may prevent the erection of hydrants by the Plainfield Water Supply company in the streets of the city. He decided that the council had no right to prevent the hydrants from being erected. In his opinion he said:

"The power of the Common Council over the corporation in question with reference to its use of the public streets is to require the corporation to submit to such local regulation as may be necessary to prevent improper or unnecessary interference with public travel, and to render the Water Supply company's occupation of the streets as little inconvenient to the public as possible; or, in other words, to prevent the corporation from using its franchise in such manner as will unnecessarily obstruct or otherwise interfere with public travel.

"Hydrants are usual and necessary incidents to the exercise of a franchise such as that of the corporation referred to. The conclusion is that the question must be decided in the negative.

"I may add that the special counsel retained by your honorable body in the water-works litigation concurs in the opinion above expressed.

"The question whether the erection of hydrants in the streets of our city entitle property-owners in front of whose premises the same may be erected, to compensation, is not such a question as the city can raise. That question is one between the property-owners and the Plainfield Water Supply Company."

PERHAPS BETTER STREET LIGHTS.

The Borough Electric Company Asks for an Opportunity to Compete.

A. V. Manning, president of the Edison Electric Light company of North Plainfield, presented to the Plainfield Common Council, last evening, a communication asking for the privilege of erecting poles and stringing wires along the streets of the city, for the purpose of supplying electric lighting in stores and residences where it was desired. The matter was referred to the committee on public lights.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for lighting the streets. The present contract expires Nov. 1, and all bids must be in at the October meeting. The North Plainfield company is expected to take the opportunity to compete with the city concern.

BOWLING ON THE GREEN.

The Middlesex Championship Badge Changes Hands Again.

The Middlesex Bowling Green Club had a meeting on the Schepflin court at Dunellen, Saturday afternoon, when the annual contest for the championship badge came off. There were 16 contestants, who were paired of in eight rinks. After the first contest there were four rinks and then two rinks. The four players left were Frederick Weigel, L. A. Powelson, H. B. Willis and Frederick Reichter, the holder of the badge last year.

Frederick Weigel drew Fred. Reichter for an opponent, and H. B. Willis drew L. A. Powelson.

Mr. Reichter beat Mr. Weigel, and Mr. Willis beat Mr. Powelson. This brought the final contest down to H. Brewster Willis against Frederick Reichter, and Mr. Willis won by a score of 21 to 18.

The play began at 2:30, and was not concluded until dark. The championship badge was established three years ago, and was first won by Howard MacSherry, then by Dr. W. E. Lindstedt, and last year by Frederick Reichter. On Saturday Mr. Richter turned it over to Mr. Willis as the champion bowling green player of the season of 1891, and Mr. Willis with appropriate remarks received it and pledged himself to defend it against all comers.

Next Saturday there will be a practice game in preparation for the contest for the silver cup presented by John Adams, which will be played for by all regularly organized clubs in the United States, who enter on or before Oct. 1. The contest will come off on a date to be fixed in October.

Can't Pass on Their Own Minutes.

The City Council could take no action last night concerning the acceptance or amendment of the minutes of the meeting of August 21, because the courts took the minutes out of the hands of the Council before they had a chance to act on them. These are the minutes that are in dispute as to whether the mayor's veto on the Low water-works ordinance was spread on them or not. The citizens opposing the water-works claim that the ordinance was illegal because the veto was not spread in full on the minutes before the ordinance was adopted over the veto.

THOUGHT THEY WERE INSURED.

But Discovered that They Had Paid the Premium to an Aged Swindler.

It would be interesting to know how many residents of Bloomingdale are resting easy in the faith that they are insured against fire by the German-American Fire Insurance Company—of which John W. Murray of this city is the vice-president, head and brains—by virtue of having paid a benevolent-looking old gentleman the regular rate for insurance on furniture and various household effects, the amounts varying from $500 to $2,000 and $3,000.

Such a man has been canvassing the west side of New York city for two months or more and has been very successful. Having induced his patrons to part with their money, he promised to send them their policies. That was the last they heard of him, and those who thought there was something wrong went to the company and learned that the smooth-talking man was not an agent of the company and that they had been swindled.

On Saturday Detective Sergeants Titus and Crouch caught David Lawson, who describes himself as 85 years old and a resident of 2,337 Eighth avenue, New York. The detectives say that the prisoner swindled Mary Casey of 130 West Sixty-third street out of $2 on May 10, for insurance on her brother's furniture. Mrs. McLaughlin, of Sixty-seventh street, near Tenth avenue, paid him $7 for an insurance policy which she never received. Mrs. Rogers of Tenth avenue and Sixty-seventh street paid him $2.16, and E. M. Giles of 105 West Ninety-eighth street paid for policies which they never received. The detectives found a cancelled policy of the German-American Fire Insurance Company in Lawson's possession He was held in the Yorkville Court Sunday for examination.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weak, Nervous and Despondent.

"In form a man,
With spirit less than infancy,
And nerveless as the weakest woman."

This aptly describes the sufferer from Nervous Debility. He is weak, tired, nervous and spiritless, with dull and dizzy head, vision impaired, loss of memory, and wakes tired mornings with bad taste in mouth and little appetite. He is gloomy, despondent, the nerves so weakened that the least excitement or shock will flush the face or cause a trembling, often attended by palpitation.

Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve, brain, and vital restorative: is an absolute and sure cure for Nervous Debility. Under its use the dull eyes regain their brilliancy, the weak and exhausted feelings give place to strength and rigor, the brain becomes clear, the nerves strong and steady, the gloom and depression are lifted from the mind, the sure indicator of health, strength and happiness. Dr. Greene's Nervura is purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists sell it, $1. Do not fail to use it, sufferer

"I was afflicted for five years with nervous debility, and last winter was down sick with it. I had a good doctor, but only got temporary relief. I then took six bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura and it cured me.

THE WOMAN OF FASHION.

She Must Wear a Flowing Mantle Over Her Shoulders.

A Fashion Such as This Is the Delight of Women with Bad Figures—Summer Silk the Most Popular Material of the Season.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

Aside from the convenient little blazer which every woman has in her wardrobe, it would seem as if the dictates of fashion forbade anything that was not loose and flowing in its outlines. All the mantles, capes and manteletes, as well as the collar capes, are long and loose, enveloping the figure in a mass of folds and completely hiding it.

Of course, a fashion like this is the delight of women with bad figures, and for the time being they find themselves able to put on a very fashionable appearance. When it was the style to wear long, tight-fitting coats, they were in despair because the coats were so trying that they found that by no amount of cunning work could the modiste make a bad figure appear like a good one.

But with the long, loose cape all this is different. A woman may have a baggy figure, a bulky waist, arms as shapeless as sausages and a scraggy neck, or what is much worse, a thick-set neck, and yet when she puts on one of these enveloping capes, she appears as stylishly draped and as shapely as the woman who has a figure like the Medici.

Women with very pretty figures are disgusted at the turn that fashion has taken and are doing all they can to circumvent it with little artifices. One of their latest is such a cunning idea that it is worth calling to the notice of every woman with a pretty shape.

It is dignified by being called a mantle, although it is so diaphanous and filmy that it is scarcely worthy the name. It is ever so pretty, though, and many women will like to copy it because it veils dress, giving the appearance of a wrap, without concealing at all the beauties of the figure or the bodice. It is made of two deep lace flounces. The under flounce falls from the collar down to a point half way between the waist and the knees. The second flounce is likewise joined to the collar, but it extends only well down over the shoulders. Any kind of fine, filmy lace may be used, and, if so desired, the lace may be beaded.

If this is done the mantle is held in place and does not blow about with each motion of the wearer or at the slightest wind, but it is not as light, or as filmy, so treated, and consequently it is not a great favorite for the summer.

The mantle is supplied with a very high Medici colla, which is likewise of lace and is supported by a fine invisible wire. The entire collar is made upon a wire frame work which is put together in the same fashion as are the delicate wire frames which are used as a foundation for lace toques. If desired the collar can be lined with some shade of fine summer silk, such as is so popular this summer for lining capes, collars and wraps.

The mantle is supplied with ribbon strings. These may be tied in a large bow at one side, leaving the mantle open to display the front of the bodice. When so done the mantle is in the style of Charles IX., and the wearer will find that her neck arrangement will resemble the old court pictures of the lords and ladies who surrounded Charles when the latter held high festival. If desired, the strings may be tied closely in a knot and the Medici collar can be persuaded to curve outward a little to accommodate the wearer's neck and chin.

These very deep collars are becoming to women of all styles. When first they came in vogue it was supposed that they would not become popular with women afflicted with too great embonpoint, but to the surprise of even such dressmakers as Worth and Felix, these collars have proved to be becoming and have consequently grown into favoritism with women of all styles.

Another summer cape which has become the summer woman's ideal, because it veils her dress without concealing it, consists of three deep lace flounces instead of two. In this case the flounces were sewed on a ground work of black net, one flounce overlapping the other only a few inches. Our grandmothers wore caps similar to these, and the style, like many other of the old fashions, is again amongst us.

Still another variety of capes or manteletes is made of colored India silk. These are not filmy, and they have the old fault of concealing the figure and the bodice, but they are extremely pretty and becoming, and are, moreover, so inexpensive that a woman may have half a dozen of them in her wardrobe, and yet have paid less for them than for one lace mantle.

At the races a few days ago there appeared a dress which had come straight from Paris. It had been worn only once on the other side—just to give it a Parisian flavor. The one occasion when it made its appearance was at the races at Longchamps, and the owner, having had it made for a racing gown, decided to wear it as such in this country, although it was more delicate and dressy than American women generally wear when they go forth on such an expedition.

The dress itself was of gray silk, very tight fitting and scant in the skirt. Extending all around the skirt there was a hem about eighteen inches deep, bordered by a band of fine gold embroidery. The embroidery consisted of horizontal lines with very delicate tracery outlined between them. There was a girdle of the gold embroidery and a deep fringe of lace fell over the bust. The gold lace was fastened on perfectly straight across the bust, so that it gave the waist almost the effect of a yoke. There was a straight standing collar outlined with the gold cord.

Over the tight-fitting dress fell a lovely tunic of Lyons lace. The tunic was cut—if one can imagine such a thing—in almost the same shape as the ordinary ulster which one sees upon the school girl. It was semi tight-fitting in the back and hung loosely open in the front. It was not caught together at the neck and was allowed to fall in folds from the front of the shoulders downward as carelessly as a man's overcoat hangs when he throws it open without regard to the lines which it will take. The sleeves were very large and full. They were of lace, and were shirred in tightly just below the elbow, and from the elbow to the wrist was a deep fall of gold fringe. There was a very high Medici collar embroidered on the inside with gold cord, and the shoulder puffs were very tall, extending half way as high as the collar. A small, invisible wire framework held the sleeve puffs in shape.

The hat worn with this was made of gold lace. At the back of the hat there was a bunch of pale gray tips and upon the front were several golden ornaments. Tiny black velvet strings were tied closely under the skin.

It is quite the thing for the girl who would look pretty, and who does not wish to be monstrous in her style of headgear, to wear a sunbonnet. These sunbonnets are made almost exactly the same shape as were the sunbonnets of our great aunt's days or to come nearer to the present day, as are the sunbonnets which are worn by the country school children. You will see plenty of them if you will take the trouble to go for a drive upon any of the country roads some morning before nine o'clock.

The summer girl is, however, not contented with clinging to exactly the old-fashioned sunbonnet style, and so she has varied the monotony of it by making it very full in the crown and shirring it closely to the head with several bands of fine shirring. This gives a beautiful full ruffling around the face and makes a pretty setting for piquant features. With this bonnet the summer girl does not really need a parasol, and when she goes out to walk it is rather pretty and rather coy and rather kittenish for her to tie on her sunbonnet with a great big bow and then, inclining her head slightly to keep out the rays of the sun, to take her constitutional without apparently ever having a thought of observing eyes.

The favorite material for these bonnets is—once more—India silk. This will not, however, stand out of its own accord, and must be slightly wired to preserve the general effect.

Quite as pretty, though, is the dotted mull, which is fine and sheer and will bear washing.

To dress up simple gowns, very broad collars are worn. Broad cuffs may accompany them or not, according to the taste of the wearer. If the collars are made of white lace or of crochette work or guipure embroidery, they become very elegant affairs, and may be worn with very nice gowns. A neck band may or may not be worn with them.

DOWN TO BUSINESS

The Democratic State Convention at the Real Work.

MAY GET THROUGH TO-DAY.

The Brooklyn Men Determined to Stick to Chapin to the Last.

Little Sleep Last Night for Delegates and Leaders—The Time Mostly Spent in Conferences and Dickering—A Plank in the Platform Favoring an "Honest Dollar." Jones Not Heard From.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 16.—It was a few minutes past 10 o'clock this morning when the Democratic State Convention was called to order for the second day's session.

Temporary Chairman Raines had been elected permanent chairman, and all the other temporary officers of the convention likewise, with the addition of a vice-president and secretary from each district.

After Chairman Raines' speech, which dwelt on the importance of the work before the convention and the necessity of harmonious action, the Committee on Credentials were called on for their report.

Chairman Raines, in conversation with a reporter just before the convention assembled, said in his opinion there would be a continuous session to-day and adjournment before 4 p. m.

LITTLE SLEEP LAST NIGHT.

Delegates and Leaders Busy With Conferences and Dickering.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 16.—Not many of the delegates to the Democratic convention went to bed at all last night, or if they did it was only for an hour or two early this morning, for most of the night was spent in conferences and dickerings.

The Committee on Credentials did not get through with their work until long after midnight. Ten minutes was allowed on each side in all contests. The Erie County contests consumed the most time. William S. Mackey, speaking for the contestants of the First district, outlined the condition of affairs in Buffalo as serious. "The Democrats of Buffalo," he said, "asked the committee to bring about a settlement of some kind which would unite the party in Erie County. Whatever the committee should decide, the contestants would acquiesce in the decision, but he could not promise them Democrats would do so. He described the conditions of the election of delegates in the First district, charging the stuffing of ballot boxes at caucuses and other irregularities.

Chas. F. Witcher, speaking for the regular delegates, charged the contestants with being bolters.

The New York Democracy then made a strong appeal for recognition. The speakers claimed they would support the ticket at all odds, but there were thousands outside the organization who would feel the injustice of denying them admission.

After listening to other contests the committee went into executive session and announced after adjournment that their decision would be reserved.

The Committee on Resolutions listened to a large number of resolutions bearing upon the silver question, among them a proposition looking to the endorsement of free coinage. Just before the convention adjourned a substitute was adopted declaring the convention to be opposed to any dollar of value less than 100 cents.

The Kings County Democrats caucused before going into the convention. They decided to act as a unit.

Some of the County Democrats went home this morning. They said there was no use remaining, so long as they were not going to be recognized.

Although the Brooklyn Democrats felt that Mayor Chapin's hope was gone, they decided last night to place him in nomination, nevertheless. The nominating speech will be made by ex-Corporation Counsel William C. De Witt, one of the most entertaining speakers of the city. Gen. Isaac S. Catlin, who used to be a Republican, and who is a brother-in-law of Secretary of War Tracy, will second the nomination. The Kings County delegates will vote for him, and will vote negatively on any motion to make the nomination of Flower unanimous.

The Brooklyn contingent, fully 1,000 strong paraded the streets last night. Red fire lighted them along the way. A cannon boomed for them on the corner above the United States Hotel. The parade was not for the purpose of making the people who lined the streets believe that Chapin would be nominated, but to impress upon the visitors that he, and no other Democrat, is their choice on this occasion.

C. F. R. Coe, Lieutenant-Governor Jones' private secretary, was worried this morning because he had not received some word from his chief. He is a delegate from Rensselaer County. "If Flower is nominated," said Coe, "all he has to is to stay home and keep signing checks."

The Distress in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURGH, Sep. 16.—The distress in the Volga provinces is intense. At Penza women and children wander exhausted, shrieking for food. All the charitable societies are doing the best they can. Russian corn merchants on the frontier are despondent at the idea that the German trade will find fresh channels, and never return to Russia.

Conference With Secretary Foster.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—The American representatives of the World's Fair, who have just returned from abroad, and the German and British representatives of the World's Fair interests, had a formal conference this morning at 11 o'clock with Secretary Foster.

SPINNERS TO MEET.

They Believe Mill Officials Are Removing Men Because They Belong to Unions.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 16.—Secretary Moore of the National Spinners' Association in a notice to organizations affiliated therewith calling a convention of the association at Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 6, says that during the past half year there have been complaints from various branches of the national association relative to the method of mill officials discharging spinners for no other reason than that of belonging to their organization.

"This matter will be discussed, and we earnestly hope some action taken will put a stop to this cruel practice.

"The question of the proposed cut down in wages will also be submitted and it is to be hoped that intelligent action will guide your deliberations on this momentous question."

AT HIS DESK.

President Harrison Back Again at the White House and at Work.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—President Harrison, accompanied by Private Secretary Halford, Miss Halford, Lieut. Parker and Mrs. Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Michener arrived here at 8:40 last night.

The President was met at the depot by Secretary Rusk, who accompanied him to the White House, where a light lunch was in waiting.

The President retired early and it was 8:30 this morning when he sat down to breakfast.

A number of callers were received during the morning and at noon the President was compelled to decline to see any more visitors, as he was anxious to get to work on his mail which had accumulated during the past two days.

FRACTIONAL SILVER COIN.

The Treasury Ready to Supply New Halves, Quarters and Dimes.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—Owing to numerous inquiries coming from different parts of the country for fractional silver coin, indicating a scarcity of change in many communities, the United States Treasurer has prepared for transmission to all banks and the principal postoffices a circular stating in substance that new halves, quarters and dimes will be furnished in sums of $200 or more, by express, free of charges, or by registered mail, in sums of multiples of $50, registration charges paid, to any point in the United States.

These circulars will be posted in all postoffices. There are now about $22,000,000 in fractional silver in the Treasury.

THE AUGUSTA EXPOSITION.

Tour of the Business Men Interested in the Great Southern Exhibition.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sep. 16.—The gentlemen from Georgia who are on a tour through New England in the interests of the Augusta exposition in which they are endeavoring to interest New England capitalists are here.

They were received here by C. H. George, president of the Board of Trade, and Mr. J. Lewis Pierce of the Executive Council, and escorted to some of the principal industries of the city by members of the Board of Trade.

The party included the officers of the Exposition—Hon. Patrick Walsh, president; J. B. Platt, Jules Rival, secretary and treasurer, and J. W. Richman, New England agent, and prominent Augusta business men to the number of thirty.

The British Did Not Occupy Sigri.

LONDON, Sep. 16.—A despatch just received here from Constantinople says there is no other foundation for the story of a British armed occupation of the port of Sigri, on the Island of Mitylene, than is found in the fact that a party of British naval officers on Saturday last left their ship for the purpose of picknicking on a deserted islet off Cape Sigri. The party re-embarked the same evening, and on Sunday their vessel sailed.

Libel Suit Against the New York Sun.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 16.—J. Sherwood Corning, a wealthy and prominent citizen of Rochester, has commenced an action against the New York Sun to recover $15,000 damages for libel. The suit is based upon articles published in the Sun which, he alleges, charge him with assaulting one Mrs. Jenkinson upon the steamer Circassia and drugging her when they reached shore. The woman is now serving a term at Blackwell's Island.

Can't Enter Without Certificates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 16.—In the case of Lau Ow Bow, a Chinese merchant, Judge Beatty, of the United States Circuit Court, has decided that he cannot enter the United States without the certificate provided for under the Chinese restriction law of 1884. This decision is an important one, as it settles the question of the rights of Chinese merchants to enter the United States without a certificate.

HE HAD OUTSIDE AID

Fitzsimmons' Escape Was Likely Well Planned.

A VERY DARING UNDERTAKING.

The Best Possible Detective Talent Engaged to Look for Him.

A Reward for His Recapture Also Offered. Two Women Who Supplied Him With Clothes After His Escape Now Under Police Surveillance—The Fugitive Well Supplied With Funds.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 16.—The escape of the notorious criminal, Fitzsimmons, from the county jail yesterday morning, is the all-absorbing topic of interest in the city to-day.

The county commissioners and the chiefs of the Department of Public Safety of the city met in joint conference at 10 o'clock and arranged for a systematic search for the fugitive.

The county commissioners have offered a reward of $1,000 for his capture. They have also arranged to employ the best possible detective talent and hope to run down their man within a short time.

It was ascertained a few days ago that Fitzsimmons received a draft for $6,000; he had the draft cashed and handed the money to a friend for safe keeping. It is also known to the police that early yesterday morning after the escape of Fitzsimmons he was supplied with a suit of clothing by two lady friends. The women are now under police surveillance.

An examination of the cell disclosed a very clever dummy occupying the cot. The iron bars of his cell door show that the sawing was not of recent date; that the bars had been only partly severed, only enough of the iron remaining to hold them in position. They had offered no resistance when the prisoner was ready to step out.

The sawing of the bars in the window at the top of the jail, and how it was possible for any one to either reach the window or to remain there unobserved long enough to accomplish the work, is a mystery yet unexplained.

Shortly before noon a farmer living on the Butler plank road, several miles from the city, called police headquarters by telephone, inquiring if Fitzsimmons had escaped from jail. When informed that he had the farmer said he had seen the murderer passing along the highway in front of his house.

Detectives went at once to Farmer Frazier's house. This was the first clue obtained and not much confidence is placed in it.

The indications are almost conclusive that the fugitive had able assistance from the outside.

HE DABBLED IN WHEAT.

A New York Ex-Mayor's Son Charged With Grand Larceny.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Franklin Edson & Co., of New York some time ago established a branch office in this city for the transction of a brokerage and commission business, and intaalled Henry T. Edson, a son of the ex-Mayor, as manager.

Soon after his arrival Mr. Edson began dabbling in the Chicago wheat pit through other local brokerage houses, and it was not long before he was plunging pretty deeply.

He seems to have got beyond his depth, and has been arrested for grand larceny. The arrest was made on complaint of the cashier of the German American Bank of this city, who charges Edson with willfully defrauding the bank out of $3,000.

He was arraigned before Police Justice Keele, who held him in $5,000 bail for the action of the grand jury.

The case has created a sensation here, as Edson cut a great swell in high social circles.

A Mutilated Body Found.

YONKERS, N. Y., Sep. 16.—A horribly mutilated body was found by Coroner Mitchell of Yonkers, on the Central Hudson Railroad a short distance north of Glenwood during the morning. The remains were scattered along the tracks for nearly a quarter of a mile. The man was unknown and there is considerable mystery about the case.

The Irrigation Congress.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sep. 16.—The Irrigation Congress in session here is one of the greatest representative gatherings ever held in the West. All the Western States and Territories are represented. The total number of delegates present is about 900. The question of ceding all arid lands to the Territory or State in which they are located will be discussed.

More Charges Against Bell.

NEW YORK, Sep. 16.—Sexton Robert Bell, accused of corrupting a number of young girls, now has several other complaints against him. Three more girls have been found who have made affidavits that Bell assaulted them. When told of the discovery of the new cases against him he said: "All right, the more the merrier."

A Big Suit in Equity.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 16.—A bill in equity has come up in the Supreme Court against Charles Babbidge and other executors of the will of Thomas Wentworth Pierce. The object is to decide whether the children of the testator are entitled to priority over other legacies, the assets being insufficient to pay all legacies in full. The estate is valued at $1,250,000 and the total legacies about $2,000,000. If the court decides in the children's favor, the other legatees will get little or nothing. A suit is also pending for the removal of the trustees.

Pennsylvania's State Fair.

BETHLEHEM, Sep. 16.—The Pennsylvania State Fair will be held here next week. It will be formally opened on Monday by Prof. Coppee of Lehigh University. Gov. Pattison is expected to arrive here on Wednesday and will stay over Thursday. On Friday there will be a large gathering of 1,500 firemen from all parts of the State. Thirty companies are already in town with their engines. The entries for the races closed on Saturday night. There are over 100 of them. The premiums aggregate $5,500.

Investigating Italian Laborers.

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 16.—The condition of the Italian sewer laborers employed in this city is being investigated by the Italian Consul at Boston. The men work presumably under the padrone system, are miserably housed and are forced to buy provisions at an enhanced price from a syndicate of their own countrymen, who get them employment.

Serious Strike Trouble.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 16.—The strike riots here have assumed a serious aspect and a bloody conflict is feared. The 1,500 strikers who drove out the workmen from the Eddys' pail factory, and Wright's lime and cement works, and roughly handled the bosses at both places, are now being guarded by troops, but are still in an ugly mood.

A Disabled Vessel Picked Up.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Sep. 16.—The steamer Cottage City, of the Maine Steamship Company, from Portland for New York, was picked up by the steamship Manhattan off Cross Rig Lightship in a disabled condition, caused by the breaking of her steam pipe. She was towed to this port. It will take a day or two to repair the damage.

Suit Against a City.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sep. 16.—Writs have been served on Frank M. Bates, Treasurer of the city of Pawtucket for $35,000 damages, alleged to have been caused to the town of Cumberland by the freshet of 1886. The suit is brought after these many days to avoid outlawry of the claim.

Return of a Disabled Steamer.

NEW YORK, Sep. 16.—The steamship Hudson, Captain Kemble, which left this port for New Orleans on Sep. 12, has returned in tow of the steamship Iroquois. The Hudson broke her crank pin on September 13, rendering her helpless. On the following morning the Iroquois was sighted and took her in tow.

Bank Wreckers Sentenced.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 16.—Francis W., president, and Henry H. Kennedy, cashier of the defunct Spring Garden National Bank, who were convicted recently for wrecking that institution, were sentenced by Judge Butler to ten years each in the Eastern Penitentiary.

New York's Street Commissioner Removed.

NEW YORK, Sep. 16.—Hans S. Beattie has been removed from the office of Street Commissioner by Mayor Grant. The removal, the Mayor says, "is required in the public interest."

REFUSED TO TALK

Convict Bardsley Brought Again Into Court.

WAS WANTED AS A WITNESS.

But Declined Positively to Answer Any of the Questions Put to Him.

Said He Had Been Maligned, and that the Public Had Been Taught to Discredit His Word—Two More Cases for Criminal Prosecution—No Action to Be Taken Against the Bank Presidents.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 16.—The spectacle of a convict ex-city official appearing in court as a witness and a number of prominent and influential citizens as defendants is very rare indeed.

When John Bardsley was brought into court yesterday, handcuffed and in charge of Warden Cassidy, to be used, if possible, in aiding justice in getting a hold on other wrongdoers, it was generally expected he would act the part of a clam, and so he did.

That the District-Attorney was greatly perplexed at his refusal to talk was fully attested to by that gentleman this morning.

In opening the proceedings before the court the District-Attorney narrated the fact that his assistants had repeatedly called on Bardsley in prison to obtain testimony, but never were successful.

The District-Attorney then announced that the Commonwealth had subpœnaed Glendenning & Sons, Auditor-General McCamant, William H. Livesey, cashier in the State Treasury, who was not present, and the officers of the Farmers' and Mechanics', Third National and Seventh National banks, selecting those banks, the District-Attorney concluded, in which there could be no question as to knowledge as to whose money Bardsley was being paid interest upon.

Here the name of John Bardsley was called. The clerk offered to swear him, but he refused. He said: "The public have been taught to believe that there is no value in my word whatever. I have been maligned and I have got to-day more than I can bear. My self-respect, however, in view of all that has been said and done, will not permit me, under any circumstances to give testimony in this court."

Judge Fell reminded him that he could refuse to answer questions, but he only insisted that he would not be sworn. The District-Attorney insisted that he should be sworn.

Judge Gordon—Mr. Bardsley, it is your duty to take the oath administered to you. You are a citizen subpœnaed here regularly, and it is your duty to take the oath. The other matters will be determined when they are reached.

Mr. Bardsley—If your Honor says so I will take the oath, which he did.

"Do you know Mr. McCamant?" "I decline to answer any questions at all. I have simply been sworn out of deference to your Honor, because you think it is my duty."

After a number of other questions had been asked Bardsley, all of which he declined to answer, he finally said: "I have declined to answer any questions. My mind has irrevocably been made up and no inducements under the circumstances can prevail upon me. It is useless for Mr. Graham to further distress me."

Bardsley was then dismissed from the stand.

The Glendenning case was next called, and after a lengthy examination Robert Glendenning and George H. Huhn, constituting the firm of Glendenning & Co., were held in $10,000 bail each for court, on the charge of having aided and abetted Bardsley in his conversion of the public money. Bail was entered in their behalf.

The cases of the three bank presidents were then taken up.

Mr. Graham said it was a question in his mind if the presidents could be indicted, as the law of conspiracy did not cover the case, and he wanted the opinion from the judges sitting as to whether the presidents of these banks could be indicted for paying interest.

"I submit to the court," said Mr. Graham, "that this question as presented in my own mind is one of immorality and not of criminality, and if the court agrees with the thought in my own mind I should feel it my duty to recommend that no further action be taken and that no warrants be issued, feeling that there is not sufficient in the law of conspiracy to warrant an arrest."

After the court had retired for a space of ten minutes they returned and read their opinion, in which they decided that no action would lie as against the person paying interest.

Suit Against the Renfrew Company.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 16.—Suit has been brought against the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams, Mass., and other defendants by H. C. Hurlbut and W. W. Crops. The suit involves about $350,000 and arises from the claims of the bondholders of the Renfrew Company, that they are entitled to the proceeds of certain insurance policies on the property of the Renfrew Company, which was burned March 2nd, 1891. It is also contended that certain securities in the hands of some of the defendants are invalid.

Big Coal Dock Burning.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sep. 16.—The large coal dock of the Columbus & Hocking Valley Coal Company is on fire and it is impossible to extinguish the smoldering flames. The fire started two days ago from spontaneous combustion. There is 100,000 tons of coal on the dock.

For a Cable to Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 16.—The United States steamship Albatross arrived at Mare Island last night. She will at once proceed to make surveys for a cable between here and Honolulu.

TROUBLE EXPECTED.

All Not Harmony in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sep. 16.—There is trouble brewing in the ranks of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Some months ago Grand Master Wilkinson, of the Brotherhood deposed the Board of Grand Trustees selected by the Convention and appointed another set.

This action caused a rupture in the organization and the break has been widening since. The trouble is a jealousy among the members and differences of opinion as to the manner of conducting the business of the order.

Charges and countercharges are being made and they are preparing for a bitter fight.

The deposed Grand Trustees waited upon Grand Secretary Sheahan yesterday and informed him they were ready to transact business. Mr. Sheahan notified them that he could not recognize them.

They demand a hearing and threaten to get out an injunction preventing the Trustees appointed by the Grand Master from auditing the accounts or transacting any of the duties of the Board. The Convention meets here next month.

Arrested and Confessed.

NEW YORK, Sep. 16.—Emil Bock, a passenger on the steamer Saale, was taken into custody by Deputy United States Marshall Bernhardt. He is the bookkeeper of the Prussian Mortgage Company who fled Sep. 5 with property of the concern valued at $90,000. He had registered on the passenger list as Fritz Hildebrand. When arrested the prisoner broke down and confessed his crime.

Cholera in Turkey.

BOSTON, Sep. 16.—A report received at the Custom House from Asiatic Turkey says that cholera is rapidly spreading there. New villages are affected every day, and the number of deaths reported in the city of Aloppo from June to the middle of August was 950. There are no definite figures for the other cities, but the death list is enormous.

An Old Bachelor Commits Suicide.

RUTLAND, Vt., Sep. 16.—Sylvester Robinson, 70 years of age, who arrived here recently from New York, committed suicide by shooting himself. He was a bachelor. Temporary aberration is believed to have been the cause.

Dropped for Desertion.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—First Lieutenant Benjamin S. Weber of the First Infantry, having been absent from duty more than three months, has been dropped from the rolls of the army for desertion.

Smith Defeats McCarthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 16.—Tom McCarty of Boston and Billy Smith of Australia, heavyweights, fought for a $1,000 purse at the California Club last night. McCarty was defeated in the 8th round.

Official Changes at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 16.—Senator John Jones Ross has been appointed Speaker of the Senate to succeed Senator Lacosta, who has been appointed Chief Justice of the Quebec Court of Appeals.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Powers will make a joint movement against China.

The floods in Spain have caused great desolation, the dead being numbered by thousands.

The stocking factory of Herman Klein & Sons, Cincinnati, was gutted by fire yesterday. Loss about $40,000.

Charles Howard, the man arrested in Chicago on suspicion of the attempted train wrecking on the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne road near Whiting, Ind., has made a full confession.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—For New England: Showers; variable winds, shifting to westerly; no change in temperature.

For Eastern New York and Eastern Pennsylvania: Local showers followed by clearing weather; slightly warmer in Northern New York; stationary temperature; southwesterly winds.

For New Jersey: Fair; westerly winds; slightly warmer.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Generally fair, preceded by local showers; stationary temperature in western portion of New York; westerly winds.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Wetumpka Lodge, K. of H., will meet Thursday evening.

—No: Peck does n't sell goods for fun; he sells them for cash.

—It took the parade just 16 minutes to pass the office of THE PRESS.

—Genuine bargains may be found at Dosne & VanArsdale's, 22 West Front street.

—The one person who has n't seen fit to decorate, in honor of the day, the building he occupies, is the editor of the news.

—Miss Julia Jermain Ketcham has resumed her classes in voice culture. Pupils desiring to receive tuition from her may call at or address 51 East Fifth street.

—Under the management of Stephen A. Davis, the "Elm House" of Elizabeth is daily gaining popularity. Mr. Davis formerly resided in this city, where he has many warm friends.

—A correspondent writes that "A butcher wagon with the name 'Arnold' on its sides is driven recklessly through the streets every morning to the danger of all who come near it."

—A moonlight bicycle run from the Y. M. C. A. rooms to Westfield will take place Saturday evening. Members of the Association and others interested are requested to be on hand at 7 o'clock sharp.

—The women of Mount Pleasant will hold a peach and ice-cream festival in the school house this week Friday evening. As the proceeds are for the benefit of the chapel fund the festival should be liberally patronized.

—Street Commissioner Meeker did a very commendable thing to-day in cleaning the mud off Park avenue so that the Pythian parade would n't have to charter a fleet of ferryboats in order to reach Front street from North avenue.

—There was a blow on the fire gong at three o'clock this morning that called Chief Doane out of bed and set him hunting all along the line for the "break". He found that an old zinc which he had used in one of the batteries for economy's sake had broken. It will not occur again.

—Prof. Starr, who is to lecture in the High School hall, to-morrow evening, is a specialist in American ethnology, and has also had popular science classes in Chautauqua for a number of years. He is a well-known leader among the boys, and is most frequently seen surrounded by crowds of young lads, examining some mineral, flower, or curious relic.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Alvin E. Hoagland has just returned from a trip to Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bailey of North Plainfield are the very happy parents of a baby boy and girl who are now just two days old.

Miss Carter, who has been the guest of Mrs. Abner P. Downer, of Fanwood, all summer, left this morning for her home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Force, of Duer street, are to-day receiving the congratulations of their friends on the completion of their twenty-third year of happy married life.

James Abos, of the Florence Mission, New York, will be one of the speakers at the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Sunday afternoon at 4:15. David M. Moore is expected to conduct the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lasell, of New York city, are registered at Force's Hotel. They are delighted with the beauties of Plainfield, and are contemplating taking up their residence here. Mr. Lasell is a representative of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Gov. Abbott, accompanied by one of his stenographers, passed through Plainfield to-day on the 11:30 a. m. train from New York. He was on his way to the Somerset county fair at Somerville, and deeply regretted that he was unable to stop off and view the Knights of Pythias.

Aaron M. Powell, editor of The Philanthropist New York, and who resides at 39 East Sixth street, will sail by the steamship Teutonic, September 23, to attend in Brussels, Belgium, the Sixth Triennial Congress of the International Federation for the Abolition of State Regulation of Vice.

A very pleasant celebration was held Monday evening in honor of the seventieth anniversary of the birth of Isaac Sofield, High street, Perth Amboy, father of T. A. Sofield of THE PRESS composing room. The evening was charmingly spent. There was excellent music, both vocal and instrumental, and the refreshments were very enjoyable. Gifts befitting the occasion were showered upon the host.

The Bride Has Returned to the Cottage.

During the past week it was noticable that Mr. Jacobs, Dunellen's letter carrier, was very down-hearted. His usually bright and happy appearance had been superseded by one of utter dejection.

But yesterday he came around with the same genial smile as of yore, and his friends were positive that something of a pleasant nature had crossed his path. And sure enough; Mrs. Jacobs, who had forsaken him a few hours after their wedding, had seen her mistake, and had returned to her husband, to make the once desolate home happy. Love once more reigns supreme.

WELCOME TO THE KNIGHTS.

Noblest Gathering of Pythians Ever Held in the State.

The Knights of Pythias have a glorious day for their annual field-day celebration. The sky is blue, the air is cool and bracing, the showers of yesterday have laid the dust in the streets, and all is in perfect condition for the great event.

The business houses and private residences along the line of march are bedecked with flags and bunting, Pythian symbols, and portraits of Grand Chancellor Ulrich; and the streets are the gayest they have ever been. People have flocked to town from miles around, to enjoy the holiday, and Knights of Pythias are present from all over the State.

The big parade is in progress as this paper is being put to press. By actual count, the number of men in line is 1,404, not counting a long train of carriages in the wake.

The sight is a noble one, and the air resounds with inspiriting music. The long line of men in rich uniforms and dazzling regalia, the prancing steeds, gaily caparisoned, the bands of musicians, clad in brightest colors, have attracted dense crowds of people, all in holiday attire, to the streets. Banners are waving in every breeze. Flags are fluttering from every staff. All over the city the words "Welcome to all!" blaze forth. The city has given itself up to the Knights, and gaiety reigns supreme.

The Uniformed Divisions in line are as follows:

Palestine Division, No. 1, of Jersey City, Capt. Gust. Steup in command.

Myrtle Division, No. 2, of Paterson.

Unity Division, No. 3, of Elizabeth, Capt. John Farewell in command.

Black Prince Division, No. 4, of Newark, Capt. C. M. Stimis in command.

Friendship Division, No. 5, of New Brunswick, Capt. John Pollard in command.

Red Cross Division, No. 6, of South Amboy, Capt. M. P. Mack in command.

Long Branch Division, No. 8, of Long Branch City. Capt. Benjamin D. Johnson in command.

Monmouth Division, No. 9, of Red Bank, Capt. Walter S. Whitmore, M. D., in command.

Ortygia Division, No. 10, of Phillipsburg, Capt. J. Mitchell Reese, M. D., in command.

Excelsior Division, No. 11, of Trenton, Capt. Edwin F. Margerum in command.

Crescent Division, No. 13, of Plainfield, Capt. J. E. Flannery in command.

Calanthe Division, No. 14, of Newark, Capt. Theodore H. Baldwin in command.

The subordinate lodges, which also are well represented, number 132, and are officered as follows.

Grand Marshal—D. N. Messler, of Somerville.

Assistant Grand Marshal—Hon. George T. Cranmer, of Barnegat.

Adjutant—Hon. S. T. Champion, of Atlantic Highlands.

The Grand Marshal has appointed aids, among whom is L. R. Blackford of Plainfield.

Very prominent members of the order are in town, including Past Supreme Chancellor General Wm. Ward, of Newark; Supreme Representative Jas. R. Rutan, of Newark; Supreme Representative, Hon. James E. Moon, of Phillipsburg; Past Supreme Representative William A. Cotter, of Flemington; Past Supreme Representative Joseph Miller, of Salem; Past Grand Chancellors DeWitt C. Bolton, of Paterson; A. B. Race, of Smith's Landing; Moses F. Badgley, of Newark; Henry C. Housell, of New Brunswick; Wm. H. McCullough, of Swedesboro; Wm. B. Trenchard, of Bridgeton; Henry W. Long, of Englishtown; Geo. H. Kidder, of Jersey City.

The annual parade of the Knights is always looked forward to with great interest, but this year, owing to the subordinate lodges being invited to participate, more than ordinary interest was manifested. There is no doubt that this is the largest Pythian gathering ever held in this State.

Unity and Perseverance Lodges of Plainfield, Good Will Lodge of Scotch Plains, and Crescent Division of Plainfield, each had appointed a committee to make preparations for this event. This committee has been in close consultation with Grand Chancellor John Ulrich, and as a result an elaborate programme has been laid out that will be sure to please not only the Knights, but also every citizen of Plainfield and vicinity.

Following is the general committee:

From Perseverance, No. 74—C. Jones, M. L. Rarick, Thomas Osment.

From Unity, No. 103—L. R. Blackford, T. C. Smith, E. M. Titsworth.

From Good Will, No. 101—G. H. Polhemus, E. T. Bowman, Charles Richardson.

From Crescent Division, No. 13—M. Turton, J. C. Blimm, J. C. Van Dyke, Sir Knight Captain J. E. Flannery.

The officers of the committee are as follows:

Chairman—L. R. Blackford.
Recording Secretary—T. C. Smith.
Corresponding Secretary—J. C. Van Dyke.
Treasurer—J. C. Blimm.

The general committee appointed various sub-committees, and in these found it necessary to add some who were not on the general committee. The various sub-committees are as follows:

On Parade—Lieut. Col. G. H. Polhemus, Sir Knight Capt. J. E. Flannery, Lieut. and Quartermaster J. C. Van Dyke.

On Railroad Arrangements—P. C. E. T. Bowman, P. C. M. L. Rarick, P. C. E. W. Titsworth.

On Refreshments—P. C. C. Jones, P. C. August Kliemser, M. at A. D. S. Gulick, Samuel Robinson.

On Printing—P. C. T. C. Smith, V. C. G.-W. Clark, Joseph Blimm.

On Finance Committee—C. C. Thomas Osment, P. C. T. C. Smith, M. of F. Charles Richardson.

On Grounds and Hall—P. C. M. Turton, P. C. E. T. Bowman, P. C. C. Jones.

On Music and Fireworks—P. C. E. W. Titsworth, P. C. J. E. Flannery, P. C. J. C. Blimm.

On Tickets—L. R. Blackford, T. C. Smith, Thos. Osment, M. L. Rarick, E. T. Bowman.

It was long ago assured from the known ability of these committees that the parade would be a success. The members all helped the committees, and the result is such a parade and attendance of members of the order as has not been gathered together before at a parade in this State.

Following are the officers of the First Regiment:

Colonel—George H. Rhodes, Elizabeth.
Lieutenant-Colonel—George H. Polhemus, Plainfield.
Major—George H. Kidder, Jersey City.
Surgeon—John F. Hagar, Newark.
Assistant Surgeon—Isaac Barber, Phillipsburg.
Adjutant—Frederick H. Davis, Elizabeth.
Quartermaster—John C. VanDyke, Plainfield.
Sergeant-Major—Aaron W. Ables, Newark.
Commissary-Sergeant—Louis E. Mascot, Elizabeth.
Quartermaster-Sergeant—Garret H. Stillwell, Red Bank.
Color-Sergeant—M. F. Cary, Newark.
Hospital-Steward—Lewis Douglass, Newark.

A central figure in to-day's celebration is Major-General James R. Carnahan, founder and Commander-in-Chief of the Uniform Rank. General Carnahan was born in Tippecanoe county, Indiana, in 1841. He worked his way through college, and at the breaking out of the war in 1861, enlisted as a private in the 11th Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, "Wallace's Zouaves". He was transferred to the 66th and remained with that regiment until the close of the war, returning as Colonel. He declined a position in the regular army, and on his return home studied law, graduating in 1867, and was appointed Judge in 1874. He became a member of the order in 1874, Grand Vice Chancellor in 1879, Grand Chancellor in 1880, Supreme Representative in 1881, first appearing in the Supreme Lodge at Detroit in 1882. General Carnahan received his commission of Major-General of the Uniform Rank in 1884, at New Orleans, and his history from that time is the history of the Uniform Rank. He was re-appointed by Supreme Chancellor Douglass as Major-General of the Uniform Rank, in 1888, for a term of four years.

There are at present nearly 13,000 Knights of Pythias in the jurisdiction of New Jersey, gathered in about 130 active Lodges. Plainfield is honored in the selection of the Hon. John Ulrich, as Grand Chancellor of the State. The principles of the Uniform Rank are those of the order of which it is a part, and no one can become a member of this branch who is not a member in good standing in the Knights of Pythias.

The order was founded on the touching and heroic story of Damon and Pythias, and has for its basic principles the virtues of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence; a trinity of power and one that has been the means of conferring untold blessings upon the great brotherhood of humanity. The order was the beautiful conception of Justus H. Rathbone, a young man not yet 25 years of age when the first Lodge in his home, Washington, D. C., was instituted February 19, 1864. Associated with him in this first Lodge were D. L. Burnett, W. H. Burnett, E. S. Kimball and R. A. Champion, all of whom, including Mr. Rathbone, were government clerks in Washington, and most of them members of a social and musical organization known as the Arion Glee Club. The order had a stormy existence for nearly two years, but it breasted the waves of opposition and reached the haven of permanency, all the stronger for the trials through which it had passed. On September 30, 1866, there were four subordinate lodges and 324 members, and then began the extension of the order into other States, until to-day the order has grown from a handful of members to a splendid army of 325,000 Knights gathered in lodges located in every section of the American continent. Mr. Rathbone lived to see the order reach a place where it occupied a high and most honorable position in the fraternal world, and died "in the harness" at Lima, Ohio, December 9, 1889, while on a lecturing tour in the interests of the order.

There are two important branches of the order that have contributed in a marked degree to the success and influence of Pythianism. The first is the Endowment Rank, or the insurance branch, which has been in existence about a decade and has a membership of more than 28,000 Knights. This department, or branch, is under the direction of the Supreme Lodge of the order, and furnishes a system of life insurance, satisfactory, popular and permanent, and within the reach of all members physically eligible. The Uniform Rank was organized in 1878. In 1882 there were 101 divisions of this military branch of the order, and four years later 471 divisions and 13,000 Sir Knights were enrolled in the branch, which to-day has a membership of 30,000.

The judges selected for the competitive drill this afternoon are Gen. J. Madison Drake of Elizabeth, Capt. Sherman Garrison of Company E., Third Regiment, and Lieut. Runyon of the First Regiment of Newark.

The Concert and Fireworks To-night.

The exhibition of fireworks at the Crescent League ball grounds, to be given under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias this evening, promise to be the finest ever displayed in this section of the State.

People who are anticipating to see only some of the aerial display will miss much if they fail to see the set pieces, which can be seen only on the grounds.

The grounds will be beautifully lighted with electric lights; and the 7th Regiment band will give an exceptionally fine concert.

Robbed the Money Drawer.

While Mrs. Michael Watson, of 233 South Second street, was down in the store, the other day, the house was entered by some one evidently familiar with the inside of the house, and the sum of $.2 was taken. The door had been locked, but was forced open.

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR.

Mr. Craig, Representing England, Blackens Mr. Sullivan's Eye; But Ireland Is Reinforced by Dunphy Mrs. Sullivan Armed With a Fence Picket, and England Is Unanimously Defeated.

Quite a lively time occurred at the Pond Machine Tool Works yesterday. It is understood that about two years ago a young man named Craig came to this city from Boston and found work as a helper at the Pond Works and engaged part of the house on West Second street occupied by a family named Sullivan, Irish-Americans. Craig being English, the families did not agree, so he moved to Liberty street, since which time there has been a dispute about money affairs between them; in fact, quite a feud. There had been no overt act committed up to Saturday, each party being satisfied in talking across the fence as the other would pass. On Saturday the male members met in front of the Potter Press Works, and in the collision Sullivan received a black eye, but was getting the best of the fight when Craig was assisted by two colored men, who parted the fighters. During yesterday morning some of their kind friends got the matter in shape to have them meet at the noon hour; but, alas for their well-laid plans, Sullivan skipped for home by the back streets, and Craig returned to the shop and to his dinner pail without having satisfied his appetite for gore. While eating his dinner and recounting to his admiring friends what he (Craig) would have done, he was suddenly interrupted by a terrific blow on his shoulder, followed quickly by another. Glancing quickly around, he beheld Mrs. Sullivan, armed with an uplifted picket torn from some fence, and ready to strike the third blow. Craig, it is needless to say, did not wait, but, remembering the old and true adage, "Discretion is the better part of valor", took to his heels for the upper end of the shop with Mrs. Sullivan in full chase. They held close positions until the street was gained, when Craig got far enough in advance to climb through the shop window and was safe, although as his No. 13 boots went through one could hear the thump of the picket on the window still. The third blow given by Mrs. Sullivan struck the boring mill run by Henry Corless. Had Craig received it, he would doubtless have been seriously disabled. All now are asking "What will the harvest be?"

LATHE HAND.

A Perfect Portable Burglar Alarm.

The "Guardian" burglar alarm, which is now being offered to the Plainfield people by a most unusually courteous and persuasive sales agent, fills "a long felt want" indeed. It can be carried in the pocket, and instantly demonstrates its efficiency and usefulness. It is an absolute protection against burglars, and as a means of safety is indispensable to all.

It is simply an ordinary clock alarm enclosed in a wedge-shaped case, and is applicable to any door or window. When set for use it is impossible to effect an entrance, and an attempt to do so is certain to push down the lever, thus starting the interior works, which cause the alarm gong to rattle vigorously, and awaken the inmates of the room and frighten away the burglar.

For purposes of ventilation the doors can be left open as many inches as desired, and the window sashes can be let down from top or up from bottom any distance needed. Any further attempt to open door or to move sashes causes the alarm to be sounded.

A Pleasant Surprise to Judge Ulrich.

At the banquet to-day, in which was included Major-General Carnahan, General Ward, General Drake, and other celebreties, a surprise was tendered to Grand Chancellor Ulrich, who was an unsuspecting invited guest at the table. At the conclusion of the banquet Col. Wilson of Long Branch, an aide on the Major-General's staff, arose and in happy words portrayed successes of men who reached the Presidency from the tow-path, but seldom, he said, did a fisherman reach the office of Grand Chancellor. While on this strain, he drew from his pocket an elegant scarf pin, on which a fish was suspended, and pinned it upon the scarf of the Grand Chancellor amidst great applause. Ex-Judge Ulrich then responded and alluded to how it was that he became a fisherman and why he was so recognized by the Long Branch brethren. The presentation was a surprise to him, but terminated most happily.

WANTED—Smart boy, about 18, with some experience in grocery store. Apply to Baker & Mead, Fanwood, N. J. 9 15 2

LAST CHANCE—160 lots sold in the past 14 days at Netherwood station, all to Plainfield people and home-seekers. 50 two-story houses will be built before Spring, and I believe 100 within one year. Now I will give you the only and last opportunity to secure a home or invest a dollar where you can make $5. On Saturday, Sept. 19, I will offer the Mahlon Vail tract, which we purchased a few weeks ago and comprises 264 lots, located on Netherwood avenue, North avenue, Watson avenue, Leland avenue. All the property is opposite and adjoins the Netherwood depot. No such chance will ever again be offered to Plainfield people to buy lots as low as $100 to $150, and at such easy terms of $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. This is the finest property and the cheapest in Plainfield. Now rent-payers prove your ambition and own your home, like the thousands around you, or invest your savings and make some profit from land, which is the basis of wealth. For example—Want can you get in the bank a year for $100? Only $4 00 10 years $40. Why the very lots we offer you for $100 will make you more money in one year than you can get from savings banks in 10 years. Bear this in mind. This is your last opportunity. The sale commences Saturday, Sept 19. Go and see it. Carriages at the office to show you. Maps and circulars ready on Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

GRAND DISPLAY OF FALL DRESS GOODS

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,

20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

A LEADER IN HIS CALLING.

George W. Rockfellow, the Busiest Business Man in Town.

A neat souvenir pamphlet was issued by the Plainfield grocers' association on the occasion of their recent excursion to Boynton Beach. Among the other interesting features of the contents was a portrait of George Washington Rockfellow, the popular president of the State grocers' association, together with a biographical sketch of that most modest and most successful tradesman. The sketch was the contribution of THE PRESS, which, when asked to fill out a page, could find no more appropriate subject, or more pleasant topic to write about, than the career of the successful merchant who had founded the association under whose auspices the excursion was being given. The sketch is republished here, so that all may know more about the man for whom everybody on the street has a cordial smile:

In all the grocery business of the State of New Jersey there is no more energetic and successful hustler than George W. Rockfellow, whose portrait is given herewith.

Mr. Rockfellow is heart and soul a Jerseyman. He was born at Bound Brook, January 1, 1846, and has spent almost his entire life in the State. His father was Andrew Rockfellow, who, in his day, was one of Bound Brook's best citizens.

After completing his schooling, Mr. Rockfellow applied himself diligently to a mercantile life, and speedily built up for himself a prosperous business in the grocery line. For twenty years he has been a grocer, all of that time in Plainfield; and his establishment, which during that entire period has been at the old stand, corner of North and Park avenues, has become one of the most permanent and prominent features of the business streets of the town.

Chief among the things dear to Mr. Rockfellow's heart is the elevation of trade, and to his untiring zeal and forceful energy the grocers of Plainfield and of New Jersey owe many of the best achievements for their welfare. He was one of the foremost in founding the local Protective Association for Merchants in Plainfield, and his labors for that organization and for its members were so fully appreciated that he was unanimously chosen its first president, was forced to serve a second term, and would have been re-elected again last year had he not positively declined. In the work of the State Association he developed so much characteristic activity that at the convention in Burlington last year he was chosen president of that, and right well has he filled that office.

Though Mr. Rockfellow's private life has been one of ceaseless labor, he has, nevertheless, been compelled to accept some of the honors of public office that such men as he richly deserve. As Mayor of the city of Plainfield, during the term of 1884-85, he administered municipal affairs with a wise and judicious hand, and as President of the Plainfield Board of Health he looks after sanitary matters with a keen and vigilant eye. Overwhelmed with business cares though he is, he never permits secular matters to encroach on religious affairs. He is a trustee and Sunday-school officer of the Congregational church, and he carries into every-day life a conscientiousness and integrity that have helped materially to make him what he is—one of the most respected and honored men in the trade. He is genial, big-hearted, popular, and a leader in his calling.

FORTY YEARS A PREACHER.

The Rev. Dr. Rankin Celebrates the Oldest Pastorate in New Jersey.

The Rev. Dr. John C. Rankin, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Basking Ridge, and father of Mayor Rankin of Elizabeth, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his pastorate over that congregation, Sunday.

The services were very largely attended. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Liggett of Rahway, whose discourse was on the relations between pastor and people. The choir sang a number of hymns selected especially for the occasion.

In the evening a union service was held in honor of the anniversary, the other churches at Basking Ridge and also the Presbyterian churches at Liberty Corner and Sterling omitting their services in order that their people might attend Dr. Rankin's church.

The Rev. Dr. Rankin was a missionary to India before taking the pastorate at Basking Ridge, and during his stay in the distant East his son, who is now mayor, was born. When Dr. Rankin took up his work at Basking Ridge the future mayor was but a little over four years old.

During all his ministry there have been no differences between pastor and people. His pastorate has been one of peace, and of good will without interruption. His is now the oldest pastorate in the State of New Jersey, that of the Rev. Dr. Kempshall being second, and that of the Rev. Dr. Liggett third.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

BUILD THAT JAIL AT ONCE.

It Is Greatly Needed to Confine Such Rowdies as These.

Last Sunday night a number of Dunellen rowdies broke loose, caused as much damage as they could, in a quiet way, and then proceeded to wind up in a more daring manner.

On Front street they tore down several panels of fence belonging to William Gaddis, and next began on the fence opposite Taylor's Hotel, where they demolished over fifty feet of fence belonging to Robert Lowrie. Other places in the town also show evidence of their having been around.

They next proceeded to the Park Hotel, where they threw five cobble stones through the front window of the bar room, breaking the large glass in several pieces, besides frightening the family almost into hysterics.

Mr. Maier, the proprietor, said this morning that he could not account for this ill-treatment, as he had no enemies in the place that he knew of, unless it was some one he had refused liquor to.

This occurrence only goes to show that these loafers are taking advantage of the present feeble state of justice in Dunellen, and sooner or later, the town may experience nothing short of a riot, unless the citizens take hold and do something to prevent it. THE PRESS has for some time been advocating a jail, and if the citizens will only step up and do their share towards it the burden will be light for all. A list is now awaiting the subscriptions of those who have not already subscribed. Do n't delay so important a work.

What's In a Name?

Everything, when that name is "The Great Inter-State Fair of Trenton, N. J.", and all that the title implies. It is "great" in the size and beauty of its grounds—the two exhibition halls, 160 by 80 feet; the agricultural hall, with its 30,000 square feet of flooring; the superb track, and elegant grand stand, capable of seating over 3,500 spectators; the immense range of its stalls, boxes and stabling, for all classes of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry—with ample accommodation for over 1,500 animals; and even with all this space the demand far exceeds the supply.

The title Inter-State is a happy one, for the association in its scope and reach extends from New England to Western Ohio, and from northern New York to Delaware.

True as this is of the past, the coming show, Sept. 28 to Oct. 2, promises to eclipse all former triumphs, and to be what the organizing secretary says about it, greater, grander, better than ever.

Insulted the Girl Who Waited on Him.

Monday evening about 7 o'clock John Burk entered the Park Hotel, Dunellen, and ordered beer. The bartender was at supper, and the proprietor's daughter was watching the bar, and, knowing Burk, she proceeded to fill his order without calling anyone.

Burk, however, had been indulging in the oil of joy, and did not appreciate the services of the girl, and ordered her not to draw the beer, at the same time abusing her shamefully. By this time her brother arrived on the scene, and tried to put Burk out, but Burk turned on him, and, being a much larger man, soon would have mastered him. Help arrived, however, and the fellow was ejected. He will be arrested when found.

Plainfield's Delegation Will Be Large.

The New Jersey State Christian Endeavor convention will be held in the First Presbyterian church at Newark, Oct. 23, 24, and 25, the first session beginning Friday evening, and the meetings closing Sunday night.

It is expected it will be the largest gathering of Christian workers ever held in this State. The addresses will be by general secretary J.W. Baer of the United Society, and other well-known speakers and workers. Saturday and Sunday mornings there will be half-past-six prayer meetings.

Saturday, Oct. 24, a reception will be tendered to the delegates by the Essex County Union.

Improvements at the Court House.

The main room in the Union county court house, which has for some time been undergoing thorough repair, is nearly ready for occupancy, all that remains yet to be done being the staining of the benches and doors.

The painters and decorators completed their work on the ceiling and side walls, Saturday, and the high scaffolding was taken down. Yesterday the room was scrubbed and cleaned, and this morning the painters began work on the surrounding wood-work.

The decorations are very handsome, the ceiling and walls being elaborately stenciled in rich colors and gold.

Must Settle for the Damage.

The Dunellen correspondent of THE PRESS has been informed as to who the parties were that caused so much damage, last Sunday night, and threw the stones through the Park Hotel window. One of them lives about a mile above Dunellen, and were it not for his parents, who are greatly respected, THE PRESS would publish his name. The other two are married men, and live about the same distance from town, in another direction. Robert Lowrie proposes to have them prosecuted unless they settle for the damage they have done.

A NEW WAY TO WORK IT.

The Strange Adventure of a Front Street Tiddledy-Winks Party.

A man in a slouch hat and shirt sleeves rushed madly down Front street at a late hour the other night, waving his arms and venting unintelligible cries of anguish. Had there been a policeman in the vicinity his slumber might have been disturbed; but, of course, the man was n't frightened by any such improbability as that. After he had run about half a mile he dashed up on a prominent front-stoop, sat down, and buried his face in his hands. It happened that there were some young people in the house who were sitting up late, playing tiddledy-winks, and they, hearing the uproar outside, appeared at the doorway and sought explanations. The girls were frightened, just a little, and the young men were impressively calm, firm and determined. One of them drew near to the stranger, and, after clearing his throat, happily inquired:

"Well, my man, what can we do for you?"

Then the girls giggled and nudged each other, and the boys sunk their hands in their trousers' pockets and looked oh! so brave. The victim turned a sickly smile to his interrogator, and, in a voice like that of a camel-back locomotive, answered:

"Nothing, sir; nothing. Go away; leave me; let me die in peace."

"You don't propose to die here: do you?"—asked the youth, weakening the least bit as the girls began to feel for their handkerchiefs.

"Yes: I do, young man; I do—right here"—and he wept aloud.

"Oh, do ask him please not to, Charlie"—whispered the poor little hostess, whose papa and mamma had retired and left her with a load of domestic responsibilities.

"Well, would you mind, sir,"—observed Charlie—"would you mind moving on to the next house. The young lady here"—

"I said I was going to die here: did n't I?"—returned the outcast.

"Yes: I believe you did"—admitted Charlie.

"Well, I propose to do it: see?" Then he glared about and swayed his head and rolled his eyes, and continued with a gurgle, "If I have to blow my brains out before your very eyes!"

"Oh, but please don't, sir"—begged the pretty hostess.—"It would muss up our piazza, and—and mamma would n't like it, I know"—and she burst into tears.

"Well, I ain't doing this to please your mamma: am I?"—inquired the windfall.—"This here is a strictly private racket, and I 'm going to see it through without any tips from outsiders."

By this time the whole party were thoroughly scared, but the little hostess, realizing that the enjoyment of her guests depended on her presence of mind, braced up and adopted radical measures. She struck out in the right direction, too.

"I think you boys are just horrid"—said she to Charlie.—"Why do n't you do something instead of standing there like so many helpless idiots?"

Then Charlie said he would see what he could do, and, first making sure that his watch and cigarettes were beyond reach, he strode over to the weeping worthy and touched him confidingly on the shoulder.

"See here, my man,"—he began—"we do n't want to have a scene here; could n't we make it an object to you to move on?"

"Well, you might"—replied the wretch, coming to the point at once.—"How much is it worth to you: eh?"

Charlie was calm now—he had just been paid off at the store, and he felt that he had the game in his hands, and, knowing how girls love heroes, attacked the enemy on the right wing.

"Let me see"—said he, thoughtfully.—"How would ten cents strike you?"

"Ten cents!"—cried the visitor.—"Do you mean to insult me, sir? Ten cents! Oh, what would my poor wife and children say to that!"

"Fifteen cents?"—asked Charlie.

"No no; Heaven forbid!"—returned the sad one, waxing dramatic.

"Twenty-five?"—persisted Charlie.

"Oh, has it come to this"—wailed the wanderer.—"As if I would stoop to accept such a paltry"—

"Now look here"—said Charlie.—You take a quarter and get out in peace and quiet, or you go over that fence in just one minute—now think quick."

"Well, as you feel so strongly about it, and if you won't ask me to make change, I think twenty-five cents would tempt me"—said the weary one, rising, as Charlie handed him a twenty-five cent piece, with a whispered injunction to "get".

Two minutes later, strolling up to a certain Park avenue saloon, the stranger paused for a moment to shake hands with himself and mutter, "Well, it worked that time, anyway."

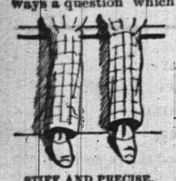
STUDY OF THE FEET.

How Character Is Expressed in Their Attitude.

Crossed with a Purpose—Sitting on His Foot—The Nervous Person—Loose in His Joints—The Daintiest of All.

"What to do with the feet?" is always a question which agitates a self-conscious individual. On this line, says the New York World, the study of feet-poses on the cars is one of interest. An American always has to do something with his pedal extremities. If there is a vacant seat opposite his feet seem drawn to it as if by a magnet. The other positions vary with the ease or consciousness of the possessor, but the cross-leg method is the most popular.



STIFF AND PRECISE.

A pair of new patent leathers seems to necessitate the crossing of the limbs in order that their full beauty may not be lost upon the beholder. They are of necessity obtrusive in this position, besides being obstructive. Next in order is the biped who keeps his legs stiff and crosses his feet in the center of the aisle. Three or four passengers of this description organize a series of hurdles, over which other riders have to cavort before they can find seats, if the latter are obtainable.

A CROSS-LEG POSE.

To the imagination of the man with big feet the gaze of the opposite side of the car appears to be focussed on them. He grows more and more conscious and endeavors to conceal his extremities by folding them back of each other close to the seat, and envies the ladies who can draw the veil of their skirts about them and rest serene. The absent-minded passenger, absorbed in the paper, is apt to squirm around, and, if of a comfortable disposition and not too fat, will sit on one foot, allowing the other to hang down with a sort of pendulum-like motion.

SITTING ON HIS FOOT.

Nervousness affects the pose of the feet to a great extent, and the individual with vibrant nerves will, in all probability, hook one foot back of the calf of the other leg with a tight grip and vary his pose by changing legs. The precise and determined individual is marked by the flat way in which he plants his feet on the floor at right angles to the seat and his legs perpendicular.

A NERVOUS GRIP.

Probably the most peculiar arrangement of the pedal attachments is that indulged in by the loose-jointed passenger. He apparently possesses no stiffening in the ankles, and makes an X with his legs, his feet turned over on the sides and resting on the outside ankle bones. The heavy swell will rarely cross his legs, as it is apt to take the crease out of his trousers and make them baggy at the knee, whereas the easy-going individual will rest one ankle on his knee, with the other knee sticking up in the air like the walking-beam of a sidewheel steamboat.

LOOSE-JOINTED.

Perfectly unconscious, the regular passenger does not worry himself about his extremities and allows his feet to fall into an easy pose, one foot resting easily on the floor and the other about a foot to the rear, while another, trying to assume a perfectly natural attitude, will let his feet take a pigeon-toed position, both awkward and constrained.

PIGEON-TOED.

While the men disport themselves in various attitudes, the ladies are wont to stick to one conservative position, and that is to cross the feet easily, so that one dainty patent-leather or tan shoe-tip will peep out from beneath the skirt, or if the shoe is a Louis Quinze the entire foot will be visible with a delicate environment of hosiery.

Hypnotism and Crime.

"Can a hypnotized person be made to commit crime?" was very emphatically answered in the affirmative by Dr. Voisin, of Paris, in a paper delivered before the British association. He suggested to a subject under his influence to commit acts of incendiarism while hypnotically asleep, and there was obedience in each case. More than that, a woman was recently sentenced in Paris for a succession of acts of robbery. It was ascertained that she had been habitually hypnotized, and upon investigation it was discovered that she had robbed under the suggestion of outside parties.

A POPULAR LEGISLATOR.

Hon. M. D. Harter, Congressman from the Fifteenth Ohio District.

HON. M. D. HARTER.

Michael D. Harter, democratic member of congress, representing the Fifteenth Ohio district, lives at Mansfield, O. He is the grandson of Gen. Robert Moore, who represented western Pennsylvania in congress early in the century, and is the son of the late Isaac Harter, of Canton, O., who founded the well-known banking house of Isaac Harter & Sons. Mr. Harter is forty-five years old and for nearly thirty years has been steadily engaged in banking and manufacturing. Mr. Harter will retire permanently from active business life this fall in order to devote himself to his public duties and his private affairs. The people at large, says an independent journal of recent date, may safely depend on Mr. Harter for intelligent, consistent and courageous action, and also because in these times of greed for wealth he has set a commendable example of moderation in retiring from a very profitable business with a reasonable fortune instead of hanging on until he could be counted among the millionaires of the country.

NEW REVENUE CUTTER.

It Will Be Called the Calumet and Will Protect Chicago's Harbor.

Uncle Sam will supply Chicago harbor with a new steel revenue cutter which, according to the Inter Ocean, will be a model for its kind.

Congress at its last session appropriated $288,000 to build a steel cutter to ply in Chicago harbor and a few days ago Collector John M. Clarke received the plans and specifications for the new craft. It will be labelled "Calumet." The new boat will not be built after the plan of the other cutters which ply on Lake Michigan. It will be built expressly for harbor work and will cost less than one-fourth as much as the Andrew Johnson. It is to be fashioned much like a tug. It will have the screw of a tug and will have the great power of one. The new boat will be built of steel, 94 feet 6 inches long, 20 feet 6 inches wide, and 10 feet 3 inches deep. It will have an ample house on the main deck and a spacious cabin. It will have offices, staterooms and berths for the accommodation of the revenue inspectors and will have a well-equipped armory.

The Calumet will be detailed to carry the revenue officers about the harbor to inspect incoming vessels, and it is expected she will make herself useful in assisting the life-saving stations in their work.

WOMEN FARM LABORERS.

Thousands of Them Raise Vegetables About New York.

The other day in a court-room at Jamaica, L. I., a woman was detained as witness in a petty case. She was a magnificent creature, in a way; of medium height and bulk, but with a splendid poise of muscle and a complexion that yachtmen spend much time and money to acquire. Presently came her turn to be questioned. Part of the conversation was this:

"And your occupation?"

"A farm laborer."

No one in the room seemed to be particularly surprised at this except a city reporter, who had gone out to work up a story about one of the crimes of which Long Island enjoys by no means exclusive possession. There was not the slightest occasion for surprise. Within a mile of the New York man at that very moment probably a hundred women were working in the fields getting in the vegetables for market or for storing. The custom of employing women upon the truck farms near the city has grown of late years almost unnoticed. It has reached the dignity of a new and tolerably well filled profession for the gentler sex, and the demand for their services is still rapidly increasing. At least, so Mr. Garrett Van Dine, of Flushing, one of the best known farmers in Queens county, says.

CORN HUSKING IN THE OPEN AIR.

The Size of Raindrops.

Variations in the size of raindrops are dependent upon the differences in the height from which they have fallen and to the amount of atmospheric disturbance present at the time. If they fall from a great height the drops suffer gradual division into smaller and smaller parts, until they are at last converted into mists. In calm weather, with the clouds near the earth's surface, the drops are apt to be large and heavy.

"WE ARE HAPPY, EH! MY BOY?

We are happy because of our glorious health; for "Health, my boy, is Happiness."

What picture can equal that of a young mother and child in perfect health? and what a rare sight it is.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound possesses those health-giving properties so important to both mother and child. It is the only Legitimate Remedy and Positive Cure for those peculiar weaknesses and ailments incident to women. Every Druggist sells it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00.

THE BATTLE IS ON

First Gun Fired in the New York State Campaign.

FASSETT SPEAKS AT BROOKLYN.

Hon. Roswell P. Flower Talks About Democratic Issues.

He Leaves Saratoga This Morning for Watertown—His Resignation as Congressman Sent to the Secretary of State. Congressman Allen Nominated for Governor by Massachusetts Republicans.

NEW YORK, Sep. 17.— The first gun of the campaign in this State was fired last night by J. Sloat Fassett himself at the Union League club house in Brooklyn.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Mr. Fassett and Mr. Vrooman went to the Union League where they found at least 15,000 persons gathered around the building. The gentlemen were enthusiastically cheered, and when Mr. Fassett stepped on the platform to address the crowd the cheering was renewed and lasted many minutes. When the applause had subsided Mr. Fassett delivered a short speech. Among other things he said:

'Boys, I am glad to see you all, and to salute the men who will do the work of the campaign just opened, and who have the destiny of the great Empire State in their hands. I bring a message of greeting and congratulation from Erie County. Everything is assured there. From Buffalo I have come to Brooklyn and, from an alphabetical standpoint, I have started out well.

"The Democratic Convention in Saratoga has been making it easy for you to win. They have said: 'No man from Kings County need apply.' The Republican party put its arms around a man from Kings County, and the party is going to carry him to victory. Tammany Hall must set its seal of approval upon everything done by the Democratic party of this State. Croker, Murphy, Sheehan—these three, the triumvirate, will not be tolerated. It was a triumvirate that ruined ancient Rome, and we will not let it ruin us. Kings County, just across the river, is a perpetual menace to Tammany Hall, and I do not think you will surrender to it now."

At the conclusion of Mr. Fassett's remarks, Wm. H. Vrooman made a short address. The party then went inside the club house, where they found nearly 2,000 persons assembled. Mr. Fassett's address here was practically the same as delivered outside, with some elaboration.

SARATOGA DESERTED.

Hon. Roswell P. Flower Leaves This Morning for Watertown.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 17.—Saratoga is a deserted village this morning. All the delegates to the Democratic State convention left town before midnight.

Hon. Roswell P. Flower, the candidate for Governor, remained at the Grand Union all night and left for Watertown this morning. Before departing for home Mr. Flower said to a reporter that the plan of campaign was in the hands of the State Committee. "I have my own ideas on the subject, of course," he said, "but I will not discuss them. I will consult with the committee in the arrangement, but nothing will be decided until it holds a meeting. The principal issues of the campaign? Oh, the World's Fair, but wait and you will see."

Mr. Flower intimated that he would not make a personal canvass of the State. He sent to the Secretary of State his resignation as a member of Congress.

The following is the ticket nominated by the convention:

For Governor—Roswell P. Flower.
For Lieutenant-Governor—Wm. F. Sheehan.
For Secretary of State—Frank Rice.
For Comptroller—B. Frank Campbell.
For Attorney-General—Simon W. Rosendale.
For Treasurer—Elliot Danforth.
For State Engineer—Martin Schenck.

The platform was in substance as follows:

The Democratic party of the State of New York renews the pledges of its fidelity to Democratic faith, and as regards National issues, reaffirm the doctrine of the National platform of 1884 and 1888.

We now, as then, steadfastly adhere to principles of sound finance. We are against the coinage of any dollar which is not of the intrinsic value of every other dollar of the United States.

We demand a revision of the various statutes regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors and the enactment of a just, equitable and comprehensive excise law.

We demand an extension of electoral reform with a view to preventing the profuse expenditure of money by candidates and political committees.

We favor a revision of the tax laws whereby personal and corporate property shall be made to bear its full and just burdens.

We heartily endorse the able and statesmanlike administration of Gov. Hill during his seven years as chief executive of the State.

Edward Murphy, jr., was elected chairman of the State Committee, Samuel Beardsly secretary, William B. Kirk treasurer, and C. R. Defreest clerk.

Great Time at Watertown.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 17.—Gongs and whistles were sounded, guns were fired and flags raised here over the nomination of Hon. Roswell P. Flower for Governor. Crowds gathered in the public places and there was a general excitement among all classes throughout the city. Over the Democratic headquarters a banner bearing the name R. P. Flower was hoisted. Arrangements are being made for a reception and a big demonstration on Mr. Flower's arrival home. There is great satisfaction in this city over the nomination.

Suits Brought Against Newspapers.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 17.—The attorney-general has brought suits against the Philadelphia Press, Inquirer, News, German Democrat, North American and Evening Bulletin to recover the sums of money alleged to have been paid as rebates to the persons who procured for them advertisements of the Mercantile Appraiser's lists.

Each Spoonful has done its Perfect Work,

Is the verdict of every woman who has used ROYAL BAKING POWDER. Other baking powders soon deteriorate and lose their strength, owing to the use of inferior ingredients, but

Royal Baking Powder

Is so carefully and accurately compounded from the purest materials that it retains its strength for any length of time, and the last spoonful in the can is as good as the first, which is not true of any other baking powder.

ALLEN FOR GOVERNOR.

The Young Congressman Gets the Massachusetts Nomination.

BOSTON, Sep. 17.—The Hon. Charles H. Allen, of Lowell, received the Republican nomination for Governor on the first ballot in the convention here.

The convention was held in Tremont Temple, which was filled at an early hour. Henry Cabot Lodge was elected permanent president. Mr. Lodge made a speech of great length, covering most of the national and local questions of the day. President Harrison's name and the allusion to protection was received with tumultuous approval, while Mr. Blaine and reciprocity were cheered to the echo.

For Governor the total number of votes cast was 1,231; necessary to a choice 614. Crapo had 513, Allen 713, Hale 1, Lodge 1 and Greenhalge 1. Mr. Knowlton of New Bedford moved that the nomination of Allen be unanimous. The motion was tumultuously carried.

These State officers were nominated by acclamation: William H. Hale of Springfield for Lieutenant-Governor, William M. Olive of Boston for Secretary of the Commonwealth, George A. Marden of Lowell for Treasurer, Albert E. Pillsbury of Boston for Attorney-General, and John W. Kimball of Fitchburg for Auditor.

CRUSHED HIS WIFE'S SKULL.

Brutal Assault by a Drunken Miner, Who Tries to Commit Suicide

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sep. 17.—Daniel Roberts, a miner, residing in Georgetown, committed a most brutal assault upon his wife early in the morning while in a drunken frenzy.

He struck several blows with his fists and the woman fled to the street. He followed her, and when in the roadway he picked up a huge stone and struck her upon the head, crushing her skull. She ran back into the house and fell unconscious upon the floor. Here the brute picked up a baseball bat and dealt her several blows upon the head and body. The woman was in a frightful condition when found by neighbors some time later, and cannot recover.

Roberts was arrested. While on his way to jail he made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide.

TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE.

A Prominent Troy Lawyer Dies in Terrible Agony in a Drug Store.

TROY, N. Y., Sep. 17.—Gerald Riordan, a prominent young lawyer of this city, while on his way to the theatre, last night, accompanied by a young lady, called at a Congress street drug store, and while the clerk was drawing a glass of soda for the young lady, Mr. Riordan went behind the counter to a shelf where he had placed a bottle of wine of cocoa for his own use.

He filled a glass with what he supposed was the wine. In 15 minutes he was dead. He had mistaken a carbolic acid bottle for the one containing his wine and had drunk down a full glass of the poison. He was in terrible agony during the 15 minutes.

AN INDIGNANT GOVERNOR.

Maryland's Executive Protests Against an Audacious Kidnapping Case.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sep. 17.—Gov. Jackson has sent a telegram to the Governor of Pennsylvania informing him of the audacious kidnapping of Albert A. Marshall, of Towson, by A. B. Donaldson and James McFeely, of Pennsylvania, who carried their captive by force into the State of Pennsylvania, where he now is in jail at Hollidaysburg.

The Governor calls attention to this deliberate defiance of law, and says that as a requisition is apparently not the proper remedy, he calls upon Pennsylvania's executive for such relief as he may find it in his power to afford.

Accidental Drowning or Suicide.

LYNN, Conn., Sep. 17.—Miss Anna Coner, aged 20, the daughter of a Chicago merchant, was found drowned here, her empty boat being also found near by. She was to have left for home to-day to prepare for her wedding next month to a prominent young society man of Milwaukee. For the past two or three days she had exhibited symptoms of melancholia. Her friends claim that the drowning was accidental, but there are circumstances pointing to suicide.

Colored Woman For the School Board.

BOSTON, Sep. 17.—The action of the colored women in this city in placing in nomination for the School Board Miss Alice Miller, a young colored woman, is causing much talk. The colored people appointed committees to make a complete house-to-house canvass and bring out as large a woman vote as possible.

NOT HARD PRESSED.

Secretary Foster Denies a Financial Rumor.

THE TREASURY NOT PINCHED.

Less Money on Hand Now than There Has Been for Years.

He Insists that the Nation Has All the Cash Required—The President to Make Important Appointments To-morrow—The Minister to China to be Named this Week—Collector Fassett's Successor.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 17.—Secretary Foster denies the rumor that at a recent meeting of the Cabinet it had been agreed to postpone the payment of money for all public purposes as far as possible, or that unusual expedients had been resorted to to pay the non-extended 4 1-2 per cent. bonds. He added however, that he felt that it would be good policy to restrict disbursing officers to their actual needs.

Four months ago he found over $40,000,000 in the hands of disbursing officers when probably $20,000,000 would have been an ample supply. Less than $8,000,000 is now held by them, and he hopes to reduce this sum to a minimum.

Secretary Foster insists that the Treasury has all the money required to maintain a position of perfect ease without adopting a policy of delay or resorting to any action that is not based on perfectly sound principles, but he admits that there is less money in the Treasury now than there has been for many years.

PROMINENT APPOINTMENTS.

The President will Fill the Vacancies in Office This Week.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 17.—President Harrison will make a number of prominent appointments this week, probably to-morrow. It is understood that he will fill the two vacancies on the Interstate Commerce Commission and the one on the Court of Claims. Col. Glenn, of Atlanta, is the best indorsed applicant from the South to fill the place on the commission to be given that section for a Democrat, and he will likely be one of the appointees.

The other one the President has not agreed upon. He is considering a number of men, and since the West already has one place on the commission, in the person of Col. Morrison, of Illinois, the second vacancy, by resignation of Judge Cooley, of Michigan, may go to the East. The vacancy on the Court of Claims will not, as has been supposed, go to Ohio, unless the present status of affairs is changed.

It will, however, go to that section of the country, to a lawyer well known in an adjoining State, but who has not occupied a public position. The Chinese mission may be filled this week, and a successor to Collector Fassett, of New York, may also be named.

Striking Poles Make Threats.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Sept. 17.—At Orbisonia about 100 Poles, employed in the mines and furnace of the Rock Hill Iron and Coal Company, struck against the company's order reducing wages, and made threats of violence if their demands were not complied with. The company is firm. The furnace fires have been banked and over 500 men are idle.

Arrested for Altering the Books.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sep. 17.—W. F. Slingluff has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Albert Longaker, a director of the Montgomery Trust Company, charging him with altering the books of that company and appropriating $180,000 of its funds to his own use.

Killed in a Colliery.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sep. 17.—John Brovey was instantly killed at the Springfield Colliery during the day. He was firing a shot when a rush of coal occurred, completely covering him and also injuring John Soneski, a fellow-laborer.

Died of Hydrophobia.

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 17.—Charles A. Woodbury died here last evening of hydrophobia. He was bitten by a dog about six weeks ago and taken with symptoms of hydrophobia about a week ago.

Nominated by Philadelphia Republicans.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sep. 17.—The Republican County Convention nominated George D. McGreary for City Treasurer, and William G. Shields for Register of Wills.

A BOLD FORGER ARRESTED.

He Defrauded a Society by Reporting Members Sick.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 17.—Charles Berthold, foreman in the Singer sewing machine factory, and secretary for the German Machinists' Society of New York, has been arrested here, charged by the officers of the society—which pays a sick benefit—of defrauding it of over $1,000.

Berthold's plan was to report a member ill and get a check drawn from the order for the amount alleged to be due at the rate of $9 per week, cash the check and pocket the money. The plan has been working successfully since 1887. Of the seventy members in the Elizabeth branch of the Order he has defrauded thirty-six. His operations were confined to Elizabeth, though the Order has branches in Newark, Brooklyn and Hoboken.

MET A TERRIBLE DEATH.

Two Timbermen Fall 150 Feet While Working in a Colliery.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sep. 17.—Morgan Jones and William Jones, timbermen, in No. 5 colliery of N. & H. Company in Plymouth, were instantly killed at noon by a fall of 150 feet.

They had been working in the slope during the morning, after the works had been shut down for three weeks. The carriage was out of order—an old hoisting rope was being used. Attaching a sling to this by means of a chain they gave the signal to hoist. When up the shaft 150 feet the rope parted and they fell, the bodies being terribly mangled by striking the framework of the old hoisting carriage directly underneath.

Morgan Jones leaves a widow and three children, and William Jones was unmarried.

May Cause a Water Famine.

JERSEY CITY, Sep. 17.—The men on the water works in this city, owing to the neglect of the committee on concurrent resolutions of the Board of Finance to pass the payrolls, have not received their money for several months. They gave notice if they did not get what was due them they would, before the end of the week, stop work. This would mean a water famine for Jersey City.

Two Lives Lost in the Fire.

NEW YORK, Sep. 17.—It now seems likely that two lives were lost in the burning of the old Commercial Advertiser building at Fulton and Nassau streets. John Audelman, aged 62, who had an office in the building is missing, as is also his son, Louis, aged 33.

Child Burned to Death.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 17.—August Hoerline, aged 3 years, was burned to death to-day, and a sister, Tillie, and a year-old baby, were badly burned. The children were left alone at their home while the mother carried their father his dinner.

FACED A PARIS MOB

A Row Over the Presentation of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

POLICE CHARGE ON THE CROWD.

Up to Midnight Nearly One Thousand Persons Were Arrested.

The Rioters Composed of Students, Anarchists and the Rabble of the City—Mounted Cavalry Called Out to Assist the Police—A Strong Guard Around the German Embassy.

PARIS, Sep. 17.—The first performance of Wagner's "Lohengrin," in spite of all opposition, was given last night at the Grand Opera, and passed off with success and eclat.

The Opera House was surrounded by police, and 100 detectives were in the building. Thus effectually protected, the scene was one of great beauty. The boxes were filled with an audience d'elite, richly dressed and sparkling with diamonds. The flutter and excitement added to the brilliancy of the occasion.

The Mob Outside.

Outside in the streets a very different scene was being enacted. Soon after the beginning of the opera the streets were thronged by a motley crew of students, roughs, Anarchists and quasi patriots, singing the Marseillaise, shouting "Vive France!" "A bas Wagner!" and other cries, indicating their disgust with the performance.

The police, when the mob became too noisy, proceeded to clear the thoroughfares. The mob sullenly defied the advancing gendarmes, but did not dare any serious attack. The police, in great force, rushed resolutely on the crowd, and arrested them by the score, urging and pushing them along until the streets were partly cleared.

Again the mob gathered and filled the thoroughfares, and again the police charged, but without making much impression on the dense and defiant throng.

Mounted Cavalry Called Out.

About ten o'clock a body of mounted cavalry joined the police in a determined effort to clear the streets. This effort was more successful than the previous ones, and the mob retired before the powerful onset of the horses and the menacing arms of their riders. The streets were at length freed from the crowd of obstructionists, but not before about one thousand of the mob were prisoners in the hands of the police.

Guarding the German Embassy.

Meantime a strong guard surrounded the German Embassy, but no violence was offered there. A gang of about 200 roughs, however, smashed the windows of the German Cafe Hanovre, representing the sum of destruction done by the mob.

All the prisoners, except a few of the worst, were liberated this morning.

VICTIMS OF THE FLOOD.

Over Three Thousand Persons Drowned at Consuegra, Spain.

MADRID, Sep. 17.—Late reports say that the floods destroyed four stone bridges and twenty mills, besides an enormous number of houses. Wreckage and corpses were carried forty miles. The Mayor of Consuegra puts the fatality there at 3,000. In some places limbs have been found separated from bodies. The officials have telegraphed for lime to prevent an outbreak of disease.

Large numbers of passengers en route to the south are detained here on account of the floods. Passengers coming to this city from Seville, Cadiz, Cordova, Granada, Valencia and Alicante are obliged to journey by way of Barcelona.

A terrible storm which set in near Valencia, at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning had destroyed the rice crop. The rivers Turia and Jucar are rising rapidly and threaten further disaster.

The government has set apart $100,000 for relief measures and has asked the Bank of Spain to grant credits to the governors of the suffering provinces.

The Governor of Jaen telegraphs that the whole commune of Aubeda is submerged and that the damage done is enormous, and that there has been considerable loss of life.

Claims He Has Been Persecuted.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 17.—A. N. Pearson, a leader of the local Law and Order League is being sued by H. L. Taylor, a restaurant keeper of Cornwell for $10,000 for libel. In his complaint Taylor states that Pearson has persecuted him relentlessly; that he has had officers break into his place repeatedly for the purpose of searching the premises for liquors, etc., and that he has prosecuted him again and again for violating the excise law without any foundation for the charge.

On the Alert for Chinamen.

RICHFORD, Vt., Sep. 17.—Chinamen are making great efforts to enter the country at this point, and the customs officials are on the alert. Quite a colony has been at Sutton, Quebec, for two weeks awaiting a favorable opportunity to smuggle themselves into the United States.

The Bodies Recovered.

ELIZABETH, Sep. 17.—The bodies of Harry Fairchild and Walter Dodd, both of Orange, who were drowned on Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock from a pleasure yacht while trying to enter the Kills through the R. & O. bridge, were recovered during the morning.

A Big Railroad Combination.

ST. PAUL, Sep. 17.—Rumors of a gigantic railroad combination are current here. These rumors point to a combination, in one system, of the Great Northern, the Canadian Pacific and the Soo system.

Cream Sponge Cake.

BY MARIA PARLOA.

For two small sheets of cake there will be required three eggs, half a pint of sweet cream, half a pint of sugar, three gills of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Cleveland's Baking Powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and flavor to taste—say half a teaspoonful of lemon or vanilla extract. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth; add the yolks and beat a minute longer, then gradually beat in the sugar. Beat for five minutes after all the sugar has been added; then add the flavor and the cream and beat five minutes longer. Now add the flour, in which the baking powder should first be mixed. Pour the batter into two small well buttered shallow pans and bake for about twenty minutes.

If there be added to the batter one teaspoonful of cinnamon, a salt spoonful each of clove and mace and a teaspoonful of lemon extract, a delicious spiced sponge cake will be the result.—(Copyright, 1891, by Cleveland Baking Powder Co.)

Use only Cleveland's baking powder, the proportions are made for that.

BLACKMAILERS CAUGHT.

A Physician Appeals to the Police After Paying Out $6,000.

NEW YORK, Sep. 17.—The sequel to the proceedings in court recently, when Dr. Benson W. Feldman was ordered to produce Katie Bella Malkahowitz on a writ of habeas corpus, came out in the Tombs Court, when it developed that the physician had been the victim of a blackmail scheme in which he had been robbed of $6,000 inside of eighteen months. He does not deny that he took the girl to a house of ill repute, but says she was perfectly willing to go. It was the custom of her employer, Simon Tilberstein, a cloak manufacturer of 1627 Madison avenue, to instruct his girls to notify him as soon as they made the acquaintance of men of means and he has been blackmailing several victims through this means.

He followed the doctor and demanded $100. He got this money and signed a receipt promising to keep quiet. He did not keep quiet but compelled the doctor to pay hush money to the family of the girl and was also forced into a promise to set up her lover in business.

The girl has been leading a fast life, and lent herself willingly to the blackmail. The doctor had to establish her in luxury to keep her from telling his wife, but the demands on his purse became so frequent that he made a clean breast to her. She forgave him, and detectives who were hired to run down the conspiracy, arrested Tilberstein. The cloakmaker was held in $1,000 to answer. There will be more arrests soon, a lawyer also being in the conspiracy.

SPENT HIS WIFE'S MONEY.

She Now Sues for Divorce on the Ground of Inhuman Treatment.

NEW YORK, Sep. 17.—Robert H. McBride, the Dakota newspaper man, who is the defendant in a suit for divorce at Prarie du Chieu, Wis., is well-known here.

The plaintiff, Nina Linn McBride, is a daughter of the late General Sturges of the regular army, and was left $2,000,000 by her first husband, Col. H. L. Dausman of Milwaukee.

McBride and Mrs. Dausman were married seven years ago, and immediately went to New York. There McBride became a personal friend of Gov. Hill, and during four years residence in New York cut a wide swath, spending his wife's money freely.

She became suspicious of his attentions to a New York woman and put a detective on his track. A separation ensued. The complaint against McBride is alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

SLAVIN'S OFFER TO SULLIVAN.

He is Willing to Meet the Champion for $25,000 a Side.

NEW YORK, Sep. 17.—Frank Slavin has written to the Police Gazette expressing his willingness to meet John L. Sullivan for $25,000 aside, the Police Gazette belt and the championship of the world.

He says he will toss for choice of battle ground, which will be either America or England.

If he receives a favorable reply to this proposition he will forward articles at once, and post any resonable amount to bind a match.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Plain facts. No puffing at Peck's.

—Don't take up your plant till you get some of those choice flower pots at Allen's, 28 West Front street.

—A fresh young butcher boy got a knock in the face on North avenue last night, by a stranger. No arrests.

—The session of the Sunday-school of the First Baptist church will be held next Sunday afternoon at 2:30, instead of in the morning at 9:30, as during the summer.

—Mrs. M. E. Marvin will open her kindergarten school at 9 Plainfield avenue, Thursday, Oct. 1. Classes are now being formed in drawing and painting, and private lesson can be engaged.

—Charles McCarthy of Plainfield avenue wishes to deny the rumor that he was married the other day. He says: "I have lived in Plainfield 35 years, and this is the first time I have been accused of anything."

—Prof. Starr, who is to lecture in the High School this evening, sails for Europe Saturday, Sept. 19; to visit the museums of European countries, and to look after the equipment of his own department in the new University of Chicago.

—A party of fishermen from this city, among whom was ex-Councilman M. M. Dunham, threw their lines in the Passaic, one day recently, and had the good fortune to land a large number of black bass, one of which weighed 2½ pounds.

—Some one reported to sergeant Lynch yesterday that a riot was in progress among the waiters at the City Hotel. Seven policemen rushed there in a body, and found peace reigning. Two colored men had had a little every-day dispute.

—The arrests yesterday included two Plainfield young men, a visitor from Somerville and one from Elizabeth, who were fined various amounts ranging from $4 to $10 each, and two strangers who this morning were still too intoxicated to be tried.

—The members of the 14th Regt., N. J. Vols., are having a reunion at Amboy today. A number of members of the regiment from this city, together with many members of G. A. R. Posts 73 and 109, are in attendance, and doubtless are having a glorious time.

—This is the deceptive way in which the Westfield base-ball team advertises itself in the New Brunswick papers: "The Westfield's are crack players and have defeated both the Crescents, of Plainfield, [!] and the West Ends, of Somerville. In games won with these teams they now stand a tie." [!]

—Messrs. Brokaw & Cain claim that the judgment secured against them by John Peterson, for $194, as told in these columns last Tuesday, is unjust, and they have appealed the case to a higher court. They say that they paid the bill to John Herrmann, who was then a partner of Peterson, whose name was on Peterson's business cards as a partner, and who made contracts with him. They feel that whether or not Herrmann divided the money with his partner is a matter they have nothing to do with.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

At the Trinity Reformed church parsonage, Tuesday evening, took place the marriage of Richard H. Trewin and Miss Minnie M. Rockafellow, both of this city, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiating.

H. Barney, the temperance evangelist, will lecture at Reform Hall this evening. Everybody is welcome. This is probably the only opportunity Plainfield people will ever have of hearing this celebrated speaker.

John K. Clark, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. H. Connett, of West Fourth street, this city, returned to his home at Cazenovia, N. Y., to-day. Mr. Clark is a former well-known resident of Westfield.

The L. F. Stone lectures at the Princeton Theological Seminary next year are to be delivered by Dr. Murray, Dean of Princeton College, and father of Dr. William H. Mrrray and James P. Murray, of this city. His subject will be "Scepticism in Literature."

The many friends of Robert M. Fairbairn, the New York broker whose home was at 11 Second place, this city, will grieve to learn of his death, which occurred at Dansville, N. Y., where he was visiting, yesterday. He was 52 years of age, and was the father of Robert A. Fairbairn.

Williams Gets Three Months in Jail.

Charles Williams, a compositor, who, while drunk in Plainfield, stole from Charles S. Cook a suit of clothes, pleaded guilty at the Union county courts yesterday. He admitted that his weakness for rum had got him into trouble before. He was sentenced to the county jail for three months.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

JUDGMENTS COMING THICK AND FAST.

The Elkwood Proprietor's Creditors Taking Legal Steps to Get Their Money.

J. A. Smith is the latest of the many creditors to secure a judgment against Joe Miller. A constable was given the papers yesterday, but no rigorous proceedings were taken, as Miller promised to pay the claim in installments. The amount is said to be over $200, and is for groceries, canned goods, etc.

It is rumored that C. A. Marsh is the counsel for both sides in the case.

To-day Miller is to pay the balance on an ice bill of $103 due Andrew Wilson. Monday a constable served the warrant in the case. Miller was not in, but someone else paid the constable $20 and promised the rest to-day.

Monday was also the day set for Miller to pay his back rent of $235 or get out; and that same afternoon deputy sheriff Clark arrived from Elizabeth with an execution of $600 or so in the interest of some New York creditor.

Even a small cigar dealer on North avenue has been hung-up by Miller to the amount, it is said, of over a hundred dollars, and he has only been able to collect a few dollars of it.

GORED BY A COW.

Little Anna Burnett Furiously Attacked and Badly Injured.

Four-year-old Anna Burnett, of Washington Valley, went out into her father's farmyard while the cows were being milked, yesterday, and before anyone could prevent it a young cow, attracted by the bright red dress she wore, charged upon her, bellowing and snorting fiercely, knocked her down, trampled upon her, and gored her frightfully. Besides inflicting other wounds, the animal ripped open her cheek, and tore her scalp in many places. Dr. Long of this city was summoned, and the little one is being carefully nursed back to complete recovery.

Found Dead in His Wagon.

Two young women at Somerville were passing along High street, near the public school, yesterday afternoon, when they noticed a man evidently very ill being drawn aimlessly along in his buggy by a horse. They had a young man investigate, and it was found that the man was dead. He was States Fitz Randolph, and had died suddenly of heart failure while driving from his home at Randolphville, near South Plainfield, to the Somerville fair. He was 74 years old.

The remains were given in charge of undertaker Walter G. Runyon, of Dunellen, and were taken to the late residence of the deceased at Randolphville, where funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Ex-Prisoners to Meet at Morristown.

The fourth annual convention of the Northern New Jersey Association of Union Ex-Prisoners of War will be held in the county hall, on Court street, Morristown, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 10 a. m.

All members of the association are earnestly requested to be present and to bring recruits with them. All Union ex-prisoners of war are cordially invited to meet with the association.

The treasurer, S. M. Long, of East Orange, has just been elected president of the national association, and will be at the meeting in his dual official capacity.

By unanimous vote of the association the wives and feminine members of the families of Union ex-prisoners of war now residing in New Jersey are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Will Entertain at Fanwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Edwin Gibbs will entertain a large number of their friends, this evening, with cards and dancing, at the Fanwood club-house. About forty are expected to go from Elizabeth, and for their accommodation a special car will leave Fanwood at about half-past 1 o'clock, for which a small additional fare will be charged.

Now that the ball room has been added to the Fanwood club-house, it is a fine place to give a private entertainment, and those who are to enjoy Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs's hospitality anticipate a very pleasant time.

Lost by Their Own Errors.

The Westfield ball nine, with that "busted phenom" O'Neil in the pitcher's box, went to New Brunswick yesterday and played Harkins's team. Francis pitched for the New Brunswicks, as Harkins is saving himself for Saturday in this city.

Up to the sixth inning the New Brunswicks were shut out, and the Westfields had scored four runs. But the former made four in the ninth through the errors of Lever, McLaughlin and Howe, who each muffed easy flies. The score by innings was:

New Brunswick	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	4	—7
Westfield	0	1	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	—4

Two Elm Place Houses Robbed.

Burglars entered two houses on Elm place at an early hour this morning. At Thomas Meaney's, No. 14, they got $2.40 in money, a gold cross, and a ring. At A. V. Searing's, No. 12, they secured $15 in cash, a gold watch and chain.

The thieves obtained entrance by cutting out screens in cellar windows.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—E. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

END OF THE KNIGHTS' FESTIVITIES.

After a Day of Rarest Pleasure, They All Go Home.

The Pythian field-day celebration came to an end last night, when the fireworks exhibition and band concert were given on the Crescent League grounds. Fully four thousand people attended, and besides every seat being occupied the field was crowded with a dense throng.

The music by Winckler's Seventh Regiment Band was of very fine order, delicately, sweetly, harmoniously rendered; but no one could hear it more than fifteen feet away, because of the noise and confusion. What fireworks there were, were very pretty; but in magnitude the exhibition was very disappointing. More than one of the spectators was of the opinion that if the Knights really paid $1,000 for the show they were wofully cheated.

The competitive drills in the afternoon resulted in the awarding of prizes as follows: First prize, $50—Ortygia Division, No. 10, of Phillipsburg, Capt. Mitchell Reese in command. Second prize, $30—Unity Division, No. 3, of Elizabeth, Capt. John Farewell in command. Third prize, —Black Prince Division, No. 4, of Newark, Capt. C. M. Stimis in command.

The streets had been gay in the daytime with flags and bunting, but at night they were even gayer, with lighted Japanese lanterns, red fires and other bright-colored illuminations. The Knights in their gorgeous uniforms, and the bands and drum corps, had possession of the city, and were followed everywhere by admiring crowds.

Drake's band, from Elizabeth, "the finest in the State", was the favorite of the day, and the fife and drum corps of G. VanHouten Post, No. 3, G. A. R., from Jersey City, ranked next in popularity. The "chime", flute-like, alto tones of their fifes were very pleasing.

The Knights are unanimous in saying that it was the finest time they ever had.

He Lost His All.

THE PRESS is requested to assist a worthy object of charity by publishing the following:

"On Monday, Aug. 24, the store and dwelling house, with nearly all their contents belonging to Solomon Fulmer, at Point Pleasant, Pa., were washed away by a flood in Geddes' Run Creek, changing the circumstances of Mr. Fulmer in less than one hour from that of a prosperous country storekeeper to a man with no home and scarcely a change of clothing, having saved but very little out of the buildings. Mr. Fulmer was insured against fire, but not against storm, and consequently can get nothing. His loss is estimated to be about $8,000. His friends and neighbors promise to help him towards making up his loss by donations. Any person not being called on, and wishing to contribute something, can send the same to Dr. A. M. Cooper, at Point Pleasant, Pa."

Fish Protection.

It became necessary, last Tuesday, to make repairs to the mill machinery of Mr. Otto at New Market, and in consequence the waters of the lake were drawn off for a few hours. As that body of water is well stocked with game fish, the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society promptly took action and caused screens to be placed in front of the waste gates, which kept the fish in the water from escaping. The society also engaged private detectives to watch the water and to see that no violation of the fish laws took place until the water gates were again closed and the lake filled, for which they have the thanks of all true disciples of Isaak Walton, and the citizens of New Market generally. The work of putting in the screens was done under the supervision of fish warden Force and E. P. Thorn.

Frightened a Would-be Thief.

On the 4:30 train going to Dunellen, last evening, a lady startled the rest of the passengers by grasping the arm of a man and accusing him of taking her pocketbook. He was so much surprised that he dropped it at his feet. Some of the passengers saw him drop it and he felt so cheap that he got off at Grant avenue and concluded to wait for the next train.

Hires's Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25-cent package makes five gallons.

Pushing the People's Party.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sep. 17.—The State convention of the new People's party, called by the committee appointed at the Cincinnati National convention, opened for the purpose of forming a State organization, 200 delegates being present. Reports were presented from various organizations throughout the State purporting to show that the People's party was making great progress and that numerous organizations were daily formed in different counties.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to License Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibite the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors", Approved February 22, 1875, Readopted March 8, 1875, not withstanding the objections of the mayor. Amended by ordinance approved June 3, 1879; December 7, 1881, December 19, 1882, January 20, 1883, November 10, 1884, December 31, 1887, February 7, and two ordinances approved February 5, 1889.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That no person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall suffer or permit in his or her bar room, or room in which spirituous or fermented liquors are customarily sold, or in any room in the same building wherein spirituous or fermented liquors are dispensed or drunk, any musical performance of any kind, vocal or instrumental or both, or any mechanical music, or any acting, dancing, juggling, sleight of hand, boxing, wrestling, or any similar performance, show or exhibition.

Section 2. Every person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, to sell spirituous or fermented liquors shall so arrange the doors, windows and partitions of his or her bar room or saloon, that a full and unobstructed view of the interior thereof, including the bar, may be had from the street through the doors or windows or both, between the hours of 12 p. m. each and every Saturday and 6 a. m. the following Monday. And no window, blind, screen, partition, curtain or other article shall be so left or placed as to prevent between the hours named the full and unobstructed view from the street of the interior of any saloon or bar room licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment.

Section 3. No person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall at any time sell or dispense spirituous or fermented liquors from any bar that cannot, between the hours named in Section 2, be plainly seen from the street.

Section 4. A violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding sixty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Adopted by the Common Council September 14, 1891.

Approved by the Mayor September 15, 1891.
A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. B. Coward, City Clerk.
Fees—$5.40.

AN ORDINANCE

Concerning the use and repairs of streets.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by the Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That in case the surface of any of the streets or sidewalks of said city shall have been disturbed or shall be disturbed by any person or persons or corporation, it shall be the duty of such person or persons or corporation respectively within ten days after such disturbance, or in case the same shall have already been made before the date on which this ordinance shall go into effect, then within ten days from the date last referred to, to cause said streets or sidewalks to be put as nearly as practicable in as good condition as the same were in before being disturbed as aforesaid, so that the same shall be hard, smooth and even on the surface and of the same grade and level as before said disturbance was begun.

And it shall further be the duty of any such person or persons or corporation in case any such disturbance as aforesaid or any work done in connection therewith by such person or persons or corporation has caused or shall at any time or times cause any depression or elevation in any street or sidewalk so disturbed, to remedy said defect within ten days after being notified by the street commissioner in writing so to do.

Any person or persons who, or any corporation which shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each and every offence.

Adopted by the Common Council September 14, 1891.

Approved by the Mayor September 15, 1891.
A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. B. Coward, City Clerk.
Fees—$3.60.

TO RENT—Second-story room, with board; also table board. 70 Park avenue. 9 15 4t

$100 The greatest offer yet; something worth knowing; rent payers read: Are you not tired of paying rent to the landlords? Are you going to be a slave forever? Why not make a start now? Listen and consider, we will offer for the first time on Saturday, Sept. 19, that elegant and desirable tract of 264 lots opposite Netherwood station, fronting on North avenue and Netherwood avenue. All the property is restricted to two-story houses to cost not less than $1,500; and our prices are half less than anything you can buy in the immediate vicinity. See for yourself. Only $100, $150 and $175. Terms—$10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. If you persist in paying rent without such an opportunity to start the foundation to a home, you should be driven out of the city. When your lot is all paid for you can secure a loan anywhere to build you a comfortable home. Now wake up! Come and see the property, Saturday, Sept. 19. Remember the terms, $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. Maps and circulars ready on Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue, N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

LAST CHANCE—160 lots sold in the past 14 days at Netherwood station, all to Plainfield people and home-seekers. 50 two-story houses will be built before Spring, and I believe 100 within one year. Now I will give you the only and last opportunity to secure a home or invest a dollar where you can make $5. On Saturday, Sept. 19, I will offer the Mahlon Vail tract, which we purchased a few weeks ago and comprises 264 lots, located on Netherwood avenue, North avenue, Watson avenue, Leland avenue. All the property is opposite and adjoins the Netherwood depot. No such chance will ever again be offered to Plainfield people to buy lots as low as $100 to $150, and at such easy terms of $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. This is the finest property and the cheapest in Plainfield. Now rent-payers prove your ambition and own your home, like the thousands around you, or invest your savings and make some profit from land, which is the basis of wealth. For example—What can you get in the bank a year for $100? Only $4 00 10 years $40. Why the very lots we offer you for $100 will make you more money in one year than you can get from savings banks in 10 years. Bear this in mind. This is your last opportunity. The sale commences Saturday, Sept 19. Go and see it. Carriages at the office to show you. Maps and circulars ready on Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. GRAND DISPLAY OF

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,
20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

[For THE PRESS.]

Told in many a poet's story
How, to win a lady fair,
Knights of old fought bouts of glory,
Maiden's favors just to wear.

Changed the scene. In grand procession
See our modern Knights arrayed,
Though true love is their profession,
'Tis not love 'twixt youth and maid.

Goodwill, friendship—these their fetters,
Welcome with hilarity—
Twined in words of golden letters,
Best of all is charity.

Knights of Pythias, strong and able,
Help the helpless, aid the poor!
Grip your hands around the table,
One in purpose—evermore!

E. LA TOUCHE HANCOCK.

Somerville's Sad Story.

[From The Harkintown Messenger.]

All was done that man can do,
And that was done in vain.

Yes; 'tis true. All was in vain. The West Ends won the game in the first inning and lost it in the ninth. An error by Carbonell allowed the Crescents to tie the score in the sixth inning, and on some very clean hitting they pulled the game out of the fire.

When Charley Hammill, frail and slender, with his arms done up in red flannel shirt and his knickerbockers sagging loosely around his knees steps into the box against the West Ends, those who have money to wager in small sums, just for the fun of the thing, should hustle around among their friends at once and take odds on Plainfield. Whether it is the white flannel or the knickerbockers waving gracefully in the breeze or Long Charley Hammill's eccentric motions in the box that frightens Somerville, no one knows. There is certainly something weird and uncanny about his person, for he pitches the ball straight over the plate all the time, and although the West Ends hit it, they generally tap it so gently and so easily to the infield or to the waiting outfielders that it is a matter of merely the slightest difficulty to put them out. Saturday was no exception to the old story. Hammill wave his hands above his head, then his arms, and sometimes tried to get his feet at the same elevation. At some time during these gymnastic feats he managed to let the ball go, and the frightened batter shook his bat at it timidly, and that was all.

In the meantime, another pitcher by the name of John Harkins was going through an uncommon lot of gyrations, but sending the ball over the plate with twice the speed that Hammill put on it. With Harkins and Hammill both in operation the same day, the students of Delsarte ought to go to the base-ball game and learn how to be graceful while hard at work. The main difference between Harkins and Hammill was that the former was not in his usual form, or, to mutilate an old expression, he went to the well once to often.

But it is only fair to say that Manager Mack and his team are being followed by the worst kind of luck. On his team there are some good players, but, as ill-fortune would have it, there is always something wrong, and it needs considerable courage on his part to keep a stiff upper lip. Saturday's contest was somewhat in doubt until the last inning, as up to that time but two runs had been scored by both sides, and everybody was expecting the home team to light onto Hammill. On several occasions the West Ends had a good chance to score, but brilliant fielding stopped them. In the aggregate there were enough hits made by the West Ends to score some runs, but Hammill kept their hits so far apart that tallying was not in the order of things. Hammill was supported in magnificent style, and it was the excellent fielding as much as anything else that prevented the run-getting. The entire Crescent team were out to play ball, and they did it, much to the misfortune of Jack Farrell and his men But to the game.

The West Ends began the run-getting in the first inning; they also stopped right there. Carby struck out, and walked to the bench kicking himself. (And right here let me say that the little fellow did n't play his game, for some reason. He had not only a mote in his eye, but also his fingers were covered with butter.) Farrell hit for a base. Moorehead flied out to Jones. Harkins connected with the ball, and it went into centre safely. Jones made a poor throw to catch Jack at third. The ball hit him while running, bounded to one side, and Farrell scored the first and only run.

For five innings the Crescents' scoreboard showed nothing but round horse collars, but in the sixth, with Tierney on second, McIndoe drove the leather into centre, and as Carby let it slip through his hands Tierney crossed the rubber. The score remained a tie until the ninth had come and gone for the West Ends. Then it was, with McIndoe at the bat, Harkins gave him a ball that the smallest boy on the bleachers could see did not have the least curve on it. Mac met it squarely; it sailed over the fence for two bases, and the hopes of the West End rooters fell below the zero point. Then Hammill sacrificed. Mac stood 90 feet nearer the rubber, and the stillness was oppressive. Holly, whom we always call "Big Stuff" (but will do so no longer), now hit the ball. Would it go safe? It did. Hammill started for home.

I closed up the score-book, disgusted for the first time this season. The Plainfield mob rushed over the field, delirious with joy, and the agony was over. Not content with beating us on our own grounds, the Plainfield men, crazy with delight (and I never appreciated this expression to its fullest extent until then), must "rub it in". They sent a man to Raritan, hired a band, gathered their cohorts around them, and paraded up and down the main street of our little village for hours, stopping in front of the clubhouse and making the night hideous with catcalls and howls of derision. They finally left Somerville, going to their own town, where, if rumor is correct, their bacchanalian festivities were kept up until a very late hour.

FRIENDS WHO WERE FOES.

They Are Soon to Meet After a Long Separation.

Unless the fates will it otherwise, there will be an interesting meeting next December between United States Senator Edward Z. White, of Louisiana, and Gen. Wm. H. Sterling, of this city.

A warm friendship sprang up, under peculiar circumstances, between these two men during the war, but they have not seen each other for twenty-six years.

The story of their acquaintance and how it came to be interrupted was told to a reporter yesterday by Judge Thomas S. Henry, of Newark.

"My wife and I went to New Orleans last February to attend the carnival"—Judge Henry said.—"I had letters of introduction to a number of prominent gentlemen, and among them was Senator White, who had been a Supreme Court Justice in Louisiana. I took quite a liking to the Senator, and we had numerous conversations. One day he was talking of Jerseymen whom he had met, and he spoke of the kindness extended to him by one of them during the war. Senator White was an officer in the Southern army, and was captured while fighting in the northern part of Alabama. He was sent under guard to his native city, New Orleans, then in charge of the Federal troops commanded by Gen. Ben. Butler. While there he was accosted by a fierce-looking Federal officer. The two chatted a while. Next day the officer sought him out, and finally a warm intimacy sprang up between them. Through the influence of this officer, Senator White, who was then a major, I believe, was allowed many privileges, and ultimately he was allowed to spend the greater part of every day with his family. Of course he was exceedingly grateful for the exertions made in his behalf, and he was sorry for his inability to prove how much he appreciated the disinterested kindness of his Northern friend.

"After the war was over they corresponded for some time, but in changing his residence Senator White lost his friend's address. Strange though it may seem, he forgot this friend's name. He was puzzled himself to understand this, in view of the circumstances under which they had become acquainted, and because of the fact that the Senator has an unusually good memory for names. So it was, however.

"Senator White was very much grieved over this lapse of memory. He made inquiry everywhere that he could think of, but could find nothing to give him a clue to the name of the man who had befriended him at a time when friendship counted for something.

"He searched the army records, but did not see any name that he recognized as being the one he was looking for, and then he concluded that it was hardly likely that he should ever again see or hear from one whose friendship he was anxious to retain.

"Just after his election as United States Senator he was pleasantly surprised to receive a letter of congratulation from Gen. Sterling, dated Plainfield, N. J. In this letter Gen. Sterling reminded him of their meeting in New Orleans and recalled several incidents connected with that place.

"Senator White wrote a warm reply and told the General how sorry he was for the interruption to their correspondence. The Senator will take his seat next December, and when he comes North for that purpose it is his intention to call upon Gen. Sterling to revive the friendship that began amid such stirring surroundings."

The Trouble Was Spooks.

(From The New Brunswick Times.)

Some of the papers yesterday were imposed on by a report of how the Dunellen mail carrier brought home a happy bride that skipped back to "Pa's house" the first morning, leaving him worried and wondering.

It now turns out that the pair were both between 60 and 70 years old, and that they separated by mutual consent because they differed on the subject of spooks.

HELD FOR MURDER.

An Indignant Mother Kills a Neighbor's Boy With a Cane.

BROOKLYN, Sep. 17.—Little did Mrs. Mary Van Blarcom, of Park avenue, dream, that when she beat Willie Truscom, aged 8, with a rattan cane, that he would die from his injuries, and that she would be incarcerated in a cell on a charge of murder.

Young Truscom had assaulted the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Van Blarcom. The little girl told her mother, who immediately went down stairs to the rooms of the boy's parents and asked his mother if she could see William.

Having received permission, Mrs. Van Blarcom went into the rear room. The boy was lying on a lounge. Mrs. Van Blarcom beat young Truscom severely with a rattan cane, striking him several times upon the head. The boy died half an hour later.

The woman was arrested by the police of the Fourth precinct. She made a statement to Captain McKelvey, in which she acknowledged that she had beaten the boy.

She has been held in Justice Goetting's court to await the action of the Coroner.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Van Blarcum, as it is not though that she meant to hurt the boy, but only wished to teach him to be more careful in the future. She has hitherto borne a good reputation

President Fitzgerald Not Insane.

LINCOLN, Neb, Sep. 17.—Secretary Sutton of the Irish National League of America, is in receipt of private telegrams asking the condition of President Fitzgerald and stating the report is current that he is insane, and that the League convention called for Chicago in October would be postponed. Mr. Sutton emphatically denies both reports. Mr. Fitzgerald is daily gaining strength and the convention will be held on the date appointed.

Baptist Jubilee Convention.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sep. 17.—The Eastern Conference of German Baptist Churches are holding a jubilee convention in this city. Representatives are also present from Western and Southern Conferences to join in celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of German Baptists in this country. Rev. J. E. Grimmell, of Brooklyn, is the moderator.

Trampled by a Vicious Mustang.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 17.—John Jordon's daughter Mary, aged 10 years, was knocked down, bit and kicked by a vicious mustang during the forenoon. The child may die. Its mother bravely drove off the beast by the use of boiling water.

Died From Their Injuries.

CAMDEN, Me., Sep. 17.—The wife and child of Samuel Dyer, who were so severely burned by a fire in their house yesterday, died from their injuries.

Conspired Against His Brother-in-Law.

BOSTON, Sep. 17.—James H Cutter, charged with conspiring against the life of his brother-in-law, L. E. Rowe of Melrose, was held in $2,000 bail for a hearing on September 23.

Willamette University Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sep. 17.—Willamette University burned at Salem, Org., in the morning. All the buildings were totally destroyed.

A Good Guess.

Tommy Fangle—Pa, what does a "still hunt" mean?

Mr. Fangle—Oh, it means the revenue officials in Kentucky or Georgia chasing moonshiners, I guess.—Munsey's Weekly.

A False Report.

Amy—Is it true that your engagement with Mr. Hunker is broken off?

Mabel (holding up her left hand)—No; you can see for yourself that I am still in the ring.—Puck.

PERFECT CONTENT.

How It May Be Acquired by All.

Perfect content does not depend upon money. It is a physical and mental condition arising from good digestion and sound health. If a person eats well and digests and assimilates his food, sleeps soundly and feels strong and vigorous, he is the nearest to content.

That is why you, reader, feel so discontented, miserable. You do not eat and sleep well, you have spring debility, your food troubles you, your head aches or feels dull, you are dizzy, bilious, constipated, nervous, run down and debilitated generally. What you need is good digestion, and you can have it easily if you use the great stomach medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura, which is sure to make you feel like a new person immediately. Druggists sell it $1.00. Purely vegetable and harmless.

How Any One Can Have Good Digestion.

"I had indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation, cold feet and hands, sleepless nights, and was very nervous, I used Dr. Greene's Nervura, and now have no more indigestion or dyspepsia. My nerves are strong, have no more palpitation, no cold feet or hands. I sleep well and get up refreshed. In fact, I feel I am myself again, all due to Dr. Greene's Nervura. I am positive everybody will be benefited by it.

Witness my hand this 2nd day of September, A. D. 1891.

VINCENT W. NASH,
Special Policeman and Collector of Delinquent Taxes,

A Proverb Practically Applied.

Father—It is the early bird that catches the worm.

Johnny—That's so; but it is the little birds that stay at home sleeping in the nest that gets the worm to eat.—Harper's Bazar.

A Good Reason.

"Why don't you come in?" said his wife mockingly from the second-story window as he fumbled in his pocket for his latch key.

"I haven't got openers," he replied sadly.—Jury.

No Oral Credit Given.

Rising Young Orator—I intend to try to learn to speak in italics, as Justin McCarthy says Gladstone does.

Knowing Layman—What you need most is to learn to speak in quotation marks.—Judge.

Forethought.

"Our names are written in pencil in this marriage certificate," said Waldo Higgins, of Boston, to his Chicago bride.

"Yes," she said, "that's a Chicago custom. They are easier to rub out."—Epoch.

AN UNPLEASANT SIGHT.

"Come on, Billy, don't let's look at his nibs. It makes me think of der last time I was sent up."—Life.

Educational.

BOLTS THE NOMINEE

Lieut.-Governor Jones Will Oppose Flower.

STATEMENT OF HIS REASONS.

The People's Interests Sacrificed and the Democratic Party Jeopardized.

Denunciation for the Men Behind the Nominations—The Temporary Defeat of the Party Will Be Harmless Compared With the Effects of Their Control, He Urges—An Open Letter to the Press.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sep. 18.—Lieut.-Governor Jones has furnished the following for the press:

"Being requested by the press to announce my intentions relating to the nominations of the Saratoga Convention I would say that my political action has always been controlled by my sense of duty as a citizen, never recognizing conflicting party obligations.

"Believing, in this instance, that not only have the interests of the people been sacrificed, but the existence of the Democratic party jeopardized, for behind the nominations and in absolute control of the party, are men whose every sentiment of patriotism is subject either to their personal ambition or their selfish greed, and the administration of public affairs is shaped to perpetuate their rule.

"So complete is the power of these men and so dictatorial have they become that members of the party are but serfs so far as political action is concerned.

"Continued subservience but makes the condition too degrading to be quietly borne by American citizens. There is but one way to dislodge usurpers. The temporary defeat of the party will be harmless compared with the effects of their control.

"For the welfare of the State and in the interest of the Democratic party to me my duty appears clear, which is to oppose the election of the nominee of the Saratoga convention to such extent as may be within my power and in such manner as may seem best to accomplish that purpose."

Mr. Jones declines to specify just what action he will take in the matter.

RECEPTION TO MR. FLOWER.

The Democratic Nominee for Governor Given a Welcome to Watertown.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 18.—Hon. Roswell P. Flower arrived here at 8:35 last evening and was greeted by 8,000 citizens who had turned out to welcome him home.

He was met at the railroad station by a brass band and was escorted to his carriage. The crowd unhitched the horses and some of the leading business men of the city drew the carriage to Mr. Flower's residence where ex-Congressman Lansing, of this city, welcomed him in a short congratulatory speech, in which he said the demonstration was not a partisan affair, but was one in which all of Mr. Flower's old neighbors joined, irrespective of politics.

W. D. McKinstry, of the Watertown "Times," welcomed Mr. Flower in behalf of the press.

Mr. Flower then, in a short address, thanked the citizens for their friendly greeting, and expressed his pleasure that their welcome was not extended in a political sense. He spoke of his knowledge of the importance and responsibility of the office of Governor, and said that all the promise he would make, that if elected, which he thought he would be, he would endeavor to advance the welfare of the State.

After the speech Mr. Flower shook hands with the people for fifteen minutes and was then driven to the Union Club, where a number of leading citizens of both parties gave him a reception.

Nominee Campbell Welcomed Home.

BATH, N. Y., Sep. 18.—A large crowd, elaborately decorated business houses, a torchlight procession, fireworks and innumerable bonfires welcomed Frank Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Comptroller, on his arrival from Saratoga last night. He received his friends at his residence on liberty street, and made a brief but cheerful address.

Pleased at Hendricks' Appointment.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 18.—The news of Senator Hendricks' appointment to the office of Collector of the Port of New York was received here with expressions of rejoicing and satisfaction. The opinion of everybody was that an honorable and responsible office had fallen to a worthy and loyal partisan.

Congratulations for Flower.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 16.—A number of letters and telegrams of congratulation have been received during the past twenty-four hours by Roswell P. Flower, the Democratic nominee for Governor, among them one from ex-President Cleveland.

Fassett Addresses Two Meetings.

NEW YORK, Sep. 18.—J. Sloat Fassett, Republican candidate for Governor, addressed two large meetings in this city last evening, one at Hardman Hall, Fifth avenue and 17th street, the other at the Grand Opera House Hall.

Big Hat Failure.

DANBURY, Conn., Sep. 18.—Nichols & Moul, one of the largest and oldest felt hat manufacturing firms in the United States, have assigned. The failure, which is one of the heaviest that has occurred in this city, has created a sensation. The liabilities and assets of the firm will not be known before Monday.

Col. H. Clay King Must Hang.

MEMPHIS, Sep. 16.—Unless the Supreme court shall interfere in his behalf Col. H. Clay King will be hanged here on Nov. 6 for the murder of David H. Poston on March 10 last.

PROTESTANT MARRIAGES BINDING.

The Church of Rome Refuses William Grant an Ecclesiastical Divorce.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 18.—Advices have been received here of a very important decision, delivered in Rome, Aug. 16, in the famous matrimonial controversy which has been in the courts of the Roman Catholic Church for four years.

William Grant of Bridgeport separated from his wife and a divorce was secured in the courts of this State. The couple had been married by a Methodist minister, but, subsequently, Grant joined the Church of Rome, to which his wife belonged. He applied for an ecclesiastical divorce, claiming that a Methodist marriage was not recognized by the Church.

In 1887, after a careful hearing, the board, presided over by the Very Rev. James Hughes, V. G., of this city, declared the marriage valid. Grant appealed to the Archepiscopal tribunal in Boston, and there the Hartford decision was reversed and it was declared no marriage. The question was then appealed finally to Rome, and now the highest authority declares the marriage binding, and the divorce is refused.

The case has attracted much attention in Roman Catholic circles. Grant has been for some years living with a second wife.

DECISION REVERSED.

The Clark Thread Company Comes Out Ahead in a Long Pending Suit.

TRENTON, N. J., Sep. 18.—An important order has just been signed by Judge E. T. Green in the United States Court, which dismisses the big suit brought by the Willimantic Linen Company against the Clark thread works for infringements of patents on the process of winding thread on spools.

The suit has been pending for many years. The late Judge Nixon, on July 30, 1886, rendered an opinion which adjudged the Clarks guilty of infringement and ordered an execution for the amount of $159,035.21. The case was appealed to the United States Supreme Court, where Judge Nixon, for the first time in his judicial career, suffered a reversal. The Supreme Court issued a decree dismissing the bill of the Willimantic Company, and putting the costs, $2,788.70, on them.

BANK PRESIDENTS HEARD.

Legislative Investigation of the Affairs of Pennsylvania's Treasury.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 18.—The Legislative Committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the State Treasurer's office heard testimony from the presidents of three banks that are State depositories, to the effect that no one had ever received any gain or profit by reason of the deposits or had any campaign assessments ever been paid by the banks.

District-Attorney Graham will appear before the committee in Harrisburg to-morrow and bring with him the correspondence between Auditor-General McCamant and ex-City Treasurer Bardsley.

Must Cease Business in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Sep. 18.—The No Interest Building and Loan Company of Nashua, N. H., and the United States Savings Loan and Building Company of St. Paul, Minn., have been notified by the Savings Bank Commissioners to refrain from transacting further business in Massachusetts until the law is complied with and the permission of the board is granted them to resume. The Commissioners claim that these concerns are conducted in violation of the State law.

Crowds at the Burlington Fair.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sep. 18.—Crowds of visitors are in attendance at the Burlington County Fair, and special excursion trains have arrived from the upper part of the State and from Philadelphia. Yesterday was visitors' day, when the invited guests, who are usually prominent politicians of the State, are entertained by the managers of the fair. Gen. E. Burd Grubb, United States Minister to Spain, came and with him a delegation of Camden men.

For a Big Cocking Main.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 18.—Arrangements have been completed for an interstate cocking main, between California and Maryland for $3,000, and $100 each battle. The contracting parties are Anthony Greene of Sacramento, Cal., and A. B. Suit of Suitland, Md., both prominent breeders of game fowl. The main is to be fought in New York or New Jersey on Sept. 7, 1892.

Skipped Out With Borrowed Money.

LYNN, Mass., Sep. 18.—It now transpires that N. E. Wright, who fled the city on Tuesday last, has taken with him a considerable amount of money which he had contrived to borrow from his friends, on the pretence that he intended to use it in his shoe business. Some of the funds he has taken with him belonged to the United Endowment Order.

The Marriage Annulled.

CHICAGO, Sep. 18.—It is just learned that the marriage of F. Lee Rust, son of a wealthy lumberman, to Miss Gertrude Potter, daughter of a wealthy bank president, last June, was late yesterday afternoon annulled by Judge Horton on the ground that Mr. Rust is under age and therefore incapable of contracting a legal marriage.

IS LINGO INNOCENT

A Startling Sworn Statement By a Detective.

HE ACCUSES THE HUSBAND.

Mrs. Miller Claimed to Have Been Murdered in Her Own House.

The Detective Gains an Acquaintance With the Dead Woman's Sister, and, After Paying Considerable Attention to Her, Secures a Confession—The Statement to Be Used for a New Trial.

TRENTON, N. J., Sep. 18.—After as fair and impartial a trial as a highly intelligent court of justice could provide Francis Lingo, a negro, was some time ago convicted of the brutal murder of Mrs. Miller, and is still locked up.

Now it appears that he told the truth when he declared his innocence of the crime.

Henry Campgell, a detective of Philadelphia, has made an affidavit in which he claims to have received a confession that the Miller murder was committed in Mrs. Miller's own home. That was the theory set up by the defense last spring.

The evidence may be taken before Master in Chancery George A. Vroon on an order of the court for presentation to the Supreme Court, in support of the motion for a new trial, which is to be disposed of at the November term.

The trial of Lingo was scarcely over before his counsel renewed their efforts in behalf of the negro. Detective Campbell was employed and his first move was to form the acquaintanceship of Mary Collins' relatives in Philadelphia. That accomplished, he was introduced into John Miller's household, of which Miss Collins was a member.

Since the tragedy Campbell has been much in Miss Collins' company. He has taken her to the theatres and to dances and has had her out carriage riding.

According to Campbell's affidavit, Miss Collins told him the whole story of the murder of her sister. She said that Mrs. Miller reached home that afternoon, went upstairs and was followed by her husband. The two quarrelled about something, and Miss Collins heard her sister cry out: "Oh, oh!" Miss Collins, according to Campbell's affidavit, ran to the stairway and asked:

"What is the matter?"

John Miller answered:

"You keep away, or you'll get some, too."

Sometime afterward Miller came downstairs, completely unnerved, and said:

"I've killed her."

The affidavit goes on to say that Miller and Mary Collins started then to carry the body out for concealment in a haystack back of the barn, but that Miss Collins's heart failed her. She sat at the window watching until dark, when Miller got his brother Henry to assist in carrying the body out. It was dressed and the men started for the haystack, the intention being to let it remain there for a few days.

Outside the house, however, it was decided to take the body into the bush lot in a wagon. The throat was cut at the suggestion of Miller's brother, who, according to the affidavit, said it would then look like a "nigger job."

ENGLAND AFTER HAWAII.

President Harrison Becomes Interested When Notified of the Facts.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 18.—Celso Calser Mareno, a well-known Italian-American residing here and acting as the agent in this country of the National party of Hawaii, corresponding to the Chilian Congressionalists, has just laid before the President a letter that he recently received from a correspondent in Honolulu, asserting, in the most positive terms, that England is now planning to take possession of the kingdom. The writer said that some action on the part of the United States is necessary, that the Queen is favorable to the British interests, and ready to countenance the move when made.

The President was interested by the letter and asked Mr. Mareno to communicate with Secretary Blaine.

Labrador's Sea Harvest.

BOSTON, Sep. 18.—A special from St. John, N. B., says: The bank fishing this year will not wind up well. Several vessels of late have been making poor trips. The shore fishing, on the whole, has been good, and the Labrador fishery the best for many years. Had the populace of Labrador recovered from the epidemic of grip in time to take advantage of the plentitude of fish the catch would have been unprecedented. The sea harvest this year, on the whole, will be very good.

Acquitted of the Charge of Murder.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 18.—Steve Daley, the instructor in gymnastics at Trinity College, who has been on trial for manslaughter for killing John McCarthy, one of a gang of roughs who had created a disturbance in the college grounds, was acquitted last evening. The verdict was received with applause.

HE IS NOW UNDER ARREST.

A Farmer Who Wrote to Superintendent Porter to Mind His Own Affairs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 18.—A. S. Bradley, who owns a farm in Taylor county, on which there is a mortgage, received a blank from the Census Department asking for particulars. He refused to respond, but, instead, sent a letter to Mr. Porter, at Washington, telling him to mind his own affairs.

Bradley's letter was forwarded to the Federal authorities in Iowa, resulting in his arrest. Commissioner Hunter of this city held him in the sum of $200 to await the action of the Federal Grand Jury.

An Insane Juryman.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Sep. 18.—While serving as a juror at the present term of the Atlantic County Court here, John Saunders of Pleasantville, one of the most prominent young business men of this county, suddenly became a raving maniac and was taken to the State Insane Asylum at Trenton yesterday. Saunders had served on several juries and showed no signs of insanity. It is reported that an attempt will be made to set aside the verdict of the juries on which he served, claiming that he was insane at the time when he sat.

Seedman Vick in Financial Trouble.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 18.—The Flour City Bank has levied on the property of the James Vick (seedsmen) corporation on a chattel mortgage for $35,000 held as collateral security. An application for a receiver will immediately be made, and the corporation will be dissolved. The liabilities will amount to between $175,000 and $200,000, and assets will cover more than liabilities. James Vick will continue the business on a smaller scale under his own name.

The New Irish National Party.

NEW YORK, Sep. 18.—The leaders of the new Irish National Federation held a conference here last night to devise means for organizing a new party to map out a plan of action in the Presidential campaign of 1892. Encouraging letters from all parts of the country were read and committees were appointed to consider plans of organization.

A Costly Attempt at Smuggling.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18.—Goods valued at $460 were seized from George H. Buss of Illinois, a passenger on the steamship Habsburg, who said he was bringing them to this country as presents for friends. The goods were confiscated and Mr. Buss was fined another $460 for attempting to bring in goods without paying the duty thereon.

Johnnie Keegan is Still Alive.

BAYONNE, N. J., Sept. 18.—Little Johnnie Keegan, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Keegan on 49th street, who was horribly bitten by James Gillen's bull-dogs on Tuesday, is alive to-day, but is in great pain and by no means out of danger. His right cheek is horribly torn and the eye ball is laid bare.

To Continue the Investigation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 18.—At a meeting of the Committee of Fifty a resolution was adopted authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to draw upon the committee for funds up to $5,000 to continue the investigation of the Keystone Bank fraud until Congress can make an appropriation to reimburse the committee.

TROUBLE IN QUEBEC

The Government Expected to Resign To-Day.

GREAT EXCITEMENT PREVAILS.

It Would Take Very Little to Raise a Serious Conflict.

The French Leaders Very Sore Over the Manner in Which They Have Been Treated By the English Party—A Row Between Lieut.-Governor Angers and Mercier—The Liberals Indignant.

MONTREAL, Sep. 18.—The Province of Quebec is in the midst of one of the most important political crisis that has taken place in many years. So acute is the political situation that a report was received here this morning from Quebec that the Government may resign to-day, in which case a political agitation of the utmost importance will be precipitated.

The crisis is the outcome of a conflict of authority between Lieut.-Gov. Angers, the representative of the crown, and Mr. Mercier, the head of the Quebec government. Mr. Mercier is charged with being implicated in the Baie des Chaleurs scandal, which was recently unearthed at Ottawa, where it was shown that his chief political agent, Pacaud, had swindled the Treasury of Quebec out of $100,000 which was devoted to paying the debts of Mr. Mercier and other ministers.

Lieut.-Gov. Angers thereupon called upon Mr. Mercier for explanations, and insisted upon the appointment of a royal commission consisting of three judges to hold an investigation.

He also transmitted the correspondence that passed between him and the head of the government to the Governor-General; and, contrary to all precedent, this has been laid before the Dominion Parliament and made public.

Publication of the correspondence has created a great sensation. The Liberals are indignant and say that such a proceeding is contrary to all constitutional usage. The French Liberals are highly indignant, as they say that the action is direct attack on the autonomy of the provinces.

The greatest excitement prevails here over the situation, and everyone is waiting anxiously to see what the Quebec government will do. Mr. Mercier, it is understood, will refuse to comply with the demands of the Lieutenant-Governor, and will force the latter to dismiss the Ministry, in which case a direct conflict will arise between the Crown and the representatives of the people.

The conflict may have far-reaching consequences, as the French leaders feel very sore over the manner in which they are being treated by the English party, and it would take very little to raise a serious conflict.

HE FOOLED WITH A GUN.

One Man Killed and Another Wounded By a Connecticut Soldier.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn, Sep. 18.—Last evening a fatal accident occurred here by which Richard Babbington, aged 25, was instantly killed and Wm. Malone, 24, was fatally shot by John Peterson. During the afternoon the members of Company G, Putnam, and Company F, Willimantic, Third Regiment, C. N. G., held a practice shoot in uniform at the range.

Shortly before 5 o'clock John Peterson of Company G picked up a rifle and pointed it at different members of both companies. He was told to put it down but refused, saying it was not loaded. He pointed it at Babbington, a private in his company, and pulled the trigger. A report followed and the next instant Babbington and William Malone of Company E were seen to throw up their hands and fall forward. A number of their companions rushed toward them and picked them up. Babbington was dead, while Malone was gasping.

Malone, it was found, was badly wounded. The bullet, a .48 caliber, had passed through Babbington's heart and out at his back, and struck Malone, who stood ten paces in the rear of him, in the right side, making an ugly wound, which, it is thought, will prove fatal. He also was shot through and through, the bullet being found in a board fence thirty paces to the rear. Both men were very popular

Peterson was immediately placed under arrest and is in the lockup. He claims that he did not know the gun was loaded. The companies desisted from target practice and marched back to Willimantic, bearing the dead and wound man, with muffled drums and reversed arms.

THE RECENT SPANISH FLOODS.

A Renewal of the Storms—The List of Dead Increasing.

MADRID, Sep. 18.—It is estimated by the municipal authorities of Almeira, capital of the province of that name, that 2,000,000 pesastas will be needed to repair the buildings and streets damaged by the floods. Yesterday evening there was a renewal of the storms in the province of Toledo and much damage resulted.

The Infanta Isabella and Don Francis have each contributed 15,000 pesastas to the stricken district.

The number of the dead in the flood is rising rapidly, as fresh investigations are made.

An Railroad Insurance Excise.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sep. 18.—The ordinance providing for the endorsement of the bonds of the Providence and Springfield Railroad was tabled by the Board of Aldermen by a vote of 4 to 3.

Economy of the Attorney-General.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 18.—Attorney-General Miller says his annual report would show a reduction of 25 per cent. in witness fees expenses.

FOUND A NEW INDIAN RACE.

The Chief of the Labrador Expedition is Well Satisfied.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sep. 18.—Prof Lee, chief of the Bowdoin College Labrador expedition, expresses himself as being more than satisfied with the results of the expedition. He had solved the question of the existence and size of the Grand Falls of Labrador, and found a race of Montagnais Indians never before known to white men. Their characteristics were noted and they were measured as to height, breadth and shoulders, height of head, form of nose, nature of ears and distance between the eyes. These measurements will be shown upon charts at the World's Fair, and will demonstrate how this tribe differs from all other Indian races.

Prof. Kee and the other members of the expedition left for Rockland, Me., this morning.

A SETTLEMENT REACHED.

Window Glass Workers and Bosses Agree and Work Will Be Resumed.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 18.—At a conference last evening between the window glass manufacturers and a committee representing the workers, all differences were amicably settled.

The workers withdrew their demand for an advance in wages, and the manufacturers agreed to pay last year's wages.

The fires will be lighted and work begin in the window glass factories at an early date; the exact date, however, will be determined at a meeting of manufacturers to be held within a few days.

To Be Treated For Brain Trouble.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 18.—Commander Augustus G. Kellogg, of the U. S. Navy, lately on duty at League Island Navy Yard, has been removed to St. Elizabeth's asylum for treatment for brain trouble. A board of physicians who had examined his case reported that his condition unfitted him for active service. The present trouble is said to be due to overwork.

Yesterday's issue of THE PRESS contained 20½ columns of live advertising;

Yesterday's issue of the "news" contained 13.

Yesterday's issue of THE PRESS contained 26 cent-a-word advertisements of the people's wants and offers;

Yesterday's issue of the "news" contained 11.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—An elegant line of men's ties, new fall styles, in great variety, may be found at Pope's.

—Another judgment was issued against Joe Miller, yesterday. A. M. Griffen is the creditor and the amount is $200.

—The exempt firemen will meet to-night at 8 o'clock, at their rooms in Coward's building. Important business will be brought up.

—H. Barney, "the redeemed actor" and temperance evangelist, will lecture in the parlors of Reform Hall again this evening. Don't fail to hear him.

—Sheriff Hicks was in Plainfield to-day, attending to matters pertaining to his office. Returning to Elizabeth, he took a batch of prisoners to Trenton.

—A registered postal card was received at the Long Branch post-office a few days ago. It is a curiosity, as few of them are sent through the mail.

—Gazelle Engine company will take action to-night on the invitation of the Somerville fire department to participate in a parade in that town Tuesday, Oct. 6.

—The Bound Brook Democrat, the new weekly, made its first appearance yesterday. It covers the local news very well, and besides gives an excellent assortment of general news and miscellany.

—A jolly party of 30 young men and young women, from Cranford, enjoyed a moonlight ride to Plainfield, on their bicycles, last evening, and partook of cream and cake at Tier's lake garden.

—Fred Belster was driving a horse at a runaway gait on Somerset street last evening when sergeant Lynch arrested him. He was fined $10 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. John Engler and William Brooks were fined $5 each for intoxication.

—The ugliest eye-sores in town are the advertising signs Carey the ex-policeman has nailed to the handsome shade trees around town. They are a disgrace to the city, and ought to be torn down. Other tradesmen now are following Carey's suit and are nailing their signs to the trees.

—In justice to Herman Keller—the North avenue cigar dealer referred to in THE PRESS of yesterday as one of Joe Miller's distressed creditors—it should be said that the news was not obtained from him, and its publication was much to his surprise, as he supposed he had kept the matter a profound secret.

—Miss Mary Soper, of Lodi, Bergen county, has shocked some of the residents by appearing clad in a blouse and short skirt reaching about to the knees, below which trousers are tucked into the tops of a pair of high boots. Her reason for adopting this peculiar garb was explained by herself yesterday by saying that in running around the farm, through the long grass and after the cows, she soon ruined clothing of regulation length.

—The new piano just placed in the new High school assembly room is a beauty. It is an upright, finished in oak to correspond with the prevailing color of the wood-work in the building, and is as elegant in appearance as it is delightful in tone. It was the selection of James T. Pierson, the committee of one appointed by the board to attend to this very delicate bit of detail. The instrument was purchased of Messrs. Vanderbeek & Sattells of Plainfield.—Westfield Leader.

—A Brooklyn man who has been spending the summer in Plainfield was impressed with the number of bicyclists here, and was delighted to see so many young women learning to ride. He commented: "The girl who can skillfully guide a bicycle is just the one who will skillfully guide the destinies of home. She will be able to take an obstreperous youngster by the coat collar and straighten out the little kinks, or bind up the bruised finger, or soothe the aching head. Her tender solicitude and loving-kindness will make a man's life worth living."

—J. T. Vegiard called at the office of THE PRESS last evening and asked for the announcement that he is not responsible for the publication of the articles from the Pond Machine Tool Works signed Lathe Hand. He seems to have been accused of the authorship, and does not wish to rest under any false suspicion. THE PRESS is not in the habit of disclosing the identity of reputable contributors, and cannot satisfy the curiosity of the Pond workmen in their efforts to find out who writes the breezy "Lathe Hand" articles. But to relieve Mr. Vegiard of any unjust annoyance he may be suffering, it is only fair to make this statement.

An Elaborate Medal for New Jersey's Best Marksman.

The new championship medal of the New Jersey State Rifle association consists of a yellow gold bar, from which is suspended the body, surmounted by a gold ribbon. The bar is curved, ornamented and lettered in Jersey Blue enamel, "Members' Championship Medal", and on the ribbon is "1891." The medal must be won three consecutive times before becoming the winner's.

FANWOOD'S SEASON OPENS.

Her "Twenty-Six" are Entertained by Mrs. William Edwin Gibbs.

IN FANWOOD, recently, all the elite were favored by the receiving of a delicate and suggestive missive as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. William Edwin Gibbs beg that Mr. and Mrs. ——— will pass the evening with them at the Fanwood Club-house, on Thursday, September seventeenth.—Dancing and Cards."

It is needless to state that the invitations were universally acknowledged in person, owing particularly to the popularity of the charming Mrs. Gibbs, who is admitted to be the queen of Fanwood's society. The hostess was gracefully assisted in receiving by Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Francis B. Andersen, Miss Stevens and the Misses Pentz. The guests from Fanwood included the Hon. George Kyte and all others entitled to the entree of the select circle of The Twenty-six.

A large number of representatives of Elizabeth society, in which city Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs formerly lived, were in attendance, including, of course, Arthur Pendleton, the Ward McAllister of that city. The club-house was tastefully decorated, and the entire building having been surrended for the occasion there was ample room for the indulgence of those present in both of the pleasures suggested in the note of invitation. The music by an Elizabeth orchestra was perfect, as was also the elaborate supper arranged by a caterer from the same place with a corps of trained waiters.

Mrs. Gibbs was the belle of the evening, and, attired in one of her most bewitching costumes, was surrounded by a host of admirers until the last dance was danced and the last card played. Mr. Gibbs with his customary urbanity added to his fame as the prince of hosts. About one o'clock the guests commenced to depart, those from Elizabeth taking a special car thoughtfully provided for them. Now that that the season has been formally opened, other of the residents are arranging for its continuance in a manner that will prove Fanwood to be a social centre, and invitations to her festivities will be eagerly sought.

BURGLARS AT GRANT AVENUE.

They Break Into the Railway Station, Run Away With $60, and Are Captured.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning policemen Flanagan and Kiely saw three men slip out of the Grant avenue station. They chased after them, and came as far as the North avenue station in hot pursuit. The fellows boarded a coal train, however, and escaped.

The police wired to Elizabeth, and the three fugitives were captured there and held to await the orders of sergeant Lynch.

The agent at Grant avenue reports that cash to the amount of $60 was stolen from the station. He was asleep in the building while the robbery was being perpetrated.

It is thought that the thieves are the ones who have been operating so extensively in Plainfield of late.

The men arrested at Elizabeth gave the names of John A. Matthews, John Kehoe, and James Reith.

Temperance Women Want a Big Parade.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, the beloved president of the society, presided at the anniversary of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, in Vincent chapel, yesterday afternoon. After an earnest prayer by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Mrs. Tomlinson read her annual address, which was as usual filled with graceful and beautiful thoughts. The reports of the different superintendents were read, interspersed with bright and pertinent remarks from the witty members of the union.

It was the expressed wish of many that Plainfield could witness as large a procession of total abstainers as there were men in line in Wednesday's street-parade, and that the experience of all saloon-keepers might be as mournful as that of a certain dispenser of spirituous liquors who was heard to moan out, as he hauled down the decorations from the front of his establishment: "Humph! All this trouble, and I never sold a drink!"

Bowling on the Green.

At a meeting on "the green" of the Duneilen Bowling club, yesterday, the members present were agreeably surprised by the president, Mr. Schepflin, presenting a silver tea caddy to the club, to be bowled for individually on Thursday, Oct. 1.

It was unanimously voted to enter the contest for the Adam cup in which the best teams in the country will take part. Bowling was then indulged in, the result being a victory for the rink led by Mr. Stone, making 21 points as against that led by Mr. Stevens making 18. The latter was handicapped by "The Greenhorn", who, however, gave "The Great American Bowler" a close call.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Andrew M. Vanderbeck is still dangerously ill.

Mrs. Seymour G. Smith is recovering from a serious illness.

Noel Verrier, of East Front street, has gone to New Mexico where he is interested in some mining property.

Ellis Campbell was taken severely ill at the Somerville fair, yesterday, and was unconscious half an hour. He is better to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Garvey, of 26 North avenue, are greatly rejoiced over the arrival of a little boy yesterday morning.

The Plainfield branches of the order of the Grand Army of the Republic have been honored in the selection, by Commander-in-chief John Palmer, and George W. Moore as aide-de-camp.

Herbert T. Ketcham, a prominent New York lawyer, son of Mrs. F. T. Ketcham of East Fifth street, this city, has recently been elected president of The Lincoln, one of the most select and best known of Brooklyn's swell clubs.

The Rev. Mr. Cleaver, of Plainfield, has filled the pulpit of the Reformed church at South Bound Brook, the past two Sundays, and greatly delighted the people by his vigorous and interesting style of preaching. He has taken charge of the Bible class, and there are many applicants for membership.—Bound Brook Democrat.

M. Lippenoff, the Russian student, who has spent most of the summer in Plainfield, expects to enter Pennington Seminary next Monday. On Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, he will lead the W. C. T. U. meeting, at their rooms on West Front street. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to hear this earnest young Christian.

News of the sudden death of Robert M. Fairbairn, of Second place, announced exclusively in THE PRESS of yesterday, was a shock to the hosts who knew and esteemed him. He was fifty-two years old, one of nature's noblemen, and beloved by all. His health had been bad for some years, and in that time he had not been active in Wall street, although still a member of the Stock Exchange since 1864. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services at his late home, 11 Second place, to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock. His death, which was due to heart disease, occurred at Dansville, N. Y., whither he had gone in search of health.

On the Road, the commercial travelers' and hotel guide of England, contains in its September issue two very interesting letters from "parson" S. A. Haines, of Netherwood, one written while on board the steamship City of New York, on a recent trip, the other written at Liverpool. The journal says editorially: "S. A. Haines, popularly known as Parson Haines of New York, who returned home on the 19th of last month after a busy time of it in Europe, has promised when he next visits England to extend his journey to Scotland, and make the acquaintance of some of the leading commercial travelers there, who would like to see in active operation a powerful branch of his temperance league, which is now so influentially potential in America. We need a few more Parson Haineses, infused with like zeal in so good a cause."

At the Congregational church, last evening, took place the wedding of Anthony Corwin LaBoyteaux and Miss Mattie Amerman Powlison. The ceremony was Episcopalian, and the Rev. C. L. Goodrich officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Charles F. Powlison. The wedding march was played by Mrs. B. T. Barnes. The pulpit was adorned with flowers, tastefully arraged; and the newly-decorated interior of the church formed a very pretty setting for a very pretty wedding. The church was filled with friends of bride and groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Powlison, 25 Grandview avenue, where a host of guests greeted the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. LaBoyteaux left on a late train for Washington. On their return from their wedding trip they will reside in North Plainfield.

The Smith-Miller Case Settled by the Parties Themselves.

When THE PRESS intimated yesterday that Mr. Marsh was counsel for both sides in the case of Smith vs. Miller, it meant to say that it was rumored that he had acted in the capacity of peacemaker, and not at all as retained counsel for either side. We learn from the parties that he was counsel for Mr. Smith alone. He conducted the case and obtained judgment for Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith, himself, entirely independent of counsel, saw Mr. Miller and arranged for the payment of the judgment by installments.

Excellent Work by Plainfield Surgeons.

Howard H. Wilson and Patrick McCourt, the two young men who were injured by the premature discharge of the old "one-horn" cannon, July 4, have been discharged, cured, from the Muhlenberg Hospital. So skillfully did the surgeons handle their cases that beyond a few scars McCourt is not mutilated at all, and Wilson lost only two finger-joints. Considering how hopeless the saving of the men's hands seemed, this is admirable work.

Vanished Hope.

[From The Somerville Unionist-Gazette.]

There is yet one more game in the series to be played at Plainfield, but there is small chance of winning it.

Echoes of the Knights' Parade.

Wednesday was the first time the subordinate lodges have turned out with the Uniformed Rank, and together they made a splendid showing. The train service that conveyed the visitors without accident was perfect. At 10:30 at night several specials drew out, one after the other, in different directions, and left Plainfield in its normal condition almost as by magic. At 10 o'clock the streets and hotels had been thronged, and bands were heard on many corners. At 11 everything was quiet, and the public places were deserted.

One of the judges of the competitive drill said yesterday that the Phillipsburg boys won first prize more especially on time, general appearance, distances, execution and uniformity. Captain Stimis, of Black Prince division, had too much trouble with the crowd, and lost time thereby. His lieutenants, as well as those of Unity division, failed several times to give the full commands, the order "March" being omitted repeatedly. Black Prince division had several new men in line who turned their heads constantly to see the movements of their neighbors, which detracted from their appearance, and several numbers were omitted. Unity division also omitted one number, but the competition was close for second prize. The judges had no hesitation as to the superiority of Ortygia division, however. Another point against Black Prince division was that the captain marched his men off the ground, when the programme required that they should be lined up and break ranks. Before the drill began, Unity division feared that thirty minutes were not long enough to execute the programme. This probably accounted for the haste. Black Prince division finished in 22 minutes, Unity in 16, and Ortygia in 21 minutes.

The place for the gathering on field day of next year will not be determined until the regimental board meets in February.

Bicyclists Wrecked on the Westfield Road.

Walter Welderman, of Rahway avenue, Elizabeth, was nearly killed, Wednesday night, by colliding with an unknown wheelman while speeding his bicycle along the Westfield road. Welderman was hurled violently into the road, where he lay unconscious. His shoulder and hip were badly cut and his head was bruised. His machine was badly wrecked. The other man was bruised about the head and shoulders, and knocked off his wheel, but it was only slightly damaged. He summoned assistance to Welderman, who was taken insensible in a carriage to his home. The remains of his machine were taken to the station at Westfield and sent by train to Elizabeth. The accident happened on a steep hill.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills unquestionably a success. It required but the use of one bottle to drive out in my case a severe bilious attack. I hear them well-spoken of in every direction.

Came a Long Way to Be Married.

[From The Somerville Unionist-Gazette.]

John C. Emery, now of Arkansas Harbor, Texas, was married at Plainfield, last Thursday, to Miss Mary Vliet Henderson, of Albion, Nebraska.

Hires's Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25-cent package makes five gallons.

$100 The greatest offer yet; something worth knowing; rent payers read: Are you not tired of paying rent to the landlords? Are you going to be a slave forever? Why not make a start now? Listen and consider, we will offer for the first time on Saturday, Sept. 19, that elegant and desirable tract of 264 lots opposite Netherwood station, fronting on North avenue and Netherwood avenue. All the property is restricted to two-story houses to cost not less than $1,500; and our prices are half less than anything you can buy in the immediate vicinity. See for yourself. Only $100, $150 and $175. Terms—$10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. If you persist in paying rent with such an opportunity to start the foundation to a home, you should be driven out of the city. When your lot is all paid for you can secure a loan anywhere to build you a comfortable home. Now wake up! Come and see the property, Saturday, Sept. 19. Remember the terms: $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. Maps and circulars. Friday, Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

LAST CHANCE—160 lots sold in the past 14 days at Netherwood station, all to Plainfield people and home-seekers. 50 two-story houses will be built before Spring, and I believe 100 within one year. Now I will give you the only and last opportunity to secure a home or invest a dollar where you can make $5. On Saturday, Sept. 19, I will offer the Mahlon Vail tract, which we purchased a few weeks ago and comprises 264 lots, located on Netherwood avenue, North avenue, Watson avenue, Leland avenue. All the property is opposite and adjoins the Netherwood depot. No such chance will ever again be offered to Plainfield people to buy lots as low as $100 to $150, and at such easy terms of $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. This is the finest property and the cheapest in Plainfield. Now rent-payers prove your ambition and own your home, like the thousands around you, or invest your savings and make some profit from land, which is the basis of wealth. For example—What can you get in the bank a year for $100? Only $4 00 10 years $40. Why the very lots we offer you for $100 will make you more money in one year than you can get from savings banks in 10 years. Bear this in mind. This is your last opportunity. The sale commences Saturday, Sept. 19. Go and see it. Carriages at the office to show you. Maps and circulars ready on Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. GRAND DISPLAY OF

WE will open on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, our first invoice of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, comprising all the new novelties in "rough effects," which are going to be "the thing" this season. These goods we have bought in small pieces, so there will not be too many dresses of a kind.

ALL the new and staple shades in Cashmeres, Henriettas and Serges.

OUR stock of "Wash Goods" you will find to be the largest in the city, and at prices to suit all.

EDSALL'S,
20 WEST FRONT STREET.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

AS DUMB AS THE SPHINX.

Mister Rutledge Is Determined that the Newspapers Ain't Goin' to Have Nothin' More to Publish About Borough Affairs.

Thomas Rutledge, borough marshal of North Plainfield, has set himself up as a newspaper critic and censor. The fact will not cause any worry to the newspapers, but the public whose servant Thomas Rutledge is supposed to be may have some interest in learning just what sort of a creature they have in their borough marshal.

When a PRESS reporter entered the store of the truly genial and efficient borough tax collector, H. Newton Spencer, this morning, Mister Rutledge was leaning against a glass case deeply engrossed in thought. He aroused himself, seemingly with great difficulty, from his reverie, long enough to respond gruffly to the reporter's greeting "Good morning".

When asked, in a gentlemanly manner, what was the day's record of the borough police court, Mister Rutledge suddenly became absorbed in the contents of a newspaper, and when pressed responded that he was'n't going to give nothin' for publication. He did n't care—he continued—to have borough arrests "put in" the papers, and he ventilated the opinion that even when newspapers obtained the facts of a case they deliberately distorted the truth. When assured by the reporter that it was customary in civilized communities outside of North Plainfield to have the official municipal records open to public inspection, Mister Rutledge reiterated that nothin' was to be got outen him, and again buried his nose in one of the untrustworthy newspapers that he affected so much to despise. The reporter tried to convince Mr. Rutledge that if the newspapers were really so terribly bad it would be great and noble in him to accept their purification as his mission; and it was pointed out to him that if the newspapers really were misstating facts in so wholesale a manner it was the duty of gentlemen like himself, possessing exclusive access to the fount of public knowledge, to give information fully and freely and thus effect an admirable reform. But Mister Rutledge insisted that henceforth none of the borough affairs should get into the papers, and he gave the reporter to understand that hereafter to reporters he would be as silent as the grave.

The newspapers, therefore, will henceforth have to struggle along without the assistance of Mister Rutledge; and in seeking to secure information about affairs the people who hire Mister Rutledge are interested in, they will be blocked in every way possible by Mister Rutledge. Mister Rutledge has always been such a valuable assistant to the newspapers that his sudden determined opposition will be an overwhelming calamity which must cause great grief and anguish to the soul of the newspaper man, and crush all the joy that hitherto has made happy the newspaper world.

Presented With Their Namesake's Portrait.

A reception was given to the members of George H. Adams Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., last Wednesday night, in the rooms of the William G. Holton Council, Dunellen. About thirty members of the former council came from Newark by special train and were met at the station by the reception committee, who escorted them to the rooms of the latter. A large delegation from Friendship Council, of New Market, also was present and assisted in the reception.

During the evening the Newark friends presented a large and elegantly framed crayon portrait of the late W. G. Holton to the Dunellen Council. After several speeches and much merry making, a bountiful collation was served, of which all present partook heartily. At midnight the company disbanded wishing much success to their hosts.

Had Fun With Marshal Coddington.

William Krewson was seated on top of the Crescent League ball grounds fence, during the Pythian drill, Wednesday. Special Marshal Job Coddington ordered him to come off the perch. He thought that Coddington was fooling, and gave a saucy answer. Then Coddington yanked him down, and Krewson became quite abusive. Coddington then swore out a warrant against Krewson, for using profane and indecent language, and Krewson was arrested at his home by Thomas Rutledge, borough marshal and newspaper censor. When taken before justice Crosley, last night, Krewson pleaded guilty and paid a $5 fine. Mister Rutledge said that the case should not be published in the papers, so here it is.

She Grabbed the Pickpocket.

Mrs. Joel Giddis, of Dunellen, while coming from the Somerville fair, Wednesday evening, on the 4:30 train, felt someone tugging at her pocketbook. When she felt for it, it was gone. She grasped the arm of a man just behind her and accused him of taking it. He was so much surprised that he dropped the book, broke from her grasp and disappeared in the crowd.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50cc, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

MARRIED AND CHANGED HIS WILL.

When John Goldsmith Payntar Got a Wife, Trinity Reformed Church Got Left.

Some few years ago during his residence at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street, John Goldsmith Payntar was one of the most regular of the attendants at Trinity Reformed church, and his relative, the Rev. J. Simonson, late of this city, frequently occupied the pulpit.

Mr. Payntar was a rich bachelor of past sixty, with no near relatives. He was well pleased with the little church on West Second street, and he set it down in his will for $5,000. He told Mr. Simonson so, and before the latter died he told some of the church officers what Mr. Payntar had done.

But after living a bachelor for over half a century, Mr. Payntar, in February of last year, married an estimable woman to whom he had been engaged 26 years before, but the engagement, for some reason, had then been broken. This new tie necessitated a new will, and Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield, was forgotten. Mr. Payntar died August 11. A PRESS reporter was allowed a glance at his will yesterday. He leaves the bulk of his large fortune to his wife. There are no children. Trinity church is not mentioned, but instead, the First Presbyterian church, Newton, Long Island, is bequeathed $61,920.25 for a new building. This is the church Mr. and Mrs. Payntar have been attending since their marriage.

Mr. Payntar is buried near the site of the proposed new church. It is to be built of stone. The spire of stone will cost $4,000, and a stone and iron fence around the edifice will cost $5,000. The will also bequeaths $5,000 to the church for a permanent fund, the income of which is to be used for keeping the building and grounds in order. The new edifice will eclipse anything of its kind in the neighborhood.

A Tribute to Bret Harte.

The New York Recorder refers as follows to the famous story writer whose family reside in this city:

"It is positively refreshing to get away from the ultra marvelous and morbidly hysterical to the exquisitely told and charming stories of Bret Harte. Four of his novelettes have been united together in a volume published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., with the title of 'A Sappho of Green Springs and Other Stories'. Bret Harte finds it almost impossible to put pen to paper without being both humorous and pathetic. Even those stories of his which almost make us sigh have about them a drollery that necessitates a smile simultaneously.

"No writer since the time of Nathaniel Hawthorne has played upon the strings of human sympathy with such marked talent as Bret Harte. His 'The Chatelaine of Burnt Ridge' and 'A Maecenas of the Pacific Coast' were never equaled in stories of short length. They deserve to be embalmed in our literature along with the 'Scarlet Letter'. They are, as well as the other stories in the volume, all Californian, and without being in the slightest degree sensational have that charm about them which can only be evolved by the brain of a master."

The Brightest Issue of the Year.

In his closing number of this season's issue of The Richfield News F. G. Barry, the Herkimer, N. Y., newspaper man, publishes the finest summer resort edition of the year. Aside from the many interesting bits of news and gossip from the various hotels, the issue contains page after page of superb illustrations and choice special reading matter. Mr. Barry himself contributes a charming seven-column sketch about Ella Wheeler Wilcox, illustrated by a full-length portrait of the "poetess of passion" attired in the gown she herself invented. Among the other illustrations are full-page reproductions of "The Fates", "By Canadarago's Shady Shores", "A St. Lawrence River Idyl", "See-Saw", and other dainty subjects. A view is given of the white drawing room at the Hotel del Coronado, that queen of resort hotels. The News is printed in the highest style of the art on super-calendered paper, and is the most entertaining and beautiful adornment for the library table one can find anywhere for 10 cents. Having closed the northern series of the News, for the season, Mr. Barry is about to begin the publication of the interesting winter News, at St. Augustine, Florida.

Bible People Will Meet.

The seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Somerset County Bible Society will be held in the Reformed church of Peapack, next Tuesday, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The Rev. Dr. Adams, of Morristown, will preach the sermon, and it is hoped that the Rev. Dr. Hulton, of New Brunswick, will make the special address. A new constitution will be presented for approval.

If those wishing to go will forward their names to the Rev. J. P. Searle, committee, their transportation from Somerville to Peapack and return will be arranged for at the rate of one dollar each.

An Aquatic Carnival at Rahway.

THE PRESS is in receipt of an invitation to attend a grand aquatic carnival to be held at Rahway, to-morrow evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The steamer James Patterson has been engaged as headquarters for the guests. Should the weather prove unfavorable Saturday night, the entertainment will take place the following Monday. The invitation and reception comittee consists of Messrs. Garret Berry, Lewis S. Hyer, John J. Maly, William Chamberlain, John L. Crowell, Phillip E. Tufts, Walter Luttgen and Charles B. Holmes.

COURT CASES IN SOMERSET.

Among Them Is Revived an Old Count Against Justice Harry.

The September term of the Somerset county courts will begin next Tuesday. The Grand Jury will be sworn on that day, will be charged by Judge Bartine, and will retire to attend to their duties. They have several serious cases to come before them.

A number of interesting suits are to be tried this term. Probably the most important in the criminal line is that against Cook and Walker, the persecutors of John Toms. They have pleaded not guilty to the charge of assault with attempt to kill, and on this they are to be tried. There seems to be little doubt as to their guilt, and if found guilty they will get a severe sentence, as they have caused great trouble ever since they were placed in jail.

The calendar for the Supreme and Circuit courts is not yet complete, but the following are the cases already filed in the Supreme court for trial:

George S. Corle v. John G. Schenck. James J. Bergen; Louis H. Schenck.

Charles Bohne and Lizzie Bohne for John E. Reader v. Paul Wach—on contract. Jackson & Codington; Craig A. Marsh.

Rocco Agoglia, administrator, v. John Shields—in tort. Alvah A. Clark; J. A. Bullock.

Peter Brunson v. Caroline R. Brunson et al., executor of Jeremiah R. Van Deventer, deceased—on contract. Jackson & Codington; R. V. Lindabury.

Andrew J. Berrien v. F. B. Shepherd—on contract. Wm. M. Sullman; S. B. Hutchinson.

The list of Circuit court cases is as follows:

Isabella Lamma v. Adam Schneider—in ejectment. H. M. & H. K. Gaston; John A. Frech.

William P. Bergen v. Mary R. Gaddis—on contract. George W. Anderson; R. V. Lindabury.

Arthur M. Griffen v. James Hardy—on contract. Jackson & Codington; C. A. Reed.

George W. Venable and Moses J. Heyman v. Lewis M. Codington—replevin. Nelson Y. Dungan; Alvah A. Clark,

WASHINGTON, Sep. 18.—Fourth-class postmasters have just been appointed in New York State as follows: J. F. Walker, at Cascade; W. H. Reynolds, at Devereux Station, and D. French, jr., at Trenton.

Sec. Blaine's Departure Delayed.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sep. 18.—It was the intention of Secretary Blaine to leave for Augusta on Monday. He has now changed his plans and will remain a few longer, probably till Thursday.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

If Women, who complain of languor, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and a weak, weary feeling, would throw "tonics," "bitters" and other patent medicines to the dogs and try before each meal a tablespoonful of TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey, they would find no need for patent trash. A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old. Sold everywhere. 9 6 tf

POINTERS ON COLLARS.

Trouble-Saving Devices for Shirt and Collar Wearers.

Put These Hints Into Practice and You Will Effect a Great Saving—Suggestions for Housewives and Laundrymen.

Millions of good linen collars are ruined annually by the handling they receive in laundries. The acids used in washing are baneful enough, but the greatest harm occurs in the ironing. Perhaps the most popular of collars just at present is the familiar "bent edge" style. This is the one that suffers most at the hands of the laundress. The points are turned over and the hot iron presses down on the seam, stretching the fiber at that point so that the collar rarely is presentable after two or three washings. The New York Herald shows a little device that will effect a great saving if put into practice, while being simple in operation.

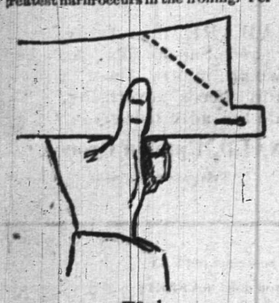

FIG. 1.

First, instructions should be given that your collars are to be returned "ironed flat," the ends not bent in anywise. Then take the collar in hand, as shown in Fig. 1.

Run the tongue along the under side of the seam for folding, moistening it, not so that it will penetrate to the upper surface of the collar, but yet sufficiently so to loosen the fibres of the linen around the seam. Then reverse the collar and hold it against some flat, clean surface, as shown in Fig. 2.

With a lead pencil or the thumbnail in play it is readily and neatly pressed down to the proper angle. Treated thus a good collar will last twice or three times as long in use as the ironed-down affair. Some difficulty may be experienced at first in having the collars returned as requested, but a card attached to the packages containing instructions will be effective.

A propos of neck dressing, here will be found a hint for housewives. Many men object to the use of collar buttons, and they undoubtedly are a source of great discomfort if the band is tight. The friction on tender flesh is often a cause of swellings that are not only troublesome while they last, but dangerous. Hence men insist on a sewed-on button.

Fig. 3 shows a tab sewed on to cover the buttonhole and as a guard for tender flesh against the button. It is a German idea, but a few minutes' labor in applying it to the neckbands will serve to dispel many of the Sunday morning amenities of home life and convert men to the use of the ever ready collar button.

FIG. 3.

Sherman's Remarkable Dream.

Writers who have busied themselves picking up anecdotes and incidents of the life of Sherman appear to have wholly overlooked the story of his remarkable dream. It is as follows: One night the general took refuge in an old farmhouse and had fallen into a deep sleep when he was visited by a most exciting dream. He fancied that the house in which he slept was surrounded by a band of guerrillas, who had dug a hole beneath the room in which he lay, filled it with powder and touched it off. The explosion that followed was terrible, and the general thought he saw himself flying through the air in sections. The shock of this terrible experience caused him to leap to the middle of the floor. Hastily dressing, he left the building. He had not gone far into the night when a red glare shot up from the farmhouse, followed by a terrible explosion. The building was wrecked, but the dream had saved the life of the great general.

The Photograph Anticipated.

In Fenelon's "Fables," written in 1690, may be found an interesting chapter, entitled "Voyage Suppose." Of the marvels related in that story we read: "There was no painter in all that country, but when they wished the portrait of a friend, they put water into large basins of gold and silver and made this water to face the object they wished to paint. Soon the water would congeal and become as the face of a mirror, where the image dwelt ineffaceably. This could be carried wherever one pleased, always giving as faithful a picture as a mirror." Who will say that Fenelon did not anticipate the photograph?

Trouble with the Scales.

Hubby—I've just been in to get weighed; have gained ten pounds.

Fogg—So? What did you have for breakfast?

Hubby—Only a couple of biscuits.

Fogg—Your wife's?

Hubby—Of course.

Fogg—And only gained ten pounds? Something must be wrong with the scales.—Boston Transcript.

Trouble Somewhere.

McMissery—I always knew that Blessington was a man of gentlemanly instincts.

Miss Fluffy—Why, I thought that he married the girl you were engaged to.

McMissery—So he did. He's off on his honeymoon trip, and has just sent me his hearty congratulations from Lake George.—Judge.

In a Bad Fix.

A.—How is Brown coming on?

B.—Very poorly. He can't eat.

"What's the matter with him?"

"There is nothing the matter with him except lack of food. He is stopping at a fashionable boarding house."—Texas Siftings.

A Waisted Article.

Rosalie—Here is an article on "How to Utilize Waste Space;" have you read it?

Louise—No, indeed! Waist space—h'm; I suppose the man who wrote it was born without arms.—American Clubman.

For Summer Use.

Tenant—The furnace in this house is no earthly good. It kept the house as cold as ice all winter.

Owner—Yes, ma'am; but see the advantage of having such a beautiful refrigerator in the house in the summer.—Judge.

At Manhattan Beach.

Guest—I have had a bottle of ale and an oyster stew. How much do you get?

Waiter—The landlord gets a dollar and a half, but I can't tell how much I get, but gentlemen never tip me with less than half a dollar.—Texas Siftings.

A Harsh Criticism.

Tom—Old Miserly is very despondent and is threatening to blow out his brains.

Jerry—There is no danger of his doing that unless he has a chance to steal a revolver.—Texas Siftings.

Time for a Reform.

"We measure heat by degrees, don't we, papa?"

"We used to, my son; but in these days of humidity it would be more proper to measure it by the quart."—Judge.

Quite an Honor.

Lutie loved her new teacher very much.

One morning she said: "You're so good I'll get the next handorgan man who comes round to name his monkey for you."—Harper's Young People.

Norris' Sermon.

Norris preached a sermon about Lot's wife. He said: "Lot's wife disobeyed God and was turned into salt. She was very, very salt, so salt that you couldn't eat her."—Harper's Young People.

Entitled to the Privilege.

"What did you mean by writing a love letter to my wife, sir?"

"Why shouldn't I? She's never broken off her engagement with me yet."—Life.

A Natural Request.

"And are you an old sea dog, as they say?" asked the fresh young woman.

"I ham," returned the sailor.

"Do let me hear you bark," said she.—Judge.

The Snob.

"Gabby never forgets that he is a gentleman."

"That's all right—but he never remembers that others are, too."—Puck.

A Query.

Is an upstart aristocracy known as a codfish aristocracy because it has more bone than blood?—Puck.

ACCOUNTED FOR.

"Why, this water is very warm, Phœbe."

"Yessum. They ain't bin no ice in dat ar well sence las' wintah."—Harper's Young People.

Warmth Not Always Absence of Cold.

Gertrude—A coldness between George Ferguson and Laura Kajones? I don't believe it!

Irene—You can see for yourself. There they are at that table over there eating ice cream from the same dish.—Chicago Tribune.

Not Particular.

Space Reporter—Can't you give me something to write up to-day?

City Editor—Haven't a thing.

Space Reporter—Well, then, give me somebody to write down.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Just Claim.

Van Duder—I can trace my family tree clear from old Peter Stuyvesant to myself. How is that for long descent?

Bronson—Well, it certainly is a pretty big drop.—Munsey's Weekly.

Fatal Valor.

"A tough fired at a policeman yesterday with a heavy caliber revolver."

"And what did the policeman do? Did he arrest the tough?"

"No. He arrested the bullet."—Puck.

A CRIME OF LONG AGO

Elias Young On Trial For Murder Done in 1864.

A YOUNG LIEUTENANT KILLED.

He Belonged to a Company of Regulars Sent to Pennsylvania.

The Fishing Creek Confederacy Refused to Go to the War When Drafted—They Resisted the Soldiers and Shot One of the Officers—The Alleged Murderer Arrested After 27 Years Absence.

PITTSTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—Elias Young of this county is on trial at Wilkesbarre, charged with the murder of Lieut. Stewart Robinson, which occurred twenty-seven years ago.

The circumstances attending the killing are as follows: The "Fishing Creek Confederacy," as it was called, was composed of persons who opposed the prosecution of the war, and when in 1864 a draft was ordered it met with opposition in that section. The draft was openly ignored, and the efforts of the United States officers to enforce it were set at defiance. Armed bodies of men ranged themselves against the authorities and swore to die in their tracks rather than go to the front.

A regiment of regulars was sent to that locality with orders to compel the drafted men to join the army. Lieutenant Robinson came with the regiment and it was while obeying orders that he met his death.

Shortly after the shooting, which occurred on the night of July 31, 1864, Young went West, where he remained until a short time ago. As soon as his return became known, Sheriff Robinson, brother of the young Lieutenant, proceeded to collect evidence that might lead to his conviction.

Young and two others were arrested, but the latter were released for want of sufficient evidence. Subsequently, upon the dying confession of a man who was a witness of the killing, County Detective Phillips obtained sufficient evidence to warrant him in taking Young into custody. The most important evidence adduced at the trial now in progress was given by Dr. John F. Chapin, of Michigan, who came East to testify, he being the physician who attended Robinson when shot, and Charles Dobson, who was also with Robinson when the shooting took place.

It was to the effect that Young had said the day after the shooting that he had used Smith's gun on the previous night. The defense endeavored to prove on cross examination that Smith's uncles were also charged with killing Robinson and that the prosecution was a scheme to shift the responsibility upon Young's shoulders. The witnesses, however, stuck to their stories, their evidence being unshaken.

DARING ESCAPE.

A Criminal Picks the Lock of His Handcuffs With a Toothpick.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 19.—A toothpick was the instrument which aided Lincoln Person, a noted desperado, to escape from his custodian, Sheriff Michael, of Williamsport. A flying leap from a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, moving at the rate of forty miles an hour made the dash for liberty a successful venture.

The Sheriff had with him besides the daring convict a number of other prisoner, who were being brought to the Eastern penitentiary in this city to serve their sentences. The sentenced criminal in question successfully picked the lock of his handcuff with the toothpick, freeing himself from a fellow prisoner.

He then made an unexpected break for the door of the passenger coach which the sheriff, deputies and prisoners occupied, and leaped from the rapidly moving train before a hand was raised to prevent him.

Person is a man who has "done time" in many penitentiaries. He was under the charge of Deputy Sheriff Zeller who had two prisoners to look after. Sheriff Michael received his first intimation of the escape when he looked out of a window and saw the form of a man flying through the air and then roll over and over down the embankment. It looked like prisoner Person, and hastily looking around the sheriff soon saw that that worthy was missing.

Some of the deputies endeavored to intercept the daring man before he had reached the platform, but were badly handicapped in their efforts on account of being fettered to their prisoners.

They had the train stopped and the locality searched, but there was no trace of the fugitive. After sounding the alarm the trip to Philadelphia was resumed.

Sheriff Michael believes that Person will again be caught at his old haunts in Williamsport.

Big Carriage Factory Burned.

BELLAIRE, Md., Sep. 19. — Bellaire sustained a heavy loss last night by the burning down of the Bullett Carriage Factory. The building was three stories high, and was built with all the latest improvements. The machinery and contents were valued at $95,000, and are a total loss. The fire is supposed to have originated in the paint shop, as the top of the building burned first. The factory had on hand 700 orders, and was turning out wagons of all descriptions very fast.

May Get $9,000,000.

DULUTH, Minn., Sep. 19.—Mrs. Robert Kennedy, her son and daughter, Mrs. B. W. Armstrong, are said to have fallen heir to a fortune of $9,000,000, which has been in the English Court of Chancery for years.

Changed Its Politics.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sep. 19.—The Cortland "Journal," the only daily in the county, changed its politics from an independent to a Republican newspaper for the entire Republican ticket.

Never Questioned.

The superior purity, strength and wholesomeness of Royal Baking Powder is never questioned. While other baking powder makers are exposing the impurities and shortcomings of the powders of their competitors, and the official tests by the Government are revealing the improper ingredients, the low strength, and lack of keeping qualities of other brands of baking powder, no question is raised, no doubt is entertained of the great qualities, the absolute purity and efficiency of the Royal Baking Powder. It stands alone, above suspicion.

Do not permit the grocer or peddler to substitute any other brand in place of the Royal.

EXCITEMENT IN HONDURAS.

Troops Gathering and Fighting Reported in Salvador and Guatemala.

COLON, Sep. 19.—Advices from Managua, Nicaragua, state that on account of the coming elections in Honduras excitement is at fever heat. President Brogran is desirous of another term, which the majority of the people are opposed to.

Antonio Ezeta, brother of the President of Salvador, has declared his intention of running for the Presidency of Honduras, and in consequence 2,000 men have been stationed on the Honduras frontier to prevent this invasion.

Salvador has 3,000 troops at San Miguel, and more men are still hurrying to the frontier. Guatemala is also placing troops for the aid of Honduras. Nicaragua, according to her treaty with Salvador, is bound to help her, and, at the end of the week, will have 2,500 troops on her frontier, and 2,500 men under arms in Managua.

In Leon recently a plot was discovered to kill President Sacasa, and seven of the prominent men of the opposition party in Granada were sent out of the country. When the men were arrested in Granada a fight took place in which the chief of police and seven soldiers were killed. The whole country is now under martial law.

HANDY BOB FITZSIMMONS.

He Whips a Murderous Chinaman and Takes His Knife Away.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sep. 19.—Bob Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, was waiting for a train at the depot yesterday afternoon, when a Chinaman employed in a restaurant rushed at some hoodlums who had been plaguing him, with a huge knife.

Fitzsimmons seized the Chinaman, whereupon the latter attempted to stab the pugilist, cutting through his coat. Fitzsimmons took the knife away, and after giving the Chinaman a severe beating let him go.

WING LEE GOES TO PRISON.

A New York Judge Makes an Example of One Celestial.

NEW YORK, Sep. 19.—Wing Lee, the Chinese laundryman who pleaded guilty in the Court of General Sessions to an indictment charging him with having abducted Lizzie Sproul, 15 years old, from Camden, N. J., was arraigned for sentence before Recorder Smyth in the Court of General Sessions.

The Court said he was going to make an example of such violators of the law, and sentenced Wing Lee to State Prison for three years and eleven months.

GODDARD WANTS TO FIGHT.

He Challenges John L. Sullivan to Battle Ten Rounds.

NEW YORK, Sep. 19.—Special cable despatches from Sidney, N. S. W., say that Goddard has challenged John L. Sullivan to fight ten rounds or to a finish, for $5,000 a side. Melbourne and Sidney Athletic Clubs both offer $10,000 purses if the fight is arranged.

The despatches also state that Sullivan, champion of New Zealand, has issued a challenge to row any man in the world on the Paramatta for $2,500 a side.

The Big Strike in Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sep. 19.—The militia have been withdrawn from protecting the mills from the strikers. The strike continues, but the men are so quiet that no trouble is now feared. Two thousand strikers formed in line during the day and marched through the chief streets. The mill owners have issued an ultimatum stating that an increase of 50 cents would not be granted, nor would the hours of work be shortened.

He is Short $10,000.

BOSTON, Sep. 19.—An investigation into the accounts of Col. Wm. A. Couthouy, Boston agent of Chubbs & Sons, general agents for the Marine Insurance Company of London, has revealed a shortage, said to be in the neighborhood of $10,000. Couthouy is also said to be short in his accounts with the Providence Washington Insurance Company, with which he also had connections. He has left town.

Two Trains Collide.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sep. 19.—A collision between two trains occurred at 4:40 a. m. on the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Wilmington Railroad, a few miles north of Newport. Henry Brockman, engineer, and his fireman, Jonas Coth, of Baltimore jumped, Brockman being instantly killed and Jones seriously but not fatally hurt. Conductor Henry Morrison, of Wilmington, was also hurt. Fifteen cars were also wrecked and the track blocked for several hours.

IT LOOKS LIKE WAR

The Revolutionary Movement Spreading in Mexico.

PRESIDENT DIAZ DISTURBED.

He Calls a Meeting of His Political Friends to Discuss the Trouble.

A Proclamation Spread Broadcast By Agents of the Revolution—Their Purpose is to Overthrow the Diaz Despotism—If the President is Captured He Will Be Condemned to Death.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sep. 19. — The revolutionary movement in Mexico is looked upon with the gravest apprehension by the authorities of that Republic.

A despatch received from the City of Mexico states that President Diaz to-day called his political counsellors around him and discussed at length the impending trouble.

Information received here from Monterey, Saltillo and towns along the Rio Grande border state that the following proclamation was spread broadcast in those cities on the night of September 16 by unknown agents of the Revolutionists:

"The purpose of this revolution is to restore the Constitutional government in Mexico under the Constitution of 1857; to overthrow the Diaz despotism, and, after capturing Diaz, to condemn him to death as a traitor to his country. Upon the issuance of this proclamation the city is declared to be in a stage of military siege, and is placed under martial law."

The document has created a profound sensation in all parts of the Republic, where it has been circulated.

General Stanley, Commander of the Department of Texas, received a despatch from Captain Randall, at Fort Ringgold, stating that the detachments from Brenares, Metamores and Nuevo Leon were in hot pursuit of Garzia, and that he will doubtless be defeated, and his band dispersed.

ENGLAND PROTESTS.

A Claim That the United States Has Violated the Modus Vivendi.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 19.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, has officially called the attention of the United States to a violation of the terms of the modus vivendi in effect between the two countries, as to the catch of seals in Behring Sea.

By the agreement between the two countries the North American Commercial Company, which leases the Seal Islands from the United States, was restricted in the catch of seals this year to 7,500 skins.

It is alleged that the Commercial Company has exceeded this catch, thus violating the modus vivendi and the British Government has called the United States to account for it.

Special Agent Williams of the Treasury Department has made a special report on this branch of the seal question to the Treasury Department, and his report has been forwarded to the State Department with the request that its contents be laid before the British Minister for transmission to the Foreign Office in London.

The contents of Agent Williams' report cannot be accurately ascertained, but it is understood that he makes the admission that the North American Commercial Company has exceeded the limit of catch—7,500 skins—fixed by the modus vivendi. The matter is regarded as quite important and may lead to the modus vivendi being declared inoperative after this date.

Poisoned By Toadstools.

YONKERS, N. Y., Sep. 19.—The family of James Giblin last night ate a quantity of toadstools that had been gathered by Mr. Giblin for mushrooms, and all the members are in a critical condition. During the night Mr. and Mrs. Giblin and her sister, Mrs. Annie Smith, were taken violently ill. Dr. Pyne, who was called, said that there was very little hope for their recovery.

Glassworkers Strike.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Sep. 19.—The general dissatisfaction which has for some time existed among the employes of Whitall, Tatum & Co.'s glass works has culminated in a big strike. Great excitement exists in Millville City, where the works are located. The immediate cause of the trouble has not been made known.

SHE IS DISS DEBAR.

The Chicago Police Satisfied about the Identity of Vera P. Aya.

CHICAGO, Sep. 19.—The identity of "Vera P. Aya," who mysteriously disappeared on the night of September 9, and so sensationally found herself in Cincinnati two days later, has been settled to the entire satisfaction of the police authorities. They firmly believe that the woman is none other than Ann O'Delia Diss Debar.

Lieutenent Shea received this morning from New York a proof of the best portrait of Diss Debar that has ever been printed, and a number of officers at once identified the cut as a portrait of "Vera P. Aya" the woman who called to see Chief McClaughrey the day before she disappeared.

"I think," said Lieutenent Shea, "that she will now stop her coffin stories and her talk about the Cronin murder and her great charities here in Chicago."

The police do not intend to bring Diss Debar from Cincinnati unless some complaint is entered against her.

A CHECKERED CAREER.

Ex-Congressman and Consul Brentano, a Well-Known Chicago Man, Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Ex-Congressman and Consul Lorenz Brentano died at his residence in this city yesterday. Mr. Brentano was born in 1813, in Manheim, Baden, Germany. Twice elected Mayor of Manheim, the government on each occasion refused to confirm his election or to allow him to serve. In 1848 he was elected member of the Parliament at Frankfort, and before the close of the session became the leader of the Liberal party.

In the political movement which led to the fleeing of the Grand Duke and the governmental crisis of 1848 he was made President of the Provisional Government of Baden, and later on Dictator. On the return of the Monarchists to power he fled to Switzerland and was sentenced to death in his absence. From 1860 to 1867 he was editor and part proprietor of the "Staats Zeitung" of this city, and for five years was president of the Board of Education.

AN AWFUL TRAFFIC.

Bodies of Dead Paupers in Glasgow Sold to Doctors.

LONDON, Sep. 19—This city is horrified by the discovery of a disgusting scandal in the City Poorhouse. Facts have come to light which show that a regular traffic has been going on there in the bodies of dead paupers. One of the officials has made it a practice for years to sell the remains of dead inmates to medical schools.

When a pauper died, and no one attended his funeral, the driver of the hearse would be directed to deliver the "subject" to medical students, who paid the driver five shillings for each delivery, and at the same time would give a heavy bribe to the poor-house official, the latter covering up the transaction by giving forged checks.

It is even alleged that in some cases, when friends of deceased attended, empty coffins were sent to the graveyards and buried in their presence, the bodies having been previously taken out and disposed of to the medical schools. The disclosure was made to the police by a driver who had been dismissed from the poorhouse. Search was made, and several graves of paupers were found to contain neither coffin nor body.

Changed His Religious Views.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sep. 19.—Dr. J. H. Helwig, President of Wittenberg College, the leading Lutheran educational institution of the West, and until a few weeks ago, pastor of the First Lutheran Church here, has made a complete change in his religious views, and has gone over to the Presbyterians. The reason given is the constant tendency of the Lutheran Church to Catholicism and ritualistic services. Last night he was selected pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Urbana.

Fatal Head-End Collision.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sep. 19.—A fatal head-end collision occurred during the morning on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, near Herman, Tenn., caused by the engineer of train No. 16, disobeying orders. Brakeman Stewart of this city, and Fireman Wier, of No. 16, were killed outright, and Fireman T. Connor, of train No. 19, was dangerously wounded. Engine No. 355 was completely demolished and several frieght cars destroyed.

Refused to Grant Requisition Papers.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sep. 19.—Governor Ladd decided not to grant requisition papers for the transfer of Burglar Elwood from this State to Ohio. The refusal was based upon a decision of the Attorney-General that the prisoner was given up to Rhode Island by Massachusetts for specific purposes of justice, which must be carried out before this State can turn him over to the authorities of any other State.

Small Offering to Creditors.

BOSTON, Sep. 19.—A meeting of the creditors of A. M. Haines & Company, apothecaries, was held and the firm offered 10 cents on the dollar, but this was deemed altogether too low, and a committee was appointed to take charge of matters, which was empowered to dispose of the store and petition the firm into insolvency if thought best for the interests of the creditors.

Killed Two Indians.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sep. 19. — In a drunken quarrel here between Dan and John Svuanos, two Indians, and Charles Horton and James Bradshaw, two white men, the two Indians were killed. Bradshaw is still at large.

Paris Has Another Row Over Wagner's "Lohengrin."

OVER 500 PERSONS ARRESTED.

Fifteen Hundred Police Surrounded the Opera House.

A Regular Fire Line Established—Glass Balls of Ammonia Thrown On the Stage. Europe in a Ferment Over the Kaiser's Speech—Starving Russian Peasants Driven to Cannibalism.

PARIS, Sep. 19.—At the second representation of "Lohengrin" at the Opera House the auditorium was crowded from the footlights to the ceiling, as before. The audience listened with attention and applauded with enthusiasm. A few youths attempted to hoot and whistle in the first act, but they were ejected. Later small glass balls, supposed to contain ammonia, were thrown from the fourth gallery, but this was quickly stopped by the detectives.

Vervoort, a member of the staff of L'Intransigeant; Morphy, a noted anarchist, and Mariat and Hervien endeavored to incite disturbances in the parquette and galleries. The moment they lifted their voices they were surrounded by police in plain clothes and taken one after another to the nearest station house, whence they were released after the opera was over. After this there were a few feeble attempts to create disorder, but they were immediately suppressed, and the opera proceeded without interruption to the close. This was largely due, however, to the vigilance and promptness of the police and detectives, for in all there were 300 persons arrested or ejected from the house.

The display of force outside was greater if anything than on Wednesday night. Fifteen hundred mounted and unmounted police surrounded the building and occupied the Boulevard des Capucines and the Rues Halevy, Auber and Gluck. The crowds they had to deal with were smaller than before and were not allowed to approach the doors or walls. In fact a regular fire line was established, which none but ticket holders were allowed to pass. About 550 arrests were made.

KAISER WILHELM'S SPEECH.

Europe in a Ferment Over His Warlike Utterances.

LONDON, Sep. 19.—The Paris bourse is still suffering from the effects of Kaiser Wilhelm's Erfurt speech, which are felt more or less all over Europe. The depression caused by it in France is indicative of a conviction that the Kaiser has returned definitely to the warlike ideas which he so loosely promulgated at the beginning of his reign, and which it was supposed he had put aside for more sensible and manly notions of his sovereign duties. He seems to be under the impression now that, coming as he does of a race of warrior kings famous in the history of Europe, he will never be able to really endear himself to the hearts of the German people, steeped as they are in militarism by tradition, training and impulse, until he shall have proven his prowess on the field of battle.

The fact of the matter is he finds his self-importance, assumed on all occasions and concerning all subjects, losing its ephemeral interest for Europe, and his personal prestige not quite so great as he has tried to make it; and he is in a state of irritation, mental and physical, which may lead to spasmodic activity in about the only direction in which he can hope to make a wide and disturbing impression in the history of the nineteenth century.

TO BE A GRAVEYARD.

The Historic Home of James Buchanan Sold to a Cemetery Company.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sep. 19. — "Wheatland," once the historic home of James Buchanan, has practically passed into the hands of a Lancaster company, which secured the property for $25,000.

The brick mansion will be used for a chapel and dwelling for the cemetery superintendent.

The old spring, so much written of when Buchanan was in public life, will be converted into a lake and fountain.

Permission will be sought to remove Buchanan's remains and tomb from Woodward Hill Cemetery to the lawn of "Wheatland."

That Case of Child Beating.

Many rumors have been on the streets the past two days concerning an alleged terrible case of child beating by a brutal parent. It was said that the victim was in a very dangerous condition, and that among other things her arm was fractured. The facts are that Mrs. John Rittenhouse, of Arlington avenue, went into justice Nash's court yesterday with a fourteen-year-old girl named Katie Glynn. She complained that the child had been cruelly whipped by her aunt, Mrs. Michael J. Cox, of 12 Arlington avenue. The girl swore to a complaint that her aunt had struck her three times with a fence picket, and Mrs. Cox was taken before the justice, who lectured all the parties and sent them home, telling them to behave themselves in the future. The justice says that while it is a technical violation of the law to hit a child with such a weapon the girl in this case showed no bruises or other evidence of having been badly beaten.

Last night a sister of Katie's is said to have slapped her face because she was obstinate and lay down in the road when she wanted to take her home. Then Mrs. Rittenhouse took charge of Katie, and sent her boy down to Nash's to have Mrs. Cox arrested again. Nash sent back word that if Mrs. Rittenhouse did n't send the girl back to Cox's she herself would get in trouble.

Both Katie Glynn and her sister were "brought up" by their aunt. Katie now works out, at a house on Arlington avenue, near Sixth street. It is claimed that Katie has not been abused at all, but that all the trouble has been caused by too officious neighbors. Those whose sympathies for the child have been aroused threaten to bring the matter before the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Mrs. Lufbery Scares Off a Robber.

Mrs. Joseph Lufbery, wife of the popular captain of the Crescent League baseteam, is a heroine in Rahway just now because of the plucky way she acted to a robber whom she found in her house.

It all occurred last Tuesday afternoon. She had been absent for a brief time from her home, on Hamilton street, calling at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. K. Ryno, near by. As she was entering her house on returning, she heard a noise as of some heavy article falling in the house. Knowing that there was no one at home, she opened the front door cautiously, and, leaving it open, behind her, found a young and quite well-dressed stranger in the parlor. She bravely stepped up to him and demanded to know what he was doing in her house, and he said he was getting names for a directory. She asked him if that was the way he generally went into houses—by breaking in; he said the door was open, but she contradicted him, and kept up a conversation with the object of detaining him until some one should pass by; but, no one appearing, he crowded past her, and got out of sight before she could alarm any one. The intruder had entered the back way, doubtless with a false key, and had tried to break open the door of a cabinet, breaking off the edge of the door with a jimmy or similar implement, and had knocked a large shell off the top, which was the noise Mrs. Lufbery heard. She was certainly very cool under the circumstances, and is able to give a full description of the clothing and appearance of the burglar—a young man of about twenty, white straw hat, black band, striped cutaway coat and patent leather shoes.

"The Daughter of the Regiment" Was There.

The reunion of the Seventh New Jersey Regiment was held at Paterson, Thursday, and many veterans from all parts of the State attended. A number of Plainfielders were present. Among the guests was Mrs. Daniel Hart, who is styled the "Daughter of the Regiment". She was married to Captain Hart in the presence of the regiment, when it was encamped at Falmouth, Va. Captain Hart died many years ago. The other visitors included Gen. Joseph Dickinson, of Washington, who was Adjutant General and Chief of Staff in the Army of the Potomac; General Frank E. Price, Captain Frederick Douglas, and J. D. Rosie. The veterans met in the Grand Army Hall in Washington street, and H. J. Garrison, of Paterson, was chosen President. The other officers elected were as follows: Vice-President—Swain Reeves, of Cape May; Recording Secretary—W. E. Loper, of Newark; Financial Secretary—Peter Leary, of Newark; Corresponding Secretary—John Scarlett, of Newark; Treasurer—G. B. Adams, of Irvington; Chaplain—the Rev. Mr. Allen, of Cape May; Historian—Dr. Roden, of Newark.

In the afternoon there was a banquet, when Colonel J. W. Congdon officiated as toast-master, and addresses were made by Colonel J. W. Congdon, E. F. McDonald, J. W. Griggs, J. G. Rose, the Rev. I. P. Whelan, General Francis Price, General Joe Dickinson, the Rev. J. C. Jackson, Eugene Emley and Thomas Beveridge.

"Well Fixed."

"You see that man", said Pope to Pastor,
"Last week he met with great disaster,
But since good fortune did o'er take him
He 's so well fixed you could n't break him".
This may be said—nor truth offended—
Of anything at Collier's mended.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills unquestionably a success. It required but the use of one bottle to drive out in my case a severe bilious attack. I hear them well-spoken of in every direction.

Fun at the Fair.

Nothing sweetens and lightens lat or so much as the anticipation and realization of a real goood time with lots of fun.

Make up your mind when you read this to pay a visit and spend a day or two at Trenton's Great Inter-State fair, beginning Sept. 28, and lasting over Oct. 2. This will give you the pleasure of anticipation, and the managers of the fair will see to it that when you come you shall have plenty of realization and oceans of fun from ten in the morning till dark.

If you love the American trotting horse, scores of the best in trainning will compete day after day in the numerous class races, on the superb half mile track, for the thousands of dollars in purses hung up for the winners. Add to this, three hundred entries of high class Percheron stallions, French roadsters, English hackneys and American roadsters, over five hundred head of cattle, as many sheep and pigs, prize poultry, fruit, flowers and machinery, and last, but not least, a continuous run of amusements, the wonderful trotting dog driven by his boy owner, the marvelous pony circus, balloon ascensions, parachute descents, troupes of trained dogs, unequaled trapeze and horizontal bar artists, bands of music, and all free directly you are inside the gate.

Plenty to eat and drink, and no fakirs.

Artistic Advertising.

Undoubtedly the Ivory Soap people deserve credit for the best grade of illustrations now being used for advertising purposes. The series of full-page drawings which have been appearing on the last page of the Century represent some of the most capable book and magazine artists in the country. The series must have cost no small figure. As yet the "way up" artists do not sign the work they do for advertisers, but it will not be long ere we shall see in the advertising columns such names as George Wharton Edwards, E. W. Kemble, etc. Such men as these bring to their work, besides mere mechanical skill, a trained imagination and an artistic conception of things. These qualities, when used in connection with advertisements, command scarcely less interest than when used in the ordinary literary way.—Printer's Ink.

Chief Ranger Isador Bloom.

A local court of the Ancient Order of Foresters, to be known as the Pride of New Jersey, No. 8,024, was organized in this city last night. High court officers were present from Jersey City and other places. The following officers were installed:

Chief Ranger—Isador Bloom.
Sub Chief Ranger—Wm. H. Netherwood.
Treasurer—L. Osment.
Financial Secretary—S. Lunger.
Recording Secretary—S. Proude.
Senior Woodward—P. C. Blimm.
Junior Woodward—C. E. Ball.
Senior Beadle—M. Frazee.
Junior Beadle—W. E. Kiely.
Medical Examiner—Dr. Allis.
Trustees—N. H. Guttman, M. Weber, A. J. Everett.

Fired Two Shots at the Burglar.

James Bradley who is in the employ of Theodore A. Gray, the stone mason, boards at the residence of Wm. Flatly, Sixth street, near Plainfield avenue. Last night he was aroused by a burglar trying to get into the house. The intruder had one leg over the window sill. Bradley jumped up, and the burglar ran. Bradley then got his pistol and fired two shots after the fellow. Mr. Flatly, who is employed at the gas works, heard the shots, and the man passed him running, but he of course did n't know the fellow had been breaking into his house, or he would have tackled him.

$100 The greatest offer yet; something of worth knowing; rent payers read: Are you not tired of paying rent to the landlords? Are you going to be a slave forever? Why not make a start now? Listen and consider, we will offer for the first time on Saturday, Sept. 19, that elegant and desirable tract of 264 lots opposite Netherwood station, fronting on North avenue and Netherwood avenue. All the property is restricted to two-story houses to cost not less than $1,500; and our prices are half less than anything you can buy in the immediate vicinity. See for yourself. Only $100, $150 and $175. Terms—$10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. If you persist in paying rent with such an opportunity to start the foundation to a home, you should be driven out of the city. When your lot is all paid for you can secure a loan anywhere to build you a comfortable home. Now wake up! Come and see the property, Saturday, Sept. 19. Remember the terms, $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. Maps and circulars Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

2 POOL tables for sale. Call or address H. S. Bastedenbeck, 49 W. Front street. 9 17 3

$100—Just think of it, young man; how easy it is to save $1 a week: don't be a drone; be saving, ambitious, and buy real estate which is the foundation of a fortune; attend the great opening sale, Saturday, Sept. 19, of 264 lots, opposite Netherwood depot. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North ave. N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

WANTED—A competent hand to work button holes. Apply at PRESS office. 9 16 tf

$10 CASH—The great $100-lot sale commences Saturday, Sept. 19; terms, $10 cash, balance $1 weekly. These lots are cheap at $250; come and see. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

$1 A WEEK—The great $100-lot sale commences Saturday, Sept. 19; 264 lots opposite Netherwood depot; buy for a home—buy for speculation. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North ave. N. B.—Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

LAST CHANCE—160 lots sold in the past 14 days at Netherwood station, all to Plainfield people and home-seekers. 50 two-story houses will be built before Spring, and I believe 100 within one year. Now I will give you the only and last opportunity to secure a home or invest a dollar where you can make $5. On Saturday, Sept. 19, I will offer the Mahlon Vail tract, which we purchased a few weeks ago and comprises 264 lots, located on Netherwood avenue, North avenue, Watson avenue, Leland avenue. All the property is opposite and adjoins the Netherwood depot. No such chance will ever again be offered to Plainfield people to buy lots as low as $100 to $150, and at such easy terms of $10 cash, balance $1.00 per week. This is the finest property and the cheapest in Plainfield. Now rent-payers prove your ambition and own your home, like the thousands around you, or invest your savings and make some profit from land, which is the basis of wealth. For example—What can you get in the bank a year for $100? Only $4 00 10 years $40. Why the very lots we offer you for $100 will make you more money in one year than you can get from savings banks in 10 years. Bear this in mind. This is your last opportunity. The sale commences Saturday, Sept. 19. Go and see it. Carriages at the office to show you. Maps and circulars ready on Friday. Wm. H. Moffitt, 49 North avenue. Agent on the ground all day Sunday to show property. 9 16 4

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Another Look Backward at Last Saturday's Game.

[From The Somerville Democrat.]

It was three straight, but the Crescents won it, and in the ninth inning too. With the score tied the Crescents came to the bat to take their last inning. McIndoe, who has been known to put the ball over the fence before, was the first man to face Harkins. John must have given him one over the plate, for crack went his bat, and the ball sailed over the fence for two bases. Hammill, the next man, sacrificed, and Mac went to third. Then Holly, who seldom hits the ball, but did this time, drove the ball into left for a base. McIndoe scored, and the game was over.

The two hundred that came from Plainfield surged over the field screeching and yelling, while the three hundred from Somerville and vicinity wended their way homeward disgusted—not with the game, but the way it ended. No one could find the least bit of fault with the game. It was magnificently played on both sides, and it was plain to be seen that both sides were out for blood. From the start to finish it was a royal battle fought stubbornly and hotly. The salient and distinguishing feature of the game was the showing made by Hammill against the West End heavy hitters. He seemed to hold them at his mercy, and although he struck but two of them out, they were unable to get the ball beyond the infielders, except to send it into the outfielders' hands. Big Holly loomed up strong at the bat, but it was in the field that he got in his fine licks. He made two one-handed catches that saved somebody some errors and also some runs. He shot his long, powerful body along the ground and caught the ball when a miss would have meant at least one more run; and judging from the way in which Lee and Keeler heaved the ball toward him they must have thought him twenty feet high and nearly as broad. The great Harkins had his usual speed, but the Crescent men seemed to light on him whenever they pleased, and they secured eight hits during the nine innings.

The Crescents shattered the hopes of the faithful and sent them away in a sorrowing state of mind. The Crescents played a game that was complete in every respect. They fielded wonderfully, batted vigorously, and ran bases like deer. Hammill pitched a steady, consistent game, preventing the bunching of the hits, and he was caught by Bonner in the best style of the clever little backstop. All the infield work was of high class order on both sides, not an error being charged to anyone, except Carbonell.

There is no doubt that the Crescents outplayed the West Ends at every point. Our men hit the ball hard, but it seemed to go right into the fielders' hands. To-morrow the West Ends again meet the Crescents for the last time this season. The boys will play the game of their lives—everyone can depend upon that. If we win, the hosannahs will float on high. Let all who can go and cheer the boys on to victory or defeat.

The Next Attraction.

Eight o'clock of next Thursday evening, a rare company of comic players is to begin work at Music Hall in that musical satire, "U & I". The cast and presentation will be exactly the same as scored such a success at the Standard theater, New York. These are the players:

O'DONOVAN INNES, of Haverstraw, N. Y., who visits the Metropolis for a night to see life, and sees enough.....MR. JOHN T. KELLY

PROF. JOHN UNGERBLOTZ, a victim of circumstances..MR. DUTCH DALY

OLIVER TWIST HAPHAZARD, a janitor, the despotic ruler of the Sitting Bull Flats.....MR. CHARLES F. WILSON

ADAM CLUBBER, a policeman, whose idea of keeping the peace, is to keep at a distance from all disturbances.....MR. HARRY KELLY

PERCY VAN ASTOR, American by birth, but British by adoption.....MR. CHARLES F. WALTON

MLLE. VERMICELLI, a comic opera diety, worshipped by the "Johnnies".....MISS ADELE ESTEE

BABETTE, Mlle. Vermicelli's maid, called Babette, because it is tonier than Bridget.....MISS FLORRIE WEST

MRS. UNGERBLOTZ, the Professor's wife, whose temporary absence from home is the cause of all the trouble.....MISS FLORA VELDRAN

LITTLE CHERUB.....MISS AIMEE ANGELES

To be Sued for Running Down a Bicycle.

While driving a large farm wagon through Scotch Plains, Thursday afternoon, farmer McMurray ran into M'Cready Sykes riding a star bicycle. Sykes was thrown from his machine, and only by a miracle escaped being trampled beneath the horses' hoofs. The nigh horse danced up and down on the bicycle for a few seconds, and then started off, dragging it with him. It was disengaged at the end of about twenty-five feet, and then McMurray, it is said, in too much of a hurry to stop to see what mischief he had done, whipped up his horses and started for home.

John Brawley happened to be close by at the time of the accident, and together with Sykes chased the wagon for a quarter of a mile before they met anyone who could identify the driver. Sykes says that McMurray attempted to force him into the gutter. He refused to go, but rode at the extreme edge of the good road. The horse shied and caused the accident. Suit will be brought against McMurray.

Hires's Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25-cent package makes five gallons.

Gossip About Things Theatrical.

(FROM THE PRESS'S OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The regular season is under full swing now with considerable promise of prosperity. Henry E. Dixey is an object of interest just now to his many friends who are anxious to know what he will do with "The Solicitor" at Herrmann's. The first night he was extremely nervous and did neither himself nor the author justice. However, he has recovered his wanted equanimity and gives a very careful and interesting performance. The part played by Mr. Dixey does not give him the scope his talents as a funmaker are entitled to at present, but he will probably build it up in his own way before long. The supporting company was an excellent one and several individual hits were made—notably, Sidney Drew and Joseph Humphreys.

New York has not seen so good an all-round minstrel entertainment in years as that given at the Park theater this week by W. S. Cleveland's consolidated minstrels, which opened with such a big house in Plainfield. The surroundings, stage appointments and general arrangements reflect the highest credit upon Mr. Cleveland's taste, skill and liberality, while the company is one of the best, if not the best of the kind ever introduced here. Encores were so numerous as to become almost unanimous, and the audience and critics were alike well pleased.

Edward Harrigan has started the ball rolling again at his theater, with a repetition of "Reilly and the 400". All of the old favorites are in the cast and all of their old friends were in the audience on the opening night to give them hearty welcome home. In a few weeks Mr. Harrigan will present a new play from his gifted pen. It is now in preparation.

Next week will bring us two new and important attractions—"Boys and Girls" at the Park theater, and "The Cadi" at the Union Square. "Boys and Girls" is a new musical comedy by John J. McNally, author of "A Straight Tip", and is said to have been written in his best vein. A very strong company has been engaged by Managers Rich and Harris, including May Irwin, Wood and Shepherd, Ignatio Martinetti, and the Kirby sisters.

"The Cadi" is the offspring of Bill Nye's fertile brain. It will reproduce many of his own experiences as the general Poo-Bah of a western frontier town. Public curiosity is very much excited over the comedy on this account, and there is no doubt that it will meet with the biggest kind of success.

Frederick Paulding continues his successful career in "The Struggle of Life" at the Standard. The play has been shortened somewhat and is now running smoothly. Mr. Paulding is a very fortunate young man. His uncle, who wrote the play thirty years ago, left Fred $20,000 with which to produce the play. It is said that the entire amount has been already expended, and the assertion seems a reasonable one, considering the magnificence of the production.

Marshal Wilder, the diminutive humorist, is n't a bit grieved because he is so small. The other evening he deliberately walked under the brass rail at the entrance of the Union Square theater and passed inside without the door-keeper seeing him.

The present run of "Jane" at the Madison Square theater has been again extended, this time until November, so she will not get to Plainfield until later than expected.

H. C. Miner is very much disgruntled. His arrangements with the executors of the Gilsey estate were that his new Fifth avenue theater should be completed in time for him to open it on Nov. 3 with Sara Bernhardt. Now he finds that this will be impossible. Accordingly, in a fit of vicious humor, he has changed the big sign in front of the Broadway entrance so that it reads "This theater will open sometime".

SUNDAY SERVICES.

At the Warren Union Mission chapel, to-morrow, services will be held as follows: Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; song service, 7:30 p. m.; devotional service, 8 p. m., conducted by James Abos, of the Florence Mission, New York. All are welcome.

Those living in the vicinity of East Third street are cordially invited to the gospel services which will be held in the tent, to-morrow, at 4:30 and 8 p. m. A Sunday-school will be organized in connection with this mission, at half-past 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the First Baptist church, corner of Grove and Front streets, there will be preaching, to-morrow, by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p.m. The Sunday-school will meet at 2:30 p. m. To all these services every one will be welcome, especially the young.

Services in the Park Avenue Baptist church to-morrow will include preaching by the pastor, the Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, at 10:30 a. m., on the subject "Not by Might nor by Power." The Sunday-school will meet at 2:30 p. m., and the Swedish class at 4 p. m. All are welcome, and seats free.

The First Church of Christ will meet at Vanderbeck hall to-morrow at 10:30. The Lord's supper will be administered at 11:45. Sunday-school will meet at 2:30. A meeting will be held at Barry's Grove at 4:15, and an evening meeting will be held at 7:30. All are welcome to all these meetings. Seats are all free.

In the Trinity Reformed church, to-morrow, services will be held as follows: Preaching by the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, both morning and evening. At 10:30 a. m.—"Christ's Departure". At 7:45 p. m.—"The Last Great Prayer Meeting". Sabbath-school will be held at 2:30 p. m. A welcome is extended to all.

At the Methodist Episcopal church, to-morrow, the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell, pastor, will preach. Sunday-school will be held at 10 a. m. Morning service at 11 a. m. The pastor's subject will be "From under the school-master". The Epworth League will meet at 7 p. m. At 7:45 p. m., the pastor's subject will be "The Gospel of Mark", the second lecture in his course on the Four Gospels.

The 4 o'clock meeting at the W. C. T. U. rooms, to-morrow, will be conducted by M. Lippenoff, the young Russian who came to this country about four years ago, was converted to Protestantism in Philadelphia, and is now preparing himself for Gospel work in his own land. Thoroughly consecrated to the service of his Master, he is an interesting speaker, as well as a stanch temperance advocate, and as this is his last Sabbath in Plainfield, it is hoped that he will have a large audience. A cordial invitation is extended to all sister members of the Union, to Christian workers, generally, and to all who can to come and hear him. Everybody will be welcome.

THE GRIP'S AFTER EFFECTS.

Why You Do Not Get Back Your Strength.

There is no disease which leaves in its train so many weak, nervous, debilitated and discouraged sufferers as the grip. People who have had this disease do not recover their strength readily, but day after day attend to their employment in a weakened and exhausted condition, feeling tired and languid all the time. If this nervous weakness is allowed to run, a sudden attack of prostration, heart failure or paralysis may result.

The great strengthening and invigorating medicine to take in such cases, as well as for general debility, low blood, weak nerves, stomach, liver and kidney diseases, is Dr. Greene's Nervura. It will restore strength and health almost like magic. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.

"If it had not been for Dr. Greene's Nervura I should have been dead before this time. I had the Grip and it left me prostrated, extremely nervous, limbs stiff in the joints, bowels bloated badly and breathing terrible. In fact I was almost a complete wreck, and could do but little work of any kind. I commenced to take Dr. Greene's Nervura, and at the end of one week was better, and now I am able to do a full day's labor. CHARLES H. STEVENS, South Effingham, N. H."

OTTUMWA COAL PALACE.

A Structure Unique in Design and Perfect in Execution.

The Iowa coal palace at Ottumwa consists of a heavy shell of wood, built up with block coal on the outside. Just now the coal is being taken off and new coal put on. This comes from mines near the city, the entire product of which is taken by the Coal Palace Company. About 3,000 tons of this will be used this season, and the specifications require that it shall be in blocks 12 inches wide, 12 inches thick, and 30 inches long. The walls of the palace to the battlements are 38 feet, and this surface is thus covered. The solid corner towers and bastions are built up of coal to the top. The length of the palace is 325 feet and the width 215 feet. The tower in the center rises 240 feet to the flagstaff setting. At a height of 180 feet is a floor, the first which breaks its great height as one looks up from the inside. Elevators running in the four corner supports to the tower carry the visitors up to this open floor, where, looking out through the great double arches, an exquisite panorama of town and countryside, of wood and winding river, is presented to view.

The great interior of the palace is not broken by any obstructing partition. There is a clear sweep of view from one end to the other, from floor to roof. A great gallery 30 feet broad, sweeping all around at a height of 20 feet above the floor, is the only obstruction. The peak of the broad roof is 90 feet above the floor, while in the center, where the great tower rises, there is a clear space of 180 feet to the ceiling, and even then it seems as though one looked out upon the sky, for the decorators are putting on this surface a sky scene—a light-blue background with fleecy white clouds floating upon it.

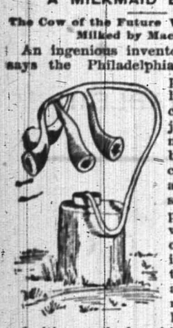
Nothing about the building, imposing as it is, is so wonderful as its decoration. To those who are not familiar with the capabilities of this new art the extent of its resources are astonishing and marvelous. The conventional decorative materials are almost wholly abandoned. Wheat and corn, millet and rye, and oats, and all the train of minute garden seeds which possess color and adaptability to certain ends, are utilized, and patient fingers work out wonderful designs, covering many square feet of wall space with their tiny particles. Here the national coat of arms, there a great basket piled with fruit, again a group of flags or a cluster of flowers, or a ship under full sail or a locomotive and train of cars stare at you from the walls. They seem painted on the smooth surface—but look close and you find that they are wrought out of the common seeds and grains. These kind of things run riot. Inside the great roof is thatched with wheat, producing a fine effect. All the wall space, the pillars and posts, the arches and tower and hollow interior of turrets are replete with this wonderful work which is more marvelous than anything men do in stone, for its complexity is a maze of beauty.

A MILKMAID ECLIPSE.

The Cow of the Future Will Probably Be Milked by Machinery.

An ingenious inventor of this city, says the Philadelphia Record, who passed his early life on a Bucks county farm, has just put on the market a novel but useful machine. A glance at the cut will show the purpose of the invention and its construction. It is to enable one to milk a cow in an improved manner over the laborious and primitive method, which is just the same now as it was when man first pressed the cow into service as a food supply.



Every one who has ever milked a cow or attempted to milk one knows that it is not such an easy thing as it looks, and that the milking of any number of them is quite a job. By the invention the work is very much simplified. Four rubber ends of a tube are placed over the udders of the cow, which they clutch firmly, and pressure is then exerted on the tube.

The milk flows, and the stream is kept up by pressing and releasing the tube just as in the regular way of milking.

The Dear Girls.

Ethel—Now, how old would you suppose me to be?

Maud—I shouldn't like to say.—Life.

A Promising Outlook.

Gus Snobberly, who is a poverty-stricken youth, applied to old Mr. Bondclipper for the hand of his daughter Lucy, who was in the room at the time.

"What are your resources?" asked old Bondclipper.

"In the first place, I've sent my application to President Harrison for a position in one of the departments."

"Have you any resources?" asked the prospective father-in-law.

"You bet I have. I'm seriously thinking about giving up smoking."

"Pa," exclaimed the young lady, "that's enough for us to begin with, isn't it?"—Texas Siftings.

Don't Judge by Appearances.

Mrs. Freshly—You just move on out of this. We don't feed any vagrants here.

Old Skinflint (grimly)—I guess you'll help to feed me. I'm the owner of these places hereabouts; and as my agent's sick this month I'm gathering in my own rents.—Puck.

New York Handicapped.

Bostonian—I see the Grant monument isn't up yet. Such a lack of public spirit is disgraceful. Why don't you hold a town meeting and raise the funds?

New Yorker—It is not a lack of public spirit that prevents us.

"Then what is it?"

"We don't know one another's language."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Considerate Official.

A stranger on the platform of a New York elevated road was leaning out, looking for an approaching train, when the man who turns the crank of the ticket box called out:

"Hello, there! You'll tumble down into the street, and then there will be another infernal fuss in the papers about it."—Texas Siftings.

A Dubious Comparison.

Tompkins—What do you think of Charley Talkington?

Miss De Smith—I rather admire him. He is quite a young Samson.

Tompkins—Perhaps you are right. Samson, you know, was the man who slew his enemies with the jawbone of an ass.—Munsey's Weekly.

Realism in Art.

Long—I know an artist who painted a runaway horse. It was so natural that the beholders jumped out of the way.

Downing—Humph! My friend Mr. Gilp painted a portrait of a lady that was so natural that he had to sue her for his bill.—Life.

Caller—Want any jokes?

Editor Comic Weekly—If they are good ones.

"Well, I've got some of the funniest things you ever read."

"What are they?"

"Verdicts of coroners' juries."—Good News.

Went Back on Him.

Dashaway—See here, uncle; I gave you a dollar the other day on the plea that one of your children was dead, and I saw the little imp yesterday as lively as a cricket.

Uncle Jasper—Yes, sah; dat chile is de mos' disappointin' chile you eber see.—Judge.

Malice Aforethought.

Witness—He came towards me and wanted ter kick me on de leg six times.

Judge—How do you know he had the intention of kicking you six times?

Witness—Bekase dat's jess the number ob black and blue spots I've got on my leg.—Texas Siftings.

A Personal Sermon.

May—So Rev. Mr. Thirdly was proposing to you, was he?

Belle—Oh, no; he was just preaching a personal sermon.

May—Indeed! What was his text?

Belle—Gen. ii. 18—"It is not good for man to be alone."—N. Y. Herald.

When They Sprinkle.

Uncle Josh—What's that thing?

City Nephew—That's a sprinkling cart.

Uncle Josh—It don't seem to be sprinklin' much.

City Nephew—Wait till it gets to a crossing.—Good News.

Why They Applaud.

Criticus—I see that Mr. Mansforde advertises that "incessant applause" greets his new play.

Man About Town—Yes, the audience is afraid that if it lets up a bit they'll hear some of the lines.—N. Y. Telegram.

An Adept.

Gentleman—I never had such a perfect polish on these boots as you have given them.

Western Hotel Porter (modestly)—I used to be a private soldier in the regular army.—N. Y. Weekly.

BACK FROM THE DEAD

A Soldier Who Was Supposed Killed at Shiloh.

RETURNING AFTER MANY YEARS

Rendered Crazy by a Wound He Had Been Wandering About the Country.

Some Instinct Finally Led Him Back to His Old Home—Recognized by His Family and Friends—His Wife Had Been Drawing a Widow's Pension—History of a Strange Case.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 21.—One of the most remarkable and pathetic cases that has ever been brought to the attention of the Bureau of Pensions is that of William Newby, a private of Company D, 40th Regiment, Illinois Volunteers, which was conspicuous for its gallantry at the battle of Shiloh. Newby was in this battle on April 6, 1862, and was reported killed in action.

It seems, however, that instead of being killed he received a severe wound of the head and was captured and sent to the rear by the Confederate forces, and was imprisoned at Belle Isle, and was afterward transferred to Andersonville. It seems that Newby was released in course of time and was in poor houses in various parts of the South.

He was finally taken to Key West, Florida, by a gentleman who recognized Newby as a kinsman. Here he remained until 1869 when his uncle died. Newby wandered from place to place and finally turned up at Shreveport, La.; while there the colored people made up a purse and he was given passage on a steamboat to Cincinnati.

On the way up the river the steamboat landed at Shawneestown, Ill. Newby hearing this name called out seemed to recognize something that was familiar and got off the boat.

He was in poor houses at that place and in several other towns. During these years he was in a demented condition bordering on insanity as the result of the wound in the head. In wandering about he finally went over into White county, and when he got near his old home was seen and recognized by two of his old comrades who had served in the regiment with him. His wife was sent for and she recognized him, as did his relatives and many of his friends and comrades.

After Newby was reported as killed in action his wife applied for a pension and it was granted, and she has been drawing a widow's pension from the date of his reported death to the present time. This soldier had filed a claim for a pension, and it is now receiving the consideration of the office, the claim of the widow being suspended in the meantime. No discharge has ever been granted to the soldier and the consideration of the pension claim is being postponed until such time as the Secretary of War shall grant the man a discharge.

This soldier has been separated from his family for a period of 29 years, they believing all the while that he was dead, and he now turns up a forlorn, demented old man.

Judge Morrow's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 21.—The appointment of ex-Representative W. W. Morrow to be United States District Judge for the Northern District of California, will have an important bearing upon the war that is being waged against Chinese immigration by the people of the Pacific Slope. Mr. Morrow is one of the most extreme anti-Celestial advocates in the State, and has already declared that the law has been violated frequently by the judges who have granted writs of habeas corpus for the release of Chinamen who have come in against the statutory prohibition.

Killed His Wife While Drunk.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sep. 21.—Howard Cooling, 35 years old, a carriage finisher, while drunk, killed his wife Zelia, last night. He says she called him a drunken bummer and he struck her with a mustard bottle. There is no evidence of this blow, but the physicians think Cooling choked her to death as marks found on her neck and blood from the mouth show this. Cooling confessed the deed and gave himself up at the police station. They have been married twelve years and have two children.

Veterans Elect Officers.

NEW YORK, Sep. 21.—The veterans of the United States regular army met in annual convention here yesterday and elected officers as follows: National Commander, W. H. Hutt, M. D., of Philadelphia; National Vice-Commander, Thomas Smith, of Newark; National Adjutant, Joseph B. Burns, of Philadelphia; National Quartermaster, George App, of New York; National Inspector, John C. Kelly, of New York; National Judge Advocate, W. E. Morris, of New York; National Chaplain, H. L. Husberger, of Philadelphia.

Major Bundy's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The body of Major Jonas M. Bundy, late editor of the "Mail and Express," who died in Paris two weeks ago, arrived on the steamer La Champagne, yesterday. The funeral takes place at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church to-day.

EX-CONGRESSMAN SCOTT DEAD.

His Demise Sudden and Unexpected—Due to Heart Failure.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sep. 21.—Ex-Congressman W. L. Scott is dead. His demise was very sudden and occurred shortly before midnight. Mr. Scott had long been a sufferer from acute gastro-intestinal catarrh and two weeks ago he was brought here from his home in Erie, Pa., the doctors being of the opinion that the climate of Newport would be beneficial.

This belief was realized, for he began to gain at once and his improvement continued until Friday. During the afternoon of that day he had an attack of heart failure and another on Saturday. Another attack occurred at midnight from which he could not be revived and death ensued.

The family left with the remains this morning for their home in Erie, Penn.

Dr. Wm. Pepper, who has attended Mr. Scott during his illness, said the death of that gentleman was very sudden and unexpected.

Mr. Scott was born in Washington, D. C., July 2, 1828, of Virginia parentage. He was early left an orphan and in destitute circumstances. He began his career as a page in the House of Representatives. General Reed, of Erie, Pa., who then represented that district in the House, started him as shipping clerk in the lake trade. Mr. Scott subsequently became largely interested in the coal and iron business and also in railroads. He married the sister of Frank D. Tracy of the New York Stock Exchange.

In politics he was a Democrat and was elected a member of the Forty-ninth Congress. Mr. Scott was also a prominent patron of the turf and owned many good race horses. He was a director of the Union Pacific, Lake Shore, Northwestern and Canadian Southern railroads, and laterly was a shrewd and able speculator on the New York Stock Exchange.

AN OLD MASON DEAD.

Ira Berry, Who Helped Build the First Telegraph Line to New York.

PORTLAND, Me., Sep. 21.—Ira Berry, Grand Secretary of the Masons of Maine, died yesterday, aged 90 years. He learned the printer's trade and after working in various newspaper offices at this business he went to the editor's desk.

In 1844 he went to Boston and assisted in building the first telegraph line to New York. He was the first operator and manager of the Boston office.

He then came to Portland and managed a telegraph office and was later employed in the Custom House here. In 1855 he was elected Grand Secretary of the Masonic Chapter, since which time he has been solely engaged in Masonic duties.

Killed By a Fall.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 21.—The tragic death of ex-Alderman Samuel Kent is much deplored. He fell from a scaffold above the fourth story of a new block in West Fayette street, a distance of about 50 feet, and struck head first on a flagstone, fracturing his skull. Death was instantaneous. Mr. Kent was a miner in California some years ago and accumulated considerable wealth. Returning to Syracuse he became an extensive salt manufacturer and afterward a building contractor. He was the Republican Alderman for two years from the First Ward.

In Honor of 70-year-old Triplets.

TORRINGTON, Sep. 21.—The people of this town will on Wednesday unite in celebrating the seventieth birthday of Matthew, Daniel and William Grant. The Torrington band will furnish the music, and local societies will parade. In the afternoon the town fathers and other leading citizens will give the brothers a banquet at Conley's Inn.

One of the most interesting features of the occasion will be some old-fashioned singing by the brothers. They are apparently as vigorous as men of forty.

Peculiar and Fatal Cattle Disease.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Sep. 21.—The cattle in this and adjoining counties are being attacked with a peculiar and thus far unidentified disease, which, in nearly every instance, proves fatal. The disease first appeared about two weeks ago, and already hundreds of cattle have perished. When attacked the animal's head falls helplessly and its legs seem unable to bear the weight of the body. It is believed that the disease is a form of Texas splenic fever and was brought here by southern cattle.

Open Letter to Gen. Mahone.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 21.—Col. H. C. Parsons, the noted Virginian Republican leader, has issued an open letter to Gen. Mahone, questioning the right of the latter to dictate the policy of the Virginia Republicans in the next campaign and censuring him, in polite terms, for doing so. Col. Parsons' principal grievance is the action of Gen. Mahone in advising the Republicans of the State, as chairman of the State Committee, not to name any candidates in the next election.

Gen. Joseph F. Knapp Dead.

NEW YORK, Sep. 21.—General Joseph F. Knapp, President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, died on Monday last on board the steamer La Champagne, which arrived here yesterday.

ALL CHILI REJOICES

Gladness Over the Suicide of Balmaceda.

THE HATRED OF HIM INTENSE.

The National Holidays Prolonged On Account of the Event.

Exulting Crowds Parade the Streets Shouting in Triumph at the Death of Their Former Ruler—History of the ex-President—How the News is Received in England.

VALPARAISO, Chili, via GALVESTON, Tex., Sep. 21.—The suicide of Balmaceda Saturday morning in his bedroom at the Argentine Legation in Santiago is the one absorbing and exciting topic of conversation in every part of the city.

There is a mingled feeling of savage rejoicing at his death and of bitter regret that he should have killed himself instead of falling into the clutches of the infuriated citizens, who would have delighted to rend him limb from limb for the long list of cruelties for which they hold him responsible.

It is impossible for any one not in this country or not a native to realize the intensity of the hatred that was entertained toward the ex-President. The national holidays, which were to have ended on Saturday night, have been prolonged by the news of the suicide.

The feasts, illuminations and other celebrations in honor of the success of the Congressional party have been followed by the marching of frenzied crowds through the streets shouting songs of triumph over the death of their former ruler.

His History.

Juan Manual Balmaceda was born in Santiago 51 years ago. He was carefully educated for a priest at Santiago. As soon as his academic studies were completed his turbulent and active nature drove him into politics.

At 28 Balmaceda, who was already distinguished throughout Chili, was elected a deputy to Congress. He served five terms with credit and was the champion and idol of the great Liberal party. President Santa Maria made him Minister of Foreign Affairs in 1885. The next year Balmaceda was elected President of the republic by an overwhelming majority. For three years the country enjoyed unprecedented prosperity and he was the most popular man in Chili.

His policy changed, and as the time drew near for his re-election, Balmaceda determined upon a coup d'etat to make himself master of Chili. He dismissed his able Ministers and formed a Cabinet with the unpopular Sanfuentes at the head. Balmaceda next announced Sanfuentes as a candidate for the Presidency. Quarrels with the deputies followed. Ministers were removed, restored again, and the civil war that has just ended was finally brought about.

JOY AND RELIEF.

How the News of Balmaceda's Suicide is Regarded in England.

LONDON, Sep. 21.—The news of Balmaceda's death made a marked impression here, and was the chief topic, even surpassing the question of the Bardanelles. The general feeling in English commercial circles is one of relief and joy. While Balmaceda lived there never could be an assurance that Balmaceda, who undoubtedly had a large following in Chili, might not stir up another revolution, and reverse the order of things to the great detriment and disappointment of the English interests in control of the nitrate traffic.

A prominent Chilian said this morning that Balmaceda never intended to fly from Chili. He would sooner have surrendered to the enemy than to have left his native country, forever, and preferred death to surrender. He remained alive in Santiago until his Presidential term was over, which was on Friday, Sep. 18, and on Saturday he killed himself. The atrocities of his subordinates were largely responsible for the hatred borne him by the Congressionalists.

An Interesting Libel Suit.

LANCASTER, N. N., Sept. 21—The suit of Dr. H. S. Pomeroy, a prominent practitioner of Boston, against the Rev. Charles Herbert Gleason, of Somers, Conn., for $10,000 damages, is based on the allegations made against plaintiff by defendant in the latter's suit for divorce from his wife, Fannie Clark Gleason. Mr. Gleason, who was arrested and taken to Colebrook, has been released on bail. The case promises to be one of great interest, as both parties are well known in Massachussetts and Connecticut.

Big Stock Yard Transferred.

BOSTON, Sep. 21.—A controlling interest in the Nebraska Stock Yard Company, located at Lincoln, Neb., has been purchased by a syndicate of Boston capitalists, represented by Charles H. North, the late head of the North Packing and Provision Company of this city. The transfer takes place immediately and active operations will begin November 1. The purchase price is something over half a million.

DISASTROUS FREIGHT WRECK.

Three Men Severely Hurt—Stock and Merchandise Burned.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sep. 21.—A bad freight wreck occurred two miles east of here on the Pennsylvania road at 1 o'clock yesterday, in which Fireman Rogers, Engineer Crawford and Brakeman Staley were severely hurt and forty cars and an engine demolished.

A west bound freight train on a steep down grade broke in to and the two parts came together again. At this moment an east bound freight train running at a high rate of speed came along and crashed into the west bound train. The engine of the east bound train together with twenty cars, laden with hogs and merchandise rolled over the embankment.

Fireman Rogers of the eastbound train went down the embankment under the wreckage. After four hours' hard work he was rescued from the huge mass of debris badly cut and bruised, but not fatally hurt.

Shortly after Rogers' rescue the debris took fire, and the bodies of the dead hogs and a large amount of merchandise was burned. The loss will be pretty heavy. No blame is attached to the crews of either train.

FAILED TO SHOW UP.

A Wedding That Didn't Take Place—Escapades of the Husband Expectant.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sep. 21.—The failure of Edward Hamon, of Homer, to appear at the time set for his marriage with Miss Minnie Johnson, a society belle of Truxton, has created no end of talk. The expectant bride is nearly crazed with shame. Hamon is the son of prominent church people, and has been in several difficulties before.

He was arrested on one occasion for breach of promise on complaint of a young lady of Albany County, but the matter was settled out of court. A lady in Marathon is after him on a similar charge, while the father of a Brewery Hill girl wants him for abducting his daughter and keeping her in Binghamton for three months. Hamon is an all-around deceiver. He is about 30 years old and is of a very sanctimonious appearance. His whereabouts are unknown.

A Maniac in Custody.

WINSTED, Conn., Sep. 21.—Frank Kelly, the crazy man who created such excitement here, has been removed to the asylum at Middletown. Kelly was a very large and powerful man, for a long time employed in Senator W. H. Barnum's iron works. Recently he became violently insane and wandered off into the woods. People in the vicinity were so afraid of him that they scarcely dared go out at night unarmed. A searching party under the lead of Lawyer Munn, of this place, was finally organized, and Saturday he was captured by strategem. He was almost starved and his entire body was covered with bruises and scratches.

Rahway's River Festival.

RAHWAY, N. J., Sep. 21.—The River Carnival Saturday night was a grand success. The crowd numbered fully 15,000. Gov. Abbett, Leon Abbett, jr., and many other well-known men were present. Over 100 boats, gayly decked with Japanese lanterns, were in the river parade. Greek fire was burned on many of the boats and along the route. Commodore Walther Lutgen was in command of the flotilla. Major Chamberlain's handsome schooner James Paterson was the flagship.

Trouble in the Trainmen's Brotherhood.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sep. 21.—A fresh incident in the contention between the old and new boards of trustees of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was caused by the arrival home of Grand Master I. E. Wilkinson. The old Board of Trustees called on him and demanded his annual statement and the books of the Brotherhood, but he declined to recognize them in an official capacity and refused their requests. Mr. Wilkinson avers his willingness to let the convention decide the dispute.

Will Let the Convicts Loose.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 21.—The statement is positively made by citizens of Coal Creek and Briceville that the convicts in that region will be released so surely as the Legislature adjourns without taking some step looking to a final removal of the coavicts. No one ventures an opinion as to when it will be done. They will be set free this time if they are disturbed at all.

The Warren-McCarthy Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 21.—Tommy Warren and Cal McCarthy have both surrendered themselves, and have given bonds for their appearance. Joseph Sporl, Acting President of the Olympic Club, declare that if an attempt is made to stop the contest he will get out an injunction before the Civil District Court, restraining any contemplated interference.

Two Children Burned to Death.

BOSTON, Sep. 21.—Sadie and Mary Cullen, aged respectively 7 and 5 years, were burned to death at their home, 29 Norfolk avenue, yesterday morning. Two younger children were rescued by the firemen. The children had been locked in their bedroom by their parents, who went to church. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it probably originated around the kitchen range.

New London-New York Line.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 21.—The Atlantic Transport Line of steamers between London and Baltimore has arranged to start a line between London and New York, beginning with the despatch of the steamer Alexander Elder from New York November 21. The service will be bi-monthly.

Acts of Starving Russians.

VIENNA, Sep. 21.—Numerous incendiary fires are reported as occuring in Russia. The starving peasants set buildings on fire in order to share in the plunder of such places. In the Kieff district nine places were burned in two days. Many arrests have been made.

MUCH LIKE RUSSIA

Outrages Upon Hebrews in a New Jersey Town.

DRIVEN OUT FROM THEIR HOMES

Beaten With Sticks and Stones and Made Wanderers in the Land.

Because the Hebrews Were Paid More Wages, a Crowd of Strikers Vows General Vengeance Upon the Race—Many Sympathisers Aid the Mob in its Lawless Work—Disgraceful Scenes.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Sep. 21.—Scenes which call to mind the persecution of the Hebrews in Russia have been enacted in this place the last few days.

When the glass works of Whitall, Tatum & Co., employing over 3,000 men and boys, opened, there was a scarcity of young men, and as there were three colonies of Russian Hebrews near Millville, it was easy to obtain large boys of that race to work in the factory. They were paid $4 a week. The smaller boys, who were getting less, protested, saying they ought to have as much, because they had been there longer, not taking into consideration the fact that the Hebrew boys did more work, because they were larger and stronger.

The Superintendent refused to pay the smaller boys more, whereupon they all went out, to the number of 500. They gathered sticks and stones, and soon they met a quiet and inoffensive Hebrew, a citizen of Millville for many years. He was pounced upon, flung to the ground and terribly pummelled. Not satisfied with beating him the ringleaders hooked a stick in his long, flowing beard and twisted it until the hair was yanked from his face.

Other Hebrews who were encountered in the streets were captured and marched to the depot and ordered to leave by the first train, the strikers standing guard over them, until the train pulled out. From one of the incoming trains, two Hebrew peddlers got off and started uptown with their packs. They were pounced upon and hammered with tin cans and brickbats. Then they were dragged back to the train, put aboard and warned never to put foot again in Millville.

The strikers had by this time been joined by many sympathizers and now numbered nearly a thousand. The procession visited every house in town in which a Hebrew was thought to be hidden. Notices were left commanding every one to leave town before sundown on Saturday. Whenever a Hebrew was encountered he was beaten nearly into insensibility and ordered to clear out at once and to tell all the members of his race to get out as quickly as possible or they would be killed and their homes destroyed.

Since then there has been an exodus of Hebrews, some leaving by train, some by wagons, and many who had no means to pay transportation went afoot. Out of the hundred or more Hebrews in Millville on Friday not more than half a dozen remained Saturday night. These were set upon as soon as their presence became known and driven from the town with clubs.

After the disgraceful scenes Whitall, Tatum & Co. shut down the factory and denied every employe admission. The town is quiet now.

The employes who object to being deprived of their means of livelihood are threatening to drive the strikers from town unless they soon arrive at an understanding with the company.

A RUN ON THE BANK.

Treasurer Ostrander's Defalcation Makes Depositors Anxious.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sep. 21.—The excitement occasioned by the defalcation of Treasurer Ostrander of the Ulster County Savings Institution, has been intensified somewhat by a continuous run on the bank by anxious depositors, hundreds of whom flocked to the city from the surrounding country on the receipt of the news. The bank is prepared for the emergency and all deposits are paid on demand, the bank having added to the cash on hand the sum of $30,000 received from New York.

All of the local National banks offered their assistance in case of necessity.

Defaulting Treasurer Ostrander continues a prisoner at his home in the custody of the Chief of Police. At the opening of the Court of Sessions here application will be made to Judge Cody of Hudson, for his admission to bail.

Ostrander has made a general assignment of his property to Captain Jacob H. Tromper, of the Romer & Tromper Steamboat Company, giving preferences to his bondsmen.

Earthquakes in the West.

TACOMA, Wash., Sep. 21.—Within the past two weeks four distinct shocks of earthquakes have been felt, and in each instance the range of the tremors have been wide enough to extend into Oregon. The heaviest shock of all occurred yesterday morning. In the larger buildings the tremblies struck terror to the inmates, and at the hotels many of the late rising guests appeared in the hallways en dishabille. It was with difficulty that many of the ladies could be persuaded to return to their rooms.

Amateur Athletic Union.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sep. 21.—The Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States held their first annual championship games in the afternoon in Union Park under the auspices of the Baltimore Athletic club. There was a large attendance and good sport.

Specie Exports.

NEW YORK, Sep. 21.—The exports of specie from this port for the last week amounted to $919,720, of which $105,008 was gold and $814,712 silver. Of this $813,160 in silver went to Europe and all of the gold and $1,502 in silver to the West Indies.

WILL NOT BE PROSECUTED.

Lottery Articles Published by Milwaukee Editors Not Against the Law.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 21.—Attorney-General Miller has caused to be dismissed the prosecutions recently commenced in Milwaukee against certain newspaper publishers for printing an argument against the validity of the anti-lottery law passed by the Fifty-first Congress.

"The articles," says the Attorney-General, "were published and republished with the evident purpose of attempting to create a public sentiment against the law rather than to advertise the business of any lottery company. In my opinion the law was not directed against the circulation of such publications in the mails, and the prosecutions, therefore were ill-advised and ought not to be continued.

"While I am in favor of prosecuting vigorously every infraction of the law, whether direct or evasive I think the refusal of the use of the mails to papers discussing the principles or policy of the law is unwarranted, and would hurt rather than help the cause in the interest of which the law was enacted."

GERMAN CATHOLICS.

Fifth Annual Convention—An Important Meeting Expected.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 21.—The fifth annual convention of German Catholics of America will be held here this week beginning to-night with a grand parade in which 10,000 people are expected to be in line.

If the significance attached to the convention is correct, it will be one of the most important religious gatherings of the year.

It is intended in the convention to demonstrate the strength of the German Catholics in America, and their right to either the supreme control or at least a fair show of the control of the church in this country.

Delegations are expected from every State in the Union, and it is said many German societies have contributed funds to carry needy members to the Convention, so that it may exceed in numbers anything of the kind heretofore held. The Convention will occupy four days.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The President has appointed Henry F. Goodwin Passed Assistant Surgeon in the Marine Hospital service; Jefferson Brown, a Chief Engineer in the Navy with relative rank of Lieutenant-Commander; Pay Inspector Edward Stuart of the Navy a Pay Director, and Frank H. Whitney, a gunner in the Navy. Wm. W. Morrow of California, to be U. S. District Judge for the northern district of California. Mack A. Montgomery of Mississippi, to be U. S. District Attorney for the northern district of Mississippi.

A Compromise Effected.

BOSTON, Sep. 21.—At a meeting of the creditors of Allen & Co., boot and shoe dealers (under the title of the Boston Boot & Shoe Company) in Danielsonville, Conn., and Lawrence, Newburyport, Franklin and Amesbury, Mass., an offer by C. S. Carl to take the assets and pay the creditors 35 cents on the dollar was favorably received.

ANOTHER DAY'S RECORD.

Indisputable Evidence That Besides Being Plainfield's Only Newspaper, THE PRESS is the People's Only Medium of Public Communication.

There is no doubt of the fact that THE PRESS is Plainfield's only newspaper. That has been established for months.

But besides that, each day for the past many weeks, evidence is presented that it is also the people's only medium of public communication.

Take its last issue again, for instance.

It contained 20 columns of live advertising, while the same issue of the "news" had but 13 columns in all, counting the dead.

The same issue of the "news" contained but 24 cent-a-word advertisements of the people's wants and offers, while THE PRESS contained 44. This one comparison alone proves that THE PRESS is the only advertising medium that the whole community recognizes.

Then take the matter of church notices. They are sent in to the papers by the church officers for the information of the whole people. They are inserted gratuitously, and it is reasonable to suppose that under such circumstances the notices will be sent to every newspaper known in the city.

Saturday's "news" had 16 of these notices, while THE PRESS had 25. That proves that over one-third of the religious societies of Plainfield do not know of the existence of any paper except THE PRESS. "Daisy Delmore's" organ is dead to the decent people, at least.

It will be dead to the world within a few months.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The regular rehearsals of the Melopoia will be resumed Tuesday evening, Oct. 6.

—Easter Lodge, K. of H., holds a regular meeting this evening in their rooms in Music Hall building.

—The Plainfield Bicycle Club will hold their annual fall bicycle and athletic tournament early in November.

—Mr. Venino will resume the giving of lessons on the piano, this week. Pupils should apply for hours at once.

—Anchor Lodge, F. & A. M., meets tomorrow evening in regular communication for the first time since July.

—Gazelle Engine company have accepted the invitation to attend the coming firemen's parade at Somerville. They will take a band of music with them.

—The many friends of Frank Lynch of this city will regret to hear that he has left town to live with his people in Boston. He had many warm friends in the machine shop and around Pondville, where he lived.

—The Blue Stars of Grant avenue defeated the Sixth Streeters Saturday morning on the Stars' grounds by the score of 24 to 4. The battery for the Stars were Young and Owens; for the Sixth Streeters, Littell and Comus.

—The Boys' Club defeated the Cuban Giants for the third time, Saturday. The score was 17 to 12. After the game, it is said, the Giants discharged their battery and accused them of selling the game. The Giants have got a new battery now and will play against their old one next Saturday.

—One of the Mission subscription books spoken of by Mr. Hamilton at the recent Plainfield Conference has been secured by the First Baptist Christian Endeavor Society at New Market, and is being filled with the names of members who are glad to help along the great work for Christ in foreign fields.

—The Melopoia concerts are to be resumed this winter. Owing to the limited seating capacity of the Casino, only 14 subscriptions are for sale, the balance of the 500 being distributed among the members at the rate of 4 apiece. The management promise solo music superior to that of any other season.

—The mission band of the New Market Baptist church have arranged for a bag fair, to be held on the lawn adjoining the residence of E. H. Graves, this week Thursday afternoon and evening, from 3 until 9 o'clock. A great variety of neatly worked bags of every imaginable design and for all sorts of purposes will be on sale. The display will be a very novel one, and everybody ought to see it and patronize the young people. The proceeds will be devoted to foreign missions.

—The second anniversary of the organization of of the First Baptist Christian Endeavor Society at New Market, will be appropriately celebrated to-morrow evening. The Rev. Frank B. Everitt, of Trenton, ex-State Secretary, and the present State Secretary, Halsey Hammond, of Boonton, Morris county, will address the meeting. Master Frank J. Sims, of Brooklyn, is also expected to be present, and will sing a solo. Several neighboring Christian Endeavor societies and the Epworth League of Dunellen will probably attend. Members of visiting societies are requested to wear their society badge.

THE GILT-EDGED CRESCENTS NOWHERE.

Somerville's West Ends Bowl Them Over Like a Lot of Wooden Nine-pins.

To those who had anticipated seeing another such a rare and perfect game as that of the previous week, Saturday's exhibition of base-ball playing was a sad disappointment. It was a game of many wretched and few praiseworthy features, and when it was all over the score stood 8 to 5 in favor of Somerville.

It was n't the gilt-edged Crescent team that the West Ends played against. Instead a lot of changelings had been substituted—dummies who played base-ball about as well as could be expected of Mrs. Jarley's wax-works.

The Crescent management began the game with a mistake by putting Hammill in the box. It was to have been expected that the best of pitchers could n't stand up successfully in so many games against the West End heavy batters. Hammill had done superb work against the Somervillians, and could n't hope to hold out against them forever. Saturday afforded a fine chance for Tierney to be given a trial.

But what sickened the spectators most was the stupid errors of the Crescent fielders. In the first inning Holly and Keeler each made a bad misplay, and two runs resulted. In the fifty Lufbery let a ball that was thrown to him to shut Connell off from reaching second, go through his hands, and Connell started for third. Jones threw in the ball so that it struck Connell in the back and bounded off and was lost in the grass. Of course Connell scored. A base on balls was responsible for one of the runs in the sixth. But the truly horrible playing—the worst ever seen on the grounds—was that which the Crescents were guilty of in the third. In that inning four hits—one of them a two-bagger—were made in succession, resulting in two earned runs. Then it was that the Crescents went all to pieces. When Kennedy made a hit Lufbery started for it and could have got it in time to prevent Kennedy from reaching second, but instead he suddenly stopped stock still, as if rooted to the spot, and let the ball roll on into right field. When Tierney returned the ball he sent it far over Bonner's head, and Bonner had to dive under the scorer's stand to recover it. When he stood up ready to throw, Kennedy was plunging for third. Lee, who ought to have been covering the base, stood with his back to it, just about as animate as a clothing-store dummy, gazing off towards the breeze-tossed tree-tops on the mountains. Consequently when Bonner threw the ball to third it whizzed past Lee's ear and went far out towards McIndoe, and Kennedy scored. Over such a combination of horrors there was indeed wailing and gnashing of teeth among the Crescents' backers, but Leidy, who was coaching at third, danced for joy. The three runs in this inning were all made after two men were out.

The third earned run of the West Ends was made in the sixth. Leidy sent a hot liner to left that McIndoe tried hard to catch three inches off the ground. The attempt was a noble one, but it failed, and the hit counted as a three-bagger. A force hit by Major brought Leidy safely in. The one earned run of the Crescents was made by Jones, off his own three-bagger, followed by single hits by Lufbery and Tierney. In the fourth inning the Crescents were assisted by three errors and a passed ball, and scored four unearned runs. The crowd went wild with joy, for it looked as though Somerville had gone to pieces and was beaten, but Jones's earned run was the only subsequent bit of scoring for Plainfield.

Earned runs—Crescents, 1; West Ends, 3. Three-base hits—Jones, Holly, Leidy. Two-base hits—Jones, Keeler, Harkins (2), Major. First base on balls—Off Harkins, 1; off Hammill, 2. First base on errors—Crescents, 3; West Ends, 1. Double plays—Keeler to Holly; Holly to Keeler; Lee to Holly to Keeler; Carbonell to Heiser. Flies caught—By Crescents, 8; by West Ends, 11. Foul flies caught—By Crescents, 0; by West Ends, 2. Wild pitch—none. Passed ball—Kennedy. Umpires—Faas and Berriman. Time of game—2 hours.

The trouble with the Crescents' hitting was that they would insist on reaching up in the air for all sorts of high balls, and the result was a lot of little easy pop-up flies that were just nuts for the West Ends.

Jones did well enough with a two-bagger, a three-bagger, two long flies to left and centre, and a little one to first. In the field he accepted five chances without an error. Bonner caught a superb game. Tierney got his first strike-out of the season, by not trying to hit and having three strikes called by umpire Berriman. Holly again showed signs of getting back into his old form as a heavy hitter, and made a three-bagger. Keeler kept up his reputation as a sure batter.

The only ones of the West Ends who did n't get a hit were Roberts and Heiser. Even little Major, one of Somerville's town amateurs, got a single hit, a two-bagger, a force hit, and made a long fly to centre. He was left on bases three times.

Farrell was conspicuous by his absence. Harkins said that the Crescents had paid him $10 to stay away. As short-stop, Heiser was not a glaring success. He made four errors out of the six fielding chances he had.

Connell stepped out of the home-plate box every time he struck at the ball. Three times the umpire did n't see it, and he reached first safely. The fourth time he stepped two feet beyond the limits, and umpire Berriman called him out.

Four double plays were made during the game. They were all done with neatness, quickness, and dexterity, but even though Plainfield made three of them she could n't win.

The record to date in the contest for the semi-professional championship of New Jersey is now as follows:

	Won	Lost	Average
Plainfield	5	3	.625
Somerville	5	5	.500
Westfield	2	4	.333

THEY HAD A SOMERVILLE BATTERY.

Yet Plainfield's Bicycle Club Nine Defeated the Bayonne Outing Team Again.

Although the West Ends defeated the Crescents, Saturday, the West End amateur battery could not defeat the Bicycle club's team. The latter beat the Bayonne Outing team by the score of 8 to 4, thus winning two out of three games.

The Bayonne team came to Plainfield to win, having McFarlan and Dicker the West Ends amateur battery, with them. But Wyckoff was too much for the Bayonnes and their assistants. He struck out 15 men and held the visiting nine down to one hit.

The Bicycle club team showed marked improvement in their base running and general team work, especially Dawe, whose throwing was very accurate. The Bicycle club team had their pictures taken before the game. The teams and the score were as follows:

BICYCLE CLUB.	BAYONNE.
Dawe, catcher	Scofield, first base
Sheppard, centre field	A. D. McFarlan, pitcher

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Ada Whitman, formerly of this city and now of New York, is visiting Miss Ida Coles of East Front street.

A. V. D. Honeyman, editor and proprietor of The Trenton Times, paid a pleasant visit to the office of THE PRESS to-day.

The PRESS office was honored to-day by a call from Senator Wm. J. Keys of Somerset county. This gentleman has many warm friends in this city.

Mrs. Augustus C. Baldwin, of Park avenue, is so ill of an attack of nervous prostration that there is reason to fear the worst results.

The steamship Aller is due in New York harbor to-day, with the family of Mr. Woltman of Seventh street on board. They have been spending the summer in Germany.

Annie M. Wainwright died in this city, yesterday, at 36 years of age. Funeral services will be held at her late home, 157 East Second street, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Wm. E. Johnson, sexton of the M. E. church, will leave town next week Tuesday or Wednesday for a two weeks' visit to his brothers and sisters in Richmond, Va., whom he has not seen since '72.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Groendyke, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. VanVliet, Ruth Gray VanVliet, Mrs. Fanny G. Foster, and Miss Jennie G. Foster, are registered at Lake Mohawk Mountain house where they arrived last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Hicks, of 250 West Third street, gave a lawn party at their residence, Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Holt, of Lake Village, N. H. Among the guests were noticed Mr. and Mrs. Scofield, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughters, Lillie E. and Flora, Mrs. Randolph, Miss Mamie McVey, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bartlett, of West Front street; Mrs. Manning and daughters, Lizzie and Addie, of Fourth street and Grant avenue; Miss Mabel Mitchell, of Third and Grant avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Vegiard. A pleasant evening was passed by all, and the party broke up at 11:30 p. m., wishing their host and hostess many days of happiness.

KATIE IS MISSING NOW.

The Cruelty-Prevention Society Will Look Into the Charges Against Her Aunt.

Mrs. John Rittenhouse, who interfered to prevent fourteen-year-old Katie Glynn from alleged cruelty, objects to the statement of justice Nash that he lectured all the parties concerned and sent them home to behave themselves. She says that justice Nash and constable Moffett themselves furnished bonds in the sum of $50 that Mrs. Silas Cox, the aunt accused of beating Katie with a billet of wood, should not abuse the child any more. Mrs. Rittenhouse says that both she and other neighbors have seen cruel beatings committed on Katie's body. She adds that the charge of being officious is unjust, as hitherto she and Mrs. Cox have been very friendly, only she could not look idly on and see the child abused without offering her protection.

The case has been reported to Charles Place, Mayor of North Plainfield, and president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. He has promised to investigate.

Meanwhile Katie has run away from home—to escape further cruelty, it is alleged. She is supposed to have left town altogether. Her friends are searching for her. At Mrs. Louis K. Clarke's, where she worked, some wages are due her. When she is found, the society will secure the appointment of a guardian.

Katie is said to be in such terror of Mrs. Cox that she fainted away at sight of her, the other evening; and Dr. Keeney, who was called in to attend her, is quoted as saying that the nervousness had gone to her heart, and that the case was serious.

ROBBED THE CHINAMEN.

A Bold Thief Walked Into Their Store and Deliberately Tapped Their Till.

An unknown man went into the Chinese laundry on North avenue Saturday night and deliberately reached over the counter and lifted all the money—about $18—out of the cash drawer. When he reached the street the three Chinamen rushed out and jumped on his back. A rough and tumble fight ensued. The bystanders thought 'twas a little row over some laundry, and treated it as a huge joke. The thief shook two of the celestials off, and ran up the street with the other clinging to him. Finally he got rid of him also, and disappeared. The Chinamen are out their $18.

Boys' Club Notes.

The average attendance per evening last week was fifty-nine boys, the largest being sixty-eight, and the smallest fifty-four. The number of visitors during the week was nine.

Visitors are welcome at our rooms, both when the regular session is in order and when we have entertainments. The evenings for our entertainments will be announced later.

The club nine defeated the Young Cuban Giants last Saturday afternoon, by the score of 17 to 12. The colored boys are good ball players and if they would let one of their number be captain, and not everyone on the nine, they would win a great many games, which they lose through this way. Following is the score:

Young Cu'n Giants.	1	1	0	4	3	0	2	1	0	—12
Boys' Club	4	0	1	5	3	0	2	2	*	—17

Magazines and pictorial papers are always needed and are very acceptable to our boys. If anyone would like to contribute, they can send a postal to the superintendent and he will send for them, or they can leave them at the rooms on North avenue. The superintendent is at his office every morning from 10 to 12.

A Match Between Pond Tool Works Pigeons.

A homing pigeon match was arranged Saturday, and caused quite a stir in the Works, where the owners of the birds are at present employed. The match was between pigeons owned by James Marston and Wm. Whitehead, for $20 a side, the birds to be released in New York city at 9:30 a. m. Marston's bird arrived here in 43½ minutes, and Whitehead's bird 3½ minutes later. About $100 changed hands on the result. Without doubt a return match will be flown shortly.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

SEEN THROUGH WOMAN'S EYES.

A Fair Reporter of THE PRESS, Tells What She Thought of the M. A. C. Carnival.

Saturday was a great day for the Manhattan Athletic Club, when under its auspices were given the first annual carnival of amateur sports on their new field at 155th street and 8th avenue, New York.

From 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., were held contests in clay pigeon shooting, and aquatic events. At 1:30 began the athletic sports. The grand stand accommodating over 4,000 spectators, was crowded with invited guests, and on the surrounding rocks and fences and buildings were thousands of lookers-on. Capps's Seventh Regiment band discoursed an elaborate musical programme.

The track is a quarter of a mile with a straightaway of 220 feet. Among the track events was a quarter-mile walk won by H. L. Curtis, M. A. C. He was awarded the world's record; time 1 minute, 23 seconds. In a one-mile run, T. P. Conneff, M. A. C., broke the American record; time 4 minutes, 21 2-5 seconds. Throwing the 56-pound weight, J. S. Mitchell, N. Y. A. C., broke all previous records; distance 34 feet 6¼ inches. Putting the 10-pound shot was won by G. H. Gray, N. Y. A. C., distance 46 feet 7½ inches, beating best previous records by 3¾ inches.

In the list of competitors in the two-mile safety bicycle race, open handicap, was the name of J. S. Pike, of Plainfield. In the final heat of the two-mile safety race, won by C. M. Murphy, N. Y. A. C., the excitement was intense—his time was 5 minutes, 26 seconds. In the safety race, open to members only, H. J. Hall was the winner; time 5 minutes, 5½ seconds. In the running high jump H. L. Hallock was the winner; height, 6 feet, 1¼ inches. Mr. Hallock also won in the pole vault; height 9 feet, 6 inches. Members of the M. A. C., won in the 220 yards dash and 300 yards run, while the N. Y. A. C., carried on the majority of the prizes. The hurdle races were wildly cheered. The prize was won by G. F. Schwegler, N. Y. A. C., time 26 1-6 sec., distance 220 yds. Want of space prevents mention of the many other interesting feats. In the game of la crosse between the N. Y. A. C. and the M. A. C., the N. Y. A. C. won by a score of 3 to 0.

A heap of men played a game of football down at one end of the field. Both sides were covered with dust, and one side with glory, but those in the stand were unable to find out who to call the victors. A challenge match at base-ball, for a handsome white silk banner, was played between the M. A. C. of New York, and the Corinthian Athletic Club, of Staten Island. The banner was won by the Staten Island Club, by the score of 6 to 2.

At 7 o'clock in the evening there was given an electric light display and stereopticon views. Among the views was one of J. Berlow, M. A. C., on his safety machine. He holds the world's record of one mile in 2 minutes, 18 1-5 seconds. If one has "a friend at court," and by invitation can visit the "Cherry Diamonds" magnificent six-story club-house on Madison avenue, he or she will be greatly delighted. There may be found parlors with luxurious furnishings, long dining rooms wainscotted in oak, concert hall, cafe, smoking, and lounging rooms, card, reading, and writing rooms. But it is in the gymnasium that their wonderment will be beyond expression. There can be found better apparatus for making an athlete of "Young America" than in any other gymnasium in the World. Under such conditions why should not New York become the athletic capital of the World? And her sons the Apollos of the present age? R.

DUNELLEN DOINGS.

Interesting Items from a Thriving Borough by Our Own Correspondent.

A party of young people from Rahway came to Dunellen on a "straw ride" last Thursday night. All seemed to enjoy the trip.

A fair and festival was held in the lecture room of the M. E. church last Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A large attendance was present. One of the principal features was the art gallery, which furnished considerable fun.

Miss Bessie Dumont has returned from her trip to to Montreal, accompanied by her friend Miss Johnson, of that city, who contemplates spending some time with the Misses Dumont.

The commencement of the fall festivity-season in Dunellen occurred Friday evening when a number of young women and young men participated in a "straw ride" to Fanwood. All said they had a very pleasant time and hoped the young men would soon arrange for another. Boys, don't all speak at once.

The temperance meeting held in the W. C. T. U. room yesterday, was largely attended.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

Dr. Lewis on the Situation.

Although he has not yet returned to his pulpit, Dr. Lewis at the Seventh-Day Baptish church, last Saturday morning, referred to the situation as follows:

"In my capacity as a pastor, as one of those who stand as the guardians of the moral and religious interests of our city, I cannot refrain from speaking concerning the attitude of the rum power in Plainfield; that power with its attendant evils, has been gaining ground steadily for two or three years past. Every good interest in the city has been injured in the same proportion. The development of the "Concert Saloon" business, is a legitimate result of the supremacy of this element in our city government. When a majority of the Common Council refused to regard the remonstrances of the better class of citizens, they threw aside the last barrier, against the downward tide. I call upon every member of my church and congregation to adopt such a course of action as will break the power of the saloons over our city government. The open and defiant Concert Saloons are an insult to the pure womanhood and the decent manhood of the city. It is said, that men who are husbands, and bear the name of "Christian" visit these places. Whoever bears these sacred names and crosses such thresholds, stains his manhood, and brings disgrace on his position and profession. The time has fully come when Plainfield should call a halt in this downward trend. I trust and believe that you will be found among the first to aid in bringing such influence to bear, as will break the hold of these evils, and remove from our city such menace to its real prosperity, and such disgrace to its good name."

Old Soldiers Meet Again.

Among the 250 survivors of the famous Fourteenth N. J. Regt. who assembled at South Amboy, last Thursday, for their anniversary and reunion, were a number of Plainfielders, including Abram King, Alonzo Townley, Christopher Pope, Thos. Clark, Wm. Smith, Wm. B. Ayres and Wm. N. Pangborn. Henry Drake, president of the 28th, was also present as a speechmaker at the banquet. H. C. Tarowe presided at Borough Hall, and the Rev. Mr. Seeley offered the opening prayer. Mayor Chace delivered the address of welcome. Col. C. M. Bartruff, of Brooklyn, delivered the oration. He went over the regiment's record, which is one of the most thrilling of the war. Numbering 1,096 men on the historic ground of Monmouth, Sept. 2, 1862, they left for the seat of war in command of Colonel William S. Truax, a Mexican war veteran. They were members of the flat-footed cavalry, so-called because they outmarched the cavalry brigade from Appomattox to Raleigh. They mustered out 295 men at Trenton, on June 28 1865.

T. G. Fisher related graphically the death of General Sedgwick, Commander of the Sixth Corps, of which he was an eyewitness. Lieutenant Fisher showed a piece of the bush sprinkled by General Sedgwick's blood, which he had cut off and preserved. After a parade through the streets, the veterans marched to the grove on the shores of Baritan bay, where they partook of an old-fashioned clambake.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President — Lieutenant Paterson, of Ocean Grove. Treasurer—Adjutant T. L. Bucke, of Jamesburg. Chaplain—Comrade George Sorter, of Trenton.

Stealing a Public Roadway.

The Port Reading Railway company is not disposed to be either accommodating or courteous to the people of Metuchen and Raritan township in the matter of an important road crossing just northwest of the village.

The Port Reading company proposes to cross the roadway known at Metuchen as North Plainfield avenue, by an overhead bridge. The avenue is a main country thoroughfare 66 feet wide, but the company proposes to cross with a 35 foot bridge, thus cutting off 31 feet of the roadway, and in addition they propose to cut off the view by a filling that will extend a long distance back from the bridge on each side. In response to earnest remonstrances the railroad company agreed to allow the township five feet more of its own road, but it was discovered that they intended to do this by setting the abutment back five feet on one side only, which would make an unsightly and dangerous bend in the road.

Saturday H. Brewster Willis, attorney for Raritan Township, went to Philadelphia and represented that the people of Raritan were not satisfied with the proposed plan of widening the roadway on one side and stated that they wanted it widened equally on each side from the centre.

The Reading authorities very brusquely said that if the plan they proposed did not suit the Raritan township people, the company would return to their original plan and leave them only a 35 foot roadway, and if they were not satisfied with this they could seek redress in the courts.

This is the form in which the case stands at present, and it is in very good shape for the Grand Jury of Middlesex county to take a hand in the matter.

Thieves Still at Work.

Burglars tried to break into the residence of Mrs. Clifton, on Morris avenue, again Saturday night. A member of the family on arriving home late found a man at work on a kitchen window, from which he had just cut out the wire screen. The fellow ran away when he found that he was discovered.

The Work Speaks for Itself.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Having read some few nights ago an article in the "news" signed "Taxpayer", in reference to the city becoming bankrupt through the non-working of the poor men laboring on our streets, I take the liberty of stating that that magnanimous "Taxpayer"—whoever he may be, or whatever position he may hold—was completely at sea, or in the latitude of some foggy atmosphere, when he made such a false statement.

Now it is a well authenticated fact that there is no body of men working for any corporation in the State or out of the State, who labor more faithfully or incessantly for the period of full ten hours that constitute a day's work, than the men employed on the streets by the present Street Commissioner, Robert Meeker. The work tells for itself. No need of re-capitulation here. But I must propose to "Taxpayer", if he is so sure that the city is lacking in having good working men, and to test the truth of his statement, just to come and see them work all day, and at the close of the day's work he will then know whether the city has lost anything in that department. But I am of the opinion that that worthy gentleman is not built that way. If Plainfield never loses anything foolishly but what it has to give her poor hard-working citizens, laboring on its public avenues, she will never have cause to complain.

It is a well-known fact that though there may be leaks in other departments, there are and can be none caused by any working man straightening his back for a few moments from a curved to an upright position. There has never been known a machine manufactured that will work steady for a period of ten hours without it being properly oiled. But when it comes to the human machine—oh! that needs or must not need any oiling because it is made of bone, blood and muscle. So now Mr. Fault-finder, in the name of common sense, united with a strong solution of universal justice, devote your leisure moments in a better line of thought. If nothing more useful, try and compose a poem on the world's fair, or solve the problem of how all the beasts and reptiles came and were so safely lodged within father Noah's Ark; and cease trying to play the Czar of Russia in a free and civilized community.

M. J. ADAMS.

BY THE WAY.

—You and I at Music Hall, Thursday evening?

—Umpire Faas roasted the Crescents on base-running decisions, Saturday.

—Instruction in organ and piano playing can be obtained of W. E. MacClymont, 78 Washington avenue.

—Kennedy's babyish actions and vulgar conduct at Saturday's base-ball game disgusted even the players on his own team.

—The Plainfield Building and Loan association directors will meet in the office of Jackson & Codington, this evening, at 8 o'clock.

—A row occurred at a local concert saloon Saturday night over the ejection of a drunken plumber. No one was seriously hurt.

—A young colored man named Arnold was arrested for fast driving yesterday. He furnished bonds for a hearing, to take place Friday.

—Gazelle Engine company has accepted an invitation to be present and take part in the firemen's parade at Somerville, Tuesday, Oct., 6.

—A special meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Band will be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—At the entrance to the Crescent League base-ball grounds, Saturday, the buggy of Seymour G. Smith collided with Allen's stage, and a wheel of the buggy was smashed.

—A man with his head cut open rushed into Reynolds's pharmacy Friday night and had his scalp sewn up. He refused to tell how he was hurt, but as he was one of the New York actors in a local concert saloon it is supposed that he was cut in a bar-room brawl.

—The Council has received a petition from some property owners on East Sixth street requesting permission to make their sidewalk grade to suit themselves. It should be refused. If one such request is granted all others should be, and in that case the Sixth street side walk would be built like a Coney Island toboggan slide.

—Plainfield has subscribed $6,000 for a series of musical entertainments to be given there during the coming winter. This is very good; but what of the soldiers' monument movement that was started there with so much enthusiasm? Was it too much for the wealthy men there to carry out?—New Brunswick Home News.

—John Richter was taken before judge Codington this morning charged by his wife with drunkenness and abuse. She claimed that he had turned her and her child out of the house. Richter proved that she had quarreled with him because he could n't give her as much money as she asked for, that he had not been intoxicated, and that he had not turned them out of the house. He was discharged.

—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold the annual convention of Union county in the Presbyterian church, Dunellen, Sept. 29. There will be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, the exercises of which will be most interesting. An able speaker will give an address in the evening. The public should attend this convention and learn the lines and methods of work of these busy white-ribbon women of Union county.

IT IS NOT

A LIE.

A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old, and the statement is unqualifiedly true. Read the following affidavit:

HENRY SNYDER, Jr., of the City, County and State of New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he has been the General Manager of the A. R. TUDOR CO. from its inception, and he knows of his own knowledge that no neutral spirits, flavoring extracts, or foreign ingredients of any kind have ever been used or contained in the Whiskey bottled under the label and trade mark of A. R. TUDOR. He further solemnly swears that he has personally superintended the withdrawal of the A. R. TUDOR CO.'s Whiskey from the U. S. Bonded Warehouse, and that the U. S. Government stamps on the barrels thereof have, in no instance, borne date later than the year 1881.

HAYSEEDS AT RICHFIELD

Horny Handed Sons of Toil Who Monopolize the Springs.

It Is, However, Interesting to Watch a Giggling Cowboy Spark His Rustic Lassie — A Little Specialty in the Park.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

The most amusing thing about Richfield Springs is the way the natives flock in and crowd the summer visitor on hotel piazzas and in the park. If there is a hop they preempt the best windows, thereby preventing the visitors from looking in on the dancing from the piazzas, and when a Sunday-school picnic comes to town the summer boarders are not in it. The picnickers descend like the wolf on the fold. They infest the bathing house and strew pumpkin pie and caraway cookies over the benches in the park. The arbors are taken possession of by rustic beauties and giggling cowboys, while the honest farmer sits upon the sward and allows the wind to remove the hayseeds from his Galway fringe, and mothers in Israel visit all the baby carriages and give the city nurses points on catnip tea and worms. But it is when a coaching party sets out that the populace comes to the front. Doors and windows fly open, heads come popping out, a small crowd of men, women and children collect and stand with staring eyes and open mouths watching every movement with as much expectation as they would manifest if a caravan made its advent. The appearance of each exquisitely gowned woman causes a ripple through the throng and the wonderful cascade of bugle notes is greeted with enthusiasm. Finally, when the show is over, the crowd disperses slowly, as if loth to leave the orbit of pleasure about which it revolves so remotely.

And speaking of coaching, you should see Lee Tailer or Francis Beard set out with a party of ladies. It was mercifully vouchsafed me by a kind Providence to witness this sight an evening or so ago. A very stunning drag drove up in front of the Spring house, and instantly street and piazzas were agog. I shall pass lightly over the exquisite costume of Mrs. Schultz and the virginal toilet of piquant Mrs. Bush, who tripped down the steps and took their seats on the drag. I will merely mention the handsome thoroughbreds and correct trappings, and hasten on to the splendor which exhaled like a perfume from the gentleman whip and the accomplished tutor. Messrs. Beard and Tailer are considered the handsomest young men at Richfield. Both are dark and dashing, but Mr. Beard has in addition to his other beauties a most magnificent mustache and a wonderful head of jet black hair, carefully parted in the middle. He has a figure in which any man might be as proud as a peacock, and so when he stood up for ten or fifteen minutes and kindly gave the public a treat—nay, when he even removed his hat and permitted it to catch a glimpse of that beautiful part in his raven locks, one was thankful to have had the august privilege of seeing so perfectly beautiful a young man. And then when Mr. Lee Tailer's silver notes burst upon the listening air, like a succession of bleats from affrighted calves, one was again tempted to cry: "Praise be."

Though coaching would seem to be popular about Richfield, the roads are not in first rate condition. Indeed, there are some very miserable patches in the heart of the town, and the drives outside are only the average country roads and are not to be compared with those about Lake George or Bar Harbor. The drive to Canadarago lake is tame and uninteresting. That to Cooperstown more picturesque. Rum Hill is also popular, possibly because its a rum place for flirting. There is an observation tower surrounded by many balconies, which form points of observation for many interesting incidents.

The drive to the old-time Cruger mansion is also a favorite. Parties of young people go over these ostensibly to lay the ghost, which is said to haunt this brave old house. However, the ghost is never caught, so the seekers for pleasure are obliged to fall back on flesh and blood, which after all is a very satisfactory substitute. The ghost-laying parties are of course deservedly popular.

The best place to see the belles is in the park of a morning, for all pass by en route to the great sulphur spring. Let us sit here a few minutes and watch the procession of fair women file by. Here comes one of the brides, Mrs. Harding, of Brooklyn, a fair, lovely, unassuming blonde with waving hair and big blue eyes. She is in heliotrope, trimmed lavishly with lace and accompanied by her devoted husband. Here is Mrs. Hecker, one of the best dressed women at the springs. She is tall, dark, attractive, dressed in navy blue. Mrs. Hecker is very particular about the minor details of her toilet, gloves, shoes and fans always match perfectly. Yonder comes blonde little Miss Lennox, the fiancee of the popular resident physician, Dr. Charles Ransom. She is in a dainty costume of rose pink and wears a wide leghorn hat trimmed with pink roses. Miss Walters, of New York, blonde, graceful, stylish and elaborately dressed, goes by, and Miss Helen French, petite and charming, with peach-like complexion and brown hair, is noticed.

Miss Dudley, one of the younger set, drives in a low cart, usually arrayed in white. She is brown-haired and azure-eyed. Sometimes Miss Anita Sevin drives with her. Miss Sevin is dark, petite and vivacious. She affects lavender a good bit.

Miss Adelaide Kelton, a newcomer, attracts much attention. She is a blonde and patrician looking. She is the daughter of Adjt. Gen. Kelton, of Washington.

Miss Deering, also of Washington, is a very beautiful brunette, slender, a graceful dancer, and can brave the trying fashion of wearing her blue-black hair combed straight off her forehead. Miss Deering is seen often in a smart sailor costume, and at the hops often appears in black.

Miss Content Aline Johnson is another belle, a picturesque and animated blonde. At a recent hop she was lovely in pale blue and silver.

Miss N. D. Ranney is of the opposing type of beauty, being as dark as a Cuban. By many she is considered the most beautiful girl at the springs. She affects scarlet gowns and hats and is a glowing picture of beauty in these fiery hues. Miss Ranney is accomplished and plays the mandolin effectively.

THE CRUGER MANSION.

Mrs. L. B. Dean, of Brooklyn, is termed one of the most fascinating women here. She is beautiful, an accomplished conversationalist and her gowns are beyond description. One costume which the ladies voted "a perfect dream" is of gray chiffon with a bodice of gray velvet, studded with steel nail heads.

Many of these belles are learning skirt dancing. Miss Sparks, the dancing teacher, says it is very popular and by next season will be a raging fad in drawing-rooms. Think of the spectacle the fashionable functions will present when all the girls at a moment's notice will bend, wriggle and sway a la Letty Lind. It is not yet definitely settled whether the skirt dancing will be done on top a table or not, but to encourage the brethren I will state that there is a movement looking that way.

Among the bloods next to Messrs. Beard and Tailer rank Messrs. Jack Flavies, Joseph Eager and Ernest Lowrie. Jack Davies is a dark, handsome, solid sort of fellow, not so effervescent as Lee Tailer. He is a great favorite of the ladies. Ernest Lowrie is very gallant and a fine dancer. Joseph Eager is an invisible blonde. So fair is he that he is almost out of sight.

One of the prettiest sights at Richfield is stately, white-haired Mrs. Earle, of the Earlington, petting her horse Danny. Although seventy years old, Mrs. Earle would ride, if her husband would permit her. She has been a famous horsewoman, and it was only a few years since that to prevent her from continuing her favorite exercise, her husband sold her saddle. But she, "unbeknownst" to him, bought it back, and he was obliged to own himself outwitted. Miss Mabel Earle is one of the beauties of Richfield, but is at present in deep mourning and doesn't participate in the summer festivities.

I find at all the resorts that girls with pretty feet and ankles are growing more reckless about displaying these attractions. I was amused at the performances of a young woman in the park the other morning. She wore a smart blue costume, with red crepe bodice and little red suede shoes. She sauntered along, took a seat, and as she sat down gave a perceptible hitch to her front breadths. Result, a very attractive and torrid exhibit. For a few moments she rested on these laurels; then, evidently wishing to be fair with everybody, walked to another part of the park and repeated her little specialty. It was worth seeing.

PEGGY PENDENNIS.

PLAIN SPEAKING.

A Friend Who Would Be a Poor One to Depend Upon.

You imagine it is not polite to be plain spoken! My dear, there are times when to be merely "polite" is to be a toady and a sneak! There are times when politeness is a pillow of hen feathers, wherewith to smother honor and strangle truth. If all you care for is to be popular, to go through life like a molasses-drop in a child's mouth, why, then, choose your way and live up to it, but don't expect to rank higher than molasses, and cheap molasses at that. For my part I would rather be outspoken in the cause of right, even if plain speech did offend, than be a coward and a woolly mouth. Somebody once lived upon earth, the example of whose thirty-odd years of mortal environment we are taught to pattern our own lives close upon. How about his politeness when he talked with the hypocrites and rebuked the Pharisees? How about his policy when he drove the money-changers before a stinging whip and championed the cause of the sinful woman? Oh! I tell you the soul that is always looking out for the chance to score one for the winning cause, and throw up its hat with the crowd that makes the most noise, is poor stock to invest in. In the time of need such a friend would turn out worse than a real-estate investment in a Calumet swamp.—Amber, in Chicago Herald.

A Father's Curse.

THOUGHT DEAD—FOUND ALIVE.

Carried Out to Sea, They Cling to a Log, and Are Picked Up.

Kindly Treated by Their Rescuers, Who Could Not Talk English—Transferred to Another Vessel—Finally Landed on the Coast of Florida—Nearly Crazed With Their Terrible Experiences.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Samuel W. Thornton and Eva Jewell, the young people who disappeared while in bathing at Coney Island on the night of Aug. 27, and whose clothes were found in a bathing pavilion, are said to be alive and well, in Jacksonville, Florida.

A special despatch from Jacksonville says that Thornton was interviewed in the office of the "Times-Union" last night, and gave an account of his adventures. According to his story Thornton and Miss Jewell went in bathing at 2 p. m. on the day mentioned.

After half an hour in the surf, and while out some distance from the shore, a huge wave came in and the undertow washed them away.

Strangled and frightened nearly to death, he had presence of mind enough to plunge forward and seize Eva's dress and keep her up, all the while shouting for help. No one seemed to hear them and they floated out fast.

A big log soon floated by. He seized it, and by its aid was enabled to keep their heads above water. The tide rapidly carried them out to sea. Eva soon grew faint, and Thornton became nearly exhausted by his struggles. Just after sundown a schooner came near. Thornton shrieked for aid and they were taken on board.

Soon Eva was under the motherly care of the captain's wife, while Thornton was rubbed and brought to by the sailors. To his surprise and consternation no one on board could speak English.

Eva was insensible when rescued, and for several days afterward she was nearly crazy, repeating in her delirium the terrible experiences she had had.

When Thornton fully recovered his senses the next forenoon they were out of sight of land and going southward, bound for some port in South America. To his appeals to be set on shore the Captain shook his head, but promised to signal the first vessel that came along.

They were on that vessel 13 days before they were transferred to another schooner. Then they were no better off for the craft was Spanish, bound for Yucatan, through Florida Straits.

On this ship both were treated with great kindness. Eva was given the cook's galley. After 10 days of life on this schooner the captain one day told them by signs to get ready to land.

The sailors got up a purse of $20 for them and gave them several articles of clothing. Early last Sunday morning the vessel came in near shore, lowered a boat and landed the two unfortunates on Florida coast in a strange locality and with only one small fisherman's hut in sight.

They got information as best they could and started on foot for Jacksonville, and after walking for several miles they were met by a team and hired the driver to bring them there, where they arrived footsore and weary in the afternoon.

Seeking a boarding house, they secured rooms and rested after their terrible experience.

Thornton's brother, William, is thoroughly investigating the matter, and has sent a message to the man in Jacksonville asking him certain questions. If these are answered, all doubts concerning the strange story will be removed.

FIVE DROWNED.

A Party of Poles Meet Death in the Hudson at Poughkeepsie.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sep. 22.—Five persons—three men, one woman and a little girl—were drowned in the Hudson River, opposite Low Point, 12 miles south of this city, yesterday afternoon.

They were all Poles and were strangers in the locality, so their identity is not known. They hired a boat at Hampton to row across the river at Low Point.

When about 100 yards from the east shore the boat was seen to overturn and all sank immediately except one man who clung to to the capsized boat, but he let go and sank before help reached him.

Only one body, that of a man, has thus far been recovered.

The Fitzsimmons Trial.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lucy Fitzsimmons in the celebrated murder case, in which she, with her husband, Frank C. Fitzsimmons (who escaped from jail here last Monday) killed Detective Gilkinson March 24, last, began in the Criminal Court here yesterday. The case will likely be given to the jury to-night. The police officials have as yet no trace of her escaped husband.

Switchmen's Aid Association.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 22.—The Sixth Annual Convention of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association convened in Industrial Hall yesterday morning. There were about 250 delegates present. The sessions of the convention will be secret. The constitution will be the subject of considerable revision, and an effort will be made to take in the switch tenders and yard masters, and make the Association broader in its views.

County Democracy Protests.

NEW YORK, Sep. 22.—The County Democracy delegates and alternates to the Democratic State Convention, met last night in Cooper Institute, and unanimously adopted a protest against the treatment they had received at Saratoga. From first to last not one word was said as to whether or not the organization would support the Democratic ticket.

CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

German-Americans in Enthusiastic Convention at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 22.—All trains entering Buffalo to-day are crowded with people who come to attend the fifth annual convention of the German-American Catholic Congress. It is estimated that nearly 15,000 strangers are in the city.

The object of the congress is to keep alive the interest of all German-American Catholics in religious affairs; to demonstrate to the world the growth of the Church, and to discuss matters which will affect its well-being. An effort will be made at the present congress to unite the clerical and lay elements of the Church.

The business session will begin to-day. A most interesting feature of the convention was the monster torchlight procession last evening. About 10,000 men were in the line.

HIS ACCOUNTS ARE SHORT.

And Postmaster Melick Has Been Summarily Deposed in Consequence.

DOVER, N. J., Sep. 22.—Secret Service officers of the Postoffice Department have been investigating of Postmaster James S. Melick, of this town, and have brought to light some startling facts. As a result Melick has been summarily removed on the charge of misappropriating funds of the department, and Capt. D. S. Allen has been appointed to the place temporarily.

The amount of Melick's shortage is $1,408.25. This has been made good by his six bondsmen. It is not believed that any further proceedings will be instituted against him. The postoffice authorities knew of the shortage last spring, but through the efforts of Melick's mother the matter was hushed up.

KILLED BY A FALLING ROOF.

Three Men Meet a Horrible Death in a Colliery.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sep. 22.—A great mass of falling roof caught Joseph Horan, a miner, and his two Hungarian laborers, while they were loading cars in the Cayuga Colliery, yesterday afternoon.

The three men were in the face of the chamber and were buried beneath the tons of debris, which it required several hours to remove.

When taken out they were dead, their bodies being horribly mangled by the heavy weight of coal and rock that cut and squeezed them.

Trying to Effect a Settlement.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 22.—Messrs. Barry and Duval of the State Board of Arbitration were here yesterday endeavoring to settle the strike of weavers at the Barnaby mills. They had conference with Agent Ashley but he declined positively to entertain any proposition looking toward a restoration of the wages asked for by the employes. The weavers held a meeting and decided to remain out until to-morrow at least. The Arbitration Commissioners also had a long talk with Secretaries Howard and Whitehead regarding the general situation.

Republican State League Convention.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sep. 22.—The convention of the State League of Republican Clubs is to be held here to-morrow. Candidate Robinson, whose chances for the presidency seem very bright, and Mayor Stuart of Philadelphia, arrived in this afternoon. Secretary Lindsay of Pittsburg arrived last evening. He is in favor of Dalzell for chief officer of the league. Mr. Dalzell will be here in the morning. Mayor Stuart was serenaded and responded briefly. Speeches were also made by Mayor Warren and Senator Robinson.

Troops May Be Necessary.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 22.—In view of the failure of the Legislature to settle the convict question, serious trouble is feared at Briceville. Superintendent of Prisons Wade says that the armistice agreed upon between the Governor and the miners was for 60 days, and added: "Look out for another uprising then. I am firmly of the opinion that the State authorities will have to send troops to Anderson County, and by a decisive action suppress the miners."

New York Custom Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—The Treasury Department has prepared a statement which shows that the customs receipts at the port of New York for the first 19 days of September, 1891, have fallen off nearly $3,000,000, as compared with the corresponding days of September, 1890. The total receipts at New York for the period of September, 1891, aggregated $5,531,757.

Killed by a Whale.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sep. 22.—A letter was received here yesterday from Capt. Howland of the whaling bark Canton, of this port, from Flores. He reports that on June 21 the fourth mate, Mr. Amado, was struck and killed by a whale. The blow from the leviathan's tail knocked him from the boat into the water and he immediately sank from sight.

Killed in a Freight Wreck.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Sep. 22.—A collision between freight trains occurred in the West Susquehanna yards early in the morning. Engineer John Reilly, of Hornellsville, was so badly hurt that he died of his injuries in a short time. Both trains were badly damaged.

Their Bodies Recovered.

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., Sep. 22.—The bodies of Mrs. Isaac Wimette, of Salisbury, and her 12-year-old boy, who were carried into the river Saturday night by a frightened horse attached to their carriage and drowned, have been recovered.

Bond Redemptions.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—The Treasury Department has redeemed to date $15,488,450 4 1-2 per cent. bonds and continued $24,871,600 at 2 per cent. Payments on account of pensions so far this month have aggregated $7,058,000.

Whenever

A Receipt for Cooking calls for baking powder, or soda and cream of tartar, better results will be obtained by using Royal Baking Powder. The food will be lighter, whiter, sweeter, more finely flavored, palatable and wholesome.

MARION HARLAND says: "I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best in the market. Since its introduction into my kitchen I have used no other."

CUMMIN INDIGNANT

The Supposed Park Place Victim in Boston.

HE DENIES THAT HE WAS DRUNK

Says He Left New York Four Days Before the Disaster.

Went to Halifax With a Party of Friends On a Visit—Returning from a Fishing Excursion He Heard of His Supposed Death and Burial—Has Lost Track of His Wife.

BOSTON, Sep. 22.—Sherman Cummin arrived here yesterday from Halifax. He is the printer who was reported to have been killed in the Park Place disaster in New York recently, and shortly afterward was heard from in Halifax.

Cummin indignantly denies the story that just previous to the disaster he got drunk in New York and woke up in Halifax. He says that he left New York with a party of twenty four days before the calamity in Park place.

They took passage for Canada on the steamer City of Columbia. He is a native of St. John, and after conducting his friends about the city the latter started on their return trip, and he sent word to his wife and employers that he would remain there awhile.

He went on a fishing excursion and on his arrival at Halifax he heard of the Park place disaster and of the identification and burial of one of the bodies as his, and the payment to his wife of $1,000 from the Mayor's fund.

He telegraphed to New York but got no reply. Finally he learned that his wife had left New York for parts unknown to him. He thinks she is in this city and he is looking for her with a view to proving his identity and re-establishing his home.

THE SOCIALIST CAMPAIGN.

De Leon, the Nominee for Governor, Denounces Everybody and Everything.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sep. 22.—Daniel De Leon, the Socialistic nominee for Governor, addressed a large assemblage last night on Socialism and "Why American Workingmen Should be Socialists."

He said that the Socialistic nominee for Governor last year obtained 14,000 votes and that he thought the vote would be increased at least 6,000 this year. He ran down both of the nominees for Governor, and gave Gov. Hill a hard drive.

He said that the Farmer's Alliance would not co-operate with the Labor party until they saw them make a stand for themselves. This he urged them to do and said that then they could gain the help of the Farmer's Alliance.

He defined a Socialist as "one who desires that the wealth of a nation be owned collectively by all the people, rather than that it should be held by a fraction of them commonly known as capitalists."

Won't Tolerate White Invasion.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sep. 22.—The excitement among the negroes here promises to outrival that of the opening of the Oklahoma Territory. Several hundred negroes left this place last night for the Indian Territory. They were accompanied by several prominent negroes and will form a settlement of their own. Trouble is feared as the negroes are determined to secure land adjoining one another and thus prevent the whites from invading their settlement. Should they be unable to do this rightly, they will use force to accomplish their ends.

The Hoke Patent Sustained.

ST. LOUIS, Sep. 22.—Judge Thayer has rendered a decision in the United States Circuit Court in the case of the Hoke Engraving Plate Company against Carl Schraubstadter, jr., for infringement of patent on engraving plates, sustaining the Hoke, granting an injunction against the manufacture and sale and ordering an accounting. These plates are a chalk coating on a hard base plate and are in general use by over 1,000 newspapers in the United States and Europe.

Railroad Securities Stolen.

NEW YORK Sep. 22.—Some $33,000 in railroad securities were stolen from the office of Adel & Co., a firm of brokers, between Saturday and yesterday. There is no clue to the thieves.

Salvador Minister Recalled.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—Senor Don Benjamin Molina Guirola, the Minister from Salvador, presented his letters of recall to the President this morning. The usual courtesies were exchanged.

Want to Stand in With the Boodler.

NEW YORK, Sep. 22.—A special despatch from Montreal says: Ernest Pacaud, the $100,000 Baie des Chaleurs boodler, is expected to arrive in Quebec on Wednesday or Thursday, and various moves are being made by the different political parties to get the first speech with him. Some of Mercier's following will proceed to Father Point and board the steamer there and accompany Pacaud to Quebec. The royal commissioners to investigate the scandal will be sworn in some day this week.

To Make a New Wool Collection.

BOSTON, Sep. 22.—Wool Examiner Dimond of the Appraiser's Department, who is going to Europe in the interest of the government to make a new collection of samples of the various kinds of wool imported into the United States, left for New York last night, whence he will sail for Liverpool on Wednesday. His collection, when completed, will be considered as the official sample of the department at the various ports of entry in this country.

Held For the Grand Jury.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sep. 22.—James E. Ostrander, the defaulting treasurer of the Ulster County Savings Institution, was arraigned in the Recorder's Court yesterday afternoon charged with embezzlement. He waived examination. He declined to make any statement and was committed to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The run on the bank is practically discontinued. About $200,000 were paid out to excited depositors since Friday.

The Second Libel Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—Attorney-General Miller, speaking of the report from Los Angeles, Cala., that a second libel had been filed against the steamer Itata, said that it was unauthorized and that he had directed that it be dismissed. He said that the court at Los Angeles yesterday fixed the trial for indemnation against the vessel for October 20 and that the trial for libel would follow immediately.

New England Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sep. 22.—The New England Associated Press held a meeting yesterday at which the resignation of Col. W. W. Clapp as President was accepted. Mr. J. L. Shipley, of the Springfield, Mass., "Union" was elected President and Stephen O'Meare, of the Boston "Journal," was chosen a member of the Executive Committee.

Gen. Fay Very Low.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 22.—Gen. J. Augustus Fay, who has been lying seriously ill at his home in this city for some time, was in a very low condition this morning. He takes little or no nourishment and is conscious only part of the time. His wife and immediate relatives are at his bedside and the end is expected soon.

Gen. Grant's Body to Be Removed.

NEW YORK, Sep. 22.—The Executive Committee of the Grant Monument Association has ordered its contractor to remove the temporary tomb of Gen. Grant to the mausoleum which is to be its final resting place as soon as the concrete foundation on which it is to rest is finished.

Looking for the Murderer.

GLOUCESTER, N. J., Sep. 22.—William Robinson, who was shot here Saturday during a row over a game of pool, died yesterday. The police are looking for George Anderson, alias "The Spider," a colored desperado, who, they alleged, was the one that killed Robinson.

WAS HE MURDERED?

Bruised Body of W. J. Lucas Discovered in a Pond.

DEEP CUT FOUND IN THE SCALP.

He Went to a Ball and After Leaving It Was Seen No More.

Several Companions Accompanied Him. A Pistol Shot Heard, But Nothing Thought of It at the Time—It is Believed That He Was Murdered—The Police Investigating.

DANBURY, Conn., Sep. 22.—The body of W. J. Lucas of Brooklyn, N. Y., was found in Ball's Pond yesterday. The body was badly bruised and there was a deep cut in his scalp, which was probably caused by a bullet.

Lucas, who was formerly an official in the New York Custom House, has been spending the summer with his sister, Mrs. A. R. Wilkinson, who lives on the shore of the pond.

Last Thursday night Lucas went to a ball at William Durgy's, on the opposite shore, rowing across in a boat. About midnight he started to return and several companions went down to the pond with him.

Shortly afterward those who remained at Durgy's heard shouts and a pistol shot, but thought nothing of it.

It is now believed that Lucas was murdered by those who accompanied him to the pond. The police are investigating and several arests are expected.

THE ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

A Convention of Methodists That Will Attract World-wide Attention.

WASHINGTON, Sep 22.—Preparations for the great Ecumenical Conference of Methodism, which is to open here on Oct. 7, are rapidly approaching completion, and all indications point to the greatest gathering of religious brain force ever seen in this or any other country. Hundreds of delegates from two continents will be present; and although already a city of large and important conventions, Washington will regard this as the most important gathering of this decade.

The conference will last from the 7th to the 20th of October, and in the discussion of various topics, such as "The Influence of Modern Scientific Progress on Religious Thought," "Ecumenical Methodism," "The Christian Church," "University Education," "Romanism," "International Arbitration," and many other religious problems by the foremost minds of the day, bids fair to hold for a time the attention of two continents.

OVER A MILLION STOLEN.

A London Bank Robbed—Americans Suspected of the Crime.

LONDON, Sep. 22.—The banking world was startled yesterday by the announcement that the London and Westminster Bank (limited), an important establishment, having over fifteen branch houses in the metropolis had been robbed.

The money stolen consisted of a large parcel of bills remitted from the country banks. The thieves must have watched closely for an opportunity to accomplish the robbery, and to have gained access to an apartment near the main entrance to the bank.

This apartment was easy of access from the street, and the parcel of bills is supposed to have been stolen while the bank officials were busily engaged in another apartment in going over the accounts of last week's settlement.

The amount stolen is not less than $750,000, and it may amount to as much as $1,250,000. Expert American bank thieves are supposed to have engineered the job.

Horses Under the Hammer.

NEW YORK, Sep. 22.—Twenty-three of the finest yearlings ever put under the hammer were sold at Tattersall's last night. They were the cream of Kentucky studs. The total amount realized for the 23 head was $15,125, an average of $657.60. A brown colt by Longfellow-Gypsy brought the best price, $3,100. Marcus Daly was the purchaser. English Lady, for which Messrs. Buck & Sons paid $10,000 last year, was also sold. She was purchased by Albert Teets for $3,600.

Immigration Commissioner's Report.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 22.—The State Board of Charities, which acted as the immigration commission until last month, have submitted their report for the year ending in June last. It shows that 25,798 immigrants landed at this port during the year. 15,770 were men. Of the number landed 1,117 who were worthy were given assistance. But 66 persons were returned.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Borden Biddle.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 22.—Mrs. Elizabeth Bordon Biddle who died here Sunday night, aged 92 years, was a descendant of a distinguished family, her father being Judge Hopkinson, author of "Hail Columbia," her grandfather, Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and her grandfather, Thomas Hopkinson, a member of the Provincial Council and Judge of the Vice Admiralty under George II.

Application for a Receiver.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sep. 22.—An application for the appointment of a receiver of the Atlantic Yeast Company was filed yesterday by counsel for Adolph Woolner of New York, an officer of the Old Colony Distillery Company. The yeast company was formerly controlled by the owners of the Old Colony Distillery. The Fleischman Yeast Company purchased the yeast company a short time ago, and in order to close the company, the appointment of a receiver has been asked for Orange Circles.

BY NELLIE CAMPBELL BEDFORD.

Two cups sugar; one cup butter; one cup milk; yolks of five eggs; whites four eggs, stiffly beaten; one-quarter teaspoonful salt; two teaspoonfuls Cleveland's Baking Powder; grated rind one orange; flour to make a drop batter. Grease the covers of a number of half pound Cleveland Baking Powder cans, partly fill with the batter and bake in a quick oven. Make an icing with the white of one egg, the grated rind of one orange and sufficient powdered sugar to stiffen. Place two cakes together with a layer of the icing between.

Use only Cleveland's baking powder, the proportions are made for that.

Cleveland's baking powder does not contain ammonia; costs no more than ammonia powders; it goes farther; it is pure and wholesome. You should use it.

Send stamp for Cook Book, Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

COURT MARTIAL FINDINGS.

The President Takes Action in the Case of Three Erring Officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—The President has approved the sentence of dismissal from the army, imposed on Lieutenant Miner, of the Ninth Infantry, for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

In the case of First Lieutenant F. D. Sharp, Twenty-fourth Infantry, found guilty of drunkenness by the Court-martial and sentenced to dismissal, the President has commuted his sentence to suspension from rank and command on half pay for one year, on his promise to abstain in the future from the use of intoxicants.

In the case of Ensign W. S. Cloke, U. S. N., sentenced to dismissal by court martial for intoxication and absence after expiration of leave, the President has, on the recommendation of Secretary Tracy, mitigated the sentence to suspension from rank and duty on fourlough pay for two years, and to retain the present number in his grade during that time.

National Conference of Unitarians.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sep. 22.—The National Conference of Unitarians began here yesterday afternoon with a large attendance, representing nearly every State east of the Mississippi. A meeting of the council and officers was held at 4 p. m., and the Conference was formally opened at 7:30 p. m. by a public service, the sermon being delivered by Rev. R. A. Armstrong, M. A., of Liverpool, Eng. The sessions will continue three days, during which a variety of papers on religious and scientific topics will be read and discussed.

Beat Her Rival With a Revolver.

WEEDSPORT, N. Y., Sep. 22.—Fred M. Burritt, cashier in the bank of Burritt & Henderson, has been paying more attention to Miss Emma Silsby of Seneca Falls, a visitor here for some time past, than was agreeable to his wife. Matters came to a climax when Mrs. Burritt entered the room of Miss Silsby at her hotel, and at the muzzle of a revolver demanded the letters her husband had written her. After getting them she beat the girl over the head with the weapon until the clerk, attracted by her screams interfered.

The Warren-McCarthy Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 22.—Despite the many obstacles which have been thrown in the way of the managers of the Warren-McCarthy glove contest to take place before the Olympic Athletic Club to-night, it is now an assured fact that the featherweights will do battle. Though Warren is regarded with more favor by the talent, McCarthy has many friends who are backing his chances to the tune of $250 to $200, the odds being against him.

Traced to New York.

BERLIN, Sep. 22.—Herr Radtke, the Treasurer of Marienwerder, who recently absconded, has been traced to New York. He arrived in that city aboard the steamer Columbia from Hamburg some time during August, having sailed under the pseudonym of Esrah.

Dr. Briggs Home Again.

NEW YORK, Sep. 22.—Dr. C. A. Briggs, whose views on the Presbyterian creed have occupied so much of the attention of the religious world, arrived from Europe yesterday with Miss G. Briggs.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Anton Sieboldt, who killed James Meighan at Darlington, Wis., last Wednesday, was lynched by a mob yesterday.

The stables on the Dallas, Texas, fair grounds were burned yesterday afternoon, and several valuable horses perished. The loss is $50,000.

Jack Davis, of Omaha, and Billy Woods, of Denver, heavyweights, fought before the Pacific Athletic Club of San Francisco last night. Woods won in 12 rounds.

Sir James Ferguson, Bart., Political Secretary of the Foreign Office, has been appointed Postmaster-General of England, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Cecil Raikes.

A NOVEL BOAT RACE.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Sep. 22.—A unique aquatic contest took place here between Ned Hanlan, ex-champion oarsman, and Alexander McLean of British Columbia. McLean, who rowed in a lapstreak skiff, was given 300 yards start, while Hanlan used a racing shell. The distance was three miles with a turn. McLean won easily by three lengths. McLean's time was 19:20, while Hanlan covered the distance in 19:32 1-5, which is half a second better than his best time.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—There will be a regular meeting of the Plainfield Camera club this evening at 8 o'clock.

—Those colored base-ball champions of the World, the Gorhams, will play the Crescents in this city next Saturday.

—THE PRESS of last evening contained 35 cent-a-word advertisements of the people's wants and offers; the news had 17.

—Two young men who were arrested for fast driving at 3 o'clock this morning will be tried before Judge Codington to-night.

—The White Caps of this city will play the Metropolitans on the grounds of the Bicycle club, Park avenue, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—Carpets made and laid free of charge, and dress linings given with each dress pattern sold is the special offering for a short time now at Edsall's.

—The trial of two young men for fighting, which was to have been held before borough justice Crosley last evening, was postponed till to-night.

—The circulation of THE PRESS averaged 1,722 a day for the month ending Saturday last. No other paper in the city has a legitimate circulation of 700 at the most.

—New Jersey is to get $17,000 from the general Government because she is so fortunate as to have a State Agricultural College. This will help to give the farmers a great deal of valuable information.

—The players of the Crescent League ball team have been granted Oct. 3 as a benefit day. They will probably get the New Brunswicks to play against. Members of the league will have tickets for sale.

—It is said an effort is being made to induce the Jersey Central to build a spur from the High Bridge Branch at Flanders to Budd's Lake, to accommodate summer travel and carry out the ore from the Mt. Olive mines.

—Mrs. J. T. Ellis has been secured by the W. C. T. U. to deliver a series of Gospel temperance lectures. She will begin her labors Saturday evening, Oct. 3. Further particulars will be announced by posters and advertisements in the papers.

—Arrangements have been made by the local firemen so that the general public may take advantage of the special low excursion rates to Atlantic City during the firemen's big State celebration, begining Sept. 29.

—Trinity Reformed church of Plainfield will be inclined to think that, in some features at least, marriage is a failure. An old bachelor made a will leaving this church $50,000. He subsequently married, made a new will, died and left this church not a penny.—Elizabeth Journal.

—The Faith Curists seem to have made an unusual mockery of religion yesterday if, as reported, in Jersey City, they tried to save the life of a horse by prayer. The animal died, though it is intimated by a veterinary surgeon that a bucket of warm water and a cake of castile soap would have saved its life.

—There are two agents on the Jersey Central who have been in the places they now hold for a third of a century. John Helm, of Lebanon, has dealt out tickets at that station for 33 years, and William D. Wyckoff, of Raritan, has worn the thumb entirely off his right hand by plying the date stamp since July, 1860, when he went there to stay for a few days.

—A week ago Sunday forgetfulness to shut off the clock-connection caused the fire-alarm gong to sound one blow at 12 m. and at 5 p. m., the same as on week days. Last Sunday the gong was permitted to blow again. There have been no complaints against having the gong sound Sundays, and it has been decided to have it continue to do so. It is just as important to have the system thus tested Sundays as other days, and since no annoyance is caused the fire chiefs are glad to have the two time and test blows sounded.

—All the employes of the United States Express will be uniformed at the expense of the company by Oct. 1. The uniform consists of double-breasted coat of dark navy blue, with brass buttons containing the monogram "U. S. E." On the lapel of the coat will be worn the trade mark of the company, horseshoe and fireproof safe with eagle wings extending therefrom. The Flemington Democrat remarks, in this connection, that "Judging from the excessive charges made by the express companies in carrying small parcels, we take it that they can not only afford to uniform their employees but hire a brass band for each office as well. Thirty-five cents to carry a basket of peaches from Flemington to Trenton! Jerusalem crickets!"

The Bowling Season Opens.

The first bowling match of the season of 1891-1892 in Brooklyn, will be the Echoes of that city against the Crescent bowlers of Plainfield, at the Elephant Club, 1,411 Fulton street, Brooklyn, this evening. The team from the Echoes will be as follows: Sellers, Brown, F. H. Davol, W. H. Davol, Hoyt, Miles, McDonald, Pell, Wells, and Willets.

The team of the Crescent League will be selected from the following: Thiers, Allis, Vail, Rogers, VanWinkle, Emerson, Haynes, Doane, Moore, Haven, Davis, Teel, Barnes and VanEmburgh. They will leave this city on the 5:12 p. m. train.

CAUGHT THE ROBBER.

He Plundered His Neighbor's Store, and is Suspected of Other Burglaries.

The clothing store of O. M. Dunham, at 46 West Front street, was robbed last night of $250 worth of goods, and the robber, who was Mr. Dunham's next-door neighbor, was promptly caught, and has confessed.

The store was entered from the rear. With a glass cutter the window pane just above the catch was cut, the glass was broken, and the catch was pulled back. The sash was then raised, and the thief entered and took from one of the show cases a number of watches, watch charms and rings.

This morning sergeant Lynch received the following message:

Chief of Police, Plainfield, N. J.

I arrested a man giving his name as C. W. Delston, with his pockets full of watches and rings. Says he lives at 43 East Third street, Plainfield. Was given 5 days by justice Brampton. JOHN W. SEBRING, Marshal, Bound Brook.

He had also glass cutter and chisel.

As the result of the receipt of the note, Sergeant Lynch and C. M. Dunham went to Somerville, where Mr. Dunham fully identified the prisoner as Charles W. Elston, who runs the store at 44 West Front street, adjoining Dunham's. The firm name over the store is W. W. Elston & Son. W. W. Elston is the young man's father, who is said to have been, until recently, a Piscataway farmer. He started his son in business as a notion dealer a month or two ago, and offered him every chance for a successful career. He paid $800 rental in advance for one year, and told his son that he would stock up his store as fully as he desired.

Charles told him not to stock too heavily till the holidays. Charles lived with his father and mother, his sister, his wife, and his two children, in the French-roofed house at 49 East Third street.

Young Elston's father says that Charles is all right except when under the influence of liquor, and thinks that he must have been intoxicated when he committed the burglary.

Elston himself says that he was drunk, and pretended still to be intoxicated when sergeant Lynch interviewed him at the jail. Then he broke down and cried and pleaded about the disgrace to his wife mily.

The way he came to be caught was this: He boarded a freight train, after the robbery, and offered one of the train men a ring. The fact that he pulled a handful of rings out of his pocket excited suspicion, and word was sent to officer Sebring, who arrested him for train riding.

When Elston is released, Saturday, he will be re-arrested on a complaint for burglary sworn out by Mr. Dunham this afternoon. Elston is suspected of having been concerned in the various robberies that have been committed in Plainfield of late. Mallinson's pharmacy and other places were robbed in much the same manner as was Mr. Dunham's store.

Elston is known around town as "Fanwood Charlie". It is said that he has been in the Reform School.

WHERE IS DAVID L. CURTIS?

He Took His Girl to See the Fireworks, and Disappeared.

The clerks at J. Fred McDonald's grocery store are puzzled to know what has become of David L. Curtis, a young man who drove one of the delivery wagons of the store. Last week Wednesday he left for home at the usual closing hour, bidding everybody a cheerful good-night. In the evening he accompanied a young woman of his acquaintance to the Fythian fireworks exhibition, and for fifteen minutes sat contentedly by her side, munching caramels, and commented rapturously on the quality of the set-pieces and the grandeur of the flights of rockets. At twenty minutes past 8 he excused himself "just for a moment", and the damsel whom he had escorted to the grounds lost sight of him in the crowd. He never came back.

The faithful, patient maiden sat on the edge of a plank and waited till long after the last spark of the pyrotechnics had vanished, but the absent one appeared not, and as it was very lonesome with all the big crowd gone, and as the atmosphere was of the rheumatic order, she wended her way homeward sadly and alone.

In the morning she inquired at the store if he was ill, and was told that he must be, since he had not been to work that day yet. Subsequently, however, it was found that Curtis had utterly vanished.

It was at first feared that he had tied himself to a rocket and started off on a stellar exploring expedition, but his father, Esaias P. Curtis, of New Front street, says that he thinks he has gone to Pennsylvania, where he was promised a good situation.

Almost Smothered to Death.

An Italian working in a deep trench on Washington street yesterday was almost smothered to death by the caving in of the walls. He was buried under the great weight of earth several minutes. Fellow workmen dug him out.

—Deacon S. V. White, one of the most prominent operators" on the street", failed to-day for $2,000,000. He was too long on corn. Both his Chicago and New York offices are closed.

OBITUARY.

Josephine Buell-Fox.

News that will be a sad shock to the many friends of the deceased in this city and vicinity, reaches Plainfield to-day in the announcement of the death of Mrs. Joseph Fox, formerly Miss Josephine Buell of Rockview avenue. She died at her home in Brooklyn, suddenly, last Friday afternoon.

Previous to her marriage her home was in the family of her brother-in-law and sister—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Davies, of Rockview avenue. She was beloved by them and idolized by their children. She was the bright star of their household. In times of affliction, hers was the task to soothe and comfort; in times of doubt her wise counsel always prevailed; and so did she endear herself that the home was desolated when she left it. The six years of her married life passed so quickly and sweetly that to her beloved husband it seemed as but yesterday when she came to bless him with her heart's love; and not only to him, but to all with whom her new life was associated, did she so endear herself that to-day hundreds mourn her loss.

During her long and painful illness, not a murmur escaped her lips. Her bright spirits and "infinite jest" never failed her, and deceived even the physicians. But at last all danger was apparently over, and in the delights of motherhood she counted herself fully rewarded for all previous suffering—making the last month of her life doubly sweet. Her often expressed desire was to die suddenly whenever her time should come—and this was granted her. Without a moment's warning she passed away with pleasant words upon her lips; the bright smile upon her dear face, indicating the haven of rest into which she has surely entered.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. J. T. Vegiard, of 252 West Third street, has gone to visit relatives at Worcester, Mass.

Miss Hattie Klinefelder, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her friend, Miss Tillie Spencer, of Washingtonville.

The Misses Lizzie and Mary Krauss, of Glen Gardner, have gone home after a pleasant visit with the Misses Sheppard of Manning avenue.

Miss Mary Martin, of 70 Park avenue, left Ocean Grove yesterday, where she has been enjoying the delightful weather for the past two weeks, for her home.

Miss Ella M. Conkey, of 6 West Fourth street, is at Ocean Grove enjoying the warm September days in company with Mrs. H. Tucker, her grandmother, and other relatives.

C. G. Hedge, secretary and treasurer of the Kansas, Texas and Missouri railway, has taken (through the Mulford agency) the new house of F. H. Martin, 33 Sandford avenue.

"My Lady's Looking-glass" was the contribution of George Percy Taggart of North Plainfield to the hundreds of newspapers served by the literary department of The United Press, last Sunday.

J. A. Haynes, the popular and efficient general agent at the North avenue railway station, has been granted ten days' leave of absence, and leaves to-day for a fishing trip among the lakes of Sussex county.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Walsh returned from their wedding trip last evening and sat down for the first time to their own cosy tea table. His bride was Miss Maria Maloney, to whom he was married by the Rev. P. E. Smyth, at St. Mary's church, last week Tuesday afternoon. Their wedding trip was a visit to Boston. They have begun housekeeping at 32 Arlington avenue. Mr. Walsh is a popular young man, and he and his happy bride have the best wishes of many Plainfield people. While a bachelor he was president of the social organization whose mystic title was "M. G. W. M. C. W."

A number of Plainfield's young society people, chaperoned by Mrs. J. P. Mason, enjoyed an informal dance in the Casino, Monday evening. Among those present were: Mrs. L. G. Timpson, Miss Katheryn Yates, Miss Lena Hart, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Force of Brooklyn, Miss Lizzie VanBoskerck, Miss Maude VanBoskerck, Miss Bushnell, Miss Gertrude Walz, Miss Albertia McKinney, Miss Matalie Fehrmyn, Miss Marion Dumont, Miss Ryle of Paterson, Miss Wheeler of Buffalo, Miss Annie Murphy, Miss Lewis of Willkesbarre, Miss Ricketts of Elizabeth, Miss Caroline Streuli; and Messrs. John Munn, Clarence Murphy, Harry Borden, Andrew McKinney, Harry Opdyke, L. Timpson, Howard Beebe, Lewis Walz, Fred. Walz, Mr. Dumont, Mr. Wharton, Augustus Shepard, Burrit Shepard, Orville Waring, Albert Streuli, Daniel Ginna, Fred. Yates, Lawrence VanBuren, Ed. VanBuren, Boardman Wright, Howard Huntington, Rowland Cox, Irving West, Jule Erickson, Edward Raymond, Hegeman Forster, Eugene Forster, Mr. Gibson.

THE GREAT EASTERN.

How the Vessel Looks After Six Months' Demolition.

The Interesting History of the Largest Ship Ever Built—A Money-Losing Venture from Beginning to End—Startling Figures.

Thirty-four years have now passed since the "Great Eastern" was first floated from the stocks at Millwall, says Black and White. This ship, by far the largest ever built, was designed by Mr. Brunel, and was intended for the long sea route to India. The extreme length was 692 feet, width 83 feet, and depth 60 feet, with a carrying power of 24,000 tons, or 14,000 more than the splendid vessels of the White Star and Inman lines, and contained accommodation for 800 first-class passengers, 2,000 second-class, and 1,200 third—in all 4,000 passengers. The expectations of those interested in the vessel were disappointed in regard to its speed, which did not exceed fifteen miles an hour, and no sooner had she gone to sea than she met with a series of accidents which appeared for a time to destroy public confidence in the vessel as a sea-going passenger ship. Some damage was caused by an explosion on board a few days after putting to sea, which was attended with fatal result. Then the huge ship encountered a great gale in Holyhead harbor, and afterwards was disabled by a hurricane in the Atlantic, when off Cape Clear, on her homeward voyage from America, in which her rudder and paddles were so damaged that she rolled about for several days at the mercy of the waves. The companies which owned her being in financial difficulties, the big ship, which had cost £500,000 was sold for only £25,000. The misfortunes of the "Great Eastern" and its failure as a commercial speculation in the hands of its first proprietors have been quoted as an illustration of the ill luck which seemed to follow the undertakings of the Brunels. Among others may be mentioned the Thames tunnel, which was, commercially, a failure. One circumstance which can always be satisfactorily connected with its short existence upon the water is that of having laid the Atlantic cable between Great Britain and America in 1866. The picture represents the huge vessel in the course of demolition on the river side at New Ferry (Liverpool), where it was beached for the purpose.

THE "GREAT EASTERN" IN THE MERSEY AT LOW WATER LAST YEAR.

THE "GREAT EASTERN" AFTER A HALF-YEAR'S DEMOLITION.

When Your Head Is Off.

As human curiosity has never been satisfied as to the precise moment of death in cases of beheading, the account of the experiment on a decapitated criminal communicated to a French medical journal by a leading scientist of Lyons is of absorbing interest. This time the results are more satisfactory than has hitherto been the case; the doctor making the following statement with regard to the manifestations of consciousness after the head had been separated from the body: 1. That the head, on being separated from the body, remains in possession of all its faculties, if the hemorrhage does not pass certain limits. 2. The proportion of oxygen in the blood is sufficient for keeping up the nervous functions for a brief space, never exceeding a half-minute. 3. That the repeated opening and closing of the jaws after the separation of the head from the body are nothing but the reflex action common in cases of acute asphyxia.

The Ant as a Surgeon.

The grip of an ant's jaw is retained even after the body has been bitten off and nothing but the head remains. This knowledge is possessed by a certain tribe of Indians in Brazil, who put the ants to a very peculiar use. When an Indian gets a gash cut in his hand, instead of having his hand sewn together, as physicians do in this country, he procures five or six large black ants, and, holding their heads near the gash, they bring their jaws together in biting the flesh, and thus pull the two sides of the gash together. Then the Indian pinches off the bodies of the ants and leaves the heads clinging to the flesh, which is held together until the gash is perfectly healed.

How Emerson Wrote.

Here is a clever scrap from a letter written to John Lothrop Motley by Oliver Wendell Holmes: "I sat by the side of Emerson, who always charms me by his delicious voice, his fine sense and wit, and the delicate way he steps about the words of his vocabulary. If you have seen a cat picking her footsteps in wet weather you have seen the picture of Emerson's exquisite intelligence feeling for its phrase or epithet. Sometimes I think of an ant eater singling out his insects as I see him looking about and at last seizing his worm or adjective, the best, the only one which would serve the need of his thought."

Rumor of a Naval Demonstration.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—The dispatch from Rome announcing that England, Italy, Germany and the United States had decided to make a naval demonstration in Chinese waters, and that the command of the combined fleet will be given to the Duke of Genoa, is neither denied or confirmed at the Navy Department here.

He Fished for Money.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sep. 22.—Hosea A. Brooks, a workman employed by the West Haven Horse Railroad, is under arrest charged with stealing money from the company. He used a fish hook and line to draw out the deposit envelopes left in a box by the conductors. The amount stolen is not stated, but it is doubtless quite large.

The Hopkins Will Case.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 22.—The trial of the famous Searles-Hopkins will case begins to-day. The counsel for both sides are here. It is not unlikely that the case may be compromised before it has proceeded far.

A Delegate Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 22.—H. M. Davis, of Peoria, Ill., a delegate to the National Switchmen's Convention, was found dead in his room at the Howard House in the morning. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Can't Come in Duty Free.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 22.—The Treasury Department has refused to admit duty free the surgical instruments of a French physician, which came to this country in a different vessel from the owner.

Alleged Mutineers Remanded.

BOSTON, Sep. 22.—The six sailors of the schooner T. D. Winchester, who were charged with mutiny on the high seas, were arraigned before Commissioner Hallet to-day and held in $300 each for the United States District Court.

HOW'S THIS, MR. JUDGE?

Are Foul-mouthed Fellows to be Sustained in Insulting People on the Street?

A somewhat peculiar instance of the administration of justice in Plainfield's city court has come to the knowledge of THE PRESS, which to-day lays bare the facts in the case for the public to judge of.

Two or three weeks ago, at the time when ex-policeman Carey—he of the foul mouth—found himself involved in difficulties because of having, it was alleged, unlawfully broken into the store of a tenant who had already paid the bill which he was seeking to re-collect, Carey came into contact with constable Rockfellow, who was one of those who had sided with the oppressed ones, and quite a disgraceful scene—so far as Carey was concerned—followed.

Judging from the evidence at hand, Rockfellow conducted himself, on this occasion, with the utmost propriety. But Carey did otherwise.

As a result of Carey's doings—Rockfellow says—he went to judge Codington and asked that a warrant for the arrest of Carey be issued.

As he got no satisfaction whatever from Judge Codington, he was compelled to get a lawyer to draw up his complaint. In it he charged Carey with having used the vilest language to him, on the public street, and with having indulged in disgraceful actions, insulting not only to Rockfellow but to passers-by as well.

Judge Codington was compelled under the law to recognize any legally-drawn complaint presented to him. He took that of Rockfellow, and said he would see about it.

Some days later constable Rockfellow asked judge Codington what he was doing in the matter. Codington is quoted as replying that he had had Carey come before him and as Carey had pleaded non vult he had let him go unpunished.

The record on the city court books shows that no sentence has been inflicted and no trial held. The case was not reported to the newspapers, but instead, seemingly with a purpose, was withheld from the reporters who daily call at the judge's office for a record of the court's doings of the day.

It does seem queer that Carey's tongue should be permitted to wag in such unrestricted way, and his mouth to utter the vilest and most insulting of language on the public street, and Carey be free from punishment, when a poor man, for calling a hackman a liar under justifiable circumstances, is fined $5 by the same just judge. Is there a special law for Carey, and is he to be permitted—as he has bragged that he would—to take the law into his own hands, without fear of retribution? It is decidedly singular that in so flagrant a violation of the law Carey should be granted immunity from suffering the penalties of justice. Had the city judge looked into the case he would have found constable Rockfellow's statement supported fully by that of at least two prominent citizens. For conduct less flagrant than that complained of by Rockfellow, Carey was dismissed from the police force. Why in this instance is he given the protection of the court?

YOU AND I.

New York's Comedy Success to be Presented at Music Hall Thursday Evening.

"U and I", the laughing success of the past season in New York will form the attraction for the opening of Music Hall, Thursday evening. It is a clever satire on the New York apartment system, and is crowded with bright sayings, attractive dancing and pleasant music. The principal role is that taken by the famous Irish comedian, John T. Kelly, as O'Donovan Innes, a Haverstraw, N. Y., Irish aristocrat, in which character his inimitable drollery and originality, have excellent play. Dutch Daly, the quaint German comedian and celebrated cornetinist, is another of the bright stars of the cast, while the play itself is one incessant roar of laughter from start to finish, over the fast succeeding comical absurdities of the plot. Among the special attractions of the cast and the programme are Florrie West, the winning comedienne; George Dennin, late of the Casino Opera Company; that capital low comedian, Harry Kelly, Charles F. Watson, Flora Veidran, Charles F. Wilson, Lizzie Ennis, Josie and Ida Fairbanks and the little dancing wonder La Petite Aimee Angeles, and a full comic opera chorus of 20, in a series of attractive specialties. The mounting and dressing of the comedy will be on the same scale of excellence that characterized its New York run at the Standard Theatre.

A Cow Maltreats An Umpire.

While milking a cow, Sunday evening, William Simmons, the well-known baseball umpire of Stony Hill, back of North Plainfield, was frightfully horned and trampled upon by the animal. He was badly bruised and cut about the arms and side before help arrived and drove the beast away. He is slowly recovering.

Shiloh's Cough Cure

This is beyon question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N.J.

"To What Do You Attribute Your Wonderful Success?"

The above is a question often asked the management of the Great Inter-State fair. There is but one answer: a generous and intelligent use of printer's ink, in advertising in the best papers of the State.

"A good plant conveniently located, large and commodious buildings, a lavish display of everything that grows or is made—all these have some bearing on the success of a fair. But it is due to an apparently reckless, but really judicious, expenditure of cold cash in advertising that the lusty infant of '88 has assumed the giant proportions which now mark him as a sort of infant prodigy among fairs."

So spoke the Secretary of the Great Inter-State fair to a PRESS reporter recently. "Yes," continued Mr. Muirheid, "this fair business is a hit or miss business anyway. It's either a howling success or a dismal failure, and old Prob. is the presiding deity. Our advertising account would astonish you; it almost frightens me. But give us a good week, and we will show you a fair the like of which you have never seen." "But suppose it rains?" asked the scribe. The Secretary shugged his broad shoulders, and with a smile said, "In the bright lexicon of the Great Inter-State fair, there is no such word as rain."

Raw Beef and Soda-water Knocked the Racer Out.

Saturday afternoon three well-known sports of the city met by special agreement at Richmond street to ride a bicycle race over the course from Plainfield to Springfield and return. Several of their intimate friends accompanied them to the place of starting, to act as referees, starters and time-keepers. Two went to Springfield to see that they rounded the stake, hand them soda-water, and cheer them on their way. The conditions of the race were that one was to have 25 minutes start, and that the other two were to start even. The first man was started off at 1:30, and the two others at 1:55. All went well with No. 1. He finished first in 1 hour and 28 minutes. But the other two—what a time they had! They raced hard, and long before they reached Springfield they wished that they were back in Plainfield going to the ball game. One of them, who had been eating raw beefsteak all the morning—to harden himself, he said—took a tempting glass of soda-water at Springfield, and when about four miles this side was taken ill, and was out of the race. The parties who had handed him the soda, found him lying by the wayside. The other fared better. He finished in one hour and 11 minutes—17 minutes after the first. The racer who was taken ill arrived home yesterday morning all right.

Drunkenness Not a Vice, but a Disease.

"Drunkenness is Curable" is the title of an article in the October number of the North American Review which is destined to attract wide attention. It is written by John F. Mines, a well-known New York journalist, and a gentleman of unquestioned character for veracity. After a heroic fight for more than twenty years against the power of the drink-habit, and taking treatment in a number of institutions conducted specially for that purpose, all without success, he placed himself under the care of Dr. Keeley, at Dwight, Ill., where in six weeks he was completely cured. "The disease is out of my blood and bones", says Mr. Mines, "and I know it is out forever."

He then gives in graphic style an account of his own experience under the Keeley treatment of drunkenness, which he regards as one of the greatest of medical discoveries, and a blessing to humanity which cannot be overestimated.

Elizabeth's Bicycle Record.

N. H. White started from the clubhouse of the Elizabeth Wheelmen at 8 o'clock, Friday, to break the club record for twenty-four hours, which has been held for a number years by F. C. Gilbert. Mr. White rode until nearly 2 o'clock, but lost the benefit of two and one-half hours by his cyclometer getting out of order and refusing to register for that length of time.

At 6 a. m. White started out again, making twenty-five and twenty-nine-miles trips without dismounting. Each trip to Plainfield was made under the hour. The last run from Plainfield was made in forty-three minutes. The record now stands 186 miles. It was made in fourteen hours and ten minutes actual riding time. During the twenty-four hours, Mr. White was paced by Messrs. Calkins, Davey, Doe, Taylor and Morton.

If it had not been for the loss of the two and a half hours of riding, Mr. White's record would have been considerably over two hundred miles.

Plainfield Roads the Wheelmen's Paradise.

[From The Asbury Park Journal.]

L. O. Grenelle spent a week in the vicinity of Plainfield and improved his time in going over the miles of good roads in Union county, with trips to Orange, Summit and other towns. On Labor Day, with a friend, he alighted from a local train at Elizabeth and started to beat the train to Cranford. The wheelmen made the distance in a hurry and were at the station at Cranford to meet their party when the train arrived. Mr. Grenelle says it's easier to travel thirty miles over such roads than five miles over Monmouth county's highways. Its a wheelmen's paradise.

Broke Three Records.

PEORIA, Ill., Sep. 22.—A. A. Zimmerman, of the New York Athletic Club, lowered the three, four and five miles American safety record yesterday in the first day's record-breaking trials now being run in connection with the race meeting which closed Saturday evening. Zimmerman's time for three miles was 7 minutes, 43 2-5 seconds; four miles, 10:27; five miles, 12:53 4-5.

Ex-President Cleveland Will Attend.

ERIE, Pa., Sep. 22.—No arrangements for the funeral of the late Hon. William L. Scott have been announced; pending the arrival of the family from Newport, with the remains to-day. A telegram from ex-President Cleveland states that he will attend the funeral of his distinguished friend.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. AN ORDINANCE

Concerning the use and repairs of streets.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That in case the surface of any of the streets or sidewalks of said city shall have been disturbed or shall be disturbed by any person or persons or corporation, it shall be the duty of such person or persons or corporation respectively within ten days after such disturbance, or in case the same shall have already been made before the date on which this ordinance shall go into effect, then within ten days from the date last referred to, to cause said streets or sidewalks to be put as nearly as practicable in as good condition as the same were in before being disturbed as aforesaid, so that the same shall be hard, smooth and even on the surface and of the same grade and level as before said disturbance was begun.

And it shall further be the duty of any such person or persons or corporation in case any such disturbance as aforesaid or any work done in connection therewith by such person or persons or corporation has caused or shall at any time or times cause any depression or elevation in any street or sidewalk so disturbed, to remedy said defect within ten days after being notified by the street commissioner in writing so to do.

Any person or persons who, or any corporation which shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each and every offence.

Adopted by the Common Council September 14, 1891.

Approved by the Mayor September 15, 1891.

A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. B. Coward, City Clerk.
Fees—$3.60.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to License Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors". Approved February 22, 1875. Readopted March 8, 1875, notwithstanding the objections of the mayor. Amended by ordinance approved June 3, 1879. December 7, 1881. December 19, 1882. January 30, 1883. November 10, 1884. December 31, 1887. February 7. and two ordinances approved February 5, 1889.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That no person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall suffer or permit in his or her bar room, or room in which spirituous or fermented liquors are customarily sold, or in any room in the same building wherein spirituous or fermented liquors are dispensed or drunk, any musical performance of any kind, vocal or instrumental or both, or any mechanical music, or any acting, dancing, juggling, sleight of hand, boxing, wrestling or any similar performance, show or exhibition.

Section 2. Every person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, to sell spirituous or fermented liquors shall so arrange the doors, windows and partitions of his or her bar room or saloon, that a full and unobstructed view of the interior thereof, including the bar, may be had from the street through the doors or windows or both, between the hours of 12 p. m. each and every Saturday and 6 a m. the following Monday. And no window, blind, screen, partition, curtain or other article shall be so left or placed as to prevent between the hours named the full and unobstructed view from the street of the interior of any saloon or bar room licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment.

Section 3. No person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall at any time sell or dispense spirituous or fermented liquors from any bar that cannot, between the hours named in Section 2, be plainly seen from the street.

Section 4. A violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding sixty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Adopted by the Common Council September 14, 1891.

Approved by the Mayor September 15, 1891.

A. GILBERT, Mayor.

Attest—J. B. Coward, City Clerk.

A FAMOUS PAINTING.

The Portrait of Mrs. Mackay Made by Meissonier.

In Its Time This Work Created a Tremendous Sensation—A Picture of the Lady from a Recent Photograph —Striking Contrast.

The Pall Mall Budget has been enabled, by permission of Mrs. John W. Mackay, to publish a sketch from the famous portrait of that lady which was painted by Meissonier in 1883. Most of our readers will remember the bitterness which the painter's treatment of this little panel created between Meissonier and Mrs. Mackay. Rumor had it that the lady, feeling that her features were maligned, had destroyed the picture. But this, happily, proved untrue; for no worse fate befell the work than having its face turned to the wall for about eight years. It has only recently been brought to the light, and now takes its place among the valuable works of art which hang in the beautiful drawing-room of 6, Carlton House-terrace, being shown for the first time to Mrs. Mackay's friends at a reception which she gave the other evening.

There is no need to do more than recall the history of the picture, or to enter into a discussion of its merits. Suffice it to say that Mrs. Mackay considers it a very bad likeness, and that it made her appear much older than she was, both of which faults it probably possessed. As to the latter, at any rate, it is well known to artists that a minute attention to the details of a head—such as was essentially characteristic of Meissonier's method—does have the effect of making the sitter look older. A more tangible grievance was that of the size and character of the hands, which undoubtedly are a blemish in the picture. As a matter of fact they can hardly be said to be the hands of Mrs. Mackay at all, for Messionier, in his desire to get the picture finished, had resort to a pernicious modern expedient, and unused the hands from those of a model. And so the picture was finished, and nobody in Paris was more surprised than Mrs. Mackay when it was being exhibited in the salon. The controversy which ensued became so unpleasant that it is said to have greatly influenced Mrs. Mackay in leaving Paris and coming to live in London, where she is now established in the house upon which Mr. Sandford spent so much money.

MRS. MACKAY—AFTER A RECENT PHOTOGRAPH.

It is an unobtrusive little picture; the dress and hat are black, the cloak of dark fur, and the background of a sort of mahogany red color. The price said to have been paid for the picture is 3,000 guineas, and the size is exactly 12x17 inches.

"Witness My Hand."

In the early days only a few scholars, priests and clerks knew how to write. It was then customary to sign a document by smearing the hand with ink and impressing it upon the paper, accompanied by the words: "Witness my hand." Afterwards the seal was introduced as a substitute for the hand mark, and was used with the words above quoted, the two forming the signature. This is the origin of the expression as used in modern documents.

An Odd Hair Wreath.

Miss Hattie J. Chipps, who lives near Budd's Lake, N. J., has fashioned portions of hair from the heads of over 2,000 individuals into a large wreath of over 1,000 flowers and leaves. This unique oddity is composed of hair of every shade and color known to the anthropologist. The young artist spent over a year in collecting the locks of hair before commencing work on the wreath.

'TWAS ALL FOR LOVE

Why Edward Searles Married Mrs. Mark Hopkins.

MONEY WAS NOT AN INCENTIVE

Interesting Testimony in the Great Will Contest at Salem.

Mrs. Searles, According to a Witness, is Sound Mind When She Signed the Will—The Right of Timothy Hopkins to Appear as the Adopted Son Questioned—Other Evidence.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 23.—At the beginning of the trial of the Hopkins-Searles will case yesterday, all of the contestants were either present personally or represented by distinguished counsel.

The first proceedings were the reading of the petition and will. William W. Dodge, a witness to the will, testified to going from Cambridge to Methuen July 16, 1888, and drawing the will, of Mrs. Searles. It was read to her, and she signed it after declaring that it expressed her wishes. She was to all appearances of sound mind.

Mr. Burleigh, of counsel for Timothy Hopkins, asked that the will of Edward S. Searles, mentioned as having been drawn at the same time, be produced.

Incidental to the discussion of this request, Mr. Lincoln, for the executor, stated that the executor did not concede the right of Timothy Hopkins to appear as the adopted son. Mr. Burleigh repeated that both the will and notice recognized the relationship.

Mr. Burleigh pressed the demand for Mr. Searle's will and the Court ruled that it was competent, but declined to postpone the hearing, directing the executors, however, to produce the will.

Mr. Burleigh proceeded to cross-examine witnesses, his main point being the fact that the name "Timothy Hopkins" was written apparently in a different ink and in a blank space left for the name.

Mr. Dodge stated that his impression was that he left the space until he got to Methuen, as he was not sure whether there was a middle initial.

He had been instructed to draw a will leaving all the property to Mr. Searles, and as his duty as a lawyer required, he inserted the section regarding the omission of the name of Timothy Hopkins.

He called the special attention of Mrs. Searles to this and told her he could modify it if she desired, but she stated that it expressed her wishes, and it was executed. Witness took it away and sent it to New York to the executor.

The examination of Edward F. Searles was then commenced. He first met Mrs. Hopkins in March, 1883, at San Francisco, going to her house with a letter of introduction to look over the house. He then detailed his acquaintance and visits to Mrs. Hopkins.

The first proposition of marriage between the two came from Mrs. Hopkins in New York in 1888. He did not assent to it for a year, but in December, 1884, he entertained the proposition; knew at the time that Mrs. Hopkins was born in 1820. He delayed accepting the proposition of marriage to give her a chance to be sure that she was satisfied, and after he entertained it delayed marriage for three years.

In the spring of 1886 went to Florida, as the guest of Mrs. Hopkins, in her private car. He was accompanied by Miss Cass of Great Barrington. Witness, from 1885 to 1887, was superintending the building of Mrs. Hopkins' house at Great Barrington. He has understood that the son Timothy, in connection with the railroad people, managed her affairs; had been told by Mrs. Hopkins that Timothy had objected to the marriage, but had cherished no ill-will toward him for it; the agreement of marriage was entered into in September, 1887, on witness' part because he greatly admired her.

In reply to a question he said that he married her for all she had both love and money, but should never have married her for money alone. Did not know of the will made the day of the marriage, November 8, 1887, until after her death, but did not think it was intentionally made behind his back.

THE LETTERS MADE PUBLIC.

More of the Bardsley Case—Cashier Livesey's Resignation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 23.—District-Attorney Graham yesterday gave out to the newspapers the much-talked-of correspondence between Auditor-General McCamant and Cashier Livesey on the one side, and ex-City Treasurer Bardsley on the other, which it is contended only needed the corroborative evidence of Bardsley himself to enable Mr. Graham to frame a criminal indictment against Mr. McCamant.

The letters are, in general, an acknowledgement of favors much more valuable than any before referred to in print, and there is an entire lack of any mention of "neckties and handkerchiefs."

Cashier Livesey's Resignation.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 23.—State Treasurer Boyer, on his return to the capital, found the resignation of Cashier Livesey awaiting him. It was mailed at Milwaukee, Wis., on August 26. Domestic circumstances are given as the cause.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Report of the Strength and Condition of the Order.

ST. LOUIS, Sep. 23.—At the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows yesterday, the report of acting Grand Sire Campbell regarding the condition of the order was read.

The numerical strength of the order is: Encampment members, 116,064; lodge members, 672,142; sisters members of Rebekah lodges, 69,111; brothers members of Rebekah lodges, 63,187; cantons, patriarchs militant, estimated 592; chevaliers, rank and file, estimated 25,000.

The report shows but one sovereign grand lodge, two independent grand lodges (English and Australian). There are 51 sub-grand encampments, 65 subgrand lodges, 3,209 sub-encampments and 9,491 sub-lodges.

The report shows that $54,272,994.32 has constituted its total relief fund since 1850, and total receipts since since the same year $142,393,825.99. There is in the treasury a balance, together with the money invested in railroads, a surplus of $81,271.77.

TO BE IMPEACHED.

Serious Charges Alleged Against Canada's Postmaster General.

DETROIT, Mich., Sep. 23.—A special from Ottawa, Ont., says that yesterday, in the House of Commons, Mr. Lister, M. P., for West Lambton, gave notice that to-day he would make an impeachment of Hon. J. C. Haggart, Postmaster-General, in connection with the construction of section B, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The charge will be that while a member of Parliament Mr. Haggart was interested in this contract given by the Government for the construction of that part of the railway which runs between Keewatin and Eagle River.

Mr. Haggart was not at the time a member of the Ministry, being given a portfolio only in 1888, while the contract extended over the years from 1879 to 1886. Mr. Lister says the evidence is strong and he expects to sustain the impeachment.

This is the sensation of the day and dwarfs the McGreevy-Lanevin debate, which is in progress. The session will be prolonged by this charge.

THE SUMMONS WAS LEGAL.

Robert Garrett Forced to Appears in a Three-Million-Dollar Suit.

TRENTON, N. J., Sep. 23.—Judge Green, in the United States Circuit Court, rendered an opinion against Robert Garrett of Baltimore. His counsel moved to have the summons served upon him in a three-million-dollar suit set aside, but the court declined to do so.

William A. Jewett, a promotor, contracted with Garrett to connect the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company with a cable he was laying from England. Jewett was unable to complete his work because Garrett backed out. He brings suit for $3,000,000. It was impossible to make service. A sharp deputy marshal caught Garrett in Jersey City as he was boarding his private car and made service.

Garrett's counsel made a motion to have it dismissed, because it was not the intention of the law to track and waylay a man to make service.

Ex-Secretary of the Navy G. M. Robeson represented Jewett and he opposed the motion and showed that the whole proceeding was regular and according to precedent.

The Judge agreed with him and said service could not have been made in any other way and the great suit will now go on.

Trouble Caused by a Suspended Bank.

BUTLER, Pa., Sep. 23.—The Butler County Bank of Millerstown, owned by H. J. Hoyt, suspended payment a week ago, but has not closed its doors. The deposits aggregate only $36,450, and Mr. Hoyt says that his assets amount to over $30,000, and that he will be able to pull through. The embarrassment is creating a panic in Millerstown. Owen Brady, a prominent oil operator and land owner, assigned yesterday to L. M. Wise. He was a former stockholder of the bank and is said to be on Mr. Hoyt's paper. Judgments were obtained against him for $20,000.

Eloped With His Partner's Daughter.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sep. 23.—The elopement of George W. Kennedy, 52 years of age, with the 19-year-old daughter of O. G. Irvine, his business partner, and granddaughter of the late Gen. William Irvine, has just leaked out. The couple left here last Wednesday and were married in a wayside village near Syracuse. Kennedy is a widower with several children. He had long been an intimate friend of the Irvines.

STEALING HER CHILD

A Little Girl Kidnapped By Her Mother.

BUNDLED OFF IN A CARRIAGE.

The Father Had Possession of the Child, But the Mother Wanted Her.

The Little Girl Spirited Away in Broad Daylight—Unsuccessful Pursuit—The Third Attempt at Seizure, the Other Two Having Failed—The Result of an Unfortunate Marriage.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 23.—Eleven years ago John Johnson and Annie Bruckner were married. Two children were born to them, Anna and Louise. Two years ago the parents drifted apart. The father resided in this place, with the children, which the courts had given to him. The wife resided in Brooklyn.

Yesterday morning the two girls started for school. Anna was chatting with her elder sister, when suddenly, as they were passing along Prospect street, Anna was seized by her mother and a strange man, and hurriedly lifted into an open carriage, such as is used by doctors. Another man was seated in the carriage.

Louise, the sister, clung to her mother. When she was beaten off she seized the spokes of the carriage and narrowly escaped serious injury by the sudden starting of the vehicle. The kidnapped child struggled as fiercely as her feeble strength would permit. Her mother held her hand over her mouth to prevent her from crying out. She pressed so hard that blood spurted from her nose.

From Thomas street the carriage turned into Clinton avenue and went up the hill at unabated speed. The route had evidently been previously selected, as the driver did not hesitate an instant in turning from one street into another. From Clinton avenue the runaways turned into Elizabeth avenue. The carriage headed for Elizabeth and disappeared.

Mrs. Johnson has made two previous attempts to gain possession of the children. Both were unsuccessful.

THE RUSH FOR HOMES.

The New Lands in Oklahoma Opened Amid Great Excitement.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 23.—With the arrival of the noon hour yesterday thousands of home-seekers made a headlong rush over the border into the lands opened for settlement. The rush was a mad one and was made so by the fact that the number of home-seekers greatly exceeded the number of quarter sections available for settlement.

There was room in the new lands for about 5,000 settlers, allowing 160 acres for each. There were on the border waiting to claim the available land fully 15,000 people, making three persons for each section.

The greatest rush was for the town lots which the Government surveyors have laid out so carefully, and not a few of which, despite the adoption of the utmost precautions, will prove to have fallen into the hands of speculators.

Out of the million acres and more of new land two towns have been formed and named, one being called Chandler and the other the southernmost, Tecumseh.

The Standard Oil Company in Germany.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—There has been so much discussion of the efforts of the Standard Oil Company of the United States to establish a German monopoly, that Mr. William Walter Phelps, the American Minister, requested the European agent of the Standard Oil Company, Mr. Libby, to present a report to him on the position of his company in Germany. The American Minister has just received the report. In it Mr. Libby declares that the policy of the Standard Oil Company is simply that of competitive commerce, dictated by a desire to sustain the consumption of American petroleum in Europe, in face of the active competition of other countries, especially that of Russia.

Protests Against the New Railroad.

NEW YORK, Sep. 23.—A score or more owners and masters of vessels, with residents of Lawrence and Far Rockaway, met yesterday in the engineer's room of the United States Army building, and laid before Lieut.-Col. Gillespie protests against the obstruction of navigation in Jamaica Bay by the New York & Rockaway Railroad Company. There are two draws in the railroad trestle crossing the bay, one at what is known as Broad and the other as Beach Channel. These draws, it is alleged, are located in such positions as to obstruct navigation.

Her Wounds Proved Fatal.

ORANGE, N. J., Sep. 23.—Three-year-old Daisy Fleming, daughter of W. H. Fleming, of Watchung avenue, died yesterday morning from the effects of burns she had received from her dress catching fire at a bonfire built by some boys in the rear of her father's carpenter shop.

Itata Proceedings Not Over.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 23.—The order of the Attorney-General to United States District-Attorney Gard to dismiss the second libel he had filed against the Itata must not be interpreted as indicating the government's intention to abandon further proceedings in the premises. On the contrary, two cases—one the trial of the indictment against Trumbull, and the other the original libel filed immediately after the vessel was brought back to San Diego—are set for the 20th of October, and will be heard then.

Warren Knocked Out in 21 Rounds.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 23.—Though numerous obstacles were placed in the way of the management of the McCarthy-Warren glove contest the affair came off last night. Contrary to expectation McCarthy won handily and proved himself an excellent boxer. Throughout the 21 rounds of the fight he had a shade the best of it. About $20,000 changed hands on the result and as the outcome of the contest was contrary to general expectations, the "talent" lost heavily.

Suicide at Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sep. 23.—The remains of a woman with a bullet hole through her head were found yesterday below Cedar Island. The dead woman was handsomely dressed and wore expensive jewelry, including some diamonds. It is believed it is a case of suicide. She was about 40 years of age. It is thought the remains are those of Mrs. Charles H. Rathbun, who mysteriously disappeared in Chicago a short time ago.

Fatal Quarrel About a Horsewhip.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 23.—As the result of a quarrel as to the ownership of a horsewhip, William B. Donovan, a teamster, is in jail on a charge of murder. He struck Morgan Fosdick a heavy blow in the face. Fosdick fell over a wagon tongue and an old stove and struck heavily upon his head on the stone floor of the barn. Fosdick slowly arose to his feet, walked across the room and dropped dead.

Stumbled and Broke Her Neck.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sep. 23.—Mrs. Frank McCormick, the wife of a prominent merchant of Homer, and widely known throughout the County, while crossing the room last evening, stumbled and fell, her head striking an open door, breaking her neck. She died instantly. A child which she was carrying in her arms at the time of the fall was badly injured. Mrs. McCormick was 25 years old.

Buried Alive in a Trench.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sep. 23.—While a gang of workmen were digging a deep trench on Washington street for the Water Supply Company's pipes, the earth suddenly gave way, burying one of them completely. It took a half hour of hard digging to release the man, who was nearly dead when found. Several of his bones were broken and such severe internal injuries received that he cannot live.

Mission Meeting of Reformed Church.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sep. 23.—The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church held their annual session here yesterday. Rev. Lewis Reiter was appointed missionary at Roanoke, Va., and the Board ordered a church to be built there. The Reformed pastor of Baltimore applied for a missionary for northeast Baltimore, and the superintendent was directed to visit the field.

CAMPAIGN BOOMING

A Rousing Republican Meeting in New York.

THE NOMINATIONS RATIFIED.

A Lengthy Speech by J. Sloat Fassett, Nominee for Governor.

He Arraigns Tammany Hall and the Democratic Platform—Allusion to the Lieutenant-Governor—Fassett Stands by His Record on the World's Fair Bill—Speeches by Other Republicans.

NEW YORK, Sep. 23.—The Republicans of this city held a rousing meeting last night in Carnegie's new Music Hall and formally ratified the action of the Republican Convention at Rochester. The hall was packed. Many ladies were present, conspicuous among them being Mrs. J. Sloat Fassett, who occupied a box.

John S. Smith, chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Republican Club, called the vast assemblage to order. After reading a letter from Andrew D. White, regretting his inability to be present, Mr. Fassett, Republican nominee for Governor, was introduced.

Mr. Fassett made a long address. He said that when the ladies leave the comfort of the dining rooms, when the citizen leaves his cool place by the window for such a warm place as the hall, there is already enough enthusiasm in the campaign.

"I have watched the splendid growth of this imperial city since I was a boy and I have frequently dreamed what a glorious city it might be with honest government. I have dreamed of what might be if all the revenues of this city had been properly harvested in years gone by. And why haven't these dreams been realized? I have been told that you know something about the history and works of Tammany Hall. You have been so well instructed by Tammany Hall and by its officers, and by its maladministration and by contrast between what might be, what is and what isn't, that I shall not waste my time nor yours in saying unpleasant things about Tammany Hall.

"I didn't see anything in the Democratic platform about Grover Cleveland. Tammany Hall never liked Grover Cleveland. I didn't see any pointing with pride to the illustrious name and spotless career of Lucius Robinson. Tammany Hall never liked him, but he was an honest man. I didn't see anything about any soldiers or sailors in the platform at Saratoga, and yet Edward F. Jones was a soldier. I think they hadn't any room in their convention for a boy who wore the blue, and yet Edward F. Jones was a brave man in 1865."

Mr. Fassett continued with a long and sweeping arraignment of the Democratic party in its connection with matters of State administration and legislation.

"If it were to be done over again to-morrow, I should repeat, act for act, and vote for vote, the record of the whole history of the World's Fair so far as my connection with it is concerned. I deemed it important that you should have a World's Fair in New York, but not a Tammany Fair."

Mr. Fassett concluded his speech by arraigning the various city departments that he said were controlled and owned by Tammany Hall.

After Mr. Fassett's address speeches were made by John W. Vrooman, Hon. George B. Sloan, Hon. Chas. T. Saxton and Hon. Lawson N. Fuller.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS LEAGUE.

Much Enthusiasm at the Pennsylvania State Convention.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sep. 23.—The convention of Republican League Clubs is in session here, for the purpose of electing a president to succeed Mayor Edwin S. Stuart of Philadelphia, whose term has expired.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the league yesterday afternoon a resolution rejecting the application of all clubs for membership which had not been in existence on July 16 was adopted. This seems to indicate that Senator Robinson will be elected president of the league.

Mr. McCandless of Pittsburg made a gallant effort to amend the resolution by extending the date to September 1, but he was not successful.

May Have Been Murdered.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., Sept. 23.—William Webster Trimble, of Camden, N. J., a civil engineer employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, was killed on the railroad near this city last night. The body was terribly mangled and thrown sixty feet into the river. There is a good deal of mystery about Trimble's death and murder is suspected.

The Bank Has Begun Suit.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 23.—The German-American Bank of this city has commenced a suit for $3,500 against Henry T. Edson, to recover upon a note on which his wife is indorser. The note was given to take up a draft upon defendant's father which the latter's firm refused to honor.

Ostrander Admitted to Bail.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sep. 23.—James E. Ostrander, the defaulting bank treasurer, was admitted to bail yesterday in the sum of $20,000. His wife, son-in-law, Egbert Fiersted, and nephew, Abram Hasbrouck, president of the Rondout National Bank, went sureties.

New Evening Paper in New York.

NEW YORK, Sep. 23.—On October 1 the New York "Staats-Zeitung" will publish a new evening edition. It will be a penny paper, Democratic, and will be edited by the present staff of the morning paper.

S. V. WHITE FAILS.

Suspension of the Well-Known Broker With Enormous Liabilities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The announcement of the failure of the well-known banking house of S. V. White & Co. caused a tremendous sensation in Wall street.

For the last twenty years "Deacon" White has been a tower of strength in financial circles, and the news of his suspension coming so suddenly and unexpectedly, produced a shock that was all the more violent.

The failure was due to an attempt to bull corn in a falling market, and had nothing to do with stocks. The liabilities will reach two million dollars.

Mr. White was one of the picturesque characters of the street. He has been a member of the Stock Exchange since 1869. He was President of the Mining Exchange in the days when mining stocks were booming. He has been a famous dealer in Delaware, Lackawana & Western stock.

He was supposed to represent the Percy Pyne interests. He engineered many notable deals in Lackawanna, particularly the famous corner in 1885, when he ran the price of the stock up from 120 to 150 in one day, and would have caused many failures in the street had he not let the shorts off.

Mr. White is a short, slight man, and wears a gray beard and a slouch hat. He looks like a farmer. He served several terms in Congress.

Charles W. Goulds, the lawyer, is the assignee, and there are no preferences.

A Pittsburg House Affected.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 23.—Rea Bros. & Co., brokers of this city and members of the New York and Philadelphia Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade, have posted the following notice: "Advices from S. V. White & Co. say all our transactions with their house are closed out. We therefore deem it advisable to suspend business pending the settlement of our trades." Thomas B. Rea said the firm would resume business as soon as their transactions with White & Co. were settled up. Rea Bros. & Co. are the best known brokers in this city, and it is thought will not be injured financially by the failure.

THE DETECTIVE ARRESTED.

The Man Who is Proving Lingo Innocent Locked Up for Perjury.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sep. 23.—The taking of testimony in the Milller murder case before Master-in-Chancery Vroom yesterday morning was brought to a sudden stop by the arrest of John O. Campbell, the alleged detective, on a charge of perjury, preferred by Miss Mary Collins.

Campbell was committed to prison by Justice Cassaday, without bail, for the present. The charge of perjury is based on the affidavit of Campbell in which he says that Miss Collins confessed to him that John Miller, her brother-in-law, killed his wife. Francis Lingo, a negro, was convicted of the murder, and the hearing before Mr. Vroom was on an argument for a new trial.

Campbell was employed by counsel for Lingo, and his affidavit alleges that he secured an acquaintance with the Miller household, of which Miss Collins remained a member after her sister's murder. He gained Miss Collins' confidence, he says, and she told him of a quarrel between her sister and Miller, which the husband ended by killing his wife. Campbell alleges that the sister told him that the body was carried to the "bush lot" where it was found.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Three men have committed suicide in the Cleveland, O., jail in a week.

Ten persons were killed in a railroad collison near Walbrom, Russia, Monday.

The city schools at St. Paul, Minn., have been closed this week on account of the excessive heat.

Hon Harvey J. Donaldson has been renominated for Senator by the Republicans of the 18th Senatorial district of New York State.

Noah Richards, the negro, who killed Policeman Sharman of New York, recently, was committed to the Tombs yesterday on a charge of murder.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—New embroideries—have you seen them? If not, you've a pleasure to come to Peck's.

—The excursion to Atlantic City, advertised in another column, will be about the last of the season, and from present indications the most pleasant of all.

—The regular business meeting of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society will be held in Reform Hall to-morrow afternoon at 3:30. A large and prompt attendance is very desirable.

—Yesterday at New Brunswick, John Harkins's fine team was defeated by the celebrated Gorhams by the score of 6 to 3. The Gorhams meet the Crescents in this city Saturday, if it does n't rain.

—The two giddy youths arrested for fast driving on the street at an unearthly hour Tuesday morning were given a hearing by judge Codington last evening. One was fined $1; the other was discharged.

—Classes in mechanical drawing, shorthand, book keeping, and penmanship, will be re-organized at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, very soon. All interested ought to apply for membership without delay.

—Telephone stations have been opened by manager Runyon in Dr. Brakeley's drug store, Dunellen, and in Isaac Brokaw's drug store, Bound Brook, for the accomodation of the public who want to talk to Boston, Plainfield, New York, or anywhere.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. J. A. Haynes returned Saturday from a four weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Hunterdon county.

Lewis R. Blackford is foreman of the Somerset county grand jury for the present term. Rutger G. Cadmus is the only other member from North Plainfield.

Mrs. H. T. Smith, of 27 Westervelt avenue, accompanied by her father, have gone to Grafton, West Virginia, for a stay, in hopes that she may return strong and well again.

Miss Carrie Roome, who had been lying seriously ill all summer at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Roome, of Washington avenue, expressed an intense desire to be taken to her own home in New York before she died. So on Friday, the 11th inst., she was taken there, where she died the following Wednesday. Her funeral took place last Friday. She was the only child left to Mr. and Mrs. Abraham P. M. Roome. They have lost six children. Frederick, the last of their sons, died at 17 years of age at the Roome homestead August 10.

No Somerville Game Yet Arranged.

The New Brunswick Home News says: "Plainfield and Somerville are now the in game won, and the great contest for the supremacy will take place at Somerville, next Saturday. It will be for blood, and will probably prove the most exciting of the series. A large number from this city will likely witness the exhibition."

The fact is that no seventh game between Plainfield and Somerville has yet been arranged—and perhaps none will be. Harkins has asserted decisively that he would not play any mid-week game against Plainfield except with his New Brunswick team, and the next two Saturdays are both filled, so far as the Crescents are concerned, with other games.

Not the Grant Avenue Robbers.

The three men who were caught at Elizabeth riding on a coal train the night that the Grant avenue railway station in this city was robbed, turn out not to be the fellows who committed the burglary. They are able fully to account for themselves, by the testimony of the trainmen on whose train they were riding, for three hours previous to the robbery. They have been sentenced to twenty days' imprisonment for trespassing on the train. Sergeant Lynch is satisfied that the detectives must look further for the thieves.

The Robber of the Laundry May Yet Be Caught.

The local police think that they are on the track of the man who robbed the North avenue Chinese laundry of the money in the cash drawer a few nights ago. He was a colored man, and yesterday they secured from some colored youths testimony tending to fix the crime on a certain person who will be arrested when the proof is more certain.

Hid Powder in the Forge.

When Prince Brown, blacksmith, on Somerset street, got the fire under way in his forge, yesterday morning, he was astonished to hear two loud reports in quick succession, and to see the hot coals scattered about the shop by the explosion. Some one had hidden two big powder cartridges in the forge, evidently as a practical joke.

Shiloh's Cough Cure

This is beyon question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N.J.

THE CONCERT SALOON MUST GO.

No More Disgusting Performances in Plainfield Barrooms, and a View of Their Interiors Must be Open to the Street All Day Sunday and All Sunday Night.

The ordinance designed to rid this city of the iniquitous and nefarious concert saloon, becomes a law Friday. It was signed by the Mayor, the 15th inst. It will be the death blow to Joe Miller's business, and the income of the "news" that advertises the dirty performers, will thereby fall away.

The full text of the ordinance is as follows:

Section 1. That no person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall suffer or permit in his or her bar room, or room in which spirituous or fermented liquors are customarily sold, or in any room in the same building wherein spirituous or fermented liquors are dispensed or drunk, any musical performance of any kind, vocal or instrumental or both, or any mechanical music, or any acting, dancing, juggling, sleight of hand, boxing, wrestling, or any similar performance, show or exhibition.

Section 2. Every person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, to sell spirituous or fermented liquors shall so arrange the doors, windows and partitions of his or her bar room or saloon, that a full and unobstructed view of the interior thereof, including the bar, may be had from the street through the doors or windows or both, between the hours of 12 p. m. each and every Saturday and 6 a. m. the following Monday. And no window, blind, screen, partition, curtain or other article shall be so left or placed as to prevent between the hours named the full and unobstructed view from the street of the interior of any saloon or bar room licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment.

Section 3. No person licensed under the ordinance to which this is an amendment, shall at any time sell or dispense spirituous or fermented liquors from any bar that cannot, between the hours named in Section 2, be plainly seen from the street.

Section 4. A violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding sixty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

ROW IN A COURT ROOM.

Borough Rowdies Try to Jump on Marshal Rutledge.

The court room of borough magistrate Crosley was the scene, last night, of what promised to be a fistic encounter. Only the stern and determined attitude of the judge prevented a serious row and put an end to the open show of hostilities.

Three young men were on trial. They were Wm. Callaway, Alfred Doerematt, and Comedie Doerematt. The charge against them was for fighting. Callaway pleaded guilty and showed that he had been drawn into the fight in self-defense. He was let off with a fine of $2. The Doerematt brothers pleaded not guilty and stood trial. Justice Crosley adjudged them guilty and fined them $5 apiece.

Mrs. Doerematt, mother of the two prisoners, was in court. She is an excitable French woman, and when she heard the sentences pronounced she began violently to atuse the justice. Mr. Crosley ordered marshal Rutledge to remove the woman, and a scene of confusion ensued. A number of rowdyish spectators who are said to "have it in" for Rutledge began to make demonstrations that if he laid a finger on anybody he would get his face mashed. Hot words passed, and blows would undoubtedly have been struck, but justice Crosley stood up, singled out a young man named Gavin as the ringleader, and said that if the fellow did n't leave the room at once he would have him sent to jail for a long term. He also told all those who were making trouble that he knew their names and would commit every one of them if they did n't behave.

The manner of the justice was so decided, and he was so unmistakably in earnest, that the disorder was quelled at once. All of the rioters slunk out of the room, muttering, but subdued. The justice said:

"A repetition of such an outbreak, and I shall certainly send the participants to Somerville and make an example of them."

Gashed with a Razor.

John Daly, from New York, has been visiting friends on West Third street. Yesterday afternoon he got shaved at Krietling's barber shop in North Plainfield, and when he went out he took one of Krietling's razors with him. Policeman Giese captured him after a chase through the streets. Daly was intoxicated, and flourished the open razor at the officer in such a way that he gashed himself on the face and on the fingers. He was fined by judge Codington this morning for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. As Krietling got back his razor he would not press the charge of theft.

Nothing Ruffles Manager Runyon.

A runaway was caused on Broadway, this morning, by the shaft-bolt breaking and dropping part of the shafts on the heels of a huckster's horse. The driver turned the animal into North avenue, and as it passed the telephone office, manager Charles Runyon stepped into the road and in the neatest possible manner caught the horse by the head and stopped him. Mr. Runyon was so cool about it he did not even drop the inevitable cigar out of his mouth, but mildly continued smoking as if runaways were his specialty. He has caught more runaway horses than any man in this state.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—E. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

CRASHED THROUGH A WINDOW.

A Runaway Mustang Inspects the Stock of a Fancy-goods Store.

An exciting runaway occurred on Park avenue last night, at about 9:45.

The son of hackman Kiely was driving an Eighth street passenger homeward, and had just reached Fifth street, when a mustang came plunging down the avenue, dashed against the hack, and broke one of its shafts. The collision caused the mustang to prance around more wildly than before, and by the time it had reached the railway bridge it had smashed the wagon to which it had been attached, dumped the driver out, and freed itself from the wreck.

It galloped up Park avenue so fast that at Front street it was unable to turn, and slid across the sidewalk and down into the area of Mrs. C. E. Clarke's fancy-goods store. It lay there stunned a moment and then got slowly up. In rising it struck its head against the big pane of plate glass nearest the steps of the First National Bank, and shattered the glass into fragments. The animal was then secured, and after a while its owner led it home. It was comparatively unhurt.

The mustang was owned by John Emmons, of 134 Rockview avenue. He bought it from George W. Moore, of Elm place, a short time ago. His son Charles had been driving it, and was badly shaken up by the accident.

A BAD NAME FOR ELSTON.

It Is Said that He Began to Steal When a Little Fellow.

The police officials give a bad name to Charles Elston, alias "Fanwood Charlie", who was arrested yesterday for the robbery of $250 in goods from his next-door neighbor, O. M. Dunham. They claim to have proof that he has been guilty of a series of burglaries in this vicinity for years back. In some—they say—he was caught, and compelled to refund, but out of consideration for his family he never was prosecuted. Some of his most daring ventures have been—it is alleged—the theft of poultry from Scotch Plains hen roosts. It is charged that after killing and plucking the fowls he would take them back to the village and sell them to their owners. Another trick reported of him is that he would jump aboard the Scotch Plains stage, kick out the robes when the driver wasn't looking, jump out further along the road, go back and get the robes, and convert them into cash. The police say they have caught one of the most dangerous of thieves. When he was a mere lad he began to steal, and was sent to the Reform School for it.

MRS. VAN ARSDALE'S FATAL LEAP.

The Horses Were Running Away, and She Jumped and Broke Her Neck.

P. C. VanArsdale, who used to live at 166 East Second street, but who now has a huckstering farm at Pluckamin, and sells vegetables, butter, and eggs, to Plainfield people, was out driving, with his wife, Monday, back of Somerville, when his team of ponies started to run away. He told his wife to jump, and she made a frantic leap from the wagon and fell in a heap by the roadside. Within two minutes VanArsdale got his horses under control, and returned to where his wife was still lying pale and motionless. Horrified, he raised her in his arms, and found that she was dying. When she struck the earth her head had dashed against big stone, and her neck was broken. In five minutes she was dead. She leaves a family of small children.

Westfield Won.

John Harkins's New Brunswick baseball team faced the Westfields, Saturday afternoon, with a second-hand nine, and were defeated by the score of 9 to 1. They ought to have made a better showing, but instead played in a listless manner, feeling that their crippled condition made victory impossible.

Five of the best men were on other teams, and the nine was made up as follows: Bowes, catcher; Clare, pitcher; G. Francis, first base; Creamer, second base; Bowman, third base; Lynch, short stop; Cox, left field; Grunewald, centre field; Carty, right field. In the first two innings the game was a comedy of errors on the part of the New Brunswicks, and their opponents piled up five runs.

It Was Mr. McMurray's Colt's Fault.

Last week THE PRESS had an account of how a Fanwood bicycler's wheel had been jumped into and ruined by one of Farmer McMurray's team. It seems Mr. McMurray had a young colt hooked up with another horse. When Mr. Sykes on his bicycle met them he tried to ride as close as possible to the wagon, where the road was best. The colt reared up, the wheelman jumped off, and the bicycle rolled in under the animal's feet. The team then became unmanageable and Mr. McMurray was not able to hold them. So he did n't "ride off" of his own accord. Mr. Sykes, however, will bring a suit for damages.

THE ECHOES WIN.

It Is Too Early in the Season for the Crescent League Bowlers to Make Their Spares.

The bowling season in Brooklyn opened last evening at the "Elephant" club-house on Fulton street, that city. The visiting team was from the Crescent League of this city, but it consisted merely of ten men who could conveniently go to Brooklyn. Many of them had never bowled in a match and most of them had no practice.

The Brooklyn bowlers took a lead of five pins in the first frame, but in the next Harry Emerson's double strike took the Crescents ahead. But they did not stay there long, however, as in the third frame the Brooklyns led again and were never passed.

Harry Emerson, Ailis and Vail rolled great games for Plainfield, while the "cracks" like Davis, VanWinkle and Rogers dropped way down. The last two, however, were suffering with very sore fingers. The Crescents lost the game through their hard luck in missing their spares. They had the most strikes.

Each of the teams have won a game now. The Crescents won on their alleys, April 25, by the score of 1634 to 1427. Last evening the Echoes won on their alleys by the score below. So the Crescents lead on the total of the two games, by 93 pins. As it seems sure that the Brooklyn team can win at home, and that the Plainfield team can win at home, the tie is to be rolled off on a neutral alley and an effort will be made to secure the Elizabeth Athletic club's alleys for the third game.

The visitors were heartily and agreeably entertained by their hosts last evening. President Reed of the Crescent League was the speaker of the evening. The score:

Held Up By Tramps.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 23.—Mrs. John Wooster, a resident of High street, Newark, was waylaid yesterday while returning to her home from the Waverly Fair Grounds. Two tramps confronted Mrs. Wooster and demanded her money. She screamed for help, and when the tramps came toward her she gave up her pocketbook, containing $10, when the tramps fled.

The Cholera in Asiatic Turkey.

BOSTON, Sep. 23.—Reports from Asiatic Turkey received by the health officer here are to the effect that the cholera is spreading in the stricken districts. On July 21st 405 deaths occurred in Mecca and Mina alone. The English steamer Drewtor recently took on a lot of cotton from infected ports. She is said to be bound for some port in America, probably New York.

Charter for a New Road.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 23.—The State Department granted a charter yesterday to the Susquehanna & Buffalo Railroad Company for a line 15 miles long from Cook's Run, Clinton County, on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad to Trout Run, same county. John T. Ryan of Williamsport, Pa., is president and the capital stock is $180,000.

Collector Commits Suicide.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Herman C. Rice's dead body was found yesterday with a bullet wound on the side of his head and a revolver at his side. During the last two years he had been collector for Klinck Brothers, coal dealers. The firm say there is a shortage in his accounts, to which fact the supposed suicide is attributed.

The Blaines Go Home To-Morrow.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sep. 23.—The servants and James G. Blaine, jr., arrived yesterday to put the house in order for the coming of the rest of the family on Thursday. A burglar attempted to enter the Blaine mansion last night by breaking through a window. Neighbors heard the noise and called the police, but the thief escaped.

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. PLAINFIELD WOMEN LEADING.

Prominent Parts to be Taken at the Coming County Convention.

The Union county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Presbyterian church at Dunellen next week Tuesday. Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson of this city, will preside, and will read her annual report as president, and Miss C. R. Yates of this city, will read her report as corresponding secretary.

The convention will be opened with a prayer service, led by Mrs. J. C. Fernald of Plainfield, and among the reports of superintendents during the day will be those of Mrs. P. H. Bennett, of this city, on "Juvenile Work", Mrs. S. R. Krom of this city, on "Press Work", Mrs. J. W. Yates of this city, on "Literature", Mrs. J. H. Coard of this city, on "Hygiene", and Miss May Tomlinson of this city, on "Kitchen Garden". Among the reports of local presidents will be those of Mrs. Tomlinson of the "W's", and Miss Amy Green of the Plainfield "Y's". The other reports will be as follows:

Superintendents—Evangelistic, Mrs. A. E. Hough, Elizabeth; Sunday-school, Mrs. M. J. Wilson, Rahway; Scientific Instruction, Miss Essie Jacques, Westfield; Social Purity, Mrs. B. F. Carpenter, Roselle; Tobacco and Narcotics, Mrs. S. W. Bodine, Dunellen; Parlor Meetings, Mrs. M. F. Francis, Elizabeth; Unfermented Wine, Mrs. J. U. Underhill, Rahway; Prison and Alms-house, Mrs. M. A. Hunteman, Elizabeth; Flower Mission, Miss M. L. Underhill, Rahway.

Local Presidents—Mrs. G. G. Ely, Cranford; Mrs. S. W. Bodine, Dunellen; Mrs. M. A. Huntsman, Elizabeth No. 1; Mrs. A. P. Baker, Elizabeth No. 2; Mrs. J. U. Underhill, Rahway; Mrs. B. F. Carpenter, Roselle; Mrs. C. T. Young, Scotch Plains; Mrs. G. S. Mosher, Westfield; Miss Kate Murphy (Y) Elizabeth.

To Put the City in Good Humor.

The new management of Music Hall, which has already presented to the people at popular prices the best of minstrels and the best of society farces, will tomorrow evening offer the best of musical satires. "I and I," the great New York Standard Theater's success, will be presented here just as it was in that city.

It comes bearing the hearty indorsement of the leading critics throughout the entire country. Of a recent performance of this delightful comedy a prominent Eastern exchange comments as follows: "If it was produced by the management with the philanthropic desire of putting a city in high good humor, the effort was highly successful. Such shouting with laughter in the lower part of the house and whistles from the gallery were never heard before in the Academy.

"The very funny John T. Kelly as O'Donovan Innes, of Haverstraw, only had to move his facial muscles to convulse his audience. His antics, singing, and dancing were extremely funny. Mr. Dutch Daly as Professor John Ungerblotz was a strong support to Kelly, and Mr. Daly's monologue on love was particularly bright and full of local hits. The dancing of Miss Florrie West and her singing were very much appreciated, and so were the solos of Miss Adele Estee. The clever dancing of Amlee Angeles, the youngest and most graceful premier danseuse on the stage in this country, was applauded to the echo. The other performers were all good in their parts. The plot in the play is of the most simple nature, being an aggregated picture of life in a large fashionable flat house, which is under the control of a tyrannical 'cullud' janitor."

A Lesson for Peach Growers.

A well informed citizen and a close observer of the business has this to say relative to the peach crop, now nearing a close: "The present has been the most prolific season within the recollection of the oldest peach growers; but, while the yield has been enormous, the profits to growers have been in no way proportionate to the large bounty bestowed on them. If the crop had been harvested differently—if they had marketed only the choice fruit, converting the inferior to a good article of peach-flavored pork or to a fertilizer—the profits to the growers would have been more remunerative. The loading of the market with inferior fruit broke down the price which the better article would have commanded.

A Foreign View of the Game.

[From The New Brunswick Home News.]

Plainfield and Somerville enlocked horns again on Saturday at the former place, and the Somerville aggregation was successful by the score of 8 to 5. The contest was exciting throughout, as all games between these two cities are, and when victory at last perched on the West End's banner there was wild enthusiasm among that club's followers. John Harkins, of this city, was the hero of the hour, and his friends gave him an ovation. He kept the Plainfield sluggers down to a few hits and besides batted well. Harkins is regarded as a shining exception to the general rule that pitchers are poor batters.

Dr. Rodman Led.

By appointment of the Bishop, the Convocation of the New Brunswick Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church was held Monday in St. Luke's church, Roselle. The topic for discussion was "Prayers for the Departed", and was opened by the Rev. E. M. Rodman of this city. Holy Communion was observed at the morning service, and a missionary meeting was held in the evening.

TO ANNEKE JANS HEIRS.

There Are a Number in This City Who Will be Glad to Hear That Old Trinity Will Crack This Month.

One who seems to know writes as follows:

"Having seen many articles published in the daily journals of this country for the last few months I notice one in particular that attracted my attention. It had a bold heading in large capitals and read 'Trinity Millions;' then went on to say that an association had been formed for the purpose of duping the heirs of the venerable old lady who was known as Anneke Jans Bogardus, and that it was a fraud and a swindle. I thought as I had the time to spare, that I would investigate the matter, and see if such was the case; I spent some six weeks on the search and I found that there does exist such an association, that it is duly incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, numbering over six hundred members, all of whom have proven authentic genealogy and many of its members who are millionaires and some of whom are retired merchants. A number are now citizens of Plainfield. The society is conducted in a thorough business like manner, and the officers are composed of wealthy men, who are able and responsible gentlemen and a credit to the association. And I must say that there are few corporations conducted in any better manner or with a fuller treasury. When they commence legal proceedings this month they will make old Trinity crack from foundation to spire. They have some of the most able counsel in America, and intend to fight it to the bitter end. I think their claim is a just one; and the heirs ought to have their rights although I am not an heir and in no way interested.

"I am a great lover of justice, and I would advise all the heirs to join the above association who have not already done so, and do it as soon as possible, as I think their labors will be crowned with success, as they have a large amount of evidence and are willing to try it on its merits.

A LOVER OF JUSTICE."

First Sleeping Car Conductor Dead.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sep. 23.—John Salt, a well-known hotel proprietor, died in the forenoon, aged 71 years. He fell on the sidewalk last Wednesday and received injuries which led to his death. Mr. Salt was the conductor of the first sleeping car ever run in this country. It was what was known as the Woodruff pattern and ran between Buffalo and Cleveland.

"Brick Pomeroy" Sunstruck.

PORTAGE, N. Y., Sep. 23.—The Farmers' Alliance people of Wyoming, Livingston, Allegeny and Genesee counties held a mammoth picnic here yesterday. The principal address was given by "Brick Pomeroy," who was taken with a fainting fit as he concluded his address. He was conveyed to his hotel and several physicians were summoned. It was found that he had suffered a partial sunstroke and late last night he was reported to be somewhat improved.

TWO CENTURIES OLD.

One of the Landmarks of Pretty Chicopee, Mass.

A House Supposed to Be Two Hundred and Forty Years of Age—It Defied Indian Attack and Had Other Adventures.

Quaint old Chicopee is the location of a house supposed to be 225 years old, one of the oldest houses in the state. It is, says the Boston Globe, in a good state of preservation, and at the present time is used as a residence by a man who first saw the light of day there fifty-seven years ago and has always lived in it.

The history of the house cannot be traced back by documentary evidence; it is probable that all the records that could prove the age of the old place have been destroyed by a fire at Northampton.

The only evidence on which to base the claim for its age is that furnished by those who have learned its history from the tradition handed down to them.

The picture of the house, which is a good one, will be familiar to all who have seen what is known as "Snow house," situated on Field brook, now commonly known as Cooley's brook, the famous resort for trout fishing.

It is now in Chicopee, but in its early history was in Springfield, and was embraced in that part long ago set off as Chicopee. It is about one and a half miles outside the village of Chicopee Falls, off the main highway.

The present occupant of the house is Nathan Churchill Snow. He has lived alone in the house for the last fifteen years, where his wife's death occurred. He makes his living by farming, and has all the old-fashioned ideas about the life of a farmer. He rises at two or three o'clock every morning in summer and not later than five o'clock in winter. Oftentimes Mr. Snow has a load of wood, straw or hay delivered in Springfield before six o'clock in the morning.

He will be fifty-seven years old September 18 and boasts that never in his life has he touched a drop of intoxicating liquor, but says he likes good tobacco. Mr. Snow served in the Thirty-seventh Massachusetts regiment during the late war.

A century ago the grandfather of the present owner of the house came from Bridgewater, Conn., and took up his residence in this old house, getting it from Urial Cooley. Churchill Snow was the next owner, and now his son holds it.

The traditions handed down to the present Mr. Snow would make the house 240 years old, but from stories from other sources he thinks it is even older.

A story can be traced back which originated with Reuben Burt, who was a veteran of the revolutionary war; he said the house was over 100 years old at the time of the war.

Stillman Munger, father of Hiram Munger, the well-known Advent preacher, who has preached at more camp meetings than any man living, remembered the house standing in the same place when he was twelve years old, and the son, Hiram Munger, is now about eighty-one years old.

In the north room of the old house the first Methodist meeting ever held in Hampden county took place. It was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hedding, afterwards Bishop Hedding.

Rev. Lorenzo Dow, whose name is known to nearly every Methodist, also preached in the house.

Hiram Munger, who can remember events of seventy-three years ago, says he has no doubt the house is much over 200 years old, for at that time it was credited with 150 or 175 years.

Records in City Clerk White's office show that early in the year 1660 Urial Cooley was one of the persons to settle at Skipmuck, which was the early name for that section. That was the Urial Cooley family from which the Snow family bought the house.

The building is but one story high, and to all appearances never knew what it was to have a coat of paint.

It is remarkably well preserved, and the wood shows very little of the ravages of time. As will be seen by the picture, the chimney is in the center of the building, and the roof has begun to sag with age.

Entering the front door you find yourself in a hall about ten feet square. The chimney, which projects into this hall, was built of blue clay, and stands well the wear of time. To the left and right of the hallway are the two rooms which constitute the house.

Mr. Snow some time ago thought of tearing down the old house, but friends who knew of the old age of the building persuaded him to let it remain. The people of Chicopee would be sorry to lose the old landmark.

TREVES' HOLY COAT.

The Most Sacred Relic in the Eyes of Good Catholics.

It Is Supposed to Be the Garment Worn by the Saviour Just Before the Crucifixion—A Famous Religious Festival.

The pilgrimage of Americans to Europe to look upon the holy coat of Treves has begun. That is a long journey to look upon a relic. But this is an extraordinary relic—the most sacred in the keeping of the Catholic church.

To be sure certain ecclesiastics have discredited its authenticity. But, says the Chicago Herald, the mass of people in the Catholic church believe it is the garment the Saviour wore.

When the announcement was made that the coat would be on exhibition this year it aroused much interest among good Catholics in America.

Very old and famous is the city of Treves, in Rhenish Prussia. It lies on the right bank of the Moselle, a ruin of former magnificence. In Treves are found the finest specimens of Romanesque architecture. Very splendid is the cathedral. A hundred years ago the city library contained 100,000 volumes. But the city is celebrated above all other things because in it is treasured the holy coat, which has received the most devout veneration from all good Catholics.

It was St. Helena who gave the coat to the city. It is said she was born in Colchester, Eng., late in the third century. She did not accept Christianity until she was eighteen. Then her zeal was extraordinary. Her pilgrimage to Palestine in the fourth century is a famous event in the history of the Catholic church. The object was to secure the cross upon which the Saviour was crucified.

She found three crosses. The holy one was distinguished because it was said a mere touch healed a helpless invalid. While searching for the cross St. Helena found the coat, the seamless coat. She secured what was considered positive proof that the Saviour had worn the garment just before crucifixion.

When St. Helena returned to Europe she spent many years in Treves, which was then a famous religious center. She presented the coat to the cathedral.

The first mention made of the coat was in the fourth century. It appears in the Gesta Trevirorum. For centuries after that it was exhibited regularly. The bishop of Bruno was consecrated in it in 1121. In 1196 it was translated from the chair to the high altar of the cathedral.

Then came the wars of the middle ages. In order to preserve the coat it was placed in the castle of Ehrenbreutstein. There it remained for centuries, safely hidden away. In 1810, with the permission of Napoleon, the bishop of Treves and Mgr. Mannay had it brought back to the cathedral.

It was made a religious festival. When it was placed upon exhibition 220,000 people flocked to see it. It was exhibited every seven years until 1844. That year its exhibition was one of the greatest religious excitiment. Eleven bishops and over 2,000,000 of the laity flocked to the city between August 18 and October 6. There were 9,000 from the United States.

For a number of years petitions have been made to the government asking for permission to exhibit the holy coat. Hitherto it has been refused. Now it is expected that there will be a tremendous movement to Treves. It is said that 100,000 will go from America.

Will the Earth's Motion Cease?

Is the motion of our earth and other planetary bodies perpetual? A superficial survey of the field would convey the impression that such motion will continue forever. The earth with its mass of 3,000,000,000,000,000 tons for a long time defied all attempts to detect its loss of speed, but, with the friction of the tides continually at work, it was shown that such loss must take place, and now it is pretty certain from calculations of Prof. Adams and others that the earth loses about an hour every 16,000 years, and is slowly but surely coming to a standstill. The experiments and investigations of modern scientists are proving what Sir Isaac Newton believed—that the motions of all bodies in space are suffering retardation, and that their velocity is becoming less and less and will ultimately cease altogether. Then the whole planetary system will fall through space everlasting.

The "Man Eater of the Gulf."

The region in the vicinity of the northern extremity of the gulf of California is inhabited by a rare and terrible creature—a member of the lizard tribe—called the "Man Eater of the Gulf." He is hardly large enough to warrant his awe-inspiring name, being only about fifteen inches long, but is one of the most poisonous creatures known to naturalists. As mentioned above, he is a member of the lizard family, some akin to the famed Gila monster, and his body is almost as brittle as glass.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING.

It Will Be One of the Nicest Structures at the World's Fair.

More work has been done on the woman's building, says the Chicago Herald, than on any other structure for the exposition. Mr. Atwood, the designer in chief, describes the design as a "most appropriate and graceful structure." The building is 200 by 400 feet in its general dimensions and is two stories high, with an attic containing committee rooms and general offices. "On the end of the building," said Mr. Atwood, "are roof gardens, protected from the sun by awnings and commanding beautiful views of the surrounding grounds. It is located on the westerly side of Jackson park, directly opposite the Midway plaisance. On the east and west fronts are spacious loggias 200 feet long and 20 feet wide, surmounted by open balconies, accessible from the second floor. In the center is the great hall, about 80 by 200 feet long and the full height of the building, surrounded by corridors which open upon the central hall by a series of arches or colonnades, and giving access to the various exhibition, committee and reception rooms, ladies' parlors, etc. On the first floor are the general reception rooms, kindergartens and halls of general exhibit for woman's work. On the second floor are the ladies' parlors and reception rooms en suite, and an ample hall for congresses that will accommodate 1,500 people. On the opposite end from the hall is a large meeting room for the executive committee of the lady managers, with necessary offices for the president and secretary. There are large and ample toilet and dressing rooms, well lighted and ventilated, and on the landing of the four principal staircases which lead to the second floor are four lounging rooms, made comfortable with spacious divans and walls hung with tapestries, embroideries and other specimens of women's handiwork. The great hall is brilliantly lighted from the top and furnishes ample opportunity for the display of works of art on its walls. The style of the exterior design is Italian renaissance of a fine and delicate type of ornamentation, and the friezes and spandrels of the arches are decorated with sculptured festoons and garlands. The great pediments which crown the entrances of the east and west fronts will be filled with figures in relief, and the angles of the pavilions above the main corners are to be crowned with groups of female figures. It is intended to have the sculptured design executed by the most celebrated female sculptors here and abroad. A competition will be instituted by Mrs. Palmer which is intended to call forth the best of such talent. The design was made by Miss Sophia G. Hayden, of Boston, and it is expected that this building will prove a very successful and extraordinary achievement, both in its purpose and design, of women's handiwork."

MRS. POTTER PALMER,
President Board of Lady Commissioners, W. C. E.

ARNOLD A DRUGGIST.

His Old Sign Preserved by the New Haven Historical Society.

It is not generally known, even to those interested in matters historical, that Benedict Arnold in his younger days kept an apothecary's shop at New Haven, Conn. He was born in Norwich, in a pretentious house still standing and Dr. Lathrop taught him the drug business in a little shop in the village street. Arnold removed to New Haven and started a drug shop, where he dealt out pills and nostrums to the town's people, whom he later treated to pills of which lead was the principal ingredient.

The old sign which swung in front of the drug shop is now an interesting relic in the possession of the historical society, the words: "From London" being a clever dodge which he played on the guileless Yankee, and clearly showing his character years before he became a traitor.

Surrounded by freight and lumber yards in Water street stands the house in which Arnold lived. It is a roomy structure. A pathway bordered by boxwood leads to a covered porch, on either side of which is a seat. The waters of New Haven bay came up to the gate of the house in years gone by, and Water street was then lined with handsome villas belonging to wealthy residents. At the lower end was the fashionable Pavilion hotel, now a factory.

KILLED BY A SCRATCH

Boxer Haley Dies From Hitting His Wife's Insulter.

STRUCK THE MAN IN THE TEETH

The Wound Very Slight, But It Brought On Blood-Poisoning.

Amputation Would Have Saved Haley, But He Wouldn't Have It—His Wife's Insulter Said to Have Been a Custom House Inspector—No Clue to His Identity Yet Found.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—Prof. James Haley, the well known lightweight pugilist and teacher of the art of self-defense, died yesterday afternoon at the Long Island Hotel, from blood-poisoning, arising from a slight wound in the hand received while avenging an insult to his wife.

Mrs. Haley, who is a very attractive young woman, was on her way home from Harlem on the evening of Saturday, the 12th inst., where she had been visiting her mother, when on leaving the elevated station at Fulton street, she was accosted by a stranger who had been endeavoring to attract her attention on the train.

She pushed past the fellow, who, however, followed her closely. As she reached the hotel, and was in the act of closing the door, the man pushed it open and forced his way in. Mrs. Haley screamed for help, and her husband, who was up stairs came running down. The insulter ran. Mr. Haley caught him, and dealt him a blow in the mouth.

As he scrambled to his feet the stranger shrieked, "I'm a Custom House inspector and I'll make you pay for this!" and then ran away. Haley laughed at the threat and hurried home to console his wife, who was crying bitterly.

Then he discovered blood trickling from a ring cut between the knuckles of his second and third fingers, evidently inflicted by the front teeth of his antagonist. It seemed so trifling that he contented himself with washing away the blood and applying a bit of sticking plaster.

A day or two afterward the wound showed signs of inflammation, and soon the hand began to swell in an alarming manner.

It grew rapidly worse until amputation was suggested. This, however, Haley would not hear of. Had he yielded to the doctors' wishes, there is little doubt that his life would have been saved.

CABINET CHANGES.

Reported that California May be Given a Place.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—It is currently reported to-day that President Harrison practically decided to give California a place in his Cabinet. The gentleman to whom this honor will fall will probably be Mr. M. M. Estee, of San Francisco.

Mr. Estee was the chairman of the Chicago convention which nominated Mr. Harrison for the Presidency. He was subsequently one of the delegates on the part of the United States at the Pan-American Congress. He is a lawyer of prominence and in some respects the foremost Republican on the Pacific Coast.

Mitchell Knocks Out Gallagher.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 24.—"Young Mitchell" (Peter Herget), champion middleweight pugilist of the Pacific coast, and "Reddy" Gallagher of Cleveland, O., fought to a finish at the Occidental Athletic Club, last evening, for a purse of $5,000. It is figured that $50,000 changed hands in this city alone on the result of the battle. Mitchell was seconded by Jack Dempsey, Sam Fitzpatrick and Billy Akers, while Bob Fitzsimmons, Jimmie Carroll and "Bat" Masterson attended to Gallagher. Peter Jackson was the referee. Mitchell won in 13 rounds.

Gen. Lew Wallace's Mother Dying.

FREEPORT, Ill., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Zeralda Wallace is lying at the point of death at Shannon, Ill., near this city. She is sinking rapidly. Gen. Lew Wallace, who was at Indianapolis, was advised of his mother's illness and is at her bedside. Mrs. Wallace was in the midst of a lecture on woman suffrage when taken ill.

Veterans Reunited.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 24.—Veterans of the Twenty-seventh and Thirty-third Regiments, New York Volunteers and of the First New York Veteran Cavalry, composing the survivors association are holding their annual reunion in this city. About 200 are in attendance and the reunion is one of the most enjoyable ever held.

Worcester Music Festival.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sep. 24.—At the musical festival last evening Mme. Lillian Nordica carried the house by storm in Almenia. Mrs. Carl Alves also made a hit in Rubinstein's Hagar in the Desert. Dr. Bridge's Repentance of Ninevah, was given for the first time in America, and was well received.

Horrors of the Tornado.

LONDON, Sep. 24.—The crew of the vessel Jenny Lind, wrecked during the tornado at Martinique, have arrived at Plymouth. They tell an awful story of the horrors of the scene. They say that about 300 were killed and 1,000 injured.

A Compromise Effected.

BOSTON, Sep. 24.—The eastern creditors of John Stauss, boot and shoe jobber of Cincinnati, O., have accepted the offer of 80 cents on the dollar payable in thirty days.

Yale Freshmen Win the Rush.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—The annual "rush" between the sophomores and the incoming freshmen class at Yale occurred last night on the Grammar School lot, and was won by the freshmen.

If your grocer urges you to buy other baking powders in place of the Royal, it is solely because he can make more money on them, for all agree that the Royal is the best. The low cost of the others to the grocer is proof of the cheap character of their ingredients and of their inferior quality. Decline to receive any baking powder in place of the old stand-by, the thoroughly tried Royal. All others are cheaper made powders of inferior strength, and contain either lime, alum or sulphuric acid.

CLINTON PRISON INVESTIGATION.

The Committee Has Been Busy, But Won't Divulge Its Proceedings.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 24.—John Bower, who has been connected with the Dannemora Prison Investigating Commission, appointed to investigate charges of mismanagement says:

"I can give you a few general facts, but the commissioners having resolved to have the investigation secret for good and sufficient reasons, as they think, and on the whole as I think, I have resolved to keep the evidence secret until it is all in.

"Thus far they have taken over 1,000 pages of type-written testimony and they have had before them about 75 witnesses, some of whom were prisoners, a pledge having been given by the Superintendent of Prisons that they shall be kept secluded and suffer no harm until the testimony is finished when they will be removed to some other prison or prisons.

"The commission adjourned to meet again on Oct. 31. I should not be surprised if, when the commission completes its work, there will be 1,500 pages of typewritten testimony and that, by the way, has been ordered to be carefully indexed for the use the commissioners."

A CRASH PREDICTED.

An English Financier Says There Will be a Silver Panic Here.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—Increasing shipments of gold from abroad to this country have begun to alarm foreign bankers. That these shipments to America will continue for some time to come is gathered from the interviews with the representatives of such foreign houses as the Rothchilds, Speyers, and Lazard Brothers.

Robert Giffen, head of the Commercial Department of the British Board of Trade, is quoted as saying that more gold will go to America, in spite of efforts to prevent it.

According to his theory American houses are not importing gold to pay for grain shipments from this side, but to prepare for a silver panic. A crisis in silver he believes is inevitable and cannot be averted.

"The United States," he says, "has become overloaded with paper currency, and the issue of $60,000,000 silver certificates annually is bound to bring about a crash speedily."

He believes that the worst of the situation will be realized by February next, and that it is now too late to avert it by remedial legislation.

GOV. HILL AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

He Discourses Both on Agricultural and Political Topics.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sep. 24.—Gov. Hill made two speeches in this city yesterday. He arrived here with his private secretary, and Col. McEwen at 1:40 and was driven to the grounds of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society, where he delivered an Agricultural address before 30,000 people.

From 5 to 7 o'clock the Governor was tendered a reception at the residence of Chief Justice Barnard of the Supreme Court, which was attended by about 200 of the city's leading politicians and professional men, and was the most brilliant social event Poughkeepsie has known for a long time.

Then Governor Hill was driven to the Dutchess Club where he was serenaded by the 21st Regiment band. At 7:30 he mounted an improvised platform in front of the club house and spoke to the large crowd which had gathered.

International Press Club Meeting.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—The governing board of the International Press Club met here yesterday. A number of new members were elected. Twenty-five press clubs are now within the organization. The league will meet in San Francisco on January 4 next. A special train will leave New York, stopping one day at Chicago, Denver and Salt Lake City.

English Cricketers Here.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—Lord Hawke and his English cricketers, arrived yesterday on the steamer city of New York. A committee from the Germantown Cricket Team met the visitors at the pier. The team will play its first game in Philadelphia where a grand reception ball will be tendered the players on October 10.

Insurance Company Discontinued.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 24.—Insurance Commissioner Luper has set a letter to B. K. Hentsingen, President of Aurora Fire Insurance Company, notifying him that the company has been issuing bonds contrary to law and that it must close. No bonds already issued are to be redeemed.

Ex-Congressman Scott's Funeral.

ERIE, Pa., Sep. 24.—The funeral of the late Hon. William L. Scott will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Governor Pattison and other officials will be present.

BLOODSHED FEARED

Serious Trouble Anticipated at the Briceville Mines.

THE ARMISTICE EXPIRES TO-DAY

Likelihood that All the Convicts Will Be Released by Lawless Miners.

The Refusal of the Legislature to Abrogate the Convict Contract Causing Great Excitement—Stockades at Briceville and Coal Creek Fortified—Extra Guards Put On in Readiness for the Outbreak.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sep. 23.—There is grave reason for apprehension as to what may be the immediate result of the Governor's failure to redeem his recent promises to the miners of Briceville and Coal Creek.

The miners agreed to remain quiet for two months upon the express understanding that the Legislature would take action to abolish the convict lease system.

The Legislature has adjourned without doing anything for the miners' relief, and refuses to abrogate the present lease contract, which will not expire until Jan. 1, 1896. The two-months' armistice of the miners expires to-day.

The Briceville stockade has been strongly fortified with two walls of logs filled in with slate, and twenty-two extra guards, armed with army rifles, have been employed.

The Coal Creek stockade has also been fortified and Superintendent of Prisons Wade has granted a telegraphic request for authority to employ 25 additional guards at Coal Creek. The Tennessee miners are apparently disposed to be peaceable, but there is across the line in Kentucky a lawless element that have threatened to invade the State and release all the prisoners at Coal Creek and Briceville.

This invasion is expected to take place at almost any time in the next day or two, and in case it occurs there will undoubtedly be bloodshed, as the Legislature gave the Governor authority to assemble any number of men that may be needed to put down trouble of the kind indicated.

REPUBLICAN STATE LEAGUE.

The Republican Clubs of Pennsylvania Elect Robinson President.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sep. 24.—John B. Robinson was elected president of the Republican State League on the first ballot. The vote stood as follows: Robinson, 141; Dalzell, 42; Warren, 15.

E. N. Randolph, of Allegheny, was elected secretary; Mahlon H. Young, of Philadelphia, treasurer, and William Linn, of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary.

The platform adopted commends the "pure, patriotic and able services of President Benjamin Harrison, and the brilliant foreign policy of that great leader, the Secretary of State, Hon. James G. Blaine."

9,000 Miners Threaten to Strike.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 24.—A demand for advance in wages will shortly be made by 9,000 railroad coal miners in this district. At a mass meeting yesterday this was decided upon, and it was resolved to call a general convention next Tuesday to formulate the demands. The miners say the increased demand for coal caused by the decline in the natural gas will force the operators to grant any reasonable advance. If it is not conceded they threaten to strike.

Russian Demonstrations Cause Alarm.

LONDON, Sep. 24.—A Vienna dispatch says that the Austrian government is at length seriously alarmed by the Russian demonstrations on the frontier. The Russian manœuvres in Volymia and Poland are under full headway, but still the massing of large bodies of troops, entirely disconnected with the manœuvring forces, continues. The opinion of high military authorities in Austria is that Russia will shortly make a dash for Constantinople by way of Bulgaria.

Statuary Admitted Free.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—Assistant Secretary Spaulding has directed that six cases of marble statuary and marble has reliefs, imported for the Leland Stanford, jr., University at Palo Alto, Cala., be admitted free of duty.

The Treasury Balance.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The net balance in the Treasury has decreased to $44,500,000. On Sept. 1 it was $60,000,000. This large decrease is due to the redemption of 4 1-2 per cent. bonds.

For the Paterson Public Building.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The Secretary of the Treasury has fixed upon Saturday, the 26th inst., to hear persons interested in the selection of a site for the proposed public building at Paterson, N. J.

Believed to Have Committed Suicide.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 24.—The disappearance of Mr. Charles D. Provoost of the Lehigh Valley freight office is giving his family and friends and the agent of the road in this city cause for much alarm. Mr. Provoost has been working for the company for several years, and was one of the most faithful employes it had. On Sunday last he left his home and has not been seen here since. It is believed that he has committed suicide at the falls.

New Jersey's State Fair.

NEWARK, N. J., Sep. 24.—The fourth day of the State Agricultural Society's fair at Waverly opened this morning with an increase over yesterday's attendance. Secretary Quinn said this morning that the week thus far had been a remarkably profitable one, and that if the fair skies prevailed until Saturday the society, to whom the proceeds go, will be enriched by many thousands of dollars.

A New Steamship Nearly Done.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 24.—The Board of Directors of the Monumental Construction Company, having in charge the construction of the Arrow Line steamship Howard Cassard, met yesterday and received the report of the construction committee, which was to the effect that the engine had been completed and was working satisfactorily. Arrangements will be made to give the vessel a preliminary trial.

The First Chinese Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 24.—Lee Bo, a Chinaman, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor at his laundry in the morning. He was taken to the hospital, where his death is awaited. This is said to be the first case of a Chinaman attempting to end his life in this country. Lee Bo is said to have become crazed through the opium habit.

Spurgeon Invited to Australia.

LONDON, Sep. 24.—The Baptists of Victoria, Australia, have sent an invitation to the great preacher Spurgeon, who has been sick for several months, and sometimes almost at the point of death, to come to their colony to recuperate. They promise him a grand reception, as well as a memorable revival of interest in affairs spiritual.

Children of Two Notables Engaged.

LONDON, Sep. 24.—The engagement is announced of the son of the noted Norwegian author and dramatist, Ibsen, to the daughter of the other famous Norwegian poet and novelist, Bjornson. Ibsen's son is a medical student at Munich, and Bjornson's daughter is said to inherit much of the ability of her able father.

Took 70 Ballots and Quit.

UTICA, N. Y., Sep. 24.—The Fifth District Republican Judical Convention, after taking 70 ballots, adjourned to meet in Syracuse Oct. 1. The last ballot was more evenly divided than the first. It was Mills 4, Rogers 6, Matteson 7, Scripture 4, Wright 3, Turner 8, P. B. McLellan, of Syracuse, 1.

Fears for a Steamer.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—The British steamer Cuvier, which left here September 6 for Antwerp with 74,000 bushels of wheat and a crew of 20 men, has not been heard from, and fears for her safety are entertained.

Labrador Explorers Home Again.

ROCKLAND, Me., Sep. 24.—The Labrador Expedition arrived last night, and the explorers were given a magnificent reception. The delay in their arrival was caused by fog and adverse winds.

CAN'T BUILD SHIPS

Navy Department Considering the Lake Restrictions.

THE TREATY OF 1817 TO BLAME.

It Allows But Four Armed Vessels, With No Privileges of Construction.

Western Builders Discriminated Against—Young Robert Sigel Pardoned by the President—The Torpedo Boat Cushing Not Allowed to Race—Disloyal Pension Claimants—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The immense progress in shipbuilding industries on the great lakes has brought anew to the attention of the State Department a question of diplomacy that affects the industrial progress of this country and our relations with Great Britain.

The Navy Department is restricted in the places for building new vessels almost entirely to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

The restriction comes from the treaty of 1817, which provides that the United States and Great Britain shall have but four armed vessels on the great lakes, and this is construed to mean that neither country shall construct other vessels on the northern frontier, though the new vessels may be intended for use in other territory.

It was this restriction that caused Secretary Tracy recently to reject the lowest bidder for building the Naval Academy practice vessel. The shipyards of the bidders, F. W. Wheeler & Co., are at Bay City, Mich. Circumstances have changed greatly in the great lakes since the treaty of 1817 went into effect.

Immense progress has been made in developing the resources of the lake country and in the building up of its mechanical industries. There is scarcely a city on the lakes where shipbuilding is not carried on successfully.

Besides this the great cities of the lakes desire to have their place in the proposed naval militia. Each city wishes to have its own naval reserves, and to have them trained in the use of the best guns and in modern naval tactics. But from any effort in this direction they are debarred by the treaty of 1817.

By the terms of the treaty either party to the agreement may withdraw from its provisions by giving six months notice to the other.

YOUNG SIGEL FREE.

The Pension Forger Granted a Pardon on Account of Illness.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The sensation caused more than two years ago by the arrest, trial and conviction of Robert Sigel, the son of Gen. Franz Sigel, for forgery in New York city, is recalled by the action of the President in granting a pardon to the young man. Young Sigel was an employe in the office of his father, who was Pension Agent in New York. He was arrested on the charge of forging certificates, convicted and sentenced on March 21, 1888, to six years' imprisonment in the Erie county penitentiary at hard labor.

He was afterwards removed to the Kings County Penitentiary, where he now is. His health suffered considerably during his confinement and much pressure was brought to bear on the President for his pardon because of his feeble condition.

On June 3 last the President granted a pardon to take effect in December next, but the young man failed so rapidly that he concluded to allow him to be released at once.

Some of the Claimants Disloyal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The last Congress appropriated $503,000 to pay 288 war claims, provided the loyalty of the claimants was established. The matter was left in the hands of Attorney-General who has found a number of the 288 claimants to have been disloyal, and he will move in the Court of Claims when it meets for a new trial of the cases on which the loyalty of the claimant was not fully established.

Rapid Firing Test.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Navy Department has made a test for rapidity of fire with a Dashiell 4-inch rapid-fire gun at the government proving ground at Indian Head, Md. A service charge of brown powder was used. The gun was fired in salvos of five rounds each; the first being delivered in 20 seconds, the second in 22 seconds, and the third in 17 seconds. This rapidity of fire is unprecedented.

The Cushing Can't Race.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The Navy Department is not disposed to allow the torpedo boat Cushing to enter the race at New York between the steam yachts Vamoose, Norwood, Stiletto and others, as requested by the regatta committee. The department is strongly opposed to establishing a precedent in the matter and it is hardly probable that the request will be acted on favorably.

Two Washington Suicides.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—Tired of life, and believing that his wife had deserted him, J. B. Benson took his own life. This morning a piece of black crepe suspended from the door bell told of the suicide of Marie Kraemer, known as Mrs. Paul Wolff, because of her fear that she had been deserted by the man she loved.

No Money for Robert Morris' Heirs.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—The Treasury Department has informed a relative of the late Robert Morris that the report that there were $8,000,000 in the Treasury due the heirs of Robert Morris was unfounded. No sum due is in the Treasury.

The Catholic Congress Allowed to Meet.

ROME, Sep. 24.—The government has withdrawn its prohibition of the Catholic European Congress, to be held next Wednesday in Rome.

Waffles.

BY MRS. D. A. LINCOLN,

Author Boston Cook Book.

Stir 1 tea sp. Cleveland's baking powder and ½ tea sp. salt into 1 pint sifted flour. Beat the yolks of 3 eggs light, add 1½ cups milk; stir this into the flour mixture. Then add 1 rounding table sp. butter, melted, and lastly the whites of 3 eggs beaten stiff. Give the batter a vigorous beating before filling the waffle iron. Have the iron hot, and grease both griddles with a small piece of butter twisted in a bit of clean cloth. Pour the mixture into the center of the griddle over the fire, letting it come nearly to the edge. Drop the cover over the waffle, cook one or two minutes, then invert the iron and cook a little longer on the other side. Beat the batter and grease the iron for every waffle. Serve with butter and maple syrup or sugar.—(Copyright, 1891, by Cleveland Baking Powder Co.)

Use only Cleveland's baking powder. No other does such perfect work.

No trouble to have a variety of good things for breakfast if you use Cleveland's baking powder. Send stamp for a Cleveland Cook Book and try the receipts for muffins, scones, crumpets, or some of the 28 choice receipts for breakfast breads. Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

THE GREAT WILL CONTEST.

Interesting Testimony Adduced in the Hopkins Case at Salem.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 24.—The second day of the Searles will case was begun with Mr. Searles continuing his examination.

Witness and his wife went to Europe, November 28, 1887, on a wedding tour. Previous to starting on the trip Mrs. Searles secured the funds, about $100,000; the trip was for six months and included witness, his wife, a lady's maid, Martha Epping and Rev. Dr. Clapp, his wife and daughter; did not meet Dr. Slade or any spiritualists on their trip; knew Charles Bolles, who he believed called himself a harmony scholar or Christian Scientist, but he never knew of his attending Mrs. Searles, either before or after the marriage; returned from Europe, June 8, 1888.

Timothy Hopkins managed Mrs. Searles' affairs up to the time of the partnership.

At the afternoon session another power of attorney was put in evidence. It was dated July 13, 1888, and was from Mary F. Searles to Thomas E. Stillman and Thomas Hubbard. It was a general power of attorney and contained a declaration that as it was coupled with an interest therein it was irrevocable.

A transfer was also put in dated June 18, 1888, from Mary F. Searles to Thomas E. Stillman of various railroad stock, a note of the Pacific Improvement Company for $7,500,000, and 20,750 shares of Central Pacific stock—the aggregate amounting to thirty-six millions, and this Stillman in turn transferred to E. F. Searles, and he in return transferred it, together with 1,400 shares of the Washington Building Association stock, $140,000 in scrip of the company, 1,000 shares of United States Bank stock, which he had received from his wife in trust for the firm of Searles, Stillman & Hubbard.

An objection being made to the question to Mr. Searles—"What did your private estate consist of at the time of your marriage?" an adjournment was taken.

Webster Indicted for Murder.

NEW YORK, Sep. 24.—The grand jury yesterday filed an indictment for murder in the first degree against Burton C. Webster, the bookmaker, who on Aug. 2 fatally shot Charles E. Goodwin. The trouble arose over Goodwin paying attention to Evelyn Granville, with whom Webster lived. Webster was insanely jealous of the woman.

Anson to Go on the Stage.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 24.—A well-known play-wright has presented to Capt. Anson of the Chicago League team a plan to write a play fonded on baseball, just as Rouscault's "Jile" is on horse racing, and has suggested that Anson play the hero.

Drowned by a Boat Overturning.

ANGLESEA, N. J., Sep. 24.—John Hogate was drowned last night by the capsizing of a sailboat in crossing Hereford Inlet. Anderson clung to the bottom of the boat for several hours and was picked up in an exhausted condition.

Say They Saw a Sea Serpent.

GLOUCESTER, Mass, Sep. 24.—Fishermen returning from the far-off Flemish Cape fishing bank yesterday report seeing a mammoth sea-serpent and another marine monster on the banks this season.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Yesterday was the hottest 23d of September in New York city in twenty years.

Gregg Brothers' grain elevator at St. Joseph, Mo., was burned yesterday. The loss is $100,000.

William Lewis shot and killed Agnes Sells and John Moore in Chicago yesterday, through jealousy. All the parties are colored.

B. J. Bruce, editor of the "Live Stock Record," and founder of the "Turf, Field and Farm," died at Lexington, Ky., yesterday.

Fire damaged the stock and building of the storage house of Waterbury & Co., rope manufacturers of Brooklyn, N. Y., to the extent of $50,000 last night.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—For New England: Fair, stationary temperature, winds shifting to southerly.

For Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey Maryland and Delaware: Fair, southerly winds, no change in temperature.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Generally clear, southerly winds, warmer.

Mr. Ransom purposely violated a provision of the act and then had suit brought against himself to recover the penalty. The trial was in a district court only, and judge McGrath's ruling will be appealed from.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The following are the North Plainfield citizens on the list of petit jurors in Somerset county, this term: Gerrard H. Underhill, Isaac Shepard, Amos Vail, Henry Woodland, Horatio M. Clark, Frederick M. Brown.

Mrs. Mary Wright died suddenly, at the age of fifty-six, at the home of her son-in-law, David Bowden, 228 West Fourth street, this morning. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

William L. Coriell, son of the postmaster at New Market, and Miss Fannie A. Gaskill, of the same place, were married at the residence of the bride, last evening, by the Rev. Mr. Cubberly. The wedding was a quiet home affair, and the happy young people are to-day receiving the congratulations and best wishes of the entire community.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Moyer, Waverly, N. Y.

SAYS HE WAS A PEACEMAKER.

The Alleged Unwarranted Abuse of a Woman by Marshal Rutledge Attributed as the Cause of Hot Blood in the Court Room.

The young man whom justice Crosley thought was the ringleader in the row in his court room Tuesday evening—as exclusively related in THE PRESS of yesterday—claims that he has been accused unjustly. He says:

"In reality I was a peacemaker. The way it all happened was this:

"Mrs. Doeremait, whose sons had just been fined $5 apiece, could not speak a word of English, but she objected to paying the fines, and was chattering away in French when marshal Rutlege caught hold of her, forced her to her knees, and began to drag her out of the room. A number of men cried: 'It's a shame to treat a woman so!'—and several rushed around Rutledge and tried to separate him and Mrs. Doeremait. A severe scuffle resulted, and in the midst of it I got up in a chair and cried: 'Don't let us have any row here. Remember that the court is in session, and don't burn your fingers.' Just then judge Crosley shouted: 'The court is adjourned'—and I went up to Rutledge, laid my hands on his shoulder, and said: 'Let her alone, and I'm sure she'll go out peaceably'—which she did as soon as he released her. That is all I did. This morning I asked judge Crosley if he didn't think he had been unjust to me, in singling me out as the ringleader, and he said that it was a mistake—that he had misunderstood the part I took."

It may not be uninteresting for the public to know that the cause of the fight which resulted in the trial of Tuesday night and all the subsequent trouble, was caused by such a simple, harmless thing as a match. One of the participants in the racket, meeting the other, asked him for a match. "I'm your match"—he replied, and then they clinched.

A Reason Why Sentence Was Suspended on Carey.

Since the publication of the story in Tuesday's PRESS concerning ex-policeman Carey's arrest charged by constable Rockafellow with using profane and indecent language to him, it is stated that the offense was not committed on the public street but in the public hallway of an office building on Front street.

Judge Codington himself called at the office of THE PRESS and said that the language complained of was not used on the public street, and that he had also investigated the case and discovered that there was ill will between Carey and Rockafellow and he (the judge) made allowance for a certain amount of provocation.

That is the reason, probably, why sentence was suspended on Carey. The offense if committed within doors, although just as insulting to Rockfellow, and just as objectionable to those who heard it, was not a disturbance to the public at large.

When William R. Codington was named for nomination as City Judge, and when he was seeking election, this same Carey is accused of having used the same kind of language concerning him and of calling him the same kind of a man by birth as Carey has called so many others and for which he was expelled from the police force. Judge Codington knows of this, yet he strained his mercy in the Rockafellow-Carey case until it almost snapped and let him fall backwards.

A Solution of the Mystery.

Definite information has not yet been secured concerning the whereabouts of David L. Curtis, the clerk in MacDonald's store whose mysterious disappearance was told of exclusively in these columns Tuesday evening.

Information has been secured, however, which throws some light on the matter. It is learned that Curtis was out walking far up East Front street, on the outskirts of the city, as late as half-past 10 o'clock. It is said, the girl herself says: "Suddenly I fainted, and the next thing I knew he was standing over me, fanning my face with his hat, and saying 'My God! What have I done! I have killed her!'"

The young man seems to have fled to escape the results of rash conduct. A prominent resident of North Plainfield says that he saw him at the North avenue railway station just before the 11:28 train was due. It is thought that he left on that.

Great Fun at Music Hall To-night.

That company of comic players which made such a success in "U & I" at the New York Standard theatre, will be at Music Hall, this evening. Don't miss them.

In the cast, besides the inimitable Kelly, will be found Dutch Daly, the quaint German comedian and renowned concertinist; Florrie West, the cute and winsome English comedienne; Georgie Dennin, late of the Casino Opera Company, Harry Kelly, one of the best of low comedians, and other well-known artists. This array of artists will have the assistance of a comic opera chorus of twenty beautiful young ladies in a series of picturesque specialties.

Hotel Glenham,

I can attest to the efficacy of Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills—not only using them myself, but having given them to several of my friends, all of whom have been materially benefited by them. For cases of Dyspepsia and Torpid Liver I consider them invaluable. N. B. BARRY,
Proprietor Hotel Glenham, N. Y.

A Pleasant Anniversary.

The second anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the New Market Baptist church was celebrated Tuesday evening. Delegations were present from Bound Brook, Metuchen, New Brooklyn, Dunellen, and Plainfield, numbering altogether about 300.

The exercises were very interesting. The organ voluntary by Miss Irene Day was rendered in her usual good style. The remarks by the Rev. Mr. Cubberly, the pastor, were pointed and concise. One of the special features of the programme was the singing of Master Frank Sims, of Garden City, L. I., which was very much enjoyed by all.

The society was very fortunate in securing the Rev. Frank B. Everitt, of Trenton, to deliver the address. He is a recent graduate of the Princeton Theological Seminary. His remarks were very helpful, and those who heard him resolved to work more for the society than even before.

Halsey Hammond, the present State secretary, who resides in Boonton, Morris county, delivered an address on the present outlook of the society in this State, and showed that there was a plenty of work for all. He urged that the members be more efficient in using the "Sword of the Spirit", the "Word of God".

Miss Emma L. Nelson presided at the organ in an efficient manner. After the exercises, all retired to the lecture room, where the social committee took charge and provided all with refreshments.

"There is one thing"—says a Plainfield delegate—"that deserves special mention; that is the sociability that was manifested. We can all learn a lesson from the manner in which our New Market friends received us. All became acquainted with one another before leaving. It was the voice of every one present that they had a royal good time."

Around and at Pond's Works.

Lathe Hand is obliged to chronicle a little scrap which took place Tuesday noon at the works, near the upper gate, between Tommy Beekman and Tommy Winsper—(The Two Toms—T. T. T.)—assisted by Burt Winsper. It seems that Winsper brought some apples for luncheon, which the boys "cabbaged", and while eating indulged in chaffing the loser. Tommy thought it was bad enough to lose apples without having to stand the taunting, and gradually worked up his ire until the noon hour. Special policeman Schimer came just in time to put a quietus on the ruction, and to-day all is serene.

So Vigyard did n't want to be taken for Lathe Hand. Never mind, old boy! If your feelings are hurt much, put some Rose Jelly on them. Burns will guarantee a cure.

Why can not the sidewalk under the railway bridge at Grant avenue be repaired, and at once? There is a conundrum for you, Mr. Street Commissioner.

They are busy macadamizing South Second street in front of Potter's Press Works—a much needed improvement.

LATHE HAND.

A Plainfield Councilman on New York Streets.

S. A. Ginna writes to the New York Times: "I read with much satisfaction your description of the way work was being conducted on the Broadway Cable Railroad. It was not overdrawn in any particular, and what I now ask is that you follow this up. Give these fellows no rest, for a greater outrage was never committed upon the patient citizens of this town, and I am surprised at the supineness of tenants and property owners upon the line of route. Stir them up by some of your editorials straight from the shoulder."

Hurt in the Tool Works.

Yesterday afternoon, as Wm. Robinson, a helper at the Pond Machine Tool Works, was helping Mr. Whittaker to handle a shaft, from his lathe, by a small crane, the chain slipped, and the end of the shaft, which Robinson was guiding, swung against the lathe run by Tom Kinnierry, catching Robinson's finger and injuring it so badly that he had to go to the hospital for treatment, and fears he will lose the digit altogether. He lost an eye in the foundry some 8 or 9 months ago, by being hit by a chip.

Plainfield Wheelmen Will be There to See.

Messrs. Zimmerman, Rich, Bowan, Hoyland, Smith, Taylor, Taxis, and a number of other crack racers, will ride at the tournament given by the Elizabeth wheelmen at Elizabeth Saturday afternoon. Zimmerman will try to lower the one-mile record of 2:23 2-5, made at Springfield. The course to be used is the one-mile track of the New Jersey Jockey club, and it is in splendid shape. Two hundred entries have been received from thirty clubs.

Reedy Tried to Get Away.

John Reedy, of Bound Brook, who, after his release from the Muhlenberg Hospital, this city, was put under $300 bail to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of interfering with marshal Sebring in making an arrest, as the result of which Sebring shot him, skipped to Philadelphia Friday. Officer Sebring got on his trail and brought him back Sunday night, and his bondsman, J. S. Cawley, having surrendered him, he was taken to the jail at Somerville.

HIGH COURT TAKES A HAND.

William Pangborn Determined to See If Marshal Rutledge Has the Right to Dictate Borough Residents' Bedtime.

Thomas Rutledge, borough marshal and newspaper censor, seems to have taken a big contract on his hands when he sought to set himself up as an autocrat concerning the hour at which borough residents should retire. It will be remembered that Rutledge found his old rival, William Pangborn, the ex-marshal, out late at night talking quietly with a friend on the sidewalk in front of the friend's house; and that when Pangborn refused to obey Rutledge's command to go home as it was his bedtime, Rutledge locked him up and kept him imprisoned over night. Suffering deeply in mind from the indignity, Pangborn appealed to the Supreme Court, and yesterday he secured a writ of certiorari compelling Rutledge to appear before the court and show cause why retribution should not be visited upon him for his alleged misconduct. At the same time justice Crosley will be required to show cause why his judgment in the case should not be set aside, and the fine that he exacted from Pangborn in sustaining Rutledge's action be restored. Pangborn will also demand damages from the borough.

A Stock Broker's Sudden Death.

Mumford M. Truman, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, died suddenly, last night, at his residence, 16 Putnam avenue, this city.

He had been under the care of Dr. J. T. Fritts for some time, but up to yesterday the doctor had not attended him in several days. Last night the family sent for Dr. Fritts in great haste, but when he arrived he found Mr. Truman dead.

The suddenness of the death gave rise to unpleasant rumors, but Dr. F. W. Westcott, county physician, investigated the case, gave "heart failure" as the cause of death, and issued a burial-permit.

Mr. Truman was in his forty-third year. He was out walking on the street yesterday morning.

The Colored Champions Saturday.

The world-renowned colored champions, the Gorhams, will play the Crescents in this city, Saturday, if it does n't rain. The Plainfield nine will try hard to hold the score down, but cannot expect to win.

The Gorhams have won 72 games this season out of 79 against the strongest amateur and semi-professional teams in the country. They won 42 games in succession. Their celebrated coacher Clarence Williams, is coming with them. It will be the most exciting and interesting of the games of the season here.

Hung Himself in Remorse.

Frederick Brown, a highly respected young citizen of Woodbridge, 25 years of age, committed suicide in a cell of the New Brunswick jail last night. He hung himself with a sick handkerchief to the bar of the cell window. When found this morning, he was dead.

Brown is a nephew of the owner of the Sewaren hotel. He was arrested in New Brunswick yesterday for being drunk on the streets. Remorse at his disgrace and incarceration is believed to have been the cause of his terrible deed.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D, that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2 00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

REJOICING OVER TIERNEY.

Somerville Sees More Glory in Striking Him Out Than in Winning the Game from the Crescents.

[From The Harkinstown Messenger.]

"Strike 'em out, John Harkins!"—was to be the battle cry.—"Strike 'em out, John Harkins; you can do it, if you try."—And future generations will point, in mad delight, to the awful fall of Tierney in the Crescent-West End fight.

Joe Lufbery and his men may humble the Westfields into the dust, and thus increase the number of silvery hairs that glisten on Coding's dome of thought. They may haul every semi-professional team in and around New York through the deep, dark mud of Jersey. They may dust the uniforms of all the college teams until the faculty grow weary and restless. They may, on rare occasions, but only by the best kind of luck, win a scratch game from the West Ends. All these things, and many more, may be accomplished by the young men from the Crescent City, to the wonder and admiration of the residents of that municipality. But there is one thing they cannot do: they cannot put on their base-ball uniforms on a fine afternoon, go out to a roomy, green field, and beat the West Ends when they are out for blood and have to win to tie them.

Many people think—and there certainly is some reason for thinking so—that the scheme was all fixed up to have each club win three games. Had they seen the games, and been familiar enough with the fine points, they could not have though there was any "jockey" business, as every game the West Ends lost something unforeseen occurred, which lost it where least expected.

John Harkins had been resting for some days, after his tussle with those big bass in the Raritan last week, and the New Brunswick cyclone gave the Crescents a vivid idea of the rapidity with which a cannon ball travels when it is in a hurry. The big fellow pitched one of his golden-edged games, and although the support he received was good, still to him should be given all credit of winning the game. The Crescents wrenched their spines reaching after John's wide curves, barely missed his inshoots with their collar buttons, and struck at his fast, straight delivery after Kennedy had caught the ball.

The way the West Ends hit the ball was very refreshing to all except Hammill, who perspired freely and grew very red in the face. While the men were waiting at the hotel for the stage the manager was made cognizant of the fact why Jack Farrell had not shown up with the rest of the men. He received a telegram that Jack had missed the train and could not reach Plainfield until 4 o'clock. Mr. Mack did not answer the telegram, but put Harvey Major in right field, Moorehead at second, Heiser at short and Connell at third. That he made a wise move is shown by the score.

Harvey Major led in the batting, and pleased his admirers greatly. One man, who was undoubtedly a crank, said, as Harvey came to the bat for the first time: "What are the West Enders trying to do—give us the game?" But when Harvey's bat met the ball squarely and it sailed out into centre for two bases, the crank undoubtedly thought he had spoken too hastily, and was silent.

The excitement began in the first inning, when Carby hit the first ball pitched safely and stole second. Then began the farce-comedy. Connell hit to Keeler. The south paw shortstop fumbled it, and threw badly to first. Holly seemed overanxious, and in returning the ball to catch Carby, heaved the sphere over Bonner's head, which let Connell get around to third. Harkins now sent a long fly to Jones, but Freddy was playing deep; his arm was not strong enough. Connell scored on the throw-in, and the West End rooters let loose.

The third inning again gave the faithful something to yell about, as, with two men out, the Crescents again threw the ball around like a lot of school boys and three runners came in. Connell's hit forced Carby out at second. Harkins' two bagger to right sent Connell across the rubber. Doc Kennedy singled, and John scored. Tierney got the ball and threw to the plate; it went 10 feet over Bonner's head and Kennedy never stopped running. Bonner found the ball, and, without looking, threw to third to catch Doc. Billy Lee was evidently dreaming, as he stood down near second like a bitters bottle; in consequence, the ball went into the grass, and Kennedy arrived home.

That settled it. With such a lead the Crescent supporters gave up all hope. The man who bet $6 to $3 with Tom Keiler jumped from his seat and howled like a maniac. The perspiration stood on "Tom's" forehead like drops of rain, and he muttered to himself: "Oh, why don't the Crescents play ball!"

In the Crescents' fourth they piled up four runs. The first man went out on a fly to Moorehead, then Keeler hit to Heiser; he fired it to Roberts; the ball got there at the same time as did Keeler; but Popper dropped it, as Keeler spiked him in the instep; then Keeler purloined the second bag. The errors of Heiser, two singles and a triple, netted the Crescents four runs. By the time the fourth run came in the uproar was tremendous. You could n't hear yourself think. Talk about the rattles of a week ago! Everyone in Plainfield seemed to be turned into a fishmonger for the time being, and as they had not had anything before to cheer over, the whole flood of pent-up enthusiasm was let loose at a bound.

Berriman stopped the game and informed the people that the game could not go on unless they let up. Well, they did; and the next man struck out.

In the seventh (their lucky inning) they had a great chance to tie the score. They earned a run, and with one out had two men on bases and Keeler at the bat. A neat double, participated in by Carby and Heiser, did the business and spoiled the most beautiful chance of tying the score.

Last week it was my most disagreeable duty to record that Carby was not himself. Well, the little fellow was on Saturday in the finest kind of trim, and amply redeemed himself. Just to look at what he did! One run, two safe hits, two sacrifice hits, two put-outs, two assists, one stolen base. My! what a record! It is just as I said: when a man makes a poor play, his good work is all forgotten, but let him make the record that Carby did Saturday, and they all say: "He ought to have done well; that's what he is here for". Every dog has his day, and so with a man.

In conclusion, I want to mention one little incident that brought the warm blood rushing through my veins and, for the first time this year, made me almost shriek, in delicious joy. It happened in the Crescents' first inning, and to Tierney, the crack Norwich star, who has so often said that Harkins could not strike him out. To give the devil his dues, I may say that Tierney has a very clear eye, and that, as a fielder, he is bettered by none; but of pitching he knows as much as a day laborer does of Blackstone. While, as I said before, he knows how to play ball, still his grand-stand play at bat and in the field would make a blind man weary. He came to the bat Saturday and was struck out, according to the decision of the Crescent umpire, without removing his bat from his shoulder. Three beautiful straight balls cut the plate in two, and Mr. Tierney walked back to the bench without using one bit of his young, imported strength. Truly, his fall was great, and had we lost the game that would have been glory enough for one day; but that was only part of the glory which was to come, and which did.

PLAINFIELD ON THE LIST.

Here Is a Project to Distribute Fine New Post-office Buildings Through the State.

From all indications the next is to be an economical congress. The outlook is not brilliant for any large appropriations for single enterprises. Newark is one of the interested parties, because a couple of hundred thousand dollars is needed for the completion of the new custom house and post-office, unless it is desired that the work of construction shall "drag its weary length along" through a series of years. There has been on hand to start the new building, including the last appropriation of $100,000, the sum of $355,000, and if any considerable amount of this is left when the committee on appropriations make up the new sundry civil bill, it will take a good deal of work on the part of the State delegation to secure any or all of the sum required to finish the structure within a reasonable time.

The members of the Farmers' Alliance, together with those not of that ilk from the country districts, propose a new departure in this public building business. They are, it is announced by the leaders, "again" the squandering of millions on government post offices and court houses in a few favored cities. Not that they don't approve of public buildings, for indeed they do, but the plan is to distribute around plenty of them by taking the money hitherto granted for one building and dividing it amongst a dozen or two small towns, so that each one of them can sport a spick span new post office. They are, in fact, in favor of the project recommended by the post office department, which provides a public building for all towns where the postal receipts are at least $3,000 annually, the cost thereof to be limited to $15,000. As a matter of local interest, it can be said that, under this proposition, the following towns in Jersey would secure a public building: Arlington, Asbury Park, Atlantic City, Bayonne, Belvidere, Bloomfield, Boonton, Bordentown, Bridgeton, Burlington, Cape May, Dover, East Orange, Elizabeth, Englewood, Flemington, Freehold, Hackensack, Hackettstown, Hightstown, Keyport, Lakewood, Lambertville, Long Branch, Madison, Millville, Montclair, Moorestown, Morristown, Mount Holly, New Brunswick, Newton, Ocean Grove, Orange, Orange Valley, Passaic, Perth Amboy, Phillipsburg, Plainfield, Princeton, Rahway, Red Bank, Rutherford, Salem, Somerville, South Amboy, South Orange, Summit, Vineland, Washington, Weehawken, Westfield, West Hoboken and Woodbury.

Here we have, under this scheme, fifty-four new public building, the total cost of which would be $810,000. It is not expected, of course, that the full amount would be allowed in a single year, but with an appropriation of only $100,000 annually all these cities and towns would have a public building within the next eight years.

What William's Friends Say.

[From The Trenton True American.]

Friends of William VanArnsdale, of Brunswick avenue, the old gentleman who it was alleged chased his wife upstairs and frightened her so that she jumped out of the window breaking her leg in three places, say that Mrs. VanArnsdale jumped out of the window not because her husband was chasing her, but because she thought he would.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

Special Trains and Reduced Rates to the Interstate Fair.

The great Interstate fair will be held at Trenton, Sept. 28, 29, 30, Oct. 1 and 2. There will be exceptional exhibitions of farm products after such a phenomenal year, and all that pertains to art and ingenuity, for which $30,000 in cash premiums are offered. The races and speed contests for liberal purses will also draw a large attendance. The Pennsylvania railroad will sell reduced-rate tickets from all stations on the United railroads of New Jersey division, including coupon of admission, and in addition to regular trains will run special trains to the fair grounds. Notice of special train time from various stations will be given in a day or two.

DREADED QUICKSANDS!

How To Escape From Them.

Like a man sinking in a quicksand is that person who suffers from nervousness, weakness and disease. He gets into it without knowing it, and only realizes his danger when he finds himself slowly, but surely, declining in health and strength.

There is but one sure way to escape from the quicksand—get out before sinking too deep. The same rule applies to disease—use the right remedy before it is too late.

All, therefore, who find their powers of mind and thought weakened, their nerves unstrung and unsteady, nights sleepless and unrefreshing, bodies tired and exhausted, blood poor, digestion impaired, kidneys, liver and bowels out of order, should realize that they are sinking in the quicksand of disease, and that they must use Dr. Greene's Nervura to cure now—AT ONCE—or it may be fatally too late.

Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great Nerve, Brain and Blood Invigorator, is absolutely sure in all such cases. It is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless. For sale by druggists, $1 per bottle. Use it, sufferer, and it will certainly restore you to health.

"Dr. Greene's Nervura cured me. I take great pleasure in stating that Dr. Greene's Nervura is the finest and best nerve medicine that I have ever taken, and I advise any sufferer with nervous diseases or nervous prostration to use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the best nerve remedy discovered. JOSEPH A. CALBACK, 224 Maple ave., Hartford, Conn."

N. B. Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th St., New York, can be consulted, free, personally, or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Witness my hand this 2nd day of September, A. D. 1891.

VINCENT W. NASH,
Special Policeman and Collector of Delinquent Taxes.

The Watch Was a Failure.

Washington Jefferson—Dat ar fly back watch yer sold me ain't no good.

Jeweler—What ails it?

Washington Jefferson—Hit's been stole m'n fo' days and hain't flewed back yet.—Jewelers' Weekly.

A Hopeless Case.

Fogg—You refused me when I asked you last June to marry me, Miss Flyrte. May I ask if you have changed your mind since then?

Miss Flyrte—No; but I have changed my name.—Somerville Journal.

No Money to Lend.

"Hello, old chappy! Been makin' money lately?"

"I should smile; got m' pockets full."

"Lend me a V, will yer?"

"Oh, I can't yer know; it's all in one dollar bills."—Texas Siftings.

A Visible Reason.

"Isn't this your prayer book, Miss Chaser?"

"Why, yes; thank you, it is. How did you know it, Mr. Blunt?"

"When I took it up it opened at the marriage service."—Puck.

Fully Prepared.

Miss Bashfield—Josephine said she had her mind made up to capture Mr. Goldfield to-night.

Fred—She had? Well, to all appearances she had the rest of herself made up for the same purpose.—Judge.

Asking Too Much.

Persistent Suitor—May, I love you so much that I will do anything for you to make you happy.

May (worn out entirely)—Will you? Then marry some other girl.—Once a Week.

Went Through.

Wife—Why, how on earth did you get those holes in your trousers?

Husband—I must have sat down on some of your bread crumbs.—Clothier

FOUR WERE KILLED

Awful Explosion at an Italian Celebration.

TWENTY MORE ARE INJURED.

Gas Pipe Used for Cannon and Loaded With Dynamite.

Many of the Victims Fatally Hurt--The Accident Occurred at an Italian Celebration of St. Roco's Day--The Killed and Injured Left Lying on the Street by the Fleeing Crowd.

NEWARK, N. J., Sep. 25.—Four persons were killed and twenty injured last night by the explosion of an improvised cannon.

The Italian quarter was decorated with Italian flags and streamers and the houses in the neighborhood were brilliantly lighted with Chinese lanterns in honor of St. Roco's day. A number of fireworks were also exploded.

Among the latter was a piece of gas-pipe filled with dynamite which was fired at about 10:30 o'clock and before the detonation had died away the air was filled with shrieks, cries and groans of pain from nearly thirty people who had been injured by the explosion of the gas-pipe.

Word was sent to the police station immediately for help, and four patrol wagons were sent to the scene of the accident. The injured were taken to the different hospitals. The killed are:

MICHAEL O'NIEL, aged 22.
HARRIS BUCKMAN, aged 22.
DANIEL MURRAY, aged 13.
——— CARIN, aged 12.

Among the most seriously injured are John Costello, a boy; George Brown, David Chesney and Policeman James Bowe. Three of these will die.

The police believe that many wounded persons, and possibly some of the dead, were removed by friends to their homes from the scene of the explosion.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services Over the Late Ex-Congressman Scott.

ERIE, Pa., Sep. 25.—Last evening at 5 o'clock the remains of the late Hon. William Lawrence Scott were conveyed to the family mausoleum in Erie Cemetery. The funeral services were held at the family residence at 4 o'clock, and were open to the public.

Rev. John Huske, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and Rev. William Price, rector of the Cross and Crown Church, officiated.

Thursday afternoon the family residence was opened to the public to allow the people of Erie to look for the last time upon the face of the honored dead. All afternoon there was a steady stream of people moving in and out of the residence.

The remains reposed in a rich black casket in the north parlor. The face of the deceased bore a peaceful expression. At the head of the casket was a beautiful white floral pillow with the words: "At rest," worked across the center in colored flowers.

People of all classes appeared in line and waited their turn. Tears fell from the eyes of many as they looked at the face of the dead.

Governor Pattison, Secretary of State Harrity and Adjutant-General McClellan, President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and several directors of the road; President Huggitt of the Chicago and Northwestern road, and officers of several other Western and Southwestern roads were among those present.

The city was heavily draped in mourning and many portraits of Mr. Scott, framed in crepe, were to be seen in windows.

The death of Mr. Scott has caused deep sorrow throughout Erie County, and delegations from a number of the county towns were present at the funeral.

About ten o'clock ex-President Cleveland, accompanied by Hon. Daniel Lamont, arrived from the East. There was a vast throng at the depot awaiting the arrival of the ex-President, who received a most cordial greeting. Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Lamont entered carriages and were driven to the Reed House. In the afternoon they were driven to the Scott home.

For the Spanish Flood Sufferers.

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Over 200 Spanish and Spanish American residents of this city attended a mass meeting in Tammany Hall last night for the purpose of raising funds for the benefit of the Spanish flood sufferers. Consul General Topete of Spain presided. Over $2,000 were raised for the sufferers. A resolution was also adopted appealing to the Americans to contribute for the relief of the flood sufferers.

New Hampshire's Guardsmen.

CONCORD, N. H., Sep. 25.—Col. Loomis L. Langdon, who was detailed to visit the recent State encampment and inspect the National Guard of New Hampshire, reports a decided improvement upon previous encampments, and says the discipline of the brigade will compare favorably with that of regular troops. He found the officers competent, and a lively interest taken by both officers and men.

Cut Wages to Fight Rivals.

BOSTON, Mass., Sep. 25.—The Waltham Watch Co., in order to carry on the war against J. C. Duber and the Hampden Watch Co., has reduced wages of employes from 5 to 20 per cent. The company manufactures about 2,000 watches per day. The reduction is also attributed to the recent cut in price of the eighteen-size movement and dulness in the watch trade.

A Driver Hangs Himself.

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Charles Ruttyer, 50 years old, a driver, committed suicide by hanging himself at his residence.

EGAN MAY BE RECALLED.

Ex-Senator Blair Talked of as Minister to Chili.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Ex-Senator Blair's intimation that some big appointments were soon to be made seems about to be verified, and rumor puts the Minister's name in the list. It is said that Mr. Blair is to succeed Patrick Egan as Minister to Chili.

In the face of this announcement Assistant Secretary of State Wharton says it can be stated on his authority that Minister Egan has not been recalled nor has Mr. Blair been appointed yet. All of which agrees with the current gossip, for it is understood that Mr. Egan will get his official recall simultaneously with the announcement of Mr. Blair's appointment.

There is a general and widespread opinion here, not only in outside but in official circles, that Mr Egan has been acting as a newspaper correspondent during the exciting times in Chili, and was so enthusiastic a worker for the paper he represented as to forget his duties as representative of the United States Government.

THE TAMMANY MONUMENT.

Unveiled at the Field of Gettysburg With Appropriate Ceremonies.

GETTYSBURG, Sep. 25.—The monument of the Tammany regiment on the battlefield of Gettysburg was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies. Headed by a band the 90 survivors of the regiment marched to the stand in front of the monument, which was veiled with the American flag.

Captain Eugene Sullivan, President of the Veteran Organization, presided. The monument was unveiled by James E. Mallon, son of Colonel James E. Mallon, who commanded the regiment at the battle.

The monument stands on Hancock avenue, about 200 feet from "Bloody Angle," where Pickett's famous charge was repulsed and the battle won for the Union forces. The Tammany Regiment was engaged in this action on the exact spot now occupied by the monument of the Seventy-second Pennsylvania Regiment, which, it is claimed, did not come up until after the rebels were beaten back.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE.

The Fitzsimmons Jury Bring in a Compromise Verdict.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 25.—The jury in the case of Mrs Lucy Fitzsimmons for the murder of Detective Gilkinson came into court after being out less than four hours. The Clarks were on trial at the time as accessories after the murder. Mrs. Fitzsimmons was brought in as composed as ever. After the usual formula the foreman announced the jury's decision: "Guilty of murder in the second degree."

Mrs. Fitzsimmons never changed a feature as she heard the sentence that will send her to the penitentiary. She was then taken back to jail. The verdict is regarded as a compromise. The maximum punishment for murder in the second degree is 12 years in the penitentiary.

Wm. Henry Hackett Dead.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25.—Wm. Henry Hackett, United States Commissioner and Clerk of the United States Circuit Court, is dead, aged 63. For three terms he represented his ward in the House of Representatives. He was a director of the First National Bank and of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire. He leaves a widow one son and a daughter.

No Tittle to Lake Front Property.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 25.—The investigation of the lake front question here by the new commission develops the fact that the Lake Shore and Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroads have no title to a large part of the property they claim and the present City Government will undoubtedly make a determined effort to oust them. The property is worth millions of dollars.

All is Happiness Now.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sep. 25.—Edward Damon and Ella Martin were married last night. This is the couple who were to have been married last week, but at the last hour the expectant groom disappeared. Last night young Damon returned, and, calling on the young lady, asked that she marry him at once. Miss Martin consented.

The Grip in New York.

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—The health authorities are of the opinion that the people of this city will soon awaken to the fact that the grip is here again. So far this week an increase of 49 deaths has been reported over the corresponding week last year from respiratory diseases. President Wilson is one of the grip's victims.

Two Schooners Lost.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sep. 25.—Advices from St. Johns, N. F., report the loss at Greenspond, of the Labrador schooner Paisley, Captain John Kane, with all hands, and the schooner Amazon, Captain James Noble with three of her crew. Both vessels were owned by J. and W. Stewart of St. Johns.

TRIED FAITH CURE

Mrs. Searles Put Her Trust in Christian Scientists.

THE WILL CONTEST CONTINUED

Searles Ignorant of the 1887 Will Until After His Wife's Death.

His Wife Never Told Him of Promising to Hold Her Property in Trust for Timothy Hopkins, Nor that She Had Made Certain Promises to Tim's Mother--The Hearing Adjourned.

SALEM, Mass., Sep. 25.—The third day of the Hopkins-Searles will contest find the interest in the case only intensified, fact due very largely, without doubt, to the personal nature of the testimon brought out on the examination of the testator's widower.

Mr. Searles told under close questioning many details of the copartnership contract made June 7, 1888, between Mary F. Searles, Edward F. Searles, Thomas E. Stillman and Thomas Hubbard, to be known as Searles, Stillman & Hubbard, to contract and manage all the property, both real and personal, belonging to either party.

A will of Mary F. S. Searles, dated November 22, 1887, with a codicil dated June 16, 1888, was produced at the afternoon session. Mr. Searles knew of the will, but did not know its contents until after his wife's death.

This document gave $10,000 to John Harwood, a former coachman, and the residue of the estate was let in trust to Edward F. Searles, Timothy Hopkins and Thomas E. Stillman, to pay the income in equal shares to Edward F. Searles and Timothy Hopkins during their life time, and on their death to whosoever they might designate by will or, failing a will to pay it to their next of kin.

The executors were the same as the trustees. The codicil substituted the name of Thomas Hubbard for that of Timothy Hopkins as trustee and executor, but otherwise confirmed the will.

Witness had understood that all the real estate, except the homesteads in San Francisco, Great Barrington and Methuen, were placed in the copartnership. Witness supposed the titles to the estates conveyed by the unrecorded deeds rested in him until something occurred to disturb them. They were placed in his name, he said, to protect the property.

He had heard Mrs. Searles say that before her marriage she had made previous wills, but she had never told him that she promised her first husband to hold her entire property in trust for Timothy; nor that she had promised Timothy's own mother that if she would consent to the adoption he should have all her property.

Mr. Searles then admitted that two Christian scientists, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Day, had treated Mrs. Searles during her illness. One of them had also treated witness for indigestion.

He thought he requested that they should not mention being called in, as he did not care about having it hawked about.

At the close of the hearing Mr. Burley called for all letters passing between Messrs. Stillman and Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. Searles, and also the cash and check books of Mr. Searles, to be produced at the adjourned hearing October 14.

HARD TIMES FOR BOOMERS.

Great Distress Experienced--High Prices of the Necessaries of Life.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sep. 25.—A courier just in from Chandler says the situation there is a terrible one and hundreds of people are leaving.

Muddy, nauseating water sells for 25 cents a glass, and horses are dying by the score for want of it. On the road back no water is to be had for 20 miles and the side of the road is lined with exhausted teams and people.

The crowd is becoming desperate, and unless the town site is opened soon riot and bloodshed will follow. Bread is 50 cents a loaf, lemons 25 cents each, ham and bacon $1.00 a pound, and other things in proportion.

German Catholic Congress.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 25.—At the Catholic Congress yesterday the following officers were elected: President, Rev. H. Michelsbeen, St. Louis; vice-president, Rev. H. Meissner, Peru, Ind.; corresponding secretary, Rev. Wm. Faeber, St. Louis, recording secretary, Rev. J. N. Enzlberger, Pipopolis, Ill.; treasurer, Rev. W. Duffner, Pittsburg; commissarius, Rev. George Bornemann, Reading, Pa.; vice-commissarius Rev. Wm. Nettstraeter, Wiemette, Ill.

Mrs. Wallace Better.

FREEPORT, Ill., Sep. 25.—After lying 30 hours unconscious and seemingly at death's door Mrs. Ferrala Wallace, mother of Gen. Lew Wallace, has revived, is able to take nourishment and can talk a little. She was pronounced out of danger last evening, and if there is no change in her condition she will be taken home to Indianapolis to-day.

Church Made to Pay License.

LONDON, Sep. 25.—The Town Council of Nottingham has caused dismay among the dissenters by compelling a non-conformist congregation to take out a license such as is granted to and paid for by music halls. The ground for this peculiar action on the part of the Council is that admission to the hall, in which the congregation worship is not free, and that the worship, therefore, amounts to an entertainment for which money is collected.

Governor Hill's Tour.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 24.—Governor Hill will arrive in Rochester from Albany at 10 o'clock to-night. A committee of prominent Democrats will meet the Governor at the depot and escort him to Powers' Hotel where there will be an informal reception in his honor. Saturday morning the Governor will go to Albion accompanied by Senator McNaughton, both having engagements to speak at the Orleans County Fair in the afternoon.

Rebate On Hat Material.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 25.—Secretary Foster said to-day that he estimated that it would require about $2,000,000 to refund excessive duties paid by importers on hat material. These cases are now in the course of reliquidation by Government Appraisers at New York. The basis of reliquidation is the decision of the Court in the Philadelphia hat trimming cases.

The Duval-Urquhart Marriage.

PARIS, Sep. 25.—The religious marriage of Miss Jennie Urquhart, sister of Mrs. James Brown Potter, to M. Rene Raoul Duval, was solemnized in the French Protestant Church in the Rue de l'Etoile, which was built in 1874, chiefly at the expense of the Duval family. Pastor Picard officiated and Col. Urquhart, the bride's father, gave the bride away.

May Have Been Murdered.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Sep. 25.—On Sunday last the dead body of William C. Dunlap, jr., of Oakfield, a young farmer, was found hanging to the fence surrounding his house. It was supposed that he committed suicide. New circumstances lead to the belief that he came to his death by foul means. The body will be exhumed and examined.

Glass Manufacturers Meet.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 25.—A secret meeting of the glass manufacturers of the country is being held here. Representatives are present from Pittsburg, Wheeling, Chicago, Ottawa, Findlay and other points. The session is an important one and its object, it is understood, is to form a combination to control the prices of the product.

Triple Tragedy.

QUINCY, Ky., Sep. 25.—John Carr, a worthless fellow, living here, murdered his wife, sister-in-law, named Evans and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Evans, and then cut his throat from ear to ear. The killing and suicide was done with a corn knife. Carr was a very tough man and a terror in this community.

Fourteen Persons Killed.

MADRID, Sep. 25.—An express train between San Sebastian and Burgos collided with a goods and passenger train. The latest advices from the scene of the collision are to the effect that fourteen persons were killed and twenty-four injured. The accident is attributed to a blunder by a switchman who has been arrested.

THEY WANT 10 ACRES

England and Germany at the World's Fair.

THE OFFICIALS STAGGERED.

They Had Not Supposed So Much Space Would Be Asked For.

The Request Means That the Commissions of the Two Powers Will Make a Most Favorable Report--An Extensive Participation of English and German Manufacturers Assured.

CHICAGO, Sep. 25.—England and Germany have both applied for about five acres of space in the World's Fair Building's for their exhibits. The applications were made yesterday by Sir Henry T. Wood and James Dredge representing the Government of Great Britain, and by Herr A. Wermuth, Imperial Commissioner from Germany.

The requests made by the foreign commissioners staggered the World's Fair officials. They expected that England and Germany would be largely represented at the fair, but the thought never occurred to them that these two powers would ask for ten acres of space.

"This request is significant," said an official. "It may be accepted as a forecast of the reports that will be made to the governments of Great Britain and Germany when the commissioners return.

"It means that they will give the World's Fair their unqualified indorsement and recommend the extensive participation of English and German manufacturers and artists."

GRAND DUCHESS PAUL DEAD.

The Wife of the Youngest Brother of the Czar.

LONDON, Sep. 25.—A St. Petersburgh despatch announces the death of the Grand Duchess Paul. She was the wife of the Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch, youngest brother of the Czar, and was the eldest daughter of the King of Greece.

On Thursday last the Grand Duchess gave birth to a son under such circumstances to excite the most serious apprehensions for her recovery. From the moment of accouchment up to the hour of death the condition of the Grand Duchess became steadily worse, until on Sunday last it was quite evident that recovery was impossible.

Violent spasms attacked the imperial patient, and the court physicians finally advised that the parents of the Grand Duchess be sent for.

In response to telegrams urging haste, the King and Queen of Greece at once left Athens for the city where they safely arrived.

The Grand Duchess was born in Corfu in 1870, and was married to the Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch of Russia in 1889.

THE CANADIAN CABINET.

A Decision Regarding Its Reorganization Arrived at.

OTTAWA, Sep. 25.—It is reported that the Government has arrived at a decision regarding the reorganization of the Cabinet.

Peter White, Speaker of the House of Commons, is to take charge of the Department of Public Works; Wood, of Brookville, Ont., is to succeed White as Speaker.

Hugh John Macdonald, son of the late Premier, is to become Minister of Agriculture, and in view of the bye-elections in Ontario Macdonald's appointment will, it is alleged, greatly strengthen the government.

Postmaster-General Haggart will stay. The changes will take place immediately after prorogation.

There May Be a Fight.

CHICAGO, Sep. 25.—Next Thursday the National Council of representatives of Irish societies, called by President Fitzgerald, of the National Irish League of America, will assemble in this city. So far as reports have been received quite a large number of societies holding divergent views regarding the present condition of affairs in Ireland and the future course which should be pursued for the redemption of Erin's Isle have elected delegates, and it will require a master hand at diplomacy to bring order out of the prospective chaos.

The Sun Too Much For Him.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 25.—The sporting fraternity of this city was shocked to hear of the sudden death of John Williams, of this city, who has been training near Ocean View, Va., for some time to fight Wongo, the Indian, on October 25. Williams had been working hard, and this morning ran a mile in the hot sun which was too much for him, and he became overheated and died from the effects about noon.

Physicians' Received By the President.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 25. — Yesterday afternoon the members of the Physicians' Congress proceeded to the Executive Mansion and were received by the President. The reception took place in the East Room. Dr. Mitchell, President of the Congress, was first introduced to President Harrison and he, in turn, introduced the members of the Congress as they shook hands with the President.

Keyport Grocetyman Missing.

KEYPORT, N. J., Sep. 25.—John F. Kelly, who conducted extensive grocery stores at this place, Freehold and Perth Amboy, has disappeared. The sheriff has attached the Perth Amboy store on judgments. It is reported that Kelly owes about $25,000. He disposed of his Keyport and Freehold stores just before leaving. The sheriff is hunting for the fugitive. Kelly a short time ago secretly married a wealthy Cuban woman.

SEVEN WERE KILLED.

Frightful Rear-End Collision Near McKims Station, Pa.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 25.—By a rear end collision near McKims Station, on the Pittsburg & Western Railway, at 6 a. m., five men were killed outright and eighteen seriously injured, two of whom died en route to the hospital in Allegheny City.

About 6 o'clock the work train, running as first section, No. 36 started from North Sewickley, 48 miles from Pittsburg, to go to McKims to do grading.

About twenty-five laborers, Fins and Italians, were on board.

An unusually dense fog obscured all view of the tracks.

Regular No. 36, Engineer Willard, following the work train as second section No. 36 overtook and ran into the rear of the work train with terrible force.

The work train was swept from the track and the laborers and trainmen were crushed in the wreck.

The following is the list of killed:

John Houghton, married, leaves a wife and three children; Joe Hipenish, Mat Gertisch, John Wenner, John Ossick, John Burke and John Solroy.

TWO MEN PERISH.

A Town in Minnesota Threatened by Forest Fires.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Sep. 25.—Dan Sullivan and Tom Johnson of Eau Clair, were burned to death in the forest fires yesterday. A party of six men started from one of the Brennan lumber camps to go to another about two miles away. After going a short way they got in front of the fire, and Dan Sullivan missing his brother, went back with Johnson to look for him. That was the last seen of them till their remains were found by John Brodie and their campmates.

Sullivan was burned to a crisp, but Johnson's body was only badly scorched.

Should the wind get in the west nothing can save the village.

Two Towns Surrounded by Flames.

MILWAUKEE, Sep. 25.—The forest fires completely surround the towns of Pittsville and Dexterville, Wood county, Wis., and the entire population is out fighting the flames. The gravest fears are felt for both places. The 300-acre cranberry marsh of Samuel Hiles, near Dexterville is entirely burned. Loss, $23,000.

His Shortage $55,000.

BOSTON, Sep. 25.—W. A. Conthony, late agent of the Marine Insurance Company of London and of the Providence Washington Company, is reported to have fled to Canada leaving liabilities amounting to over $55,000. A large part of this sum is due to agents and brokers of the insurance companies.

McDuffee Won the Race.

READING, Pa., Sep. 25.—The 21-mile road bicycle race from Myertown to this city was won by E. E. McDuffee, of Lynn, Mass. Time, 1 hour, 10 minutes 1 1-15 seconds.

—As THE PRESS has been saying all the week—"If it does n't rain Saturday," the Crescent League's ball team will try and hold the mighty Gorhams down.

—The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will hold their monthly consecration meeting to-night. All are welcome.

—The Young People's League of the First Baptist church will hold their weekly prayer meeting to-night. Subject—"A Message to Worldly Christians." Rev. III :14-22.

—New Brunswick girls are happy. There are 225 college students in town, more than ever before, at Rutgers. The freshman class numbers 78, of which 20 take a classical course, and 58 a scientific.

—Hugh Laing was given 15 days in jail by judge Codington this morning for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. During his spree Laing just missed smashing a big plate-glass window in Pope's dry goods store.

—Wetumpka Lodge, Knights of Honor, will hold a special meeting, Monday evening, Sept. 28, for the purpose of initiations. Representatives to the grand lodge and past dictators will receive their certificates for the grand lodge meeting.

—A meeting will be held in Tiernan's building, Roselle, next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a lodge of the Knights of Pythias. Prominent members of the order will be present from Newark, Plainfield, Keyport and other places.

—Mrs. Dan'l Berry has greatly improved the looks of the property No. 19 Craig place, occupied by Mrs. Mary Borst, by having the front fence removed. It is hoped that other property owners on Craig place will follow her example and have their fences removed.

—David L. Curtis, the grocery clerk whose disappearance from Plainfield has been chronicled exclusively in these columns, has been heard from. He is in Virginia, and wants either to come back here to work, or his friends to send recommendations so that he can get a position elsewhere.

—The regular irregularity with which the Plainfield daily papers reach this city is somewhat phenomenal. Three days' time often elapses between the date of publication and that of their arrival here. Trains run the distance between here and Plainfield in fifteen minutes, bicycles run it in less than an hour, horses and carriages take about an hour and a half or two hours, and it can be walked in about three hours. Uncle Sam and his mails need touching up.—Elizabeth Journal.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

D. H. Richards, of Omaha, is visiting his brother, J. Richards, of this city.

H. S. Wilson of Dunellen is one of the freshmen in the scientific section of Rutgers this term.

George Wilson and Miss Carrie Wilson, of Tennessee, returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit with friends in North Plainfield.

Dr. J. T. Fritts and wife, councilman D. S. Roberts and wife, and president of the council Seymour G. Smith and wife, all left town, last evening to enjoy the autumnal beauties of Mt. Pocono.

Albert Duddenbleser, of North Plainfield, Monday night received the unexpected news of the death of his wife in New York. She had been ill but a short time of pneumonia. The funeral took place yesterday.

Robert A. Meeker, street commissioner, has the sympathy of the entire community in the severe illness of his youngest son, Charles, whose sight has been affected by typhoid fever, and whose condition has been growing worse of late.

Albert S. Roe, who for some time has led the singing at the Dunellen Presbyterian church, has taken up his residence in this city and has accepted the leadership of the Park Avenue Baptist church choir. He will conduct an attractive service of song next Sunday evening.

Mumford M. Truman, who died suddenly of heart failure Wednesday night at his home in this city, as already told in THE PRESS, was a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He was born in 1849. In 1865 he began his business career with the firm of Lockwood & Co., of New York, with whom he remained up to 1869. After that time he was a commission broker. A good many years ago he was a member of the Stock Exchange for a time, and he joined it again in 1886. He leaves a wife and three children. His brother, Henry J. Truman, is Mayor of Orange. Funeral services will be held at the Church of Our Saviour, Netherwood, to-morrow at 12 o'clock. Interment at Tarrytown, N. Y.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

SCORE ONE FOR THE OTHER SIDE.

Another Step in the Struggle for the Guardianship of Three Children.

The preliminary stages of the bitter feud between those relatives of the children of John Duckworth, deceased, who are Protestant and those who are Roman Catholic, were chronicled at length in THE PRESS of February 13, 1891. John Duckworth was a Protestant, while his wife, who died shortly before him, was a Catholic. The children were baptised Catholics, but it was alleged that the father wished them educated as Protestants, and had expressed the wish that the Knights of Pythias should select their guardian. The Knights selected Amos Andrews, and he, in the language of THE PRESS report at the time, "stole a clever march" on the Catholic side by getting the surrogate of Somerset county to appoint him as guardian. As THE PRESS then stated, Jackson & Codington were counsel for the Knights, and also for their representative, Mr. Andrews. The article was headed "Score One for the Knights." The Catholic relatives retained Craig A. Marsh, who advised them that the Somerset surrogate had no right to appoint a guardian, and that he would have the appointment nullified and the surrogate's decision reversed on appeal to a higher court. He was instructed to take the appeal. The argument on appeal took place last summer, and decision of the court was rendered today at Somerville. The court sustains the position taken by Mr. Marsh that the surrogate of Somerset county had no jurisdiction to make the order, and accordingly the court reverses the surrogate and revokes the appointment of Mr. Andrews as guardian, with costs.

It is not known what steps will next be taken by either side, but one thing is certain, both sides are in the fight to stay, and have abundance of the sinews of war.

GREAT EXCITEMENT UP THE ROAD.

A Mad Dog and a Bad Man in and About Bound Brook.

A special correspondent of THE PRESS sends the following startling news by wire, this morning:

BOUND BROOK, Sept. 25.—A dog belonging to the Fitzpatrick family went mad, yesterday morning, and bit several other dogs—how many is not known. It was shot by Judge Ferry, William W. Provost, L. H. Cawley, Jack Anderson and other citizens, and was then killed by a mob of the excited populace.

BOUND BROOK, Sept. 25.—Tom Ruolty, 14 years of age, a water boy for the Port Reading road, was shot while performing his duty on the "Island Farm", last night at 6 o'clock. Twenty-three shots lodged in his body. All efforts will be made to bring the guilty party who performed the devilish deed to justice.

Gable Released Again, But the Divorce Proceedings Go on.

John B. Gable was arrested again Wednesday at the Bedford flats, New York, in Mrs. Avery's apartments, by a metropolitan detective, and locked up in the Essex Market court to await the appearance of his wife. Mrs. Gable was to have been on hand at 9:30 yesterday morning, to press the charge that he had refused to pay her the $5 a week ordered by the court. Gable was held till 2:30, when he was released, since she did not appear. The train she took delayed her so that she was just half an hour too late.

Mrs. Gable says that she will give up trying to collect from John, and will support herself and children by her own exertions. She is pressing the divorce proceedings.

The Borough Fight to Come Up in November.

W. A. Coddington, counsel for William Pangborn in his fight against marshal Rutledge and the borough of North Plainfield, details of which were related exclusively in these columns last evening, to-day had served on justice Crosley the writ of certiorari directing him to submit to the Supreme Court a record of such transactions in the case as took place before him. The Supreme Court will investigate Pangborn's charges carefully, and to that end has commanded that all the details of the matter shall be submitted to that body at Trenton the first Tuesday in November.

Pangborn never paid the fine imposed on him, and the Supreme Court is to decide whether or not it was justly demanded. Justice Crosley considered, from the evidence before him, that Pangborn had violated the ordinances, and in imposing a fine he of course considered that he was doing his honest duty.

From Slavery to the Ministry.

Jacob Stroyer, a colored man who was born in slavery forty years ago, is in town seeking to sell copies of his book, "My Life in the South", in order to get funds enough to carry him through his schooling in preparation for the Christian ministry. He deserves hearty encouragement in his laudable ambition. His home is now in Salem, Mass. The personal experiences of his early life, spent in bondage, are highly interesting, as told in his book, and all who can buy a copy ought to do so and help him along. He is a divinity student at Oberlin College, and the funds he seeks to raise are to enable him to complete his course there. He has now but one more year in the theological seminary course. Mr. Stroyer has just completed a canvass of New Brunswick, where he was generously assisted, and where he was given the privilege of speaking in several of the churches.

HE'LL CONTEST HIS FATHER'S WILL.

A Dissatisfied Plainfield Heir Accuses His Dead Parent of Want of Capacity, etc.

Harrison Coddington is dissatisfied with the provision made for him by the last will and codicil thereto of his father, Archibald Coddington, deceased, and to-day began a contest on the grounds of want of capacity and undue influence.

The case came up in the Orphans' Court at Somerville, where four witnesses were examined and cross-examined, after which postponement was ordered to Thursday next.

The executors are the testator's sons, John and Worth, and his son-in-law, C. J. Ackerman. The executors who offer the will were represented by Craig A. Marsh, and the contestant by Chas. A. Reed.

Archibald Coddington was one of the most familiar figures about Plainfield for the last quarter of a century. He established the flour mills and the ice business now conducted by his sons.

DUNELLEN DOINGS.

Interesting Items from a Thriving Borough, by Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Maggie Swackhamer has been spending a few days with friends at Jersey City.

The home of Eugene Cane was made happy Wednesday by the advent of a bright little daughter.

Neal Taylor has returned from a trip through northern New Jersey and reports having met many old friends.

A large number of Dunellenites visited the Waverly fair yesterday.

Joel Giddis lost one of his horses Tuesday evening.

G. Elston Lowrie has been spending a few days with friends at Mount Vernon and New Rochelle, N. Y.

It is reported that Geo. B. Provoost, a former resident of Dunellen, is to be married to a Plainfield girl in November.

The Rev. Mr. Barney is to speak at the M. E. church to-night. All are invited to be present.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor gave a very interesting entertainment, last evening, in the Presbyterian church.

A Chance for Dunellenites.

A number of Dunellen school children are around selling tickets for a series of entertainments to be given this winter. The proceeds of these entertainments are to be used in furnishing the school with a library, and apparatus to illustrate the higher studies.

The fact that Dunellen is growing rapidly has been proved by the demands for a new school building, which has lately been completed, and there is no reason why a town of Dunellen's inhabitants cannot furnish one of the best equipped schools in the county.

Principal Roberts has been the means of placing before the people an opportunity by which this necessary equipment for the schools may be secured and the people at the same time get the worth of their money in another direction. Mr. Roberts's lectures are very interesting, and those who have an opportunity should not miss them.

Left Plainfield for Plainfield's Good.

Charles Collins, who kept a little tailor shop at 43 North avenue, has skipped town. He is "wanted" for theft.

While his boarding master in North Plainfield was away on his vacation, last month, Collins stole from him a watch, shoes, pin and vest, valued altogether at $35. He recovered the watch at a pawnbroker's shop by paying the $4 Collins had raised on it. The other articles are still missing.

Collins is the same fellow who pawned goods of his own and then reported to the police and to his creditors that they had been stolen. He learned Sunday that he was to be arrested, and his flight followed.

New Officers Again.

A regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr O. U. A. M., was held in their rooms last evening. After the regular routine business was transacted and several new candidates initiated, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter:

Junior Past Councilor—Charles W. Taynor.
Councilor—Horace G. Adams.
Vice Councilor—Elias R. Pope, Jr.
Conductor—John W. Poole.
Warden—John P. Reed.
Assistant Recording Secretary—Charles S. Geyer.
Inside Sentinel—Horace D. Pangborn.
Outside Sentinel—Geo. VanNest.

Franklin Council is growing fast. It initiated nearly seventy-five members in the past three months.

Short-hand at the Y. M. C. A.

Among the advantages which the Young Men's Christian Association offers to the young men of Plainfield is the educational department, and to which it would call particular attention, is the short-hand class. So many have taken advantage of this class in the past that the association takes pleasure in organizing it again. It will open some time between the first and middle of October, and will be taught by J. A. Robinson. Any young man wishing to join should communicate with the general secretary at the rooms.

The Institute Fair.

The American Institute will open its sixtieth exhibition on Wednesday evening next. The address, by Genl. Stewart L. Woodford will be delivered at 8 o'clock. The fair will be open at the Exhibition Hall on Third avenue between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets, New York, until November 28, and the admission will be 25 cents as usual.

FLURRIES IN FANWOOD.

A New Boy Arrives—The School Ma'am's Back—And a Gang of Highwaymen Are Encamped There.

Quality Hill is honored by the arrival of an addition to its select circle, presented by Mrs. Gardner yesterday morning. A bouncing baby boy.

Miss Davie, of Plainfield, has re-opened her school in the post-office building, and many are the expressions of delight from the children at the pleasure of again meeting their popular and loved instructress.

Fanwood whist circles will soon be depleted by the removal of Walter Force and family to Brooklyn for the winter. His absence will leave the Rotary club one short, and that one has so far proved himself not the luckiest but the most skillful player of the five. Mr. Urner, the father-in-law of William Edwin Gibbs, will occupy Mr. Force's house during the latter's absence.

A gang of suspicious characters make a rendezvous of Mr. Smith's lumber yard nightly. The attention of the Central railway officials has been called to the fact, as it is feared damage to the company's property may result unless active measures are taken to suppress the nuisance. Wednesday night a resident was intercepted by one of the gang, but promptly gave the fellow to understand that he could protect himself. No blood was spilled, but came very near being.

Boycotting a Railroad.

DENVER, Sept. 25.—Ex-President Moffat of the Rio Grande road has begun an active boycott of that road. He has directed that all ores from the Maid of Erin, Henrietta, Louisville and Adams properties in Leadville be shipped via the Union Pacific road.

Two Women Counterfeiters.

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Rosalina Costaialo and Francesca Lorana, two Italian women, were arrested yesterday, charged with manufactring counterfeit five-cent nickels. The women were held by Commissioner Shields in $2,000 bail each for examination.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 24.—Presidential postmasters have been appointed as follows: Joseph G. Hyatt, Westport, Conn.; S. E. Walker, Northfield, Mass.; Jennie M. Van Arsdale, Arlington, N. J.; H. C. Elwood, Nunda, N. Y.

"Buck" Minton Dead.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 25.—Albert J. Minton, a well known New York Central Railroad engineer, died at his home last night. He was familiarly known all over the Central Railroad system as "Buck," and was in the employ of the Central for 40 years. He was an ardent gunner, and was celebrated among the crack shots of Western New York.

Burned by an Explosion.

CONCORD, N. H., Sep. 25.—Arthur S. Dole, a clerk, was badly burned and Director W. P. Fiske had his hair and beard singed by an explosion of gas in the vault of the First National Bank at noon. The rear wall of the vault was blown out.

New Company Incorporated.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 25.—The certificate of incorporation of the Mutual Underwriter Company has been filed in the County Clerk's Office. The object of the company is to publish periodicals concerning insurance and other business. The capital stock is $100,000.

A Minister Suspended.

BOSTON, Sep. 25.—Rev. S. E. Brown has been suspended from the New England Methodists' Conference by the presiding elder, J. W. Lindsay, the charge being "impudent conduct."

A Millionaires' Bank.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Plaza Bank will open for business October 15. It will be distinctly a millionaires' bank. It has on its list of stockholders a greater number of millionaires than any other similar institution in this country.

Present Rates to Be Maintained.

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—At the meeting of the Trunk Line Association a resolution was adopted to maintain the present tariff rates on all Eastbound lake and rail freights.

Women Civil Service Examiners.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 25.—At last the Civil Service Commission have two women for examiners. Chief Examiner De Land, of the Treasury, honored the Commissioners' latest requisition by sending Miss Augusta Pratt and Miss Caroline P. Dreischeimer to take vacancies formerly filled by men alone.

Pleaded Guilty of Assault.

CONCORD, N. H., Sep. 24.—Charles Carter of Canterbury, a young man 20 years old, pleaded guilty yesterday of criminally assaulting his sister Jennie, aged 11. He was held without bail.

A Child's Strange Death.

YORK, Pa., Sep. 25.—A year-old child of Mr. R. Little, who resides three miles from Hanover, got its head between the banister surrounding the front porch while its parents were absent. Being unable to extricate itself the child hung there until death resulted from strangulation.

A Great Success.

Stranger—I understand that electrocution is a great success in this state.

New Yorker—Yes, indeed. When a man wants to die a quick, painless and delightful death, all he has to do is to go out and kill somebody. We do the rest.—N. Y. Weekly.

She Was Right.

Jennie—I hear that you are going to become a lecturer.

Minnie—The idea! I am engaged to be married.

"Well, I knew it was something of the sort," returned Jennie.—Jury.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily supplied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

A Wreck Causes Great Damage.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 24.—The first section of train No. 70 ran into the last section of train No 80 at New Waterford on the Ft. Wayne road late in the afternoon, destroying railroad property aggregating $100,000. None of the crews were injured.

Chicago Team Wins at Football.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 25.—The Thistles, of Chicago, defeated the Rovers of this city at football yesterday by a score of 6 to 5.

Shiloh's Cough Cure

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield N.J.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2 00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

ANOTHER NEW MISSION.

First a Tent, Now a Permanent Chapel, the Result of Earnest Young Baptists' Efforts.

About three months ago the young people's association of the First Baptist church thought it advisable to connect itself with some mission work in the city. Various plans were suggested and discussed, and different sites were looked at with a view of securing the most neglected and yet most promising field of labor for them to enter on.

It was the 1st of August when the committee in charge handed in their report. They had looked at several places, and the one which seemed the most favorably adapted to the work was East Third street, near Richmond. The young people accepted the report, and with much zeal and enthusiasm entered on the work.

A tent was procured and pitched upon the ground selected. It was provided with an organ, seats, books, and other appropriate furnishings, and about the 1st of August, on Sunday, the initial meeting was held. It was looked forward to with a great deal of interest and anxiety as to the success of their new venture, which was an entire novelty to them.

It was plainly seen by all present that Sunday afternoon, that they had made no mistake in taking up the work, for the tent was filled to overflowing, the seating capacity being not large enough to accommodate the crowd.

The meeting was in charge of L. H. Bigelow, jr., who conducted the services. The deep spiritual interest manifested evidenced only a foretaste of what was to follow. The absence of any noise or disturbance which usually attend such outdoor gatherings was very pleasing to all present.

It was decided to hold meetings on Tuesday, Thurday and Sunday evenings, and Sunday afternoons; and such meetings have been continued along ever since, each meeting being characterized by the same prevailing spirit with which the venture was ushered in.

The young people, seeing the necessity of continuing this work, did not care to give it up, though the plans originally called for only two months of labor. So a committee was appointed to confer with the trustees of the church in regard to carrying it on. In the meantime the committee was looking for suitable permanent quarters, which were found at 37 East Third street, which was formerly occupied by Mr. Marsh and family. It was found that it could be secured for a reasonable sum till next April; and, being very well adapted for the various needs of the young people's enterprise, it was thought advisable to secure it as soon as possible, as cool weather was coming on and they would have to give up the present way of continuing the work.

And so, with this report of their work, told with earnestness and sincerity, they appeared before the trustees with their plans, and the result was a hearty approval by that body. The proposition was heartily accepted, and they decided to take up the work immediately with a view of establishing a permanent mission.

Last Sunday one of the young men started a Sunday-school. The patronage accorded was very encouraging. He had canvassed the neighborhood somewhat, and the result was that 16 were present anxious to hear the Gospel. The way in which the people received the young workers, and their acceptance and help, were in every way very encouraging.

On the 4th of October the new place will be opened with a hearty welcome to all. It is the intention and earnest desire of the young people to make this a success, and they feel confident of doing so, and thus of carrying the Gospel to the most neglected portion of the city.

Several have manifested a desire to lead a different life since their interest in things spiritual was aroused by the mission, and it is to be hoped that the salvation of many souls will be the result of these earnest young workers' labors. The venture offers an opportunity for all to do more for the Master than ever they have done before. The efforts of the mission projectors deserve the support of all Christians who desire to broaden the limits of their usefulness.

A Plainfield Man Weds a Connecticut Bride.

The New Haven, Conn., Evening Register of Sept. 24 makes the following mention of the wedding of Joseph C. Allen, proprietor of the novelty store at 28 West Front street, this city: "Last evening, at the residence of Mrs. E. A. Redcliffe, 413 Orange street, took place the marriage of her daughter, Miss Edith A. Redcliffe, and Joseph C. Allen, the ceremonies being performed by the Rev. F. Marble of Wallingford. Miss Bessie Young acted as maid of honor, and J. M. Mahnken as best man. After a short reception Mr. and Mrs. Allen started on a tour, which will last several weeks.

Messrs. Waring and Quinn's Horses Break Even.

Two of Plainfield's fastest horses met at the Driving Park on Saturday last, and divided honors. O. T. Waring's "Copeland" won the first heat in 2:37½, and M. Quinn's "George B" won the second in 2:35.

There was also a race between "Colonel" of Woodbrook Farm, and Mr. Reynolds's of New Brunswick, "Gray Fellow." Colonel won the heat in 2:43½.

The third race was between Mr. Hayes's "Andy", and Mr. Reynolds's "Experiment." Andy won in 2:49.

'Twas a Dish of Crow, Says Somerville.

[From The Harkingtown Unionist-Gazette.]

The Plainfield flaunters of Mohammed's emblem got out their red fire and brass band too soon. The West Ends beat them on their own grounds by the score of 8 to 5, and thus was the great series tied. The West Ends set before their rivals the largest dish of crow that they ever had tasted. History has only repeated itself. Once before the Plainfields celebrated too quickly, and once before were the Somerville boys forced on the field shorthanded. Last year O'Rourke was missing, and this time it was Farrell. A suspicion did not flit across a Somerville mind of any foul play when certain Plainfield men offered big wagers at Force's hotel prior to the game. But the reason for this became apparent when Farrell failed to appear.

The West Ends could do nothing but put in their best available man and that man was Harvey Line-em-out Major. Had the game been played anywhere south of the Mason and Dixon line the boy would have been created a Captain after his first base hit, would have been made a Colonel immediately after his second drive, and would have ended up his career for the day as a full fledged General on the strength of his two-bagger. As it was, he merely made himself the idol of his townsmen. Carbonell redeemed himself three times over. 'T was in the first inning that he started to play the game of his life by making a base hit, a performance duplicated in the third and in his succeeding times at the bat he sacrificed successfully. In the fifth inning the little Cuban came in and covered second, gobbled in a wild throw and threw his man out at third base. In the seventh inning Plainfield had men on second and third and as their heaviest hitter was at the bat felt confident of at least tieing the score. Keeler hit a short liner over second base, of which Carbonell made a grand catch, throwing to second in time to complete a double play. Moorehead and Connell were both conspicuous by their brilliant playing, but Heiser, who had been placed at short, made a sorry batch of it.

Harkins, like good wine, seems to grow better with age, and in this, the eighteenth consecutive game that he has pitched for West Ends against Plainfield, he completely bamboozled their heavy hitters, and showed speed and curves without parallel. Kennedy's catching was not up to the standard which he has set for himself, but as the captaining of the team had been forced on him, and as he had imposed a lot of unnecessary kicking on himself, he was excusable.

Somerset County Bible Society.

The Somerset County Bible Society held its seventy-fourth annual meeting in the Reformed church at Peapack, Tuesday. President W. H. DeHart, of Raritan, opened the meeting with prayer, the Rev. J. P. Searle showed that the amount received by contribution from other churches and sources amounted to $1,007.89. The balance on hand was $692.46. Mr. Searle stated that the Reformed church of Griggstown requested that such portion of their contribution be paid to the American Bible Society as would make the Rev. James L. Southard, a life member, and the Presbyterian church of Basking Ridge made a similar request as to Calvin D. Smith. These requests were granted and the treasurer directed to act accordingly.

Various committees were appointed for convention work and then the annual address was delivered by the Rev. J. E. Adams, of the Methodist church of Morristown, who took for his text, "The word of the Lord is tried"—Psalms xviii:30.

The Rev. Mr. Doolittle, of North Branch, presented the report of the executive committee. It stated that the constitution had been revised in accordance with the instruction of the society, and subsequently it was presented by the Rev. J. P. Searle and adopted. The report stated that the object of this revision was to effect a legal incorporation, under which to hold legacies and other funds. A resolution was adopted authorizing proceedings effecting such incorporation.

The committee recommended that the people of the county take advantage of the offer of the American Bible society to provide Bibles for the children and youth of the entire county at greatly reduced rates. It was also recommended that measure be taken for the proper celebration next year of the seventy-fifth birthday of the society. A resolution to that effect was adopted.

Resolutions were adopted touching the death of Fred. J. Frelinghuysen, and his work for the society was spoken of in the highest terms.

The following officers were elected:

President—The Rev. John C. Rankin, D. D.
Vice-president—The Rev. J. L. McNair.
Treasurer—The Rev. J. P. Searle.
Cor. Secretary—John Frelinghuysen.
Depository—James Gaston.

The Best in All Lines.

The new management of Music Hall is giving the people the very best lines of theatrical attractions, and the people are showing their appreciation nobly. Cleveland's minstrels had a big house; Frohman's cast in the farce comedy "All the Comforts of Home," had a big house; and Lederer's company of comic players in the musical satire of "U. and I," last evening, had the biggest of all. Next week comes to the Hall the peerless Janauschek in melo-drama.

AS PRETTY AS A PICTURE.

The Pleasing Sights and Sounds of Netherwood.

The following, from the pen of a transient sojourner in Plainfield, is worthy of a place in THE PRESS, and marked copies should be sent abroad.

Travelers who catch glimpses of flitting towns from car windows are seldom favorably impressed. Railways are not agreeable neighbors, and their circumjacence includes factories and tenements as a rule, where utility has sacrificed ornament. To this rule the suburban stations on the Jersey Central are noteworthy exceptions. Graceful stations surrounded by well-shaded parks are strung along the road, and if there is anything to offend aesthetic taste the embowered depots hide it from the passers. Among these stations none has more attractive surroundings than Netherwood. The road runs through the wooded valley. The Orange mountains are on one side with verdant scollops showing the outlines of the trees which cover it with chenille like tapestry, and the heights of Netherwood are on the other, crowned with castellated outlines of Hotel Netherwood. Embowered roads radiate from the station and from the shaded paths vistas of ever-changing beauty open. Cottages adorn the terraces, set in well-kept, fenceless lawns like jewels on emerald enamel, each forming a picture with individuality enough to create a distinct remembrance; each perfect in setting and detail.

Among those that linger on the mind as beauty spots in the landscape, are the summer homes of Messrs. Anthony, Talmage, Brown, Haines, Smith, Bowen, and Ralli. So clear cut are they that they might be symphonies, the realization of artistic designs by sybarite architects. On the tonsured apex of the heights the central figure in capacious lawns is the Hotel Netherwood, the dominant feature of the scene, its many angled brick walls rising in massive piles, as if many buildings had somehow merged in one; the well modulated roads permit an ascent without weariness, and the view from its broad piazzas is a surprise. The trees which surround the lawns are backed by masses of evergreen foliage, which make the nearer trees stand out in distinct lines of lighter greens, and the wind, unsuspected in the valley, sweeps along the tree-tops with sounds of breaking surf. Over the undulant branches on every side broad views open in panoramic beauty. Plainfield on the left, Orange Mountain in front, and immense stretches of forest bounded by the horizon in the other directions, give birds-eye pictures of one of the prettiest sections of picturesque Jersey. The railway is hidden among the trees, but the crescendo murmur of approaching trains mingles with the rustling leaves and dies in diminuendo as the trains fade in the distance, like the rising wind. Morning, noon and night the bell of the little Gothic church down in the woods reminds the Christian that this world is a fleeting show. The Rev. S. P. Simpson, the rector, has a warm place in the hearts of the summer sojourners, who add largely to his audience and aid him in his charity.

Prohibitionists in Convention.

The Somerset County Prohibition Convention was held in the W. C. T. U. rooms at Somerville, last Saturday afternoon, with John Voorhees in the chair; and W. W. Winans acting as secretary. Charles McNabb, of Bound Brook, was nominated by acclamation as the prohibition candidate for Assembly.

The county committee was re-organized as follows:

Bedminster—Rev. W. C. Nelson, Peapack.
Bernards—The Rev. Mr. Wells, Liberty Corner; John M. Waldron, Bernardsville.
Branchburg—W. P. Williamson, Neshanic.
Bridgewater—B. K. Hoppock and John Voorhees, Somerville; Charles McNabb, Bound Brook; Alfred Barber, Raritan.
Franklin—W. H. Ayers, South Bound Brook; Henry R. Hight, Kingston.
Hillsboro—John L. Cerle, Neshanic Station; Hervey McDonald, Millstone.
Montgomery—John Sperling, Stoutsburg.
North Plainfield — Thos. Mair and A. B. Karner, Plainfield.
Warren—George H. Mundy, Warrenville.
At large—George LaMonte, Bound Brook; Robert Thornhill and the Rev. W. W. Trumbower, Somerville.

Elizabeth's Bicycle Meet.

An enthusiastic wheelman writes to THE PRESS: The race meet of the Elizabeth Wheelmen is booming along in great shape.

The fastest men in the country are surely going to ride them, and if conditions are at all favorable some records will be broken. Among the fliers are A. A. Zimmerman, A. B. Rich, Hoyland Smith, W. W. Taxis, G. F. Taylors, and the local cracks. The track and grand stand are the finest in the country, and it will certainly be a grand treat to see these giants of the wheel as they come slashing down the homestretch at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

Go and see three hours of a sport that has attracted great crowds everywhere for the last month. Springfield, Mass., shut up her business places on race days, and had 15,000 people out to see these very same men ride. There was great excitement and a big time. Business men of New York can reach the track by a special train from the foot of Liberty street at 2:15 p. m.

THE COLORED LEADER.

Emancipation Celebrations Inaugurated by Frederick Douglass.

August 6 is the anniversary of the emancipation of all slaves in the United States and is usually celebrated in a manner worthy of the occasion. The project was initiated by the Douglass league. It was in Rochester, N. Y., that Frederick Douglass started a paper called at first the North Star, afterward

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.

Fred Douglass' Paper. Frederick Douglass was born in Tuckahoe, near Easton, Md., in 1817. His mother was a negro—his father a white man.

A slave on a plantation at the age of ten, he was sent to Baltimore to live with the relatives of his master. He taught himself to read and write in secret. He was employed in a shipyard and fled from Baltimore from slavery in 1838. He came to New York, then he went to New Bedford, Mass., where he married. He labored on wharves and in workshops until 1841, when he attended an anti-slavery convention at Nantucket and made a speech. Afterward he traveled and lectured in New England and Massachusetts for upward of four years. He wrote and published his autobiography in 1845. Soon after he went to Europe and lectured in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales to enthusiastic audiences. A subscription of £150 was raised to manumit him. He remained two years in Great Britain. Fearing arrest from his supposed implication in the John Brown raid he went to Europe again for some months. It was he who suggested the formation of colored regiments and did much to help fill the ranks with his race in Massachusetts. There is little doubt that Frederick Douglass advised President Lincoln to issue the emancipation proclamation. Recently Douglass was United States minister to Hayti, having previously filled two or three federal appointments.

THE CAPUCHIN GENERAL.

Father Bernard D'Andermott Now Visiting in This Country.

Since 1857 the Capuchin order has been established in this country. Rome is the residence of the superior general, and that official has never visited the United States. Father Bernard d'Andermott, the present superior general, recently arrived in New York.

The superior general will remain in this country several months. He will visit every Capuchin monastery here, and will preside at the chapter of the order to be held in Detroit in September. It is expected that several important changes will be made by him. He will decide what fathers are to have charge of the new Capuchin monastery at Yonkers.

Father Bernard was born in Switzerland in 1837. He joined the Capuchin order in 1855, and was ordained in 1860. He did missionary work in Switzerland, and occupied many important positions before he was elected superior general of the order on May 9, 1884. For the last two years he has been visiting Capuchin monasteries in all parts of the world. He spent a year in Africa and was several months in the Orient. He had completed the visitation of the French and English houses when he sailed on the Gallia for this country.

Members of the Capuchin order here say that Father Bernard is a great admirer of this country, and that he has often said a visit here would give him much pleasure. The Capuchins have a large number of monastries in the United States. The priest who organized the order in this country in 1857, Father Bonaventure Frey, is pastor of the Church of St. John the Baptist in West Thirtieth street, New York.

The Corpse "Took a Hand."

Dr. L. Corneau, author of a work entitled "Certain Signs of Death," says that he can cite ninety-six well-authenticated cases where persons were buried alive by mistake. Here is one: A French army officer on August 30, 1836, was buried at Sables with military honors. The parting salute awoke him from apparent death. He knocked upon the lid of the coffin, was heard and set at liberty. He marched back to the house of mourning at the head of the detachment that had been detailed to escort his remains to the tomb.

SPURGEON RECOVERING.

The Great Pulpit Orator Rapidly Regaining Strength.

Charles Haddon Spurgeon was born on June 19, 1834, at Kelvedon, Essex county, Eng. He went to school at Colchester, studied at Cambridge and elsewhere, and became an usher in a school at Newmarket. Contrary to the wishes of his relatives, who were Independents, he joined the congregation of the late Rev. Robert Hall, a Baptist preacher, at Cambridge. Young Spurgeon, then entered actively upon Christian work, and distributed tracts at Feversham, near Cambridge, where he became known as the "Boy Preacher."

In that village he delivered his maiden sermon when sixteen years old. In the next year he became the pastor of a small church at Waterbeach, preaching in a barn, to which crowds flocked to hear him. He began to be famous, and in 1853 was offered the pastorate of the church meeting in the New Park Street chapel, in Southwark, London, in which Dr. Rippon once preached. Mr. Spurgeon became so popular in London that in two years it became necessary to enlarge the church building, when Exeter hall was engaged for four months.

So great were the crowds that desired to hear the preacher, who had now become the greatest in London, that the enlarged Park street church was relinquished and the Surrey music hall engaged. In October, 1856, an accident occurred in the hall, and it was decided to build the Metropolitan tabernacle, which was opened in 1861. Since then Mr. Spurgeon had always preached there to overflowing congregations.

Mr. Spurgeon's sermons have a circulation in printed form of 25,000 weekly. He has also published "The Treasury of David," an exposition of the psalms, in seven volumes. The Stockwell orphanage, founded in 1867, has been enlarged, and the Pastors' college, founded in 1856, has educated over 700 men. These are connected with the tabernacle. The Metropolitan Tabernacle Colportage association has agents in different parts of the country, who sell books and pamphlets and perform other services. A book fund, carried on in Mr. Spurgeon's house, supplies indigent ministers with books. The tabernacle has been largely frequented by Americans in London, to whom Mr. Spurgeon's sermons were peculiarly acceptable.

Mr. Spurgeon has tremendous influence over his audiences, although a plain-spoken man of simple language, and possessed of no exceptional gifts of oratory.

DANCING SOAP BUBBLES.

A Trick Explained by the Weight of Carbonic Acid Gas.

Several schooners and a siphon with soda water are necessary to accomplish this interesting feat. The soda water is needed for filling one of the glasses with carbonic acid, which is done by pouring the same with soda water into it and withdrawing the water by means of a straw or tube. The carbonic acid remains in the glass, because it is twice as heavy as the air. To keep it from evaporating the glass is covered with a lid. The soapsuds has already been prepared, and in order to make it effective for our purpose a little glycerine is added, the mixture well shaken and set aside for a minute or two, when the membrane that has formed on the surface is removed.

A soap-bubble is then formed in the usual way and dropped into the glass that contains the carbonic acid. The bubble jumps immediately from the glass. When carefully handled one can see the bubble swell until it extends to the sides of the glass, when it bursts, the endosmose (transmission of gaseous matters through membranes of porous substances) permitting the carbonic acid to enter the bubble and increasing its original volume.

Horse Power of Whales.

Sir William Turner, the present eminent professor of anatomy in the university of Edinburg, Scotland, has given much attention to the study of whales, their structure, habits, etc. He estimates that the great Greenland whale (average length 60 feet) attains a maximum speed while swimming of ten miles per hour; the "Finner" whale (maximum length 85 feet) often making twelve to fourteen miles an hour. Mr. Turner, in one of his lectures, said that he and John Henderson, of Glasgow, the well-known builder of the Anchor Line steamships, had spent much time in trying to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as to the horse power exerted by large species of the whale in making a speed of twelve miles per hour. As a base for their conclusions they took the size and dimensions of the great "Finner," which was stranded on the shore at Longuiddry some years ago. It was 80 feet long, weighed 74 tons and had a tail which was 20 feet across at the extreme end of its flanges. With these data, Messrs. Turner and Henderson calculated that a whale of the dimensions mentioned, in order to attain a speed of twelve miles an hour, must exercise a propelling force of 145 horse power!

OFF WITH A HOSTLER

Mrs. Van Haus' Elopement the Sensation of the Day.

LONG BRANCH IN AMAZEMENT

Strange Infatuation of a Society Woman for a Worthless Youth.

Blessed With Wealth, Children and all that Pertains to Happiness, She Preferred to Leave Her Husband -- Her Charmer Ignorant and Not Even Good-looking--The Husband Prostrated.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sep. 26.—Mrs. Lorenze H. von Haus, well known to an extensive circle of society people in Yorkville and Long Branch, has shocked her many friends and church acquaintances by abandoning her husband and four children and eloping with a stupid, shiftless young Hollander formerly employed by her husband.

Van Haus keeps fancy edible stores in Long Branch and New York, which were well patronized by the best people.

About a year ago Charles Van-Hoeveling, a young Hollander, applied to Van Haus for work. He was of short build, with blonde hair and mustache, and was not at all an Adonis. The clerks in the store say he seemed too stupid to glance at a woman. Charles began to work for Van Haus for his board and $5 a week.

Unprepossessing though he was, Van Hoeveling and his employer's wife became friends at once. He was discharged soon after, some say for drunkenness, others say because he was too familiar with Mrs Von Haus. Mr. Von Haus, as in former years, opened and conducted his branch delicatessen store at the West End, Long Branch, while Mrs. Von Haus was left in charge of the New York store.

When he left for Long Branch Van Hoeveling became a frequent visitor to the Park avenue store. He had got employment as the driver of a milk wagon up town. Van "Most," as his fellow driver called him on account of the fierce cut of his hair, stopped so often at the store that his visits grew to be a subject of gossip among the neighbors. No unpleasant consequences were anticipated, however, as Mrs. Von Haus was known to be a regular church member and a good housewife, and the husband, who was attending to business down at Long Branch heard nothing to arouse his suspicion.

Mrs. Van Haus went to Long Branch as the store there was to be closed up for the season. Before starting she bade her children goodby more affectionately than usual. When Van Haus came back he learned that his wife had not been seen since the previous night, and that a young man answering Van Hoeveling's description had accompanied her to a train going west.

Heartbroken, the father returned home to communicate the news to his children. No traces of the couple have yet been found.

A BIG SPLIT LIKELY.

Catholic Knights of Missouri Threaten to Withdraw from the National Order

SEDALIA, Mo., Sep. 26. — St. Joseph branch, No. 84, Catholic Knights of America, of this city, has taken a step that is of national importance as it means the withdrawal of the order in Missouri from the national body.

The recent defalcation for $71,000 of Supreme Treasurer O'Brien, which is the fourth defalcation on the part of supreme treasurers in the past few years, caused the local branch to issue a circular letter, which will be mailed to every local branch in the State.

The letter demands the State officials of the order to call a convention to act upon the proposition that all branches of the order in Missouri unite in withdrawing from the national organization and forming an independent body.

The letter also says that the order has been conducted in the interest of politicians and office seekers, and it is time to call a halt on the dishonest practices pursued by Grand Lodge officers. The organization has more than 4,000 members in Missouri and the letter is certain to produce a sensation.

Killed by a Convict.

ALBANY, Sep. 26.—Clerk Bowers of the penitentiary, who was assaulted by Frank Wallace, colored, will die. Wallace had been reported for misconduct, and Superintendent McIntyre and Clerk Bowers went in the to shop see about the matter. As they approached, the negro grasped one of the knives used by the prisoners for cutting and sprang at Bowers. Bowers struck his assailant on the wrist with a small stick he held in his hand, knocking the knife to the floor. The enraged convict picked up a hammer and struck Bowers two blows on the head, felling him to the floor, and fatally injuring him.

Prussia's Wheat Crop.

BERLIN, Sep. 26.—The official results of the inquiries made in regard to the wheat crop of Prussia show that the crop amounts to 18,408,000 double quintals, against 17,523,000 in 1890. The summer and winter wheat crops together will yield 1,000,000 double quintals over the same crops of 1890.

After a Dead Man's Chum.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sep. 26.—The police are after Nelson E. Haskell, who was the roommate of Michael Kerby, who was found dead in the Elm House. There were no marks of violence upon Kerby's person, but it is thought Haskell knows something about his death.

Tennessee Troops Ready.

CHATANOOGA, Tenn., Sep. 26.—Governor Buchanan has ordered the Chatanooga Zouaves to rest on their arms and be prepared to go to the mining region at a moment's notice. The situation has become very critical.

NO Experiments

With our food. Good health is too highly important to permit experiments to be made upon us with the new, cheaply made, crude, untried baking powders. Only baking powders thoroughly tested and proven by long, practical use to be perfectly pure, reliable, and wholesome, must be permitted in our food. There is no experimenting when Royal Baking Powder is used. It has been the standard baking powder for over a quarter of a century, and its reputation is established as the finished, perfect leavening agent. It is always uniform, never fails in its work, makes food more palatable and wholesome than it can be otherwise made, and because of its greater leavening power, as shown by the Government tests, is the most economical of all the baking powders.

The U. S. Gov't Chemist says: "ROYAL BAKING POWDER is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public." The Canadian Gov't Chemist says: "ROYAL BAKING POWDER is pure, 23 per cent. stronger, and far superior to all others."

If any one attempts to experiment upon you, or with your food, by sending you any substitute for Royal Baking Powder, send it back.

THE GRANT-REILLY CASE.

Opinions From High Authorities Say the First Marriage Was Illegal.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sep. 26. — The famous Grant-Reilly marriage contest in which a decision was recently rendered by the Holy See at Rome declaring Wm. F. Grant's first marriage to Mary Reilly as legal, is again the theme of discussion among Catholics.

Mr. Grant has made public a number of letters, among them being one from Rev. D. r R. L. Boutwell, of New York, which says:

"You certainly are not bound to give Dr. Maher's letter in its present shape any attention, even though it be countersigned by Father Hughes, the administrator. Before any such notice can be binding on you. Father Hughes first should authenticate his claim to act as 'delegate of the Holy See.' There is no need of a 'delegate of the Holy See' to notify you of the decision of some Roman congregation. At any rate any one claiming to act under such delegation must give some proof of it.

"It will be important for us to know how the case was brought to the Roman tribunal. Certainly, it has been an underhand business, null and void, for the good reason that the case was brought before any tribunal; yet, if you are willing and have the patience to stand the expense of a Roman canonist as lawyer, the whole case can, I am confident, be reopened, and he will put my arguments in a way to bring out, beyond peradventure, that the marriage with Mary Reilly certainly was invalid from the beginning."

Besides this Mr. Grant has given for publication one from Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, in which the priest says he is satisfied that Mr. Grant's first marriage was illegal and that he was a free man when he was married the second time.

Convicts Make a Confession.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The conspirators among the convicts in San Quinten Prison, who have been in solitary confinement for some time, have confessed all the details of the plot and given information to the Warden which enabled him to find all the concealed revolvers and dynamite which were to have been used by the convicts in effecting their escape.

Williams College Open.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Sep. 26.—The increase in the student body at Williams College is greater than at any other period in its history. The freshman class will number over 100, and fifteen new men have entered the upper classes. Capt. Brown, who piloted the football team to victory last year, will again be captain this year.

Heavy Rains in New Mexico.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sep. 26.—Heavy rains have prevailed in Central New Mexico for several days causing a number of washouts on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroads in that section. No mail has arrived for three days and all passenger and freight traffic has been suspended.

More Victims of the Explosion.

NEWARK, N. J., Sep. 26.—Three more names have been added to the list of deaths caused by the explosion of a bomb at the celebration in the Italian quarters. This makes twelve killed. Several others are fatally injured and their deaths are expected at any moment.

The Fireman to Blame.

TIONESTA, Pa., Sep. 26.—The boiler explosion in Berlin's sawmill, by which J. Elva Berlin, Charles Grove and James D. Conger were instantly killed, is supposed to have been caused by the fireman putting cold water into the empty boiler.

England's Site at the Fair.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The site for England's headquarters on the Fair Grounds has been selected by Sir Henry T. Wood and James Dredge and is approved by the Grounds and Building Committee. It lies along the lake shore.

Nephew of Justice Lamar a Suicide.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, Sep. 26.—J. A. Lamar, son of L. M. Lamar, a prominent Georgia citizen, and nephew of Justice Lamar, committed suicide during the night by taking morphine. No cause for the act is known.

To Be Returned to China.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The Chinamen, Lem Sing, La Sing, Ah Chew and Mo Mow, who crossed from Canada to Cape Vincent and were captured here, will be returned to China, except Chew, who is a Canadian citizen.

MURDER WILL OUT

A Former Philadelphian's Bloody Confession.

HIS CONSCIENCE TROUBLED HIM.

An Innocent Man Has Been Wrongfully Imprisoned for Eight Years.

The Murderer so Stung by Remorse that He Had no Rest Until He Had Divulged His Secret -- How Circumstantial Evidence Convicted a Guiltless Man -- A Strange Story.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sep. 26.—Conscience has finally forced Jacob Brown to confess a dire deed that he did eight years ago. Since 1883 Brown has been fleeing from his crime, but it has pursued him until at last in Minneapolis he has confessed to Superintendent of Police Henderson.

Brown is said to be a former resident of Pittsburg, Pa.

a bond of joy when he hears of the confession. He is convict Gray, a "lifer" at the pen at Chester, Ill. Gray has for eight years been thought the murderer. He was convicted at Salem, Ill. Brown went to Superintendent Henderson yesterday and told his story.

It was so strange that the chief set him down as a crank. The man was so earnest, however, that the chief locked him up and sent a telegram to Centralia, Ill., where the murder was done. The answer came from the sheriff: "Hold the man."

The story of the murder is a strange one. Brown, who was tramping, went into a box car to sleep. He stumbled over a man in the dark. A fight ensued. Brown hit his assailant a death blow with a coupling pin and fled.

Shortly afterwards another tramp named Gray came along and went to sleep in the same car, not knowing that that he had a dead man for a companion. The next morning he arose and found that his arm had lain in a pool of blood. He tore off the bloody sleeve, and fled. That sleeve caused his arrest, conviction and sentence.

THE COLONEL WAS SANE.

And Through the Efforts of a Society He was Released.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sep. 26.—The Lunacy Law Reform League and Anti-Kidnapping Union, has gained a signal victory in the case of Colonel Charles G. Baylor. He is a war veteran but has long been confined, charged with insanity, in the Hartford Retreat and elsewhere.

Reading about the League in newspapers he managed to get a letter mailed to their Central Committee in New York. After some months investigation the Committee induced Counsellor E. Stanton of Hartford, to get a way of writ of habeas corpus.

The Asylum authorities finding the League resolved on trying the case, avoided a trial by discharging Colonel Baylor. He is full of gratitude to the League and Mr. Stanton.

In Behalf of a Bank Robber.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sep. 26.—The attorneys for E. W. Baker, now serving a term of five years in the States prison for complicacy in the robbery of the Exchange Bank at Hurley, in the fall of 1889, have made an application to the Supreme Court for avoidance of sentence. They challenge the validity of the act establishing the fifteenth judicial circuit, and ask the Supreme Court to declare that both the court and its acts are unconstitutional.

A Famous Case Settled.

FONDA, N. Y., Sep. 26.—In the celebrated Eisenlord case, which has attracted much attention throughout the State, the jury has rendered a verdict for the defendant. In effect, the decision makes young Eisenlord, the plaintiff, the heir of the late Dr. Eisenlord, and delares that his mother was not legally married to his father. Out of the $100,000 originally belonging to the estate, only $4,000 remains.

The Way They Do It in France.

PARIS, Sep. 26.—Caron, the engineer, and Degarrois, the station-master, charged with negligence in causing the recent terrible railway disaster at St. Mande, have been found guilty, and Caron sentenced to two years, and Degarrois to four months' imprisonment.

CONTESTING EDITOR RICE'S WILL.

A Trust Fund of $250,000 to be the Object of Attack.

NEW YORK, Sep. 26.—And now the will of Allen Thorndike Rice, late editor and proprietor of the "North American Review," is to be contested. Mr. Rice died at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in May, 1889, just as he was making preparations to leave for St. Petersburgh as Minister to Russia.

Only the disposition by will of that portion of his estate which he inherited from his grandmother, Mary A. Bourne, of Brookline, Mass., is affected. Mrs. Bourne left Editor Rice a quarter of a million dollars in trust, with the promise that if he had issue the trust fund should be divided among his children at his death.

Mr. Rice died childless, and other heirs of Mrs. Bourne now claim that his will does not explicitly dispose of this trust fund, of which they claim a share. The contest has been begun by them in Brookline, Mass.

The contestants are Anna De Sartigue of Paris, wife of Count Eugene De Sartigue, and Countess Mary A. Bannelos, also of Paris, wife of Count Miguel De Des Santos de Bannelos, both children of Mrs. Bourne: C. K. Parker of New York, James Parker of Boston, and Mary M. Parker of Dublin, N. H., children of the late Mary S. Parker and grandchildren of Mrs. Bourne.

GATLING'S NEW GUN.

Believes He Can Repeat in Heavy Ordnance His Machine-gun Success.

MARION, Ind., Sep. 26.—Dr. Richard J. Gatling, the inventor of the Gatling gun, which is known and is in use throughout Christendom, has invented a process for the manufacture of heavy guns, which he believes will be as great a success as his wonderful machine-gun. He has decided to proceed at once with its manufacture, a stock company having been organized here for that purpose. The capital stock is to be $1,000,000; all of which has been guaranteed.

Dr. Gatling has devoted years of study to this invention and has sublime faith in its success. He has several patents which cover both a composition and a mechanical process. The former he declares to be much greater in tensile strength than any herstofore known, and by means of the latter he coils the molten lead about the core, securing the strength and elasticity of wire wrap, with none of its defects. The composition has been subjected to the severest tests, which it has withstood even better than expected by the inventor. The new process is exceedingly rapid and Dr. Gatling expects to complete a gun in a week for a test.

AFFAIRS IN CHILI.

Prosecutions by the Junta, with Which the People are not in Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 26. — A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says that private advices have been received there giving an entirely different view of the condition of affairs in Chili from that presented by the present ruler of that country.

While it is true that comparatively few executions have taken place, nearly every public man who held office under Balmaceda is being prosecuted, and the property of many of them has been seized by the Junta, whose object is said to be to create a reign of terror that will paralyze opposition to the Congressionalist candidates at the approaching elections.

It is also said that there is no certainty of permanent peace, as the majority of the common people are not in sympathy with the new government, and looked upon Balmaceda as their champion.

She Was Bound to Elope.

ELLINGTON, Conn., Sep. 26.—The probable elopement of Miss Florence M. Cooley, aged fourteen, and Mahlon Kibbe, aged eighteen years, has caused much talk. The girl was bound to a farmer named Fornam. She and Kibbe have been much together of late, and Tuesday morning they disappeared. The girl retired early, and when morning came she was gone. A big hole in the side of the house was found, through which she had made her escape to her lover.

The North Carolina Exposition.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sep. 26.—The Southern Interstate Exposition will be formally opened next Thursday. This, it is expected, will be the largest and most successful exposition ever held in the South. Col. McClure, of the Philadelphia "Times," the Governors of a dozen States and probably President Harrison will deliver addresses during the coming month. Polk, Peffer and others will address a big Alliance gathering on the grounds Oct. 9.

Colombia at the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 26.—Respecting the exhibition to be held at Chicago, Salvador Camacho, president of the National Commissioners of the Republic of Colombia, reports that the idea is to exhibit there the numerous natural resources, industries, evidences of scientific and literary progress of Colombia, and show the outside world the culture, dress, food, homes, pleasures and occupations of the people.

Forest Fires Checked.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sep. 26. — Specials from ten different towns of northern Wisconsin say that the rain checked the forest fires. Drummond had a close shave and hundreds of men were fighting the fire at one time. The damage will not be as heavy as at first reported, as most of the fires were confined to districts burned over last spring. West of Hayward there were many heavy losses.

Four Americans Murdered.

PANAMA, Sep. 26.—Advices from Peru report the murder of four American explorers on the River Maranon. The party consisted of five Californians, prospecting for gold, but one, owing to illness, had to return. The others were killed by the natives, who mistook them for ecclesiastics' emissaries and spies.

IS Your Baking Powder Pure?

It may masquerade as "absolutely pure;" perhaps you think it is; but you may know whether it is adulterated with ammonia or not if you

Test it. Mix one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder with one spoonful of water in a tin cup; boil thoroughly for a few moments, stir to prevent burning, and if ammonia is present you can smell it in the rising steam. As baking powder, when thrown into water, will effervesce, do not mistake bubbling for boiling.

There is no ammonia, no alum, no adulteration whatever in Cleveland's baking powder, and in the laboratory and in the kitchen

A NATION'S WARDS

Annual Report of the Commissioner of Pensions.

BIG INCREASE DURING THE YEAR.

In That Time 138,216 Were Added to the Rolls.

The Total Number of Charges 676,160. The Number of Widows and Daughters of Revolutionary Soldiers Is Down to 23--An Increase of Some $13,000,000. Other Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 26.—The annual report of Commissioner Raum, of the Pension Bureau, shows that on June 30, 1891, there were 676,160 pensioners borne upon the rolls of the Bureau, being 138,216 the close of the last fiscal year.

They are classified as follows: Widows and daughters of Revolutionary soldiers, 23; army invalid pensioners, 118,597; army widows, minor children, etc., 108,537; navy invalid pensioners, 5,479. navy widows, minor children, etc., 2,568; survivors of the war of 1812, 7,590; survivors of the Mexican war, 16,379; widows of soldiers of the Mexican war, 6,970.

Following are the number of pensions of the several classes granted under the act of June 27, 1890: Army invalid pensioners, 97,136; army widows, minor children, etc., 12,209; navy invalid pensioners, 3,976; navy widows, minor children, etc., 1,436.

During the last fiscal year first payments were paid upon 231,160 original claims, requiring $61,891,538 for their payment. This is an increase in the number of original payments over the year 1890 of 64,532. The aggregate cost, however, was $1,087,302 less.

The aggregate annual value of the 676,160 pensions on the roll June 31, 1891 was $89,247,2000, the average annual value of each pension was $130.99, and the average annual value of each pension under the act of June 27, 1890, was $121.51.

The total amount disbursed on account of pensions, expenses, etc., during the fiscal year was $118,548,939.71, as compared with $105,493,890.19 disbursed during the preceding fiscal year. So it appears that 138,216 pensioners were added to the rolls during the fiscal year just closed, at an increased cost to the nation of $12,053,069 as compared with the expenditures of the previous fiscal year, and said expenditures include $4,357,347 paid upon vouchers remaining unpaid at the close of the year.

Pensions were granted each of the last four years as follows: 1888, 138,173; 1889, 145,298; 1890, 151,658; 1891, 250,565.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS.

First Annual Convention of the Atlantic Conference at Mount Holly.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sep. 26.—The first annual camp meeting of the Atlantic Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists is in session here. One of the striking things about this meeting is that none of the sect pretends to know the day and hour of the second coming of Christ.

There are eight churches in the Atlantic Conference and 400 and odd members. Two hundred are attending the camp meeting and getting up at 5:30 o'clock in the morning to hear about the four-and-twenty elders and the seven vials of wrath and the time, times and a half time, all of which are made plain as print by the speakers.

There are two big tents on the grounds for the meeting, fifty house tents, a restaurant tent, a kitchen tent and a grocery and bookstore tent. There are three preaching services every day, to say nothing of prayer-meetings and business meetings.

Convention Postponed Indefinitely.

OKLOHOMA CITY, O. T., Sep. 26.—Owing to the rush to the new lands opened to settlement this week only a few of the delegates to the Oklohoma Statehood Convention, put in their appearance and the convention was indefinitely postponed.

New York Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 26. —Fourth-class postmasters have been appointed in New York State as follows: G. H. Gerpel at Bay Side; Z. Hitchcock at Big Hollow; W. F. Royce at De Bruce, and J. E. Wood at Grapeville.

The Application Denied.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sep. 26.—Gov. Hill has decided not to grant the application for the extradition of Horace A. Green and Julius Gross, wanted in Chicago for the larceny of $120,000.

Is This Fitzsimmons?

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 26.—A man answering the description of Frederick Fitzsimmons, wanted for murder, has been arrested in Rochelle, a village near Gainesville, Fla.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mr. Blaine has declined to take part in the Ohio campaign.

Secretary of War Proctor is back in Washington from his tour of inspection in the west.

Secretary Blaine has returned to Augusta, Me., from Bar Haber, much improved in health.

Allerton broke the stallion wagon record at Independence, Iowa, making the mile in 2:15. The best previous record was 2:16 1-2.

At Bradford, Pa., Sandy Ferry and James Darling, while blasting stumps with dynamite, were instantly killed and horribly mutilated by a premature discharge of the explosive.

The President has appointed Samuel S. Lockhart, of South Dakota, to be Agent for the Indians of the Sisseton Agency of South Dakota.

E. B. Smith, a well known manufacturer of Mansfield, Conn., is dead. He was the father of Charles Emory Smith of the Philadelphia Press.

James Farrell, who is dead at Bellevue Hospital, New York City, was the oldest patient in that institution, having been an inmate for twenty-three years.

Will Not Hold a Convention.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sep. 26.—The State Farmers' Alliance and the two State Farmer Leagues in session here decided it was too late to call a convention and not desirable to nominate.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Jacob Voehl has sold his butcher business, on West Front street, to A. G. Voegler, of Newark.

—The Newark "Bee Hive" will be closed Saturday, Oct. 3, until 6 p. m., that date being a holiday.

—Ground was broken yesterday for a fine house at the new village, Lorraine, for A. D. Thompson, of this city.

—Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, will meet in their new rooms, in the "Coward building", 7 Park avenue, next Monday, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

—The White House Monitor is a year old this week, and comes to the editor's table enlarged and improved. It is a good newspaper, and deserves a continuation and multiplication of its past success.

—William B. Sharp, assistant foreman of the hook and ladder company, put out a fire in the chimney of a barber shop opposite Laing's Hotel yesterday noon. He worked hard for nearly an hour, and saved the department a call.

—Workmen are lowering the pipes along the eastern line of the Water Supply company's wells. This looks as though the water line below ground had lowered so that it was necessary to drop the pumps and well-heads, that there may be less distance to raise the water.

—Doane & VanArsdale have tested the wearing qualities of their ladies' $2 shoe, and say it is the best shoe in the country for the money. Several large houses in New York city sell the same shoe for $2.50. Doane & VanArsdale keep them in common-sense and opera toe, widths A to E, sizes 2½ to 9.

—Constable Rockafellow wishes it understood that the report that he harbors any ill will against ex-policeman Carey is false. He says he never had any words with the man, and has no harsh feeling towards him at all. He had Carey arrested for using profane and abusive language in a public place.

—John H. French has a badly wounded face, the result of a terrible fall over a stepping stone along the curb near Music Hall Thursday night. When he fell he plunged into the wheels of a stage, and the horses were just starting when he was pulled out and carried to his home.

—The National Guards Band of the Salvation Army, comprising seventeen week Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Special meetings are to be held in Reform Hall, and a grand time is expected. Everybody is invited to go early and secure seats. Voluntary contributions will be received at the door. Adjutant B. Leyh will be in charge.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Hillman is visiting the Misses Verdon, of Shady Lawn, North Plainfield.

Miss Hattie Longstreet, of Brooklyn, is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. W. Milligan, of Washingtonville.

The engagement of Miss Sadie M. Sparling and Howard S. Hall, both of this city, is announced.

William J. R. Thiers has become a cadet in Colonel Wright's military academy at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson.

Miss Mary Spencer, of Brooklyn, is spending a few days with her sisters, the Misses Spencer, of Washingtonville.

Willard Case has been enrolled on the list of students at Peddie Institute, Hightstown. He will study for the ministry.

The wedding of Philip H. Zimmer and Miss Lizzie Mallon took place in this city Thursday evening, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiating.

Miss Adella French, of 36 Craig place, has returned from Ocean Grove, after spending a few days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. W. French.

Mrs. Larkin and Miss Larkin, of Shady Lawn, North Plainfield, are on a trip to Watkins Glen, and Niagara Falls, and through the Mohawk Valley.

At the residence of M. Marvin Dunham last evening the choir girls of Warren Mission chapel gave a very happy reception to Charles D. Wheeler and bride.

The death of Mrs. Sarah Parker, age 75, occurred at the home of her son, J. F. Parker, 103 Grove street, this morning. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3.

The celebrated Dr. Janeway has been called to Plainfield in consultation upon the serious condition of Mrs. A. C. Baldwin. It is said that he expressed little expectation of her recovery.

Alex. Warnock of this city has been compelled to give up all participation in the business he recently started in Englewood with his son, and is now ill of consumption at the home of his sister in Ninety-fourth street, New York.

The friends of Miss Daisy Sprague, of Muhlenberg place, gave her a very pleasant surprise party last evening on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday anniversary. Those present were: Thomas Brown, Brit Martin, Peter Reed, Thomas Randall and Percival Davis, and the Misses Ida Mohring, Gertrude Kitchen, Lizzie Montgomery, Agnes Reed, Belle Siorah, Minnie Martin, Minnie Finnegan, Grace Montgomery and Anna Martin.

Marshal Rutledge Tells Why.

Thomas Rutledge, borough marshal, gives as the reason for his refusal to furnish information of court cases to the newspapers, that he has so much sympathy for the prisoners that he cannot bear to have any hand in getting the story of their sorrows and troubles recorded in print. He claims to have taken entirely as a matter of principle the stand that he will not give to the newspapers any information for publication. It is bad enough—he says—to have to make the arrests, without sharing in the responsibility of letting the public know what the court records are. Mr. Rutledge sought out THE PRESS this morning, said that his feelings had been hurt, and fully explained his position in the matter. Had he frankly and courteously said all this at the outset, he would have escaped any painful references in these columns, and THE PRESS would have been spared the disagreeable duty of saying what it has had to say concerning his utterly unwarranted language of a week ago. He claims that his motives have been misunderstood. THE PRESS accepts his apologetic explanation, and freely forgives him.

Next! The Peerless Janauschek.

"The Harvest Moon" will be the only play in Janauschek's repertoire, this season. While it is new to Plainfield, it has been successfully produced in other cities, and the management is sanguine that the same verdict will be accorded it here. Janauschek, it is said, never undertakes anything unless she feels certain that she can do it well, and this successful actress of the English and German stage says that in the role of Mrs. Oakley she has a part fitted to her talents.

She is supported by a strong and well-selected company, headed by that favorite, A. H. Stuart. The play is composed of strong situations, bright dialogue, and has a vein of rich comedy running through it. The parts are well and carefully distributed. Janauschek has gained her position by her good work and legitimate talent, and not by resorting to trickery or devices to achieve notoriety. The play takes its title from Mrs. Oakley's inn, "The Harvest Moon", where the scene is laid.

Plainfield Wheelmen Call on the Editor.

[From The Westfield Standard.]

Captain Charles C. Dilts, formerly of Westfield, John M. Burnett, J. H. Manning, S. B. Joseph, R. F. R. Huntsman, C. J. Robertson, A. H. Gardner, W. Voorhees, J. K. LaBoyteaux, J. M. Lewis, all of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., made a flying trip by moonlight to Westfield last Saturday evening, and called at the STANDARD office, where they can "come in and make themselves at home", morning, noon and night. Saturday they left Westfield in a blaze of Greek fire set off in front of the STANDARD office, which we observe the Central New Jersey Times alludes to in its issue this week as "Westfield's centre of gravity".

Burglar Elston Tried a Bribe.

The term of five days, inflicted on Chas. Elston of this city for train trespassing, will be up at Somerville to-day and then he will be taken to Elizabeth to await the action of the Union county grand jury on the charge of robbing O. M. Dunham.

When marshal VanNest was conveying Elston to jail Tuesday morning he was offered $50 by the prisoner to be released, but the officer was not that kind.

Elston to-day pleaded guilty to the charge of robbing Dunham's store.

A Borough Farmer's Gift to the Editor.

[From The Somerville Democrat.]

W. H. Rogers, of North Plainfield, exhibited a basket of Rural New Yorker potatoes at the fair last week which were a sight to behold. They were the largest we have seen. Through some oversight they did not get an entry card on them and thus did not receive first premium which they deserved. Mr. Rogers kindly left them at this office after the fair, for which we return our thanks.

No More Cricket Till Next Spring.

The last cricket match of the season was that set for this afternoon, on the Chilton street ground, Elizabeth, between the Pioneers of that city and the St. George's Cricket Club of Plainfield. The Pioneers have taken two games from this club, and it was expected that the Plainfielders would go there with a determination to wipe out at least one of their defeats. A good game was therefore expected.

We Keep Them.

"The good things of this life are the most difficult to obtain", says a moralist. This may apply elsewhere, but in Plainfield, good things"—and mighty good at that—are always obtainable, in newest designs and lowest figures, at Collier's, 3 Park avenue.

Bigger Cities Copying After Plainfield.

[From The Elizabeth Journal.]

Newark is just entering on the crusade for elevated tracks. Jersey City has passed entirely through it, Elizabeth is over the worst part, Plainfield has almost forgotten the trouble it had in the satisfaction that has followed the abolition of grade crossings.

—Don't buy elsewhere. Come to Peck's.

—The service of song to be led by Albert S. Roe, the new choir master, at the Park Avenue Baptist church, will be Oct. 4 instead of to-morrow.

—Alvin E. Hoagland and Michael McCarthy, who were adjudged guilty of blocking traffic unnecessarily, with a truck, had sentence suspended by judge Codington yesterday.

—Members of the Congregational Chautauqua Circle may now procure their books at Mr. Estill's, and should order their Chautauquan of him at once. The meetings will be resumed about the second week in October. Any persons who wish to join the circle, whether connected with the Congregational church or not, are cordially invited to do so.

Anna Dickinson Will Lecture Again.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Sep. 26.—Anna Dickinson, the lecturer, who has been published broadcast as insane, remains a guest at Interprise, the home of Dr. Frederick W. Seward, near Goshen. People residing in that vicinity have dispelled the idea that Miss Dickinson is insane, and regard it as a well-worked advertising dodge. She recently delivered a lecture at Goshen, and it is announced that she will take the lecture platform during the coming season.

The Celebrated Dr. Burchard.

SARATOGA, Sep. 26.—The Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Burchard, who is dead here, became celebrated during the campaign in which Blaine and Cleveland were pitted against each other for the presidency. He it was who at a dinner given to Mr. Blaine made the reference to rum, Romanism and rebellion, which was supposed by many of Mr. Blaine's friends to have caused his defeat at that time.

Believed the Kaiser Lied.

LONDON, Sep. 26.—A Berlin dispatch says that the story of the Kaiser's declaration of peace, during the Austrian manœuvres, is believed to be a fabrication, inspired by the Government, if not directly by the Kaiser, who is said to be affected by the adverse criticism which the warlike tone of his public utterance has evoked throughout Europe.

MELBOURNE, Sep. 26.—Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army has received a perfect ovation at Rendigo and at Geelong. Great crowds have joined in the Army's processions, and monster meetings have been held. The advent of Gen. Booth in this colony (Victoria) has given a strong impetus to revivalism.

Artist Lucas Not Dead.

MADRID, Sep. 26.—It is now learned that John Seymour Lucas, A. R. A., the distinguished English painter, who was reported as among those killed by the railway accident between Burgos and San Sebastian, is not dead, but is severely wounded.

Banquet to the Royal Commissioners.

CHICAGO, Sep. 26.—Tuesday night a banquet will be tendered by the citizens of Chicago to Sir Henry Trueman Wood and James Dredge, royal commissioners from England; Herr A. Wermuth, Imperial commissioner from Germany, and Dr. John Myer, royal commissioner from Denmark. Invitations have been issued to about seven hundred of the leading citizens of Chicago.

The Wreck May Have Been Designed.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—It is believed that a deliberate attempt was made to wreck the Bissell accomodation train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, near Linden station, which jumped the track and killed the fireman, Frank Malloy, and hurt several passengers. It is thought the switch was opened with malicious intent.

Suspected of Wife Murder.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sep. 26.—It is believed that Albert Catlin murdered his wife Emma, whose body was found in the woods south of McDonald, without any clothing, the face being horribly bruised and a bullet hole over the left eye. Catlin and his wife quarreled frequently. The police are looking for him.

Bar Harbor "Record" in New Hands.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sep. 26.—The Bar Harbor "Record" has been purchased by a syndicate consisting of Col. Charles C. Burrill, Eugene Richards, Dr. Gilman Colby, and others. It will be run as an independent paper. Dr. Colby, late editor of the Bar Harbor "Tourist" will be manager of the "Record."

Suffering in the Newly Opened Lands.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sep. 26.—Every courier from Chandler brings a harrowing tale of the sufferings for water. Fully a hundred people are more or less seriously ill. Seventy horses have died for lack of water and hundreds more are suffering terribly. L. D. Woods, of this city, has been shot dead in the Sac and Fox country. A number of men from Stillwater have founded a town in the Sac and Fox country calling it Saclahoma, and are already publishing a newspaper. They will be compelled to leave as a town cannot be legally laid out.

Dying From Hydrophobia.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sep. 26.—Wm. B. Stout, a wealthy farmer, residing at Hamilton, near here, is dying from hydrophobia. Several months ago while doctoring a calf that had been bitten by a rabid dog the animal licked a sore on his arm. Mr. Stout thought nothing of it at the time although the sore did not heal. A few days ago his arm began swelling and is now fully three times its natural size. Mr. Stout shows every sign of rabies.

Three Men Killed in a Collision.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., Sep. 26.—About two miles west of Hawleyville two freight trains collided on the New England Railway, instantly killing Engineer William Day, Fireman James Larner and Brakeman G. A. Sprague of the east bound train. They all belonged in Hartford. A brakeman on the west-bound train was badly injured. The west-bound train was running on the time of the other which though late had the right of way. Traffic was not delayed, as the accident occurred opposite the siding.

The Pushing Fellow.

Visitor—The wind seems to shake that scarecrow over there a little. I've noticed it quiver two or three times.

Mr. Suburb—That isn't a scarecrow. That's the hired man working for forty dollars a month and board.—Good News.

Consistent Criticism.

Poet—You always tell me that my poems are too long, so I have brought one of two lines only. What do you think of it?

Editor—Same as usual—it's too long.—Munsey's Weekly.

The Chief Mourner.

"She may have a temper, but she is interesting. Did she ever get over the death of her husband?"

"Yes; but her second husband is inconsolable."—Life.

No Exaggeration.

"This," said the showman, "is the largest elephant in the world. He eats eighteen bales of hay at one mouthful, an' never takes no exercise owin' to the expense of tearin' down the buildin' to get him out of it."—Judge.

AN UNEVEN BALANCE.

Cholly—What's the mattah, me deah fellah? Y'look all plawed out. Y' know—stiff neck?

Dolly—Aw—er—Chollie, me barber shaved me clos'ah on one side than on the othah, and I'm nearly—er—er—wo'n out twying to keep me head straight.—Munsey's Weekly.

Looking Ahead.

Young Man—How late do these street cars run?

Conductor—They run all night.

"I am glad to hear that."

"Got a job as night watchman?"

"No, but my girl's folks are going to move into this neighborhood."—Good News.

IT IS NOT

A LIE.

A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old, and the statement is unqualifiedly true. Read the following affidavit:

HENRY SNYDER, Jr., of the City, County and State of New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he has been the General Manager of the A. R. TUDOR CO. from its inception, and he knows of his own knowledge that no neutral spirits, flavoring extracts, or foreign ingredients of any kind have ever been used or contained in the Whiskey bottled under the label and trade mark of A. R. TUDOR. He further solemnly swears that he has personally superintended the withdrawal of the A. R. TUDOR CO.'s Whiskey from the U. S. Bonded Warehouse, and that the U. S. Government stamps on the barrels thereof have, in no instance, borne date later than the year 1881.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

LIKE THE TRAMP LOOKING FOR WORK.

The West Ends Pretend to be Terribly Anxious to Play the Crescents, but are Dreadfully Afraid of a Game.

As THE PRESS has already stated, there is little likelihood of a seventh game being arranged between the West Ends and the Crescents. The Plainfield nine are willing, but the Somerville team are not.

The Somerville Democrat of yesterday published the following:

CRESCENTS CRAWL.

To the Editor of the Somerset Democrat.

The above is rather a broad statement, but true nevertheless. The Crescents are afraid to play off the seventh game with the West Ends, as they know only too well that they are outclassed and would be beaten out of sight. That they won any of the six games is all a mistake—it was not good ball playing, it was simply luck and that alone. What a sportsman-like spirit this groveling Plainfield Club shows! What high sense of honor is shown by those managers who represent, or rather misrepresent, the Crescent League! After positively agreeing to play off the tie, in case it should occur, on Saturday, September 26, provided the Crescent Athletic Club, of Brooklyn, was unable to play them, one of the managers, in the coolest possible manner, informed Mr. Mack, "We don't care for any honor or glory, we can make more money playing the niggers than you." So they arranged a game with the Gorhams for the 26th. Does this look as though they were afraid of playing or not? We will leave it to all fair-minded people to decide the question in their own minds. The Crescent League people are like the proverbial balloon—plenty of gas, but very little sand. No wonder the management are condemned by everyone in Plainfield. The idea!—when they could on next Saturday draw a tremendous crowd in playing us, they arrange a game with a coon nine and then say they will have a larger crowd! But the question is, will they crawl into their holes and die with the rest of the wriggling things this winter, or will they dare meet us on equal terms and play to see who, in reality are the champions of New Jersey? If the Crescents take this, or if the people of Plainfield allow them to take it, the town might as well stop ball playing for the next few years. We will wait and see.

A WEST ENDER.

The above was submitted by THE PRESS to the Crescent League managers, and in response the following was written:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 25, 1891.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The article in the Somerset Democrat signed "A West Ender" is hardly worthy of notice, but the language attributed to one of the managers—"we can make more money playing niggers than you"—calls for some protest from us, as such language would simply put us on a par with "A West Ender", who a few lines further on refers to our game with the Gorhams, as a game with "a coon nine", and shows the same venom and narrow-minded partisanship, which actuates "A West Ender", or some other kindred spirit in making the statement that we hired Mr. Farrell to remain away from Plainfield last Saturday. The Gorhams are a strong team of respectable colored people, and their directors with whom we have come in contact were courteous, gentlemanly men, and such a thought as referring to them as niggers never entered our minds. As to the deciding game, we would say that immediately on the conclusion of last Saturday's game we asked Mr. Mack when he would see us to arrange for playing off the tie game, and he said he would wait for us at the hotel where his team made headquarters that day. We were there within a very few minutes after he reached the hotel, but found that instead of waiting he had gone at once to Somerville. He left word with the president of our club that he would be down to see us the following day. We remained at home all day, but he did not put in an appearance. On Monday afternoon he called on one of the managers, and when he found that the Gorham game would not be thrown over, he said that he would play on that day (28th), or not at all. The contract for the six games provided that in case of postponement such game should be played on the first open Wednesday following, and we naturally supposed that that agreement would stand in playing off the tie. We were ready to play the game last Wednesday or next Wednesday, and are still prepared to play it off next Wednesday, Sept. 30. As the West Ends informed the Westfield that they would play them a game on Wednesday, but would not pay our price for the use of our grounds, their argument that they cannot play us on next Wednesday is very weak. In conclusion, we would say that no one connected with the management of the Crescent League agreed to play the game on the 26th. The question was asked "What game have you arranged for the 26th?"—and we answered "The Crescents of Brooklyn". Some weeks ago, when trying to arrange a game with the Gorhams for Labor Day, which fell through, one of our managers agreed to give them Saturday, the 26th, if the Crescent game were cancelled, and when the Crescents scheduled a game on that day with the Englewood Field Club we gave the date to the Gorhams. We do not propose to be browbeaten into throwing over the Gorhams, and believe the statement about our agreeing to play the West Ends on the 26th is an afterthought, designed to give strength to their decision that they would only play on a certain date, which they first convinced themselves thoroughly that we would not give them.

Yours respectfully,

MANAGERS OF THE CRESCENT LEAGUE.

The Mayor Calls on Saloon Keepers to Observe the New Law.

Mayor Gilbert has served on every liquor seller in town a copy of the new anti-concert and anti-Sunday-selling ordinance. Attached to it is this notice:

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PLAINFIELD, N. J., SEPT. 25, 1891.

DEAR SIR:

On and after Monday, the 28th inst., the following ordinance, which was adopted by the Common Council on the 14th inst., will be operative; and a violation of any of its provisions will on conviction subject the party violating it, not only to the penalty provided therein, but also to a revocation of his license as provided in the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors".

I earnestly request you as a law-abiding citizen to co-operate with me in the enforcement of this law.

Very respectfully,

A. GILBERT,
Mayor.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

The Harkinsville Democrat Says:

The West Ends batted out a victory of the most rosy hue, and made the far-famed Crescents leather-chasers for the time being.

Some of the Crescent men gave one of their prettiest exhibitions of "yaller" ball playing. They tossed the globe around as if they had no other object in view than to see how far they could throw it over each other's head.

Captain Lurbery stormed, raved and swore, but to no effect.

The game brought desolation to the hearts of the Plainfielders.

In the fourth inning the West Ends for the time being went to pieces, resulting in the Crescents piling up four runs. The uproar was something terrific. Hats were smashed in wild joy, men danced around in delirious glee, women screamed with delight and for a moment it seemed like a typification of Dante's "Inferno". This was the only chance they had to yell and they improved it. Let us hope that it did them some good.

In the initial inning Tierney succumbed to John Harkins' "twirlers," going out on strikes, all of which were called on him, and the look he gave Berriman when he said "three strikes," was something awful. It was one of mingled hate and woe.

The ball which John Harkins of Harkinstown threw last Saturday was a cross between a rifle bullet and a watermelon. At times it would come up to the Crescents as big as a balloon. At such times they would turn completely around in a vain effort to hit it. Then again it would come over the plate so fast it looked like a marble. In that case they would fan at it viciously after it was firmly held in Doc's hands. As the game progressed John's smile grew broader and broader, as it really seemed as though he had them completely under his control.

Farrell did not show up with the other men, and it is reasonable to suppose it was another trick of the enemy. Well, so be it.

'Tis a pity we have not some more Harvey Majors on the team. He batted like John L. Sullivan hits—"straight from the shoulder". His bat seemed to be twenty feet long and two feet thick. He reached out for everything that came along, and not in vain.

Of the other members of the team we might say a great deal; sufficient it is to say they sustained their reputation and that of the town.

We will win the next game: that is, if the Crescents don't pad up as they have so often done. We will play our own men. If we can win with the team we placed in the field Saturday we certainly can with our regular one. The only change will be at second base, and probably Charley Bassett, of the New York League, will play there.

The Ackermans' Big Cement Concern.

The History and Commerce of New York, a highly interesting and instructive book about the big metropolis, has just been published by the American Publishing and Engraving Company at 149-151 Church street, New York. One of the 400 handsomely illustrated pages is devoted to the following description of the big cement concern of which Warren Ackerman of Scotch Plains is president and councilman Ernest R. Ackerman of Plainfield general sales-agent:

In all the various branches of the constructive art, there is probably no one special detail of importation or manufacture of more importance than that of cement, which is one of the most valuable materials used in the building trades. The largest and leading house engaged in this industry in the United States is the Lawrence Cement Company, manufacturers of the "Hoffman" Rosendale Cement, whose main office is located at No. 67 William street, in this city. This company was organized in 1832, and is now officered and managed as follows, viz.: Warren Ackerman, president; T. A. Smith, secretary and treasurer; M. Albert Scull and Ernest R. Ackerman, general sales agents. The company operate five mills, all located in New York State, and give employment to one thousand hands. They are now producing one million barrels of cement per year, and supply a heavy and permanent demand in all parts of the United States. The "Hoffman" Cement has now been before the public for more than fifty years, and its reliability and general fitness for all kinds of work cannot be fairly questioned. When properly used the result of such using is certain. No pains have been omitted to insure the perfection of this brand, and testimonials to its superiority over all other brands are numerous and convincing. It was extensively tested by the City Engineer of Boston, during 1885, for use on the Charles River embankments, and tests have also been made by the Brooklyn Navy Yard and by the Department of Public Works. Hoffman Cement mixed in the proportions of one of cement to one of sand has supported 866 pounds before breaking. An experiment was made at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in 1862, where Hoffman cement is made the standard, by joining two bricks together, which stood a strain of 1,500 pounds without breaking. In addition to its general use by the Government in all departments, Hoffman Cement was used in building the following forts: Forts Delaware, Jackson, Sumter, Taylor, Jefferson, Hamilton, Knox, Montgomery, Adam, Trumbull, Fortress Monroe, and the forts at Governor's Island, N. Y.; at Amelia Island, at Garden Keys, at Pensacola, Fla., and San Francisco, Cal.; also at the Brooklyn and Norfolk Navy Yard. Twenty thousand barrels were used on the Capitol at Washington, ten thousand barrels on the Washington Water Works, and it was also used for building the Patent office, Treasury and other buildings at Washington. The company have just closed a contract with Lieutenant Colonel G. L. Gillespie, U. S. A., for 6200 barrels of cement for building fortifications at Sandy Hook. The officers of the company are well-known citizens of New York, prominent in commercial and trade circles, and of great practical experience and eminent ability in this department of commerce.

HURLED TO DEATH!

How Easy to Drift Toward Death.

A man in a boat above the Falls, in smooth water, unconscious of danger, allowed himself to drift. The current, at first slight, increased until his rapid whirling and roar of the cataract brought to his senses full realization of his awful peril—too late.

So we often neglect a little weakness, nervousness, tired brain, sleepless nights from which we wake tired and unrefreshed, weary, languid feeling, headache, confusion of mind, dullness, loss of memory, strange sensations—which means INSANITY

Cold feet and limbs, numbness, trembling, prickling sensation, extreme weariness of limbs—mean PARALYSIS. We often disregard the weakness and languor of debility and malaria, the disorder of stomach liver or kidneys, until fatal disease fastens upon us.

If you have these feelings, the awful cataract is ahead, and you must save yourself before it is too late. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve and brain invigorator, the best of all medicines and a cure is sure.

"For the benefit of the afflicted I deem it my duty to say that I was suffering from Nervous Prostration; was so weak and prostrated I could not attend to my household duties; closed my house and gave up my home, as I was so restless I could not remain in one place. I could not sleep for weeks at a time, and insanity seemed sure to result. My case baffled the skill of several eminent physicians. At last, in despair, I resorted to Dr. Greene's Nervura, with wonderful effect! It produced good sleep, restored my appetite and strength, until I feel like a new person. I have recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura to many of my friends, who have also derived great benefit.

KEEP FROM DROWNING.

How to Walk or Float on the Back in Deep Water.

Anybody Can Do It—If You Fall Overboard Try to "Climb Upstairs" with Hands and Feet—Other Useful Hints.

To keep from drowning it is not necessary to know how to swim. This, says the New York Advertiser, may seem at first a rather strong assertion, but much depends on the meaning that is attached to the word "swim." A man may be able to "tread water," yet he may not know how to swim. When a man swims it means one thing, when a dog swims it means another and somewhat different thing. In the main, the difference is one of position—of standing upright or of sprawling in the water. Of course the dog cannot swim as the man can and does, but a man may swim on first trial as a dog swims, if he will only do as the dog does.

TREADING WATER.

In what follows the object is to show how drowning may, under ordinary circumstances, be prevented even in the case of persons wholly ignorant of what is called the art of swimming.

In the first place, it is perfectly natural for every human being to float. With the lungs inflated and the body below the water, one cannot possibly sink. There is no easier method of keeping afloat than by treading water. The operation is just like running upstairs, and about as difficult. It is perfectly natural for animals to "swim." Throw a dog into the water, and at once he begins to walk the same as when out of water. Why should a man, woman or child do differently under like circumstances? Clearly there is no good reason why any human being who cannot swim should make a few helpless struggles, raise an outcry, throw up the hands, and sink out of sight.

The trouble is that nine persons out of ten lose their presence of mind when for the first time in water beyond their depth. If, instead of struggling, people would do more thinking, fewer would be drowned. Oddly enough, people have to be told to do just what the animal does instinctively in the water. The dog, the horse, the deer and even the cat tread or walk the water at first attempt. Man's ignorance of so simple a thing as treading water is a little remarkable. It is nonsense to say that animals have any advantage in the water over men. On the contrary man has the further advantage of paddle-formed hands and of being able to rest himself when tired by floating, a thing which the animals never do. The man who cannot swim must follow the example of the animal, and should go on all fours. He must strike alternately with hand and foot, exactly as the dog does—one, two; one, two.

HOW TO FLOAT.

All human beings can walk in the water without any preliminary practice, if they will simply keep cool-headed. The cut shows how it is done. In order, then, to keep from drowning it is necessary only to tread or walk the water.

The most simple way to preserve life if out of your depth is to float, which consists simply in lying flat on your back. This is easily accomplished by keeping the lungs inflated, the head thrown well back, the limbs extended, but flexible, the arms placed close to the ears, with the hands over the head. The majority of people prefer to float on the back rather than to stand upright. Yet any man, woman or child who can walk on dry land can also walk in the water with safety.

The above figure shows the correct position for floating on the back.

It is surprising how long animals and human beings are capable of sustaining themselves in water. In one well authenticated instance a dog swam ashore with a letter in his mouth at the Cape of Good Hope, while the crew of the ship to which the dog belonged all perished. The sailors need not have been lost had they treaded water as the dog did. Although unable to rest by the way animals swim immense distances. Last year a dog was washed overboard during a gale off Cape Hatteras, and yet made his way safely to shore. Only a week or two ago some cattle were swept from a vessel during a storm off the Maine coast, and more than half of them were saved.

If you cannot swim and should fall overboard don't scream, but try to "climb up stairs" with hands and feet.

The Giant's Chair.

In Dolgelly, in the north of Wales, there is a mountain celebrated in folklore, poetry and song as Cader Idris, or Idris' Chair. The hollow, couch-like excavation on the top of the mountain has given the peak its name; according to the Welsh bards the depression was caused by the giant Idris long using it as a chair. There is a local tradition in north Wales that whoever passes the night in the Giant's Chair will be found in the morning either dead, crazy or endowed with the highest poetical inspiration. Idris is variously represented in Welsh tradition as a prince, magician, sorcerer and astronomer, the only thing on which all authorities agree being his immense stature. The "Lake of the Three Pebbles," which lies at the foot of the Giant's chair, contains three large blocks of stone, which Idris is said to once have poured out of his boots. The smallest of these stones will weigh a ton and a half.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

Extracts from Russell's Monograph on Gladstone.

The Statesman's Life at Eton and Oxford—His Religiousness One of the Strongest Features of His Character—A Man of Hot Temper.

Mr. George W. E. Russell has contributed to "The Queen's Prime Minister's" series a monograph on Gladstone which is characterized as a model of condensed biography—well-informed, concise and judicious. Mr. Russell devotes a good deal of his space to Mr. Gladstone's youth. As he points out in the preface to the little volume before us, he has "touched lightly on those later events of Mr. Gladstone's career which are within general recollection," and "bestowed more detailed attention on the early stages, which are now to most people either unknown or forgotten." Hence the many pages devoted to his life at Eton and at Oxford.

"He entered Eton after the summer holidays of 1821 under the head mastership of the terrific Dr. Keate. To quote the emphatic testimony of Sir Roderick Murchison, he was then 'the prettiest little boy that ever went to Eton.' He boarded at Mrs. Shurey's, a house at the south end of the broad walk in front of the schools facing the chapel, and rather nearer the famous 'Christopher inn' than would nowadays be thought desirable. On the wall opposite the house (which now belongs to Mr. Carter) the name of 'Gladstone,' carved, it is believed, by the statesman's own hand, may still be traced."

Mr. Gladstone was not popular nor even widely known at Eton. He was seen to the greatest advantage and was most thoroughly at home in the debates of the Eton society and in the editorship of the Eton Miscellany.

Mr. Gladstone left Eton at Christmas, 1827, and, having read for six months with private tutors, went up to Christ Church in October, 1828. Here, as at Eton, his chief distinction was his eloquence. He took a brief but brilliant share in the proceedings of the Union, of which he was successively secretary and president.

Of his private life Mr. Russell for obvious and sufficient reasons says very little. But he makes up for his failure to do so by a brilliant analysis of the many-sided character of his friend and sometime political chief. The paramount factor of the great man's nature, according to Mr. Russell, is his religiousness.

"The religion in which Mr. Gladstone lives and moves and has his being is an intensely vivid and energetic principle, passionate on its emotional side, definite in its theory, imperious in its demands, practical, visible and tangible in its effects. It runs like a silver strand through the complex and variegated web of his long and checkered life. We saw that he wished to take holy orders instead of entering parliament. Had the decision gone differently the most interesting of all the 'Lives of the Archbishops of Canterbury' would still be unwritten. But the mere choice of a profession could make no difference to the ground-tone of Mr. Gladstone's thought. While a politician he was still essentially and above all a Christian—some would say an ecclesiastic. Through all the changes and chances of a political career, as a tory, as a home-ruler, in office and in opposition, sitting as a duke's nominee for a pocket borough and enthroned as the idol of an adoring democracy, Mr. Gladstone

'Plays, in the many games of life, that one
Where what he most doth value must be won.'

In his own personal habits, known to all men, of systematic devotion; in his rigorous reservation of the Sunday for sacred uses; in his written and spoken utterances; in his favorite studies; in his administration of public affairs; in the grounds on which he has based his opposition to policies of which he has disapproved—he has steadily and constantly asserted for the claims of religion a paramount place in public consideration, and has reproved the stale scioliism which thinks, or affects to think, that Christianity as a spring of human action is an exhausted force."

Mr. Gladstone has a strong temper, which, however, he keeps sternly under control.

"While it is easy to discern the passionate and impetuous nature as it works within, it is impossible not to admire the vigorous self-mastery by which it is turned from harmful into useful channels. He has a grand capacity for generous indignation and nothing is finer than to see the changing lights and shades on his mobile and expressive face when some

"'Tale of injury calls forth
The indignant spirit of the north.'

The hawk-like features become more strongly marked, the onyx eyes flash and glow, the voice grows more resonant, and the utterance more emphatic. It is droll to observe the discomfiture of a story teller who has fondly thought to tickle the great man's sense of humor by an anecdote which depends for its point upon some trait of cynicism, baseness or sharp practice. He finds his tale received in grim silence, and then perceives to his dismay that what was intended to entertain has only disgusted. 'Do you call that amusing? I call it devilish,' was the emphatic comment with which a characteristic story about Lord Beaconsfield was once received by his eminent rival."

Another Moon.

A discovery more curious than any other yet made with the Lick telescope is the recent one of a new moon. Since the first hint of the discovery many observations have been made, all of which tend to confirm the original impression, to wit: that this particular satellite of the greatest of the planets is double—a dot of a moon revolving around the main moon.

Purifying Water.

The method of purifying water invented by Dr. William Anderson, and now employed at Antwerp with success, consists in passing the water through a slowly revolving cylinder containing metallic iron in the form of scraps or fillings. The estimated cost of purifying 1,000,000 gallons in this way is about $1.50.

A MANIAC IN CHURCH

Attempts an Assault Upon Archbishop Corrigan.

A SCENE OF WILD CONFUSION.

The Madman Denounces the Prelate as a "Pontius Pilate."

A Terrific Struggle Between the Maniac and the Night Watchman—The Congregation Rush for the Doors—The Archbishop Unhurt—His Assailant a Machinist Who Is Crazed By Sickness.

NEW YORK, Sep. 28.—St. Patrick's Cathedral, yesterday morning was the scene of the greatest excitement, when a maniac attempted to kill Archbishop Corrigan, who was preaching. The seats in the main body of the church were within a few feet of the pulpit in which the Archbishop was speaking. In the front row of these seats sat a young man whose disordered attire and pale face and gleaming eyes all during the service preliminary to the sermon had caused people to gaze upon him with affrighted glances.

Suddenly he jumped to his feet and with a wild scream shouted to the Archbishop as he shook his clenched fist at the priestly speaker, a torrent of half distinguishable words.

"You are a Pontius Pilate," he vowed, with a demoniac writhing of his face; "you have judged Father McGlynn, and I am his friend."

The ravings of the man were then merged in a howl of mingled screams, curses and half-uttered blasphemy. He grasped the locked pew door and vaulted over the slight barrier into the aisle; and with outstretched, quivering hands, dashed toward the altar, shouting that he would strangle the Archbishop where he stood.

In the twinkling of an eye the wildest panic reigned. Women screamed and fainted, strong men turned pale, and the church, from a silent place of worship, was turned into a pandemonium of frightened people.

Then the madman rushed to the foot of the pulpit, and had mounted two steps toward the prelate when James Martin, the night watchman of the Cathedral, sprang upon him, and the two engaged in a deadly struggle. The noise of the battle, loud as it was, was near'y drowned by the stampede of the congregation. Some people shouted that a fire had broken out, others cried that the Archbishop had been assassinated at the altar, but all rushed in a disorderly, panic-stricken crowd for the exits.

Finally a policeman separated the combatants and arrested the madman, who, when locked up, gave his name as Joseph P. Hourahan, and his occupation, a machinist. He is crazed by illness.

CONFIDENCE MAN CAUGHT.

The Notorious "Red Leary" O'Brien Arrested for Swindling a Merchant.

NEW YORK, Sep. 28.—Thomas, alias "Red Leary" O'Brien, one of the most desperate confidence men and all-round "crooks" in this city, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by the District Attorney of Albany, charging him with the theft of $10,000 from an Albany merchant, Feb. 3, 1890. The job was done by O'Brien and a "pal" named George Post.

They induced their victim, by a time-worn bunco game, to draw the money from a bank and bring it to the hotel at which they were stopping. As soon as he went to their room and showed that he had the money with him, he was knocked senseless with a sandbag and robbed. Post fled to South America and is there yet. O'Brien disappeared and it was not until yesterday that any trace of him could be found.

SHOT THE MAYOR.

A Desparate Negro Kills the Chief Officer of Spartanburg, S. C.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Sep. 28.—There is but little doubt but that South Carolina will add another lynching to her list before another day is done. Mayor J. Henneman was shot down at 6 o'clock without a moment's warning and the murderer is now in jail in momentary expectancy of being lynched.

John Williams, a desperate negro, was making a disturbance at home with his wife when Mayor Henneman went to the house to ascertain the cause of the loud cries. He arrested Williams and was trying to prevent his escape until the police came to his assistance.

During the struggle which followed Williams shot the mayor in the back, killing him instantly. The town is greatly excited.

The Mine Still Burning.

WILKESBARRE, Pa. Sep. 27.—The fire in the lower workings of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company's large Conyngham Colliery is still burning fiercely and all efforts to extinguish it have proved fruitless. The whole mine will have to be flooded and this will throw a large number of men out of employment. It will take until February to flood the mine and then pump it out again.

Engineers Object to Federation.

NEW YORK, Sep. 28.—A meeting of locomotive engineers was held in Jersey City yesterday. Over 1,000 engineers, accompanied by their wives, were present. After an open meeting, at which speech-making and sociability were the order, had been held, a secret session occurred. Federation of the Brotherhood with othe railroad organizations was discussed, but no defin te action was taken. The sentiment appeared to be against federation.

AFTER STATE OFFICIALS.

Gov. Pattison's Call for a Special Session of the Senate Creates a Flurry.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 28.—Gov. Pattison's proclamation calling an extra session of the Senate on Oct. 13 to investigate the administration of certain State officers has caused quite a stir among officials here, although it was understood such a plan was contemplated.

The governor gives the following reason for his action: "Grave charges have been preferred involving the Auditor General and State Treasurer and most seriously reflecting upon the manner in which their official duties have been performed. It is proper that diligent inquiry should be made to ascertain whether or not reasonable cause does exist for their removal.

"There is in the public mind a profound conviction that the officials referred to, and some of their subordinates, have been grossly inefficient, shamefully negligent and entirely wanting in due fidelity. It is the prevailing opinion that some of the officials connected with these offices have been guilty of absolute faithlessness and downright dishonesty in violation of their oaths of office and of the criminal laws of the commonwealth. If any one of the charges so made should be established, appropriate action looking to the removal of the officers involved should be taken by the Senate.

"John Bardsley, late Treasurer of the City of Philadelphia, is now a convict for embezzlement of public money, a large portion of which would have been in the State Treasury long prior to the exposure of his actions had those charged with the administration of the duties of Auditor-General and State Treasurer performed them with due fidelity. Bardsley's stubborn refusal to disclose any information whatever as to the conduct of these officials, has compelled the abandonment of proposed criminal prosecution, at least for a time. A proper inquiry by the Senate may develope evidence sufficient to satisfy its members that reasonable cause exists for the removal of the Auditor-General and State Treasurer."

THE WEST SHAKEN UP.

An Earthquake Creates Consternation, But Does Little Damage.

CHICAGO, Sep. 28.—Seven Western and Southern States were visited by an earthquake shock Saturday night shortly before 11 o'cidck, but the damage done was comparatively small, being confined principally to the cracking of buildings, some of which, however, may be so badly injured as to necessitate their being torn down. The States visited were Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri and Kentucky.

From the reports received here the general direction of the seismic disturbance seems to have been from northwest to the southeast. Galena, Ill., in the northwestern part of this State, near the Wisconsin line, being the extreme northern point.

Telegraphic reports say that in some cities three distinct shocks were felt, but in the majority of towns heard from but two were experienced. The duration of the disturbance was from three seconds to one minute, although St. Louis telegraphs that the shock lasted fully two minutes.

STOUT WILL RECOVER.

Thought at One Time That He Was Dying from Hydrophobia.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sep. 28.—William Stout, the wealthy farmer of Hamilton, who was supposed to be dying from hydrophobia, is out of all immediate danger.

Dr. Kinsmouth, the attending physician, says Mr. Stout's blood was poisoned by virus in the calf which licked his hand and arm after it had been bitten by a mad dog. Stout's arm is still terribly swollen.

The people are beginning a war of extermination upon all dogs found in the neighborhood.

Sam and Eva's Return.

BROOKLYN, Sep. 28.—Now that Sam Thornton and his sister-in-law Eva Jewell have returned and have been received by their relatives with outstretched arms, further statements from the couple are expected. As yet, Sam and Eva positively refuse to see reporters. Sam's brother Will, however, was seen. "We have nothing to say now," he said. "Sam and Eva are with us. We are glad that they are here. Of course, we believe their story. They didn't elope. Mrs. Thornton believes them. Why shouldn't she? My brother enjoys an excellent reputation. Maybe he'll give out a statement on some future day." There are few, however, who believe the story as told by the couple.

Disastrous Fire in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sep. 28.—The Blunt Milling Co.'s buildings and those of the Mausur-Tibbit Implement Company, besides a number of other structures, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss will exceed a million dollars. Two firemen were seriously hurt.

TRAINS IN COLLISION

Fatal Accident On the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

TWO KILLED AND THREE HURT

A Regular Freight Crashes Into An Extra With Terrible Results.

The Accident Occurred in a Deep Cut Scalding Steam Causes the Death of the Engineer—A Tramp Who Was Riding Between the Bumpers Crushed—Several Trainmen Injured.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sep. 28.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio road at a water station four miles west of Cumberland yesterday, in which two men were killed and three injured.

Where the accident happened is a deep cut, a sharp curve and a grade. An extra freight was running at the rate of 17 miles an hour and behind it came a regular freight, which was behind time, running about 22 miles an hour.

As the regular train rounded the curve the engineer saw the rear end of the other train and reversed his engine but it was too late. The fireman jumped and escaped with a few slight bruises. Engineer Earnest was thrown from the engine which was wrecked completely. The escaping steam scalded him terribly and his skin when handled came off in shreds. He died this afternoon.

Wm. Thorpe, who was riding on a bumper midway the train was caught between two cars and terribly smashed, receiving injuries from which he died in the afternoon.

Conductor Zimmerman, Brakeman Hardy and Lewis Rogers, who were in the caboose of the extra freight, were slightly injured.

About 17 cars were piled in a heterogeneous mass on the tracks. The damage is placed at $10,000.

STRUCK A SCHOONER.

The Steamer Circassia Collides With a Vessel and Returns to Port.

NEW YORK, Sept 28.—The Anchor Line Steamship Circassia, which sailed hence for Glasgow, Saturday, returned to her pier last night with a hole seven feet long and five feet wide in her starboard bow. Projecting from the hole was a quantity of wreckage, including the bowsprit and jibboom of a sailing vessel. The Circassia came into collision with a lumber-laden schooner outside of Sandy Hook while she was going at full speed.

The Circassia was left in a bad condition. Her machinery was disarranged by the shock and it was decided to return here. The schooner colliding with the Circassia is the Daylight, of Boston, which is completely wrecked forward of the foremast.

The buoyancy of her cargo kept her afloat and she followed the steamer to port. The shock of the collision threw a number of the passengers of the Circassia out of their berths, but no one was injured.

WILLIAM H. KEMBLE DEAD.

A Prominent Pennsylvanian Who Was Twice Elected State Treasurer.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 28.—William H. Kemble died suddenly yesterday of heart failure, at his country home "Marylawn." Mr. Kemble had been warned long ago that he must give up active participation in business affairs if he wished to prolong his life. He heeded this warning and was gradually severing his connection with the various street railway enterprises which he had connected himself with.

Mr. Kemble was 63 years old. He had been identified with politics from his youth and was always high in the councils of the Republican party. He was twice elected State Treasurer of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket. He leaves a large family of children and grandchildren. His wealth is estimated at several millions of dollars.

Confiscated the Checks.

ROCHESTER, Sep. 28.—For some time past the Rochester Car Company has been using a round nickel piece about the size of a 5-cent nickel, as checks for passes on the road. These have been sold to the patrons of the road at the rate of eleven for 50 cents. Saturday an official of the Government Secret Service appeared in the city and confiscated all the checks claiming that these checks were being passed as money and there is a federal statute prohibiting the issuing or circulating of any check or device that can be used as money.

To Visit the Fair.

LONDON, Sep. 28.—Arrangements are now complete for the Polytechnic excursion to the World's Fair at Chicago. The party, which will include about 150 men and women, mostly mechanics, clerks, and boarding-school teachers, will go straight to New York. A day will be spent in Philadelphia and a day in Washington, and there will be a week's stay in Chicago.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Doubt Whether Ettie Kelly Was the Legal Wife of Daniel Kelly.

NEWBURG, Sep. 28.—The application before the Supreme Court at Poughkeepsie, to compel Ettie Kelly, plaintiff, to furnish security for the prosecution of her action against Robert N. Whelan, executor, and others, defendants, reveal a strange case. Ettie Kelly alleges that she was the wife of Daniel Kelly, of Newburg, who died on Feb. 5, last, aged over 70 years, and that she married him on Nov. 3, 1888.

Kelly died seized of property in Newburg, consisting of three houses and lots. He left a will by which he devised his entire property to his three grand children, all minors, upon their attaining the age of 21 years, and in the mean time directed his executors to hold the property in trust for their benefit. His wife's name was not mentioned in the will.

The executor alleges that Mrs. Kelly is not the legal wife of Daniel Kelly, as she was married at Goshen, N. Y., in 1881, to one Mahlen Johnson, who is still living, and that she lived with Johnson as his lawful wife for some years.

On the other hand, Mrs. Kelly alleges that some time after her marriage with Johnson she ascertained that the marriage was invalid because Johnson had another wife, Elizabeth McCarrick, living at the time, who was a former resident of New Jersey, and to whom he was married in or about the year 1868, and that by this first marriage Johnson had two children, who are still living. This wife, she alleges, lived until twenty-three days after her marriage with Kelly, when she committed suicide at the residence of her brother, Edward McCarrick, in Unionville, Orange County.

WILL LEAVE THE LAND LEAGUE.

Two Prominent Members to Sever Their Connection—The Coming Convention.

CHICAGO, Sep. 28.—J. P. Sutton, secretary of the Irish Land League, has arrived in Chicago and says that he and Mr. Fitzgerald will sever their connection with the organization. He thinks the result of the convention will be a declaration of neutrality as between the two factions in Ireland, and that another organization may be effected on a strictly American basis. But what the aims and purposes of such an organization would be he could not say.

The main feature of the coming gathering would be to close up the records and career of the land league, and the entire correspondence between Parnell and other leaders in Ireland and Mr. Fitzgerald will be submitted to show why no convention has been held since 1886.

Mr. Sutton thinks the convention will also take some action looking towards the liberation of the large sum of money held in Paris and which neither the Parnellites nor the McCarthyites can agree to release so that it could be used for the people. It is thought that the appointment of an envoy by the convention to proceed to Ireland might effect that result.

NOT IN MILWAUKEE.

The Search for Ex-Cashier Livesy in That City Proves Futile.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 28.—A systematic and thorough effort to find ex-Cashier Livesy, in Milwaukee, Wis., has failed utterly and there is the best of authority for the statement that he has never been in that city; that all of the letters addressed to him there have been forwarded to an address in Canada, where he has been for some time, presumably since he left Harrisburg and resigned his place as cashier in the Treasury department there.

It has been discovered also that he has been in the same neighborhood in Canada where State Treasurer Boyer was spending his vacation. Livesy has never been seen by any one in this city, and all inquiries at the house where his mail has been sent have been answered by proxy

Sir James Likely to be Re-elected.

LONDON, Sep. 28.—Sir James Fergusson's acceptance of office as Postmaster General having rendered vacant his seat in Parliament, an election contest of unusual importance is now in progress in Manchester. The fact that Sir James was elected in 1885 by a majority of over 1,000, which was reduced to less than 400 the following year, does not justify the hope that the Liberals will win the seat now. There are few dissention Liberals to convert in northeast Manchester, and the probability is therefor that Sir James will be re-elected.

Failure of German Socialists.

BERLIN, Sep. 28.—The report of the Socialist strike Committee discloses the entire failure of the preparations which were being arranged to bring about strikes in all the trades. There has been an extraordinary general exhaustion of the Socialists' funds. Within a year the trades unions have lost half their members. The leading masons and carpenters' unions, owing partly to internal dissension, are in a state of collapse. Since the formation of the Strike Committee thirty-one strikes have been organized, and in every case the labor party was defeated.

Must Steal Cash to Be Indicted.

KOUNTZE, Tex., Sep. 28.—J. D. McMillan, ex-county treasurer, who was charged with mis-applying funds to the amount of $14,000, has been acquitted by order of Judge Hightower, who holds that the legal definition of money is legal tender coin, and that bonds or coupons are not money. According to this ruling of Judge Hightower, who is one of the State's brightest jurists, no official can be indicted under the present State law unless he steals actual cash.

Murdered For His Money.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sep. 28.—The body of James Kane was found in an alley in the morning. He had just been paid off and was evidently murdered for his money. Pending the result of the Coroner's inquest, a saloon keeper named Durkin and his wife with a boarder named Frank Nary are held under surveillance. Kane was last seen in Durkin's saloon.

FALLING INTO LINE

Central American Republics at the World's Fair.

TWO HAVE APPLIED FOR SPACE.

Nicaragua and Salvador Want One-Half Acre Each for Their Exhibits.

The Rumors of Revolution in Nicaragua Untrue—The World's Fair Decided a Private Enterprise by Secretary Grant—Commissioner of Pensions Raum May Soon Resign—Other Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 28.—Lieutenant Scriven, of the Army, special commissioner to Central America for the World's Fair, writes from Nicaragua, saying that after some preliminary consultation, Mr. Salaverri, the commissioner appointed to represent Nicaragua, at the exposition, the president of that Republic, and the ministers of public works, had a final conference at which it was decided to erect a building in Jackson Park for the Nicaraguan exhibit, at a cost of, not less than ten and not more than twelve thousand dollars, and an official application was made for about one-half acre of land. A similar reservation has been asked by the governor of Salvador.

"The government is thoroughly interested," Lieutenant Scriven reports, "and the President is doing everything in his power to interest the people in sending the products of the country to Chicago."

A gentleman from Washington, now in Nicaragua, writes as follows concerning the sensational dispatches which have appeared in the newspapers of the United States about the political disturbances in Nicaragua.

"I may remark by the way that there is no cause to apprehend such disturbances here as the newspapers of the United States seem to represent. They have made a mountain out of a mole hill and have given the recent expulsion of disaffected politicians much more importance than the facts will justify. Everything is quiet here and the opposition to the present government, if not crushed, is neutralized. The President is a man of the highest character and is esteemed by everybody."

NOT A NATIONAL AFFAIR.

Sec. Grant's Ruling That the World's Fair is a Private Undertaking.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 27.—By a recent ruling Acting-Secretary Grant, by inference held that the World's Columbian Exposition is a private and not a national affair.

Assistant Secretary Grant's decision came about in this way: There has been some complaint that the buildings erected were not safe and the Chicago people assert that this complaint came from New York where there never has been a friendly feeling for Chicago or the fair. In order to dispose effectually of all these stories the commissioners asked the Secretary of War to detail a corps of engineers to inspect the buildings. The commissioners thought that a report by such a corps of engineers would have more weight than if it were made by private engineers.

In replying to the request Secretary Grant stated that Section 1224 of the Revised Statutes forbade army officers from performing work of any kind for private persons or corporations, and for this reason he was compelled to decline a compliance with the request.

Best Way of Measuring Whiskey.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 28.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mason has lately been gathering considerable information regarding the best methods of measuring whiskey. Experiments which have been made under his direction show that more inaccuracies occur from gauging than from weighing whiskey and it is probable that the latter method will be used by the bureau. The result would be a large reduction in the force of gaugers and a consequent saving of great expense to the government.

Rumored Resignation of Mr. Raum.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 28.—The report is abroad to-day that the president will soon accept the resignation of Pensions Commissioner Raum, and appoint as his successor ex-Senator Blair. This rumor lacks direct verification, but there is no doubt that Gen. Raum is to be removed, whether or not Mr. Blair is the man chosen to take his place.

DEMAREST'S TRIAL.

To Be Called Again at the Rockland Circuit Court Wednesday Next.

NYACK, Sep. 28.—The case of the People against Frank P. Demarest indicted for forgery in the first and second degrees will come up again in Rockland County Circuit Court this week before Judge Pratt.

Subpœnas have been served upon witnesses for the prosecution and they have been ordered to be present in court on Wednesday next.

The indictment on which Demarest will be tried is forgery in the first degree in passing forged checks upon the Haverstraw National Bank.

Dead a Few Hours After Arrest.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sep. 28.—Harrett J. Minson, a married man about 65 years of age, was arrested on the charge of sending obscene and threatening matter through the mail to a woman. He was locked up in the United States Court building for a hearing. A few hours later he was found dead on the floor of the cell. It is thought that he took strychnine.

Many Deaths From Typhoid.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sep. 27.—In the neighborhood of Harris City, near the eastern part of this county, an epidemic of typhoid fever of a most malignant type has been raging for the last two weeks. During this time there have been twenty-five deaths.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS.

Tobacco Harvest Nearly Done—Corn Safe from Frost Injury.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 28.—The weather crop bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau, shows the following:

NEW ENGLAND.—The hot, dry weather has hastened the ripening of crops, and harvesting is well under way. Cranberries are excellent and grapes good. Rain needed; springs, streams and pastures drying up, too dry for fall seeding.

NEW YORK.—Corn, beans and buckwheat harvesting is progressing in all sections, and generally beyond danger from frost. The large tobacco harvest is nearly completed. Yield of grapes and late apples is greater than expected. Some damage from drought in southeast counties.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The hot, dry weather has hastened the maturing of corn and caused it to ripen earlier than usual. Cutting is general. Tobacco cutting and fall seeding are nearly completed. Some early sowed wheat is above ground; late seeding needs moisture.

NEW JERSEY.—Weather exceedingly favorable; corn nearly all cut; sweet potatoes and late fruits much improved in quality; cranberry picking progressing. Winter wheat and rye up and growing. Past season has been most bountiful.

MARYLAND AND DELAWARE.—The weather was favorable for the rapid maturing of crops. Tobacco, corn, and tomato harvesting is progressing favorably. Pastures and late crops suffered slightly from drought, and seeding was delayed on account of the dry condition of the soil.

VIRGINIA.—Conditions highly favorable for maturing corn and tobacco. Tobacco is generally safe, the greater part being cut. Rain is needed for wheat seeding and pastures.

Exports and Imports of Specie.

NEW YORK, Sep. 28.—The exports of specie during the past week from the port of New York amounted to $451,977, of which $63,466 was gold and the rest silver. The imports of specie during the week were $493,684, of which $455,584 was gold.

An Italian Murderer Caught.

ODENSBURG, N. J., Sep. 28.—Joseph Preroto, who murdered Antonio Rossa in New York city, has been captured near here.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Seven thousand Jews have left Berdetscheff, said to be destined to the Argentine Republic and the United States.

Dr. Caspar W. Hodge, a professor in Princeton Theological Seminary, died yesterday.

A number of foreigners have been arrested by the Chilian Junta. Among them are three Americans.

The fruit establishment of Henry Bros., in Baltimore, and several adjoining buildings were damaged $10,000 by fire yesterday.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company is constructing an engine which they expect will be able to make 100 miles an hour.

It is authoritatively reported in New York that the plan for carrying for three years the floating debt of the Union Pacific will be consummated successfully.

The Kendals have sailed from London for New York and hope to net $100,000 by their tour in the United States this winter. They will then retire and settle in England.

The stranger who died suddenly of heart disease in a railway carriage at Waterloo, England, Friday, is now known to be A. L. Dessan, of New York city.

The losses by the Savannah, Ga., fire are now estimated at over half a million dollars. The complete destruction of the mammoth warehouse of Nixon & Western caused the greatest loss.

Mrs. William Walter Phelps, wife of the American Minister to Germany, who arrived home Saturday, will spend several weeks visiting her many friends in the country before returning to Berlin.

The President has declined to grant pardons to Charles W. Ritter of Maryland, convicted of violating the banking laws and W. F. Bernbamer of the same State sentenced to imprisonment and a fine of $1,000 for conspiracy.

Jay Gould is reported as saying in an interview that he had waited and hoped for increased net earnings, which had not come. "I am disappointed. You may assume that a dividend in Missouri Pacific will not be declared or paid this quarter."

Fears for the Safety of a Schooner.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Sep. 27.—Grave fears are felt for the safety of the fishing schooner Albert Woodbury, with a crew of 11 men, which sailed from Roxbury six weeks ago. A high wind swept the coast of Nova Scotia on the 7th and several vessels were lost, and it is feared that the Woodbury was among them.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Starlight wools at Peck's.

—The housewife has now got the bandage off her scalded thumb, and the corner in fruit jars is broken.

—Consecration meeting of the Trinity Reformed church Y. P. S. C. E. to-night at 8 o'clock in the lecture room. Visitors always welcome.

—Plainfield Building and Loan Association shareholders will meet in Mr. Liefke's rear room this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, for the payment of monthly dues and other business.

—"The Annual Friend", of Red Bank, a society to pay $100 per year on assessments of about $50, has just collapsed, leaving its members with $40.86 worth of experience on hand, but nothing else.

—The Blue Stars were defeated at baseball, Saturday, by the Dunellens, by the score of 29 to 23. Young, the pitcher of the Blue Stars, was knocked all over the field. Dick Scott of the Blue Stars was the only one who could hit the ball for his side.

—With its current issue the Dover Index enters on its seventeenth volume. It is one of the newsiest weekly papers in the State, is stanchly Democratic in principle, and covers a wide field with a thoroughness highly commendable and an enterprise worthy of a daily in a big city.

—Two "educated" bears put in a day of rest in a shed near Grant avenue station yesterday, and held quite an extensive reception. All the small fry of the region thereabouts was on deck, and while the proprietor slept the sleep of the weary the bears entertained their guests in quiet but elegant taste.

—To-morrow winds up the special sale at Sherwin's shoe store. He made up his mind to reduce the amount of stock on hand Sept. 1 so as to be ready to open up the fall and winter styles to good advantage. So he put on one of his special sales at cut prices. Sherwin says that this always moves the stock. Now if you want shoeing, go and see Sherwin by Wednesday night.

Notes of the Boys' Club.

The attendance for the past week has averaged 56 per evening, the largest being 71 and the smallest 34. The number of visitors during the week was 8.

The Edwards Zouaves will meet for drill Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, at 8:30. Every member is requested to be present.

The base-ball season is over. The boys have played 12 games of ball, losing only 3. Following are the names of boys who have helped to win the games: Hefferan, Fred Winn, Peter Winn, Sheridan, Conway, McGinley, Doyle, Bolsterli, Lines and Fleming.

Both the Boys' Club nine and the Young Cuban Giants will be managed by the superintendent of the club next season.

The first entertainment of the club will be given to the boys and their friends Monday evening, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock. Each entertainment will consist of vocal and instrumental music, and a talk of fifteen to twenty minutes by some gentleman. The superintendent will be glad to see all the friends of the club present at these entertainments and also when the regular session is in order.

Their Last Game This Year.

The Young Arlingtons, of this city, defeated the Eagles, also of this city, in a game of base-ball on the Park avenue grounds, Saturday morning, by the score of 15 to 4. The game was well played on both sides. The batting was very light except in the fifth inning, when the Arlingtons hit the ball for two two-baggers and several singles. The feature of the game was the fine shortstop playing of the Arlingtons, and Eagles shortstops, who captured everything that came in their way. The score by innings was as follows:

Eagles	1	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	0	—4
Arlingtons	2	0	3	2	0	0	4	4	*	—15

Batteries—Galbert and Connors for the Eagles; Mattis and Sutphen for the Arlingtons. Umpire—J. Perkins.

When Collins Fled, There Fled a Rogue.

It is reported in police circles that Charles Collins, who has skipped to avoid arrest for theft, not only stole watch, vest and other goods from Martin Lynch, coachman for Charles F. Munn, but swindled him in another way. It transpires that the goods in Collins's little tailor shop at 43 North avenue, were mortgaged to Lynch for money borrowed, and that in his sudden flight Collins has taken the mortgaged goods with him. He is said to have left a large board bill unpaid, besides various other indebtednesses.

GREAT GAME FOR THE GORHAMS.

Against the Dusky Visitors the Crescents Make Their Poorest Showing of the Year.

A defeat like that of Saturday is doubtless in some ways a wholesome thing for such an aggregation of individual players as that of the Crescents, but the lesson comes too late in the season to be of any practical avail to this year's nine, and it is hoped that next year's will be in some respects a far different one. Had the Crescents been given such a thorough drubbing early in the summer they would have had a chance to profit from the lesson so forcibly taught—that united strength as a team is far preferable, far more valuable, far more effective, than individual brilliancy. The dusky-visaged visitors gave a shining example of what good team work can accomplish; the fair-skinned home players showed how easy it is for grand-stand popularity and gilded personal reputation to fall far short of winning a game.

The one great fault of the Crescents' playing all summer has been that the players were too devoted to themselves—sought too much after individual achievements. It is no doubt a pleasant thing to be a little tin-god in the eyes of the populace, but in playing ball self ought to be buried out of sight, and club patriotism ought to predominate. The Gorhams, in their magnificent exhibition of masterly team work, gave overwhelming evidence of what steady, united effort can accomplish, with all thought of individual record cast to the wind, with all desire to acquire selfish, egotistical supremacy bravely suppressed.

The Gorhams were not a nine: they were a unit. They were one big general, and worked together as if governed by one big brain. The question was not what play would win temporary personal preferment, but what would best advance the interests and success of the team. Not one of the ebony players was satisfied with individual achievement. With each, it was the triumph of the Gorhams, not petty personal success, that was at stake.

The Crescents played by fits and starts. Now one player would make a spurt, then another would revive from the stupor in which at times they all were buried, and would put a dash of old-time fervor into his playing. Concerted action was sadly lacking, and the result could not be other than a humiliating and galling defeat. When the pitcher did good work he was given miserable and disheartening support. When one man made a rattling hit the rest batted so listlessly that there was no encouragement in trying to do good work at base-running.

The two runs that the Crescents got were presented to them by their good-natured and generous opponents Bonner scored them both. The first time he crossed the rubber, catcher Williams had ample chance to put him out, had he played perfectly, but his error permitted the run to count. The second time there was good reason to believe that he was out, according to the Gorhams' view, but umpire Berriman decided that he reached the plate a trifle before the ball, and the protestants were compelled to let it go at that.

How the Gorhams slugged the ball is seen in the record of 14 base hits and 5 earned runs. The 4 other runs were the gift of the Crescents, through errors, bases on balls, and other misplays. It made no difference who was in the box—they hammered the ball unmercifully, hitting it nearly every time squarely on the nose, and banging it far out in the lot. Hammill had protested against pitching at all, as his arm was sore, but he was tried for five innings, when, 6 single-base hits having been made off him, the management put Tierney in. In the three innings that followed, the Gorhams got 8 hits, one of which was a three-bagger, and two of which were two-baggers. But of the 9 put-outs in those three innings Tierney struck out 6, three in one inning.

The Gorhams' batting was certainly terrific, and they bunched their hits splendidly. But they fielded just as ably, and in every way proved themselves masters in their art. Of course much of their skill is due to the fact that they play ball every day in the year, including Sundays, but it is a remarkable thing to keep up such wonderful playing for 79 games, win 42 in succession, and lose only 7—and that, too, against the strongest semi-professional teams all over the country. The Gorhams' shortstop, Grant, is a jewel, whose superior as a fielder of his position cannot be found anywhere. He made some most difficult stops and catches, his recovery was extraordinarily quick, and his throwing was swift as an arrow and unerring as a shaft of light. Clarence Williams, the nimble and sturdy catcher and inimitable coacher, was mirth personified, and his flow of fun afforded much entertainment and laughter to the spectators.

Aside from the actual errors they made, the Crescents were guilty of some very loose fielding. For instance, Seldon's three-bagger and O. Jackson's two-base hit ought each to have been a single, had not the outfielders been either frozen in their shoes and rheumatic at the elbows or fast asleep. When the Crescents were n't fielding as drowsily as a clam-shell or as clumsily as a wheelbarrow they were getting into the most useless and extraordinary positions on the diamond. Once when Holly let a ball go through his hands that was intended to shut a man off at first and the ball went rolling into the grass far back of him, every man on the team except Bonner went over to where Billy Lee had been dreaming all day at third, and clustered in a group around the bag. O. Jackson was on third when Bonner got the ball. Had there been some one at the plate, Bonner could have thrown him out—but there was nothing but a great big slab of vacancy to fire the ball at, and Jackson scored. That's the way it went, all through the game.

For the Crescents, Bonner distinguished himself by making the two runs of the game, 3 of the 7 hits, the only stolen base, and ten of the put-outs, some of which were very difficult but successful attempts at shutting runners off at the plate. Holly played his usual good steady game at first, and by making himself elastic and collaring balls thrown far out of ordinary reach saved more than one man wretched errors. Lufbery again proved his ability as a muff-manufacturer by letting a ball go through his hands that a Bryant school boy would be ashamed to miss. Lee—who once was Plainfield's pet and pride, and who, by the extraordinarily magnificent part he took in the last game at Somerville, revived the many hopes of his admirers—got back into the habit of napping that has been his favorite custom all season, and most of the time was about as valuable an adjunct to the nine as an Indian mummy or a locomotive headlight would have been. Keeler had his first run of bad luck. He did n't get a hit.

So far as the Gorhams' playing was concerned, the game was heartily enjoyed by the people assembled. The visitors played the best ball ever seen on the diamond. But the showing that the Crescents made was not so interesting. Instead it was a decided disappointment to all.

Tennis in the Park.

On the courts of the Washington Park Tennis Club, Saturday afternoon, were played the first games in a challenge tournament between the Washington Park club and the Racquette club. The Washington Park men had no trouble in winning six of the eight sets played. The scores:

G. and H. Morrison beat H. McGee and C. Peck, 4—6, 6—3, 6—4.

A. VanDeventer and G. Cooley beat W. Rockwell and W. MacClymont, 6—0, 6—0.

S. Townsend and S. McCutchen beat G. and H. Morrison, 6—2, 6—4.

A. VanDeventer and G. Cooley beat H. Patton and V. Baker, 3—1.

Darkness put an end to the playing at this point. The remaining sets will probably be played next Saturday on the courts of the Racquette Club, corner of Washington and Mercer avenues.

West Ends Give up the Ghost.

The West Ends of Somerville gulled New Brunswick people all the week with the belief that they were going to play against the Crescents Saturday. At the last moment, they sent word that the "game" was off, because the West End team had just disbanded. The New Brunswick Home News of Friday said:

SOMERVILLE'S TEAM DISBANDS.

Information came by wire this afternoon to this office that the scheduled game between the West Ends, of Somerville, and the Crescents, of Plainfield, for to-morrow at Plainfield, will not take place. The reason assigned is that the Somerville team has been disbanded. A large number from this city who had expected to see the game to-morrow will be disappointed. The two teams are tie in the number of games won, and the final contest will probably not be played this season.

The Crescents to Try for the Whist Trophy Again.

Abner P. Downer, of Fanwood, has called a meeting to be held in the parlors of the Elizabeth Athletic Club, next Thursday evening, to arrange for a central New Jersey whist tournament, similar to that of last winter, in which the Plainfield Crescent League will be included.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

OBITUARY.

Jules Augustus Fay.

Gen. J. Augustus Fay died Saturday at Elizabeth, aged 51. He was well known in this city, owned property here, and numbered many prominent Plainfielders among his clients. His father was on intimate terms with President Lincoln and held office under him, and also under President Johnson, at Washington. Gen. Fay entered the army as Lieutenant at the age of 18, and rose to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, serving in the Thirtieth, Thirty-fifth, and Fortieth New Jersey regiments. He was Inspector-General of State militia under Govs. Randolph and Parker. He was a graduate of Williams College, studied law with Chancellor Williamson, and was admitted to the bar in 1868.

Gen. Fay was an able stump speaker, and always figured prominently as an orator in State and National campaigns. He had a wonderful memory for facts and figures, and was the most brilliant District Attorney Union county ever had. He successfully conducted the prosecution of Comptroller Leggett, of Elizabeth, and had that official sent to State Prison for squandering the city's finances. General Fay's home has been in Elizabeth since he was three years old. He married a daughter of William Nelson Wood, of Morristown, who is still living. The couple had no children.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

There is a young Councilman Rushmore, and a young Architect Smith.

Mrs. J. G. West, mother of Mrs. John Simpson, of Fanwood, is dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dale Warren left Fanwood Friday night for Uxbridge, Mass.

The Rev. T. Logan Murphy sailed from Liverpool last Thursday and is expected to arrive home Wednesday.

The Rev. William S. Langford, secretary of the board of missions, officiated at the Holy Cross church yesterday.

Miss Laura Mattis, of Spooner avenue, who was visiting her cousin, Geo. Slack, of Raritan, last week, returned to her home last evening.

Mrs. Pheobe E. Foster, of Chatham street, North Plainfield, was rewarded with first prize on crazy quilts at the State fair at Waverly.

Mrs. Asa Collier sang in Dr. Ketcham's church choir yesterday, and very acceptably filled the place of Miss Blanche Fellows, who is still ill but recovering.

John L. Jones, the hustling editor of that successful Hunterdon county paper, The Democrat-Advertiser, of Flemington, made a pleasant call on THE PRESS today.

The rotary whist players at Fanwood had another series at the residence of Abner P. Downer, Friday evening. The record was: Smith, 5; Gardner, 6; Kyte, 4; Downer, 8; Force, 7.

Mrs. Walter Scott, of East Front street, wife of the proprietor of the Scott Press Works, who has been ill about six months, and who was convalescing, was seriously affected by the ringing of the fire alarm from the works last night.

Dr. D. C. Adams and family leave this evening for Knoxville, Tenn., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Adams's brother, John Honeyman, for a month. During his visit Dr. Dan, who has shot everything else, will enjoy his first experience at turkey shooting.

The Hon. Geo. Kyte and wife and Miss Ethel Kyte, of Fanwood, left for Atlantic City Saturday, to attend the exempt firemen's convention. They expect to return Friday. Mr. Kyte told his friends that this was his first vacation since his marriage.

A. J. Leader, of 63 Duer street, North Plainfield, and one of the publishers of that excellent and highly prosperous journal, The Hotel Mail, arrived in port at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, and reached home at 8 o'clock, after a European trip of five weeks, visiting his father, mother, brothers and sisters. He attended three family re-unions, enjoyed fine shooting, and gained 11 pounds in weight.

The Rev. Frederick Koechli, pastor of the German church in North Plainfield, has decided not to accept the offer made to him by a prosperous German congregation in New York. The German congregations of North Plainfield and Somerville, both of which are under his charge, have urged him so strenuously not to leave them that he has decided to stay. The circumstances under which the call was extended were highly satisfactory, not to say flattering, and acceptance would have brought valued advantages to the pastor; but he could not make up his mind to leave the people whom he has labored among so long.

Firemen Enjoy an Evening Run.

A lamp exploded in one of the rooms in Dunlap row, on East Sixth street, opposite the Scott Press Works, at 7:15 o'clock, Sunday night, and when it was thrown out it landed on the roof of a rear extension of the building and caused quite a blaze. The night watchman in Scott's works saw the blaze, thought the whole house was afire, and sent in an alarm from Mr. Scott's private box, No. 24. Of course everybody supposed that the works were on fire, and a great crowd gathered. Mr. Scott was on the scene as if by magic, and noted with pleasure how quickly the fire department responded and his employes reached the place. The entire department turned out. Two bucketfuls of water put out the fire.

Saturday Night's Storm.

The storm that visited Plainfield Saturday night was in many respects a welcome one, for the rain was sadly needed, and anything that tended to lower the scorching heat and choking dryness of the past week was a desirable visitation. But the lightning and thunder were terrific. The fearful crashes shook the houses to their foundations, and unsteady nerves had a bad night of it. The rain came down in steady torrents, effectually laid the thick dust, and refreshed the thirsty earth.

Most of the thunder and lightning was of course confined to cloudland, but some of the discharges made terrestrial visitations, splintering trees, and tearing up holes in the earth.

Lightning struck the house of F. C. Jennings, corner of Park place and Mercer avenue, and shattered a bit of ornamentation extending up from the peak of the roof. The inmates of the dwelling were terribly frightened by the crash and shock. Another bolt landed in the yard of Harry Bartling, Sycamore avenue, and dug a big hole in the ground.

The lightning sparks that came in on the overcharged wires kept the telephone operators at central jumping, and burnt out a number of safety plugs in the electric light system.

—A mechanism for instantly stopping and reversing printing presses is the latest ingenious invention patented by Walter Scott.

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2.00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

NORTH BROADWAY.

A List of the Property the Proposed New Thoroughfare Will Cross.

Now that the project to extend Peace street into North Plainfield is taking definite shape, the public will be interested to know just where the proposed new thoroughfare will run.

To begin with, Peace street will be broadened to a total width of 60 feet. The new portion of the street will then take in the lane now at the head of Peace street, a portion of the land at present owned by the Young Men's Christian Association, also a portion of the land of Ferdinand A. Strauss on the other side of the lane, together with a part of his house. It then grazes the buildings along the raceway at the rear of Strauss's, and goes through more land owned by Strauss on the other side of the brook. It then takes all of the property of Mary Elizabeth Mayer, including her house; takes one-third of the estate of Mary Bird; takes one-third of the land of Mary McGlone; crosses Pearl street; takes in the house and all the land, except two triangular bits at the corners, of Seyrintha McDonald; takes a little triangular piece off the rear corner of the lot of the estate of Werner Heideloff; also a triangular corner from the front of Francis Conshee's lot, also a piece of his house; takes one-half the lot, including 45-feet frontage, of Dency C. Horton, fronting on Chatham street; also a triangular sliver of Nathan Taynor's land adjoining; crosses Chatham street; takes all the land of Margaret Taynor, including her house and two outbuildings, except a little sliver at the rear; takes a little sliver off Patrick Daley's land, fronting on Chatham street; shaves the clapboards off his house; just escapes grazing Lewis Bird's house; cuts off nearly one-half of his land; cuts his large group of outbuildings through the middle, and takes the bigger portion; takes all of Miss Harriet Richardson's property, including house and outbuilding, fronting on Race street; takes one-half the land of Fred. Becker, and cuts the clapboards off a projecting corner of his house; takes one-half the land of Thomas Rutledge, two-thirds of his house, and cuts off the rear of the three houses adjoining his place and facing on Warren street; crosses Race street; takes nearly all the land of George White and nearly all his house, facing on Manning avenue; takes all of the house of Wm. E. Johnson, leaving a wedge-shaped portion of it, six feet broad, stretching between Warren street and the new thoroughfare; crosses Manning avenue; goes through the centre of the St. Joseph's church property; grazes the church; cuts off a wing of the parsonage; takes two-thirds of the land of Emil Messerschmidt and all his house; takes a slice off the land of Mary E. Schenck and grazes her house at the side; crosses Jackson avenue; after that it has a clear field, so far as buildings are concerned, and lies entirely in the land of Elisha Corieli till it reaches a lane at the rear; crosses the lane, lies entirely in the land of the estate of Wm. Allen (taking a slice off the outfield of the Crescent League Athletic grounds), and meets Grand street, with which it connects between the property of J. D. Moon and W. C. Smith, and through which it runs to the mountain.

The width of North Broadway is to be 60 feet throughout. It will be made as handsome a thoroughfare as any in Plainfield. Considering the difficulties in the way, it is remarkably straight. It deviates in only two places, and then at very slight angles.

A Fine Concert Thursday Evening.

N. E. Kirg, of New York, will conduct a vocal and instrumental concert in Reform Hall this week Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. The admission will be but 25 cents, and the affair will be very enjoyable. Concerning Mr. King's concerts The Bradford Republican, of Towanda, Penna., in its Rome correspondence, says:

That Rome is justly entitled to her reputation for fine musicals was again clearly proved by the entertainment given at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, 17th instant, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. A large audience greeted the performers and evinced their appreciation and pleasure by most generous applause. Indeed, it is said that Rome surpassed herself on this occasion. Allen Young was director as heretofore. With the exception of Mr. and Mrs. King of New York, the entertainment was given entire by home talent. The perfection to which Mr. King has cultivated the art of playing the harmonica, accompanying himself with the organ or guitar, deserves special mention. The programme embraced vocal and instrumental music and recitations.

A Foreign View of Borough Hostilities.

[From The Newark Advertiser.]

North Plainfield, in this State, is agitated over the question of the right of a chief of police to order a law-abiding citizen to go to bed. There is bad blood between the chief and his predecessor, who is now ex-chief. Exercising his little brief authority, when meeting the ex chief out at night, the chief ordered him to go home and go to bed. The ex-chief defied the order and continued, as it were, not to go to bed. Whereupon he was arrested and lodged in the lock-up. And now he is bringing suit against the chief for false imprisonment. In the good old days of yore, Southern negroes were not allowed at large after nine o'clock at night unless they showed a pass from their proprietor. But in New Jersey, as a rule, a citizen, either colored or plain, is not interfered with on account of his late hours, so long as he behaves himself. This may not be the North Plainfield rule, however.

Janauschek at Music Hall.

Janauschek and her company will appear in Music Hall, Thursday evening, in James M. Martin's beautiful romantic drama, "The Harvest Moon". This is a new departure for the peerless Janauschek, who is familiar to our play-goers in such plays as "Macbeth", "Meg Merriles", "Mother and Son", etc. "The Harvest Moon" will be the only play in Janauschek's repertoire, this season. While it is new to Plainfield, it has been successfully produced in other cities, and the management is sanguine that a most favorable verdict will be accorded it here.

Janauschek, it is said, never undertakes anything unless she feels certain she can do it well, and this successful actress of the English and German stage says that in the role of Mrs. Oakley she has a part fitted to her talents. She is supported by a strong and well selected company, headed by that favorite, A. H. Stuart. The play is composed of strong situations, bright dialogue, and has a vein of rich comedy running through it. The parts are well and carefully distributed. Janauschek has gained her position by her hard work and legitimate talent, and not by resorting to trickery or devices to achieve notoriety.

A Sweet Singer Next Sunday Night.

More than fifty years ago one of the Colts, of revolver fame, presented to the society now known as the First Presbyterian church, in Paterson, a plot of ground which at the present day is in the centre of the city, making this church the richest, as it is the largest, in that thriving manufacturing place. About eighteen years ago the Rev. Dr. Hornblower was the pastor; he was succeeded by the Rev. Dr. McGee; both names are well known in the history of New Jersey. While Dr. Hornblower was pastor, there came to that church, as chief soprano, Mrs. John S. Tyler, then a mere girl-wife, but with a voice of such rare sweetness and endurance that she has held first place all these years. This sweet singer will be heard in Plainfield next Sunday. She will sing two solos in the "Harvest-Home" song service at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Dr. Lewis Won the Day.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Sabbath Tract Society Charles Potter of this city was re-elected president, G. H. Babcock and I. D. Titsworth vice-presidents, the Rev. L. E. Livermore of Dunellen corresponding secretary, Arthur L. Titsworth recording secretary, J. F. Hubbard treasurer, and the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, J. D. Spicer, the Rev. L. E. Livermore, J. A. Hubbard, A. L. Titsworth, D. E. Titsworth, E. R. Pope, F. A. Dunham, Frank S. Wells, R. M. Titsworth, Abel S. Titsworth and E. H. Lewis directors.

A warm contest occurred over the project to remove the publication house from Alfred Centre to New York city. The matter came up twice, and was each time defeated. The third time it was advocated by Dr. Lewis, and he won the day after an exciting debate. The removal will take place as soon as possible.

Westfield Files High.

(From The New York Sun.)

The Westfield team is trying to arrange for an exhibition game with the New York League team after the close of the League season. Westfield has a strong team, composed of Tom O'Rourke, catcher (of last year's Bostons); O'Niel (whom a little while ago it was said the New Yorks had signed), pitcher; Diven of last year's Hacketts, first; McCabe of last year's Tacomas, second; Howe of last year's New Yorks, short stop; Connell of last year's Brooklyn Association team, third base; McManus, McLaughlin, and Lever of the Allertons in the outfield. A very interesting game might be played by this team against the Leaguers.

Harry Emerson, Not Gunnerson.

[From The New York Herald.]

The Echoes, of Brooklyn, opened the match game season on Tuesday evening with a game against the Crescent League Club, of Plainfield, N. J. Brooklyn's "pets" defeated the Jerseymen by a total of 1,535 pins, which is a remarkable score for a ten men team at this time of the year. "Colonel" Sellers led the Brooklyn boys in the individual playing with a total of 190 pins to his credit. Webber, one of the new additions, carried off second honors with a score of 182 pins. The largest individual score on the Crescent team was rolled by Gunnerson; he made 174 points.

Shot Dead in His Store.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 28.—James B. Daly, of the firm of Daly Brothers, grocers, on Main street, was shot and killed Saturday in his store by John P. Gleason, a night watchman. There had been bad feeling between Gleason and Daly because Daly permitted Mrs. Gleason to stay at his house after she had been compelled through abuse to separate from her husband. Gleason narrowly escaped lynching. Daly leaves a wife and three small children. Mrs. Gleason was a sister of Daly. The murderer walked into the store and deliberately shot his victim while the latter was standing behind the counter.

Killed Stopping a Runaway.

ALLEGAN, Mich., Sep. 28.—While trying to stop a runaway horse drawing a vehicle containing a man and three children, the Rev. E. A. Andrews was knocked down and his scalp was torn from the back of his head. His right collar bone and three ribs were also broken. He cannot recover.

Reception to the White House Ladies.

BOSTON, Sep. 27.—The reception at the Newton Club to Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee was a very brilliant affair. The club house in Newtonville was filled with a crowd of 600 or more ladies from 4 to 6 o'clock. Mrs. Governor Russell received Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee at the club rooms and presented them to the ladies of Newton.

Buffalo Bill's Show in Wales.

LONDON, Sep. 28.—Buffalo Bill's show has been playing a very successful engagement in Wales. The show exhibited in Cardiff for six days, giving two performances each day, and the receipts for that time am ounted to $51,280. The tour of the show in the provinces has also been a great success.

Six Thousand Men Resume Work.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 28.—The blowers at the West Park window glass factory at Findley, Ohio, began work Saturday. This is the first window glass house in the western district to resume work, and the rest will follow at once, thus putting six thousand men to work who have been idle since the middle of August.

Czar and Kaiser to Meet.

BERLIN, Sep. 23.—The official Borser Courier says that the Czar has promised Prince Leopold that he would visit the Kaiser at the earliest opportunity.

Germany's Exhibit at the Fair.

CHICAGO, Sep. 28.—Germany will not only have a great display of her arts and industries at the World's Fair, but she will have a special exhibit in a German village, on which $200,000 is to be expended, under the direction of Dr. Ulrich John, a protege of Prof. Vershou, the German scientist.

A Prominent Citizen's Daughter Elopes.

BRADDOCK, Pa., Sep. 28.—Homestead, a little borough near this place, is excited over the elopement of Miss Carrie Painter, aged 18, daughter of a prominent citizen, and Joseph Clark, an operator in the Homestead Mills.

Born, Married and Died in a Week.

NEW YORK, Sep. 28.—During the past week there were in this city 1,000 births, 811 deaths and 256 marriages. Death rate, 25.

Indicted for Grand Larceny.

AMSTERDAM, Sep. 28.—At the instance of ex-State Senator John Foley of Saratoga, Henry Bartley, a leading real estate dealer of this city, has been indicted by the Montgomery County grand jury charged with grand larceny in the first degree. He is held in $2,000 bail. It is alleged that Bartley borrowed money and promised to give a first mortgage on property which had prior mortgages for the full value

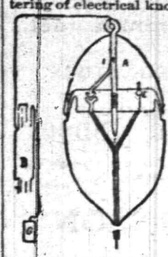
DEATH TO FISHES.

An Electrical Device by Which Angling Is Made Decidedly Easy.



The fisherman who possesses a smattering of electrical knowledge has great pleasures in store for him, according to the Electrical Review, as he can become possessed of the "Sure Thing" fishing outfit, with which at least a basis of truth can be furnished for some of the big fish stories so frequent during the summer months. That paper's electrician, when preparing for a day off, adds to his store a battery, condenser and the "Sure Thing," with enough insulated wire for a line. A movable cap (A) slides on a brass spindle and is held in position by a spring. The line is made of flexible wire rubber, covered, the hook being insulated with rubber tape, excepting a small section near the barb. The battery (B) and condenser are connected in the boat, one side of the latter being grounded by a plate (G) in the water, while the other is connected to the spindle of the float. As soon as the fish nibbles he pulls down the cap closing the circuit, and receives the contents of the condenser, thus paralyzing, if not killing him outright. The fish will then float to the surface and can be landed with a scoop net. As will be seen, it is not necessary to handle the pole at all after once placing it in position, as the working is entirely automatic.

UNIQUE STRUCTURE.

Plan for a Remarkable World's Fair Hotel and Tower.

Pearly Hale, architect, has just completed the plans for the Park View Hotel and Tower Company, which, according to the Chicago News, will erect a hotel and tower opposite Jackson park. The hotel will be fireproof, seven stories high, with a frontage of 160 feet, and 125 feet deep, and will be constructed of brick, with brownstone trimmings, provided with the best of modern improvements. The tower, which will be erected on the roof of the hotel, will be 533 feet high, of steel construction, equipped with elevators. The Park View Hotel Company is organized under the laws of Illinois with a capital stock of $800,000.

HOTEL AND TOWER.

Japanese Manners.

At church, the theater and other assemblies the Japanese take off their shoes. "At the large theater in Trukiji, Tokio," says a correspondent, "the rush for shoes is sometimes tremendous. Imagine 2,000 people after a matinee crowding and elbowing and pushing to get at their shoes so as not to be late to their supper. Further, imagine what anxiety and distress of mind the attendants must undergo who have in charge the task of getting the multitude properly shod. The famous problem propounded by Carlyle in the opening chapter of 'Past and Present' of 'getting the thousands of shirts on the thousands of backs' doesn't offer more difficulties."

Telegraphing with Cannons.

When the first vessel completed the passage of the then new Erie canal, in 1825, there being no such thing as a telegraph line in those days, the news was communicated to New York and Buffalo by cannons placed within hearing of each other all the way along from Albany to each of the other cities. The signal was passed along in this way from Albany to New York city and back again to Albany in fifty-eight minutes. The experiment was a costly one, but was a success in every particular Musical Fish of Ceylon.

Every bay and inlet on the coast of Ceylon abounds with musical fish. Their song, if it can be called a song, is not one sustained note like a bird's, but a multitude of tiny, soft, sweet sounds, each clear and distinct in itself, something like the vibrations of a wineglass when its rim is rubbed with the moistened finger. In the harbor at Bombay, India, there is a fish with a song like the sound produced by an Æolian harp.

All the druggists sell the Tudor Whiskey. Some of the other dealers do not. They say it pays too small a profit. Pure whiskey never does yield a large profit. It is the adulterated stuff which makes the money. Do you want to pay your dealer an exorbitant profit on an adulterated article, or do you prefer genuine old Whiskey which is sold at a moderate profit? Decide for yourselves. The TUDOR WHISKEY is WARRANTED ABSOLUTELY PURE and TEN YEARS OLD.

F.E.C. Medicine Co., Rochester, N.Y.:

For seven or eight years my wife has been troubled with some kind of kidney trouble. She tried many different remedies but all in vain. She continued to grow worse. Last fall I induced her to try the F. E. C. Remedy, and before using one bottle she began to improve, and now, after using six bottles, she is entirely cured. I have recommended it to many and it has benefitted in every case heard from.

THE LEPER PRIEST.

A Memorial to Father Damien Soon to Be Erected.

The Hero Who Gave Up His Life for the Unfortunates of Molokai Honored by the English People—Sister Rose Gertrude.

The paths of fame and notoriety lie perilously near together, sometimes so close that it is difficult to point out the dividing line. But fame, writes Flavel Scott Mines in Harper's Weekly, is that which exists after the hero's death, even though the hero die unknown, while notoriety is like a bubble on the river. And there are degrees of fame, and the price paid is not of gold or silver, but often the joy of life. For many years Father Damien immured himself in the leper colony of Molokai—gave up his life to save the souls of others, and the outside world knew it not. For many years he struggled, an obscure priest, on that horrible island of the Pacific, knowing that an awful death would be his; but his services and ministrations were not of this world, and he sought not fame. But the fame of a hero was his, after all—the sweet fame that is likened unto love, which is given freely, and cannot be bought by any man. Robert Louis Stevenson found the man, and told the world about him, and perhaps a sweet breath of incense may have come to that lonely isle and refreshed the passing hours of the martyr's life. For the incense was of the sweetest—the love and the prayers of the outside world which were given to the dying man. Yet he sought it not; and when the end came, and people wished to look upon the man, there were no photographs, save one that had been quickly made after his death in the rude habitation of a leper. That was fame, and the story reached the uttermost parts of the earth; and while men listened, another name was coupled with his, and people heard that a "Sister Rose Gertrude" was to follow in his steps, and voluntarily cast away all the joys of the earth to relieve the stricken beings at Molokai. This was given forth at London, and the city found in the self-appointed "sister" a pleasing subject, and the newspaper editor gave up a column to tell the world what she was going to do and to show what she looked like. The London reporter interviewed her, and when she came to New York the same proceeding was gone through with, and so it was all the way across the continent. People sighed as they looked at the gentle face in the sister's hood, bought her photograph, and bade her a sorrowful good-by. They had never seen the bearded face, pinched and wan, that lay upon the pallet at Molokai. Then "Sister Rose Gertrude" went forth upon her mission, the doors of the outside world were closed, and the people marveled at the sweetness of fame when the successor of Father Damien was mentioned. But the paths of notoriety and fame lay very near together then.

Meanwhile in England a memorial was being prepared by the National leprosy fund, and is just finished. It is in the form of a cross of red Peterhead granite, and is to shortly mark the grave of Father Damien. Upon the front face of the pedestal is a finely sculptured portrait in white marble set in an enriched circular panel. The cross is of Runic form, wrought with intricate designs, and upon the lower steps of the pedestal, in English and in the Hawaiian tongue, are these inscriptions:

"Joseph Damien de Veuster. Born January 3, 1840; died April 15, 1889."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.—John xv., 13."

"This monument is raised to his memory by the people of England."

Just as the memorial is finished comes strange news from London, and people wonder. "Sister Rose Gertrude" has returned unheralded, given up the work which she set out to do, and has married. This she had a perfect right to do; she made no vows, but she turned back before the gates of the world were barely closed, and the echoes of her "noble sacrifice" that were loudly trumpeted a little time ago came back to the ears of many, and the strains are of the loud-sounding brass, and harsh and discordant. There is a time when the paths of fame and notoriety diverge, and men recognize the difference.

Strength of Men and Ants.

An ant three-eighths of an inch long, carrying a burden of one-sixth of a grain, moves at the rate of one mile in eleven hours. This weight—a small one compared with what they sometimes carry—is eighteen times their own. In carrying this weight they compare with a man 5½ feet high, weighing 140 pounds, carrying a ton and a half of lead from St. Louis to Jefferson City, Mo., and back again in twenty-two and a half hours.

TWELVE TAMED TOADS.

They Perform Wonderful Tricks and Are Always Hungry.

Everyone has heard tell of educated pigs, horses, goats, elephants and even fleas, but a trained toad is seldom if ever brought to light, that is the species of toad we have up north. In Texas and Mexico they have the horned toad that is carried around in the pocket as a sort of keepsake, but they don't do much but lazy around and eat the flies their owners catch for them. Far different are some toads right here in Toledo, says the Toledo (O.) Bee. Jim Richardson, the well-known operator in the Union depot master's office, is the gentleman who knows all about toads. He has been training them for the past year, and has a dozen in his back yard that do almost everything but talk, and show a considerable amount of reasoning power.

These particular toads will wait for Mr. Richardson on his return from work; and they are always there on time lined up along the walk like so many soldiers. He feeds them regularly, and that is the secret of their presence. Those toads must have some way for figuring out the time of day, for they commence assembling about five minutes before Mr. Richardson's arrival, and never make a mistake. They will eat out of his hands or will stand on their hind legs and reach for the morsel he holds between his fingers. The strictest ceremony is upheld during these banquets. There is no confusion, no scrambling. Those dozen toads sit around like so many burgomasters and eye Mr. Richardson with their blinkety, blinkety beads until he signals out who shall come forward to eat.

One large fellow, a sort of a leader, will follow Mr. Richardson around like a dog and has to be driven back in the morning or he would hop down to the depot with his master. When scolded for following he sits in the middle of the walk looking sorrowful-like until Mr. Richardson is out of sight down the street. The toads do a number of simple tricks and are a truly wonderful family.

A WELL-KNOWN EDITOR.

Something About the New President of the Editorial Association.

Hon. W. S. Cappeller, the president of the National Editorial association, is editor of the Mansfield (O.) Daily News, and is one of the leading newspaper men of that state. He was born in 1839 and went into newspaper work at an early age. In addition to making an enviable reputation in journalistic circles Mr. Cappeller has been elected and appointed to many offices of honor and trust. He has been county auditor of Cincinnati, chairman of the Ohio republican committee and occupied other prominent positions in state politics. He is a man of great executive ability, untiring energy and much shrewdness. He is a prominent odd fellow, having been grand master of Ohio in 1878. Personally he is popular, of pleasing address and fine social qualities. The association, says the Journalist, made no mistake when it elected him to its presidency.

HON. W. S. CAPPELLER.

A Seven-by-Thirteen Coincidence.

Nathaniel Witherell, who died at Glen's Falls, N. Y., always regarded himself a living oddity. He was the thirteenth child and the seventh son of his parents and the youngest child in the family. Mrs. Witherell, who still survives her husband, occupies the same relative position in her father's family, being the thirteenth and youngest child and the seventh daughter of her parents. When Mr. Witherell died they had been married sixty-five years, five times thirteen.

A Boot and Shoe Museum.

One section of the great historical collection at Dresden is literally a museum of boots and shoes, being, it is believed, unequaled in the world as a repository for the footwear of celebrities. Among the things of interest shown are a pair of those worn by Martin Luther at the diet of Worms, and the toilet slippers of the great Maria Theresa. In a sealed case are shown the boots worn by Napoleon at the battle of Dresden, and the jack boots of Peter the Great.

WILL THEY UNITE?

Rumors of a Deal Between Gould and Huntington.

GIGANTIC RAILWAY COMBINE.

Secret of Mr. Gould's Missouri Pacific Policy Thought to Have Been Solved.

If the Scheme Goes Through All the Railroads in the Southern Belt Except One Will Be in the Hands of the Pair--Granger Roads Will Be Shut Out of the Grain Traffic.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—The excitement occasioned the past few days by Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific affairs has been augmented by the report that Messrs. Gould and Huntington have a great railway deal in view which is shortly to be consummated.

The competitors in grain traffic now of the Southwestern system, which includes the Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific and branch lines, are the Atchison, Rock Island, Chicago & Alton, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Northwestern and St. Paul and branch lines.

By the Memphis connection recently referred to by Mr. Gould the Missouri Pacific and Central Pacific systems will be enabled to lay down grain at New Orleans for the same price that the other granger roads do in Chicago. By this the grain traffic of pretty much the entire Southwest will be diverted to the Southwestern system, as tidewater is reached at New Orleans, whereas it is 1,000 miles from Chicago.

Ocean freights are proverbially lower from New Orleans than from New York, and Mr. Huntington will add to the great grain carrying trade of the Southwest the transcontinental traffic from California over the Southern Pacific.

The connection at Memphis will bring Southwestern system in close relations with the Richmond Terminal, which owes $9,000,000 floating debt, and if Mr. Gould sees fit to go to its assistance the Southwestern system may extend its control to this company, thus including all the railroads in the southern belt of the country, except the Louisville & Nashville.

The report seems the more plausible, because Mr. Gould, in planning a railroad deal, usually starts by reducing everything to a cheap basis, so that the new connections can be acquired economically. This, it is said, is the true explanation of his policy in the Missouri Pacific.

PUT POWDER IN FIREWOOD.

Patrick Larkin, Whose Record is Bad, Tries to Blow Up a House.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Sep. 29.—An attempt was made to blow up the two-story frame building occupied by Ann Welsh, a widow, and her daughter, by placing a carefully prepared block of wood loaded with powder where it would be used in starting the fire in the morning. The attempt was unsuccessful, as a neighbor had noticed the suspicious actions of Patrick Larkin, and told the Welshs, and they did not use the wood.

Larkin has evaded arrest by taking a train for Chicago. Five years ago while Larkin was a night watchman he fatally shot a man named David Kline who was resisting arrest.

Larkin was convicted of manslaughter and sent to prison for five years. Governor Hill pardoned him after serving two years. Larkin has several wealthy relatives residing here.

English Cricketers Defeated.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 29.—The outcome of the cricket match between Lord Hawkes' English team and the Philadelphians' was a great surprise, the victory of the home team creating great excitement. When the Philadelphia team began their second inning they needed 183 runs to win, which they secured with the loss of but two wickets. Lord Hawkes was greatly chagrined at the defeat of his team but will endeavor to secure revenge on Thursday when a return match will be played.

His Sentence Mitigated.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 29.—The President has passed upon the record of the court-martial in the case of Col. Charles E. Compton, Fourth Cavalry, who was found guilty of negligence while in command of the military post at Walla Walla, Wash., where some of his soldiers attacked the jail and lynched a gambler named Hunt, under arrest for killing a soldier. The President mitigated the sentence to suspension from the rank and command on half pay for two years.

Could Make No Outcry From Terror.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sep. 29.—A bold robber entered the residence of E. C. Barlow, a New York white lead manufacturer, at Roselle, yesterday morning, and going into the latter's bedroom, rifled his clothing, securing a gold watch worth $125 and $80 in bills. Mrs. Barlow awoke while the thief was searching her husband's clothes, but was so terrified that she did not make any outcry until the burglar left the room and escaped.

Think It Was a Fixed Affair.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 29.—Harry Darin, the English champion, and T. C. McClellan, of this city, ran a three-mile footrace yesterday, for $250 a side, McClellan won the race by two yards in 15 minutes, 4 2-5 seconds. Darin was favorite in the betting 2 to 1, and some people who placed their money on him, now think the race was a fixed affair.

Drove First Railroad Stake in Chicago.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sep. 29.—Archibald R. Taylor, a civil engineer, died at his home in Pine Brush yesterday morning, aged 80 years. He assisted in the original survey of the Erie Railroad, and was the first man to drive a railroad stake in Chicago, after a tedious tramp of 40 days, in 1837.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS.

Assembled In State Convention—The Probable Nominations.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sep. 29.—The Democratic State convention was called to order a little before noon, by Hon. P. A. Collins. After the several committees had been announced, a recess of two hours was taken, after which a permanent organization will be effected.

Governor Russell will undoubtedly be renominated for Governor, and John W. Corcoran, of Clinton, for Lieutenant-Governor.

It is likely that Elbridge Cushman will be nominated for Secretary of the Commonwealth, and D. Trefry, of Marblehead, will get the nomination for Auditor. They were on last year's ticket.

New men will probably be selected for Attorney-General and for State Treasurer.

HOARDED FOR 70 YEARS.

The Economites Send Over a Barrel of Silver to Help Their Bank.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sep. 29.—Yesterday the Economites shipped to the Economy Savings Bank of this city a nail keg full of old United States silver coins as bright and as new as when they left the mint. The coins were principally half dollars dated 1823, showing that they have been hoarded away in Economy for nearly 70 years.

A small run on the bank caused the Economites to send out the money. It is believed that they have several hundred thousand dollars in gold and silver stowed away in their strong boxes in secret hiding places at Economy, guarded by some of the faithful. Nearly every year they send a keg of ancient money to the bank here.

"OUR CHAUNCEY" CALLED DOWN.

A London Paper Takes Him to Task For His Observations On Whitechapel.

LONDON, Sep. 29.—The London "Chronicle," in commenting on the recently cabled dispatch giving a description of his visit to Whitechapel, by Dr. Chauncey M. Depew, declares that while that portion of London no doubt is wretched enough, the learned doctor would not have to travel far from the Grand Central Station to find sights quite as horrible, but of which he apparently knows nothing.

It adds that a recent visitor to the slums of the East End from Chicago, who went over every inch of the ground, stated that he saw nothing so revolting as he had witnessed in his native city.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN.

A Discharged Domestic Assaults Her Mistress and is Shot.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., Sep. 29.—Mrs. White shot and instantly killed Miss Belle Jamison yesterday morning.

The dead woman first attacked Mrs. White with a club, then drew a pistol and fired one shot at Mrs. White.

The latter seized the pistol and shot her assailant twice in the breast and through the head, death ensuing instantly.

The girl had been working for Mrs. White and became enraged at being discharged. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Dunham a Former Baltimorean.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 29.—Col. Bradford Dunham, who killed James Cunningham Sunday in Montgomery, Ala., was well known in this city. The wife of Colonel Dunham was Miss Sophie B. Dunnington, daughter of Mr. William A. Dunnington of this city. Colonel Dunham came to Baltimore in 1884 as the successor of General Manager W. F. Clement of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. On August 11, 1886, he married Miss Dunnington, and in the following April resigned his position with the Baltimore & Ohio and removed his residence to Alabama.

A Preacher Gone Wrong.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sep. 29.—A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Rev. John D. Knox for embezzlement. The complaint is made by L. O. Fisk, of Boston, who alleges that Knox, as his agent, collected money and refused to turn it over. Knox's principal business was the negotiation of loans for Eastern investors. It is stated that twenty similar warrants will be issued. Knox is a Methodist preacher and very prominent in the Church.

Big Strike Imminent.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 29.—A strike of Hocking Valley miners is imminent. Mine bosses in Hadley's and W. P. Rend's mines have discharged Union men. There will be a conference between Hadley, Rend and officers of the Union Mine Workers here to-morrow, when, if the action is not satisfactorily explained, a strike will be ordered. Hadley and Rend virtually control the coal mining in the Hocking Valley.

Political Amenity.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 29.—In his speech here last night, J. Sloat Fassett, Republican nominee for Governor, who is stumping the State, eulogized the character of Roswell P. Flower, his Democratic opponent, saying that it was not a campaign of personal slander.

TIRED OF THE YOKE

Baroness De Stures Applies for a Divorce.

A FORMER NEW YORK BELLE.

She Alleges Extreme Cruelty on the Part of Her Husband.

The Baron, Who is Belgian Minister in Paris, Said to Have Been Anxious to Control His Wife's Estate—Tried to Shut Her Up in an Insane Asylum—The Baroness Stole Away from Home at Midnight—She Was a Niece of John Jacob Astor.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—Baroness De Stures, wife of the Belgian Minister in Paris, yesterday filed papers in a suit for divorce against her husband, at Sioux Falls, S. D. The papers were served on the Baron in Paris on Saturday and he has cabled instructions to an attorney to make an appearance and defence.

The complaint recites that the Baron and Baroness were married in New York, May 20, 1875, and that ever since their marriage the Baron has pursued a course of extreme cruelty toward the plaintiff.

While in Paris she says that the Baron applied foul epithets and accused his wife of not being chaste; that on June 24, 1890, defendant by fraud and false representation attempted to procure her incarceration in an institution for the confinement of insane persons.

This last fact will be decided in the trial. It is maintained that the Baron was anxious to secure control of his wife's estate, the annual income of which is estimated at $80,000, and to do this it was necessary to prove she was insane.

To escape the evil schemes of her husband the Baroness left the home of her husband in Paris at midnight and took the train for Germany. Then she came to America, where she was advised by relatives to secure a separation.

Before her marriage the Baroness was a Miss Carey, niece of John Jacob Astor, and her marriage was a society sensation in New York.

MR. LODGE'S REPLY.

The Only Grounds on Which He Will Debate With Governor Russell.

BOSTON, Sep. 29.—The Democratic State Committee sent a reply to Henry Cabot Lodge's letter accepting the invitation to meet the Hon. John E. Russell in joint debate "On the Issues of Campaign," and in which Mr. Lodge named the dates at his disposal and the subjects he would discuss.

The committee, in their letter, state that they had not supposed that, prior to conference with them, Mr. Lodge would assume to narrow these issues to the extent indicated by the subjects he named, and that they did not invite him to frame these issues without consultation with them.

In a letter of reply Mr. Lodge says:

"In your letter of September 25 you challenged me to meet Mr. John E. Russell in a series of joint debates on the issues of the campaign. You also said you would be glad to confer with me or my representatives in regard to making arrangements for such meeting.

"I accepted your challenge at once. I gave you the only three nights at my disposal—Oct. 23, 29 and 31. I authorized the Republican State Committee to confer with you in regard to arrangements for such meeting. You did not invite me to confer with you about the subjects of discussion.

"You said absolutely nothing in your letter about my consulting with you as to framing the subjects of debate. You invited me broadly to discuss the issues of the campaign.

"As the challenged party I had an undoubted right to name the subjects to be discussed and especially so when you had waived all selection yourselves by challenging me to discuss the issues of the campaign without naming any. I exercised my right and named three: 'Governor Russell's administration,' 'The attitude of the National Democratic party on the silver question, 'and the prices of the necessaries of life as affected by the McKinley tariff bill.'

"I am sorry these subjects do not meet the approval of your taste on the exigencies of your situation, but that fact gives you no claim to alter them now.

"I decline to modify the terms of my acceptance of your challenge.

"Very truly,

"HON. H. C. LODGE."

London Postoffice in a Bad Way.

LONDON, Sep. 29.—The editor of the "United Service Gazette" has created a sensation by his attack upon the postoffice management. In the August issue of the "Gazette" the editor complained that his correspondence had been tampered with, and this month he follows up his charge with a statement that he has received hundreds of letters from all parts of England declaring that the postoffice is riddled with peculation and petty theft, and that the detective service has broken down. The public believes the charges.

The Circassia to Start Again.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—The Anchor line steamer Circassia, which left this port for Moville and Glasgow on Saturday and was obliged to return because of the damage which she suffered in a collision with the schooner Daylight, will sail again to-morrow. The injury to her bow, although quite serious, will be repaired as rapidly as possible, and the agents of the vessel expect that she will be ready for the voyage to-morrow night. She will carry all the passengers which were booked for her, as well as the cargo, none of which has been unloaded.

Duffra's Murderer Jailed.

NEWARK, N. J., Sep. 29.—Dominick Lappa, the Italian who caused the death of Dominick Duffra, a countryman, by stabbing him fatally in a street fight, was turned over to the keeper of the county jail yesterday, where he will remain until tried. A coroner's inquest will be held this week. Those who had known the dead man, who had been in this country only six months, say that he was always peaceable and quiet, and that Lappa's attack upon him was uncalled for and cowardly.

The $10,000 Beauty in Court.

BOSTON, Sep. 29.—In the Municipal Court James Stevenson, a real estate man, brought suit against Mike Kelly, the baseball player, for rent of lodging room in the International Hotel for 17 days for $2 a day. Kelly testified that he lodged there about 17 days, but the price was $1.50 a day instead of $2, and settled for the same. Then Judge Ely said: "Enter judgment for defendant." Kelly thought that Judge Ely would make a good umpire.

They Blew Out the Gas.

NEWARK, N. J., Sep. 29.—Mrs. Amelia Solone, who, with her 4-year-old child, was found unconscious from the effects of blowing out the gas upon going to bed, is slowly recovering at the City Hospital. The boy, however, died shortly after his admission to the hospital. Together with her husband Mrs. Solone came from Boston on Saturday. They were to take a steamship yesterday for Italy.

Grape Inspection Continuing.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—Health officers are still inspecting the grapes in the market in this city, but have made but few seizures. The local inspectors are less headstrong in the matter since the protests of the grape growers and the statement of the officials of the Department of Agriculture that the green on the grape stems is harmless.

Fierce Oil Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 29.—As the result of an explosion of oil yesterday afternoon in the wholesale coal oil house of Phillips & Cunningham, North Delaware avenue, five large buildings, extending from Delaware avenue, were burned and eight firmen were injured, none, it is believed, seriously. The loss is about half a million dollars.

Estimate for Mint Service.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 29.—Director Leach of the United States Mint has submitted his estimate for mint service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893. He estimates that the cost will be $1,126,761, which is a reduction from the appropriation for the United States Mint service for the current fiscal year.

A Month's Exports and Imports.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 29.—Exports of merchandise from the United States during August past aggregated in value $72,750,753, against $56,189,245 in August, 1890. Imports during August past were valued at $66,394,754, against $61,200,440 in August, 1890.

Cranberry Bogs on Fire.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sep. 29.—A fire has swept over the cranberry bogs of George Dunfee Steele and Vanzant, between Bright-ton and Cranberry Park. Neither of these bogs was half through picked. The damage will be heavy.

A PERSECUTED MAN

Misfortunes That Have Followed a Physician.

A VICTIM OF VILLAGE HATE.

Many Attempts Made to Burn Him Out, Two of Them Successful.

Several Times Arrested on Trumped-Up Charges—"White Cap" Notices Received by Him in Profusion—Believes the Persecution Will Not Stop till He Is Driven from Home.

BATH BEACH, L. I., Sep. 29.—Dr. David Ze Waltoff of this place believes he is the victim of a series of persecutions instigated by alleged enemies who are trying to drive him from the town.

The latest development was a fire, supposed to be incendiary, which broke out in the doctor's drug store, known as the West End Pharmacy, yesterday. Dr. Ze Waltoff was in New York at the time, but his brother Gerald and the drug clerk were both asleep in the store. Their lives were saved by Henry Arens, a neighbor, who broke into the store and aroused the inmates.

Two years ago the drug store was totally destroyed by fire at a loss of $30,000, and since it was rebuilt several attempts to set it on fire again have been made.

The doctor alleges that the persecution began about two years ago. He was arrested on a charge of criminal assault preferred by Mrs. Belker, wife of Louis Belker, a painter. The charge could not be substantiated.

While the doctor was in jail Mr. Belker offered to settle the case if the defendant would pay $1,000 and leave the country. The offer was indignantly refused. Ze Waltoff was arraigned before Justice Church and was discharged. He was at once rearrested on the same charge and was tried before Judge Cullen in Brooklyn, but was acquitted.

An attempt was then made to set fire to his residence and he removed to the drug store and slept there. He has frequently received "White Cap" notices, but he paid no attention to them. About a month ago the doctor was arrested, he claimed illegally, on a warrant issued by Health Officer DeMund for allowing water to stagnate under his drug store. He proved that he was not responsible for the cellar, as he only rented the store. He believes the persecution will not stop until he has driven from the town.

NO MORE SHIPS TO CHILI.

Secretary Tracy Does Not Regard the Situation There as Threatening.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 29.—Secretary Tracy, while declining to make a statement relative to the conference at the White House yesterday morning, said that he did not intend to send any more ships to Chili, and that he did not regard the situation there as threatening.

In response to an inquiry about reports that a revolt had broken out among the troops at Santiago, Senor Montt, the Chilian Congressional Envoy at Washington, has received a dispatch from Senor Matta, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, saying that "Peace has not been nor will it be disturbed, least of all by military revolts."

Senor Montt has also received a dispatch confirming the published reports of the appointment of Senor Manuel A. Matta, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Senor Augustin Edwards, as Minister of Industries and Public Works. He has not received anything from Chili of the reported arrest of three American citizens at Santiago and the stationing of a force of police outside of the American Legation there.

The Cut-Down Postponed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sep. 29.—The meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association was largely attended. It was called for the purpose of hearing the report of the executive committee, which was ordered on September 2 to prepare a revised schedule of wages, and also to take final action in the matter of a cut-down to go into effect October 5. The committee was ready to report, but it was decided to instruct them to hold the report back for the present. The action of the association has lifted a load from the minds of operatives and business men, who were fully alive to the fact that a prolonged strike would follow a reduction.

An Old Army Officer Gone.

FREDONIA, N. Y., Sep. 29.—Capt. Gustavus A. Hull, U. S. A., retired, who died yesterday, of pneumonia, in San Francisco, was born in this place in 1827. In 1869 he was made a storekeeper in the Quartermaster's department and given charge of all the stores of clothing and camp and garrison equipage at Louisville. In 1866 he was made captain, the highest rank in his branch of the service.

A Row Leads to Murder.

WHITESTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 29.—William Mitchell became engaged in a row with William Henkstone, on the banks of the Erie Canal here yesterday afternoon, and in a fit of anger drew a revolver and fired two shots at Henkstone. Henkstone, after going a few rods, fell to the ground. He was taken to the house of his mother, where he died a few hours later.

Freight Handlers Strike.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sep. 29.—The freight handlers employed at the New England freight house struck work because they were not paid for overtime. Their places have been filled. They were paid $1.50 a day.

Sponge Cake

BY MARIA PARLOA.

For two thin sheets or one thick loaf of cake use one scant pint of flour, three gills of fine granulated sugar, one gill of cold water, three eggs, the juice of one lemon, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of Cleveland's Baking Powder. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, and gradually beat into them the sugar, then the yolks of the eggs, next the lemon, juice and finally the salt. Beat this mixture for ten minutes. Now add the cold water and then the flour, in which the baking powder should first be mixed. Beat for two minutes; after which pour the batter into well buttered pans and bake in a moderate oven. If in one loaf it will require forty-five minutes baking, but if in two pans, twenty or twenty-five minutes will be enough. Success depends upon the sugar being beaten with the eggs for a long time.

(Copyright, 1891.)

Success is assured only when Cleveland's baking powder is used.

M'CAMANT ON THE STAND.

The Auditor-General Denies that He Shared in Rebates on Advertising.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sep. 29.—Auditor General McCamant was last night again before the Legislative Committee investigating the Auditor-General's and State Treasurer's departments. He emphatically denied that he had ever received any checks from ex-City Treasurer Bardsley of Philadelphia, or that he ever shared in any newspaper rebates on public advertising bills.

He said he never knew of these rebates, and that he never had conversation with anyone as to the price of the advertisements before they were given out. The "burn this letter" postscript to one of his letters to Bardsley, was written only because he did not want the letter to fall into the hands of people he had criticised.

He wrote to Bardsley about the Keystone Bank because he knew it was a city depository, and he feared that State funds were there.

The Auditor-General stated that for more than 30 years the Philadelphia Treasurers have been in arrears to the State during their terms.

THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

To Be Prorogued To-Morrow—Probable Completion of the New Cabinet.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sep. 29. — Parliament will be prorogued to-morrow afternoon. It is learned on excellent authority that the re-construction of the Cabinet will take place almost immediately.

Peter White, the present Speaker of the House of Commons, will succeed Senator Frank Smith as Minister of Public Works and will be followed in the Speakership by J. F. Wood, M. P., for Brockville. Senator Carling, Minister of Agriculture, will be succeeded by Hugh John Macdonald, M. P., for Winnipeg, son of the late Sir John Macdonald.

Other changes will probably be made, including the retirement of Caron, Minister of Militia, who will be succeeded by G. A. Kirkpatrick, of Kingston.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Charles Wagner, 10 years old, was killed by the cars at East Rochester, N. Y., yesterday.

The striking weavers at the Barna by mill, Fall River, Mass, returned to work yesterday.

Judge William P. Powers, formerly of New York city, died at Newburgh, N. Y., yesterday.

The President has recognized Rafael Luna, jr., as Consul from the Republic of Venezuela at Philadelphia.

Walter, Cook & Wagner, New York lawyers, have purchased two of the street railway systems of New Haven, Conn.

Jim Hall, the Australian, easily defeated Tommy Ryan, of Chicago, in that city last night, in a sparring match.

Emmons Blaine has accepted a position with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with headquarters in Chicago.

Herman Melville, a well known literary man, died in New York, yesterday. He was the author of several popular seafaring stories and volumes of poems.

Leonard S. Northrup of Broadalbin, N. Y., committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself in a barn. He was 67 years of age. He had been melancholy of late.

William Barnie, formerly manager of the Baltimore Baseball Club, has resigned, and signed with the Athletics. He will assume the management of the Athletics to-day.

James E. Goddin, 62 years old, at one time a wealthy lawyer of Richmond, Va., died in poverty in the Workhouse, on Blackwells Island, New York, two days ago. Drink had been his ruin.

The match race at Garfield Park, Chicago, yesterday, between Van Buren and Ernest Race, for $1,000 a side with $500 added by the club, was easily won by Ernest Race by three lengths. Time, 1:46 3-4.

Fenian Stephens in Dublin.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Don't forget the benefit game Saturday. Everybody ought to go.

—There will be a very enjoyable vocal and instrumental concert at Reform Hall Thursday evening.

—The annual meeting of the Congregational church and society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the church.

—Engine Co. No. 1 was given permission by the Common Council last night to go to the Somerville firemen's parade, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

—Howey Drake, son of H. C. Drake, had a long splinter of yellow pine extracted from the ball of his foot, by Dr. Berg, this morning.

—The special meeting of the Plainfield Common Council last night was attended by all the members. The session began at 8:40 and ended at 10:15.

—All was quietness within the concert saloons last evening. The proprietors all obeyed the provisions of the new ordinance and the Mayor's notification thereof.

—A meeting was held last evening in in Tiernan's store, Roselle, for the purpose of organizing a lodge of Knights of Pythias. Prominent members of the order were present from Newark, Plainfield and Keyport.

—All young men and boys interested in the study of short-hand, mechanical drawing, book-keeping, and penmanship, are requested to apply at once at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The membership fee, $2, entitles to all privileges in the association.

—The United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association advertise their second great special sale of teas, coffees and groceries, to take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and cordially invites everybody to call and get a catalogue of prices for these days.

—The property holders on Liberty street in the vicinity of the railway track still loudly complain of the lack of proper drainage. Every heavy rain fills their cellars with foul-smelling water which results in decay and disease. They demand instant relief from the authorities.

—J. V. Berkaw, successor to George W. Force, 11 West Front street, has received his fall and winter stock of boots and shoes, and is selling them low for cash. His many years' experience with Mr. Force enables him to meet the demands of his customers, both in style and price.

—Not only were the West Ends afraid to play another game against the Crescents, but they were also afraid of the Westfield nine that the Crescents defeated with so much ease. Manager Mack of Somerville, asked the Crescent managers to refuse to let the West Ends have the grounds, so the West Ends would have a reason for not playing the Westfields.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. Howard Leggett, manager of the Central pharmacy, is again at his post of duty, after a week's rest at Delaware Water Gap.

Mrs. L. Cole, of 78 Duer street, has returned home after a four weeks' rest among her friends and relatives in Hunterdon county.

Mrs. K. Tucker, with her daughter, Mrs. N. W. French, and her granddaughter, Miss Ella Conkey, has returned from a three weeks' visit at Ocean Grove.

Miss Kate Bealby leaves London for America next week to play in Augustin Daly's "Last Word" with Miss Paget and Frank Dietz on their American tour. The company is booked by the new management of Music Hall, to appear in this city, February 24.

Auguste Saltzman, Charles Tallman and Benjamin Spicer, three delegates from the Firemen's Relief association to the State convention at Atlantic City, left to-day, in company with Chief Doane, for that place, where there headquarters will be the Brady House. They will return Saturday.

Col. Mulligan, formerly of this city, the brother of Mrs. Gov. Green, of Elizabeth, is just now the guest of Mrs. Belle Nelson, at Lenox. The New York Town Topics says: "The name Mulligan is hardly consistent with aristocratic Lenox, but the aristocratic resorts are fast becoming democratic, and the name of Gebhard is scarcely better than Mulligan, though more euphonic."

Crushed Under a Falling Pulley.

Henry Anderson, a Dane, who has been in this country only 20 months, all of that time at the Pond Machine Tool Works, was frightfully injured at the shop yesterday. He was fixing a pulley to be used in hauling up a new dynamo to put it on a shaft when the rope gave way, and the heavy pulley fell and crushed him to the earth. His skull was terribly torn, and his left leg suffered a compound fracture and was badly crushed. He bled a great deal. The workmen crowded around, and considerable excitement prevailed. He was taken to the hospital, where this afternoon he is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires's Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires's Root Beer Packages make.

LIVELY TIME IN THE COUNCIL.

When the Peace Street Ordinance Is Demanded of Mr. Rushmore, He Buttons It Up in His Pocket and Refuses to Surrender.

Nearly an hour's time was consumed by the Plainfield Common Council last night in warfare over the project to widen Peace street and open it to North Plainfield.

The matter was opened by a report from Mr. Rushmore, chairman of the committee on laws and ordinances, to whom the matter had been referred. He said that since the North Plainfield end of the matter had been so much in doubt the committee had bided their time awaiting counselor Marsh's return from Europe. Now that Mr. Marsh was back the matter was being pushed forward. The proposed ordinance was in his hands, and the committee purposed presenting it at the regular meeting next Monday.

Mr. Hetfield insisted on having the matter pushed through at once, that very night. In his opinion the project had been delayed long enough already.

Mr. Ackerman protested against the imputation that the committee had been dilatory. Their sole desire in holding back the ordinance—he said—was to perfect it.

Mr. Hetfield moved to have the ordinance passed on its first reading that night.

Mr. Rushmore objected. He said that the council had had several examples of faulty ordinances, and the committee did n't want this to have to be doctored up after passage. He preferred to have it held till it was perfected.

Counselor March said that what had been hoped for was concerted action between the Plainfield and North Plainfield councils. Under a law of '73 such action was possible. All that was necessary was a joint petition of citizens, which was now being prepared; and without the passage of any ordinance at all, three commissioners could be appointed to assess damages and benefits. This ordinance that was under discussion had been prepared only so that the city might be prepared to take action on its own behalf in case concerted action should not be possible. The part of the ordinance that fell to a lawyer's lot had been prepared; but since the insertion, by the surveyor of the proposed street, of the description, distances, angles, etc., it had been found necessary to make a number of interlineations, so that the ordinance was still in somewhat crude shape.

Mr. Hetfield said that the city ought to go ahead, do its share of opening the street to the brook, and leave the borough to settle its own part of the matter.

Mr. Ginna asked what benefit would accrue therefrom, and urged that the council wait till North Plainfield was ready, then take joint action.

Mr. Hetfield did not agree in the idea of waiting. Let us do our own part,—he said—open the street to the brook, and settle our assessments and benefits. The North Plainfield people were quoted as saying that they wanted further legislation this winter before going ahead. Why should Plainfield wait? There was no reason for further delay. The street would certainly go through. If the city waited, the Y. M. C. A. would go on and build and improve, and then to open the street would cost the city far more.

Mr. Hetfield renewed his motion that the ordinance be taken up and read for the first time. He said: Don't wait. If we do, we shall have to help pay the borough damages too. The ordinance ought to have been adopted two months ago, and by this time the commissioners would have been appointed and would be at work. He again charged the committee with unnecessary delay.

Mr. Rushmore for the committee denied that there had been any delay. They had held meetings and pushed the project as much as had been practicable.

Mr. Hetfield said that the Peace street people had complained bitterly of the committee's inaction.

Mr. Rushmore retorted that no grievances had been heard of by the committee, and held that if the matter was as bad as Mr. Hetfield made out they would have heard of it.

Mr. Hetfield called for the vote on his motion.

Mr. Ackerman jumped to his feet and smilingly asked how the council were going to get hold of the ordinance. Mr. Rushmore tugged at Mr. Ackerman's coat tails and in an aside urged him to sit down.

Mr. Hetfield had seen Mr. Rushmore get the ordinance from Mr. Marsh, and in consequence moved that the ordinance in the hands of Mr. Rushmore be presented for its first reading.

Mr. Rushmore said: This ordinance is in the hands of the law and ordinance committee, who were instructed to have it drawn. As I understand the rights of a member, we cannot be compelled to submit an ordinance we are not satisfied is ready. We therefore decline to present it.

Mr. Hetfield then moved that the previous motion lie on the table, and that all papers, maps, etc., in reference to the Peace street project, be taken out of the hands of the committee and referred back to the council. This was carried by the vote of 6 to 5, councilmen Ackerman, Ginna, Johnston, Rushmore and See voting no.

Mr. Hetfield—I move that the ordinance be taken from the table for its first reading.

Mr. See—What ordinance? I see none.

President Smith—The ordinance that the committee were ordered to report back.

Mr. See—I wish the committee had one.

Mr. Hetfield—It is boy's play to ask what ordinance.

Mr. See—It is not boy's play. The so-called ordinance is only a memorandum for the committee's guidance in making up an ordinance.

Mr. Rushmore—There is a motion recorded on the minutes ordering this committee to draw up a Peace street ordinance. We have drawn up none. What we have in our pocket we do not call an ordinance. It is only a private memorandum. And we don't propose to deliver it up.

All this Mr. Hetfield continued to consider mere boy's play—"and very small boy's play at that". The corporation counsel had said that he had drawn up an ordinance and that it was all there except that some interlineations had been made. All the substance was there, and it was ready for action.

Mr. Rushmore said that he did n't want to be misunderstood in the matter. The committee would return the maps, etc., concerning the Peace street project, but it would return no ordinance, for it had none.

Mr. Hetfield inquired if the corporation counsel had not presented to the committee an ordinance in the matter, and if the committee had not such an ordinance in its possession.

No:—said Mr. Rushmore—not as an ordinance.

Mr. Hetfield inquired if he was to understand that the committee refused to return to the council the ordinance given to them by the corporation counsel and now in their possession.

President Smith said that he was compelled to ask Mr. Rushmore to deliver up the ordinance.

Mr. Rushmore held that there was no return about it. The paper had never yet been presented to the council, and would not be presented that night.

Mr. Ackerman attempted to draw what he termed a parallel case. Mr. Hetfield objected to his talking except on the point at issue. Mr. Ackerman maintained the floor, and kept on speaking till he got ready to sit down. He said that in the old water-works matter, six or seven meetings ago, he and others of the councilmen had asked for information concerning some papers that had been addressed to the council, that had been referred to the water board, and that the inquirer had never seen or heard read. At that time all information was refused, and the protestants were not permitted to see the papers.

Mr. Hetfield argued that if an order had been made by the council, as in the present case, for the committee to surrender the papers, the attempt to enforce the order would have prevailed, would have been submitted to, by the committee.

Mr. Hetfield made some sarcastic remarks about the case Mr. Ackerman had quoted being "very parallel—oh, yes!"—at which councilman Ackerman and councilman Rushmore, who had been grinning gleefully, snickered aloud.

Mr. Hetfield heard the laughter, and got very red in the face.

The gentlemen may laugh,—he said—but before long they'll laugh on the other side of their mouth. They are very insolent, impudent. They're afraid we of this side of the house will get some of the credit for opening Peace street: that's why they are seeking delay.

At this the councilmen referred to smiled more broadly than ever. Mr. Hetfield continued:

Of course if the gentleman won't submit to being ordered to surrender the ordinance, it won't be taken out of his pocket. At least I shan't make the attempt, or deputize anybody to. But there is a way to meet this obstinacy, and that is to have another ordinance drawn.

Mr. See interposed that he had the opening of Peace street just as much at heart as had anyone. [Yes: it looks like it!—ejaculated Mr. Hetfield.] But—Mr. See resumed—I don't want to vote for the passage of any ordinance till I know that the ordinance is ready. Mr. Rushmore tells us that when it is prepared he will furnish a copy to each member.

Mr. Rushmore reiterated that the committee would willingly return to the council everything pertaining to the matter that the council had given it. But it did n't purpose to be forced to do the work of passing an incomplete ordinance. It would do no work except openly, honestly, thoroughly.

Mr. Hetfield had the last word of the evening's discussion. I understand—he said—that the committee return the maps, etc.—all except the ordinance. Well, then, I move that from the fact that the law and ordinance committee decline to deliver up the ordinance prepared by the corporation counsel and given by him to the committee, the motion to take up the ordinance on its first reading lie on the table.

This was carried, 6 to 5, councilmen Ackerman, Ginna, Johnston, Rushmore and See voting no.

By the same vote Mr. Hetfield's motion was carried that the corporation counsel be instructed to draw up the necessary ordinance for the widening of Peace street and present it for action at the next regular meeting of the council.

In this way the matter was left, evidently to the satisfaction of both parties—so far as satisfaction could be secured. The committee won their point in preventing the ordinance from being presented, and the others did not prevent the week's delay they were seeking to avoid. It was n't a howling victory for anybody.

No More Unsightly Poles Than Necessary.

The North Plainfield Electric Light company presented to the Common Council last night a supplement to their recent petition to extend their lighting system into this city. In it they asked for the privilege of putting their wires underground instead of on overhead poles, where desirable. The matter was referred to the committee on public lights.

THE WAR AGAINST COMPETITION.

The City Ordered to Submit Its Testimony in the Low Water-works Case.

The water-works fight goes merrily on. The fourteen citizens who have reared themselves up as an obstruction in the way of J. M. Low's company have succeeded in causing further delay in the introduction of the service which is intended to compete with the one already introduced.

Corporation counsel Craig A. Marsh received from the supreme court, a day or two ago, the following letter:

TRENTON, Sept. 26, 1891.

I have decided to let the writ stand in the Plainfield case argued last Wednesday. The questions presented are certainly debatable, and the relators are entitled to the judgment of the supreme court upon them. Unless the status is preserved the suit if successful would be comparatively fruitless.

Yours truly,
B. VAN SYCKLE.

In presenting this communication to the Common Council, last night, Mr. Marsh stated that it would now be necessary to make a return to the writ, to take evidence touching the questions raised as to the facts, and to argue the case before the court. Of course,—he added—in the face of the last sentence in the letter of the court, which insists on the present state of affairs continuing till judgment is rendered, it would be idle to make further effort to prevent the writ operating as a stay pending decision.

Councilman Hetfield moved that it be the sense of the council that the testimony be speedily taken so that it may come before the November term of court.

Mr. Ginna asked if the city would have to pay for it. Mr. Hetfield said that that depended on the final result; costs of course would go with the verdict. The case could not be argued till the testimony was submitted, and the matter ought to be settled as speedily as possible.

The motion was carried. Mr. Ackerman, and one or two others whose voices were not distinguished, voted no.

A NEW STREET RAILWAY PROJECT.

The Columbia Navigation Company Wants to Cover the City with Its Lines, and Perhaps Make Plainfield a Second Venice.

The eyes of capitalists whose specialty is to give suburban cities local rapid transit are still turned towards Plainfield. At last night's meeting of the Common Council a petition was presented asking for a franchise to construct and operate a street railway over the following routes:

Route 1—Beginning at the intersection of Broadway and East Fourth street, passing through East Fourth street, through West Fourth street, through Plainfield avenue, through West Third street, through Rushmore avenue (a new street the other side of Clinton avenue, where real estate is being "boomed"), to the city limits.

Route 2—Beginning at the city limits, passing through West Fifth and East Fifth streets, through Broadway, through East Fourth and Short Fourth streets, through Richmond street, through Putnam avenue, through Hillside avenue, through Broadway, through Woodland avenue, through South avenue, to the city limits.

Route 3—Beginning at the city limits, passing through East Front street to Johnston avenue, through Broadway, through North avenue, to Park avenue.

The company agree to use any motive power the council and company agree on. The name of the concern is the Columbia Navigation and Commercial Company of New York.

After the meeting the councilmen joked a bit over the title. One laughingly said that perhaps the "navigation" people purposed making Plainfield a second Venice, with canals instead of streets. Another quizzingly wondered if the "navigators" would contract to furnish the boats to send some political aspirants up Salt River at the next election.

The Park Avenue Society Will Entertain All Its Sister Organizations.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will celebrate its third anniversary Thursday evening. All the young people's organizations of Plainfield and vicinity have a special invitation to be present.

The exercises, which will begin at 8 o'clock, promise to be very interesting. James A. Cruikshank, district secretary for Kings county, Brooklyn, will address the meeting. A reception will be held in the lecture room, where all will be very welcome.

The "Beau Brummell of the Middlesex Bar" Will Defend Them.

Cook and Walker, the assaulters of old man Toms, were asked by the court at Somerville, this morning, whether they wished to change the pleas which they made some time ago—that of "guilty" to the bill for robbery, and "not guilty" to assault with intent to kill. They did not wish to change, and their trial was set down for Monday, Oct. 12, at 10 o'clock.

Senator Bob Adrain will defend Cook and Walker, and people may look forward to a most sensational trial.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

—The ordinance to macadamize West Third street, Muhlenberg place, and South Second street, was unanimously adopted on its final passage by the Common Council last night.

Storage Bams Burned.

UTICA, N. Y., Sep. 29.—Assemblyman Mott's cider and storage houses at Bouckville, Madison county, the largest in the county, were totally destroyed by fire last night, entailing a loss of $100,000. The insurance is light. The entire village was threatened, and the flames were only stopped by the aid of fire departments from adjacent towns.

Tillman Indicted.

LOUSVILLE, Ky., Sep. 29.—The grand jury returned two indictments against Major William Tillman for grand larceny and embezzlement, charging him with stealing $7,000 from the Falls City Bank. The witnesses examined included the bank officials and stockholders, Mechanic's Trust Company officials and expert accountants.

Nominated for Congress.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sep. 29.—The Independent Republicans and Democrats have nominated Dr. J. S. Edwards for Congress from the Twenty-second district to succeed Leslie W. Russell, who was nominated for Supreme Court Judge.

Big Sum Paid for a Horse.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—One of the most important horse sales of the year was made yesterday at the Gravesend track. The fying filly a Tosca, which is without doubt the best three-year-old in the country, has been sold by the Hough Brothers to Pierre Lorillard. The price paid was $30,000, which is probably the largest sum ever paid for a horse in this country at private sale.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

NEW LIFE TO THE SEWER PROJECT.

Because of a Clerical Error, All the Former Legislation Has to be Re-enacted.

Councilman Hetfield presented anew to the Common Council last night the maps, specifications, agreement, and ordinance, in the matter of proposed sewers for Plainfield. The documents were exactly the same as those that were passed weeks ago, except that an error had crept in, causing a discrepancy between contract and ordinance, which necessitated the legislation being done all over again. Otherwise it was the same old familiar project of J. M. Low and his associates.

The proposed contract was read. Mr. Ackerman asked if it would be carried out irrespective of the disposition by the courts of the water-works matter.

Mr. Hetfield said that he had every assurance that the contract would be faithfully performed.

Mr. Ginna thought that the sewerage contract was conditional on the Low water-works project being carried out.

President Smith said that there was such a clause in the ordinance.

Mr. Rushmore inquired if the sewerage contract would be put through irrespective of that.

Mr. Hetfield responded that as was well-known the water contract had already been granted, but had been hung up in the courts. But,—he said—even if the decision in that case should be in favor of the Low company, it could not proceed to build the works unless it built the sewers too. On the other hand, the sewers could not be built without the water-works. The one depended on the other.

Mr. Hetfield presented a resolution that the city execute the contract with the Low company. Mr. Ackerman protested that he could n't see that this new contract was any different than the one that had been so strenuously objected to in the past, and he thought that the council ought to consider what the Mayor had said about the matter.

The resolution to execute the contract was adopted by the vote of 6 to 5.

The Low water-works ordinance was put on its first reading by the same vote. Mr. Ackerman moved to table the ordinance. The motion was lost, 5 to 6. Mr. Hetfield moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance be put on its second reading. Mr. Ackerman objected, and said that the rules could not be suspended except by unanimous consent. President Smith held that it was not necessary to suspend the rules. Mr. Hetfield moved that the ordinance be put on its second reading without suspension. The motion was carried, 6 to 5. The ordinance was then adopted on its second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to its third reading, by the same vote.

In each case the 6 were: Councilmen Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg. And the 5: Councilmen Ackerman, Ginna, Johnston, Rushmore and See.

HIS PREVIOUS CHARACTER SAVED HIM.

Peter Brunn, Released Through the Efforts of Friends in Washington Park, Leaves the Court in Company With the Wife He Did Not Mean to Abuse.

In the court of quarter sessions held at Somerville, this morning, Peter Brunn, of North Plainfield, was called to the bar to answer to an indictment charging him with assault and battery on his wife. His plea was non vult. Charles A. Reed presented a petition to the court, signed by a large number of prominent residents of Washington Park, asking the court to deal with the defendant leniently, as he was a hard-working man, and that they thought the trouble came more from a disordered mind than from any evil intent. The court called Mr. Brunn to the bar and told him that owing to the good reputation which he bore they were inclined to be lenient with him. That he must sign a bond for $100, requiring him to appear at the next term of court for sentence, with the understanding that he would not be called unless something is heard in the meantime against him. Mr. Brunn left the court very happy in company with his wife.

Dr. Ripley to be the First Mayor.

Judge McCormick of the Union County court yesterday issued an order for a special election to be held at Westfield Oct. 20 to decide whether certain parts of that township shall be formed into a borough with the name of Westfield. A petition asking for this to be done was presented to the judge by Chauncey B. Ripley, E. J. Whitehead, and other residents. The petitioners number one-tenth of all the property owners in the township. Their object is to have a borough government, with a mayor and councilmen.

Chauncey B. Ripley is prominently spoken of for the first mayor. There is scarcely any doubt that the election will result in favor of forming the borough, which will then be separate from the present township of Westfield.

Judge McCormick appointed John Dorvale as clerk and Howard P. Manning and Ira C. Lambert as inspectors for the forthcoming election.

Plainfield Cricketers Defeat Elizabeth's Crack Team.

The last cricket game of the season was played on the Chilton street grounds, Elizabeth, Saturday, between the Pioneers and St. George's Cricket Club of Plainfield. The Plainfielders were the victors by one run, the score standing: Pioneers, 48; St. George's, 49. J. Jones and H. Burke of the home club made 13 and 11 runs respectively, the latter winning the right to wear a diamond pin which had been presented to him, to wear on the condition that he should make 10 runs in one match. Of the Plainfield eleven Gow and Chamberlain were top scorers, 12 and 17 respectively. The score:

DUNELLEN TO HAVE A HEALTH BOARD.

Other Items of More or Less Interest in the Thriving Borough.

At a meeting of the Dunellen borough commission, on the 10th inst., the following were appointed to serve as a board of health:

E. H. Graves, for 3 years.
G. E. Churchill, for 3 years.
G. Elston Lowrie, for 3 years.
C. D. Boice, for 2 years.
H. M. Champney, M. D., for 1 year.

The newly-appointed board will hold a meeting to-night, and organize. Then they will be ready for business.

Two trained bears came through town yesterday, and while performing one climbed a telegraph pole. In coming down some of his harness caught on the pole and held him fast. The bear seemed almost as much excited as the spectators, and began to cry. After some trouble he was finally released and lost no time in getting down.

Louis Tinsman was the guest of Geo. Giles, last Sunday.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union are holding a convention at the Presbyterian church to-day. Many delegates are present from all over the State. This evening a temperance lecture will be given at the church. Many prominent speakers will participate in the exercises.

Plainfielders Go to a Hop.

Notwithstanding the threatening weather, the hop Saturday evening at Van Court Inn, Roselle, was the best attended of any ever given; over fifty were present from Elizabeth alone, besides a large delegation from Cranford and Plainfield. The hall, dining room, and even the piazza, were utilized to accommodate the dancers. The music was of the usual degree of excellence, and the entertainment was further augmented by a violin solo by Miss Munoz, of Cranford, given by special request.

Veterans Meet Again.

SING SING, N. Y., Sep. 29.—The third annual reunion of Company F, 17th New York Veterans, was held in this village yesterday. A camp fire was held in the Opera House in the evening, which was largely attended. Addresses were delivered by Gen. James A. O'Beirne and Ira M. Hedges, Col. Henry M. Farley and Major Helvin, two Confederates, and Rev. Clark Wright, the department chaplain.

Jeff Davis' Statue Rejected.

JACKSON, Miss., Sep. 29.—The life-size statue of Jefferson Davis, intended to be placed in the vestibule of the Confederate monument here, was submitted to the committee. After careful inspection the committee took an informal vote on the acceptance, agreeing that the vote should not be final. The committee voted not to accept on the ground that it was not a good likeness of Mr. Davis.

Have They Eloped?

BRIDGEPORT, Sep. 29.—Wyatt Roberts, the trusted valet and constant companion for several years of the late P. T. Barnum, is believed to have eloped with Miss Clara Lewis, the pretty little English maid who for a year and a half has waited upon Mrs. Barnum. Although Roberts is a colored man he is of very light complexion, is well educated and of stylish appearance. He is 40 years old and the girl is 22.

Arrival of Noted Bicyclists.

NEW YORK, Sep. 29.—The Scotch professional bicyclists, J. D. Lumsden, of Aberdeen, and Wallace Stage of Glasgow, arrived yesterday and entered in the International Six-day Race at Madison Square Garden, October 18 to 24. Lumsden is the rider who defeated the noted French bicyclist Jules Dubois by one yard in the six-day international race at Edinburgh in 1889.

A COPPER MANSION.

Queer Conceit of an Eccentric Gotham Millionaire.

A Dwelling Made Entirely from Metal—Artistic Designs and Pleasing Effects—Perspective View and Interior Scenes.

Houses have been built of all sorts of material—wood, brick, stone, iron and paper—but it has remained for a rich New Yorker to evolve a decidedly original idea in this direction. He is an iron manufacturer, and his name is Poulson. Being in the metallic line himself, he hit upon the idea of having a house built entirely from metal. The idea was carried out, and the result is a "copper house," as the New York Herald calls it. The framework is of steel, the posts are of iron, the outer walls are of copper and the inside finish is of brass. The style of architecture is the Queen Anne and, seen through the shrubbery that covers the surrounding grounds, the effect is very pleasing. There is a piazza on two sides of the house, a porte cochere and a conservatory, with copper framework, on the other side. Broad doors open from the piazza into a shallow vestibule, and this terminates in a great octagonal rotunda. Each side of the rotunda is an open arch, these arches leading to the various rooms on the ground floor. At the angles are solid brass pillars, polished and twisted like a huge rope. From the top of these pillars rise slender steel arches, beautifully ornamented, which support the dome-shaped roof of the rotunda.

As you stand there at the main entrance the effect is very charming. Through the arch at the left wind the stairs, with brass dragons, whose curving tails form the balustrade; through the arch at the right a glimpse of the library is caught, with the low bookcases running all around it; then comes the parlor, with its finishing of brass and white, while directly in front of the main entrance is a reception room which extends on one side to the dining-room and opens in front into the conservatory. The other three sides of the octagon are devoted respectively to an open and metallic fireplace and to arches which lead to a smoking-room and a hallway. There is not a beam in the house, not even an iron beam. The interior framework is very light and the floors are all supported by thin steel arches. This form of construction gives each room a dome-like ceiling.

The walls are not papered. Some of them are paneled in metal and others finished in stucco work.

It is said that half a million dollars was expended in carrying out the queer conceit of Mr. Poulson. The house is located on Long island, near Fort Hamilton, and is a source of much attention.

A Gigantic Wooden Statue.

In the Japanese capital there is a gigantic image of a woman, made of wood and plaster, and dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures 54 feet; the head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, being large enough to comfortably hold twenty persons. The figure holds a huge wooden sword in one hand, the blade of the weapon being 27 feet long, and a ball 12 feet in diameter in the other. Internally the model is fitted up with extraordinary anatomical arrangement which is supposed to represent the different portions of the brain. A fine view of the country is obtained by looking through one of the eyes of the figure. The admission to all parts of the structure is two cents. Japanese tradition says that during the time of the Te-Shomeng rebellion, in 1522, hundreds of cords of wood were piled around it and fired, but that the sacred object itself failed to burn or to even be scorched by the flames.

The Name of Deity.

The name of God is spelled in four letters in almost every known language. In Arabian it is Alla; East Indian, Zeul or Esgi; Egyptian, Zeut or Aumn; French, Dieu; Vaudois, Diou; Tahitian, Atua; Hebrew, Adon; Irish, Dich; Japanese, Zain; Latin, Deus; German, Gott; Malayan, Eesl; Persian, Syra; Peruvian, Llan; Tartarian, Tgan; Turkish, Addi; Scandinavian, Odin; Spanish, Dios; Swedish, Oodd; Syriac, Adad; Wallachian, Seus.

Reciprocity.

A little girl in my school, writes a Youth's Companion correspondent, recently came to me in tears, regretting the fact that her father's illness made it necessary for her to "leave and go to work."

I bade her good-by, and with a schoolmarm's hankering to keep a creditable pupil added: "When your father is well come back to me."

Then, obeying a sudden impulse to take advantage of what I knew to be, in all probability, my last chance to influence the precious waif for good, I said: "But if I never see you again I hope you will try to do your duty wherever you may be. Whatever work you may have to do try to do it well. I hope you will be an honest, honorable woman."

"Thank you, ma'am," she replied, putting up her mouth to be kissed. "I wish you the same."

The dear child! I know now what St. Paul meant by the "foolishness of preaching."

Translation.

The danger of attempting to translate from one language into another, unless one is reasonably familiar with the language he is using, was illustrated by a mistake recently made by a young Frenchwoman.

She had come from Paris, and wished to establish herself in this country as a teacher of the French language. She accordingly inserted the following advertisement in one of the papers:

"A young Parisian lady desires to show her tongue to classes of American ladies. Address, etc."

Which Was Right?

Johnnie asked: "How much is 5 and 6?"

"Eleven," answered Bertha.

"No, no, it isn't," cried Johnnie.

"What is it, then?" asked Jessie. "I always learned that 5 and 6 make 11."

"It can't be so. It just can't," cried Johnnie.

"Why not?" asked Jessie.

"Why, of course 5 and 6 can't be 11, because 3 and 8 are 11," answered Johnnie.—Harper's Young People.

The Gentle Art of Criticism.

The Portuguese have a delicate and graceful art of combining doubtful compliment with undoubted criticism without committing themselves either way. "First, God made man," says one of their poets, "and matched that work with woman, as the tower would be unfinished without the weather-vane."—Judge.

The most beautiful woman in New York said that she "ascribed her good health and rosy cheeks to the occasional use of a tablespoonful of pure whiskey before meals. It increased the circulation, sent a warm glow through the system, and gave her a hearty appetite." That is the experience of all who drink pure whiskey moderately. A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old.

A SAD CASE.

A Terrible Fate All Can Escape.

A woman was seen to spring from a pier. Upon recovery of the body it was found to be a young woman who had been suffering from nervous weakness and prostration, and who, despondent and despairing of a cure, had committed suicide.

Thousands of weak, nervous and despairing women lead a life of utter mental and physical misery caused by weakened vitality, shattered nerves and exhausted strength.

To such we would say, despair is foolish and unnecessary. All such cases can be cured by the use of the great nerve, brain and blood invigorator, Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and costs but $1 of druggists. Use it, you who are in hopeless despair of a cure, and it will give you a new nerve, a new vigor, a new life.

"I had terrible headaches for 30 years. They got so bad I felt that I should go INSANE, and made my husband promise not to put me in an asylum. I took Dr. Greene's Nervura, and now have no headache, sleep and eat well, am not nervous, my kidneys are healthy and blood pure. I was saved from that terrible fate, insanity or prostration, by this wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura.

MRS. JENNIE ANTHONY,
21 W. Green st., Lynn, Mass."

N. B. Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th St., New York, can be consulted, free, personally, or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free. 9 15 td ttas

CYRUS WEST FIELD

The Most Prominent Promoter of Ocean Telegraphy.

His Labors on Behalf of the Submarine Cable—Success Achieved After Many Struggles, Failures and Discouragements.

Cyrus W. Field's services to ocean telegraphy were of such a nature as to be known and read of all men, and his name is without doubt more prominently associated with it than that of any other man in either hemisphere.

Mr. Field belongs to a family of unusual eminence in law, letters, science and divinity, says the Mechanical News. He was the third son of Rev. David Dudley Field, and was born in Stockbridge, Mass., Nov. 30, 1819. He was educated in his native village, and came to New York when he was fifteen years old, his brother David Dudley obtaining a situation for him in the establishment of A. T. Stewart. On coming of age he engaged in paper-making, and built up a highly prosperous trade. While he was still a young man, his attention was turned to the undertaking which was to constitute the leading feature of his career. The idea of carrying a telegraph line across the Atlantic ocean, suggested to him in a conversation with his brother Matthew, in 1853 or thereabout, took firm hold of his mind, and was never abandoned for a moment until crowned with complete success. But it was many times baffled by grievous failures, disappointments and delays. The story has been often told, and need not here be repeated in detail. The first cable, laid in 1858, was operated for a few weeks, but the transmission of messages was slow and difficult, and at length failed altogether. The conditions and requirements of ocean telegraphy were then but imperfectly understood, and further investigation and experiment were demanded for their complete mastery; but the brief success of this first cable occasioned the wildest exultation in all parts of the country. It was a premature rejoicing, which nevertheless was fully justified by the final event.

CYRUS W. FIELD.

The civil war soon followed, and not until 1865 was the undertaking renewed, with the aid of the Great Eastern steamship. Twelve hundred miles of the cable had been laid when it parted, and another heavy loss of labor and material was recorded. In 1866 the effort was repeated, and this time with permanent success, and with results known to all the world. Since then ocean telegraphy has been as established means of intercourse among civilized nations. In all these years of deferred hope and constant trial, Mr. Field never lost faith in the Atlantic cable. He not only worked for it at home and subscribed a one-fourth interest in the company, but crossed the ocean some fifty times in its behalf, giving to it in all twelve years of constant effort. Of his share of the credit due for its final success the popular estimate, and that which history will doubtless sustain, was expressed by John Bright, who called him "the Columbus of modern times, who by his cable had moored the new world alongside of the old." He received from congress a gold medal, with the thanks of the nation, and the Paris exposition of 1867 gave him the grand medal, the highest prize it had to bestow.

In later years Mr. Field's name has been familiar to the public through his active interest in the elevated railroad system by which the comfort and speed of travel in the streets of New York and Brooklyn have been so largely enhanced, and, it may almost be said, the continued growth of the metropolis rendered possible. Of Mr. Field's three brothers, the eldest, David Dudley Field, is one of the most eminent of American lawyers, Stephen J. Field is a distinguished jurist and associate justice of the United States supreme court, and Henry M. Field is widely known as a clergyman, editor and author.

No Need of Dying Young.

Bismarck is out in a statement setting forth that he owes his rugged old age to the practice of bathing regularly and freely in cold water. Gladstone ascribes his longevity to the simplicity and regularity of his habits. Tennyson believes that his having celebrated his eighty-first birthday is due to his not having worried or fretted over the small affairs of life. Von Moltke thought his ripe old age was owing to temperance in all the affairs of life and plenty of exercise in the open air. De Lesseps thinks he owes his advanced age to like causes. Taking all these life-giving agencies together, and considering how easy they are of attainment, there doesn't seem to be any good and sufficient reason why we should die young.

Medals for Bread.

Lyman S. Low, a New York dealer in medals, has among the collection several hundred medals presented to soldiers in the English army from 1793 to 1880 for deeds of valor and conspicuous bravery. With but few exceptions they were all pawned by their owners to meet the necessities of life.

A SCIENTIFIC TREASURE.

Fossil Skeleton of the Anomodont Reptile Pareiasaurus Bainii.

Among the recent illustrations in Black and White is one which is the reproduction of a photograph of the fossilized skeleton of the Pareiasaurus Bainii, which Prof. Seeley, F. R. S., lately exhibited at a conversazione of the Royal Society. Prof. Seeley in 1889 under took on behalf of the society an investigation of the Permian, or Trias Reptilia in European Russia and the Cape Colony. As one of the results of his labors the Natural History museum will now have its valuable collection enriched by the addition of a nearly perfect skeleton of the gigantic lizard which was first brought to the notice of the world by Mr. A. G. Bain in 1838. In that year Mr. Bain, who was constructing the Queen's road at the Cape, stated in a letter which he wrote at the time, that while encamped on the Blankwater river in the work of carrying on the road through the forest of the Winterberg, he discovered during some blasting operations which were necessary, the skull of a huge animal with fifty-six fluted or serrated teeth. This skull was found in the Beaufort beds of the Karoo series, which, it is said, are equivalent in time to the "Trias," or "Lower Lias" of Europe. An extremely interesting description which illustrates the wonders to be discovered in and around this part of the world, is also given by Mr. Bain, who states that in the same formation which included remains of Pareiasaurus "whole forests of calcified trees of large size are found in the neighborhood of Sunday and Bushman's rivers in a most perfect state of preservation imbedded horizontally in the rock. Ferno zamias and fragments of wood in a lignitic state occur mixed up with fragments of gypsum and reptilian bones, together with marine exuviæ, Trigonia, Ammonites, and various other molluscs." Prof. Owen, on examination of the skull, gave it the distinguishing name of Pareiasaurus, which is a word derived from two Greek ones—pareia, cheek or cheek piece of a helmet; and sauros, lizard. The skeleton forming the subject of our illustration, was found by Prof. Seeley on the 12th of August, 1889, at Bad, near Tamboer, in the Pareiasaurus beds of the Karoo, Cape Colony, and he proceeded to have it carefully quarried out and shipped to England. The fossil was chiseled from the matrix by Ricard Hall, in the workshops of the geological department of the British museum (natural history), and it is due to the skillful way in which this very difficult work has been done that the nation is now in possession of so perfect a fossil of this huge reptile which belonged to an order that flourished and died in the triassic period of the world's formation, and whose size in life must have been upwards of ten feet in length.

FOSSIL SKELETON OF THE PAREIASAURUS BIANII.

ADJUSTABLE CARS

They Are Peculiarly Constructed and of Great Convenience.

A car of peculiar construction is running on the North side cable line in Chicago.

It is built so as to serve as an open car in the summer and a closed car in winter or in very inclement weather. When used as an open car the seats are turned with their backs toward the aisle, leaving a space or passageway between them.

The accompanying cut shows one side of the car open and the other closed. It is twenty feet long and has a seating capacity of sixteen persons on each side. There is room for sixteen more standing upon the steps on either side and about ten can be accommodated upon each of the platforms. In case of a rush ten or twelve can find room in the center aisle. The car has a carrying capacity of about one hundred people.

When the car is closed the seats are reversed, the solid backs being outward and leaving a space in the center as wide as the ordinary street car. A window is pulled down from the top, making it a perfectly closed vehicle. Mr. Yerkes has purchased the right to use fifty of these cars on the North side line and this number will soon be in operation.

The "Pig of the Rushes."

In Ireland the lizard is called "aire luichair," which, literally translated, means "the pig of the rushes." It is held in great esteem for its curative powers. When caught the person who is anxious to receive the curative power takes the aire luichair in his hand and licks the creature all over—head, feet, belly, legs, sides and tail; and the tongue of the person who thus licks the aire luichair is said to ever afterwards possess the power of taking the pain and sting out of a burn. The aire luichair crawling across the throat of one suffering with quinsy or the hands of a person who has licked or even recently handled one of the little creatures is thought to be a sovereign remedy for that disease. There is also a prevailing idea that the aire luichair is always on the watch to crawl down the throat of any person who happens to fall asleep out of doors.

GOV. RUSSELL AGAIN

The Unanimous Choice of Bay State Democrats.

A HARMONIOUS CONVENTION.

The State Administration Unqualifiedly Indorsed in the Platform.

A Number of Renominations—The Platform Declares for Tariff Reduction and Revision, Protests Against Free Coinage of Silver, and Denounces the Disregard of Civil Service Principles.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sep. 30.—The State Democratic Convention effected a permanent organization yesterday by the election of Gen. P. A. Collins as president, with a long list of vice-presidents, which included Congressmen O'Neil and Andrew, William Gaston, William Endicott, George M. Stearns, James S. Grinnell, Leopold Morse, Hugh O'Brien, Frederick O. Prince, Charles J. Codman and Dr. William Everett.

William J. Dale was elected secretary.

On making his appearance, Gen. Collins was given a rousing welcome. There were cheers, yells and hand clappings, and the air was full of hats, which were thrown aloft by the delegates.

Mr. Collins acknowledged his flattering reception in a few pleasant words, in which he announced that he had been present at 25 Democratic State conventions and was celebrating his conventional silver anniversary at the present time. He then proceeded to deliver his address, which was much interrupted by applause.

John F. Russell, of Leicester, mounted the platform at 12:20. At the end of a brief speech he proposed the renomination by acclamation of William E. Russell for Governor of the Commonwealth.

The nomination was seconded by Hon. Edward G. Donovan, of Boston, and Wm. Eustus Russell, of Cambridge, was unanimously made the nominee by acclamation.

He was escorted to the hall by a committee and made a ringing address, in which he counselled meeting the Republican opposition "with vigilance, perseverance and unceasing effort and, calmly, honestly discussing the real issues, trust to the common sense, the conscience and patriotism of our people to decide aright between us."

The ticket was completed with John W. Corcoran for Lieutenant-Governor, Elbridge G. Cushman for Secretary of State, James S. Grinnell for State Treasurer, W. D. Trefoy for Auditor, and George M. Stearns for Attorney-General.

The platform begins with an unstinted indorsement of Gov. Russell's administration, and recommendations of State reform, and continues:

"We believe in free schools, supplied with free text-books.

"We believe that every citizen should pay his just proportion of the public expenses, but we do not believe if he fails to do so by accident, the neglect of others or from his own inability, he should be punished by being deprived of the most sacred right of citizenship—the right to vote. We regret that the nomination of a Republican candidate for Governor, who, as a legislator, voted against the amendment, renders it necessary that we should urge every friend of the amendment to vote 'Yes' at the ensuing election.

"We reaffirm our sympathy with all wise and constitutional measures in the interest of manual labor, and we renew the declaration upon this subject in our platform of last year.

"The McKinley tariff bill against which the Democratic party of Massachusetts protested at its last convention, was repudiated at the polls by one of the most emphatic votes ever cast by a free people. We renew our demand for the repeal of all its provisions which increase rates of duty, and for the enactment of a genuine measure of tariff reform.

"The Republican party has destroyed the Census Bureau for the sake of furnishing political spoils by neglecting to bring prosecutions for the punishment of violations of the Civil Service law, by ignoring the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission for the dismissal of officials who have openly defied the law.

"We believe in honest money, the gold and silver coinage of the Constitution, and of a currency convertible into such coinage without loss.

"We believe that all dollars coined by the United States should be of equal intrinsic value, that all paper money issued by the government should be redeemable in either gold or silver coin at the option of the holder, and not at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury."

The platform concludes with the declaration of opposition to legislation tending to debase currency.

MIDDLE STATES SUMMARY.

J. Sloat Fassett and J. W. Vrooman, the Republican nominees, were accorded a fine reception in Ogdensburg, N. Y., yesterday.

Burglars broke into the Norton House at Pompton, N. J., Monday night, and stole $500 in money and silverware from the safe.

The canning factory of E. J. Morris & Sons at Lewes, Del., was entirely destroyed by fire at noon yesterday. Loss, $7,000; no insurance.

The mangled body of a woman who had been well dressed was found on the Nickel Plate Railroad's tracks in Buffalo yesterday. There is no clue as to how she was killed.

The horribly mangled body of a man was found on the track of the Lackawanna Railroad yesterday at Delawanna, N. J. Nothing was found in the clothing to lead to his identity.

Jersey City police arrested the entire troupe of Walter L. Main's circus for parading in that city without a permit. The manager claimed ignorance of the ordinance and all were released.

Thomas P. Curtis, son of Colonel Curtis of the Judge Advocate's Department of the Army, has been expelled from West Point Academy for making a false entry in the hospital register.

The Eighth Judicial District Democratic Convention, at Buffalo yesterday, nominated Myron H. Peck, of Buffalo, and W. Caryl Ely, of Niagara Falls, as candidates for the Supreme Court Judge

NO SPECIAL SESSION.

The Pennsylvania Legislature Will Not be Convened The Treasury Investigation.

HARRISBURG, Sep. 30.—At last evening's session of the Legislative Investigating Committee which is inquiring into the conduct of the Auditor-General's office and the State Treasury, Capt. Skinner offered a preamble and resolution requesting the Governor to consider the expediency of convening both branches of the Legislature in order that the laws relative to the advertising mercantile lists may be repealed and legislation enacted abolishing the fee system. The resolution was defeated by a strict party vote.

Auditor-General McCamant's examination was concluded early in the evening session, but nothing new was elicited. Treasurer Boyer was then called. He explained that he paid the school warrants of $420,000 to Bardsley in December, 1890, for the year 1891, six months before they were due, because he wished to keep the money out of the sinking fund. Had it gone there, he said, there was danger that there would not be enough money in the general fund to meet all the appropriations of the Legislature about to meet.

He denied all knowledge of the Bardsley-Livsey correspondence and said he did not know the latter's whereabouts. He stated that the law compelling the investment of Sinking Fund moneys in the United States bonds had never been complied with during his administration.

The Committee adjourned to meet in Philadelphia on October 12.

THE OLD GAME.

A Pennsylvania Man Done Out of $3,500 By Gold Brick Swindlers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 30.—John Appleman, of Buckhorne, Columbia County, had been cheated by a couple of clever gold brick swindlers. Mr. Appleman came to the mint yesterday for the purpose of selling to the Government two gold bricks which he had purchased from a stranger in his town for $3,500.

A simple test by the Mint assayer revealed the fact that Mr. Appleman's bricks wer a first-class article of brass, with no trace of gold about them save a thin wash on the surface. Mr. Appleman was the most surprised man in the county when told the result of the test, and after he had recovered his breath he told how he had been cheated.

He said that a man giving his name as Joseph Parker had appeared in his village a few days ago and soon struck up an acquaintance with him. Parker told him that he had a couple of gold bricks that he would like to dispose of as he was short of cash. Mr. Appleman at first declined to buy, but after another man, claiming to be an assayer at the Philadelphia mint, appeared upon the scene and tested the bricks, saying they were worth at least $5,000, Appleman consented to buy. He gave Parker $3,500 for the bricks.

ASSIGNED SPACE.

The Governments of England, Germany and Denmark Receive Their Portion.

CHICAGO, Sep. 30.—Five hundred and eight thousand five hundred square feet of space in the World's Fair buildings were formally assigned to the governments of England, Germany and Denmark yesterday. Of this amount England gets 265,000 square feet, Germany 210,000 square feet and Denmark 20,000 in the main building and 13,500 in addition for a dairy exhibit.

Director-General Davis drew the contracts and delivered them to the European commissioners in the evening. In return each of the commissioners pledged his government to an earnest, active participation in the fair and promised that every foot of the space would be assigned. This is the first space that has been assigned to any prospective exhibitors at the fair.

McCarthy Acquitted.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 30.—The cases against Cal McCarthy and Tommy Warren were called for trial yesterday in the Criminal District Court. A severance was agreed to and McCarthy was placed on trial. A jury was quickly secured and quite a number of prominent gentlemen, who were present at the fight, testified. The evidence of these gentlemen was to the effect that the affair was not a prize fight, but a scientific contest. Judge Marr then delivered his charge and the jury acquitted McCarthy without leaving their seats. A nolle pros will no doubt be issued in the case of Warren.

Another Six Days' Walk.

NEW YORK, Sep. 30.—Dr. J. A. Dougherty, representing Charles Rowell and James A. Albert, acting for himself, yesterday signed articles of agreement for a six-day go-as-you-please match to take place this winter in either New York or London, the place to be agreed upon later. The race is to be a sweepstakes of $2,500 a side between Rowell and Albert and is to be open to the world on the following conditions: Entrance fee to be $500, and no one to be entitled to a share of the gate receipts who does not cover 550 miles.

BERLIN, Sep. 30.—Private telegrams from Rome state that the strain of the recent public functions has seriously increased the feebleness of the Pope, and his condition causes alarm.

THE RUSH FOR LOTS

Exciting Times at the Opening of Chandler, O. T.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE KILLED

Four Boomers to Each Lot, and Every One Wanted a Corner.

The Mass of Men and Women Rushed Like Maniacs for the Sites When the Signal Was Given — The Scene One of Wild Confusion — A Young Woman Reporter Among the Dead — Quarrels and Buckerings Rife.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sep. 30.—Carriers who arrived yesterday afternoon give the following particulars of the opening of the Government town site of Chandler in the Sac and Fox reservation:

The town site was opened to settlement at noon, and the scene which followed the volley of musketry which announced the opening of the town site beggars description.

A mass of 3,000 excited men and women, intent upon securing a lot, had gathered about the boundary of the town. Some were on horses, broncos, and others on foot, stripped of all superfluous clothing, each carrying a sharpened stick, with name and notice of lot taken thereon, all strung to the highest pitch of excitement.

At 12 o'clock sharp the signal was given, and with a mighty yell from 3,000 throats and amid the cracking of whips and volleys of oaths, shouts, and curses, the mass of men and women on horse and foot rushed like maniacs for the town lots. They clambered up the steep cliff like soldiers charging a fortress.

The line was one mile long on each side and a half mile long on each end. The rush was toward lot 38, which was reserved for a Court House. As the angles of the advancing lines met many riders were unhorsed and hu led pell-mell into the road. Some persons are reported as killed and others have received severe injuries.

Miss Daisy, a reporter of the Guthrie "News," was thrown from her horse at the beginning of the race and, striking her head on a rock, was killed. The excited and merciless crowd had no time to attend the dying, and rode over the body of the unfortunate woman, until it was recognized by a friend who took it out of the crush.

As there were three or four times as many people as there were lots, the result could be easily foretold.

On every hand can be heard curses and high-worded discussion. It will take considerable time to adjust these differences. An Indian killed a white man in a quarrel in one of the tents where liquor was being sold.

NEW ENGLAND BRIEFS.

The annual meeting of New England Horse Breeders Association is being held in Boston.

Anderson & Co.'s grain elevator at Danbury, Conn., was burned last night. Loss, $20,000; insured.

Thomas J. Marsh of Boston, a well-known figure in Massachusetts politics, died suddenly Monday at Roberts, Wis.

The commencement exercises of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., occurred yesterday afternoon. President Carter of Williams College delivered the address.

The schooner Sally Charter of Taunton, Mass., was sunk off Faulkland, Mass., on Monday night, by colliding with the brigantine St. Croix of New York. The crew was rescued.

The finishing and store sheds of Gross Brothers' quarry in Lee, Mass., were destroyed by fire yesterday. In the buildings were stored 1,000 finished government headstones which were ruined. The loss is $20,000.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

A Number of Instances in Which it Did Not Run Smooth.

NEW YORK, Sep. 30.—Cæsar Giunchedi, an Italian fresco painter, killed himself with a revolver in his room on Pearl street, at noon yesterday. His friends think he committed suicide because his mother would not consent to his marriage with the girl to whom he was engaged.

Giunchedi belonged to the better class of Italians in this city. He had many friends among influential men of his own nationality. He was a good artist, having studied at his birthplace, Rome, for several years before coming to this country.

The suicide was engaged to be married to Emma Valenti, daughter of a wealthy Italian contractor of this city. He was 32 years of age and the girl about 20.

It is said that they were very much in love with each other. Some days ago Giunchedi received a letter from his mother, in which she opposed the match.

Since then the young Italian was much depressed, and expressed two days since to a friend his intention of committing suicide. He left a package of letters to his sweetheart.

Another Victim.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sep. 30.—At the oratorical contest at Cotner University Marion Gadd took the second prize. The young man hastily left the room after the announcement of the prizes. A pistol shot was heard, and when the students rushed out they discovered that Gadd had blown his brains out with a revolver. It has been learned that Gadd was in love with the daughter of a wealthy Lincoln man, and that she had promised to marry him in case he won the first prize. He accepted the proposition, and his suicide was the result of his failure.

She Wants $10,000 Damages.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sep. 30.—Daniel Spencer of Parma is the defendant in a breach of promise suit, brought by Miss Mary Knowlton of the same place for $10,000. The defendant is 53 years of age, while the plaintiff is but 27. Two years ago, she states, he asked her to marry him, and afterwards he married another woman. The defendant admits his matrimonial contract with Miss Knowlton.

This One Was Married.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sep. 30.—John Hamp, a shoemaker, hanged himself yesterday at his home on Sherman street. Family troubles are supposed to have been the cause.

Sandwich Island Affairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 30.—The steamship Australia from Honolulu brings the following Hawaiian advices: The native newspaper "Elela" published an article September 19, attacking some of the prominent personages of the Kingdom on political grounds. The editor of the paper was arrested and his office closed. Plantation owners are greatly relieved by the rain which has fallen almost daily for two weeks prior to the steamers departure. Previous to the rainfall there had been great drouth during which crops were badly damaged and cattle died from want of water.

A Quarter's Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Sep. 30.—The business failures of the United States, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., for the quarter ending September 30, are in number 2,754, as against 2,196 for the same quarter of 1890. The liabilities of the 1891 quarter amount to over $44,000,000, as compared with nearly $35,500,000 in 1890, showing an increase for 1891 of 556 failures, and nearly $9,000,000 in liabilities. In the nine months of the year 1891, just closed, the failures in the United States number 8,828, with liabilities of $136,000,000, as compared with 7,581 failures, and $100,000,000 of liabilities for the same period of 1890.

An Important Decision.

BOSTON, Sep. 30.—An important decision is handed down by Judge Nelson in the United States District Court in the case of the Steamer Parthian vs. The Schooner Florence. The Judge finds that a sailing vessel using a steam fog horn, not only cannot recover damages under the conditions as formerly, if run down by a steamer, but is liable for injuries to the steamer. The decision is particularly important because a large number of sailing vessels have adopted the steam fog horn.

Teutonic Queen Both Ways.

LONDON, Sep. 30.—By passing Fastnet Light at 11 o'clock yesterday morning the steamship Teutonic beat the record from New York to Queenstown. The voyage was made in 5 days, 21 hours and 23 minutes to Queenstown. The records previously held by the City of New York and City of Paris were beaten by 1 hour and 38 minutes.

Walls Caved In and Killed Three.

TROY, N. Y., Sep. 30.—Yesterday, while workmen were engaged on the walls of the new State Armory at Malone, a cave-in occurred, and Robert Lamurdy and two men named Lewis and Shora were instantly killed.

IT MAY MEAN WAR

The Arrested Americans Must Be Released at Once.

CHILIAN SITUATION SERIOUS.

The Yorktown Ordered to Sail For the Scene of Trouble.

The Junta's Minister at Washington Takes Mr. Egan to Task—Says Our Representative is Responsible For the Conflict in Chili, and Had Openly Aided Balmaceda — We Says His Government Will Not Be Bluffed By Any Demand Made Upon Misrepresentations By Minister Egan.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 30.—At the State Department here the situation regarding the trouble between the United States and Chili is said to be serious, notwithstanding Minister Egan's despatch that there is no difficulty of any moment.

The Government does not intend to take any chances. A dispatch has been sent to the commander of the United States steamship San Francisco, which arrived at Payta yesterday on her way north to San Francisco, by way of Acapulco, to either remain at Payta or return to Valparaiso.

The Government, it is understood, considers the arrest by the Chilian authorities of two servants of Minister Egan's official household a serious affront that must be dealt with firmly. It is at a loss, however, to find precedents on which to base its protest.

The Americans Must be Released.

It is reported that the Baltimore is to put herself at Minister Egan's service when she reaches Valparaiso, and, if he deems it necessary, must furnish a guard of marines for the legation. Minister Egan has been instructed to first request, and then demand, the release of the Americans arrested. The refusal of accede to the demand will be considered as a sufficient cause for war.

The Yorktown Ordered to Chili.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Soley, Commandant Erben, Captain Wilson of the cruiser Boston, Pay Inspector Kenny and several other naval officials held a long conference at the navy yard yesterday. At its close Commander Erben said that the United States steamship Yorktown would sail for Chili on Saturday. The Baltimore is the only United States war vessel now near the Chilian coast.

MINISTER EGAN SCORED.

The Chilian Envoy Says He is Responsible for All the Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 30.—At the headquarters of the Chilian Junta Legation here is was stated last night that nothing bearing on the the Santiago trouble had been received from the home government. Secretary Julio Foster said he did not believe there was any serious trouble between the United States and Chili.

Mr. Foster was particularly severe in his strictures upon Minister Egan. He said he believed Mr. Egan had exaggerated the whole matter so as to get the administration to keep up his cause and relieve him from the embarrassment consequent upon the attitude he had assumed as a friend of Balmaceda. The people of Chili, he said, knew Mr. Egan and had no confidence in him nor respect for him.

He felt that he was largely responsible for the war, because, as a friend of Balmaceda he had encouraged him to acts of hostility and assured him of the sympathy of the United States. He had excited the displeasure of the people of Chili by his extraordinary course, and if there was a rupture between the two countries it will be entirely his fault.

Mr. Egan had aided and abetted Balmaceda, Mr. Foster said, and had enlisted his Yankee followers in Balmaceda's service as spies and in other capacities. His whole conduct had been such as to arouse national indignation, and some of the men he was protecting from punishment for violation of the law were, Mr. Foster said, charged with being spies and assassins.

Mr. Foster expressed the opinion that Mr. Egan was trying to retrieve the fortunes of himself and others he had induced to take up the cause of Balmaceda by kicking up a disturbance.

"Mr. Egan should have been recalled long ago," he said. "Had another man been sent to Chili as soon as it was discovered how Mr. Egan was meddling with Chilian affairs there would be no sort of trouble between these two countries. I can not understand why the administration keeps him there to affront our people. You may depend upon it that Chili will respect law and order, and not do anything which is not warranted by the circumstances, but she will not be bluffed by any peremptory demand made by the United States upon misrepresentations by Mr. Egan."

Brazilian States to Send Exhibits.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 30.—A cablegram has been received from Captain Rodgers, commissioner for the World's Fair to Brazil, and Captain Carca, of the Brazilian navy, who was appointed by the President of Brazil to accompany Captain Rodgers through the Republic as the representative of that government, announcing that they had concluded their tour of the country, having visited all the States in the interest of the exposition. All the States of Brazil have agreed to appoint commissions and send exhibits. The cablegram closes: "We are much pleased with the prospects."

Colored Democratic League.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 30.—The first Convention of the colored Democrats of this State, consisting of thirty-five clubs, formed the Colored Democratic League of Pennsylvania in this city yesterday. Wm. Still, of Berks County, was elected President, and A. Dobson, jr., of Philadelphia, Secretary.

SAID SHE WAS DR. WALKER.

A Strange Woman Who Was Bound to Sleep in Christie Warden's Room.

HANOVER, N. H., Sep. 30.—A well dressed woman, with her veil tightly drawn over her face, called at Farmer Warden's house late Monday night, and giving her name as Dr. Mary Walker asked to be allowed "to remain all night and sleep in Christie's room."

The family at first demurred, as they were afraid from the gruff voice that she was a man in disguise. They finally, however, consented, and allowed her to remain and spend the night on the sofa.

Mr. Warden and several neighbors watched her, however, and at 2 a. m. the woman, to identify herself, said she had come to save Christie's murderer, and further, showed two receipts of registered letters dated Boston Sept. 18, bearing the name of Dr. Mary Walker and some baggage checks from a Boston hotel.

Later on the intruder said: "This Almy they have arrested is not the man who killed Christie Warden."

A despatch received from a dime museum in Boston, where Dr. Mary Walker has been lecturing states that she finished her employment and left for her home in Oswego, N. Y., Wednesday last.

Pleads Not Guilty.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Sep. 30.—Frank C. Almy, the Hanover murderer, was brought here from Manchester yesterday in a special car, and taken to the Court House on a cot, not being able to walk on account of a broken leg. The indictment was read to him by Clerk Griswold, charging him with the wilful murder of Christie C. Warden, on the night of July 17. Almy, in a clear tone, pleaded "not guilty," and was immediately removed to the Manchester Jail.

Forty-seven Pirates Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 30.—Chinese advices say that pirates have burned the village of Trung-Ba on the Black River. One hundred pirates attacked the village of Luong, but were repulsed, one villager being killed. At Haidu, pirates had two engagements with the civil guards, in which forty-seven of them were killed and the remainder driven back into the mountains, where they are hemmed in.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. ROBER, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, Managing Editor.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Wetumpka Lodge, Knights of Honor, meets to-morrow evening.

—The best seats for Janauschek at Music Hall, to-morrow evening, are selling rapidly.

—Chief T. O. Doane who is attending the Firemen's convention at Atlantic City, wires THE PRESS today as follows: "Beautiful morning. Big crowd. Fine time. Brady house, O. K."

—Warren Engine company of North Plainfield has its steamer standing on Harmony streets, so as to be ready, for any fire alarm while the work of laying pipes in front of its house is going on.

—Those holding tickets for the Wetumpka Lodge entertainments can have them exchanged to-morrow. Present red and yellow tickets at Doane & VanArsdale's, and purple and white tickets at R. J. Shaw's.

—The Crescent League ball players who have offered the people so much excitement and recreation this summer, are to have a benefit game next Saturday. They will meet pitcher Harkins and his strong team of New Brunswickers.

—The fool-paper last night said that a "trestle" fell on Henry Anderson about "twelve o'clock" at night, in the Pond Tool works. It was a pulley, as THE PRESS stated, and the accident happened in the evening before the works were closed.

—To-morrow evening will inaugurate the regular season at Music Hall, and Janauschek and her company in James M. Martin's beautiful, romantic drama, "The Harvest Moon", will be the attraction. This is a new departure for the peerless Janauschek who is familiar to play-goers in such plays as, "Macbeth", Meg Merrilies", "Mother and Son", etc.

—The Y. M. C. A. would remind all young men that the advantages to be derived from the study of short-hand are inestimable, and any who have the necessary foundation of a common school education and who are going to enter business or any of the professions, should seriously consider this opportunity that is so generously placed before them. As is well-known, the cost is merely nominal—being simply the price of membership in the association. All interested are requested to apply at the rooms this or to-morrow evening.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Caroline Knowland is visiting friends in this city.

Charles Schermerhorn, jr., is back home after a month's visit at Baltimore

Frank Newman has returned to Boston to finish his course at the School of Technology.

W. A. Lord and family of Netherwood, will return from their summer cottage at Monmouth Beach, to-morrow.

Miss M. J. French, daughter of L. M. French, of North Plainfield, has resumed her studies at the Woman's College, Baltimore.

Everybody will be glad to hear that Edward S. Hooley is rapidly recovering. He was able to sit up for a short time, yesterday.

McCready Sykes, son of the late Rev Mr. Sykes of Fanwood, has just entered the Sophomore class at Princeton college. He passed the examination without any condition. Young Mr. Sykes' admittance to the New York bar was told of in these columns a few months ago. His case is an unusual one. He passed the severe examination for admittance to the bar, before he entered college.

D. N. Groendyke and family returned home last night after a most enjoyable driving trip to Lake Mohawk and elsewhere. The only occurrence that happened to mar their uninterrupted pleasure, was an adventure with a big rattlesnake near Green Pond Lake. The horses almost stepped on it, and it had turned to attack Mr Groendyke's daughter who was sitting by the roadside, when he sprang from the carriage and killed it. Mr. Groendyke carries the reptile's rattle as a trophy. Those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Groendyke, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. VanVliet, Ruth Gray VanVliet, Mrs. Fanny G. Foster, and Miss Jennie G. Foster.

One of Posh-Bah Marsh's Occupations Vanishing.

Westfield seems to have decided to try the experiment of borough government. For the last quarter of a century J. M. C. Marsh has been known as the "Mayor of Westfield", but if the new movement materializes Mayor Marsh will be deprived of a title that he has worn with great modesty for a long, long time, and without much of a salary.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

BOULANGER A SUICIDE.

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.)

BRUSSELS, Sept. 30.—Gen. Boulanger committed suicide to-day on the tomb of Mme. de Bonnemain, who died recently in this city.

The tragedy took place at about noon. The General stood alone by the grave of his mistress for some time, appearing to be deeply affected by sorrowful recollections.

An attendant, who had respectfully remained at some distance from Mme. de Bonnemain's tomb, suddenly heard a sharp report in that direction. Running to the spot, he found Gen. Boulanger lying dead upon the ground with a revolver clinched in his right hand.

A hasty examination of the body showed that the dead man had placed the weapon to his right ear and fired the fatal shot.

NOW GOES HIS SAFE.

Proprietor Miller of the Elkwood Wouldn't Pay for it, So Lawyer Coddington Took it Away.

Lawyer William A. Coddington acting as attorney for the Barnes Safe company of Pittsburgh, went into Joe Miller's saloon at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and took out the elegantly painted, double doored, combination locked safe in which the proprietor has stored the earnings of himself and Daisy Delmore for the past six weeks.

Like many of his other purchases, Miller had not paid a cent on the safe, and when Lawyer Coddington saw him this afternoon he refused to settle what was due.

A truck was then backed up to the sidewalk and a gang of men pulled the safe out and took it to the freight house. Among the spectators who saw its departure, was Daisy Delmore who is still an inmate of the rooms over the saloon although there is no more concert for her to sing in.

LAWYER CODDINGTON FOR REEDY.

The Latter, a Mild and Modest Fellow, Accused of Assaulting a Ferocious Marshal and Rescuing a Prisoner From Him.

In the matter of the State against John Reedy of South Bound Brook, called at Somerville, yesterday, before Judge Bartine and a jury, evidence was taken on both sides and the case was then adjourned until Friday morning when argument will be made.

Reedy was indicted for the alleged rescuing of the prisoner Timothy Dorn, and for committing an assault at the time upon Marshal Anderson. The State called but three witnesses, all of whom swore that Reedy did violently attempt to separate the officer from his prisoner, thus permitting Dorn to escape. The defense was conducted in an able manner by Wm. A. Coddington of this city, who asked that the bill be set aside, as Anderson—who is a Borough marshal—had no authority to make an arrest outside the borough limits. This was denied by the Court with the understanding that after a verdict had been given, Mr. Coddington should have a chance to argue the motion.

The case was then tried on its merits. Ten witnesses were called by the defense, all of whom positively swore that Reedy was not nearer than ten feet to the officer at any time. That after Dorn's escape Anderson had clubbed Reedy brutally and shot him in the leg, and when taking him across the bridge to the office of the justice, had not only used him very roughly but had placed his revolver to his head and threatened to blow out his brains.

Quite a little amusement was occasioned by Mr. Coddington's cross-examination of Mr. Teeter, the State's witness, who said it would have been impossible for him to have gone to the marshals assistance as he had his hands full of groceries. Reedy as he sat beside his counsel, appeared to be a quiet unassuming fellow, and quite a contrast to the high-tempered marshal.

A Mission Woman's Talk to Plainfield Fellow-Laborers.

A meeting was held in the lecture room of the Trinity Reformed church, Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the missionary committee of the Ladies' Christian Work society, at which an address was delivered by the corresponding secretary of the domestic missions of the Reformed church, Mrs. E. B. Horton. It would be impossible to tell how much Mrs. Horton's talk was enjoyed. She kept her hearers' attention throughout, and everyone was sorry when she concluded. Those who did not avail themselves of the privilege to hear her missed a great treat.

The nature of her talk was a highly interesting description of the work accomplished by the mission in the West.

The Actives Victorious Again.

The Actives of Stony Hill, who have lost only one game this season, played the Basking Ridge team on the latter's grounds, last Saturday afternoon, and won through the battery work of Johnson and Townley, who deserve most of the credit. The teams played as follows: Basking Ridge—Fred Moffett, J. Bonnell, Frank Moffett, Joe Whitneck, West Totten, J. Gurlick, S. Smith, W. Wilson, E. Bender. Actives—E. Burke, R. Rogers, G. Johnson, D. Rogers, S. Tunison, C. Nell, W. Townley, A. Truesdale, E. Sage.

Handsome Trophies—One for Alert.

The trophies to be contested for by Alert Hose Company of Plainfield, and by the other visiting fire companies, participating in the great parade of the fire department in Elizabeth, Oct. 8, have been secured by Chief Astfalk, and will soon be placed on exhibition in store windows of the town.

The articles are both handsome and costly, and the victors will have no reason to feel ashamed to carry them back in triumph to their respective homes.

The gifts are five in number: an elegant silver water-pitcher and cups of silver, beautifully chased and lined with gold; a silver cup of much beauty, handsome silver card receiver, silver trumpet of elegant design, and a hose clamp patented by police sergeant Henry Gerstung of Elizabeth. The latter was made especially for the purpose designed. It is of highly polished brass.

Dunellen Notes.

The convention of temperance workers held in the Presbyterian church, yesterday, was largely attended. Many people were present from a distance. Among others who addressed the meeting, was Mrs. Barnes who has traveled through the greater part of Europe in behalf of temperance. She gave many interesting illustrations of life in London and other places. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and banners, and a substantial lunch and supper was served to the out-of-town guests during the day by the ladies of the W. C. T. U.

At the meeting of the board of health, last evening, C. D. Boice was elected president, G. E. Lowrie secretary, and H. M. Champney, M. D., health inspector. The board is now ready for business. Any complaints made to them should be in writing.

Mr. Merschrod proposes building a new house on the lot near his home in Dunellen.

Well Worth Your Money.

Any merchant or professional man in this city who neglects to have his name and place of business inserted on the big placard which the Aldine Directory company has paid the railroad company a big sum for the privilege of hanging in the station, will only be sorry once and that will be all his life long.

In a massive gilt frame, five feet long and three and a half feet wide, your name and address is placed under a heading stating your business. It will hang in the station a year, and every stranger arriving in town who wants a lawyer, doctor, grocer or anybody else will select from that list. S. B. Kauffmann, the general manager of the company, and his courteous assistants are now canvassing the city for subscribers.

In the City Court.

Sergeant Lynch received word last evening that three drunk and disorderly tramps were holding people up on the public streets and demanding money of them. He made two trips and gathered the trio in—two the first time and one the last. There names were John Moneyhan, John Patterson and Patrick Murphy. They plead guilty this morning before Judge Codington, and were each given thirty days in the county jail.

James E. Doty (white) also was before the court on the complaint of some colored people in his neighborhood who accused him of using profane and indecent language. He also plead guilty and was fined $3.

Judge Ulrich Gave the Lodge a Start.

The meeting held at Tiernan's hall, Roselle, Monday evening, was well attended. It was call for the purpose of organizing a lodge of Knights of Pythias. John Crist was chosen president, Daniel Schwartz, treasurer, and Mr. Carpenter, secretary. Judge Ulrich, of Plainfield, grand chancellor of the State, and James Rautan, of Newark, supreme representative, explained the object of the order. At the close of the addresses, thirty names were obtained, and the meeting adjourned until Oct. 15.

Hotel Glenham.

I can attest to the efficacy of Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills—not only using them myself, but having given them to several of my friends, all of whom have been materially benefited by them. For cases of Dyspepsia and Torpid Liver I consider them invaluable. N. B. BARRY,

MUSIN IS COMING

And With Him a Galaxy of Stars Such as Has Never Been Heard Together at One Time in Plainfield.

The new managers of Music Hall are arranging to give the people of this city and its adjoining towns, a concert that will positively be the grandest musical event ever experienced in Plainfield.

Never has such a company of genuine artists been brought together at one time on one programme, yet the prices of seats will be the "people's prices"—50, and 75 cents.

The bright particular star of the event will be Ovide Musin, the greatest living violinist of the World. The opportunity afforded Plainfield to alone hear him, is glory enough for one night, yet look at the list of artists who will appear with him.

Annie Louise Tanner, the American Nightingale, possessing the most phenomenal range of any soprano now before the American public.

Inez Parmater, an eminent mezzo soprano.

Emil Senger, basso. For two seasons with German opera company at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York.

Roger Dupuy, the great French tenor. From the Grand Opera of Paris. (First season in America.)

Eduard Scharf, a superior solo pianist. Receiver of the great Moscheles prize at the Leipzig Conservatory of Music.

This concert will be given in Music Hall, Thursday evening, Oct. 22. The reserved seats will be put on sale in a very few days, and due notice given.

A Little Girl Maimed for Life Through Man's Carelessness.

The ignorance and carelessness which are distinguishable characteristics of the deckhands on the Communipaw ferry, were Monday night the direct causes of maiming a little emigrant girl for life. An utter neglect of care and duty allowed the boat to shift away from the slip, and the little one's leg slid down between and was crushed.

It is a mighty wonder that half a dozen person's don't get killed every week on the ferry, as there are not many deckhands in the service who have the least conception of their responsibilities. Most of them have a sort of a dim idea that the one object of a deckhand's life is to knock around the passengers and shy chains at them and leave the treacherous iron gates undone. There ought to be a law that would oblige the ferry people to shoot the iron gates on the boats and employ deckhands who, besides being capable of recognizing the difference between passengers and cattle, would understand the rudiments and responsibilities of their business.

After a Loan of Many Years Ago.

When Huldah Feazler lived in Somerville thirty-three years ago she loaned an acquaintance $800 on a note, endorsed by a Mr Howell. The maker of the note paid the interest for many years, but finally left Somerville. Huldah searched for the indorser and found that he had been dead ten years and his property divided by partition sale. He had left a mortgage which was to secure the dower right of his widow.

Huldah sued and obtained judgment, and a receiver was appointed, but he encountered so many legal obstacles in his efforts to get and realize on the mortgage that he accomplished nothing before his death. Huldah also died soon after this, but her relatives and heirs have continued the action against Howell's widow, and on Monday applied to Vice Chancellor Pitney of Jersey City for the appointment of a receiver. An order was granted requiring the widow to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed.

It Flew But Not Per Programme.

ST. LOUIS, Sep. 30.—Pennington's airship, which was under a tent at the Fair Grounds in readiness for a trial, to be made Saturday, when the athletic sports will be in progress, was caught up by the storm which passed over the city in the afternoon and was blown away. As no trace of the ship has been found it seems probable that it was destroyed. The trial has been abandoned. The ship cost $20,000.

We Struck a Bargain

And we are going to give you the benefit of it. We bought 240 pairs of Ladies' Hand-turned Kid Shoes, in all sizes and widths, from AA to D., that were made to sell at $4, and a very cheap shoe at that price. We also bought 120 pairs of Ladies' Hand-Sewed Oxford Ties that were made to sell at $3. We will put the shoes on sale to-day at $2.75, and the Oxford Ties at $2 00.

The above goods were made for Corkery & Co., Springfield, Ohio, and through some misunderstanding they did not take them; and as we deal quite largely with this house, they wrote us what we could have the whole lot for, and we jumped at the chance; and when you see the shoe you will do the same. Come and look at it.

A VENOMOUS SCANDAL MONGER.

Here Is an Odious Fellow Who Ought to be Suppressed Summarily.

There was sent from this city Monday to every prominent newspaper in New York city an anonymous communication conveying a scandalous story about a family prominent in Plainfield society. The article was in duplicate, and reached each office on the peculiar kind of paper and marked in the peculiar way that would lead the editors to think it a legitimate news story from one of the metropolitan news agencies. The people mentioned were so worthy, however, and the matter had an air of so much improbability about it, that a most rigid investigation was set on foot by each paper, both though reporters especially assigned, and through resident correspondents. The result was just what might have been expected: the story was found to be the most disreputable concoction of a disordered brain, and the papers—with two exceptions—very gladly dropped the whole matter. The two exceptions referred to the matter very briefly, stating that the story was found to be utterly false, and defending loyally the good name of the family concerning whom the yarn had been set afloat. It is a significant fact that one of these two papers is a journal that has a reputation for being exceedingly greedy for stories of this kind, but even it was forced to admit that the thing was an utter fabrication.

THE PRESS knew two months ago that stories were being set afloat derogatory to the good name that the family concerned have enjoyed in Plainfield. It satisfied itself that the suspicions that were being aroused were utterly unjust and unfounded. But a certain scandalmonger whose particular delight seems to be to blacken human reputation, to blight bright prospects, to blast home happiness, busied himself in the matter, and the result of his scheming was the story that he sent to New York Monday. He need not fancy that he is undetected. Snake-like though his character may be, this individual had not the serpent's guile to conceal his identity. He is the same base fellow who has been responsible hitherto for spreading the secret sins and sorrows of others before the world. Having no reputable business of his own, he must concern himself with other people's. For him a day of retribution ought soon to come. He is too vile a creature to be permitted to enjoy the brightness and loveliness of Plainfield's sunshine. He is too poisonous a reptile to deserve to associate among men. Banished from all mankind he ought to be: for his sole pursuit is hypocrisy and slander; his sole delight is to aid in the ruin of human happiness.

When he sought to turn the finger of reproach, to cast foul aspersions, on the character of some of Plainfield's fairest and loveliest daughters, he committed the basest of acts, the most cruel of crimes.

THE PRESS is glad to be able to a sure the public—which, ha, pity, needs no assurance in this instance—that the charges which this low fellow has sought to bring against the family who were the subject of his fabrication, were falsehoods. The good people will in a few days be able for themselves to defend by their presence and by their actions their purity and nobility of character—to resent the foul slights that have so villainously been circulated. If they will only seek out their calumniator and make him suffer the penalties he so richly deserves, they will have the best wishes and the loyal support of every decent citizen.

Followed Their Fellow-Lawyer to the Grave.

[From The Elizabeth Herald.]

The last sad rites over the remains of General J. Augustus Fay took place at Elizabeth yesterday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted in St. John's church by the Rev. Otis A. Glazebrook, rector, assisted by the Rev. F. M. Ackley, minister of Trinity. The church was filled with the mourning relatives and friends of the general, while services gave evidence of the esteem in which he was held by the citizens generally.

Many of his comrades in arms were there to lend to the solemnity of the occasion and also add their testimonial to his loyalty to the cause in which they had with him risked their lives. Representatives were present from the Thirty-fifth and Fortieth New Jersey Volunteers. His co-laborers at the bar of justice were many in attendance, another assurance of the esteem in which he was held during life as a lawyer. The Union county bar attended in a body. Business men, the clergy and the press were in the throng.

Many tearful eyes were to be seen throughout the sacred edifice as the very impressive Episcopal service was being read and as the eloquent words of the minister were listened to.

The remains were encased in a heavy oaken casket, borne into the church by Joseph L. Hammel, Benjamin P. Crane and William E. Townley of Ulrich Dahlgren Post, and Captain Daniel Hinson, Lieutenant W. H. Ludlow and Quartermaster Lemuel R. Young representing the survivors of the General's old regiment.

The honorary pall bearers were General Frank Price, ex-Chancellor Runyon, Vice Chancellor Green, Judge Magie, Colonel C. C. Suydam, Judge P. H. Gilhooly, James R. English and E. S. Atwater, who followed the remains into the church.

After the funeral service the cortege took up its way to Evergreen cemetery, where all that was mortal of J. Augustus Fay was consigned to its last resting-place.

Has the Cream of the Sportsmen's Patronage.

Ex-councilman Henry C. Squires and son, of Broadway, this city, receive a very pleasant notice at the hands of the editor of "The History and Commerce of New York", that highly entertaining and instructive volume recently issued by the American Publishing and Engraving company of New York. On the page devoted to a review of Mr. Squires's business appears the following:

The popularity of field, forest and stream sports has steadily increased with the growth of population, education, and refinement, and they now have enthusiastic advocates and followers in all parts of the country. The business of manufacturing and handling anglers' and hunters' supplies, has, consequently, been advanced to a plane of much importance, and some of the most talented business men are engaged in this line. The leading house of this kind is that of Henry C. Squires, of this city, whose handsome establishment is situated at No. 178 Broadway, and is one of the most attractive business emporiums to be found on that famous thoroughfare. Mr. Squires established his enterprise in 1870, and has since built up a large influential patronage extending all throughout the United States, having among his customers the wealthiest and most prominent citizens in the country. He carries on general operations as a manufacturer and importer of fine guns, fishing tackle, camping goods, dog goods, pleasure boats and canoes, and everything required for forest, field and stream sports and pastimes. The premises occupied comprise a spacious store and basement, 25x150 feet in dimensions. The salesroom is elegantly appointed, systematically arranged, and contains a superb stock, valued at $200,000. Mr. Squires' son, G. Harry, has lately been taken into the firm, and it was this young gentleman's brains and artistic taste that produced their magnificent catalogue of sportsman's supplies. This book is worthy of more than passing notice, and has been so widely reviewed in all the sporting journals and great dailies of this city that Mr. Squires has became familiarly known in the newspapers as Henry Catalogue Squires. The catalogue is certainly a superb production. There are eight hundred illustrations on enamel plate paper by such artists as Fredrick Remington, Henry Sandham, J. Carter Beard, W. Hamilton Gibson, Fred. S. Cozzens, Joseph Fleming, F. E. Gifford, W. T. Smedly, Walter M. Brackett, E. Childe-Hassam, W. de Meza, W. C. Fitler, E. J. Taylor, H. Bolton Jones, Thomas Morgan, C. J. VanSchaic, A. B. Frost, A. Fraser, W. L. Snyder, F. S. Church, C. Copeland, Kelly Bodfish and Schell; and there are also departments covering guns, ammunition, dog furnishing, fishing tackle, lawn tennis, photography, bicycling, fencing, camping goods, boats, canoes, etc. Besides these there has been added this year at large expense a collection of most valuable articles on hunting, fishing, camping, etc., written and illustrated especially for this book. The principal ones are those by the Hon. Theo. Roosevelt, on Big Game Hunting in the United States, illustrated by Charles Graham; Sporting Notes from the Catskills, by Bill Nye, illustrated by Frederick Opper; An Open Letter to the Hon. Jack Snipe, by W. Bruce Leflingwell, illustrated by J. Carter Beard; Salmon Fishing, by Henry P. Wells, illustrated by Harry Fenn; Hints on Black Bass Fishing, by Dr. Jas. A. Henshall, illustrated by E. J. Meeker; Down by the Sea, by Chas. Hallock, illustrated by Harry Fenn, E. J. Meeker and Dan Beard; Practical Points on Camping Out, by Geo. O. Shields, illustrated by Dan Beard; Canoeing, by C. B. Vaux, illustrated by Fred. C. Cozzens. These articles make the book a literary gem and a work as well as a splendid catalogue, and the testimonials as to its unusual merit in these directions are really remarkable. They have come to Mr. Squires from presidents, senators, governors, men great in wealth, high in the church, great lawyers and artists and successful business men. Last year 10,000 copies were sold in little months and it ran through four editions. This year the first edition will be 50,000 copies, and it is expected that double that number will be sold. It is sent to any address for 50 cents. While it only cost quarter the actual cost of the book, and a coupon is put in each one that is good for 50 cents on the purchase of $5.00 worth of goods, so that really the catalogue is given away free. For the last twenty years Mr. Squires has been well-known as the sole agent in the United States for W. W. Greener's celebrated ammunitions and breech load guns, and for London the same, head of this he has been the Eastern agent for Boston pleasure boats and canoes. Mr. Squires is a native of New York state, and enjoys the esteem of a large community of friends and business acquaintances, and has the cream of the sporting goods trade in New York. He takes an active interest in base, forest and stream sports, and has done much to advance their popularity. He is president of the Antelope Protective Association, likewise a director of the Antelope League Club, and in all the walks of life is held in high regard.

You'll Have to Figure This Out Yourself.

(From Yesterday's Easton Free Press.)

Philip J. Heil, of Riegelsville, Pa., left a satchel at the office to-day which was dropped from a buck board yesterday by a party from Plainfield, N. J., who never expected to see it again. But he was told there was n't a resident of Northampton county finding it, but would make every effort to discover the owner. Plainfield thought that a rather unreserved character to give a community, and one he feared that could not be attached to his district, especially as tramps were not an unknown factor. But Plainfield will now admit that the opinion of old Northampton's citizens was not too sweeping and will be ready to attest their integrity as well as the pains and good will they make evident in their manifestations in it.

The grip contained some engineering instruments, opera glass, paper, etc., with rather a sumptuous package of lunch, which latter the owner will find better seasoned if not more palatable.

"Stovey", as the Raubsville school children dubbed him, as the famous engineer was showing them how baseball was played in New York in a plug hat, ought to enjoy that lunch and then pay his bets of 50 cents to a cent that the feed that his wife had put up for him, and its grip environs would never turn up.

Notes of Things Theatrical.

[FROM THE PRESS'S OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—A four-column humorous article by Bill Nye was produced at the Union Square theater Monday evening of last week under the caption of "The Cadi." It was characteristically Nyesque and fairly bristled with comical Bill's inimitable sayings and epigramatic wit. It was deliciously funny and highly interesting, but it was not a play. There is no plot, not a single complication, not a dramatic incident nor situation. It is simply a vivified article by Bill Nye, representing some of his own experiences as the moving spirit of society, justice and government in a Western village several years ago. The other characters introduced and the stage settings were simply illustrations of the article. This is the nearest approach to a criticism of the production that can be given, for it defies all rules and regulations of dramatic art. It is utterly devoid of anything like dramatic elements, but it is original; it lacks action, but it is full of tritely turned jokes and witticisms, and from start to finish the laughter of the audience is immoderate. With the educated classes "The Cadi" will undoubtedly prove a success of large dimensions. As for the other classes—well, it is a conundrum which must find its own solution. Here is a sample of some of the dialogue: The Cadi asks the new school teacher her name and she replies:

"Helen French."

"What?"

"Helen French."

"What is it in English?"

Thomas Q. Seabrook as The Cadi gives a remarkable clever performance. It is, in fact, the best character creation that I have ever seen. The part is a phenomenally long one and the fact that Mr. Seabrook remained interesting throughout, without forgetting his character, made of his interpretation an artistic triumph, such as no other actor that I know could have achieved. He made up after the familiar caricature of Bill Nye and preserved the quaint spirit of his lines in all of his readings and movements. The rest of the company hadn't much to do, but all were excellent, especially Miss Lizzie Hudson Collyer as the postmistress, Miss Jennie Goldthwaite as the school teacher, and Miss Minnie Dupree as Croupy Dagget, the printer's devil, and general staff of "The Cadi."

"Boys and Girls" at the New Park theater was another successful production Monday evening. It is going to Plainfield in the Spring. The comedy is a farce of the most approved type and is excruciatingly funny, especially in the second act, which represents the interior workings of an all-night restaurant or chop house. The specialties introduced are mostly new and all excellent. The Leopolos do some remarkable acrobatic tumblings, Ignacio Martinetti does an imitation of Carmencita that is better than Carmencita herself, and the Irwin sisters and Wood and Shepherd give cheerful finish to the whole with their clever songs and musical selections. "Boys and Girls" is by John J. McNally, author of "A Straight Tip," and is quite as good, if not better than is at successful comedy.

The world at large, and particularly that portion of it residing in or near by New York city, is in no little condition of impatient expectancy as to the forthcoming production of Sardou's new play "Thermidor," at Proctor's theater, 23d street, which is announced for Monday evening next. This is the play which was suppressed after its second performance in Paris, some months ago, when infuriated citizens demanded its being withdrawn from further appearance at their leading theater. They were maddened by the extraordinary sentiments expressed in the lines, and by the powerful naturalness of the situations, and threatened a riot in case their request was denied them. Never before was a dramatic performance known to create such excitement, and only by the remarkable coolness and nerve displayed by the authorities was bloodshed and pillage averted. While of course in a city like New York, no such outburst of indignation is ever likely to occur on the dramatic treatment of a subject essentially belonging to a foreign nationality, there is, nevertheless, an unusual interest manifested on the part of Americans to see this play of plays, which has in a single night become famous beyond all others, and the demands for boxes and seats for the first night's performance has reached such an enormous number, that it has been deemed absolutely necessary in order to avoid offending any of the regular patrons of the house, to dispose of all the seats for the first performance by auction, which sale will take place at Proctor's theater on Thursday afternoon next, Oct. 1, at 4 o'clock, under the direction of Richard Walters' Sons, auctioneers. "Thermidor" will have the advantage of every effect and appointment that money can provide for it, the costumes being the identical ones used in the original Paris production, while the scenery and mountings have been made from models furnished by Sardou, the author, and which may be relied upon to be historically correct. The company engaged, numbering over one hundred persons, is considered to be one of the most perfect organizations ever collected, and should "Thermidor," as done at Proctor's next Monday night, not prove to be one of the most stupendous successes ever presented in this country, it will assuredly be through no lack of energy or expense displayed on the part of the management.

THE proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

THE HALE STATUE.

A Revolutionary Hero to Be Honored by the Sons of the Revolution.

Nathan Hale, who was hanged as a spy by Sir William Howe on September 22, 1776, has more than one statue erected to his memory, says Harper's Weekly. Even without representative bronze or marble, those words of Hale's: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country," must ever remain imperishable.

Born in Coventry, Conn., in 1755, Nathan Hale graduated at Yale in 1773. But for the revolution he might have preached the Word of God. The storm arose, men were swept from their peaceful moorings, and entering the army in 1775 as a lieutenant, in brief time Nathan Hale was made a captain. After the disasters on Long Island, exact information of the British had to be obtained at any cost. Under the instructions of his commander, George Washington, Capt. Hale made his way through the enemy's lines. Hale was captured, and gave his life for his country. Exactly where this brave man died is known. Patriotic memories are rarely at fault. It was too fearful a tragedy to have been forgotten, and so the place hallowed by the last agony of Nathan Hale is at the corner of City Hall park in New York, about where Chambers street crosses Broadway. Indicating, then, rather than precising the exact spot, somewhere about the southeast corner of the city hall grounds a statue of Nathan Hale will be set up by the Sons of the Revolution, in the autumn of 1892. The work itself has just been created, and the Nathan Hale is still in plaster. It stands now in the Paris salon, and its nobility at once made it conspicuous. All Americans had at heart the story of the man who died for their country, but to the rest of the world the history of this particular man was unknown. Quick of appreciation, those who were not Americans felt that they were under just such a spell as alone a great art work produces. This statue awakens not sympathy, nor mere pity, but reverence. No difficult analysis was necessary. There was no allegory to be solved. There stood a man with arms pinioned, his feet tethered. He was clad as were the men of a century or more ago. He was a prisoner. It was a man doomed to death. The grand pose of the head, that look of tempered defiance, not of scorn, that calm determination of the face, at once touched all hearts.

THE NATHAN HALE STATUE.

The commission for the Nathan Hale was given two years ago, and as soon as possible the figure will be cast in bronze and sent to New York. Plans for the pedestal have been already suggested by Mr. Stanford White. The statue will be some eight feet high, and there is no question but that an appropriate setting would be forthcoming. It is fortunate that New York is to have such a noble work, for it will not alone impart higher art instruction, but Nathan Hale will impress on Americans yet to come the story of the devotion of their forefathers.

Two Alligator Yarns.

Here are two good stories from the Montezuma (Ga.) Record that are hard to down: Ance Slappery says that an alligator was killed on the river near his house not long ago, and when cut open a bateau and three negroes were found in him. One of the negroes was so badly excited that he forgot to lay down his paddle. Fortune Farmer, the man who killed forty-one squirrels out of a single tree at one time, comes back at him and says: "There is an alligator in the river at the mouth of Camp creek that is twenty feet long, and I'll swear to it. He is so old that great tags of gray moss hang from his back just like the wool on Charley Keen's dog. Boys, let me tell you: When a fellow is sitting on the banks of the creek fishing and that 'gator bellows, you have to hold to a tree to keep the noise from jarring you into the creek. Now, that's a fact, and you needn't laugh about it."

The Great Sun Dragon.

It is the belief among both the ignorant and the educated classes of China that eclipses of the sun are caused by a great dragon which attempts to devour the center of our solar system. The last eclipse which was visible in the celestial empire occurred at a time when the people were celebrating the birthday of the emperor. Now, it is the custom to celebrate such an event clad in the best raiment that can be afforded; it is also customary to wear sackcloth and go into mourning at the time of an eclipse, at least until the sun has been rescued from the great dragon which seeks to devour it. Here, indeed, was a dilemma. At last the emperor was petitioned. He, being as superstitious as his people, ordered his birthday ignored and commanded the people to go into mourning until the sun shall be "rescued."

If Women, who complain of languor, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and a weak, weary feeling would throw "tonics," "bitters" and other patent medicines to the dogs and try before each meal a tablespoonful of TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey, they would find no need for patent trash. A. R. TUDOR'S Rye Whiskey is warranted absolutely pure and ten years old. Sold everywhere.

IN BLACK AND CRIMSON.

One of the Most Striking of Autumn Dress Vagaries.

Some of the Most Interesting Things About the Early Winter Millinery—A Grape Tea—What the Large Importing Houses Are Opening.

[COPYRIGHT, 1891.]

As I came down Broadway this morning I found myself all at once within the aura of a warm, sweet, heavy perfume. It did not come from the pink and purple asters in the florists' window, nor from the tall spikes of orange and flame-colored gladiolus, but as I took step after step it grew warmer and sweeter and heavier until, at the corner of Twenty-sixth street I saw myself close upon a hedge of creamy-white tuberoses fencing in a street flower-seller's stand.

Reaching up to the tuberoses was a woman in black, and as I saw her in profile view she looked tall, slim and creamy-white of complexion, like the flowers. I took her for a young widow, and wondered what memories the scent of the tuberoses stirred, but as she turned full to meet me I confronted the most novel and perhaps the most interesting of our autumn dress peculiarities. A whiff of wind turned back the flaps of her smart little black coat, and behold it was lined with stripes of scarlet and orange silk, and a broad scarf ribbon of scarlet and orange crossed her black bodice from the left shoulder, passing under the right arm. She was like a crimson-throated blackbird or a stalk of cardinal flowers, leaning over a dark pool. Her black felt hat was of a low-crowned sailor shape, and, showing only when you faced its wearer directly in front, was a knot of scarlet and orange half hidden in a black rosette, as quiet and serious and altogether fit for sober September shopping as was the demure oval of the face until you caught the occasional flash of the large and peculiarly brilliant brown eyes. If she had gone her way wearing tuberoses I should have lost my faith in one woman's sense of the proprieties of things, but she sent the langorous, sensuous beauties home in a box and walked forward with one sprig of orange-colored tassel flowers, scentless but vivid as a sunset, nodding at her buttonhole.

The milliners' campaign is more forward than that of the dressmakers'. There is comparatively little in view yet that can be classed as winter wear, but the autumn hat is sufficiently pronounced in its characteristics to give the streets a different look from any they have ever worn. It is really curious, if you stop to think of it, what variations human ingenuity will contrive to play upon an apparently worn out theme. Felt and feathers have been worked for effects from time immemorial, but the effect that is produced this month, if a little violent, is unquestionably novel.

The sailor shape is the shape for the walking hat, and the dress hat is hardly yet in being. It has a trifle more crown than it had in straw and a trifle more brim. It is very round, and in color it is apt to be silvery gray or fawn or a pale, creamy brown. It is trimmed with two large brown wings, starting from the crown in front and spreading rakishly at either side, and, rising between the wings in a ridge that runs straight back over the crown, is a range of breast feathers that looks—if I may venture with all apologies to speak jestingly of something that has cost, without doubt, much expenditure of time and of the gray matter of the brain in its devising—as if a fowl had been caught on the roost and turned ignominiously breast bone up, back down, wings flapping, to be stuffed or roasted. Some of the breastbones rise in sharper ridges than others, as if there were marked differences in the ages and degrees of tenderness of the birds, but the general breastbone idea runs through a good share of the early millinery exhibit, and seems to dominate the thoughts of the hat trimmers.

It is a case of breastbone only, you understand; there are no feet to curl up black toes pitifully, and no heads. The people who object to dead birds for ornaments seem really to have succeeded in making the display less revolting, and the ridge is too high and too straight and too steep as to its sides, and too regular, to be altogether realistic, but nevertheless September sailors are calculated to catch and to interest the eye.

I was in Lenox on Thursday and brought away a picture of goldenrod and asters and red milkweed crowding up close to the Berkshire lanes, and of a girl holding the leash of a handsome St. Bernard dog as she walked in the hazy September sunshine, the locusts droning their lazy monotonous notes and her steps growing slower and slower as she passed on toward the curve, her long plaid wool cloak lending the one touch of human interest or animation to the landscape.

It was a cloak that, aside from the girl, was worth considering, with its shades of cream and crimson and pale brown, sweeping the grass like the long walking dresses, tight in the back, loose in front, and with a deep shoulder cape trimmed with cream and crimson plush bands. I have tried to have it sketched for you, but the brooding sky cannot be put into a cloak picture, nor the reddening butterswort, nor the locusts' hum.

I attended something in Lenox that they called a grape tea; it was a usual tea enough, except that wild grapevines and tangles of the little frost grape had been brought into the reception-rooms and disposed with the art which is the best modern substitute for artlessness about the cabinets and the mantels, and had been coaxed to droop like green curtains from the window poles. Wild clematis, bittersweet and grapevines were the tea table decorations, and the guests found the small cakes and delicate sandwiches and other pretty though unsubstantial viands it is the custom to serve to such occasions laid out on Sevres china lined with grape leaves.

AN AUTUMN WRAP.

One of the autumn brides appeared in matronly dignity in a slashed, trained skirt of dark olive green silk, strewn with bunches of hydrangeas. The train ran out in a long, narrow point, quite unlike the shapes of past seasons. A panel of black lace was let in at one side of the skirt and on either side of the panel was a row of large dark pearl buttons. The chemisette, epaulets, basque and frillings were of exceptionally beautiful Chantilly, and the brooch that fastened the lace folds on the bosom was an enameled bunch of shaded blue and pink hydrangea. The bonnet was in olive felt, with loops in lace and gold net and shot olive and pink ribbons.

I spent a couple of hours this morning looking over the advance stock of one of the large importing houses. I saw a great many beautiful gray and bronze shades, with blue-black and garnet and an unlimited range of browns. The nasturtium browns, warm and reddish and shot with flame and orange, are intrinsically the finest but are almost sure to be misworn. Dark blue, striped with a dark rhododendron red, is a favorite combination and a very fairly safe one. Auburn brown and nut brown are seen constantly and are combined with yellow. Jaguar brown is the name of a color, or rather of a combination of colors, about which there is really very little brown at all. Beige, yellow and pale brown spots are strewn irregularly over a tawny ground, and the fabric is used occasionally for street dresses, but more often and more appropriately for bands of trimming.

One of the best-liked designs for a bodice is seen in an illustration. It is long and tight-fitting in the back, being plaited in three hollow plaits, while the front is plain. It is full at the shoulders, buttons at the waist and opens over a lighter colored plastron. In the original the color combination was chamois and heather brown.

The long cloaks for winter seem to be cut a good deal on the model of the princesse polonaise. The finest ones have fur girdles and shoulder capes, and sometimes fur hoods and long fur cuffs reaching to the elbows. The cloak dresses have deep bands of fur about the hem.

Deep-skirted walking coats are going to be as popular as they are inartistic in design. I saw one the other day in a warm garnet cloth, double breasted, with wide pockets set across the hips and with the skirts plaited in the back and set on two inches below the waist, to enlarge the hips and encourage the struggle of the panier. It had a flaring collar and seams strapped on the outside.

Dove-gray velvet coats are counted among fashion's chief favorites, and one of the most attractive costumes exhibited was a gray camel's hair tailor dress with such a coat lined with gray surah shot with rose color. A gray Gainsborough hat to accompany was covered with gray plumes tipped with rose. When I write again I shall have more to say in detail about the displays at the first of the fall openings.
